16 pound line	47	49
14 pound line	49	51
12 pound line	52	54
8 pound line	56	58

(b) Maximum prices set forth in paragraph (a) herein shall be subject to the same terms and conditions of sale as Mittet Line & Net Company offered during 1942 to each class of customers.

(c) Mittet Line & Net Company shall cause the following written notice to be sent to all persons to whom it sells fishing line:

The Office of Price Administration has permitted us to raise our maximum prices for sales to you of fishing line, as follows:

[Adjusted maximum price]

	Single-ply	Three-ply
	Cents	Cents
40 and 48 pound line	44	46

AUTHORITY: § 1305.41, issued under Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89, 421, 507 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. No. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10178; W.P.B. Directive No. 1, 7 F.R. 562, and Supplementary Directive 1-M, 7 F.R. 7234, and Food Directive No. 1, 8 F.R. 827.

SECTION 1.1 War Ration Book Two. War Ration Book Two (OPA Form No. R-121) may be used to get rationed commodities designated by the Office of Price Administration. A War Ration Book Two issued to any person shall remain the property of the United States, and may be used by such person only in a way permitted by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 1.2 Who may get War Ration Book Two. (a) Every person may get War Ration Book Two (OPA Form No. R-121) upon proper application unless:

(1) He is confined in a prison, asylum, or similar institution of involuntary confinement, whether public or private; or

(2) He is a member of the armed forces of the United States and is receiving subsistence in kind or is messed separately under an officer's command.

(b) No person shall apply for, or have, more than one War Ration Book Two for his own use.

SEC. 1.3 Consumer declaration must accompany application. (a) Every application for War Ration Book Two must be accompanied by a declaration (OPA Form No. R-1301) filled out and signed by the applicant or his agent.

(b) A separate declaration must be filed for each family unit and for each person who is not a member of a family unit, on behalf of whom application for War Ration Book Two is made. "Family unit" includes all persons related by blood, marriage, or adoption, who regularly reside in the same household.

SEC. 1.4 Application from February 21, to February 28, 1943. (a) Only a person who has War Ration Book One, and who submits it with his declaration, may apply for War Ration Book Two between February 21 and February 28, 1943, inclusive.

SEC. 1.5 Where to apply. (a) Application for War Ration Book Two shall be made at the war price and rationing board for the place where the applicant lives, or at any other place designated by the Office of Price Administration. If the applicant has War Ration Book One, and cannot apply there without great inconvenience, he may apply at another board, or other place of registration.

SEC. 1.6 How to apply—(a) By appearance. (1) One adult member shall apply in person for all members of a family unit eligible to receive War Ration Book Two. If there is no adult member of a family unit, application for the members of the family unit shall be made by the oldest member or by a responsible adult. If, for any reason, one of the members of a family unit is not included in its Declaration, he shall file a separate declaration.

(2) All other applications must be made in person but if any person is unable to appear, an adult agent who can complete the declaration may apply for him.

(b) By mail. Applications may be made by mail, addressed to the office designated to receive such applications, if the Regional Administrator has announced that application by mail may be made in the applicant's community. Such announcement will be made only where personal appearance would be extremely difficult because of distance, transportation, or other conditions.

SEC. 1.7 Stamps to be removed from War Ration Book One. (a) Where the age shown on any War Ration Book One is under fourteen years, all coffee stamps (Stamps 19 to 28, inclusive) shall be removed. For every coffee stamp missing from such a book, one coffee stamp shall be removed from the War Ration Book One of the parent, guardian or other adult person in whose household the minor lives and in whose custody his War Ration Book One has been kept. However, the board may waive this requirement if it (or its member or representative at the place of registration) finds that the coffee stamps are missing because they were removed prior to issuance of the book or were removed by misunderstanding or by accident at any other time, and were not used to acquire coffee.

(b) For every full pound of coffee in excess of one owned on November 28, 1942, by an individual applicant, the registrar shall remove one coffee stamp from his War Ration Book One.

(c) Coffee held by a family unit shall be considered to be owned by those members of the family unit whose ages are fourteen years or over as shown on their War Ration Book One. The number of pounds of coffee owned by the family unit on November 28, 1942, in excess of the number of such persons shall be considered to be excess pounds. These stamps shall be removed as nearly equally as possible from the books of the members of the family unit whose ages as shown on their books are 14 years or over.

(d) If the number of coffee stamps to be removed from a War Ration Book One exceeds the number of stamps in it the number in excess shall be written in ink or indelible pencil by the registrar on the inside cover of the War Ration Book One as follows: "_____coffee". The persons to whom the book was issued shall be charged with such excess.

(e) Coffee stamps shall be removed in the following order: 27, 28, 25, 26, 23, 24, 21, 22, 19, 20.

SEC. 1.8 Circling of age and return of War Ration Book One. (a) To indicate that a War Ration Book Two has been issued against a War Ration Book One, the person issuing the War Ration Book Two shall draw a circle, in ink or indelible pencil, around the age written on War Ration Book One. After this has been done, and all the coffee stamps to be removed have been removed, each War Ration Book One received from the applicant shall be returned to him.

(b) War Ration Book Two shall not be issued for any person if a circle has been drawn around his age written on his War Ration Book One.

SEC. 1.9 Stamps to be removed from War Ration Book Two. (a) One eight-point blue stamp shall be removed from the War Ration Book Two, of an individual applicant for each can, bottle, or jar of canned processed foods in excess of five owned by him on February 21, 1943.

(b) Processed foods held by a family unit shall be considered to be owned by all members of the family unit. One eight-point blue stamp shall be removed from the War Ration Book Two of a member of the family unit for each can, bottle, or jar of canned processed food in excess of five for each member owned by the family unit on February 21, 1943.

(c) Only eight-point blue stamps shall be removed. Stamps shall be removed in alphabetical order as nearly equally as possible from the books of the members of a family unit. If the eight-point blue stamps to be removed from a War Ration Book Two exceed twenty-four the number in excess of twenty-four shall be written on the inside front cover of the book in ink or indelible pencil as follows "_____ cans."

(d) Processed foods in cans, bottles, or jars of less than eight ounces and home canned processed foods shall not be counted for the purposes of this section.

SEC. 1.10 Issuance of War Ration Book Two. (a) The person issuing a War Ration Book Two shall fill in the name of the person for whom it is issued, and the number and address of the board, on the front cover of the book. In addition, a validation stamp (OPA Form No. R-123) shall be pasted on the front cover of the book, over the space marked "This book not valid." The book shall then be signed by the issuing officer and given to the applicant or his agent.

(b) The person for whom the War Ration Book Two is issued, or his agent, shall write the serial number of the book across the bottom part of the validation stamp and shall fill in all the remaining information called for on the cover of the book. The book shall not be valid for use before this is done.

SEC. 1.11 Procedure where application is by mail. (a) Each application by mail shall be accompanied by the declaration, and by the War Ration Book One of each person covered by the declaration. All other provisions of this order dealing with the issuance of War Ration Book Two and application in person for Book Two shall apply to such applications by mail. Any Book Two issued pursuant to application by mail shall be mailed to the applicant along with all Books One received from him.

SEC. 1.12 Application on or after March 1, 1943. (a) Any war price and rationing board may refuse to accept applications for, or issue War Ration Book Two between March 1, and March 14, 1943, inclusive.

(b) Any person who did not receive War Ration Book Two prior to March 1, 1943, may apply for it on or after that date, unless the board at which he applies refuses to permit such application until after March 14, 1943. In such case, application may be made only on or after March 15, 1943.

(1) If such person has War Ration Book One, all the provisions of this order dealing with the issuance of War Ration Book Two to such a person shall apply. In addition, if War Ration Book Two is issued after one or more ration periods have ended, all the stamps which were valid during those periods must be removed before it is issued.

(2) If such person does not have War Ration Book One, application for War Ration Book Two may be made only at the board for the place where the applicant lives, and must be made in person. In addition to completing the declaration (OPA form No. R-1301), the applicant shall submit a special application on OPA Form No. R-315, stating why he does not have Book One. If the board finds that the applicant does not have War Ration Book One and that he did not receive War Ration Book Two, it shall issue War Ration Book Two to him. All other provisions of this order dealing with application for, and issuance of War Ration Book Two, when a person has War Ration Book One, shall apply only so far as pertinent. If War Ration Book Two is issued after one or more ration periods have ended, all stamps which were valid during those periods must be removed before it is issued.

SEC. 1.13 Disposition of forms and removal of stamps. (a) All stamps removed from War Ration Books One and Two and all forms submitted by applicants may be disposed of only as authorized by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 1.14 Surrender of War Ration Book Two. (a) Within ten days after the death of a person to whom a War Ration Book Two has been issued, the person in possession of it shall turn it over to any board.

(b) When a person to whom a War Ration Book Two has been issued is confined in an institution of involuntary confinement, whether public or private, for a period likely to exceed ten days, he shall turn his book over to an official of the institution. The book shall be returned to him when he leaves the institution.

(c) A person to whom a War Ration Book Two has been issued shall turn it over to any local board when:

(1) He leaves the United States for a period of more than thirty days; or

(2) He becomes a member of the armed forces of the United States and will receive subsistence in kind or will be messed separately under an officer's command.

SEC. 1.15 The Office of Price Administration may issue War Ration Book Two to law enforcement or investigatory government agencies. (a) War Ration Book Two may be issued by the Office of Price Administration, on such terms and conditions as it may deem proper, to any law enforcement or investigatory agency of the United States, or of any state or local government for the use of such agencies, and for distribution to and use by their officers, agents, or employees in the performance of official duties which depend upon secrecy.

(b) Any such government agency may apply in writing (on its official stationery or letterhead) to the district office (or, where there is no district office, to the State office) for the place where its principal business office is located. The application shall state the number of books which it needs and the purposes for which the books will be used.

(c) The district (or State) office will issue the number of books which it finds will be needed by the government agency. Such books will be issued in blank.

SEC. 1.16 Wrongful withholding prohibited. (a) A person who has a War Ration Book Two which is not his shall, upon demand, deliver it to the person who is entitled to have it under this or any other order of the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 1.17 False statements prohibited. (a) No person shall in any declaration, application or other document made pursuant to or required by the provisions of this order make or cause to be made any untrue statement of any fact, or omit, or cause to be omitted any statement of any fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statement therein not misleading.

(b) No person shall offer, solicit, attempt or agree to do, any act in violation of this order.

SEC. 1.18 Suspension orders. (a) Any person who violates General Ration Order 6 may, by administrative suspension order, be prohibited from acquiring or using any rationed commodity for such period as in the judgment of the Administrator, or such person as he may designate for such purpose, is necessary in the public interest and to promote the national security.

SEC. 1.19 Definitions. (a) When used in this order:

(1) "Applicant" means:

(i) Any person who applies for War Ration Book Two on his own behalf or on behalf of members of the family unit to which he belongs; and

(ii) Any person or family unit on whose behalf application is made by another who is not an applicant under (i) with respect to such application.

(2) "Coffee" means coffee as defined in Ration Order No. 12.

(3) "Processed foods" means processed foods as defined in Ration Order No. 13.[1]

This ration order shall become effective 12:01 a. m. February 21, 1943.

Issued this 17th day of February 1943

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Supp Order 37]

AMENDING OR ADDING A PROHIBITION AGAINST SERVICE COMMISSIONS IN CERTAIN MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATIONS AND REVISED MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATIONS GOVERNING LUMBER

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this supplementary order has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, including Section 201 (d) thereof, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1305.43 Prohibition against service commissions in certain regulations and revised regulations governing lumber. (a) The prohibition against certain service commissions in the specified paragraph of each maximum price regulation or revised maximum price regulation listed in paragraph (b) of this order is amended, and a prohibition against service commissions is added by the specified paragraph of each maximum price regulation listed in paragraph (c) of this order, to read as follows:

It is unlawful for any person to charge, receive or pay a commission for the service of procuring, buying, selling or locating lumber, or for any related service (such as "expediting" which does not involve actual physical handling of lumber, if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buyer of lumber which is higher than the maximum price of the lumber. For purposes of this Regulation, a commission is any service charge or payment which is figured either directly or indirectly on the basis of the quantity, price or value of the lumber in connection with which the service is performed.

(b) The numbers of the paragraphs containing the prohibitions against certain service commissions which are amended by this order, and the applicable maximum price regulations or revised maximum price regulations, are as follows:

Section:		Schedule or Regulation No.
1381.506	(c)	94
1382.105	(d)	97
1312.354	(c)	140
1381.404	(d)	210
138-.456	(c)	200

(c) The numbers of the paragraphs which add the prohibition against service commissions set forth in this order, and the applicable maximum price regulations, are as follows:

Section:		Schedule or Regulation No.
1381.204	(c)	19
1381.54	(c)	20
1382.4	(c)	146
1382.54	(c)	136
1425.6	(c)	215
1381.304	(d)	219
1381.254	(c)	222
1382.154	(c)	223
1382.205	(c)	231

This supplementary order shall become effective February 23, 1943.

PART 1341—CANNED AND PRESERVED FOODS

[MPR 207,[1] Amendment 3]

FROZEN FRUITS, BERRIES AND VEGETABLES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of Amendment No. 3 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 207 has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In § 1341.202, paragraphs (c) and (d) are amended and a new paragraph (i) is added, and in § 1341.206a a new paragraph (d) is added, as shown below.

§ 1341.202 Packer's maximum prices for frozen fruits, berries and vegetables. • • •

(c) If the maximum price for any kind, grade and container size of any frozen fruits, berries or vegetables cannot be determined under paragraphs (a), (b) or (i) of this section. • • •

(d) If the packer's maximum price cannot be determined under paragraphs (a), (b), (c), or (i) of this section, • • •

• • • • • •

(i) New container types and sizes. (1) The maximum price per dozen or other unit for a kind and grade of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables packed in any container type or size of which the packer made no sales during the first 60 days after the beginning of the 1941 pack shall be calculated as follows. He shall:

(i) Determine the base container. If the packer sold the same kind and grade of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables during the first 60 days following the beginning of the 1941 pack, but only in other container types or sizes, he shall first determine the most similar container type in which he is able to calculate a maximum price for that kind and grade of frozen fruits, berries or vegetables under this regulation (even though he no longer sells that container type). From that container type he shall choose the nearest size which is 50% or less larger, or if there is no such size, 50% or less smaller (even though he no longer sells those sizes). This will be the "base container." If there is no such smaller size, he shall go to the next most similar container type and proceed in the same manner to find the base container.

NOTE: In most cases "the most similar container type" will be merely the container type which the packer is adding to or replacing, like the tin which he may be replacing with glass. Where there has been only a size change, "the most similar container type" will, of course, be the same container type. This is also true in the reverse situation; where there has been a change only in container type, the "nearest size" will be the same size.

(ii) Find the base price. The seller shall take as the "base price" his maximum price per dozen, f. o. b. factory, for the kind and grade of frozen fruit, berries or vegetables when placed in the base container. However, if this maximum price is a price delivered to the purchaser or to any point other than the seller's factory, the seller shall first convert it to a base price f. o. b. factory by subtracting whatever transportation charges were included in it.

(iii) Deduct the container cost. Taking his base price, f. o. b. factory, the seller shall then subtract the direct cost of the base container. "Direct cost of the container" means the net cost, at the packer's factory, of the container, caps, label and proportionate part of the outgoing shipping carton, but it does not include costs of filling, closing, labeling or packing.

(iv) Adjust for any difference in contents. The figure obtained by this deduction shall then be adjusted, in the case of a size change, by dividing it by the number of ounces or other units in the base container and multiplying the result by the number of the same units in the new container.

(vi) Convert to a maximum delivered price, if the maximum price for the base container is on a delivered basis. If the seller's maximum price for the frozen fruit, berries or vegetables in the base container is a delivered price, he shall figure transportation charges to be added, as follows: The seller shall take the transportation charges which he first deducted to get his base price and adjust them in exact proportion to the difference in shipping weight. If for any reason the frozen fruit, berries or vegetables in the new container will move under a different freight tariff classification, the seller shall figure his transportation charges (by the same means of transportation and to the same destination) on the basis of the new shipping weight, but at the rate in effect for that freight tariff classification during March 1942. Increases in tariff rates or transportation taxes made since March 31, 1942, shall not be taken into account. (Similar principles shall apply where shipping volume is the measure of transportation charge.) The seller shall then add these transportation charges to his f. o. b. factory price for the commodity in the new container. The resulting figure is the seller's maximum delivered price.

(2) If the packer has established a maximum price for any new item prior to February 23, 1943, under § 1341.202, (c) or (d), he may retain that maximum price, or, at his option, he may establish a maximum price under this paragraph.

§ 1341.206a Information to purchasers from packers. • • •

(d) When any packer has established a maximum price under paragraph (i) of § 1341.202, he is not required to notify his wholesalers or retailers under the provisions of this section.

§ 1341.215 Effective dates of amendments. • • •

(c) Amendment No. 3 (§§ 1341.202, (b), (c), and (i), 1341.206a (d) and 1341.215 (c)) to Maximum Price Regulation No. 207 shall become effective February 23, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 17th day of February 1943.

Administrator.

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED, AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS

[MPR 328]

CANNED EASTERN AND GULF OYSTERS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the prices of canned Eastern and Gulf oysters have risen to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of canned Eastern and Gulf oysters prevailing between October 1, 1941 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable, and will effectuate the purposes of said Act. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

The maximum prices established herein are not below the average price of such commodities in the year 1941.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1364.901 to 1364.912, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1364.901 Sales of canned Eastern and Gulf oysters at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) On or after February 23, 1943, regardless of any contract, agreement, or other obligation, no canner, or agent or other person acting on behalf, or under control, of such canner shall sell or deliver any canned Eastern and Gulf oysters, and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive from a canner any canned Eastern and Gulf oysters at prices higher than the maximum prices set by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be charged and paid.

§ 1364.902 Where the regulation applies. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

§ 1364.904 Relation to other regulations. (a) The provisions of this regulation repeal the provisions of the General

Maximum Price Regulation [1] with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this regulation.

(b) The maximum price at which a person may export canned Eastern and Gulf oysters shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation [2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1364.905 Conditional agreement. No seller of canned Eastern and Gulf oysters shall enter into an agreement permitting the adjustment of the prices to prices which may be higher than the maximum prices provided by § 1364.911 in the event that this regulation is amended or is determined by a court to be invalid or upon any other contingency: Provided, That if a petition for amendment has been duly filed, and such petition requires extensive consideration, the Administrator may grant an exception from the provisions of this section permitting the making of contracts adjustable upon the granting of the petition for amendment.

§ 1364.906 Records and reports. (a) Every person making a purchase or sale of canned Eastern and Gulf oysters under this regulation in the course of trade or business or otherwise dealing therein, other than a purchaser at retail, after February 22, 1943, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended remains in effect, complete and accurate records of each such purchase or sale, showing the date thereof, the name and address of the buyer and of the seller, the price contracted for or received, the quantity and a description of the grade or brand, style of pack, and container size of canned Eastern and Gulf oysters.

(b) Each person shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraph (a) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

§ 1364.907 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to canned Eastern and Gulf oysters, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying agreement, or other trade understanding, or by changing the grade or style of processing or the packaging of canned Eastern and Gulf oysters.

§ 1364.908 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for revocation of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violations of this regulation or any price schedule, regulation, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any act or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest district, state, or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

(1) "Person" includes any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or other organized group of persons, legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, any agency thereof, or other government, or any of its political subdivisions, and any agency of the foregoing: Provided, That no punishment provided by this regulation shall apply to the United States or to any such government, political subdivision, or agency.

(2) "Eastern and Gulf oysters" means oysters of the genus Ostrea virginica, where the same are caught in Atlantic waters or the Gulf of Mexico.

(3) "Canner" means a person who preserves oysters by processing and hermetically sealing in metal containers.

(4) "No. 1 Picnic" means a can (211 x 400) packed to a net content of 7½ ozs.

(5) "No. 2" means a can (307 x 409) packed to a net content of 14 ozs.

(6) "Price per dozen" means the price for 12 cans of oysters packed for shipment in the usual container.

(7) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall apply to other terms used herein.

	Per dozen cans
No 2 Picnic	5.80

(b) For container sizes of oysters not listed in paragraph (a) the price shall be a price determined by the Office of Price Administration to be in line with the prices listed in paragraph (a). Such determination shall be made upon written request, addressed to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., and accompanied by sworn statements showing costs and usual differentials.

§ 1364.912 Effective date. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 328 (§§ 1364.901 to 1364.912) shall become effective February 23, 1943.

Issued this 17th day of February 1943.

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 11 [1] Amendment 38]

FUEL OIL RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In paragraphs (b) (1), (f) and (g) of § 1394.5402, the phrase "Petroleum Administrative Order No. 3" is amended to read "Petroleum Distribution Order No. 3"; and a new subparagraph (9) is added to paragraph (a) of § 1394.5151; as set forth below:

Restrictions on Issuance of Rations

§ 1394.5151 Restrictions on issuance of rations. (a) • • •

(9) For the non-occupational use of a boat, or for the use of a boat for pleasure cruising, guiding parties, and fishing, other than to procure fish as necessary food or for sale or processing, in the area mentioned in paragraph (f) of § 1394.5402: Provided, however, That a ration for the non-occupational use of a boat may be issued or used:

(i) For family or personal necessity purposes for which no adequate alternative means of transportation are available;

(ii) By naval or military personnel on leave or furlough, evidenced by duly issued leave or furlough authorization, for the purpose of visiting relatives or making social calls; or

(iii) In accordance with any requirements of the United States Coast Guard, Coast Guard Auxiliary, or Navy, if the boat is not otherwise used.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[General Ration Order 5]

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

Why restaurants and other institutional users must be rationed. Food is consumed not only in private homes, but also in other types of eating places, such as restaurants, boarding houses and public and private institutions. For people who do all their eating at home, the ordinary individual rationing controls, through food ration stamps, provide fair and equitable distribution of scarce foods. However, these controls do not cover the problem of the many people who take some or all of their meals in public eating places, or in institutions.

It would not be reasonable to restrict home consumption and, at the same time, to permit restaurant use of food to remain uncontrolled. On the other hand, it is clear that adequate provision must be made for those who are not home consumers. Their needs must be satisfied and, to the extent possible, they should be placed in the same position as those who eat at home.

This was recognized when the sugar rationing program was started. Restaurants, boarding houses and other eating establishments were registered as "institutional users", and a method was provided for giving them "allotments" of sugar. When coffee rationing began, institutional users were again registered and given allotments of coffee. Under both programs, the aim was to give eating establishments allotments which would put their patrons in much the same position as home consumers. That aim—to give restaurant consumers their fair share of scarce foods, and no more—is common to all food rationing programs.

Need for a general institutional user program. With the launching of a program for rationing processed foods and with the prospective extension of rationing to meat and other foods, it becomes necessary to eliminate the complications which would result from handling eating establishments on a program by program basis. In order to avoid confusion, a general method for getting all rationed foods should be made available to eating establishments.

The purpose of this order is to bring together all rules which institutional users follow in getting supplies of rationed foods—those now being rationed and those to be rationed in the future. At the same time, this order is prepared in the light of the problems and experience of institutional users under earlier food programs. Where experience has shown that earlier programs did not give full recognition to certain differences in their operations and functions, this order recognizes those differences. Where experience has shown that greater flexibility is needed, this order provides it.

The program is timed to begin on the same date as processed foods rationing—and the date coincides with the beginning of sugar and coffee allotment periods. In that way, institutional users simply register under this order—instead of registering under the processed foods order and, at the same time, apply for sugar and coffee allotments. The information they furnish at registration will be used to determine not only their allotments of processed foods, but also of sugar and coffee—and, to the extent possible, of meats and other foods, when they are rationed.

How institutional users are rationed. Food eaten in private homes is rationed by issuing books to the individual members of the household. This method is not, at the present time, readily adaptable to food eaten in public eating places. It would require complicated machinery for the issuance of stamps for meals, or for very small quantities of each rationed food—a stamp good for the two spoonfuls of sugar used at a meal, a stamp for a cup of coffee, a stamp for a helping of canned vegetables. The complexity of these methods and of others which were considered, as well as the burdens which would be involved in administering them, indicated that it would be better, under present conditions, to ration foods for eating establishments on a broader basis—by giving each establishment an allotment of rationed foods, which it can use for serving meals.

The problem then arises as to how the allotment should be figured. The amount of patronage in each restaurant may change greatly over a short period of time. There are many differences among restaurants—some serve large portions, while some serve small ones—some specialize in one food, while some specialize in another. Moreover, the size of the meals eaten by customers varies widely. One customer makes a meal out of a sandwich and a cup of coffee. Another eats five or six courses. To make fair allotments of rationed foods involves the consideration of several items of information. It also involves computations which are time-consuming. However, this cannot be avoided if the public interest is to be protected, and if institutional users are to be treated fairly.

There are, however, two types of institutional users whose problems and operations can be covered very simply and easily. These are small boarding houses, which are called Group I institutional users, and institutions of involuntary confinement (such as jails, prisons, asylums and homes for delinquents), which are called Group II institutional users. Other eating establishments—such as restaurants, cafeterias, hotels, refreshment stands, canteens, charity establishments and the like (called Group III institutional users) have problems which are somewhat more complex. Group III users get their allotments on the basis of more detailed information and computations made by the ration Boards.

The Group I plan for boarding houses and similar establishments. Boarding houses, particularly the small ones, are very much like enlarged family households. They are therefore treated in much the same way as households. They get their supplies of rationed foods by using the ration books of their boarders and of the other people who eat there. They thus operate on what is known as the "pooled book" plan. (There are certain very small users who are not covered by the program at all. Those who serve fewer than seven people a day are not even required to register, since they can be regarded as ordinary households.)

This plan is compulsory for eating places (other than institutions of involuntary confinement, and certain other specified users), where less than fifty (50) people reside and where eighty (80) percent of the food service is to people living on the premises and eating eight (8) or more meals a week there. Any institutional user establishment whatsoever—a large boarding house, a hotel or a restaurant, or even a jail—may adopt this plan if it so desires. But any establishment which operates under this plan cannot acquire rationed foods in any other manner.

The idea behind this plan is that a small boarding house, where almost all the meals are served to regular boarders, does not need and should not get an allotment. It can get rationed foods, just like a family household, through the pooled ration books of its boarders. A person who takes eight or more meals at a place where he lives presumably does not have to use his ration book anywhere else. If he does, he can make appropriate arrangements with the boarding house keeper. The occasional meals served to outside guests should create no hardship. If necessary, the guests can arrange to let the owner get food for them by using their books, just like guests in an ordinary family household.

The pooled book plan may be too burdensome for very large boarding establishments, and impracticable for restaurants without steady customers. For that reason, they are not required to operate under that plan. Yet there are individual cases where such establishments may find it worthwhile to make arrangements with their customers for the use of their ration books to get food for them, and may regard the pooled book plan as less troublesome than applying for allotments. Such places are therefore allowed to operate on the pooled book plan if they wish to do so.

The Group II plan for institutions of involuntary confinement. In the case of institutions of involuntary confinement, the problem of controlling the supply of rationed foods is simplified by the circumstance that they have a relatively stable population, and even more by the fact that they generally operate on a food budget per person. The obvious solution is to give them an allowance per person for each rationed food, which approximates the private consumer's ration. That allowance is the maximum which they can get.

Institutions of this type cannot be compelled to operate on a pooled book basis since many of their inmates will not have or will not be entitled to ration books.

At the time of registration, applicants in this group declare the number of persons served during the month of December 1942. (December 1942 is the base month which generally serves as the standard in institutional user calculations.) The Board multiplies this figure by the allowance per person. It then multiplies the result by two and the figure obtained is the first allotment, for the two month period beginning March 1, 1943. The same allotment is granted for the second period.

The allotments for all periods after the first two will be based on the number of persons served during the two calendar months preceding the date on which applications for new allotments can be made.

Institutions may apply for a supplemental allotment (calculated on a per person basis) under certain circumstances to take care of an increase in the number of persons served.

The Group III plan for restaurants and similar eating places. In solving the allotment problems for the largest class of eating places, the Group III institutional user establishments, it was necessary to work out fair methods for measuring two things—the basis for computing allotments when a rationing program goes into effect, and the changes in allotments that should be made to take care of changes in the volume of business that are bound to arise in the course of the program.

How the allotment basis is fixed.—To fix the allotment basis, the month of December 1942 was selected as the standard. This month was chosen because it represents conditions prior to the start of processed foods rationing and of other rationing programs that may follow. The amount of food a restaurant or other eating establishment used in December will show, by and large, the amount of the consumer demand which it normally satisfies. (If an establishment was not operated in December 1942, the order makes provision for using figures for a different month to fix the allotment basis).

While the actual use of a food during December can be taken as a basis for fixing the allotment, it would not be proper to give an allotment equal to the full December use. The average home consumer gets, under rationing, less than his normal supply of a rationed food. Restaurants and restaurant consumers should bear a reduction comparable to that borne by home consumers. To accomplish this, the December use is multiplied by a percentage (called a "factor") that is set by the Office of Price Administration for each rationed food. That percentage corresponds to the reduction that the home consumer bears. However, sugar and coffee were rationed in December and their December use was already curtailed by rationing. Therefore there is, at least for the first period, no reduction for sugar and coffee.

December use is, however, not the only fact which must be taken into account in fixing an allotment basis. Certain restaurants feature, and serve unusually large portions of, a particular food such as meat. When that food is rationed such restaurants would have an advantage over other restaurants that did not feature it, if the allotments to all restaurants were based only on December use. Under rationing, the amount of rationed food which a restaurant and a restaurant consumer can get should not be increased merely because unusually large portions of that food were served in the past. Rationed foods are too scarce for that.

In order to prevent unfairness, a second test is also applied in fixing the allotment basis. The number of customers served during December is multiplied by an allowance per person for the particular rationed food, which approximates the private consumer's ration. The figure reached this way is compared with the figure reached on the basis of December use. Whichever figure is smaller is taken as the allotment basis. In this way, the basis takes into account the type of operation and the volume of business and, through the "per person" allowance, aims to make certain that no institutional user can get more than a fair share of a scarce food.

The allotment for the first two periods is then fixed at two times this allotment basis—since the allotment is for a two month period, while the basis covers only one month of operation (December 1942).

How increased allotments are given. The second major problem affecting Group III users arises from changes in the volume of their business. Allotments for later periods should, of course, be based on the experience and the need of the applicant and his patrons. There are two customary ways of measuring changes in the volume of business—change in the number of persons served, and change in dollar revenue. Of these the more important, from the point of view of rationing, is the number of persons served, since that shows how much food is needed. However, that figure—the number of persons served—is not altogether reliable for all purposes. It may include a larger number of hot-and-pie sales rather than complete meals. Or a restaurant may reduce its prices and serve more people, but if it serves less to each person it would not need more food. In order to check whether an increase in number of persons served really shows an increased service of food, dollar revenue must be examined. A restaurant which reduced both its portions and its prices does not need, and would not get, larger allotments merely because it served more people.

Therefore, in determining allotments for later periods, every applicant in Group III is required to show (1) his revenue for the first two of the three calendar months before the new allotment period, and (2) the number of persons he served during those two months. These figures are compared with his December figures. If they show that the average number of persons he served and his average dollar revenue both increased, as compared with December, his allotment is increased. However, since his dollar revenue is used as a check, for the reasons stated above, only the smaller increase is counted—so that if dollar revenue increased less than persons served, his allotment is increased only in proportion to the growth in his dollar revenue. If, on the other hand, the average number of persons he served shows a decrease, as compared with December, his allotment is decreased proportionately, regardless of his dollar revenue. (This is done so that a restaurant cannot get a larger allotment just by increasing the price of its meals.) In all other cases, the allotment remains the same. For example, if the number of persons served increased, while dollar revenue decreased, the allotment is unchanged—because dollar revenue is used as a check against increases, as explained before.

In the case of establishments that do not charge for meals, no increases in allotments are given. The reason for this is that increases are primarily intended for places which serve the public at large and which meet an increased public need. Generally speaking, the fact that an establishment charges for food is a fair indication that it serves the public at large. There are, of course, certain exceptions, but that is the fairest and simplest general rule. In order to take care of cases of undue hardship, provision is made for adjustments—and establishments of other types that do not charge for food are given an opportunity to petition for an adjustment when a situation which warrants relief exists.

Treatment of individuals who live in Group II and Group III establishments. A person who lives in a hotel and takes his meals there regularly, does not need his war ration books while he is there. Since he gets meals without using his books he does not need them to buy food. The same is true of a person who is confined in an institution where he is fed.

For these reasons, the order provides that a person who lives in a Group II or Group III establishment for seven days or more, and who takes eight or more meals a week there, must turn over his war ration books to the owner of the establishment. The owner must tear out stamps covering the period of his stay, and must send them to the board for cancellation. The owner of the establishment is, of course, not allowed to use the stamps. When a person ends his stay at the establishment, his books must be returned.

The purpose of this rule is to make sure that ration stamps are not used in cases where they are obviously not needed. The rule applies only to cases where a person regularly eats at an institutional user establishment in Group II or III, and also lives there. In cases of that sort, it is reasonable to assume that he does not need the stamps in his books, since he gets food where he lives, without using the books to get it.

If a person lives in a Group I establishment, however, he needs his books to get food because the establishment operates on a pooled-book basis. Therefore, he does not have to give up stamps for cancellation—and he may let the boarding house keeper use his books to get rationed food for service to him.

Adjustments. To take care of special situations which may arise, and of cases of serious hardship, the order contains provisions for granting many types of adjustments. Hospitals may, for example, obtain additional allotments to meet the dietary needs of patients. An institutional user whose operations increase substantially during an allotment period, and whose allotment is not large enough to cover the increase, may get a supplemental allotment. Provision is made for emergency allotments, in cases of public disasters such as fires, floods and similar emergencies, when sufferers must be fed.

The order thus aims to achieve maximum flexibility and to take care, as far as possible, of all cases of legitimate need. However, the need must, of course, be of a type which can properly be recognized in the light of the scarcity of rationed foods and the necessity of fair control over their distribution and use.

GENERAL RATION ORDER NO. 5 [1]—FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

CONTENTS

ARTICLE I—USERS AND ESTABLISHMENTS COVERED BY ORDER

Sec.
1.1 What is an institutional use?
1.2 What is an institutional user establishment?
1.3 Who is an institutional user?

ARTICLE II—GROUPS OF INSTITUTIONAL USERS ESTABLISHMENTS

2.1 Institutional user establishments are divided into three groups.
2.2 Group I establishments and users.
2.3 Group II establishments and users.
2.4 Group III establishments and users.
2.5 Institutional users who have establishments in more than one group.

ARTICLE III—REGISTRATION AND OPENING INVENTORY OF INSTITUTIONAL USERS

3.1 Institutional users must register at board.
3.2 Institutional users must report their opening inventory of processed foods.
3.3 Opening inventory of sugar and coffee.
3.4 Late registration.

ARTICLE IV—GROUP I INSTITUTIONAL USERS

4.1 Group I institutional users get rationed foods by using "pooled" war ration books.
4.2 Group I user must account for opening inventory.

ARTICLE V—ALLOTMENTS FOR GROUP II AND III USERS

5.1 Group II and III users are entitled to allotments.
5.2 Allotments are given for two month periods.
5.3 Group II and III users must apply for allotments.

ARTICLE VI—COMPUTATION OF ALLOTMENT FOR GROUP II USERS

6.1 Allotment is computed on basis of number of persons served.
6.2 Amount of allotments for each of the first two allotment periods.
6.3 Amount of subsequent allotments.

ARTICLE VII—COMPUTATION OF ALLOTMENT FOR GROUP III USERS

7.1 Group III users have a "base" for each rationed food.
7.2 The allotment for each of the first two periods is twice the base.
7.3 Computation of allotments for subsequent periods for institutional users who charge for food services.
7.4 Computation of allotments for subsequent periods for institutional users who do not charge for food services.

ARTICLE VIII—INSTITUTIONAL USERS WHO DID NOT OPERATE DURING ALL OR PART OF DECEMBER 1942

8.1 Institutional users who operated during only part of December 1942.
8.2 Institutional user who did not operate in December 1942.

ARTICLE IX—ISSUANCE OF CERTIFICATE

9.1 Institutional users may get certificates for their allotments.
9.2 No certificate may be issued to an institutional user who has excess inventory.
9.3 Certificate may be issued in certain cases to institutional users who have unbalanced stocks.

ARTICLE X—SEASONAL USERS

10.1 Seasonal users.
10.2 Seasonal liquidation of inventory.

ARTICLE XI—SUPPLEMENTAL ALLOTMENTS

11.1 Group II and III users may get supplemental allotments if operations increase.
11.2 Supplemental allotment for Group II users.
11.3 Supplemental allotment in first two periods for Group III user.
11.4 Supplemental allotment for subsequent periods, for Group III user.
11.5 Applicant accounts for supplemental allotment when applying for subsequent allotment.
11.6 Supplemental allotments for hospitals.

ARTICLE XII—EMERGENCY ALLOTMENTS AND ADJUSTMENTS

12.1 Emergency allotments may be obtained to meet public emergencies.
12.2 Petitions for adjustment or for other relief.

ARTICLE XIII—NEW INSTITUTIONAL ESTABLISHMENTS

13.1 New Group I establishments.
13.2 New Group II establishments which are registering separately.
13.3 New Group III establishments which are registering separately.
13.4 Combined registration of new Group II and III establishments.
13.5 Where new establishments are registered.

ARTICLE XIV—APPEALS

14.1 Appeals.

ARTICLE XV—ACQUISITION AND USE OF RATIONED FOODS

15.1 Acquisition of rationed foods.
15.2 Use of rationed food.
15.3 Restrictions on use of rationed foods and certificates.

ARTICLE XVI—RATION BANK ACCOUNTS

16.1 What a ration bank account is.
16.2 Who may open accounts.
16.3 Use of ration bank accounts.

ARTICLE XVII—PERSONS LIVING IN INSTITUTIONAL USER ESTABLISHMENT

17.1 A person who lives in Group II or III institutional user establishment must give up his war ration books.

ARTICLE XVIII—REPORTS AND RECORDS

18.1 In general.
18.2 Records required.
18.3 Disclosure of information.

ARTICLE XIX—PROHIBITIONS

19.1 Prohibitions.

ARTICLE XX—ENFORCEMENT

20.1 Suspension orders.

[1] Words which are specially defined in this order are shown in quotation marks the first time they appear. All definitions are given in § 22.1 of the order.

ARTICLE XXI—TO WHOM THIS ORDER DOES NOT APPLY

Sec.
21.1 To whom this order does not apply.

ARTICLE XXII—DEFINITIONS

22.1 Definitions.

ARTICLE XXIII—POST EXCHANGES AND SHIP SERVICE DEPARTMENTS ASHORE

23.1 How post exchanges and ship service departments ashore obtain rationed foods for institutional use.

Article I—Users and Establishments Covered by Order

SECTION 1.1 What is an institutional use? (a) Any use by a "person" of a "rationed food" in the preparation of food which he serves to consumers, or in the service of food to consumers, is an "institutional use." However, such use of rationed food in a household is not an institutional use unless an average of seven or more people a day are served there, not counting those who maintain the household, the members of their family, and their employees and servants.

(b) Any use of a rationed food for producing an article which is not a rationed food and which is not to be served by the person who uses it, is an industrial and not an institutional use. (For example, if processed foods and sugar are used at a bakery to bake pies which it sells to consumers, such use is an industrial use since the bakery does not "serve" the pies. If at the same place, pie is served to consumers who eat there, the use of rationed foods to make such pie is an institutional use.)

SEC. 1.2 What is an institutional user establishment? (a) Any place where there is an institutional use of rationed foods is an "institutional user establishment."

(b) If the person who prepares the food does not serve it at a fixed location, the term "institutional user establishment" refers to his institutional use of food, and not to the place at which he happens to be serving it at any given time. (For example, a caterer, or a person who prepares food and serves it from a mobile canteen or from a railroad dining car may have no fixed location at which he serves the food. In that case, this operation is regarded as his institutional user establishment.)

(c) If a person prepares food at one place and serves it at another fixed place, any rationed food used in its preparation is considered used in the establishment where he serves it.

(d) If a person prepares food at a place where no food is served, and then serves that food somewhere else, the place where it is prepared is not an institutional user establishment. (For example, if a person prepares food at a central kitchen where no food is served, and then sends it to his restaurant for service there, the kitchen is not an institutional user establishment, but the restaurant is.)

(e) The same place may be both an industrial user establishment and an institutional user establishment. (For example, if a bakery uses sugar to bake pies which it does not serve to consumers, and also to bake pies which are served to consumers who eat there, the bakery is both an industrial user establishment and an institutional user establishment.)

SEC. 1.3 Who is an institutional user? (a) Any person who makes an institutional use of a rationed food is called an "institutional user."

Article II—Groups of Institutional User Establishments

SEC. 2.1 Institutional user establishments are divided into three groups. (a) Institutional user establishments are divided into three groups:

(1) A "pooled book" group, called Group I;

(2) An "involuntary confinement" group, called Group II;

(3) A "general" group, called Group III.

(b) Establishments in Group I do not receive allotments of rationed foods, but may obtain those foods for preparation and service through the use of the "war ration books" of the persons eating there. Establishments in the other groups are given allotments of rationed foods.

SEC. 2.2 Group I establishments and users. (a) An institutional user establishment is in Group I if:

(1) Food is served in that establishment to persons who live there or who live in premises maintained by the institutional user in connection with it; and

(2) Fewer than fifty (50) persons, on the average, lived in the establishment (or in the premises maintained in connection with it), during December 1942; and

(3) Eighty percent (80%) or more of the food services in the establishment during December 1942, were to persons who lived there (or in the premises maintained in connection with it) for seven consecutive days or more and who had eight or more meals a week there. In making the above determinations, members of the family, employees and servants must be included.

(b) Institutions of involuntary confinement (such as prisons, insane asylums and homes for delinquents) and also lake steamers, fishing vessels, tugs, barges, and other ships, are not in Group I even if they meet the above tests.

(c) If an institutional user establishment was not in operation during December 1942, its figures during its last full calendar month of operation after January 1, 1942, are used for determining whether it is a Group I establishment. Its figures for that month are to be treated, for this purpose, just as if they were for December 1942.

(d) An institutional user may, if he desires, register and operate any of his institutional user establishments as a Group I establishment. (However, if he does so, he must operate it on a "pooled book" basis and he cannot get an allotment for that establishment.)

(e) Any institutional user who has an establishment in Group I is called a Group I institutional user with respect to that establishment.

SEC. 2.3 Group II establishments and users. (a) An institutional user establishment is in Group II if it is operated as a prison, jail, insane asylum, home for delinquents or other institution of involuntary confinement.

(b) Any institutional user who has an establishment in Group II is called a Group II institutional user with respect to that establishment.

SEC. 2.4 Group III establishments and users. (a) All institutional user establishments not covered by sections 2.2 or 2.3 are in Group III. In addition, any lake steamer, fishing vessel, tug, barge, or other ship, is in Group III.

(b) Any institutional user who has an establishment in Group III is called a Group III institutional user with respect to that establishment.

SEC. 2.5 Institutional users who have establishments in more than one group. (a) An institutional user who has establishments in more than one group is treated separately for each group. For the purposes of this order, he is treated as a separate person for each group (except for certain purposes in connection with registration and application for allotments).

Article III—Registration and Opening Inventory of Institutional Users

SEC. 3.1 Institutional users must register at board. (a) Every institutional user must register with the Office of Price Administration, on OPA Form R–1307, at any time from March 1 to March 10, 1943, inclusive, or at such other time or times as may be designated by the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing. (Seasonal users see section 10.1.)

(b) Two copies of the registration form must be completed and signed by the institutional user or his authorized agent, and must be filed with the board for the place where his principal business office is located. He must give all information called for by the form. He must retain a third copy at all times at his principal business office.

(c) If an institutional user has establishments in more than one group, he must give the information called for by the form separately for each group.

(d) An institutional user who has more than one institutional user establishment must either combine all his establishments in a single registration, or must file a separate registration form for each of them. He may not combine some and register others separately. If he registers his establishments separately, the registration form for each establishment must be filed with the board for the place where that establishment is located, and the third copy must be retained at all times at that establishment. If he combines all his establishments in a single registration, he must attach to the form a list of his establishments, showing the name and address of each and the group to which it belongs. However, if he operates mobile conveyances (such as ships, airplanes, dining cars or mobile canteens), he need not list them but he must describe on the form the types he operates.

(e) If an institutional user who has more than one institutional user establishment registers them separately, each establishment is to be treated separately, for all the purposes of this and any other food ration order, just as if it were operated by a different person. This rule applies to all operations under this order, except where specific provision to the contrary is made for establishments which are separately registered.

SEC. 3.2 Institutional users must report their opening inventory of processed foods. (a) As part of his registration on OPA Form R–1307, every institutional user must report the point value of his inventory of "processed foods" at the close of business on February 28, 1943. (This inventory is called his "opening inventory" of processed foods.) If he files a combined registration for institutional user establishments in more than one group, he must report separately the total inventory of his establishments in each group.

(b) An institutional user's opening inventory of processed foods consists of all processed foods in the inventory of his institutional user establishment. The inventory of an establishment includes all processed foods physically located at or in transit to it, except:

(1) Processed foods stored there for another person, or held there as security for a loan or similar transaction, or in transit to it for either of those purposes; and

(2) Processed foods included in the inventory of any other establishment under Ration Order No. 13 (processed foods ration order).

(c) An institutional user's opening inventory of processed foods also includes all processed foods which he holds at or which are in transit to any place other than his institutional user establishment, for his institutional use. However, processed foods included in the inventory of any other establishment, under Ration Order No. 13, must not be reported as part of his opening inventory.

(d) If an institutional user has more than one establishment, or if he has establishments in more than one group, processed foods which are physically located at or in transit to an establishment must be included in the inventory of that establishment or, if he has registered his establishments together, of the group to which it belongs. However, any other processed foods in his inventory may be divided among his establishments as he chooses.

(e) An institutional user's opening inventory of processed foods does not include any held for personal or family use. (These must, however, be declared, to the extent required, in an application for War Ration Book Two.)

(f) The point value of an institutional user's inventory of processed foods at the close of business on February 28, 1943, is to be computed in the following way:

(1) The amount in pounds in each of the following classes is determined:

(i) Canned and bottled;
(ii) Frozen;
(iii) Dried and dehydrated.

(2) The amount in each class is multiplied by a factor fixed by the Office of Price Administration (in a supplement to this order) to represent the average point value of processed foods in that class.

(3) The resulting figures are added, and the total is the point value of his processed foods inventory.

SEC. 3.3 Opening inventory of sugar and coffee. (a) At the time of an institutional user's registration, the amounts of sugar and coffee, as of February 28, 1943, which the board or boards with which he has registered for sugar and coffee would have been required to deduct from certificates issued for his future institutional user allotments or allowances under Ration Orders No. 3 and 12 (sugar and coffee rationing regulations) shall be his "opening inventory" of sugar and coffee. If the institutional user was registered at a board or boards other than the one with which he is now registering, he shall notify the latter board of the address of the board or boards with which he was registered and of his opening inventories of sugar and coffee at each of those boards.

(b) If an institutional user has establishments in more than one group, his opening inventory of sugar and coffee may be divided between the groups as he chooses. If he has more than one establishment in a group, and registers them separately, his opening inventory of sugar and coffee may be divided among them, as he chooses.

(c) An institutional user who registered on OPA Form R–310, as both an industrial and an institutional user of sugar, may divide his opening inventory of sugar between these uses in proportion to his use of sugar in each.

SEC. 3.4 Late registration. The board may, in its discretion, permit an institutional user to register after March 10, 1943. In such case, except for good cause shown, the allotment shall be reduced by an amount corresponding to the part of the period which has elapsed at the time of registration and no allotment shall be granted for any allotment periods which have expired prior to registration.

Article IV—Group I Institutional Users

SEC. 4.1 Group I institutional users get rationed foods by using "pooled" war ration books. (a) Institutional users are not entitled to allotments of rationed foods for establishments in Group I. They may, however, get rationed foods for the preparation or services of food in Group I establishments through the use of the war ration books of the individuals eating there. The books of these individuals may be "pooled" with the institutional user, who may act as their agent in acquiring rationed foods for service to them. Individuals eating in a Group I establishment may make such arrangement for the use of their war ration books by the person operating the establishment as may be mutually satisfactory. (However, they are not required to give up their books to him.)

SEC. 4.2 Group I user must account for opening inventory. (a) An institutional user who had an opening inventory of a rationed food for his Group I establishment must not buy or acquire any more of that rationed food until he gives up to the board currently valid stamps or certificates received by him, equal to that opening inventory. Only stamps taken from the war ration books of individuals eating in his establishment and only certificates received from those individuals may be given up by him.

(b) However, upon application on OPA Form R–315, showing that the applicant's opening inventory of processed foods and the stamps and certificates which he would have after giving up stamps or certificates equal to his opening inventory will not provide him with a reasonable quantity of particular types of processed foods needed in the operation of his establishment, the board may authorize him to retain stamps or certificates to enable him to acquire a reasonable quantity of those types of processed foods, and to surrender stamps or certificates of an equal point value at such future dates as may be fixed by the board. (For example: An applicant may have an opening inventory of 1,000 points consisting entirely of canned soups. The total point value of currently valid stamps and certificates of individuals eating in his establishment, which he can surrender to the board, may be 1,000 points. If he surrendered those certificates and stamps he would be unable to acquire canned vegetables. In such case the board may permit him to retain 200 points for the purchase of canned vegetables, if he needs them in the operation of his establishment. The board can require the surrender of those 200 points at the beginning of subsequent periods of validity of stamps.)

Article V—Allotments for Group II and III Users

SEC. 5.1 Group II and III users are entitled to allotments. (a) Institutional users are entitled to allotments of rationed foods for establishments in Group II and III. (An institutional user who is a roaster of green coffee under Ration Order No. 12 may be entitled not only to an allotment under this order but also to an allowable inventory as a roaster under Ration Order No. 12. As a roaster, he is also required to comply with the provisions of Ration Order No. 12 applicable to roasters.)

SEC. 5.2 Allotments are given for two month periods. (a) Allotments for Group II and III institutional users are given for two month periods. The first allotment period is from March 1, 1943 to April 30, 1943, inclusive. Each consecutive two month period which follows is an allotment period.

SEC. 5.3 Group II and III users must apply for allotments. (a) An institutional user in Group II or III must apply for an allotment for each period for which he needs one. (An institutional user in these groups may use rationed foods only up to the amounts of the allotments he gets. His allotment establishes his right to use rationed foods—it is not just a method by which he gets those foods. Therefore, he may need an allotment even if his stocks on hand are adequate.)

(b) An institutional user's registration on OPA Form R–1307 is treated as an application for allotments for the first allotment period. His application for allotments for later periods must be made to the board, on OPA Form R–1309, in person or by mail. That application must be filed not more than fifteen (15) days before, nor more than five (5) days after, the beginning of the period.

(c) The board may, in its discretion, permit an application for an allotment to be made later than the time fixed in the last paragraph. In such case, it shall reduce the allotment by an amount corresponding to the part of the allotment period which has elapsed at the time of application.

Article VI—Computation of Allotment for Group II Users

SEC. 6.1 Allotment is Computed on Basis of Number of Persons Served. (a) An institutional user's allotment for establishments in Group II is based on the number of persons to whom he served food there. In counting the number of persons served, anyone who was served more than once is to be counted separately for each occasion he was served. (For example, a person who was served on 30 separate occasions is to be counted as if he were 30 persons.)

SEC. 6.2 Amount of allotments for each of the first two allotment periods. (a) The allotment of each rationed food for each of the first two allotment periods is computed in the following way:

(1) The number of persons served during December 1942 is multiplied by the "allowance per person" fixed for that food by the Office of Price Administration, as set forth in the supplement to this order;

(2) The result is multiplied by two (since the allotment is for two months);

(3) The figure obtained is the allotment.

SEC. 6.3 Amount of subsequent allotments. (a) The allotment of each rationed food for each subsequent allotment period (after the second period) is computed in the following way:

(1) The number of persons served during the first two of the three calendar months preceding the allotment period is determined;

(2) That number is multiplied by the allowance per person fixed for that food;

(3) The figure obtained is the allotment.

Article VII—Computation of Allotment for Group III Users

SEC. 7.1 Group III users have a "base" for each rationed food. (a) An institutional user has a "base" for each rationed food, for his establishments in Group III. That "base" is determined in the following way:

(1) The amount of rationed food he used there during December 1942 is multiplied by the "December use factor" fixed for that food by the Office of Price Administration, as set forth in the supplement to this order;

(2) The total number of persons he served there during December 1942, is multiplied by the "allowance per person" fixed for that food by the Office of Price Administration, as set forth in the supplement to this order;

(3) The smaller of the two figures obtained under (1) and (2) above is his "base" for that rationed food.

(b) In counting the number of persons served, anyone who was served more than once is to be counted separately for each occasion he was served. (For example, a person who was served on 30 separate occasions is to be counted as if he were 30 persons).

(c) In counting the number of persons served and in determining the amount of rationed food used during December 1942, food service to Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard personnel messed under the command of a commissioned or non-commissioned officer, is not to be included.

(d) The amount of sugar and coffee used is figured in pounds. The amount of processed foods used is figured in points and their point value is to be computed in the same way as the point value of the opening inventory of processed foods. (This computation is covered by section 3.2 (f)). In determining December use of coffee, the weight of any substances or substitutes, such as, but not limited to, chicory, cereal, peas, or beans, which the institutional user mixed, blended or compounded with the coffee used by him, is not to be included.

SEC. 7.2 The allotment for each of the first two periods is twice the base. (a) An institutional user's allotment of each rationed food for each of the first two allotment periods, for his establishments in Group III, is twice his base for that food. (It is twice the base because the allotment period is two months, while the base was determined by his figures for only one month of operation.)

SEC. 7.3 Computation of allotments for subsequent periods for institutional users who charge for food services. (a) If an institutional user charges for food service, and did charge during the month used in determining his base, his allotment of each rationed food for any subsequent allotment period (after the second period) for his establishments in Group III, is determined by comparing his volume of business during December 1942 with his volume during the first two of the three calendar months preceding the allotment period.

(b) If the number of persons he served during the first two of the three calendar months preceding the allotment period is less than two times the number he served in December 1942, his allotment of a rationed food is computed in the following way:

(1) The number of persons he served during those first two months is divided by the number he served during December 1942;

(2) The figure so obtained is multiplied by his base for that food;

(3) The result is his allotment.

(c) If the number of persons he served and his dollar revenue during the first two of the three calendar months preceding the allotment period are both more than two times his corresponding figures for December 1942, his allotment of a rationed food is computed in the following way:

(1) The number of persons he served during those first two months is divided by the number he served in December 1942;

(2) His dollar revenue for those first two months is divided by his dollar revenue for December 1942;

(3) The smaller of the two figures obtained under (1) and (2) above is multiplied by his base for that food;

(4) The result is his allotment.

(d) In all other cases, his allotment of a rationed food is two times his base for that food.

(e) In counting the number of persons served and in determining his dollar revenue, food service to Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard personnel messed under the command of a commissioned or non-commissioned officer is not to be included.

(f) Where an institutional user makes a combined charge for food and lodging or for food and other services, his dollar revenue is computed by determining how much of the total charge reasonably covers the service of food and non-alcoholic beverages. (However, if the combined charge covers entertainment, that part of the charge is included in dollar revenue.) If a determination has been made under any maximum rent regulations of the Office of Price Administration, of the part of the total charge which is for rent, that determination shall be used for the purposes of this paragraph.

SEC. 7.4 Computation of allotments for subsequent periods for institutional users who do not charge for food services. (a) If a Group III institutional user does not charge for food service, or did not charge during the month used in determining his base, his allotment of each rationed food for any subsequent allotment period (after the second period), for his establishments in Group III, is twice his base for that food. However, if the number of persons he served during the first two of the three calendar months preceding the allotment period is less than twice the number he served in December 1942, the allotment is computed in the following way:

(1) The number of persons he served during those first two months is divided by the number he served in December 1942.

(2) The figure so obtained is multiplied by his base for that food;

(3) The result is his allotment.

NOTE: A Group III institutional user may not, under this section, obtain an increased allotment for a Group III establishment which made no charge for food services.

Article VIII—Institutional Users Who Did Not Operate During All or Part of December 1942

SEC. 8.1 Institutional users who operated during only part of December 1942. (a) If a Group II or III institutional user operated his establishment for only part of December 1942 the figures which determine his base and his allotments are to be converted to a full December basis, in the following way:

(1) The number of persons served and, in the case of a Group III user, the amount of rationed food used and his dollar revenue, during December 1942, are divided by the number of days he operated or was open for business during that month;

(2) The results are multiplied by the number of days he would have operated or would have been open for business during December 1942 if it had been a normal month of operations;

(3) The figures so obtained are treated as his figures for December 1942, for all the purposes of this order, just as if those were his actual figures.

SEC. 8.2 Institutional user who did not operate in December 1942. (a) If a Group II or III institutional user did not operate his establishment during any part of December 1942, but did do so at any time between January 1, 1942 and February 28, 1943, the figures which determine his base and his allotments are taken from his most recent period of operations, instead of December 1942.

(b) His base and his allotments are to be based on the number of persons he served and, in the case of a Group III user, the amount of rationed food used and his dollar revenue, during his last full calendar month of operation between January 1, 1942 and February 28, 1943. If he did not operate for a full calendar month, his allotments are to be based on his actual figures for the last calendar month in which he operated. However, if the last calendar month was February 1943, his actual figures shall be converted to a full month basis in the way provided in section 8.1 for institutional users who operated during only part of December.

(c) The figures referred to in paragraph (b) are used, instead of his December figures, for all the purposes of this Order. His base and his allotments are determined on the basis of those figures, just as if they were for the full month of December 1942.

Article IX—Issuance of Certificate

SEC. 9.1 Institutional users may get certificates for their allotments. (a) An institutional user who is given an allotment of a rationed food is entitled to a certificate for the amount of his allotment (except as provided in section 9.2).

(b) If his opening inventory of a rationed food is less than his allotment of that food for the first allotment period, he is entitled to receive a certificate for the difference. He will then be entitled, for each subsequent allotment period, to a certificate for the amount of his allotment for that period.

(c) Only one certificate is to be issued, regardless of the size of the allotment. Certificates for pounds shall not be issued in fractions of pounds, but shall be issued to the nearest pound.

(d) If an institutional user has establishments in more than one group, his opening inventory and his allotments are determined separately for each group and he is to receive a separate certificate for each group. If he has registered his establishments separately, his opening inventory and his allotments are determined separately for each establishment and he is to receive a separate certificate for each.

(e) An institutional user who will not need his full allotment should apply for a certificate only in the amount which he will actually need.

SEC. 9.2 No certificate may be issued to an institutional user who has excess inventory. (a) If an institutional user's opening inventory of a rationed food is larger than his allotment of that food for the first allotment period, the difference is "excess inventory". He is not entitled to a certificate for the first allotment period. He may not be given a certificate until the total of his subsequent allotments exceeds his excess inventory, at which time he may get a certificate for the difference.

SEC. 9.3 Certificate may be issued in certain cases to institutional users who have unbalanced stocks. (a) Upon application on OPA Form R-315 by a Group II or III institutional user whose opening inventory of processed foods is more than half of his first allotment and whose inventory (together with the certificate, if any, issued to him for the first allotment period) will not provide him with a reasonable quantity of particular types of processed foods needed in the operation of his establishment or establishments, the board may issue a certificate to him to enable him to acquire a reasonable quantity of those types of processed foods. However, the amount of the certificate issued to him pursuant to this paragraph (together with any other certificate, if any, issued to him for the first period) shall not exceed fifty (50) percent of his first allotment, regardless of the period in which application is made. Issuance of a certificate pursuant to this paragraph shall not be deemed to be an increase in the allotment. The amount of the certificate is added to the applicant's excess inventory (or, if he has no excess inventory shall be treated as excess inventory).

Article X—Seasonal Users

SEC. 10.1 Seasonal users. (a) A Group II or III institutional user is a seasonal user with respect to an establishment which is not in operation during every month in the year. However, if he has more than one establishment in Group II or III and his establishments are registered together, he is a seasonal user with respect to establishments in either group only if there is some month in the year in which he operates no establishment in that group.

(b) A seasonal user who is not in operation between March 1 and March 10, 1943 inclusive, may register either between those dates, or at any time prior to resuming operations. His registration constitutes an application for an allotment for the first allotment period in which he will operate. If he registers between March 1 and March 10, 1943, the board may, at his request, issue a certificate to him when he resumes operations, instead of at the time of registration.

(c) His application for an allotment for any subsequent allotment period in which he will operate must be filed not more than fifteen (15) days before, nor more than five (5) days after, the beginning of the period. However, when he suspends operations he may apply for an allotment for the allotment period following the date on which he suspends operations, even though he will not be in operation during that period. The allotment to which he would be entitled for that period is to be used as his allotment for the period in which he resumes operations. The board may, at his request, issue a certificate to him when he resumes operations, instead of at the time of the application.

(d) Until a seasonal user has operated in at least three calendar months after February 28, 1943, his allotment for each rationed food shall be twice his base for that food, except that:

(1) If his base was determined on a full calendar month of operation (or by conversion to a full calendar month basis of his figures for part of December 1942 or February 1943) and he will not be in operation during the entire allotment period, he shall notify the board of the number of days he will not be in operation during that allotment period. His allotment shall be equal to twice his base reduced by an amount corresponding to the part of the period during which he will not be in operation; and

(2) If his base was determined on his actual figures for part of a month only (not converted to a full calendar month basis) and he will operate in any allotment period less than twice the number of days he operated during the month used to determine his base, he shall notify the board of the number of days he was in operation during the month used in determining his base and of the number of days he will be in operation during the allotment period. His allotment shall be computed by multiplying his base by the number of days that he will be in operation during the allotment period and then dividing the result by the number of days he was in operation during the month used in determining his base.

(e) After a seasonal user has been in operation in three calendar months after March 1, 1943, his allotments shall be determined in accordance with section 6.3, 7.3, or 7.4, whichever is applicable. In computing his allotments, the calendar months in which he was not in operation shall be disregarded and the months in which he was in operation shall be treated as if he operated continuously. For example, a seasonal user may operate only from August 15 to September 15 and from December 15 to February 28. His January-February allotment will be based on his actual operations in August and September. (That is, from August 15 to September 15—the first two of the three calendar months preceding the allotment period.)

SEC. 10.2 Seasonal liquidation of inventory. (a) Notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any ration order, an institutional user in Group II or III who operates on a seasonal basis may, when he completes his season, transfer his remaining inventory of rationed foods to a retailer or wholesaler in exchange for stamps, certificates or ration checks.

(b) He shall turn in to the board for cancellation the stamps, certificates or ration checks received by him and notify the board of the name and address of the transferee. However, if he has an account for a rationed food, he shall deposit such stamps, certificates and ration checks received for that food and he shall issue to the board a certified check in the amount of the stamps, certificates and ration checks so deposited. When he next resumes operations, the board shall issue to him, if he so requests, a certificate for each rationed food in the amount for which he surrendered stamps, certificates or ration checks for that food.

Article XI—Supplemental Allotments

SEC. 11.1 Group II and III users may get supplemental allotments if operations increase. (a) If an institutional user finds that, because of increased operations, the allotment of any rationed food for his establishments in Group II or III will be exhausted before the end of the current allotment period, he may apply for a supplemental allotment. The application must be made to the board on OPA Form R–315. However, an institutional user is not entitled to a supplemental allotment for establishments in Group III if he does not charge for food, or did not charge during the month used in determining his base.

(b) The application must show the number of persons he served from the beginning of the current allotment period to the date of the application. In the case of a Group III user, it must also show his dollar revenue during that period.

SEC. 11.2 Supplemental allotment for Group II user. (a) In the case of an application by a Group II user for a supplemental allotment for the first or second allotment period, the board shall grant the supplemental allotment only if it finds that the number of persons he will serve, during the allotment period in which the application is made, will be more than twenty (20) percent larger than twice the number he served during December 1942. The supplemental allotment is to be computed as follows:

(1) The number of persons he served during December 1942, is multiplied by two;

(2) The resulting figure is subtracted from the total number he will serve during the current period;

(3) The difference is multiplied by the allowance per person for the rationed food for which the application is made;

(4) The result is the supplemental allotment to be granted.

(b) In the case of an application by a Group II user for a supplemental allotment for a subsequent allotment period (after the second period), the board shall grant the supplemental allotment only if it finds that the number of persons he will serve during the allotment period in which the application is made, will be more than twenty (20) percent larger than the number he served during the first two of the three calendar months preceding that period. The supplemental allotment is to be computed in the following way:

(1) The number of persons he served during those first two months is subtracted from the total number he will serve during the current period;

(2) The difference is multiplied by the allowance per person for the rationed food for which the application is made;

(3) The result is the supplemental allotment to be granted.

SEC. 11.3 Supplemental allotment in first two periods for Group III user. (a) If a Group III user applies for a supplemental allotment for the first or second allotment period the Board shall grant the supplemental allotment only if it finds that both:

(1) The number of persons he will serve during the allotment period in which the application is made, will be more than twenty (20) percent larger than twice the number he served during December 1942; and

(2) His dollar revenue during the allotment period in which application is made will be more than twenty (20) percent larger than twice his dollar revenue during December 1942.

(b) His supplemental allotment of a rationed food is to be computed in the following way:

(1) The amount of the estimated increase in the number of persons he will serve is divided by twice the number he served during December 1942;

(2) The amount of the estimated increase in his dollar revenue is divided by twice his dollar revenue for December 1942;

(3) The smaller of the two figures obtained in (1) and (2) above, is multiplied by his allotment of the rationed food for the period in which application is made;

(4) The result is the supplemental allotment to be granted.

SEC. 11.4 Supplemental allotment for subsequent periods, for Group III user. (a) If a Group III user applies for a supplemental allotment for a subsequent allotment period (after the second period) the board shall grant the supplemental allotment only if it finds that both:

(1) The number of persons he will serve during the current allotment period will be more than twenty (20) percent larger than the number he served during the first two of the three calendar months preceding that period; and

(2) His dollar revenue during the current period will be more than twenty (20) percent larger than his dollar revenue during those first two months.

(b) His supplemental allotment of a rationed food is to be computed in the following way:

(1) The amount of the estimated increase in the number of persons he will serve is divided by the number he served during those first two months;

(2) The amount of the estimated increase in his dollar revenue is divided by his dollar revenue for those first two months;

(3) The smaller of the two figures obtained in (1) and (2) above, is multiplied by his allotment of the rationed food for the current period;

(4) The result is the supplemental allotment to be granted.

SEC. 11.5 Applicant accounts for supplemental allotment when applying for subsequent allotment. (a) If an institutional user has received a supplemental allotment of a rationed food during the first or second allotment period, it is added to his original allotments for those periods. If the total of his allotments during those two periods is larger than twice the allotment to which he is entitled for the third period, the difference must be deducted from the allotment for the third period.

(b) If an institutional user has received a supplemental allotment of a rationed food during an allotment period after the second period it is added to his allotment for that period. If the sum is larger than the allotment to which he is entitled for the next period, the difference must be deducted from that allotment.

(c) The provisions of this section do not apply to supplemental allotments granted under section 11.6.

SEC. 11.6 Supplemental allotments for hospitals. (a) An institutional user who operates a hospital or other establishment engaged in the care and treatment of the sick may apply for a supplemental allotment of a rationed food, if needed to meet the dietary requirements of the persons living and receiving care there. Application must be made to the board on OPA Form R–315. It must contain a statement by the physician in charge of the establishment showing the reason why a supplemental allotment is required and the additional amount of the rationed food needed for that purpose.

(b) The board shall grant a supplemental allotment in the amount which it finds necessary to meet the dietary requirements of the persons living and receiving care in the establishment.

(c) An institutional user who has received a supplemental allotment under this section must report at the end of the allotment period in which it was granted, the amount, if any, which was not used for such purpose during that period. That amount shall be treated as excess inventory.

Article XII—Emergency Allotments and Adjustments

SEC. 12.1 Emergency allotments may be obtained to meet public emergencies. (a) Upon the occurrence or imminence of a public disaster, such as a flood, fire or tornado, any institutional user or other person who feeds or is about to feed people who require assistance because of the disaster, may apply for an emergency allotment of any rationed food needed for that purpose. The application may be made to any board, on OPA Form R–315. The applicant must describe the nature of the public emergency, the number of people he is feeding or will feed during that emergency, and the amount of the allotment he needs.

(b) If the board finds that the applicant needs an allotment of rationed food for the purposes described in paragraph (a) above, it may grant the application and give him an allotment in the amount it finds necessary for those purposes. It shall issue a certificate for the amount of the allotment.

(c) Within thirty (30) days after he has received the allotment, the applicant must report to the Board which issued the certificate the amount of the allotment he used for those purposes, and must return to that board certificates, ration checks, or stamps for any amount not so used. However, if the board finds that the emergency still exists, it may allow him to account at a later date.

SEC. 12.2 Petitions for adjustment or for other relief. (a) Any institutional user may petition the board, for an adjustment of his base or allotment, or for any other relief. The petition shall state the name and address of the petitioner, the nature of the relief he seeks, the grounds on which the relief is sought, and any other relevant facts. The board may request any additional information it considers pertinent. Within ten (10) days after receiving the petition the board shall send it, together with all evidence and information received, to the district office. The board may attach to the petition its recommendation concerning the action to be taken.

(b) The district office shall not act upon the petition (unless authorized by the Washington Office to do so) but shall forward it, together with all other material received from the board, to the Washington Office for appropriate action. The petitioner may be requested to furnish further information and to appear personally.

Article XIII—New Institutional Establishments

SEC. 13.1 New Group I establishment. (a) Any person may operate a new Group I establishment if he first registers it by giving written notice to the board of his intention to do so. The notice must give the name and address of the establishment and his inventory of rationed foods, if any, for that establishment. (He shall not include in the inventory any rationed foods previously included in the inventory of any other establishment or any rationed foods acquired by him in exchange for stamps or certificates.) That inventory shall be his opening inventory for that establishment.

SEC. 13.2 New Group II establishments which are registering separately. (a) A person who desires to operate a new Group II establishment and who has no Group II establishment, or who has two or more institutional user establishments which have been registered separately, must register the new establishment by filing OPA Form R–315. He must state on the form the address of the proposed establishment, the date on which he will commence operations, the number of persons he expects to serve during the allotment period in which he commences operations and his inventory of rationed foods, if any, for that establishment. (He shall not include in the inventory any rationed foods previously included in the inventory of any other establishment or any rationed foods acquired by him in exchange for certificates or ration checks.) That inventory shall be his opening inventory for that establishment.

(b) If the board is satisfied that the new establishment will be a Group II establishment, it shall grant an allotment for each rationed food for the allotment period in which he commences operations. It shall compute the allotment by multiplying the number of persons which it estimates will be served during that allotment period by the allowance per person for the rationed food.

(c) The institutional user shall, at the end of the period during which he commenced operations, report to the Board the number of persons served by him during that period. If the number is less than the number the board estimated he would serve, the difference shall be multiplied by the allowance per person for each rationed food and the result shall be deducted from his next allotments of that food.

(d) Application for allotments for subsequent periods shall be made on OPA Form R–1309 in accordance with section 5.3.

(e) Allotments for the two periods immediately following the one in which the institutional user commenced operations shall be computed in the following way:

(1) The number of persons he served between the date of registration and the date of his application for an allotment is divided by the number of days he operated between those dates;

(2) The figure so obtained is multiplied by 60;

(3) The result is multiplied by the allowance per person for each rationed food. This figure is his allotment of that food.

(f) Thereafter, allotments shall be computed in accordance with section 6.3.

SEC. 13.3 New Group III establishments which are registering separately. (a) A person who desires to operate a new Group III establishment at which a charge will be made for the food served, and who has no Group III establishment, or who has two or more institutional user establishments which have been registered separately, must apply to the board to be registered pursuant to this section.

(b) Application shall be made on OPA Form R–315, on which the applicant shall state:

(1) The proposed location of the establishment;

(2) The date on which he will commence operations;

(3) The type of operation in which he intends to engage (for example, a table restaurant, cafeteria, drugstore lunch counter, industrial canteen, hamburger or hot dog stand);

(4) The seating capacity of the establishment;

(5) His schedule of prices;

(6) Whether he intends to bake his own pies, cakes, bread, and other pastry;

(7) The number of persons he expects to serve there during the allotment period in which he commences operations (other than Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard personnel which will be messed under the command of a commissioned or non-commissioned officer); and

(8) His inventory of rationed foods, if any, for that establishment. (However, he shall not include any foods which he reported on any previous declaration of inventory or which he acquired in exchange for certificates or ration checks.) That inventory shall be his opening inventory for that establishment.

(c) The board shall send the application to the district office.

(d) If the district office is satisfied that the new establishment will be a Group III establishment, it shall give the applicant allotments of rationed foods for the allotment period in which he commences operations, and issue any certificates to which he may be entitled. The amount of the allotment of each rationed food for that period shall be determined by the district office on the basis of the manner in which the establishment will be operated, the number of persons which it estimates will be served during that time, and of allotments which have been granted to similar or comparable establishments. However, the allotment shall not be more than the amount obtained by multiplying the allowance per person for that food by the estimated number of persons to be served. After acting on the application the district office shall return the file to the board. Thereafter, applications for allotments shall be made to the board.

(e) When he applies for his second allotments, he shall report to the board on OPA Form R–1307, the number of persons served, the dollar revenue, and his use during the last thirty (30) days of the food items set out in Schedule A of that form. If he has not yet operated for thirty (30) days, he shall report the information for the period he did operate and the figures are to be converted to a full month basis in the manner described in section 8.1. The figures for the last thirty (30) days (or converted to a full month basis) shall be used for such establishment whenever this order refers to use, dollar revenue, or number of persons served during December 1942.

(f) The board shall compute a base for each rationed food (to be used in determining the amount of allotments for the periods following the one in which he commenced operation) in the following way:

(1) The allotment of each rationed food given by the district office is divided by the number of persons the district office estimated he would serve and the result is multiplied by the number of persons served during the last 30 days computed in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section.

(2) The figure obtained shall be his base. However, if his use of the rationed food during those 30 days is less than that figure, the amount he used shall be his base for that food.

(g) The allotment for each rationed food for the allotment period following the one in which he commenced operations shall be twice the base for that food. It shall also be twice the base for the next period if, at the time application for the allotment is made, the establishment has not been in operation in three calendar months. The allotments for the following periods shall be computed in accordance with section 7.3.

(h) At the end of the period in which he commenced operations, the institutional user shall report to the board (on OPA Form R–1307), the number of persons served during that period. If the number of persons actually served during the period in which the institutional user commenced operations is less than the number of persons which the district office estimated he would serve, he shall be charged with excess inventory in an amount computed in the following way:

(1) The allotment of each rationed food given by the district office is divided by the number of persons the district office estimated he would serve.

(2) The figure obtained is multiplied by the difference between the number of persons actually served and the number of persons which the district office estimated he would serve.

(3) The result shall be treated as excess inventory.

SEC. 13.4 Combined registration of new Group II and III establishments. (a) A person who desires to operate a new Group II or III establishment to be registered together with one or more institutional establishments of the same group which he already operates must notify the board of his intention to do so and of the address of the proposed establishment. This shall constitute registration of the establishment on the form already filed for his other establishments. No separate allotment will be granted for the new establishment, but a supplemental allotment may be granted by the board pursuant to section 11.3 or section 11.4 whichever is applicable.

SEC. 13.5 Where new establishments are registered. (a) If an institutional user already has two or more establishments which are registered together he shall register a new institutional user establishment together with his other establishments and at the same board. If he already has institutional user establishments registered separately the new establishment shall be registered separately with the board where it will be located. If he has only one other establishment he may elect whether his establishments will be registered together or separately. If he registers them together, registration shall be at the board for the area where his principal office is located. If he registers them separately, registration shall be at the board for the area where the establishment will be located.

Article XIV—Appeals

SEC. 14.1 Appeals. (a) Any person directly affected by any action of a board, district office, State director, or regional administrator, under this order, may appeal, in accordance with the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 9.[1]

(b) This section shall not apply to any action on a petition made pursuant to section 12.2, except action taken by an official who has been authorized by the Office of Price Administration to grant or deny such petition.

Article XV—Acquisition and Use of Rationed Foods

SEC. 15.1 Acquisition of rationed foods. (a) An institutional user may acquire a rationed food only in the way provided in the order rationing such food and he shall surrender stamps, certificates, or ration checks and shall issue ration checks in connection with such food, only for the purposes permitted and with the effect provided in such order and, if he has an account, in General Ration Order No. 3A.

SEC. 15.2 Use of rationed food. (a) No Group II or III institutional user may use more of any rationed food during an allotment period than his allotments of that rationed food for that period plus any unused part of his allotments for earlier periods and any allotments granted to him for the next period. This restriction does not apply, however, to rationed foods used for food services to Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard personnel messed under the command of a commissioned or non-commissioned officer.

SEC. 15.3 Restrictions on use of rationed foods and certificates.—(a) No institutional user may use for any purpose other than an institutional use any rationed food included in his opening inventory, or any rationed food acquired for institutional use.

(b) An institutional user may not transfer to, or use for, any institutional user establishment rationed foods, war ration books, stamps, certificates, ration checks or "ration credits" acquired for another institutional user establishment, unless both establishments are Group II or III establishments, are in the same group and are registered together.

Article XVI—Ration Bank Accounts

SEC. 16.1 What a ration bank account is. (a) A ration bank account is very much like an ordinary checking account. An institutional user who opens a ration bank account deposits in it certificates and ration checks issued to him, and issues ration checks drawn on it to transfer ration credits. The rules governing the opening and use of ration bank accounts are contained in General Ration Order No. 3A.[2]

SEC. 16.2 Who may open accounts. (a) A Group II or III institutional user may open an account for any rationed food. (A Group I user may not.) The opening of an account for one rationed food will not require him to open an account for any other rationed food.

(b) If the establishments of a Group II or III institutional user are separately registered, he may open separate accounts for any one or more of his establishments without opening accounts for the others. He may not use the same account for more than one establishment.

(c) Any Group II institutional user who has combined his establishments in one registration, may open one account for all his Group II establishments, or a separate account for each or for any combination of them. Any Group III institutional user whose establishments are registered together has the same privilege for his Group III establishments. No account may be opened for, or serve, establishments in more than one group. If an account is opened pursuant to this paragraph for any establishment in Group II or Group III, all other establishments in the same group must also have an account or accounts.

SEC. 16.3 Use of ration bank accounts. (a) An institutional user who has an account may deposit in it certificates issued to him only in the form and during the periods prescribed by the order rationing the food for which he has the account. Ration checks issued to him may be deposited at any time.

(b) An institutional user may issue checks drawn on his account only for the purposes permitted and with the effect prescribed by the order rationing the food for which he has the account. Ration credits may be transferred by the use of a ration check, without the delivery of rationed foods, between accounts of establishments in the same group which are registered together.

(c) An account opened by an institutional user may be used only for his operations as an institutional user. It may not be used for his operations in any other capacity, as for example, an industrial user or wholesaler.

Article XVII—Persons Living in Institutional User Establishments

SEC. 17.1 A person who lives in Group II or III institutional user establishment must give up his war ration books. (a) A person who lives in any Group II or III institutional user establishment (or in premises maintained in connection with it) for seven consecutive days or more, and who takes eight or more meals a week there, must turn over all his war ration books containing stamps designated for the acquisition of any rationed food, to the institutional user who operates the establishment. If he makes arrangements in advance to live there for seven consecutive days or more and to take eight or more meals a week, he must turn over the books before the week begins. Otherwise he must turn them over as soon as he has lived there for seven consecutive days and has eaten, during that period, eight or more meals.

(b) An institutional user who operates a Group III establishment in which fewer than fifty (50) people regularly live must get the war ration books of all persons who live in the establishment (or in premises maintained in connection with it) for seven consecutive days or more and who eat eight or more meals a week there. He must take the books from any person who makes arrangements in advance, as soon as the week begins. Otherwise, he must get the books as soon as the person has lived there for seven consecutive days and has, during that period, eaten eight or more meals. He may not serve food to any person who does not turn over all his war ration books containing stamps designated for rationed foods, when required to do so by this order.

(c) An institutional user who operates a Group II or a Group III establishment in which fifty or more people live, must accept and hold war ration books which are turned over to him by persons who live there.

(d) An institutional user in Group II or III must remove from any War Ration Book One turned over to him, sugar and coffee stamps which expire while he has them. He must also remove from any War Ration Book Two eleven points (as nearly as possible) of currently valid stamps for each week during which the person who turned over the book lives in his establishment (or in premises maintained in connection with it) for seven consecutive days and takes eight or more meals there. He must surrender to his board all stamps so removed, at the time of his next application for an allotment and, in any event, not later than five days after the beginning of the next allotment period. He must not use those stamps for any purpose, nor may he deposit them in any ration bank account.

(e) A war ration book shall be returned, temporarily, to the person from whom it was received for use in acquiring any rationed product other than a rationed food product, or for use in obtaining another war ration book.

(f) The war ration books, with stamps detached as required above, must be returned to the person from whom they were received when he leaves the establishment or stops taking eight or more meals a week there.

Article XVIII—Reports and Records

SEC. 18.1 In general. (a) All institutional users shall maintain such records and make such reports as this order requires and as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require. Such records shall be maintained for a period of not less than two years and shall be available during such period for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, through any authorized representative, at any reasonable time.

SEC. 18.2 Records required. (a) Every Group II and III institutional user shall maintain records showing by calendar months, for each such group of his establishment, (and, if his establishments are separately registered, for each such establishment) the number of persons served and the dollar revenue.

SEC. 18.3 Disclosure of information. (a) Information and documents obtained pursuant to this order will not be disclosed, in response to subpoena or otherwise, to any person other than the person furnishing such information or documents unless the Administrator of the Office of Price Administration (or a representative of the Office of Price Administration designated by him) determines that the requested disclosure is not contrary to law and consents to such disclosure.

Article XIX—Prohibitions

SEC. 19.1 Prohibitions. (a) No person shall use points, stamps, war ration books, certificates or ration checks unless he has received them in a way permitted by this or any other order of the Office of Price Administration.

(b) No person shall offer, solicit, attempt or agree to do or assist in doing any act in violation of this order.

(c) No person shall, in any registration, report, application or other statement or record made pursuant to this order make any untrue statement of fact or omit to state any fact which is required to be stated or which is necessary to make any statement not misleading.

Article XX—Enforcement

SEC. 20.1 Suspension orders. (a) Any person who violates this order may, by administrative suspension order, be prohibited from receiving any transfers or deliveries of, or from selling or using or otherwise disposing of, any rationed foods or other rationed product or facility. Such suspension order shall be issued for such period as in the judgment of the Administrator, or such person as he may designate for such purpose, is necessary or appropriate in the public interest to promote the national security.

Article XXI—To Whom This Order Does Not Apply

SEC. 21.1 To whom this order does not apply. (a) This order does not apply to the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, or War Shipping Administration, of the United States, or to ocean going vessels operating in foreign, coastwise, or intercoastal trade acquiring rationed foods as ships' stores for consumption aboard such vessels. (Those users obtain rationed foods in accordance with the ration orders governing such foods.)

(b) The provisions of this order do not apply to the Maritime Commission, the Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, the National Advisory Commission for Aeronautics, or the Office of Scientific Research and Development, of the United States, with respect to sugar. (Those users obtain sugar in accordance with Rationing Order No. 3.)

(c) The provisions of this order do not apply to the Maritime Commission of the United States with respect to coffee. (The Maritime Commission obtains coffee in accordance with Ration Order No. 12.)

(d) The provisions of this order do not apply to the Office of Lend-Lease Administration and the Food Distribution Administration, of the United States with respect to processed foods. (Those users obtain processed foods in accordance with Ration Order No. 13.)

Article XXII—Definitions

SEC. 22.1 Definitions. When used in this order:

"Account" means a ration bank account carried by a bank, in which the bank keeps a record of deposits of stamps, certificates and ration checks and of transfers of ration credits.

"Acquire" means to get possession or title in any way.

"Allowance per person" means the allowance of a rationed food per person as set forth in the supplement to this order.

"Board" means a war price and rationing board. "The board" means the war price and rationing board with which the institutional user establishment is, or is required to be registered.

"Certificate" means a certificate issued in accordance with Rationing Order No. 3, or Ration Orders No. 12 or 13.

"Coffee" means coffee as defined in Ration Order No. 12.

"District office" means the district office of the Office of Price Administration for the area in which the board with which an institutional user has registered is located, or, if there is no such district office, the State office of the Office of Price Administration in that area.

"Dollar revenue" means gross dollar revenue derived from the service of food and non-alcoholic beverages. Where a combined charge is made for food and lodging or for food and other services, dollar revenue is computed by determining how much of the total charge reasonably covers the service of food and non-alcoholic beverages. (However, if the combined charge covers entertainment, that part of the charge is included in dollar revenue.) If a determination has been made under any maximum rent regulations of the Office of Price Administration, of the part of the total charge which is for rent, that determination shall be used in computing dollar revenue. Dollar revenue does not include revenue derived from food services to Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard personnel messed under the command of a commissioned or non-commissioned officer.

"Issue", when used with respect to a ration check, means the delivery of a completed ration check to the person to whose account the ration check is made payable.

"Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, business trust, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, and any state or any political subdivision or agency thereof, and any other government or agency thereof, or any organized group of individuals.

"Processed foods" means processed foods as defined in Ration Order No. 13.

"Ration check" means a check, in the form prescribed by the Office of Price Administration, drawn by a depositor against his account and made payable to the account of a named person.

"Ration credits" means the credits in an account reflecting deposits of stamps, certificates or ration checks.

"Rationed food" means sugar, coffee, or processed foods.

"Stamp" means a stamp in, or taken from a war ration book.

"Sugar" means sugar as defined in Rationing Order No. 3.

"War ration book" means War Ration Book One (OPA Form R–302) or War Ration Book Two (OPA Form R–121).

Article XXIII—Post Exchanges and Ship Service Departments Ashore

SEC. 23.1 How post exchanges and Ship Service Departments Ashore obtain rationed foods for institutional use. (a) Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard post exchanges and Ship Service Departments Ashore, which make an institutional use of rationed foods, are not required to register with a board under this order. The Army Exchange Service of the United States War Department, the Bureau of Naval Personnel of the Navy Department, the Coast Guard, and the Marine Corps may, at any time apply to the Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration for allotments of rationed foods for the post exchanges and Ship Service Departments Ashore, for allotment periods, beginning with March 1, 1943. Allotments will be given in accordance with arrangements made with the Office of Price Administration. The Washington Office will issue one certificate for each rationed food. The amount for which the certificate is issued may be distributed, through the use of ration checks, to the various post exchanges and Ship Service Departments Ashore.

(b) Ration bank accounts may be opened for post exchanges and Ship Service Departments Ashore, at any time after February 20, 1943, in the same manner as ration bank accounts may be opened for other institutional users.

Effective Date

This general ration order shall become effective 12:01 a. m. on March 1, 1943 except that Sections 22.1 and 23.1 shall become effective February 20, 1943.

Issued this 18th day of February 1943.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[MPR 107,[1] Amendment 9]

USED TIRES AND TUBES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new paragraph (c) is added to § 1315.1353a, as set forth below:

§ 1315.1353a Minimum quality specifications for repaired tires and tubes. * * *

(c) Notwithstanding any of the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, the minimum quality specifications set forth in Appendix C (§ 1315.1362) shall not apply to used tires or tubes which have been repaired in accordance with written permission from the Office of the Rubber Director, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., to deviate from the minimum quality specifications set forth in Appendix C, for purposes of an experimental program sponsored by that Office. In order for any repaired used tire or tube to be exempt from such minimum quality specifications in accordance with this paragraph, the consumer purchaser must be given, on the sales slip or otherwise, the following written statement: "Experimental tire (or tube). Keep this slip to identify the tire (or tube)." The slip upon which the statement is made must clearly identify the tire or tube by giving the serial number, brand name, and any other pertinent description.

This amendment shall become effective February 24, 1943.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

PART 1316—COTTON TEXTILES

[MPR 11,[1] Amendment 1]

FINE COTTON GOODS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment issued simultaneously herewith has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1316.3 (b) is amended; in § 1316.4 (d) four provisions and footnote 1 of Table I (the twenty-second lawn construction; the fifteenth marquisette construction; the first umbrella cloth construction; the first beat-up construction) and Table III are amended, as set forth below:

§ 1316.3 To what transactions, fabrics and persons this regulation applies. * * *

(b) What fabrics are covered. This regulation covers:

(1) Any grey fabric (i) made wholly of combed cotton yarns; (ii) made of combed and carded cotton yarns and so constructed that either the warp or the filling consists wholly of combed yarn and 50 per cent or more of its total weight content is composed of combed cotton yarns; or (iii) made of rayon[] and cotton and so constructed that the fabric contains some combed cotton yarn, except:

(a) Fabrics covered by Revised Price Schedule No. 23 as amended;[]

(b) Fabrics (other than marquisettes) containing colored yarn elsewhere than in the selvage;

(c) Cross-bordered handkerchief cloth;

(d) Twills;

(e) Oxfords;

(f) Balloon cloth;

(g) Madras made in a weave requiring a dobby loom.

(2) Grey sateens made in whole or in part of combed cotton yarn; and

(3) Unfinished box-loom clip-spot marquisettes and beat-up marquisettes made of combed or carded cotton yarn or any combination thereof.

§ 1316.4 Maximum prices. * * *

(d) The maximum prices are as follows:

TABLE I[1]

TYPE AND CONSTRUCTION OF CLOTH	Cents per yard
* * * * *

TABLE III

(1) This Table establishes maximum prices for every fabric covered by this regulation for which a specified price is not set forth in or ascertainable from Tables I and II.

(2) Except as provided below the maximum price for fabrics subject to Table III shall be as follows:

	Price (cents per pound)
Cloths:
Lawn	75
Broadcloths	60
Voiles	75
Dimities	60
Marquisettes	75
Other fabrics	50

(3) For any fabric subject to the pound price maximum prices set forth in (2) above a seller may request the Office of Price Administration to determine a special maximum price in lieu of such poundage price. The request shall contain a complete description of the cloth including:

(i) Fabric name
(ii) Width:
  (a) In the reed
  (b) Of woven cloth
(iii) Weight of grey cloth (yds per lb)
(iv) Cloth count of woven cloth
(v) Yarn details—for each warp and filling yarn:
  (a) Count
  (b) Ply
  (c) Twist
  (d) Percentage to weight of cloth
(vi) Cuts:
  (a) Yards per cut for sizing
  (b) Yards woven per cut
(vii) Percentage of sizing in cloth
(viii) Loom:
  (a) Type
  (b) Model
  (c) Speed
  (d) Percentage of weaving efficiency
(ix) Weave and harnesses required
(x) Number of looms per weaver

Even if such a request has been made the seller may not contract for, demand or receive a price higher than the applicable poundage price appearing in (2) above except under the conditions hereinafter set forth.

(4) For any fabric subject to Table III which is sold or delivered pursuant to a government contract (as defined in § 1316.7):

(i) If the delivery is made prior to March 24, 1943, the maximum price shall be the maximum price in effect on January 6, 1943;

(ii) If the delivery is made (or to be made) on or after March 24, 1943, the seller may charge a price not in excess of the maximum price in effect on January 6, 1943 subject to the following conditions: first, that prior to March 24, 1943 (or within one week of any initial contract of sale made thereafter for such fabric) the seller shall have filed with the Office of Price Administration in accordance with (3) above a request for a special maximum price; and, second, that upon the establishment of a special maximum price the seller shall promptly refund to the purchaser the amount by which the price received exceeds the special maximum price.

(5) For any fabric subject to Table III of a construction sold or delivered by the seller between July 1, 1942 and January 6, 1943, which is sold or delivered pursuant to a contract other than a government contract, a seller who in accordance with (3) above has requested the Office of Price Administration to determine a special maximum price for such fabric may reserve the right to charge the purchaser an amount equal to the difference between the applicable poundage maximum price set forth in (2) above and the special maximum price thereafter established pursuant to the seller's request.

This amendment shall become effective February 24, 1943.

PART 1350—EMERGENCY CIVILIAN DEFENSE MATERIALS AND EQUIPMENT

[MPR 321]

FELDSPAR FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for sales of feldspar fire extinguishers by a separate maximum price regulation.

Feldspar fire extinguishers are a new commodity, the manufacture of which is subject to license by the Department of the Interior under United States Patent No. 2,294,532, issued September 1, 1942.

[] "Rayon" means fibers chemically produced from cellulose or with a cellulose base by the viscose, acetate or cuprammonium process.

[] The following fabrics are covered by Revised Price Schedule No. 23. Any fabric so constructed that 80% or more of its ends by count in the warp shall consist of rayon, any fabric so constructed that 80% or more of its picks by count in the filling shall consist of rayon; any fabric constructed with a plied yarn in the warp and the filling where one of the threads in the ply used in the warp and the filling is rayon yarn, even though the total weight content of the rayon is less than 50% of the total weight of the fabric; and any fabric so constructed that 50% or more of its total weight content is composed of rayon except for fabrics containing 25% or more of wool that are woven on a woolen loom.

[1] Fabrics shall be subject to the yardage prices set forth in Tables I and II rather than to the poundage prices set forth in Table III unless they are over 4% lighter or over 6% heavier than the weights specified, except that for marquisettes and beat-up marquisettes the appropriate yardage price shall apply to all weights of each construction specified.

The maximum prices set forth in Table I shall apply only to fabrics made wholly of combed cotton yarn unless otherwise specified.

For a fabric the same as one of those listed in Table I except for a difference in width not exceeding two inches and a consequent proportionate difference in weight, the maximum price shall be the price shown in Table I adjusted in the ratio which the width of one fabric bears to the other.

After consultation with licensees and applicants for licenses in so far as practicable, the Price Administrator has determined that the maximum prices established by this regulation which apply to the sale of feldspar fire extinguishers are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to check inflation and to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act.

A statement of considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation is issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as Amended, and Executive Order 9250, this Maximum Price Regulation No. 321 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1350.10 to 1350.113, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1350.101 Maximum prices for Feldspar fire extinguishers. On and after February 24, 1943, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease, or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver vitrescible extinguisher materials packaged and sold as magnesium fire extinguishers in accordance with licenses issued by the Department of the Interior under United States Patent No. 2,294,532, issued September 1, 1942, hereinafter referred to as feldspar fire extinguishers, and no person shall buy or receive feldspar fire extinguishers in the course of trade or business at prices higher than the prices set forth in Appendix A hereof and incorporated herein as § 1350.113, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

The maximum prices established by this section (§ 1350.101) may be modified by the Price Administrator at any time.

§ 1350.102 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in Appendix A of § 1350.113 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1350.103 Sales for export. The maximum prices at which a person may sell or deliver feldspar fire extinguishers for export shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration July 2, 1942.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1350.104 Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to or at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery. In an appropriate situation, where a petition for amendment or for adjustment or exception requires extended consideration, the Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

§ 1350.105 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 321 shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods in connection with a purchase of feldspar fire extinguishers, alone or in conjunction with any other material, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

§ 1350.106 Records and reports. (a) Every person, except a consumer, making purchases or sales of feldspar fire extinguishers on or after February 24, 1943, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 remains in effect, complete and accurate records of each such purchase or sale, except sales to consumers showing the date thereof, the name and address of the buyer, the price received, and the quantity of each classification and grade sold.

(b) Persons affected by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 321 shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and keep such other records in addition to, or in place of the records required in paragraph (a) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may, from time to time require.

§ 1350.107 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 321 shall be subject to the civil and criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damage provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 321 or any price schedule, regulation, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest field or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1350.108 Licensing—(a) License required. Effective February 24, 1943, a license as a condition of selling is required of every seller subject to the provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 321.

(b) License granted. Effective February 24, 1943, or whenever such seller becomes subject to the provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 321, every seller of feldspar fire extinguishers is hereby granted a license as a condition of selling such commodity. Such license shall, unless suspended in accordance with the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remain in effect as long as and to the extent that said regulation or any amendment, supplement, or order thereto remains in effect.

(c) License suspended. Effective February 24, 1943, no person whose license to sell feldspar fire extinguishers is suspended in proceedings under section 205 (f) (2) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall during the period of such suspension, sell any feldspar fire extinguishers.

§ 1350.109 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking a modification of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 321, may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[1]

§ 1350.110 Applicability of General Maximum Price Regulation.[2] The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 321 supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 321

§ 1350.111 Definitions. (a) When used in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 321, the term:

(1) "Consumer" means any person who purchases a feldspar fire extinguisher for use and not for resale.

(2) "Distributor" means any person who purchases a feldspar fire extinguisher for resale.

(3) "Licensee" means any person licensed under United States Patent No. 2,294,532.

(4) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the foregoing.

(5) "Wholesaler" means any distributor of feldspar fire extinguishers reselling such extinguishers for resale.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1350.113 Appendix A: Maximum prices for feldspar fire extinguishers. (See § 1350.111—Definitions) (a) Sales by licensee—(1) Sales to distributor. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 321 and the General Maximum Price Regulation issued April 28, 1942, shall not apply to sales or deliveries of feldspar fire extinguishers by a licensee to a distributor nor to purchases by a distributor of feldspar fire extinguishers from a licensee.

(2) Sales to consumer. The licensee's maximum price on sales to a consumer shall not exceed the licensee's highest price f. o. b. his plant to a distributor plus fifty-four (54) percent thereof, plus transportation charges paid by licensee.

(b) Sales by distributor.—(1) Sales to another distributor. Distributor's maximum price on a sale to another distributor shall not exceed the purchase price, excluding transportation charges, paid licensee for feldspar fire extinguishers, plus twenty-five (25) percent of such purchase price excluding transportation charges, plus transportation charges paid by distributor: Provided, That no amount except transportation charges paid by the seller shall be added to the licensee's selling price where the licensee has agreed with the licensor to act as a wholesaler.

(2) Sales to consumer. Distributor's maximum price on a sale to a consumer shall not exceed the distributor's purchase price of feldspar fire extinguishers from his supplier excluding transportation charges, plus an amount not to exceed fifty-four (54) percent of such purchase price excluding transportation charges, plus transportation charges paid by distributor.

(c) Notification. On or after February 24, 1943, every licensee and every distributor shall, before or at the time of his first delivery to any distributor, inform such distributor in writing that his maximum price for sales of feldspar fire extinguishers is established by paragraph (b), § 1350.113 of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 321, as follows:

Sales by distributor—(1) Sales to another distributor. Distributor's maximum price on a sale to another distributor shall not exceed the purchase price, excluding transportation charges, paid licensee for the feldspar fire extinguishers, plus twenty-five (25) percent of such purchase price excluding transportation charges, plus transportation charges paid by distributor: Provided, That no amount except transportation charges paid by the seller shall be added to the licensee's selling price where the licensee has agreed with the licensor to act as a wholesaler.

(2) Sales to consumer. Distributor's maximum price on a sale to a consumer shall not exceed the distributor's purchase price of feldspar fire extinguishers from his supplier excluding transportation charges, plus an amount not to exceed fifty-four (54) percent of such purchase price excluding transportation charges, plus transportation charges paid by distributor.

PART 1358—TOBACCO

[MPR 260,[1] Amendment 5]

CIGARS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1358.103 is amended as set forth below:

§ 1358.103 Maximum prices set under this regulation cannot be changed. On or before January 15, 1943, every manufacturer and importer of cigars must establish a maximum list price and a maximum retail price pursuant to this regulation for each brand and size of cigars sold by him. The maximum list price and the maximum retail price in effect on January 15, 1943 and established by a manufacturer of domestic cigars under §§ 1358.102 and 1358.116 Appendix A, or by an importer of imported cigars under §§ 1358.102a and 1358.117 Appendix B, shall be the maximum list price and the maximum retail price respectively of the particular brand or size of cigars in question from that date forward, subject only to adjustments permitted under § 1358.107 (b), (c) and (d); Provided, That, at any time before 90 days after the effective date of an amendment to this regulation adjusting or providing alternative maximum list prices and/or maximum retail prices for a domestic cigar of a particular March 1942 retail price class, a manufacturer of such domestic cigar may adjust his maximum list price and/or maximum retail price therefor, as the case may be, as permitted or required by such amendment.

This amendment shall become effective February 24, 1943.

PART 1382—HARDWOOD LUMBER

[MPR 313,[1] Amendment 1]

PRIME GRADE HARDWOOD LOGS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In § 1382.251, paragraph (a) is amended to read as set forth below:

§ 1382.251 Sales of prime grade hardwood logs at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) On and after February 6, 1943, regardless of any contract or obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business, any prime grade hardwood logs at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer or attempt to do any of these things. However, if a contract for sale of prime grade hardwood logs was made before February 1, 1943, at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed in this regulation, the buyer or seller may apply by letter to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for permission to complete (in whole or part) deliveries under the contract, at the contract price, until (but not including) April 1, 1943. The application must include a copy of the contract, or a summary of all the terms of the contract. Permission to complete deliveries under the contract until April 1, 1943, may be granted by letter or telegram.

This amendment shall become effective as of February 6, 1943.

PART 1389—APPAREL

RETAILERS' AND WHOLESALERS' PRICES FOR WOMEN'S, GIRLS' AND CHILDREN'S OUTERWEAR GARMENTS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for retailers and wholesalers of certain women's, girls' and children's outerwear garments. The maximum prices established by this regulation are in the judgment of the Price Administrator, generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Maximum Price Regulation No. 330 is hereby issued.

§ 1389.551 Scope of this regulation—(a) What garments must be priced under this regulation. A list of the women's, girls' and children's outerwear garments which must be priced under this regulation is given in Appendix A at the end of the regulation. This regulation applies only to the garments which are described in that list. Hereafter, the women's, girls' and children's outerwear garments covered by this regulation are referred to as "garments."

(b) Kinds of sales which are covered. This regulation applies to sales by retailers and wholesalers. It does not apply to sales by manufacturers, manufacturing-retailers, custom-tailors or dressmakers. These terms are defined in § 1389.362. If after reading these definitions, you are in doubt as to whether this regulation applies to you, consult the nearest field office of the Office of Price Administration.

(c) When this regulation takes effect. This regulation takes effect February 24, 1943. As to garments delivered to you on or after February 24, 1943, you may not sell at higher prices than the ceiling prices set by this regulation. As to garments delivered to you before February 24, 1943, you were required to set your ceiling prices under § 1499.2 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation[1] or under Maximum Price Regulation 153, as amended.[2] You may, if you desire, continue to use those ceiling prices for these garments, or you may reprice your garments under the ceilings set in this regulation.

§ 1389.552 How to find your ceiling price under this regulation—(a) Explanation of rules. You find your ceiling price under this regulation by calculating the markup which you took on garments you delivered during the "base period", and then applying that markup to the cost of the garments you are pricing. You find what the "base period" markup is by using one of the pricing rules which are given in § 1389.554. However, you are not permitted to sell any garment at a higher price than the "highest price line" at which you delivered a garment of the same "category number" in March 1942. (This "highest price line" provision is explained in § 1389.553).

(b) What is a "category number." The garments covered by this regulation are listed in Appendix A. Each kind of garment (such as dresses, coats, suits, skirts) is broken down into certain size groups. Each size group is described as a category and given a "category number."

For example: all "women's" coats are placed in Category No. 1; all "misses'" and "junior misses'" coats in sizes from 9 to 20, inclusive, are in Category No. 2; all "teen age" coats in sizes from 10 to 16, inclusive, are in Category No. 3; "women's" jackets are in Category No. 11; "girls'" dresses in sizes from 7 to 14, inclusive, are in Category No. 24, etc.

(c) What is the "base period." The base period is very important because you must determine your markup from your deliveries of garments during that period. The base period is:

(1) For retailers, the period between August 1, 1941 and December 31, 1941, both inclusive.

(2) For wholesalers, the period between July 1, 1941 and October 31, 1941, both inclusive.

(3) For retailers who started to sell garments after October 1, 1941 but before November 1, 1942, and for wholesalers who started to sell garments after September 1, 1941 but before November 1, 1942, the base period is the first four months immediately following the time of starting of sale of garments.

(4) For those mail-order catalogue establishments making sales on the basis of orders received by mail, who printed their Spring 1942 catalogues prior to January 15, 1942, the base period is the month of March 1942.

§ 1389.553 Explanation of "highest price line" limitation. In order that the consumer may continue to buy garments at customary price levels, this regulation provides a highest price line rule, or an over-all ceiling rule for each category. The rule is that you may not, under any circumstances, sell any garment at a higher price than the highest price line at which you delivered a garment of the same category number during March 1942. If you did not deliver any garments of the same category number during March 1942, then you may not sell a garment of that category number at a higher price than the highest price line at which your most closely competitive seller of the same class delivered a garment of that category number during March 1942.

§ 1389.554 How to use the pricing rules—(a) Pricing chart. In order to find your ceiling price for any garment, you use that one of the five following pricing rules which is applicable. It will be helpful in using these pricing rules to prepare immediately a pricing chart to have before you when you establish your ceiling prices. This chart should contain a list of (1) the category numbers you delivered in the base period, (2) the cost price at which you purchased garments in each of these category numbers, (3) the selling price at which you delivered during the base period the largest number of garments for each cost price, (4) the percentage markup for this selling price, (5) the highest price at which you delivered a garment of each category number in March 1942 (or if you did not deliver such a category number, the highest price at which your most closely competitive seller of the same class delivered a garment of this category number during March 1942.)

(b) Summary of pricing rules. (1) You first find whether you delivered in the base period a garment of the same category number as the garment for which you are calculating your ceiling price. If you did, then you find your ceiling price by using either Rule 1, 2 or 3.

(2) If you find that you did not deliver in the base period a garment of the same category number as the garment you are pricing, then you must calculate your ceiling under Rule 4.

(3) You are permitted to price a garment under Rule 5 only if none of the rules from 1 through 4 apply to your case. For example, you must use Rule 5 if you first started selling garments in February, 1943.

(c) Pricing rules for garments of a category number delivered during the base period. To find your ceiling price for garments of the same category number as garments which you delivered during the base period, you compare the cost price at which you purchased the garments now being priced with the cost price at which you purchased garments of the same category number which you delivered during the base period, and then use the first of the next three rules that applies.

Rule 1. The ceiling price for a garment of the same cost to you as a garment you delivered in the base period is the selling price at which you delivered the largest number of such garments during the base period.

For example: You want to find your ceiling price for women's dresses (Category No. 21), which you now buy in a $6.75 cost price line. During the base period, you delivered a total of 250 women's dresses which you bought at a $6.75 cost price. Of these 250 dresses your selling price was $9.95 for 50 of these dresses, $10.95 for 125 of them and $11.95 for 75 of them. Your ceiling price this season for dresses which cost you $6.75 is $10.95, since that is the price at which you delivered in the base period the largest number of women's dresses that cost you $6.75.

However, if during the base period you delivered an equal number of units at two or more different selling prices then your ceiling price shall be the lowest of these selling prices.

For example: You want to find your ceiling price for women's coats (Category No. 1), which you now buy in a $22.75 cost price line. In the base period, you delivered 120 coats that cost you $22.75. You delivered 20 of them at $32.50, 50 of them at $35.00 and 50 at $39.95. Your ceiling price this season for coats that cost you $22.75 is $35.00. Since you delivered 50 coats at $35.00 and 50 coats at $39.95, the rule requires that you take as your ceiling the lower of the two selling prices.

Rule 2. This rule is used where the garment being priced is bought by you at a cost different from the cost of garments of the same category number, which you delivered in the base period.

In such case, you calculate your ceiling price as follows: You first find the next lower cost price line of garments of the same category number, which you delivered in the base period. You then find the selling price at which you delivered the largest number of units of such garments in the next lower cost price line in the base period. Then you find the percentage markup which you took on these garments in the base period and apply the same percentage markup to the garments you are pricing.

For example: You want to find your ceiling price for women's dresses (Category No. 21), that you now buy at a $7.75 cost price line. In the base period you delivered women's dresses that cost you $6.75 and $8.75, but you did not deliver any that cost you $7.75. To calculate your ceiling, you find your next lower cost price line in women's dresses, that you delivered in the base period, which is $6.75. You delivered in the base period altogether 200 women's dresses which you bought in a $6.75 cost price line. You delivered 125 of them at $10.95 and 75 at $11.95. Since $10.75 is the selling price at which you delivered the largest number of units, you then calculate the percentage markup, which you took in the base period on the garments sold at $10.95 and which cost you $6.75. This markup is 38.4%. (This percentage markup is found in Column D of your Pricing Chart). You then apply this same percentage markup to the $7.75 cost of the garments you are pricing and you find that your ceiling price is $12.58.

Rule 3. This rule is used where the garment you are pricing is bought by you at a cost which is lower than any cost price line of garments of the same category number which you delivered in the base period. In such case you follow exactly the same procedure set forth in Rule 2, except that you apply the percentage markup taken by you on the lowest cost price line of garments of the same category number delivered in the base period instead of the next lower cost price line.

For example: You want to find your ceiling price for women's dresses (Category No. 21), that you now buy in a $2.75 cost price line. In the base period, you did not deliver any women's dresses which cost you less than $3.75. Since $3.75 is the lowest base period cost price line for women's dresses, you find that the selling prices at which you delivered in the base period the largest number of women's dresses which cost you $3.75 is $5.98. Thus the percentage markup which you took on women's dresses which cost you $3.75 and which you sold at $5.98 is 37.3%. (This percentage markup is found in Column D of your pricing chart). Thus by applying this same percentage markup on your $2.75 cost of the garment being priced, you find your ceiling price to be $4.39.

(d) Pricing rules for garments in a category number not delivered during the base period. To find your ceiling price for garments which are in a category number that you did not deliver during the base period, you compare the cost price line of the garment being priced with the cost price line at which you bought garments of other category numbers delivered by you during the base period, and then use Rule 4.

Rule 4. Your ceiling price for a garment of a category number that you did not deliver in the base period is determined as follows:

(1) If you delivered, during the base period, garments of any category number which you purchased at the same cost as the garment you are pricing, then your ceiling price is the selling price at which you delivered the largest number of such garments during the base period.

Example 1. You want to find your ceiling price on women's suits (Category No. 6), which you now buy at $6.75. You did not deliver any women's suits during the base period, but you did deliver one other category number, women's dresses (Category No. 21), which you bought at $6.75. Since during the base period, you delivered the largest number of women's dresses bought in a $6.75 cost price line, at $10.95, your ceiling price for such dresses, under Rule 1, is $10.95. Therefore, $10.95 is your ceiling price for women's suits bought at $6.75, as that is the ceiling price you established for garments in another category number bought at the same cost.

(2) If you did not deliver during the base period garments of any category number which you bought at the same cost as the garment you are pricing, then you take the next lower cost price line of garments which you delivered in the base period and find the selling price at which you delivered the largest number of such garments; then find the percentage markup which you took on these garments, and apply this percentage markup to the cost of the garments you are pricing.

Example 2. You want to find the ceiling price for misses' suits (Category No. 7) which you now buy at $9.25. You did not deliver any misses' suits during the base period, nor did you deliver any garments at all which you bought at $9.25. You delivered women's dresses (Category No. 21) bought at $8.75, which is the next lower cost price line for any garments delivered by you in the base period. Under Rule 2 you find that you may take a 37.3% markup for the women's dresses bought at $8.75, since in the base period you delivered at $13.95 the largest number of women's dresses which cost you $8.75. (This percentage markup is found in Column D of your pricing chart). Thus you may take a 37.3% markup on the misses' suits bought at $9.25, and your ceiling price for these misses' suits is $14.75.

(3) If you did not deliver during the base period any garment you bought at a cost price lower than the garment you are pricing, then you take the lowest cost price line of garments which you did deliver and find the selling price at which you delivered the largest number of such garments; then find the percentage margin which you took on these garments and apply this percentage markup to the cost of the garments you are pricing.

Example 3. You want to find the ceiling price for blouses (Category No. 26), which you now buy at $2.50. You did not deliver any blouses during the base period. However, the lowest cost price line in which you bought any garments which you delivered in the base period was $3.75 at which you bought women's dresses (Category No. 21). Since you delivered the largest number of such dresses in the base period at $5.98, you are permitted a 37.3% markup on those dresses. Under Rule 3 you find you may take the same markup on the blouses as you took on the garments in your lowest cost price line delivered during the base period. Therefore, your ceiling price is $3.99, which is calculated by taking a markup of 37.3%, the markup on the lowest cost price line for garments in any category number delivered during the base period.

(4) In applying Rule 4, you might find that in the base period the largest number of garments that you delivered in two or more category numbers, which you purchased in the same cost price line, or in the next lower cost price line, or in the lowest cost price line, was delivered at different selling prices. In any such case in determining your ceiling price you must use that selling price or that percentage markup which gives you the lowest ceiling price. Also, if you find that you delivered during the base period an equal number of units at two or more different selling prices, then you shall use the lowest of these selling prices.

Example 4: Suppose that in calculating your ceiling price on the women's suits mentioned in Example 1 above, you find that during the base period you delivered not only women's dresses bought at $6.75, but also girls' coats (Category No. 4), which you bought at $6.75 and delivered at $9.95. Under Rule 1, your ceiling price for girls' coats bought at $6.75, is $9.95, since in the base period you delivered the largest number of girls' coats bought at that price for $9.95, and therefore, your ceiling price for these women's suits is $9.95 instead of $10.95 since that selling price gives you the lowest ceiling price.

Example 5: Suppose that in calculating your ceiling price on the misses' suits, which you now buy at $9.25, mentioned in Example 2 above, you find that during the base period you delivered not only women's dresses (Category No. 21), bought at $8.75 but also women's coats (Category No. 1), which you bought at $8.75. You delivered the largest number of such women's coats at $12.95, giving you a percentage markup of 32%. By applying to the cost of your misses' suits, ($9.25) the percentage markup on women's coats, 32%, you calculate a ceiling price of $13.60 for your misses' suits. Whereas, if you apply to the cost of your misses' suits your percentage markup on women's dresses, 37.3%, you calculate a price of $14.75 for your misses' suits. Your ceiling price for these misses' suits is therefore, $13.60, as you must use a 32% markup, for that is the percentage markup which will give you the lowest ceiling price.

(e) Rule 5—For wholesalers and retailers who started selling garments on or after November 1, 1942, or who cannot otherwise price. This rule is used when you find that none of the preceding four pricing rules applies to your situation. In such case, the ceiling price for the garment being priced shall be the same as the ceiling price established by your most closely competitive seller of the same class, for the same garment, or if none has been established for the same garment, then the ceiling price established by such competitive seller for the similar garment most nearly like it.

(f) Special provisions for selling establishments which sell through separate departments. (1) For the purpose of this regulation each separate department of a selling establishment shall be considered a separate seller.

(2) The highest price at which a separate department of a selling establishment may deliver a garment of a category number which it did not deliver in March 1942, shall be the highest price at which any department of the same selling establishment delivered a garment of the same category number during the base period.

(3) A separate department which is established after November 1, 1942, by a selling establishment which was in business prior to that date, shall establish its maximum prices in the following manner:

(i) The highest price line at which it may sell a garment in any category number shall be the highest price line at which any department of the selling establishment is permitted to sell a garment of that category number under this regulation.

(ii) The maximum markup which it may apply to the cost of the garment being priced shall be the highest markup which any department of the selling establishment is permitted to take had the garment been sold in that department or unit.

§ 1389.555 What acts are prohibited by this regulation. On and after the effective date of this regulation regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall do any of the following:

(a) Sell or deliver any garment at a price higher than the ceiling price permitted by this regulation, although he may lawfully charge prices below the ceiling.

(b) Change his customary discounts, allowances or price differentials, if the change results in a higher net price.

(c) Require a purchaser to buy any other article or service in connection with the sale or delivery of a garment.

(d) Do any other act which directly or indirectly increases, above the maximum price, the consideration paid for a garment or delivery of any garment.

(e) Buy or receive, in the course of trade or business, any garment which was sold in violation of any of the paragraphs of this section.

(f) Agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the acts prohibited by this regulation.

§ 1389.556 Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, proceedings for the suspension of licenses, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

§ 1389.557 Records. (a) You must keep a record of all prices established under this regulation. For each price, the record must show (1) the cost of the garment, (2) the selling price, (3) if you did not price under Rule 1, the percentage markup used in establishing the ceiling price, and (4) the pricing rule under which the ceiling was calculated.

(b) You must also preserve the records that you were required to prepare by § 1389.8 of Maximum Price Regulation 153, as amended.

(c) If you did not deliver the same category of garment during March 1942, you must keep a record showing (1) the name and address of your most closely competitive seller of the same class, and (2) his highest price line for a garment of that category number.

(d) If you use Rule 5 in pricing any garments, then you must keep a record of (1) the name and address of your most closely competitive seller of the same class whose garment you used to establish your maximum price, (2) a description of such garment of such most closely competitive seller, and (3) a description of your same or similar garment priced on the basis of such garment.

§ 1389.558 Invoices, sales slips and receipts, notification and disclosure to retailers. (a) Every wholesaler, in connection with a sale to a retailer shall deliver an invoice or other similar document showing (1) the date, (2) the name and address of the seller and purchaser, (3) the style number and category number of each of the different styles of garment sold, (4) the quantity of each different style of garment sold, (5) the price of each different style of garment sold, and (6) all discounts, allowances and other price differentials.

(b) Every retailer who has customarily given his customers a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase must continue to do so. Upon request from a customer, a retailer, regardless of previous custom, must give the purchaser a receipt showing (1) the date, (2) the name and address of the seller, (3) the name and description of each garment sold, and (4) the price received for it.

§ 1389.559 Relation to the other maximum price regulations. (a) The General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply, and this regulation shall apply to sales of garments covered by this regulation. However, the following sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation are made a part of this regulation, and you must observe them.

(1) Sellers operating more than one retail establishment (§ 1499.4a).

(2) Transfers of business or stock in trade (§ 1499.5).

(3) Federal and state taxes (§ 1499.7).

(4) Current records (§ 1499.12).

(5) Marking and posting of cost-of-living commodities (§ 1499.13), except that paragraph (b) of § 1499.13 (filing of cost-of-living statements) does not apply.

(6) The registration and licensing provisions of §§ 1499.15 and 1499.16 shall apply to every person who sells women's, girls' and children's outerwear garments at wholesale or retail.

(b) Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[1] Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation shall apply, and this regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries for which maximum prices are established by Revised Maximum Export Price Regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) Maximum Price Regulation 153, as amended. This regulation shall be considered as an amendment to Maximum Price Regulation No. 153, as amended, for all purposes, except that it shall be known as Maximum Price Regulation No. 330.

§ 1389.560 How this regulation may be amended. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment of general applicability. Any such petition must be filed in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1389.561 Geographical applicability of this regulation. This regulation shall be applicable to the continental United States, and to the District of Columbia, but not to the territories and possessions of the United States.

§ 1389.562 Definitions. (a) Unless the context otherwise requires or unless otherwise specifically provided herein, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in § 1499.20 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, shall apply to the terms used in this regulation.

(b) "Retail sale" or "sale at retail" means a sale to an ultimate consumer other than an industrial or commercial user.

(c) "Wholesale sale" or "sale at wholesale" means a sale, otherwise than at retail, of a garment which the seller received in substantially the form in which he sells it. Sales by a manufacturer of those garments which he produces or has produced for him are not considered sales at wholesale.

(d) A "manufacturer" is a person who sells a garment which he has fabricated or which has been fabricated for him by an agent or by a "contractor" as that term is defined in Maximum Price Regulation No. 172.[3]

(e) A "manufacturing-retailer" is a manufacturer who maintains one or more establishments selling at retail, or who otherwise sells to ultimate consumers and who sells substantially all of the garments that he manufactures to ultimate consumers.

(f) A "custom tailor" or "dressmaker" is a manufacturer who sells to ultimate consumers from his own establishment, garments fabricated by himself to the individual specifications and at the special order of such ultimate consumers.

(g) "Cost price line", "cost price" and "cost" have the same meaning when used in this regulation.

In applying your markup to "cost" in this regulation, you use the same "cost" basis that you used in the base period. Thus, if in the base period you applied your markup to invoice price, before discount and freight, you now calculate your markup on the same basis. On the other hand, if you applied your markup during the base period to net cost then you now calculate your markup on that basis.

(h) "Seller" means a seller of any of those types of women's, girls' and children's outerwear garments covered by this regulation.

APPENDIX A: WHAT GARMENTS MUST BE PRICED UNDER THIS REGULATION

This regulation applies to the following garments, if fabricated from yard goods, including knitted fabrics and lace.

(a) Coats: "Coats" include feminine outerwear garments, commonly known as coats, usually worn over other outer apparel, untrimmed, trimmed and fur-trimmed sport and dress, including capes and wraps, but not including rainwear garments or garments made of artificial leather. Rainwear garments are those which are commonly regarded as having their chief use as protection against rain. Infants' coats are not included.

Category numbers:
- 1—"Women's"—all sizes.
- 2—"Misses'" and "jr. misses'"—sizes from 9 to 20, inclusive.
- 3—"Teen age"—sizes from 10 to 16, inclusive.
- 4—"Girls'"—sizes from 7 to 14, inclusive.
- 5—"Children's"—sizes from 3 to 6, inclusive.

(b) Suits: "Suits" include two-piece feminine outerwear garments, untrimmed, trimmed and fur-trimmed, consisting of a separate jacket and separate skirt fabricated of wool, cotton, rayon, silk or other yard goods of either matching or contrasting material to be sold at a unit price. Skating suits consisting of a separate jacket and a separate skirt are deemed to be suits. Infants' suits are not included.

Category numbers:
- 6—"Women's"—all sizes.
- 7—"Misses'" and "jr. misses'"—sizes from 9 to 20, inclusive.
- 8—"Teen age"—sizes from 10 to 16, inclusive.
- 9—"Girls'"—sizes from 7 to 14, inclusive.
- 10—"Children's"—sizes from 3 to 6, inclusive.

(c) Separate jackets: "Separate jackets" include feminine outerwear garments, commonly known as jackets, including skating jackets, but excluding garments made of artificial leather. Boleros, jerkins and other garments of the same type are considered to be jackets. Infants' jackets are not included.

Category numbers:
- 11—"Women's"—all sizes.
- 12—"Misses'" and "jr. misses'"—sizes from 9 to 20, inclusive.
- 13—"Teen age"—sizes from 10 to 16, inclusive.
- 14—"Girls'"—sizes from 7 to 14, inclusive.
- 15—"Children's"—sizes from 3 to 6, inclusive.

(d) Separate skirts: "Separate skirts" include feminine outerwear garments, commonly known as skirts, including skating skirts, but excluding culottes. Infants' skirts are not included.

Category numbers:
- 16—"Women's"—all sizes.
- 17—"Misses'" and "jr. misses'"—sizes from 9 to 20, inclusive.
- 18—"Teen age"—sizes from 10 to 16, inclusive.
- 19—"Girls'"—sizes from 7 to 14, inclusive.
- 20—"Children's"—sizes from 3 to 6, inclusive.

(e) Dresses: "Dresses" include feminine outerwear garments commonly known as dresses, whether used for street, evening, house or utility wear. Jumpers, gumpies, pinafores, brunchcoats, smocks and similar garments are considered dresses. Infants' dresses are not included.

Category numbers:
- 21—"Women's"—all sizes.
- 22—"Misses'" and "jr. misses'"—sizes from 9 to 20, inclusive.
- 23—"Teen age"—sizes from 10 to 16, inclusive.
- 24—"Girls'"—sizes from 7 to 14, inclusive.
- 25—"Children's"—sizes from 3 to 6, inclusive.

(f) Blouses: "Blouses" include feminine outerwear garments, commonly known as blouses or shirtwaists.

Category number:
- 26—"Blouses"—sizes 30 and up

(g) Snowsuits: "Snowsuits" include children's (including boys' and girls') and infants' outerwear garments, commonly known as snowsuits, or ski suits.

Category numbers:
- 27—One-piece snowsuits (with or without a matching hat)—sizes from 1 to 6, inclusive.
- 28—Snowsuits of two pieces (with or without a matching hat)—sizes from 7 to 14, inclusive.

(h) Legging sets and separate leggings: "Legging sets" and "separate leggings" include children's (including boys' and girls') and infants' outerwear garments, commonly known as legging sets and separate leggings, but excluding garments made of artificial leather.

Category numbers:
- 29—Legging sets—sizes from 1 to 10, inclusive.
- 30—Separate leggings—sizes from 1 to 10, inclusive.

(i) Separate ski pants: "Separate ski pants" include children's (including boys' and girls') outerwear garments, commonly known as ski pants.

Category number:
- 31—Separate ski pants—sizes 3 to 14, inclusive.

APPENDIX B: EXAMPLE OF A PRICING CHART

(a) Pricing chart. An example of a pricing chart which you should prepare to assist you in pricing your garments follows:

PRICING CHART

A Category No.	B Cost price lines	C Selling price	D Percentage mark-up	E Highest March price line
1 (women's dresses).	$3.75	$5.98	Percent 37.3	.....
	4.75	7.95	40.3	.....
	5.00	8.95	38.6	.....
	6.75	10.95	38.4	.....
	8.75	13.95	37.3	.....
	9.75	14.95	34.8	.....
	10.75	16.95	36.6	$17.95

1 (women's coats).	$11.75	$19.95	Percent 41.1	.....
	12.75	19.95	36.1	.....
	14.75	25.00	41.0	.....
	18.75	29.95	37.4	.....
	19.75	29.95	33.7	.....
	22.75	35.00	35.0	.....
	26.75	39.95	33.0	$42.00

(b) How to prepare your pricing chart:

1. In Column A, list the category numbers of the garments you are pricing. You will find the category numbers for the garments in Appendix A.

2. In Column B, list all the cost price lines at which you purchased garments that you delivered during the base period. (§ 1389.562 (c) explains what the base period is).

3. In Column C, list the selling price at which you delivered during the base period the largest number of units of each cost price line listed in Column B. (See Rule 1, if you delivered the same number of units at two or more selling prices, for then you use the lowest selling price).

4. In Column D, list the percentage markup taken on each cost price line listed in Column B. This is how you make this calculation:

Step 1. You subtract the cost price line (Column A) from the selling price (Column B) and the difference is the dollar markup.

Step 2. Divide this dollar markup by the selling price (Column B, and the result is the percentage markup.

For example: In the pricing chart listed above, in order to find the percentage markup taken on the $3.75 cost price line, you subtract $3.75 (Column A) from $5.98 (Column B). The difference is $2.23. By dividing $2.23 by $5.98 (Column B), you find your percentage markup to be 37.3%.

5. In Column E, list the highest price line at which you delivered in March 1942 a garment of each category number listed in Column A. If you did not deliver a garment of any category number in March 1942, then list the highest price line at which your most closely competitive seller of the same class delivered a garment of the same category number in March 1942.

6. The percentage markups illustrated in Column D and in the examples given throughout the regulation are markups on selling price. If you usually calculate your markups on your cost prices, you may under this regulation, continue to calculate your markups on cost instead of on selling price. However, you must calculate your markups in the same manner now that you did in the base period.

This regulation shall become effective February 24, 1943.

Issued this 18th day of February 1943.

Administrator.

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 5C,[1] Amendment 23]

MILEAGE RATIONING: GASOLINE REGULATIONS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Paragraph (b) of § 1394.7704, and the text of paragraph (a), subdivision (ii) of subparagraph (1) of paragraph (a), and subdivision (ii) of subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of § 1394.7705 are amended; a new subparagraph (51) to paragraph (a) of § 1394.7551, a new § 1394.7707 and a new paragraph (w) to § 1394.8352 are added; as set forth below:

§ 1394.7551 Definitions. (a) • • •

(51) "State Director" means the person holding the office of State Director in a district or State office, or the office of District Manager in a district office, who has been designated by the Regional Administrator to decide, pursuant to Procedural Regulation No. 9, appeals from the decisions of local war price and rationing boards located in the area over which such office has jurisdiction.

Supplemental Rations

(b) Upon the basis of the application and such other facts as the Board may require, the Board shall allow mileage for driving within the continental United States for any of the purposes listed in paragraph (b) of § 1394.7703 for which applicant has applied, with respect to which the applicant has established the facts required by paragraph (a) hereof. The Board shall allow only that portion of the claimed mileage (in the absence of a ride-sharing arrangement) with respect to which the applicant has established the inadequacy of alternative means of transportation (in accordance with paragraph (a) (2) (ii) of this section). The Board shall then determine the total occupational mileage per month required by the applicant and allowed by it for the three-months' period specified in paragraph (b) of § 1394.7703 and shall issue a supplemental ration, in accordance with the provisions of § 1394.7705, to provide such mileage: Provided, That except in accordance with the provisions of § 1394.7707, no Board outside of the gasoline shortage area may allow an average of more than 470 miles per month, and no Board within the gasoline shortage area may allow an average of more than 378 miles per month for any occupational mileage other than preferred mileage as defined in § 1394.7706. The Board may allow an average mileage in excess of such maximum only if the excess consists of such preferred mileage or additional mileage allowed pursuant to § 1394.7707.

• • • • • •

§ 1394.7705 Issuance of supplemental rations. (a) Supplemental rations shall be issued to provide the total mileage allowed by the Board in accordance with §§ 1394.7704 or 1394.7707.

(1) • • •

(ii) In the event that the mileage allowed by the Board pursuant to paragraph (b) of § 1394.7704 or § 1394.7707 exceeds 470 miles per month: one or more Class C books bearing expiration dates three months from the date of issuance or December 1, 1942, whichever is later, and containing the number of coupons specified in Table II for the mileage allowed.

(2) • • •

(ii) In the event that the mileage allowed by the Board pursuant to paragraph (b) of § 1394.7704 or § 1394.7707 exceeds 378 miles per month: one or more Class C books bearing expiration dates three months from the date of issuance or December 1, 1942, whichever is later, and containing the number of coupons specified in Table IIA for the mileage allowed.

• • • • • •

§ 1394.7707. Additional mileage allowance. (a) In any case where the applicant or person entitled to the use of the vehicle is not eligible for preferred mileage for driving between home and a fixed place or places of work, or between fixed places of work in connection with his principal occupation, and more mileage is required for such driving than 470 miles per month (378 miles per month in the gasoline shortage area) the Board, upon approval of the State Director, may allow additional mileage in excess of such maximum, to the extent required for such driving. No mileage may be allowed in such case for driving in the course of work, unless the driving in the course of work consists of preferred mileage.

(b) An applicant for additional mileage under this section must establish by clear and convincing proof that: (1) such driving is between home and a fixed place or places of work, or between fixed places of work, in connection with the principal occupation of the applicant or person entitled to the use of the vehicle, (2) a bona fide ride-sharing arrangement has been made pursuant to which at least four persons (including the operator) are regularly carried in the vehicle for the purpose of going to and from their occupations, or that no such ride-sharing arrangement exists but that the vehicle carries as many persons as could reasonably be expected under the circumstances, and (3) there are no reasonably adequate alternative means of transportation.

(c) If the applicant meets the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section the Board may tentatively issue a ration pursuant to § 1394.7705 which does not include the additional mileage claimed by the applicant, unless such ration has already been issued, and may forward the application to the State Director. Each application shall be accompanied by a recommendation in writing by the Board stating any pertinent facts in addition to those stated in the application, the additional mileage which the Board recommends be allowed for such driving, and the reasons for its recommendation. The Board shall notify the applicant of the amount of additional mileage it has recommended, or of its refusal to make a recommendation.

(d) The State Director, or a person designated by him, shall receive and consider any further evidence presented by the applicant and may require the applicant to appear before him for examination and to produce such witnesses or evidences as he may deem material. The State Director shall pass upon the application and the Board's recommendation and shall promptly notify the Board of his decision and return the application to the Board. If the recommendation of the Board is approved in whole or in part, the Board shall: (1) require the applicant to surrender any supplemental ration previously issued for use with the vehicle, and (2) issue a new supplemental ration pursuant to § 1394.-7705, in the amount of the total mileage allowed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section and § 1394.7704.

Any person may appeal to the Regional Administrator from an adverse decision of the State Director, pursuant to Procedural Regulation No. 9.[1]

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Restriction Order 3]

CANNED MEAT AND CANNED FISH

Preamble. The war has brought a tremendous increase in the demand for canned meat and canned fish. At the same time because of material and manpower restrictions imposed by the war, the output of canned meat and canned fish cannot be increased correspondingly. The result is that our supplies of canned meat and canned fish are not sufficient to meet the demand. Our limited supplies of canned meat and canned fish available for civilian distribution must be conserved until arrangements can be made for their orderly and equitable distribution.

§ 1407.4001 Restriction on transfer of canned meat and canned fish. Under the authority vested in the Administrator by Executive Order No. 9125, issued by the President on April 7, 1942; Directive No. 1 and Supplementary Directive No. 1-M of the War Production Board, issued on January 24, 1942, and September 12, 1942, respectively; Executive Order No. 9280, issued by the President on December 5, 1942; and Food Directive No. 1, issued by the Secretary of Agriculture on January 16, 1943, Restriction Order 3 (Canned Meat and Canned Fish) which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §1407.4001, issued pursuant to Pub. Law. 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Law 89, 77th Cong., and by Pub. Law 507, 77th Cong.; Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong., as amended by Pub. Law 729, 77th Cong.; Executive Order No. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; Executive Order No. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179; WPB Directive No. 1, 7 F.R. 562, and Supplementary Directive No. 1-M, 7 F.R. 7234; and Food Directive No. 1, 8 F.R. 827.

SECTION 1. General rule, transfers of canned meat and canned fish are prohibited. No person shall transfer or acquire canned meat or canned fish. The only exceptions to this prohibition are stated in the next five sections.

SEC. 2. Transfers of canned meat and canned fish to exempt persons and agencies are permitted. (a) Any person or government agency is an exempt person or exempt agency with respect to canned meat or canned fish obtained by or for it for export to, and consumption or use in, any foreign country. The other exempt agencies for the purposes of this order are the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Coast and Geodetic Survey, War Shipping Administration, Maritime Commission, Panama Canal, Civil Aeronautics Authority, National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, Office of Scientific Research and Development, Food Distribution Administration, and Office of Lend-Lease Administration.

(b) Any person may transfer canned meat or canned fish to or for the exempt persons or exempt agencies named in the preceding paragraph. Canned meat or canned fish may be acquired by or for these exempt persons or exempt agencies.

SEC. 3. Transfers of canned fish to wholesalers are permitted. (a) Any place where a person who deals in canned meat or canned fish keeps stocks of canned meat or canned fish for sale or other transfer is a wholesale establishment if, in the last month before February 1943 in which canned meat or canned fish from those stocks were transferred, 50 per cent or more of the canned meat or canned fish so transferred was transferred from there directly to persons acquiring canned meat or canned fish for other than personal use. Any person who has a wholesale establishment is called a wholesaler, but only with respect to such an establishment.

(b) Any person may transfer canned fish to a wholesaler. Wholesalers may acquire canned fish. (Canned meat may not be transferred or acquired under this paragraph.)

SEC. 4. Canned meat or canned fish in transit. Canned meat or canned fish in transit at the time this order takes effect may be delivered to the consignee and acquired by him.

SEC. 5. Canned meat or canned fish may also be transferred if the Director of the Food Rationing Division authorizes the transfer. (a) Persons may transfer or acquire canned meat or canned fish when authorized to do so by the Director of the Food Rationing Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(b) Any person who desires such authority to transfer or acquire canned meat or canned fish must apply in writing to the Director of the Food Rationing Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. The application must state the kind and amount of canned meat or canned fish he wishes to transfer or acquire and the reasons why such authority should be given.

SEC. 6. Certain deliveries by or to carriers are permitted. Deliveries of canned meat or canned fish may be made by or to carriers for the purpose of effecting transfers thereof permitted by the previous four sections.

SEC. 7. Certain wholesalers must report their inventories of canned meat and canned fish held on February 17, 1943. (a) Certain persons were required to file with the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D. C., before February 12, 1943, a report showing, for January 1943, their stocks and receipts of canned and preserved foods. (The report was to be made on OPA Form CF-2.) Wholesalers who complied with this requirement need not file the inventory report required by this section.

(b) All other wholesalers must file an inventory report with the Office of Price Administration. The report must show, for each wholesale establishment, all the canned meat and canned fish physically located at that establishment, at the close of business February 17, 1943. The report must show separately the number of hermetically sealed containers holding canned meat classified by size of container and the number of hermetically sealed containers holding canned fish classified by size of container. (The report need not show a classification by type of canned meat or by type of canned fish.) It must contain a certification that the information contained in it is complete and accurate. The report, including the certification, must be signed by the wholesaler or his authorized agent.

(c) The report must be filed by mailing it to the Director of the Food Rationing Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. It must be filed on or before March 5, 1943. (It is considered filed on time if the envelope is postmarked on or before that date.)

(d) The wholesaler must complete a duplicate of his report. It must be held for at least two years at a place where his books of account and other business records are customarily kept and be open to audit and inspection by agents of the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 8. Records of transfers. Every person who acquires or transfers canned meat or canned fish must keep a record of the names and addresses of persons transferring or acquiring the canned meat or canned fish and the number and size of the hermetically sealed containers transferred or acquired. (These records must show whether the transaction involved canned meat or whether it involved canned fish but need not show the type of canned meat or the type of canned fish.) These records must be held for at least two years at a place where his books of account and other business records are customarily kept, and be open to audit and inspection by agents of the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 9. Canned meat and canned fish held for sale must not be opened except for inspection. No person shall, except for necessary and customary inspection, puncture or open a hermetically sealed container in which canned meat or canned fish is packed if it is held for sale or transfer.

SEC. 10. Where order applies. This order applies only in the 48 States of the United States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 11. Office of Price Administration may issue suspension orders. Any person who violates this order may, by administrative suspension order, be prohibited from receiving any transfer or delivery of, or from selling or using or otherwise disposing of, any canned meat or canned fish or other rationed product or facility. Such suspension order shall be issued for such period as in the judgment of the Administrator, or such person as he may designate for such purpose, is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national security.

SEC. 12. Definitions. When used in this order:

"Acquire" means to accept a transfer or to get possession or title in any other way.

"Canned fish" means all fish or shellfish packed in hermetically sealed containers of any type and sterilized by the use of heat. It does not include processed foods as defined in Ration Order No. 13[1] or pharmaceutical products.

"Canned meat" means all meat packed in hermetically sealed containers of any type and sterilized by the use of heat. It does not include processed foods as defined in Ration Order No. 13[1] or pharmaceutical products.

"Meat" means any edible part of cattle, calves, sheep, lambs, and swine. It includes all products containing meat in which the meat constitutes more than 10 per cent of the total net weight. Oils, lards, rendering fats, and rendered fats, and by-products of these five species not used for human consumption are not considered to be meat.

"Person" means not only an individual, but also a partnership, corporation, or association. It includes a government agency and any other organized group or enterprise.

"Transfer" means to sell, give, exchange, lend, deliver or consign. It includes any transfer of possession or title, however accomplished.

This restriction order shall become effective at 12:01 a. m. on February 18, 1943.

Issued this 18th day of February 1943.

ber 19, 1940 (5 F.R. 5284), the following is hereby ordered:

§ 21.573 Lower Klamath National Wildlife Refuge, California and Oregon; hunting. Migratory waterfowl (except those species for which no open season is prescribed by the Migratory Bird Treaty Act regulations), coots, and pheasants may be taken within certain areas hereinafter described of the Lower Klamath National Wildlife Refuge, in California and Oregon, during the period prescribed therefor for the respective states by the Migratory Bird Treaty Act regulations, in accordance with the provisions of the Regulations for the Administration of National Wildlife Refuges Under the Jurisdiction of the Fish and Wildlife Service, dated December 19, 1940 (5 F.R. 5284), and in accordance with the regulations promulgated pursuant to the authority contained in the Migratory Bird Treaty Act of July 3, 1918, as amended, when, in manner, by means, and to the extent not prohibited by either Federal or State law or regulation, and under the following special provisions, conditions, restrictions, and requirements:

(a) Areas open to hunting. All the lands of the United States within the following-described areas of the refuge shall be open to hunting:

(1) All that part of the refuge lying in the State of Oregon.

(2) All that part of the refuge lying northeasterly of a line extending from the intersection of the north-south quarter line section 14, T. 48 N., R. 2 E., and the north boundary of the State of California, southeasterly to the center of section 30, T. 48 N., R. 3 E.; thence easterly to the center of section 29, T. 48 N., R. 3 E.; and thence southeasterly to a point on the refuge boundary at the east one-sixteenth corner on the east-west quarter line of section 9, T. 47 N., R. 3 E., Mount Diablo Meridian.

(b) State laws. Any person while hunting within the refuge must comply with the applicable State laws and regulations.

(c) Hunting licenses and permits. Any person who hunts within the refuge shall be in possession of a valid State hunting license, if such license is required, and, if hunting migratory waterfowl, a properly validated migratory-bird hunting stamp. The license and the stamp shall serve as a Federal permit for hunting on the refuge and must be carried on the person of the licensee while so hunting. The license and the stamp must be exhibited upon the request of any representative of the California Department of Natural Resources or of the Oregon State Game Commission authorized to enforce the State game laws, or of any representative of the Department of the Interior. Upon request of the officer in charge, the licensee must also exhibit for inspection all wildlife killed by him or in his possession.

(d) Disorderly conduct; intoxication. No person who is visibly intoxicated will be permitted to enter upon the refuge for the purpose of hunting, and any person who indulges in any disorderly conduct on the refuge will be removed therefrom by the officer in charge and dealt with as prescribed by law.

(e) Hunting dogs. Each person hunting on the public shooting grounds will be permitted to take his hunting dogs, not to exceed two in number, upon such areas for the purpose of retrieving dead or wounded birds, but such dogs shall not be permitted to run at large on the public shooting grounds or elsewhere on the refuge.

(f) Entry upon refuge; firearms. Persons entering the refuge for the purpose of hunting shall use such routes of travel as may be designated by suitable posting by the officer in charge and shall not otherwise enter upon the refuge. The carrying or being in possession of firearms within the areas of the refuge not open to public hunting is prohibited, except that such firearms may be possessed or transported along routes of travel designated by the officer in charge, across such closed areas provided they are unloaded, and broken or properly encased. The carrying or being in possession of rifled firearms or the use of single-ball or slug-loaded shotgun shells on the refuge is prohibited.

(g) Penalties. Failure of a permittee to comply with any of the conditions, restrictions, or requirements of the regulations in this section will be sufficient cause for removing him from the refuge and for refusing him further hunting privileges on the refuge.

SILVER STATE CONSTRUCTION CO. AND A. D. DRUMM, JR.

ORDER REVOKING LICENSES AND DIRECTING SURRENDER THEREOF

In the matter of Silver State Construction Co., and A. D. Drumm, Jr., Fallon, Nevada, licensees. Proceeding for revocation of licenses.

Proceedings for the revocation of the Federal explosives licenses, issued under the Federal Explosives Act of December 26, 1941 (55 Stat. 863), to the above-named licensees, were begun on October 14, 1942, by the filing of Specifications of Charges and Notices of Hearing setting forth violations of the act and regulations thereunder by the Silver State Construction Co. and A. D. Drumm, Jr. After due reply received from the licensee, A. D. Drumm, Jr., denying any and all charges and requesting a hearing, a hearing was held on December 14, 1942, in Berkeley, California, before the Hearing Officer duly designated by me, at which hearing there was no appearance by or on behalf of the licensees. Testimony was heard and evidence was adduced bearing upon the charges made.

The reports of the Hearing Officer, dated January 15, 1943, made findings of fact and reached conclusions that the licensees had violated various provisions of the act and regulations, and recommended the revocation of the licenses. The licensees were allowed 15 days from the date of receipt of the reports within which to file with me such exceptions to the reports or to any other part of the records or proceedings as they might desire. The 15-day period has now expired without the filing of any exceptions by or on behalf of the licensees.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me by sections 8 and 18 of the Federal Explosives Act and section 301.22 of the regulations issued pursuant thereto (7 F.R. 5901), I, R. R. Sayers, Director of the Bureau of Mines, having reviewed the record, Order, That the Hearing Officer's Reports, including his findings, conclusions and recommendations be, and they are hereby, approved and adopted as my own;

That Purchaser's License No. 242 593, Foreman's License No. 489,972, and any and all other Federal explosives licenses heretofore issued to the Silver State Construction Co. and/or A. D. Drumm, Jr., pursuant to the Federal Explosives Act, be, and they are hereby, revoked as of 12:01 a. m., February 28, 1943;

That the licenses mentioned in the preceding paragraph shall be surrendered by delivering them to me on or before February 28, 1943, or by depositing them on or before that date in the United States mail with postage prepaid and addressed to me.

Dated: February 13th, 1943.

WAPATO INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, WASH.

ORDER ELIMINATING CERTAIN LANDS

Whereas the Act of Congress approved June 22, 1936 (49 Stat. 1803), authorizes and directs the Secretary of the Interior to cause investigations to be made to determine whether the owners of non-Indian lands under Indian irrigation projects are unable to pay irrigation charges; and

Whereas the said Act provides in part as follows: "* * * Where the Secretary finds that said landowners are unable to make payment * * * he may adjust, defer or cancel such charges, in whole or in part, as the facts and conditions warrant. In adjusting or deferring any such charges the Secretary may enter into contracts with said landowners for the payment of past due charges, but such contracts shall not extend the payment of such charges over a period in excess of ten years. * * *"; and

Whereas the said Act further provides that "Where the Secretary finds that any such lands are permanently non-irrigable he may, with the consent of the landowners, eliminate such lands from the project"; and

Whereas eleven landowners within the Wapato Indian Irrigation Project, Washington, have executed agreements consenting to and requesting that all or a portion of their lands be eliminated from the project, and an investigation and report pertaining to said lands, completed October 1, 1941, shows that some portion or all of the said lands should be eliminated from the project and financial adjustments made because the lands involved are found to be permanently non-irrigable; and

Whereas one other landowner has requested that an adjustment be made of past due irrigation charges because defects of project drainage works made it impossible for him to operate his 40.0 acres of land profitably for a period of years;

Now, therefore, I, Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, pursuant to authority vested in me by the Act of June 22, 1936 (49 Stat. 1803), and subject to the terms and conditions thereof, including approval by Congress and the written consent of the landowners heretofore given, hereby eliminate the following described lands from the Wapato Indian Irrigation Project, totaling 386.01 acres, formerly designated as irrigable, and classified as indicated below:

I hereby cancel the obligations assessed against these lands amounting to $8 672.56 on behalf of construction assessments; $4,183.22 of unpaid operation and maintenance assessments; and $1,656.25 unpaid penalties, as reflected by the project records, and order that no further assessments shall be made against the 386.01 acres of lands eliminated from the project. I also cancel delinquent operation and maintenance charges amounting to $557.65, and penalties amounting to $302.73, assessed against the $E\frac{1}{2}SW\frac{1}{4}NE\frac{1}{4}$ (Class A land) and the $W\frac{1}{2}SW\frac{1}{4}NE\frac{1}{4}$ (Class B land) sec. 7, T. 10 N., R. 19 E., and order that the owner thereof be allowed credit on subsequent operation and maintenance assessments for $58 paid on these tracts for the year 1939.

I order that payments heretofore made on construction charges against the lands being eliminated from the said project be credited to the costs of construction for the lands retained in the project by the landowners involved.

I also order that agreements deferring the collection of irrigation assessments heretofore executed on behalf of the lands in question be canceled in those cases where the landowners retain no land under the project, and modified in those cases where land is retained in the project by the landowners, to reflect the cancellation of charges and elimination of lands dealt with in this order.

I further order that any assessments made pending action by Congress confirming this order, against any lands eliminated from the project by the terms of this order, shall be canceled, and that any payments made because of any such assessments shall be credited to other lands of the owners retained in the project.

The adjustments of project areas and assessments provided for in this order are conditioned upon the landowners making immediate settlement of delinquent irrigation charges remaining against the lands retained by them in the project, either by cash payment or by the execution of contracts providing for the deferment of the balances due, and the payment of the recording fees to Yakima County, Washington, for the recordation of the applications requesting the elimination of the owners' lands from the Wapato Project. The recording of these instruments shall not be done until after Congress shall have acted favorably on this order.

Done in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, this 9th day of September 1942.

[Docket No. DI-166]

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY

ORDER GRANTING CONTINUANCE OF HEARING AND DENYING APPLICATION TO TAKE DEPOSITIONS

FEBRUARY 16, 1943.

Upon application filed February 10, 1943, by declarant for further continuance of hearings herein until June 1, 1943, and upon application filed on the same date for permission to take the depositions at Milledgeville, Georgia, on February 19, 1943, of certain named persons, five living in Milledgeville and one living near Oconee, Georgia; it appearing that:

(a) Hearings having been held in the above-entitled matter at Atlanta, Georgia, from September 21 to October 7, 1942, and at Washington, D. C., from January 18 to 20, 1943, and a continuance to March 1, 1943, having been granted at the request of declarant for the purpose of enabling it to prepare rebuttal testimony for presentation at the hearing to be reconvened on the last-named date in Washington, D. C.;

(b) The declarant desires additional time within which to make further investigation and points out that no construction is under way at the present time and claims that no use of the river will be affected by the allowance of additional time; And it not appearing that the testimony proposed to be taken by depositions is represented as in rebuttal of any testimony, or that it could not have been offered at the time the hearing was originally held in Atlanta, and no reasons have been given showing the necessity of taking depositions at Milledgeville, if the reconvened hearing is held in the State of Georgia;

The Commission finds that:

(i) Further postponement of the hearing as hereinafter provided is reasonable and consistent with the public interest;

(ii) By reconvening the hearing as hereinafter provided the witnesses, whose depositions it was proposed to take; may appear in person and give testimony,

It is ordered, That:

(A) The hearing in this matter be further postponed to reconvene on Thursday, April 8, 1943, beginning at 9:45 a. m. (e. w. t.) in Room 216 of the Commission's Regional Office, 10 Forsyth Street Building, Atlanta, Georgia; and

(B) The application for permission to take depositions is hereby denied.

By the Commission.

[File No. 31-437]

SOUTHERN UTILITIES COMPANY, LIMITED

ORDER EXTENDING EXEMPTION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its offices in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on the 15th day of February, 1943.

The Commission having heretofore on December 2, 1938, after a public hearing, ordered that the Southern Utilities Company, Limited, be exempted to the extent specified from certain provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 applicable to it as a subsidiary company of North Continent Utilities Corporation, a registered holding company; and

The Commission, after subsequent applications by Southern Utilities Company, Limited, having in its order dated January 8, 1941 extended the time during which such order should be effective to January 31, 1943; and

Southern Utilities Company, Limited, having on January 27, 1943, filed an application pursuant to section 3 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 seeking an extension of the time during which such previous order of this Commission should be effective; and

The Commission having considered such application and it appearing that the circumstances upon which such original order of exemption was issued still exist and that a further extension of the time during which such order of exemption shall be effective will not be detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers:

It is therefore ordered, That the time during which such order of exemption shall be effective be, and hereby is, extended until January 31, 1945, without prejudice to the right of Southern Utilities Company, Limited, to apply for a further extension of the time during which such order shall be effective and also without prejudice to the right of Southern Utilities Company, Limited, to apply at any time for such enlargement of any of the provisions of such order as it may deem appropriate.

WESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE CO., ET AL.

ORDER DENYING APPLICATIONS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 15th day of February, A. D., 1943.

In the matter of The Western Public Service Company, a Maryland Corporation, The Western Public Service Company, a Delaware Corporation, Engineers Public Service Company, File No. 70-453; Engineers Public Service Company and its Subsidiary Companies, Respondents, File No. 59-4.

Engineers Public Service Company, a registered holding company, and its subsidiaries The Western Public Service Company (a Maryland corporation) and The Western Public Service Company (a Delaware corporation) having filed applications and declarations pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the rules promulgated thereunder, regarding the sale of certain assets of said The Western Public Service Company (a Maryland corporation) and related transactions, including the proposed acquisition and retirement by Engineers Public Service Company of its own preferred stock outstanding in the hands of the public by invitation for tenders and by open market purchases; the said applications having heretofore been granted and the declarations having been permitted to become effective except with respect to the declaration regarding the proposed acquisition and retirement by Engineers Public Service Company of its own preferred stock, as to which jurisdiction was reserved;

Hearings having been held with respect to the said declaration after due notice, and the Commission being fully advised in the premises and having this day made and filed its findings and opinion herein;

Now therefore, on the basis of the said findings and opinion and pursuant to sections 11 and 12 of the said Act, it is hereby ordered, That said applications as respects the said acquisitions and retirements be and they are hereby denied.

By the Commission.

Chapter X—Food Production Administration

[FPO3, Interpretation 8]

PART 1202—FARM MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

NEW FARM MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

The following is an interpretation of subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) of § 1202.251 Supplementary Order 1[1] of Food Production Order No. 3.

INTERPRETATION NO. 8

Paragraph (b) (1) of § 1202.251 of Food Production Order No. 3 provides, generally, for the prorata distribution by manufacturers of metal milk cans and covers manufactured prior to, or pursuant to War Production Board Order M-200. (7 F.R. 7808, 8 F.R. 601). Questions have arisen as to the application of the paragraph to sales for use and as to the method of prorating metal milk cans and covers for resale.

Paragraph (b) (1) permits a manufacturer of new metal milk cans and covers to transfer for resale all metal milk cans and covers manufactured by him prior to the effective date of, and 70 percent of his production of metal milk cans and covers authorized by, War Production Board Order M-200, to the same manufacturers, distributors, mail order houses or dealers to whom such manufacturer distributed metal milk cans and covers for resale in the calendar year 1941. However, each manufacturer is required to distribute to each such person for resale the same percentage of his permitted distribution of metal milk cans and covers as the percentage of his production during the calendar year 1941, which he transferred to each such person for resale. For example, a distributor who in the calendar year 1941 received for resale 10 percent of a manufacturer's total production of metal milk cans and covers in that year is now authorized to receive at least 10 percent of such manufacturer's permitted distribution of its 1943 production of metal milk cans and covers. As will be explained below, it is possible that such distributor may receive even more than 10 percent of such manufacturer's permitted distribution.

Problems arise when a person authorized by paragraph (b) (1) to acquire from a manufacturer metal milk cans and covers for resale is unable or is not willing to do so, or when such a person fails to place an order for metal milk cans and covers within a reasonable time. A question has arisen as to whether a manufacturer must prorate his distribution for use among the persons to whom he previously transferred metal milk cans and covers for use. Another closely related question involves the inability of a manufacturer to determine which of his transfers during the calendar year 1941 were for resale and which were for use; in such cases, how is the manufacturer to prorate his distribution? Some difficulty has also developed in interpreting the word "area".

As used in the paragraph, the word "area" is interpreted to mean "State".

By the terms of paragraph (b) (1) a manufacturer is required to prorate his transfers for resale; his distribution of metal milk cans and covers for use is to be based only on purchase certificates issued by county farm rationing committees in the States in which he distributed metal milk cans and covers for use during the calendar year 1941; his distribution for use therefore is not to be prorated among persons, but is to be prorated, insofar as there is a sufficient number of purchase certificates, among the States in which the manufacturer made transfers for use during the calendar year 1941.

Any manufacturer who is genuinely unable to ascertain if any particular transfer made by him in the calendar year 1941 was for resale or for use is authorized by this paragraph to dispose of the number of metal milk cans and covers of his 1943 permitted distribution which bears to his total 1943 permitted distribution the same relationship as the metal milk cans and covers so transferred in the calendar year 1941 bore to his 1941 distribution. In other words, if a manufacturer transferred to A, located in Ohio, 20% of such manufacturer's production in the calendar year 1941 and is now genuinely unable to determine if such transfer was for resale or for use, such manufacturer may transfer, either for resale or for use, 20% of its permitted distribution in 1943 to other persons in Ohio. He is not required to transfer such metal milk cans and covers to the same persons to whom he transferred milk cans and covers in the calendar year 1941.

In transferring for resale, a manufacturer is to prorate both among persons and States. First, he is to transfer for resale to each person to whom he transferred metal milk cans and covers in the calendar year 1941 the same proportion of his permitted distribution in 1943 as the proportion of his production in the calendar year 1941 which he transferred in that year to such person for resale. Second, as it becomes apparent that any person entitled to receive metal milk cans and covers from such manufacturer does not intend to place an order for such metal milk cans and covers, the manufacturer shall, after the passage of a reasonable time after such person has been notified in writing by such manufacturer of his intent to sell such milk cans and covers to other purchasers, prorate such metal milk cans and covers among distributors, mail order houses or dealers (not necessarily the same ones to whom he made transfers for resale in the calendar year 1941) for resale or use in the same States in which they would have been sold if the person so notified had placed the maximum order allowed to him under the paragraph.

Another question which has arisen under this paragraph concerns the method a manufacturer should employ in holding back 30% of his production under War Production Board Order M-200. Should a manufacturer hold back 30 out of every 100 metal milk cans and covers which he produces or is it permissible for him to transfer all of his current production so long as it does not exceed 70% of his authorized production of metal milk cans and covers? This paragraph is interpreted to authorize a manufacturer to transfer all his current production of metal milk cans and covers to the extent that such production does not exceed 70% of the metal milk cans and covers authorized by War Production Board Order M-200 to be produced by such manufacturer. Under the terms of the paragraph, no manufacturer may transfer or physically move (except for purposes of storage in the county in which such equipment is located) the remaining 30% of his quota, except pursuant to further orders from the Secretary of Agriculture or the Director of Food Production.

Still another problem arises in connection with the transfer of metal milk cans and covers by a manufacturer to a United States Government agency or to any person for export to and consumption or use in any foreign country. The provisions of paragraph (b) (1) are interpreted to mean that such transfers shall not be made except with the prior consent of the Director of Food Production and when made, such transfers shall be charged against the 30% of such manufacturer's quota which has not been authorized for transfer. This interpretation applies both to past and future transfers to a United States Government agency or to any person for export to and consumption or use in any foreign country. Transfers to any person, other than a United States Government agency, for use by such person in serving a United States Government agency are not within the category of transfers to a United States Government agency.

Issued this 18th day of February 1943.

Director of Food Production.

TITLE 10—ARMY: WAR DEPARTMENT

Chapter I—Aid of Civil Authorities and Public Relations

PART 3—ARREST AND CONFINEMENT OF PERSONS NOT SUBJECT TO MILITARY LAW

Section 3.1 is amended as follows:

§ 3.1 Persons not subject to military law. Persons not subject to military law may be placed in arrest or confinement by members of the Military Establishment, as follows:

(a) General. All members of the Military Establishment have the ordinary right and duty of civilians to assist in the maintenance of the peace. Where, therefore, a felony or a misdemeanor amounting to a breach of the peace is being committed, it is the right and duty of every member of the military service, as of every civilian, to arrest the perpetrator no matter what his status. For prosecution of petty offenses committed on military reservations, see AR 490-5.[1]

(b) By members of the guard or of military police. Members of the guard or of military police may place persons not subject to military law in arrest or confinement when apprehended while in the act of committing a felony or a misdemeanor amounting to a breach of the peace within the limits of military jurisdiction.

(c) Restraint. The restraint imposed under the provisions of (a) or (b) above will not exceed that reasonably necessary, nor extend beyond such time as may be required to dispose of the case by orderly transfer of custody to civil authority or otherwise, under the law.

(d) Ejection. Persons not subject to military law who are found within the limits of military jurisdiction in the act of committing a breach of regulations, not amounting to a felony or a breach of the peace, may be removed therefrom upon orders from the commanding officer and ordered by him not to reenter. For penalty imposed upon reentrance after ejection see section 45, act of March 4, 1909 (35 Stat. 1097), as amended by act of March 28, 1940 (54 Stat. 80; 18 U. S. C. 97).

Chapter III—Claims and Accounts

PART 33—GRATUITY UPON DEATH

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Sections 33.3 and 33.7 are amended as follows:

§ 33.3 When payment may not be made—(a) No beneficiary designated. Where it is shown that there is no widow or child and no person has been previously designated by the officer or enlisted man as beneficiary of the gratuity of 6 months' pay, no payment under the act is authorized. (See 14 Comp. Dec. 913; 1 Comp. Gen. 771)

(b) When beneficiary is murderer. Payment of 6 months' gratuity pay may not be made to a person who takes the life of another, whether or not the act be punished by the State or other civil authority concerned. (See MS. Comp. Gen., A 60953, June 12, 1935)

(c) Term "child" defined as understood in act March 2, 1923. (1) In view of the provisions of the act of March 2, 1923, 42 Stat. 1385; 10 U.S.C. 903, the term "child" as used in these regulations is not to be construed as including any married child or unmarried child over 21 years of age of a deceased officer or enlisted man who is not actually a dependent of such deceased officer or enlisted man. (See 4 Comp. Gen. 730)

[1] Administrative regulations of the War Department relating to petty offenses committed by civilians on federal reservations.

(2) The words "to any married child or unmarried child over twenty-one years of age * * * who is not actually a dependent of such deceased officer or enlisted man" appearing in the act of March 2, 1923, amending the act of December 17, 1919, 41 Stat. 367; 10 U.S.C. 903, authorizing payment of six months' pay to certain specified beneficiaries of officers and enlisted men of the Regular Army under certain circumstances and conditions, clearly forbid such payments to married children, notwithstanding the allegation of dependency on the deceased officer or enlisted man. (See 18 Comp. Gen. 567) (41 Stat. 367, 42 Stat. 1385, 55 Stat. 796; 10 U.S.C. 456, 903) [Par. 5, AR 35-1540, December 19, 1942, as amended by C 1, February 1, 1943]

§ 33.7 Persons missing, or missing in action. Claims of beneficiaries of persons missing, or missing in action, are payable upon a finding of death by the Secretary of War as prescribed in the act of March 7, 1942, Public Law 490, 77th Congress. (Also see AR 35-1320[1]) (41 Stat. 367, 42 Stat. 1385, 55 Stat. 796; 10 U.S.C. 456, 903) [Par. 9, AR 35-1540, December 19, 1942, as amended by C 1, February 1, 1943]

Chapter VII—Personnel

PART 77—MEDICAL AND DENTAL ATTENDANCE

CIVILIAN DENTAL ATTENDANCE

Section 77.43 is amended as follows:

§ 77.43 Civilian dental attendance—(a) Emergency dental attendance. When a dental officer is not available, and the required service cannot be rendered by the medical officer, one being available (see § 77.40 (c)), civilian dental service for the relief of pain or acute septic conditions or for first-aid treatment of dental injuries due to direct violence suffered by one of the personnel enumerated in § 77.40 (c), may be obtained on Government account in the same manner as civilian medical attendance is obtained, whether the personnel in need of dental treatment be on duty, or on furlough or leave of absence. (See § 77.3.) Such service will be confined to the relief of the immediate emergency only. Follow-up procedures are subject to the provisions of (b) below.

(b) Routine or extensive dental attendance. (1) Civilian dentists may not be employed at Government expense for the treatment of chronic lesions, filling operations, prosthetic replacements, and other prolonged or extensive procedures, such as those required following the relief of an immediate emergency, until specific authority for such employment has been received from commanding generals of service commands. Except that in the case of military personnel on duty without troops in foreign countries, dental service of this character which is urgently necessary may be procured without awaiting advance authority from commanding generals of service commands, provided that this will not apply to the employment of civilian dentists for elective dentistry. For the dentistry obtained without prior authority under the provisions of the foregoing sentence, the authority of commanding generals of service commands will be applied for in submitting the dentist's account in each case.

(2) In requesting authority to employ a civilian dentist, information will be given as follows:

(i) The character and extent of the disability.

(ii) Its origin or causation, and, if due to external violence, what the violence was, when it occurred, and whether it was suffered in the actual performance of duty.

(iii) The professional procedures considered necessary to correct it.

(iv) What measures of relief have been taken by the medical officer, or, if no measures have been taken, the reasons therefor.

(v) An estimate of the time required for its correction and the probable costs thereof.

(vi) A statement of the duties upon which the patient is engaged and how his absence therefrom, should dental treatment require it, would affect the public interest.

(vii) When last on duty at a station where the services of a dental officer were available.

(viii) The probable length of tour of duty at their present station.

(ix) Present status, whether duty, leave, or furlough. If on leave or furlough, the day and hour the leave or furlough started and the day and hour of termination should be stated.

(x) The probability of their attendance at one of the next summer training camps, and the camp they will attend, if known.

(3) Application for authority to employ civilian dental service having been made as above, commanding generals of service commands may, as they consider proper, grant or deny the request or recommend that the patient be ordered to a station where he can receive treatment from a dental officer. (R.S. 161; 5 U.S.C. 22) [Par. 5, AR 40-510, July 31, 1942, as amended by C 1, September 10, 1942]

Chapter VIII—Procurement and Disposal of Equipment and Supplies

PART 81—PROCUREMENT OF MILITARY SUPPLIES AND ANIMALS

POLICY WITH RESPECT TO TAX EXEMPTION

Sections 81.804a and 81.809a are added as follows:

§ 81.804a Definitions. The following terms are used in this procurement Regulation No. 8 as they are defined in Treasury Decision 5114: "Prime contract" means a contract made by the United States. "Purchase article" means any article purchased as such by the United States under a prime contract. "Construction article" means any article for use as equipment, material, or supplies by a prime contractor in performing a prime contract: Provided, however, That payment for the article is made by the United States. "Subsidiary article" means any article which by itself or after being combined by any persons with other articles is incorporated in a purchase article or construction article.

The following terms are defined for the purposes of this Regulation No. 8 as follows: "Subcontract" means any purchase or agreement to perform all or any part of the work, or to make or furnish any article, required for the performance of another contract or subcontract. "Article" includes any material, part, assembly, machinery, equipment, or other personal property.

§ 81.809a Policies with respect to contracts or purchases made on or after March 1, 1943—(a) Army-Navy joint tax exemption policies with respect to Federal excise taxes. The Under Secretary of War, jointly with the Under Secretary of the Navy, has issued the memorandum dated January 4, 1942, quoted below. The purpose of the policies stated therein is to reduce administrative work caused to Government departments and to contractors with respect to Federal excise tax exemptions. It is believed that the new policies will also tend to eliminate confusion which has arisen particularly in connection with purchases, on a tax exempt basis in accordance with Treasury Decision 5114, by fixed price (lump sum) contractors and subcontractors, of articles and supplies for incorporation in or use in connection with supplies or work to be furnished or performed under a prime contract with the Government. The policies outlined in the memorandum have no application whatsoever to state and local taxes or exemptions thereunder or to fixed price (lump sum) prime contracts or subcontracts made prior to March 1, 1943, or to subcontracts or purchase orders thereunder. (The memorandum does not change or have any effect upon the exemption expressly provided by section 3442 (1) of the Internal Revenue Code under which contractors manufacturing taxable purchase articles may obtain subsidiary articles tax exempt in the manner provided in that section and applicable regulations.) The memorandum follows:

POLICY AS TO FEDERAL EXCISE TAX EXEMPTIONS—TO BECOME EFFECTIVE MARCH 1, 1943

The War and Navy Departments adopt the following policies as to the payment of Federal excise taxes and exemptions therefrom, with respect (a) to all contracts executed by the Government after March 1, 1943, and all subcontracts thereunder and (b) to all subcontracts made after March 1, 1943 under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts, regardless of when the prime contracts were executed. Certain terms used in this memorandum are defined in Note 1 below. The purpose of these policies is to reduce administrative work caused to Government Departments and to contractors with respect to Federal excise tax exemptions and to avoid the complications which have arisen in connection with purchases on a tax exempt basis in accordance with Treasury Decision 5114 by fixed price (lump sum) contractors and subcontractors.

1. The Government may make direct purchases of articles subject to Federal excise taxes ("purchase articles") on a price basis which either includes or excludes such taxes. In general, it will be War and Navy Department policy to make such direct purchases on a tax exclusive basis except where administrative convenience makes tax inclusive purchasing preferable.

2. In general, fixed-price (lump-sum) contractors, subcontractors, suppliers and materialmen will not be authorized to purchase "construction articles", "subsidiary articles" or articles used or consumed in the performance of the prime contract or subcontract, on a tax-exclusive basis pursuant to Treasury Decision 5114, and no tax exemption certificates will be issued in respect thereof.

3. A prime contractor under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee or cost prime contract, or any cost-plus-a-fixed-fee or cost subcontractor thereunder, may purchase any articles subject to Federal excise taxes ("construction articles", "subsidiary articles", or articles used or consumed in the performance of such prime contract or subcontract) on a price basis which either includes or excludes such taxes: Provided, That in general purchases on a tax exclusive basis shall be made by a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractor only where there is no fixed-price contractor intervening between such subcontractor and the prime contractor. Tax exemption certificates will be issued where purchases are made on a tax-exclusive basis pursuant to the policy announced in this paragraph. In general, it will be War and Navy Department policy to have such cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors make such purchases on a tax exclusive basis except where administrative convenience makes tax inclusive purchasing preferable. The term "cost contract" includes any contract provision on a cost basis and any contract for special additional facilities or emergency plant facilities of the Government-ownership type or substantially in the form approved by the Advisory Commission to the Council of National Defense and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on October 19, 1940 (5 F.R. 4147, No. 205).

4. Exceptions to the policies prescribed in this memorandum may be authorized by the War or Navy Departments in order to facilitate procurement.

5. Bidders and contractors will be advised of the policies herein set forth as promptly as possible, so that they may make plans, fix prices, and prepare cost analyses consistently with such policies.

6. The policies herein contained have no application to state and local taxes. These policies will likewise not necessitate any change in the policies applicable to fixed-price prime contracts and subcontracts executed prior to March 1, 1943, and subcontracts thereunder.

Dated this 4th day of January 1943.

ROBERT P. PATTERSON,
Under Secretary of War.
JAMES V. FORRESTAL,
Under Secretary of the Navy.

NOTE 1. This note in the statement of policy refers to the definitions set out in § 81.804a.

(b) Changes effected by the new policies. The principal changes effected by the new policy are:

(1) Under the new policies, fixed price (lump-sum) prime contracts made on or after March 1, 1943, for acquisition by the War Department of articles subject to Federal excise taxes ("purchase articles") will in general be made on a price basis which excludes such Federal excise taxes. The chief of any supply service may authorize any contract or class of prime contracts to be made on a price basis which includes such Federal excise taxes.

(2) Fixed price (lump-sum) prime contractors under contracts made on or after March 1, 1943, and subcontractors under them will not in general be authorized to purchase "subsidiary articles" (see § 81.804a) or articles used or consumed in the performance of the prime contract on a tax exclusive basis pursuant to Treasury Decision 5114.

(3) Where the prime contract with the Government is on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis, regardless of the date of the execution of the prime contract, a fixed price (lump-sum) subcontractor thereunder whose subcontract is made on or after March 1, 1943, will not be authorized to purchase "subsidiary articles," or articles used or consumed in the performance of the prime contract or subcontract, on a tax exclusive basis pursuant to Treasury Decision 5114.

(4) Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contractors and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors acting under them (where no lump sum contractor intervenes between the prime contractor and the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractor) will normally purchase articles which are subject to Federal excise tax on a tax exclusive basis.

(c) Issuance to be in accordance with policy. Except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section, no tax exemption certificate will be issued by any officer or employee of the War Department or pursuant to Treasury Decision 5114 in a manner inconsistent with the policies outlined in the preceding paragraph and set forth in the memorandum quoted in paragraph (a) of this section. Nothing in these regulations or in the memorandum quoted in paragraph (a), however, requires any contractor or subcontractor to forego any Federal excise tax exemption to which he may be entitled otherwise than under Treasury Decision 5114 (see for example, Internal Revenue Code, sec. 3442). Where contractors are entitled to any such exemption, contracting officers should take precautions to see that prices under lump-sum contracts are fixed after giving due consideration to the effect of such exemption.

(d) Variations from policy. The chief of any supply service may authorize variations (consistent with applicable tax exemption laws and tax regulations) from the policies set forth in the memorandum quoted in paragraph (a) of this section and from the regulations herein prescribed in accordance therewith in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, in any case or class of cases where he finds that such action is necessary to facilitate procurement. Any variations so authorized will be reported at once in writing to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply. (Variations authorized by paragraph (f) of this section need not be so reported.)

(e) Changes. The chief of each supply service will make necessary changes in existing bid forms, specifications, and instructions relating to bids and evaluation of contracts to carry out the policies set forth in the memorandum quoted in paragraph (a) of this section. Great care will be exercised in drawing contracts and purchase orders to make certain that their provisions reflect accurately the intention of the parties with respect to taxes and that they are consistent with the policies above mentioned.

(f) Exception to tax policy with respect to radio apparatus, parts, and similar terms. In some instances contractors have experienced difficulty in ascertaining what items and parts of certain specialized military and naval equipment are subject to the tax on radio apparatus and parts imposed by section 3404, Internal Revenue Code, section 545, as amended by Revenue Act of 1941. Accordingly, as an exception to the tax policy set forth in paragraph (a) (see par. (d) of this section), contracting officers are given authority to make prime contracts by the terms of which the prime contractor will be permitted to make purchases, on a basis exclusive of the tax imposed by section 3404, of articles which are or may be subject to the tax imposed by that section, whether such articles (1) constitute subsidiary articles, or (2) are acquired by the prime contractor for transfer by him to the United States as purchase articles. With respect to any such purchases, the prime contractor may be authorized to issue tax exemption certificates in accordance with Treasury Decision 5114 and subject to its limitations. The authority granted by this paragraph will not be exercised unless the contracting officer is of the opinion that purchase of such articles on a tax inclusive basis will involve special difficulties to the prime contractor or his suppliers and subcontractors in ascertaining whether particular items are subject to tax.

(g) Taxable articles manufactured by the prime contractor and included in a purchase article as a component part thereof. The tax policy set out in paragraph (a) of this section is not intended to prevent the Government from buying purchase articles on a basis exclusive of any taxes on component parts of such purchase articles where such component parts (1) have been manufactured by the prime contractor himself and (2) have been included in the purchase article by such manufacturer himself. Buying such purchase articles from prime contractors on a basis exclusive of any tax imposed with respect to such component parts pursuant to the provisions of section 3444, Internal Revenue Code, as amended by section 553 (d), Revenue Act of 1941, is consistent with the above mentioned tax policy.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter II—Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, Department of Commerce

PART 501—AIRCRAFT REGISTRATION CERTIFICATES

APPLICATION, ISSUANCE, ETC.

FEBRUARY 10, 1943.

Acting pursuant to the authority vested in me by sections 308 and 501 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, I hereby amend Part 501 of the regulations of the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics to read as follows:

Sec.
501.1 Application.
501.2 Issuance of registration certificate.
501.20 Previously registered aircraft.
501.21 New or previously unregistered aircraft.
501.22 Effective date.
501.3 Transferability.
501.4 Duration.
501.5 Display.
501.6 Invalidation.
501.7 Surrender.
501.8 Notice of change of address.

§ 501.1 Application. Application for the registration of an aircraft shall be made upon the applicable form prescribed and furnished by the Administrator.

§ 501.2 Issuance of registration certificate.

§ 501.20 Previously registered aircraft. A registration certificate will be issued by the Administrator for aircraft previously registered under the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, only if:

(a) The applicant mails or delivers a duly executed application for registration to the Administrator; and

(b) The applicant submits with such application proof satisfactory to the Administrator that the applicant is a citizen of the United States;[1] and

(c) The applicant submits with the application for registration a conveyance which meets the requirements prescribed in Part 503 of the Regulations of the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, evidencing his ownership of the aircraft; and

(d) The conveyance submitted with the above application establishes in the recordation system of the Administrator, title to the aircraft in the applicant: Provided, That this requirement shall not be applicable to contracts of conditional sale in which the seller is the recorded owner of the aircraft.

§ 501.21 New or previously unregistered aircraft. A registration certificate will be issued by the Administrator or his authorized inspector for aircraft not previously registered under the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, only if:

(a) The applicant mails or delivers a duly executed application for registration to the Administrator or his authorized inspector; and

(b) The applicant submits with such application proof satisfactory to the Administrator that the applicant is a citizen of the United States; and

(c) The applicant submits satisfactory proof of ownership of such aircraft.

§ 501.22 Effective date. Aircraft will be deemed to be registered upon the date that the documents required by §§ 501.20 and 501.21, whichever is applicable, are received by the Administrator or his authorized inspector.

§ 501.3 Transferability. A registration certificate is not transferable except that upon the transfer of ownership of an aircraft registered as civil aircraft of the United States, the registration and certificate issued pursuant thereto may be transferred to the purchaser upon the following conditions:

(a) The purchaser is a citizen of the United States; and

(b) On the date the registered owner transfers ownership of such aircraft, he shall endorse the registration certificate in the manner provided thereon and deliver such certificate to the purchaser; and

(c) On the date of transfer, an application for registration of the aircraft in the name of the purchaser, together with all documents required by § 501.20, are mailed to the Administrator.

§ 501.4 Duration. The registration and certificate issued pursuant thereto shall remain in effect indefinitely unless suspended or revoked: Provided, That such registration and certificate may be cancelled by the Administrator at any time within 90 days after issuance and thereafter they shall immediately expire upon the date:

(a) The aircraft is registered under the laws of any foreign country; or

(b) The registration of the aircraft is cancelled at the written request of the owner; or

(c) The aircraft is totally destroyed or scrapped; or

(d) The ownership of the aircraft is transferred, unless the certificate is transferred in accordance with § 501.3.

§ 501.5 Display. A registration certificate shall be carried at all times in the aircraft and shall be presented upon the request of any duly authorized representative for the Administrator, or any state or municipal official charged with enforcing local laws or regulations involving Federal compliance.

§ 501.6 Invalidation. Any registration of an aircraft by the Administrator shall be null and void if at the time of registration:

(a) The aircraft was registered under the laws of any foreign country; or

(b) The person registered as owner was not the true and lawful owner of the aircraft; or

(c) The person registered as owner was not a citizen of the United States; or the interest of such person in the aircraft was created by any transaction not entered into in good faith, but for the purpose of avoiding, with or without the knowledge of the registered owner, the provision of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, prohibiting the registration of an aircraft in the name of a person not a citizen of the United States.

§ 501.7 Surrender. Upon the suspension, revocation, expiration or invalidation of a registration certificate, the owner of the aircraft shall, upon request, surrender such certificate to any authorized representative of the Administrator.

§ 501.8 Notice of change of address. The registered owner of any aircraft shall notify the Administrator immediately of any change of address.

This amendment shall become effective March 31, 1943.

C. I. STANTON,
Administrator.

PART 503—RECORDATION OF AIRCRAFT OWNERSHIP

REQUIREMENTS, ELIGIBILITY, ETC.

FEBRUARY 10, 1943.

Acting pursuant to the authority vested in me by sections 308 and 503 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, I hereby adopt Part 503 of the regulations of the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics to read as follows:

Sec.
503.1 Recordation required.
503.2 Eligibility.
503.3 Notice of transfer.

§ 503.1 Recordation required. All conveyances affecting the title to, or interest in, any aircraft registered under the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, shall be executed upon the applicable form prescribed by the Administrator, or a form deemed by the Administrator to be its equivalent, and shall be recorded with the Administrator.

§ 503.2 Eligibility. A conveyance shall be eligible for recordation only if:

(a) It is accompanied by a duly executed application for registration, together with all the documents required by § 501.2 of the Regulatons of the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics: Provided, That this paragraph shall not apply to conveyances affecting an interest in, but not title to the aircraft, or conveyances transferring ownership to a person not eligible to obtain registration; and

(b) It is accompanied by a certificate of ownership for the aircraft which is the subject of the conveyance, if such certificate has been issued by the Administrator,[1] Provided, That, in the event of the loss or destruction of such certificate of ownership, the owner shall submit in lieu thereof proof satisfactory to the Administrator that such certificate has been destroyed or lost; and

(c) It affects an aircraft currently registered under the terms of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended; and

(d) It states the interest in the aircraft of the person by whom such conveyance is made or given, or in the case of a contract of conditional sale, the interest of the seller; and

(e) It states the interest transferred by the conveyance; and

(f) It is acknowledged before a notary public or other officer authorized by law of the United States, or of a State, Territory or possession thereof, or the District of Columbia, to take acknowledgment of deeds.

§ 503.3 Notice of transfer. The registered owner of any aircraft, within five days after the conveyance of such aircraft, or other disposition thereof, shall furnish the Administrator, upon the prescribed form, notice of sale or other disposition of the aircraft.

This amendment shall become effective March 31, 1943.

C. I. STANTON,
Administrator.

[F. R. Doc. 43-2744; Filed, February 19, 1943; 11:21 a. m.]

[1] "Citizen of the United States" means (a) an individual who is a citizen of the United States or of one of its possessions, or (b) a partnership of which each member is such an individual, or (c) a corporation or association created or organized under the laws of the United States or of any State, Territory or Possession of the United States, of which the president and two-thirds or more of the board of directors and other managing officers thereof are such individuals and in which at least 75 per centum of the voting interest is owned or controlled by persons who are citizens of the United States or of one of its possessions. (Section 1 (13), Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938)

[1] On or after the effective date of these regulations the Administrator will issue a certificate of ownership which lists ownership and liens as of that date. These certificates of ownership will be issued for each aircraft as to which a conveyance is received for recordation. Thereafter no conveyance will be eligible for recordation unless accompanied by a certificate of ownership.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: January 28, 1943.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Docket No. A–1814]

PART 322—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 2

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 2, for the establishment of minimum price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 2.

An original petition, and an amendment thereto, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 2; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 322.7 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–I,

TEMPORARY AND CONDITIONALLY FINAL EFFECTIVE MINIMUM PRICES FOR DISTRICT NO. 2

NOTE: The material contained in these supplements is to be read in the light of the classifications, prices, instructions, exceptions and other provisions contained in Part 322, Minimum Price Schedule for District No. 2 and supplements thereto.

PART 327—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 7

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 7 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 7.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 7; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act:

It is ordered, That pending final disposition of the above entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 327.11 (Low volatile coals: Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 327.34 (General prices in cents per net ton for shipment into any market area) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: February 1, 1943.

PART 329—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 9

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF

Order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 9 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines and for a change in shipping point for the coals of Mine Index No. 335.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 9 and for a change in the shipping point for the coals of Mine Index No. 335 in District No. 9 from point Nebo, Kentucky, to Providence, Kentucky; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 329.5 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R, and § 329.24 (General prices in cents per net ton for shipment into any market area) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That the price classifications and minimum prices heretofore established for the coals of Mine Index No. 335 for all shipments except truck shall no longer be applicable to shipments of such coals originating at point Nebo, Kentucky.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

Dated: January 29, 1943.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-239]

THOMAS OIL COMPANY

J. D. Thomas, doing business as Thomas Oil Company, Saratoga Springs, New York, is engaged in the marketing of motor fuel. During the months of May, June and July, 1942, the Thomas Oil Company, in wilful violation of Limitation Order L-70, made deliveries of motor fuel to R. C. Vrooman Service Station, Van Dorn and Maple Streets, Saratoga Springs, New York, and to Manny's Service Station, 77 Putnam Street, Saratoga, New York, which the Company owns, substantially in excess of the amounts permitted to be delivered to such stations in accordance with the provisions of Limitation Order L-70.

These violations of Limitation Order L-70 have impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting motor fuel to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts: It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.239 Suspension Order S-239. (a) J. D. Thomas, doing business as Thomas Oil Company, his successors and assigns, shall not deliver, or cause to be delivered, directly or indirectly, any motor fuel, as defined in Limitation Order L-70, to R. C. Vrooman Service Station, Van Dorn and Maple Streets, Saratoga Springs, New York, and to Manny's Service Station, 77 Putnam Street, Saratoga, New York.

(b) Nothing contained herein shall be deemed to relieve J. D. Thomas, doing business as Thomas Oil Company, his successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on February 22, 1943, and shall remain in effect until May 22, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 18th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-244]

DE WITT-NASH CO.

The De Witt-Nash Company, Cleveland, Ohio, is a roaster and wholesale distributor of coffee. In the months of August and September, 1942, the Company delivered to its customers approximately 10,715 pounds of coffee in excess of the amounts it was permitted to deliver under the provisions of Conservation Order M-135. These excessive deliveries were caused by the Company's inexcusable negligence in failing to compute its quota in the proper manner.

These violations of Conservation Order M-135 have given the Company an advantage over its competitors and have made it appropriate that the Company's future deliveries of coffee should be restricted to compensate for such over-deliveries. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.244 Suspension Order S-244. (a) During each of the calendar months of March, April and May, 1943, deliveries of coffee by The De Witt-Nash Company, its successors and assigns, shall not exceed 15,670 pounds, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve The De Witt-Nash Company from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect March 1, 1943, and shall expire on May 31, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 18th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1068—CANS

[Amendment 1 to Conservation Order M-81 as Amended Jan. 13, 1943]

Section 1068.1 Conservation Order M-81 (8 F. R. 516) is hereby amended in the following particulars:

1. Paragraph (a) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) "Tinplate" means any sheet steel coated with tin and includes "primes" "seconds", "waste-waste" (except "electrolytic waste-waste") and all other forms of tinplate except waste.

2. Paragraph (a) (4) is amended to read as follows:

(4) "Blackplate" means any sheet steel 29-gauge or lighter, other than tinplate or terneplate. The term includes "blackplate rejects" and "electrolytic waste-waste", and all other forms of blackplate except waste.

3. Paragraph (c) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) No product packed in a can shall be repacked for sale in a can or any other container by the same or a different person in the same or a different form except to the extent specifically permitted in the schedules attached to this order or pursuant to Conservation Order M-104.

4. The paragraph numbered (2) in the explanatory text at the heading of Schedule I is amended to read as follows:

(2) All persons manufacturing cans shall, to the greatest extent available, use 0.50 tinplate wherever the single asterisk appears, and chemically treated blackplate wherever the double asterisk appears. All persons using cans marked with the asterisk, are hereby required to accept from the manufacturer making delivery, to the greatest extent available, cans made as specified of 0.50 tinplate wherever the single asterisk appears; and cans made as specified of chemically treated blackplate wherever the double asterisk appears.

6. The paragraph numbered (2) in the explanatory text at the heading of Schedule II is amended to read as follows:

(2) All persons manufacturing cans shall, to the greatest extent available, use 0.50 tinplate wherever the single asterisk appears, and chemically treated blackplate wherever the double asterisk appears. All persons using cans marked with the asterisk, are hereby required to accept from the manufacturer making delivery, to the greatest extent available, cans made as specified of 0.50 tinplate wherever the single asterisk appears; and cans made as specified of chemically treated blackplate wherever the double asterisk appears.

Wherever the double asterisk appears, to the extent that chemically treated blackplate is not available, 0.50 tinplate is to be used by manufacturers and cans made therefrom accepted by users, to the greatest extent available, in preference to 1.25 tinplate.

7. Items 1 and 5 of Schedule II are amended to read as follows:

PART 1075—CONSTRUCTION

[Conservation Order L-41, as Amended Feb. 19, 1943]

Conservation Order L-41 as heretofore amended is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1075.1 Conservation Order L-41—

(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Construction" means the erection, construction, reconstruction, restoration, or remodeling of any structure or project, or additions thereto or extensions or alterations thereof, but not including:

(i) "Maintenance and repair" as defined in paragraph (a) (12);

(ii) The excavation or other movement of earth where no material except earth or other unprocessed material is to be incorporated.

(3) "Residential construction" means any construction where the principal designed function of the structure or project is or will be to provide living space or accommodations.

(4) "Multiple residential construction" means any residential construction where the principal designed function of the structure or project is or will be to provide living space or accommodations for six or more families, or which is divided or to be divided into six or more suites.

(5) "Agricultural construction" means any construction, (other than residential construction), where the principal designed function of the structure or project is or will be the production of agricultural products including, but not limited to, those produced by farmers, planters, ranchmen, dairymen, poultrymen, or nut or fruit growers.

(6) "Industrial construction" means any construction where the principal designed function of the structure or project is or will be the manufacture, processing or assembling of goods or materials.

(7) "Other restricted construction" means any construction, other than residential, multiple residential, agricultural, or industrial construction, including, but not limited to, commercial, highway, roadway, sub-surface, railroad, and utilities construction, whether publicly or privately financed.

(8) "Project" means all separate structures or units of construction situated in close proximity to each other and integrated to serve a single general use; it does not mean a particular construction operation or job. In no case shall a single structure or unit of construction be subdivided into more than one project for the purpose of this order.

(9) "Begin construction" means to initiate construction, or to resume construction which has not been carried on as one continuous construction job, by physically incorporating or installing into a structure or project on the site, material which is to be an integral part of the structure or project.

(10) "Cost" shall be the sum of the total cost or value, whichever is higher, of the following (except as qualified in (a) (11) below):

(i) Material which is to be an integral part of the structure or project, including articles, chattels, or fixtures which are to be physically incorporated in and used as a part of the structure or project, or are to be so substantially affixed thereto that they cannot be detached without materially injuring them or the structure or project;

(ii) Labor engaged in the construction;

(iii) Architects', engineers' and contractors' services.

(11) "Cost" does not include the following:

(i) The value of used material, articles, chattels or fixtures which have been severed from the same or another structure or project and are to be used without change in ownership, nor the cost or value of labor engaged in incorporating the same;

(ii) The cost or value of production machinery or equipment to be used directly in the manufacturing, processing or assembling of goods or materials;

(iii) The value of labor, not entailing financial outlay, of an owner or tenant and members of the owner's or tenant's immediate family residing with him, on a structure or project owned or leased by him.

(12) "Maintenance and repair" means such work as is necessary to keep a structure or project in sound working condition, or to rehabilitate a structure or project or any portion thereof when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear or other similar causes. The term does not include any building operation or job where a structural alteration or change in design is to be made. However, different materials may be used and different types of articles, chattels or fixtures (but of the same general nature) may be incorporated, provided that there are no such structural alterations or changes in design. No building operation or job may be part construction and part maintenance and repair, as the terms are used herein, but if any construction is to be done, the entire building operation or job is construction. Maintenance and repair does not include the reconstruction or restoration of a structure or project or portion thereof destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy.

(b) Prohibited construction. (1) No person shall begin construction, carry on any construction begun in violation of any order in the L–41 series, cause such construction to be begun or carried on or participate in such construction, or order, purchase, accept delivery of, withdraw from inventory or in any other manner secure or use material for such purposes.

(2) The terms and restrictions of (b) (1) shall not apply where the construction is of:

(i) A structure or project to be the property of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, the Civil Aeronautics Authority, or the Office of Scientific Research and Development;

(ii) A structure or project which is to be used directly in the discovery, development or depletion of mineral deposits;

(iii) A type subject to the provisions of any order in the M–68 series (Part 1047) relating to the production and distribution of petroleum, or is of a type subject to the provisions of any Petroleum Administrative Order (Chapter XIII), and such construction is permitted only to the extent authorized by the applicable order in the M–68 series or by the applicable Petroleum Administrative Order;

(iv) Telephone facilities or equipment, including facilities or equipment for such telegraph or teletypewriter service as may be conducted by a telephone operator, other than buildings, and is authorized or permitted under the terms of Order L–50 (§ 1095.1);

(v) Railroad tracks, together with necessary operating facilities, but not including buildings, tunnels, overpasses, underpasses, or bridges;

(vi) Facilities, other than buildings, to be owned by a producer, as defined in Order P–46 (§ 978.1), pertaining to utilities, and which are to be used directly in providing one or more of the services set forth in paragraph (a) (1) of said order;

(vii) Irrigation pipe lines or drainage tile drains, classified as agricultural construction under this order, in which no materials except earth or other unprocessed material or clay or non-reinforced concrete tile not more than 12 inches in internal diameter are incorporated.

(viii) Agricultural construction necessary to the installation of material or equipment, the distribution of which is controlled by Order L–170 (§ 1029.10) or orders in the M–21 series (Part 962), and which are listed in Schedule 1 of Food Production Order 3 of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(ix) A structure or project which can be completed with materials which have been or can be obtained without priorities assistance (other than priorities assistance assigned by paragraph (b) (1) of Conservation Order M–208 (§ 3049.1) or which have been acquired with priorities assistance, for a purpose other than to be incorporated into the construction of the structure or project, before construction was begun, (but may, pursuant to applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board, be used in the construction of such structure or project)—and no material will be used to provide electric, gas, water, steam or sanitation services for the incorporation of which specific authorization is required under Order P–46 (§ 978.1), unless such authorization has been received before construction of the structure or project was begun—and

(a) The construction is residential (but not multiple residential), or is specifically listed on Schedule B attached hereto, and the estimated cost is less than $200, or

(b) The construction is multiple residential, agricultural or other restricted construction, is not specifically listed on Schedule B, and the estimated cost is less than $1,000, or

(c) The construction is industrial, is not specifically listed on Schedule B, and the estimated cost is less than $5,000 or

(d) The construction is the minimum necessary to make safe and to protect any structure or project (or the contents thereof) damaged or destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy, or

(e) The construction is agricultural and the immediate construction thereof is determined by the United States Department of Agriculture, in accordance with such administrative procedures as may be from time to time prescribed to be necessary to avert threatened loss of farm products: Provided, That within two weeks of such determination Form PD–200 is filed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f) of this section.

(3) The terms and restrictions of (b) (1) shall not apply where the construction is to reconstruct or restore:

(i) Residential or multiple residential construction damaged or destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy, or to build in its place and stead new residential or multiple residential construction: Provided, however, That the estimated cost of such reconstruction, restoration, or new construction shall be less than $5,000, and that within two weeks of such damage or destruction Form PD–105 (for residential) or Form PD–200 (for multiple residential) is filed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f) of this section;

(ii) Agricultural construction damaged or destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy where the immediate reconstruction thereof is determined by the United States Department of Agriculture, in accordance with such administrative procedures as may be from time to time prescribed, to be essential to the agricultural program: Provided, That within two weeks of such damage or destruction Form PD–200 is filed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f) of this section;

(iii) Industrial or other restricted construction, not specifically listed on Schedule B, damaged or destroyed by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake, act of God or the public enemy, where the immediate reconstruction thereof is necessary for the prosecution of the war or the protection of public health or safety: Provided, That within five days of the damage or destruction notice thereof is given by telegraph to the War Production Board setting forth (a) the cause of the damage or destruction, (b) the function of the structure or project which has been damaged or destroyed, (c) the type of construction, (d) why immediate reconstruction or restoration is necessary, and (e) the estimated cost of reconstruction: And provided further, That within two weeks of the giving of such telegraphic notice, Form PD–200 is filed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f) of this section.

Nothing contained in this subparagraph (3) shall be interpreted as a commitment that priorities assistance will be accorded to any particular construction authorized by the provisions of this subparagraph and the Director General for Operations may at any time either order said construction to cease or require any modification thereof that seems to him to be proper.

(4) The terms and restrictions of (b) (1) shall not apply where the construction has been or is hereafter authorized by the Director of Priorities of the Office of Production Management or by the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations of the War Production Board by the issuance of:

(i) One of the preference rating orders or certificates listed on Schedule A attached hereto, as that schedule may be amended from time to time, according priorities assistance to the construction; or

(ii) An order specifically authorizing the construction.

(5) The exceptions set forth in paragraphs (b) (2) (ix) (a), (b) (2) (ix) (b), and (b) (2) (ix) (c) shall not be construed to authorize separate or successive construction operations commencing after September 6, 1942, the aggregate cost of which over any continuous twelve-month period exceeds the amount specified in the applicable paragraph for the particular structure or project; not including in said aggregate cost the cost of any construction thereon during said period authorized under the provisions of paragraph (b) (2) (ix) (d), (b) (2) (ix) (e), (b) (3) and (b) (4).

(c) Prohibited deliveries. No person shall accept an order for, sell, deliver, or cause to be delivered material which he knows, or has reason to believe, will be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(d) Further construction limitations. Nothing in this order shall be construed to authorize the use or delivery of any material, or the application or extension of any preference rating, in violation of the provisions of any conservation, limitation or other order or regulation heretofore or hereafter issued by the Director of Priorities, Office of Production Management, by the Director of Industry Operations or by the Director General for Operations of the War Production Board.

(e) Orders or certificates not constituting authorization. The assignment of a preference rating by a PD–1, PD–1A, or other certificate, or by any order, other than those listed on Schedule A, shall not constitute authorization to begin construction.

(f) Application for authority to begin construction. (1) The application forms prescribed by paragraphs (f) (2) and (f) (3) hereof shall be executed by the person who is or is to be the owner of the structure or project for which authorization is required by the terms of this order, or his duly authorized agent.

(2) If the applicant requires priorities assistance for the proposed construction, an application shall be made for the appropriate preference rating order or certificate listed on Schedule A on the form referred to therein.

(3) Where the applicant does not require priorities assistance, application for specific authorization to begin construction referred to in paragraph (b) (4) (ii) hereof may be made by filing Form PD–200, or such other forms as may hereafter be prescribed. Such forms are to be filed in the manner prescribed on Schedule A for the filing of applications for Preference Rating Order P–19–h.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining any further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Communications. Applications, communications and reports under this order shall, unless otherwise directed in Schedule A or by specific instructions be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L–41.

Those relating to residential construction shall in addition be conspicuously marked "Res.", those relating to multiple residential construction "M. R.", those relating to agricultural construction "Agr.", those relating to industrial construction "Ind.", and those relating to other restricted construction "O. R."

This order, as amended, shall supersede all orders, amendments and interpretations in the L–41 series heretofore issued, except L–41–a, L–41–b and its interpretation, and L–41–c.

Issued this 19th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1075—CONSTRUCTION

The following official interpretation is hereby issued by the Director General for Operations with respect to § 1075.1 Conservation Order No. L-41:[1]

(a) Paragraph (a) of Conservation Order No. L-41, as amended, places in different classes the construction of various structures or projects, and paragraph (b) (2) (ix) provides the limits within which the several classes of construction may be begun without authorization. Any structure shall be classified in accordance with such provisions unless it constitutes a part of a "project" as defined in paragraph (a) (8), in which event the classification of the project shall control.

(b) In connection with paragraphs (a) (3), (a) (4), (a) (5), (a) (6), and (a) (7), where part of a structure or project falls within one class under said order and other parts within another or other classes, the predominant designed use shall determine the classification of the whole structure or project.

(c) In connection with paragraphs (a) (5) and (a) (7), a structure to be used primarily for the storage of farm products which are produced by a person other than the proprietor of such structure shall be interpreted to be "other restricted construction."

(d) "Construction" as defined in paragraph (a) (2) includes the laying of asphalt tile, linotile, cork tile, rubber tile, and linoleum, if the same is cemented to or in any way is affixed to the construction.

(e) The application of siding or roofing is "construction" as the word is used in paragraph (a) (2), where such siding or roofing is applied to a portion of a building or structure which is not in need of "maintenance and repair" as the words are used in paragraph (a) (12).

Issued this 19th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3063—FOOTWEAR

[Amendment 1 to Conservation Order M-217, as amended Feb. 13, 1943]

Section 3063.1 Conservation Order M-217 is hereby amended:

1. By adding the following at the end of paragraph (b) immediately following (b) (9):

(10) "Line" means footwear of any one of the following types:

Men's dress.
Men's work.
Youths' and boys'.
Women's and growing girls'
Misses' and children's.
Infants'.
House slippers.
Athletic

to the extent that such type of footwear is manufactured for sale in the same manufacturer's price range: Provided, That

(i) Footwear of substantially identical kind and quality sold in more than one price range to different types of purchasers shall be deemed one line; and

(ii) In case the sale by the manufacturer is at retail or to a purchaser controlled by the manufacturer, the applicable price range shall be the retail price range.

(11) "Price range" shall have the usual trade significance, provided that the highest list price in the range does not exceed the lowest in the range by more than ten (10%) per cent.

(12) "Civilian footwear" as used in paragraph (i) means boots, shoes, slippers and other foot coverings made in whole or in part of leather or with rubber soles, not including rubber footwear.

2. By adding a new paragraph (i) after paragraph (h):

(i) Restrictions on production of lines of footwear. (1) Except on specific authorization of the Director General for Operations, no person shall in any six (6) months' period beginning March 1, 1943, complete the manufacture of more civilian footwear within any line than permitted in the table shown below:

Description	Maximum permitted amount or percentage per line
House slippers	75% of number manufactured from July 1, 1942, to Dec. 31, 1942, inclusive.
All others	100% of number manufactured from July 1, 1942, to Dec. 31, 1942, inclusive.

(2) Except on specific authorization of the Director General for Operations, no person shall manufacture any line of civilian footwear not manufactured by him in the period from July 1st, 1942 to December 31st, 1942.

(3) Exceptions. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (i) (1) or (i) (2):

(i) A lower priced line of the same type of civilian footwear may be substituted in whole or in part for a higher priced line.

(ii) The unused quota of any higher priced line may be added to a lower priced line of the same type of civilian footwear.

(iii) The manufacture of civilian footwear in a line not manufactured in the period from July 1, 1942 to December 31, 1942, may be completed if such footwear was put into process prior to February 19, 1943.

3. By relettering present paragraphs (i), (j), (k), (l) and (m) to (j), (k), (l), (m), and (n) respectively.

4. By relettering paragraph (n) to paragraph (o) and changing said present paragraph (n) to read as follows:

(o) Effective dates. The effective dates of the respective amended paragraphs of this order are as follows: Paragraphs (a), (b) (6) through (b) (9), (c) (4), (c) (5), (d) (1), (e) (3), (e) (5), (e) (6), (f) (2), (f) (3), (f) (4) and (g)—February 13, 1943; paragraphs (j), (k), (l), (m), (n) and (o)—February 19, 1943; paragraphs (b) (10), (b) (11), (b) (12) and (i)—March 1, 1943; paragraph (f) (1)—March 15, 1943; paragraph (c) (7)—March 31, 1943; paragraph (c) (8)—May 31, 1943; all other amended paragraphs—April 30, 1943

Conservation Order M-217 as issued September 10, 1942 shall remain in full force and effect except as superseded on the effective dates, as stated above, of the foregoing amended paragraphs.

Issued this 19th day of February 1943.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1340—FUEL

[MPR 189,[1] Amendment 6]

BITUMINOUS COAL SOLD FOR DIRECT USE AS BUNKER FUEL

A statement of considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In paragraph (a) of § 1340.308 a new subparagraph (8) is added, and in § 1340.313, paragraph (e) is redesignated as paragraph (d) and new paragraphs (c) and (e) are added, to read as set forth below:

§ 1340.308 Definitions. (a) • • •

(8) Reference to a bituminous coal producing district (e. g. "District No. 1") is a reference to the same district as defined in the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, as amended.

• • • • • •

§ 1340.313 Appendix A: Maximum prices for bituminous coal for use as bunker fuel. • • •

(c) The following special rule shall apply to bunker fuel produced in Districts 1–4 and 6–8:

(1) Not more than 25 cents per net ton may be added to the maximum prices determined in accordance with paragraph (a) or (b) of this section when the bunker fuel has been produced at mines in Districts Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, or 6.

(2) Not more than 25 cents per net ton may be added to the maximum prices determined in accordance with paragraph (a) or (b) of this section when the bunker fuel is high-volatile bituminous coal produced in Districts 7 and 8; and not more than 40 cents per net ton may be so added when the bunker fuel is low-volatile bituminous coal produced in Districts 7 or 8.

• • • • • •

(e) Where the maximum price cannot be determined under paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section, then the maximum price shall be a price determined by the supplier in accordance with specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration. A supplier who seeks an authorization to determine a maximum price under the provisions of this paragraph shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Solid Fuels Branch, Washington, D. C., two copies of an application setting forth (1) a description of the bunker fuel for which a maximum price is sought, including the producing districts and mine index numbers of the originating mines, and, where a mixture is involved, the proportions of each of the different coals mixed; (2) a statement of the reasons why the bunker fuel in question cannot be priced under paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section; and (3) any other facts which the supplier wishes to submit in support of the application.

This amendment shall become effective February 18, 1943.

[Vesting Order 662]

INTERESTS OF ANNA STROMEYER, ET AL.

Re: Interests of German nationals in certain real properties in Texas, certain bank accounts and a coin collection.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Anna Stromeyer, Meta Eyl and Hans Eyl are citizens of and reside in Germany and are nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. Finding that said persons are the owners of the property described in subparagraph 3 hereof;

3. Finding that the property described as follows:

a. All right, title, interest and estate, both legal and equitable, of the aforesaid Anna Stromeyer, Meta Eyl and Hans Eyl, and each of them, in and to those certain real properties situated in the Counties of Milam, Galveston, Montgomery, Upton, Coleman, Hardin and Leon in the State of Texas, more particularly described in Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof, together with all fixtures, improvements and appurtenances thereto and any and all claims of Anna Stromeyer, Meta Eyl and Hans Eyl, and each of them, for rents, refunds, benefits or other payments arising from the ownership of such property;

b. All right, title, interest and claim of any name or nature whatsoever of said Anna Stromeyer, Meta Eyl and Hans Eyl, and each of them, in and to all obligations, contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured, owing to them or any of them by Hutchings-Sealy National Bank of Galveston, Texas, and Republic National Bank of Dallas, Texas, or either of them, including but not limited to all security rights in and to any and all collateral for any or all such obligations and the right to sue for and collect such obligations, and including particularly the account in said Hutchings-Sealy National Bank of Galveston carried in the name of Henry J. Runge, Agent, and the accounts in said Republic National Bank of Dallas carried in the names of Julius H. Runge, Attorney, Julius H. Runge, Agent and Julius H. Runge, Trustee, respectively; and

c. The interests of said Anna Stromeyer, Meta Eyl and Hans Eyl, and each of them, in and to that certain coin collection in the possession of Henry J. Runge in Galveston, Texas, is property within the United States owned or controlled by nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

4. Determining that the property described in subparagraph 3-b hereof is necessary for the maintenance or safeguarding of other property (namely, that hereinbefore described in subparagraph 3-a) belonging to the same nationals of the same designated enemy country and subject to vesting (and in fact vested by this order) pursuant to Section 2 of said Executive Order;

5. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 3 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

Such property and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in a special account pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on January 12, 1943.

[Vesting Order 765]

SOUTH TEXAS COMPRESS COMPANY

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Having found in Vesting Order Number 60 of July 28, 1942, that South Texas Compress Company, a Texas corporation, is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that Jiro Hinomizu and Tokeo Sugiura, whose last known addresses are Japan, are nationals of a designated enemy country (Japan);

3. Finding that Yoichi Noda is residing in Japan or is a subject of Japan residing in Shanghai, China, enemy occupied country, and is, therefore, a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

4. Finding that out of the total issued and outstanding capital stock of said business enterprise 625 shares of $100 par value common stock thereof are registered in the names of and owned by the aforesaid Jiro Hinomizu, Yoichi Noda, and Tokeo Sugiura, in the following respective amounts:

Names:	Number of shares
Jiro Hinomizu	250
Yoichi Noda	125
Tokeo Sugiura	250
Total	625

5. Finding therefore that the aforesaid 625 shares of stock represent interests in said business enterprise owned by nationals of a designated enemy country (Japan);

6. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

7. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian that 625 shares of stock referred to in subparagraph 4 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

8. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on January 25, 1943.

FUJI TRADING COMPANY, INC.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Kaku Nagano, whose last known address is Tokyo, Japan, is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding the 8,780 shares of $10 par value common capital stock of Fuji Trading Company, Inc., an Illinois corporation, Chicago, Illinois, are registered in the name of and owned by said Kaku Nagano;

3. Finding that said corporation is a business enterprise within the United States and that said 8,780 shares constitute a substantial part (namely, 58.5%) of all outstanding capital stock of said business enterprise and are evidence of control thereof;

4. Determining, therefore, that said business enterprise is controlled by said Kaku Nageno and is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

5. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the shares of stock described in subparagraph 2 hereof to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of such business enterprise to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

UNITED PUBLIC UTILITIES CORPORATION AND ITS SUBSIDIARY COMPANIES

NOTICE OF FILING APPLICATION, ETC.

Notice of filing of respondents' application and order reconvening hearing for purpose of considering said application.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 17th day of February 1943.

The Commission having previously, by order dated March 4, 1942, under section 11 (b) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, ordered that United Public Utilities Corporation divest itself of all its interests in, and in the properties and assets owned or operated by, the following companies: Fort Smith Gas Company, Southern Gas Producing Company, Cap. F. Bourland Ice Company, Alabama United Ice Company, Louisiana Ice Service, Incorporated, and Texas Ice & Refrigerating Company, and said order having provided that the respondents should make application to the Commission for the entry of such further orders as were necessary or appropriate for that purpose, and the Commission having reserved jurisdiction to enter such further orders as might be necessary or appropriate;

Notice is hereby given that United Public Utilities Corporation, a registered holding company, has filed on February 17, 1943 an application requesting the entry of an order by this Commission under section 11 (c) of the Act extending the time for compliance with our order of March 4, 1942 for a period of one year;

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest of investors and consumers that the hearing herein be reconvened for the purpose of considering said application;

It is ordered, That the hearing in this proceeding shall be reconvened at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in such room as may be designated on such date by the Hearing Room Clerk, at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., on the 2d day of March 1943. All persons desiring to be heard, or otherwise wishing to participate in the proceedings should notify the Commission in the manner provided by our Rules of Practice, Rule XVII on or before March 1, 1943. At said reconvened hearing on that day, the issues will be limited to a consideration of the request presented by said application;

All interested persons are referred to said application, which is on file in the office of said Commission for full details concerning the application;

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to assert all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the Act and to the trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice;

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of issues presented by said application, particular attention will be directed at said hearing to the following matters and questions:

(1) Whether or not the United Public Utilities Corporation has exercised due diligence in its efforts to comply with the order of this Commission dated March 4, 1942;

(2) Whether an extension of one year in which to comply with our order of March 4, 1942, as requested by applicant, is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers, or whether a shorter period would be adequate.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to the respondents and applicant herein, and to any other person whose participation in such proceeding may be in the public interest or for the protection of investors and consumers.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of this Commission serve notice of the entry of this order by mailing a copy thereof by registered mail to the respondents and intervenor, and that notice shall be given to all other persons by publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter I—Farm Credit Administration

PART 10—FEDERAL LAND BANKS

LOAN REQUIREMENTS

Part 10 of Chapter I, Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 10.10 Farm unit; required area and yield of farm. To constitute a proper unit for a bank loan, a farm must be of sufficient area to yield at the hands of an ordinarily capable farmer, putting it to the use to which it is generally adapted, using average methods, and receiving normal prices, an income sufficient to maintain the family of the applicant, pay operating expenses and taxes, maintain the property, and discharge the interest and amortization payments on his loan. Since the earning power of land varies because of difference in the quality of soils, climatic conditions, crop adaptation, and market facilities, no arbitrary acreage limit should be established as necessary for a farm unit. Any decision that a particular property does not constitute a proper farm unit should be reached only after careful consideration of standards of living, the factors of production, and the earning power of the individual farm.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter VIII—Food Distribution Administration[1]

PART 802—SUGAR DETERMINATIONS

PROPORTIONATE SHARES FOR FARMS IN THE TERRITORY OF HAWAII FOR THE 1943 CROP

Pursuant to the provisions of subsections (a) and (b) of section 302 of the Sugar Act of 1937, as amended, the following determination is hereby issued:

§ 802.36f Proportionate shares for farms in the Territory of Hawaii for the 1943 crop—(a) Proportionate share for any farm. The proportionate share for any farm in the Territory of Hawaii for the 1943 crop shall be the amount of sugar, raw value, commercially recoverable from sugarcane grown on such farm and marketed (or processed by the producer) for the extraction of sugar during the calendar year 1943.

(b) Adherent planter protection. The provisions of this determination shall be subject to the following conditions: (1) that no changes in the planter-plantation sugarcane and sugar production relationship shall have been made, and (2) that no reduction in the number of planters shall have been made under programs carried out pursuant to the Act, except such as are considered justified and are approved by the Chief of the Sugar Branch, Food Distribution Administration, and the Director of the Division of Special Programs of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, acting either jointly or severally.

(Sec. 302, 50 Stat. 910; 7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 1132)

Done at Washington, D. C. this 18th day of February, 1943. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

war and civilian needs. It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1425.1 Canned and processed foods, allocation and restrictions on sale and delivery—(a) Definitions. (1) "Director" means the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture or any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture designated by the Director.

(2) "Canner" means any person engaged in the business of canning foods in hermetically sealed metal or glass containers and sterilizing the same by the use of heat.

(3) "Processor" means any person other than a canner engaged in the commercial processing of foods to produce a frozen, dried, pickled, preserved, or otherwise nonperishable product.

(4) "Pack" means the total amount (by weight unless otherwise specified) of all grades of any particular food canned by any canner or processed by any processor during any packing season or during a crop year or calendar period specified by the Director as a quota period.

(5) "Government agency" means any officer, board, agency, commission, or government owned or government controlled corporation of the United States specifically designated by the Director.

(6) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association or other business entity.

(b) Restrictions. (1) Each canner and each processor shall set aside for the requirements of government agencies such canned or processed foods packed by him as the Director may from time to time order, without regard to previously existing contracts. All such canned or processed foods so set aside shall, unless and until released, be held for allocation to any government agency by the Director. Orders to set foods aside pursuant to this paragraph (b) (1) may be by general supplementary order or by written notice by the Director to the individual canner or processor. There shall not be calculated as part of the foods required to be set aside by this paragraph, foods delivered to any government agency when not so allocated to such agency by the Director.

(2) Canned or processed foods required to be set aside for governmental requirements by any other order of the Secretary of Agriculture under Executive Order 9280 or by the Director pursuant to such an order, shall not be required to be set aside by this order.

(3) The Director may allocate canned or processed foods to any government agency by specifically designating such agency as the authorized purchaser thereof, either by letter to the agency, by letter to the canner or processor, or by naming such agency in a general supplementary order. The Director will allocate foods pursuant to this order only to the Army or Navy of the United States, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Panama Railroad, the Treasury of the United States, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Veterans' Administration, the Department of Agriculture, and any agencies of the United States Government for supplies to be delivered to or for the account of the government of any country pursuant to the act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), and any other agency when the Director shall find that allocation to such agency is directly essential to the war effort.

(4) If he determines that any canned or processed foods set aside pursuant to this order are not required for government agencies, the Director may release such canned or processed foods at any time and may so notify the canner or processor, or he may delegate authority to release such foods to the agency to which he has allocated them.

(5) The Director may issue specifications at any time as to processing, packing, containers, container treatment, can marking, labeling, boxing, and strapping, or he may authorize any government agency to issue such specifications.

(c) Certificates and reports relating to the cans covered by this order—(1) Certificates. Each canner who purchases any cans to pack any food for governmental use pursuant to this order—whether such purchase is by contract or on open account order—shall furnish to the can manufacturer, from whom he buys, a certificate, signed by an authorized official, in substantially the form attached hereto as "Exhibit A", which shall constitute a certification to the Food Distribution Administration, United States Department of Agriculture that such canner is familiar with the terms of this order (in its present form or as it may be amended from time to time), and that, during the life of this order, he will not use any cans purchased from such can manufacturer in violation of its terms. Only one such certificate covering all present and future purchases from a given can manufacturer, need be furnished by a canner to that can manufacturer but no can manufacturer shall be entitled to rely on any such certificates if he knows, or has reason to believe it to be false.

(2) Reports. Each canner and each processor shall, within 15 days after he has completed a seasonal pack, or in the instance of a non-seasonal product, at such times as may be prescribed, mail to or file with the Food Distribution Administration, United States Department of Agriculture a report thereof in such form as may be prescribed from time to time by the Director.

(d) Inspection and grading. Any canned or processed foods required to be set aside under this order shall be subject to inspection and grading at any time by the Director or by any person or government agency thereto authorized by him.

(e) Records and reports. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, purchases, production and sales, and shall maintain such other records for at least two years (or for such other periods of time as the Director may designate), and shall execute and file such reports upon such forms and submit such information as the Director may from time to time request or direct, and within such times as he may prescribe.

(f) Audits and inspections. Every person subject to this order shall, upon request, permit inspections, at all reasonable times, of his stocks of canned and processed foods and premises used in his business, and all of his books, records and accounts shall upon request be submitted to audit and inspection by the Director.

(g) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him may petition in writing (in triplicate) for relief to the Director, setting forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Director may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate and such action shall be final.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who by any act or omission falsifies records to be kept or information to be furnished pursuant to this order or wilfully conceals a material fact concerning a matter within the jurisdiction of any Department or agency of the United States may be prohibited from receiving or making further deliveries of any material subject to allocation and such further action may be taken against him as the Director deems appropriate, including recommendations for prosecution under section 35a of the Criminal Code (18 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 80), under paragraph 5 of section 301 of Title III of the Second War Powers Act, and under any and all other applicable laws.

(i) Communications to Department of Agriculture. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Director of Food Distribution; United States Department of Agriculture; Washington, D. C. Ref.: FD–22.

(j) Conservation Order M–86 superseded. This order supersedes in all respects Conservation Order M–86, as amended (7 F.R. 10326), and supplemented [1], of the War Production Board except that as to violations of said conservation order, as amended and supplemented, or rights accrued, liabilities incurred, or appeals taken under said order, as amended and supplemented, prior to the effective date hereof said Conservation Order M–86, as amended and supplemented, shall be deemed in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action or other proceeding with respect to any such violation, right or liability. Any appeal pending under said Conservation Order M–86, as amended and supplemented, shall be considered under paragraph (g) hereof.

(k) Effective date. This order shall be effective as of the date of its issuance

PART 1425—CANNED AND PROCESSED FOODS

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Food Distribution Order No. 22, dated February 19, 1943, issued under the authority of Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and to effectuate the purposes of those orders, It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1425.4 Quota restrictions and allocations of canned fruits and vegetables (1942, 1942–43 pack)—(a) Definitions. When used in this order the terms as defined in Food Distribution Order No. 22,[1] shall have the same meaning, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent hereof.

(b) Quota restrictions. Each canner shall set aside to be delivered for the requirements of government agencies, pursuant to Food Distribution Order No. 22, a quota of fruits and vegetables packed by him at any time in the calendar year 1942 or, when specified in Tables II and III, attached hereto, in 1942–43. Such quota of fruits and vegetables shall be of the kinds and in the percentages set forth in Columns A and B of Tables I, II, and III, attached hereto.

If the type, style, or variety of any such fruit or vegetable is described in Column C, such quota shall be in the type, style, and variety described, but other types, styles or varieties shall be substituted to the extent that those specified in Column C are not packed. To the extent that the canner's production of the first prefernce grade of such fruit or vegetables specified in Column E is sufficient, at least two-thirds of the quota, but preferably the entire quota, shall be set aside from such grade. To the extent that the quantity so set aside does not fill his quota, the canner shall set aside sufficient of his production of the second preference grade, if any, specified in Column F to complete his quota. To the extent that the quantities so set aside out of both first and second preference grades do not fill his quota, the canner shall set aside sufficient of his production of the third preference grade, if any, specified in Column G to complete his quota. To the extent possible and insofar as compliance with the above grade requirements permits, at least two-thirds of the quota, but preferably the entire quota, shall be set aside in the largest can size specified in Column D. The balance shall be reserved in the next largest can sizes available in the order of preference specified in Column D.

Any canner who is required to set aside canned goods pursuant to this order shall provide himself with the necessary materials to pack such canned goods in export boxes which may be nailed wooden boxes, weatherproof solid fiber boxes, or wirebound wood boxes, at his option according to specifications attached hereto, except that nailed wooden boxes and weatherproof solid fiber boxes shall not be wired or strapped except as specifically directed by the purchaser.

(c) If any canned foods set aside for the requirements of government agencies have not been purchased within sixty days after the mailing or filing of the report prescribed in paragraph (c)(2) of Food Distribution Order No. 22, or such other time as the Director may fix, the canner may notify the Director in writing, that if such canned foods are not purchased within sixty days he will no longer hold such foods set aside. If any of such canned food is not purchased within sixty days after the mailing or filing of such notice, and if no further order is issued with respect to it, it shall be deemed released and shall be available for unrestricted sale and distribution.

(d) The report prescribed by paragraph (c)(2) of Food Distribution Order No. 22, shall be given on Form PD–343, Seasonal Pack Report. In the case of products listed in Tables II and III, of which the seasonal pack is completed in 1943, the report shall be filed within fifteen days of the completion thereof and shall not be limited to the year 1942 as indicated in the caption of said Form PD–343.

(e) Effective date. This order shall be effective as of the date of its issuance.

(E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179; Food Distribution Order 22)

Issued this 19th day of February 1943.

[SEAL] ROY F. HENDRICKSON
Director of Food Distribution.

SPECIFICATIONS FOR BOXES

1 Weatherproof solid fiber boxes. Weatherproof solid fiber boxes must be of one piece regular slotted construction, metal stitched body joint; construction in accordance with the following table:

Total weight (exclusive of box)	Minimum thickness of board (inch)	Minimum bursting strength (pounds)
Not exceeding 42 lbs	0.090	325
Over 42 lbs., but not exceeding 75 lbs	.100	375

Boards shall further comply with the following waterproofing tests: Specimens 6" x 10", cut from unscored sections of boxes, shall be completely immersed in water for one hour, after which the component plies must not separate beyond 2" from the edges of the piece; after total immersion for 2½ hours similar samples must test not less than 50% of the originally specified bursting strength, and must weigh not more than 150% of the weight before immersion.

Bottom flaps shall be metal stitched, to the extent the canner's facilities permit, otherwise bottom flaps shall be securely sealed by gluing over all areas in contact; top flaps shall be sealed by gluing over all areas in contact. The sealed boxes shall be reinforced by two flat or round steel straps each having a joint or knot breaking strength of not less than 290 lbs., applied at right angles (over sides, top, and bottom, and over ends, top, and bottom), toward centers of respective panels, but over points of contact of cans with wall of box. Box-maker shall print or clearly mark by knurled impressions which do not impair the strength of the board, approximately ⅜" wide, to indicate the position of the strapping, and shall print a guarantee of compliance with this specification.

2. Wirebound wood boxes. Shall comply with Federal Specification NN–B–631a, except as follows: Styles 1, 2, or 3 boxes, or boxes with twisted loop closures, may be used. Veneer or sawed boards, of the following thicknesses, shall be used:

Total weight (exclusive of box)	Minimum finished thickness of ends		Minimum finished thickness of sides, tops, and bottoms
	Group I or II woods (inch)	Group III or IV woods (inch)	Group I or II woods (inch)	Group III or IV woods (inch)
Not exceeding 55 lbs	5/8	9/16	9/32	1/4
Over 55 lbs., but not exceeding 75 lbs	3/4	11/16	11/32	5/16
Over 75 lbs. but not exceeding 100 lbs	3/4	13/16	13/32	5/16

Each side, top and bottom shall be nailed to each end piece with not less than four six-penny cement coated box nails for Groups I and II woods, or four five-penny cement coated box nails for Groups III and IV woods, spaced not more than three inches apart.

Boxes shall be sized to allow approximately one-eighth inch over exact length, width and height of contents.

Total weight (exclusive of box)	Minimum finished thickness of sides, top, bottom, ends, and liners
	Group I woods (see note 1) (inch)	Group II and group III woods (inch)	Group IV woods (inch)
Not exceeding 55 lbs	7/16	1	1
Over 55 lbs., but not exceeding 85 lbs	1/2	1	1
Over 85 lbs., but not exceeding 125 lbs	5/16	1	1

NOTE 1: The following species of Group I may be of the same thickness permitted for Group II or III woods for sides, top, bottom, end and liners only: Cottonwood, Cypress, Magnolia, Noble Fir and Spruce.

Cleats shall not be less than 13/16" x 13/16" and shall be made of Group II, III or IV woods.

Binding wires shall be not less than No. 15 gauge (.072" diameter). Girth wires shall be spaced not more than 6" apart. End wires on Style No. 3 boxes shall be spaced not more than 6" from cleats or from each other.

Style No. 3 boxes shall have 2 edge liners not less than 1⅛" wide attached to each end perpendicular to (across) the grain of the end boards.

Boxes shall be printed with the name and address of the manufacturer and a guarantee of compliance with this specification.

3. Nailed wooden boxes. Boxes shall be made of new materials and of good commercial quality. All boxes shall be made of seasoned lumber having a moisture content not to exceed 18%. The pieces shall show no defects that materially weaken them, expose the contents of the box to damage or interfere with nailing. No knot or knot hole shall have a diameter exceeding one-third the width of the piece. Surfaces of box parts shall be sufficiently smooth to permit legible stenciling and shall not be splintery. Boxes for weights not exceeding 75 lbs. shall be Style 1, Federal Specification NN–B–621a. Boxes for weights exceeding 75 lbs. shall be Style 5 with triangular cleats for round or oval cans and Style 4 for square and oblong cans.

The nailed boxes shall be reinforced by two flat or round steel straps, each having a joint or knot breaking strength of not less than 290 lbs., applied over sides, top and bottom, approximately 1/6 the distance from each end of box.

PART 1425—CANNED AND PROCESSED FOODS

CANNED FRUIT AND FRUIT JUICES

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Food Distribution Order No. 22, dated February 19, 1943 issued under the authority of Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942 and to effectuate the purposes of those orders It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1425.2 Quota restrictions and allocations of canned fruit and fruit juices—(a) Definitions. When used in this order the terms as defined in Food Distribution Order 22 [1], shall have the same meaning unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent hereof.

(b) Quota restrictions. Every canner of canned fruits and fruit juices shall set aside to be delivered for the requirements of Government agencies, a quota of canned fruits and fruit juices packed by him at any time in the calendar year 1943 or, when specified, in 1942–43. The quota to be set aside from a canner's pack of any product listed in Column A of Table I, attached hereto, packed during the quota period for that product, shall be computed by applying the percentage in Column B against the canner's total pack in the base period, including his pack both in metal and glass containers. If the type, style, variety or grade of any such fruits and fruit juices is described in Table I, such quota shall be in the type, style, variety and grade described, but other types, styles, varieties or grades shall be substituted to the extent that those specified in Table I are not packed. If a canner is preparing to pack during the quota period any fruits or fruit juices, listed in Table I, which he did not pack during the base period, and for which unlimited tinplate is available under § 1068.1, Conservation Order M-81 [2], as amended [3], he shall so advise the Director of Food Distribution by letter, stating the anticipated quantities to be packed, and shall set aside a quota determined by applying the percentage set forth in Column B against the canner's total pack of the fruits or fruit juices in question during the quota period.

(c) Definition of quota period. With the exceptions hereinafter listed, the quota period is 1943. In case of grapefruit, grapefruit juice, orange juice, and orange juice and grapefruit juice blended, the quota period is August 1, 1942 to July 31, 1943, in Florida, Texas, and Arizona, and December 1, 1942 to November 30, 1943, in California.

(d) Definition of base period. The base period is in all cases the corresponding twelve-month period one year prior to the quota period.

(e) Applicability of order. Fruits and fruit juices not listed in Table I are not required to be set aside. Fruits and fruit juices packed in the Hawaiian Islands must be set aside as prescribed by this order, but this order does not apply to fruits and fruit juices packed in other territories and possessions of the United States.

(f) Provisions applicable when whole pack not set aside for Government. The following provisions apply whenever any product may be packed for nongovernmental requirements as well as for governmental requirements: To the extent that the canner's production of the first preference grade of such fruits and fruit juices specified in Column D is sufficient, at least two-thirds of the quota, but preferably the entire quota, shall be set aside from such grade. To the extent that the quantity so set aside does not fill his quota, the canner shall set aside sufficient of his production of the second preference grade, if any, specified in Column E to complete his quota. To the extent that the quantities so set aside out of both first and second preference grades do not fill his quota, the canner shall set aside sufficient of his production of the third preference grade, if any, specified in Column F to complete his quota. If a canner packs both in tinplate and glass, insofar as the above grade standards permit the quota shall be set aside from the part packed in tinplate, and from the part packed in glass only when the park packed in tinplate is insufficient.

To the extent possible and insofar as compliance with the above grade requirements permits, at least two-thirds of the quota, but preferably the entire quota, shall be set aside in the largest can size specified in Column G. The balance shall be reserved in the largest can sizes available in the order of preference specified in Column G.

(g) Reports. The report prescribed by paragraph (c) (2) of Food Distribution Order No. 22, shall be given on Form PD-343, revised. The report shall be filed within fifteen days of the completion of the pack.

(h) Purchase, inspection and specifications. Until further notice, the Army of the United States is hereby allocated the quotas prescribed by this order, to purchase for its own account and the account of other government agencies named in paragraph (b) (3) of Food Distribution Order No. 22, whenever it has agreed with such other agencies to do so. The Army of the United States and the Food Distribution Administration in the Department of Agriculture are also authorized to inspect and grade such canned foods pursuant to paragraph (d) of Food Distribution Order No. 22. The Army of the United States is also authorized to issue specifications at any time as to processing, packing, containers, container treatment, can marking, labeling, boxing, and strapping of such canned foods pursuant to paragraph (b) (5) of Food Distribution Order No. 22.

(i) Effective date. This order shall be effective as of the date of its issuance.

(E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179; Food Distribution Order 22)

Issued this 19th day of February 1943.

PART 1465—FISH

RESTRICTIONS ON THE SALE OF SPECIFIED CANNED FISH

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9280, dated December 5, 1942, and to insure an adequate supply and efficient distribution of canned fish of the 1942 pack to meet war and civilian needs, It is hereby ordered, As follows:

§ 1465.11 1942 pack of canned fish, allocation and restrictions on sales—(a) Definitions. When used in this order unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof:

(1) "Canner" means any person, partnership, association, business trust, corporation or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not, engaged in the business of canning fish in hermetically sealed metal or glass containers and sterilizing the same by the use of heat.

(2) "Pack" means the total amount, by net weight, of all grades of fish enumerated in Groups 1 to 4 in paragraph (b) (1), packed by any canner from March 1, 1942 to February 28, 1943.

(3) "Government agency" means any officer, board, agency, commission, or government-owned or government-controlled corporation of the United States specifically designated by the Director.

(4) "Delivery to Government agencies" means the transfer of title of the canned fish to the Food Distribution Administration or any Government agency designated by the Director. Such delivery may be evidenced by execution of bill of lading or receipt acceptable to the Director or designated agency.

(5) "Director" means the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture or any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture designated by the Director.

(b) Restrictions on canners. (1) Notwithstanding any previous notice of release by any Government agency, no canner after February 19, 1943, may sell for delivery any part of his pack of the following fish packed by him at any time from March 1, 1942 to February 28, 1943, except as permitted by this order:

Group 1 Salmon: Red, sockeye, or blueback (Oncorhynchus nerka); Pink (Oncorhynchus gorbuscha); Silver, silverside, medium red, or coho (Oncorhynchus kisutch); Chum or keta (Oncorhynchus keta); King, chinook or spring (Oncorhynchus tschawytscha; Steelhead, or steelhead trout (Salmo irideus and S. Clarki, sometimes called S. Gairdneri).

Group 2 Pilchard. (Sardinia caerulea) by whatever name known, including sardines.

Group 3 Sea herring. Atlantic (Clupea harengus), by whatever name known, including sardines.

Group 4 Mackerel: Atlantic (Scomber scombrus); Pacific (Pneumatorphorus japonicus diego).

(2) Each canner may deliver, to any agency or agencies of the United States Government, specifically designated by the Director, any part or all of the canned fish listed in paragraph (b) (1), packed by him during the period specified in this order.

(3) 80% by net weight is hereby established as each canner's quota percentage for such sale to Government agencies of his pack of each species of Groups 2, 3, and 4, and 60% of his pack of each species of Group 1 of canned fish listed in paragraph (b) (1), packed during each quota period. The following quota periods are hereby established:

Period 1—March 1, 1942–January 31, 1943
Period 2—February 1943.

(4) The Food Distribution Administration within the Department of Agriculture is hereby allocated the quantities prescribed by this order, and authorized to purchase, for governmental requirements, those quantities and such other and further quantities as may be allocated to it from time to time. Said Food Distribution Administration is also authorized to inspect and grade such canned fish pursuant to paragraph (d) of this order.

(5) Any canner who has delivered to Government agencies his quota of his pack of any species of any Group of canned fish listed in paragraph (b) (1), packed during any quota period may deliver to persons other than Government agencies 20% of his pack of each species of Groups 2, 3, and 4, and 40% of his pack of each species of Group 1, packed during such quota period. The quantities permitted by this order to be delivered to other than Government agencies may be delivered by a canner in advance of delivery of his quota to Government agencies if so authorized by the Director: Provided, That the Director finds the canner is unable to deliver his quota for reasons beyond his control: And provided further, That he has obliged himself by contract to make deliveries of his quota when able: Provided further, That specific releases for delivery to other than Government agencies in excess of the percentages specified in this paragraph of any canner's pack of any species of any group listed in paragraph (b) (1), granted prior to February 19, 1943, by the Agricultural Marketing Administration, or the Food Distribution Administration, of the United States Department of Agriculture, or the Director General for Operations of the War Production Board and which subsequent to February 19, 1943, may be granted by the director, shall not be construed as being in violation of this order.

(6) Each canner shall mail to or file with the Food Distribution Administration, weekly within three days after the close of each calendar week on Form PD-495, "Canned Fish; Weekly Pack Report." A report on such form, shall be filed within fifteen days after the completion of each canner's seasonal pack, covering the entire amount of such pack.

(7) The Director may issue specifications at any time as to processing, packing, containers, container treatment, can marking, labeling, boxing, and strapping or he may authorize any Government agency to issue such specifications.

(c) Certificates relating to the cans covered by this order—(1) Certificates. Each canner who purchases any cans to pack fish for Government use pursuant to this Order—whether such purchase is by contract or on open account order—shall furnish, to the can manufacturer from whom he buys, a certificate, signed by an authorized official, in substantially the form attached hereto as "Exhibit A", which shall constitute certification to the Food Distribution Administration that such canner is familiar with the terms of this order (in its present form or as it may be amended from time to time) and that during the life of this order, he will not use any cans purchased from such can manufacturer in violation of its terms. Only one such certificate covering all present and future purchases from a given can manufacturer need be furnished by a canner to that can manufacturer but no can manufacturer shall be entitled to rely on any such certificate if he knows, or has reason to believe it to be false.

(d) Inspection and grading. Any canned fish required to be set aside under this order shall be subject to inspection and grading at any time by the Director or by any person or any Government agency specifically authorized by the Director.

(e) Records and reports. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, purchases, production and sales, and shall maintain such other records for such other periods of time, and shall execute and file such reports upon such forms and submit such information, as the Director may from time to time request or direct, and within such times as he may prescribe.

(f) Audits and inspections. Every person subject to this order shall, upon request, permit inspections, at all reasonable times, of his stocks of canned fish and premises used in his business, and all of his books, records and accounts shall upon request be submitted to audit and inspection, by the Director.

(g) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him may petition in writing (in triplicate) for relief to the Director, setting forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Director may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate and such action shall be final.

(h) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order or who by any act or omission falsifies records to be kept or information to be furnished pursuant to this order or willfully conceals a material fact concerning a matter within the jurisdiction of any Department or agency of the United States may be prohibited from receiving or making further deliveries of any material subject to allocation and such further action may be taken against him as the Director deems appropriate, including recommendations for prosecution under section 35a of the Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 80), under paragraph 5 of section 301 of Title III of the Second War Powers Act, and under any and all other applicable laws.

(i) Communications to Department of Agriculture. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Director of Food Distribution; United States Department of Agriculture; Washington, D. C. Ref: FD-23.

(j) Effective date of and termination. This order shall take effect on the date of issuance thereof, and, shall continue in effect until revoked.

(E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179)

Issued this 19th day of February 1943.

(2) • • •

(ii) (a) Witnesses attending in such courts, shall receive for each day's attendance and for the time necessarily occupied in going to and returning from the same, $2 (but see (b) below), and 5 cents per mile for going from his or her place of residence to the place of trial or hearing and 5 cents per mile for returning: Provided, That witnesses (other than witnesses who are salaried employees of the Government and detained witnesses) in the United States courts, who attend court at points so far removed from their respective residence as to prohibit return thereto from day to day, shall be entitled, in addition to the compensation provided by existing law, as modified by this Act, to a per diem of $3 for expenses of subsistence for each day of actual attendance and for each day necessarily occupied in traveling to attend court and return home. In cases in which the United States is a party, witnesses on behalf of the United States shall be entitled to the payments provided by this section.

(b) The Act of July 2, 1942 (56 Stat. 468) and other Department of Justice appropriation acts provided that no part of the sums therein appropriated shall be used to pay any witness more than one attendance fee for any one calendar day, which fee shall not exceed $1.50 except in the District of Alaska. (R.S. 161; 5 U.S.C. 22) [Par. 3*b*, AR 35-4120, March 18, 1942, as amended by C. 2, February 3, 1942]

PART 36—CLAIMS AGAINST THE UNITED STATES

APPREHENSION OF ABSENTEES

Sections 36.30 and 36.40 are amended and § 36.41 is rescinded as follows:

§ 36.30 Apprehension of absentees—(a) Military personnel. All military personnel are authorized and directed to arrest absentees, whatever may be the grade of the person making the arrest or of the person arrested.

(b) Civil personnel. Any civil officer or citizen may arrest, detain, and deliver an absentee when authorized by any commissioned officer of the Army. Such authority may be given by distributing W. D., A.G.O. Form No. 45, Descriptive List of Absentee Wanted by the United States Army, or in reply to an inquiry in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Inquiry from civil officer or citizen. Upon receipt of word by a post or organization commander from a civil officer or other citizen that such civilian intends to arrest or has arrested an alleged unauthorized absentee from his post or organization, the commander will ascertain such person's status and will promptly inform the inquirer concerning it by telephone, telegraph, or other expeditious means. If the person held is an absentee, the commander will direct the person holding him either to deliver him to or request a guard from the nearest military post, or hold him awaiting the arrival of a guard, and will inform such person of his right to payment for his services.

(d) Guards. W.D., A.G.O. Form No 45 directs the arresting officer to deliver an absentee to the nearest military post or hold him and inform the commanding officer of the nearest military post. Upon receipt of information that a civil officer or other civilian is holding an absentee the post commander will cause a guard to be sent for the absentee so that delivery will be accomplished as quickly as may be and in any event not later than 24 hours after receipt of the notification. If it is impracticable for the commander receiving the notification to provide a guard from his command he will make arrangements with a commander capable of providing a guard or will report the case to the commanding general of the service command.

(e) Service commands. Commanding generals of service commands will take steps to secure the active cooperation of all local boards and police forces, and such other officials and organizations as they may deem useful to insure that absentees are returned promptly to military control. (R.S. 161; 5 U.S.C. 22; 47 Stat. 1575; 10 U. S. C. 1431) [Par. 12, AR 615–300, January 30, 1943]

§ 36.40 Property of absentee. (a) When an enlisted man absents himself without leave, his company commander will cause the public property, including clothing, for which the absentee is responsible to be searched for and secured. His personal effects will be retained with his organization until he returns or until he is dropped from the rolls. In the latter case they will be disposed of as follows:

(1) Decorations, medals, discharges, and other military papers will be forwarded to The Adjutant General.

(2) Articles having material value will be disposed of by sale and the proceeds therefrom, together with any money left by the absentee, will be deposited with a disbursing officer, whose receipt will be taken and forwarded to The Adjutant General. The receipt will show the nature of the deposit.

(3) Articles having no salable value will be destroyed.

(b) In no case will the effects of an absentee, or any proceeds of the sale thereof, be turned over to his relatives, nor any payment made therefrom on any account, except with the approval of the War Department. (R.S. 161; 5 U.S.C.22) Par. 10, AR 615–300, January 30, 1943]

Chapter IX—Transport

PART 92—CHARTER AND REDELIVERY OF VESSELS

CHARTER OF VESSELS

Sections 92.1 to 92.13, inclusive are hereby amended as follows:

Sec.
92.1 Commercial vessels.
92.2 Charters.
92.3 Time charter.
92.4 Bare-boat charter.
92.5 Rental of vessels by the Government.

Sec.
92.6 Owners' obligation as to condition.
92.7 Survey.
92.8 Inventories.
92.9 Repairs.
92.10 Removal of equipment, etc.
92.11 Execution of charter.
92.12 Disposition of survey, inventory, etc.
92.13 Change of form of charter.

AUTHORITY: §§ 92.1 to 92.13, inclusive, issued under R. S. 161; 5 U.S.C. 22.

§ 92.1 Commercial vessels. Commercial vessels as necessary and available will be chartered by an agency of the Government created for that purpose and will be refitted for troop and cargo service in accordance with standard specifications, under the direction of the Chief of Transportation, and assigned to the several ports to supplement the owned service. [Par. 1]

§ 92.2 Charters. Privately owned vessels when requisitioned or chartered in the usual way by the Government for and on account of the Transportation Corps of the War Department will be taken over under the charter party on the prescribed form. [Par. 2]

§ 92.3 Time charter. Under this form of charter the owner or other Government agency maintains in seaworthy condition and operates the vessel for the War Department, furnishing at owner's or other Government agency's expense all tools, equipment, supplies, and services, and also employs, pays, and discharges the master, officers, and crew, and is charged with the upkeep of the vessel. [Par. 3]

§ 92.4 Bare-boat charter. Under this form of charter the United States takes over and operates the vessel, furnishing all provisions, fuel, and water; pays, hires, and discharges the master, officers, and crew, and is charged with the upkeep of the vessel. [Par. 4]

§ 92.5 Rental of vessels by the Government. Where the Government is in possession of a private vessel under rental agreement with the owners or other Government agency thereof during the time negotiations for its purchase by the Government are in progress, rent for the vessel is properly payable under the rental agreement until approval of purchase agreement by the proper Government official, but in absence of any specific agreement the Government is not required or obligated to pay rent for the vessel subsequent to approval of purchase agreement up to and including date of payment of purchase money. (See 26 Comp. Dec. 738) [Par. 6]

§ 92.6 Owners' obligation as to condition. Under either form of charter the vessel when accepted by the United States will be, or will forthwith be, made by and at the expense of the owner or other Government agency, tight, strong, and well and sufficiently tackled, appareled, furnished, and equipped, and in every respect seaworthy and in good running order and condition; fit for the service in which she has usually been employed. The following instructions must be carefully and thoroughly followed, as neglect in preparing and preserving a complete detailed record of the condition of the vessel at the time she is taken over, together with a complete detailed inventory, may cause great trouble and loss to the Government at the time of redelivery of the vessel to the owner, or other Government agency. [Par. 7]

§ 92.7 Survey. (a) Upon receiving orders to take over a vessel from a private owner, or other Government agency, the officer charged with this duty, hereinafter called chartering officer, will call upon the owner or other Government agency delivering to him a copy of the requisition order, and arrange with the owner or other Government agency to make a survey of the physical condition of the ship and its machinery. The chartering officer will require the superintending engineer of the Army Transport Service at the nearest port to detail one or more marine experts experienced in the hull and deck departments of ocean-going steam vessels and one or more marine experts, holding license as chief engineer of ocean-going steam vessels and experienced in the operation, repair, and maintenance of the steam-engine department of ocean-going steam vessels, who in conjunction with the chartering officer and the owner or his representative will make a full, complete, and detailed survey of the physical condition of the ship, its equipment, and machinery. This survey will specify the condition of each element and unit in the ship, whether excellent, good, fair, or poor, and if any element or unit be found other than excellent will specify in detail in what respect the condition is other than excellent, for example, if the bearing of crank shaft of main engine were found to have been burned out and the metal run, it would not be sufficient to show the main crank shaft as being "poor" but it would be required to have survey show in what respect it was "poor" by specifying the exact condition in detail. Such survey involves the opening up for inspection of all engines, machinery, and auxiliaries for examination, and the testing by operation of all machinery and appliances. The vessel must also be drydocked for survey, and report made on underwater parts including measurement of extent to which tail shaft is down, condition of paint on bottom, and any plates set up or indented, any seams or rivets leaking, and any bilge keels broken, bent, or loose.

(b) This survey will be certified as correct as to the date taken, both by the chartering officer, the superintending engineer or his assistant, and the owner or his representative or other Government agency. In the event the owner or other Government agency does not agree as to any item or items of the survey, or refuses to sign such survey, a detailed statement as to disputed items, signed by the owner or his representative, should be obtained. If the owner or other Government agency refuses or neglects to make such statement, a detailed report as to items not agreed upon will be appended to the report of survey.

(c) Embodied in the report of survey will be a brief statement of the history of the vessel including its name, type, dead-weight tonnage, gross tonnage, passenger capacity; speed in knots per hour; consumption of coal or oil per 24 hours; the service in which the vessel has been engaged; a statement of accidents, groundings, collisions, etc., within the past year; when last drydocked; when last painted from truck to water line; when bottom last scaled and painted; when water tanks last scaled, cleaned, cement washed, and tested for tightness; when tail shafts last drawn; and a copy of United States inspection certificate, copy of hull board report on last drydocking, and copy of classification certificate and when classification expires appended. If the ship has no classification, that fact will be certified by owners.

(d) The report of survey will be accomplished in accordance with a model form to be furnished by the Chief of Transportation. [Par. 8]

§ 92.8 Inventories. The port steward and transportation purveyor will, in company with the chartering officer, make a complete inventory of the consumable stores, provisions, coal, oil, and water, as well as all furnishings, spares, tools, and supplies on the vessel. This inventory will be checked with the inventory furnished by the owner or other Government agency under terms of the charter and, in case it does not agree in all respects with the owner's or other Government agency's inventory, the owner's or other Government agency's attention will be called to any discrepancies, and if not corrected a full and detailed report of the items of difference should be made. [Par. 2]

§ 92.9 Repairs. As it is the duty of the owner or other Government agency, as hereinbefore stated, to deliver the vessel to the Government in every respect seaworthy and in good running order and condition, immediately upon the completion of the survey the owner or other Government agency will be notified in writing to accomplish forthwith such repairs as may be necessary to make the vessel seaworthy and place her in good and efficient running order. This notice will contain a detailed statement of the work demanded by the Government and be prepared by the superintending engineer and signed by him as well as by the chartering officer. In the event that the owner or other Government agency does not at once comply with the notice to make the vessel seaworthy and place her in good and efficient running order, or in the event the Government deems it expedient to itself accomplish the repairs necessary to put the vessel in good running order and condition or to make her seaworthy, such work will be directed by the chartering officer to be done under the supervision of the superintending engineer, and charged to the owner or other Government agency, the charges being deducted from the charter hire. An accurate account of the cost of such repairs will be kept. [Par. 10]

§ 92.10 Removal of equipment, etc. In the event the Government removes from the vessel any of its furnishings, equipment, appliances, furniture, machinery, or installations, the superintending engineer will cause all such articles to be carefully boxed or crated and properly labeled with name of ship and list of contents; and same to be stored in a safe place for preservation against the time of redelivery of vessel to owner, or other Government agency. The superintending engineer will cause lists to be made in quadruplicate, showing all removals and giving the contents of each box or crate with place where stored; one copy of which will be delivered to the Chief of Transportation, one copy to owner of vessel, or other Government agency, one copy placed with the ship's papers, and one copy filed with the officer in command at the port where the removals are made. [Par. 11]

§ 92.11 Execution of charter. (a) The chartering officer will have the charter executed by the owner or other Government agency and by himself for the United States in triplicate, one copy for the General Accounting Office, Military Division, one copy for the Chief of Transportation, and one copy for the contractor on the ship.

(b) In determining the amount to be inserted in paragraph 14, time form, and paragraph 9, bare-boat form, the owner or other Government agency will be warned and cautioned against stating a false or fictitious value for his vessel; but will state true value of the vessel considering its age, history, and present condition. [Par. 12]

§ 92.12 Disposition of survey, inventory, etc. The original and three copies of the survey, inventory, and reports connected therewith will be retained by or forwarded to the officer in charge of the designated home port, who will send one copy of each to the Chief of Transportation, one copy to the owner or other Government agency or the vessel, and one copy will be placed with the ship's papers. [Par.13]

§ 92.13. Change of form of charter. In the event a boat has been under time charter and she is to be taken over on bare-boat form, all the steps heretofore outlined by way of survey, inventory, etc., will be performed as if the boat were coming into Government service for the first time with no previous Government service. [Par. 14]

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter VI—Selective Service System

[Amendment 129 2d Ed.]

PART 603—SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICERS

MEDICAL ADVISORY BOARDS

By virtue of the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 (54 Stat. 885, 50 U.S.C., Sup. 301-318, inclusive); E. O. No. 8545, 5 F.R. 3779, E.O. No. 9279, 7 F.R. 10177, and the authority vested in me by the Chairman of the War Manpower Commission in Administrative Order No. 26, 7 F.R. 10512, Selective Service Regulations, Second Edition, are hereby amended in the following respect:

1. Amend section 603.31 to read as follows:

§ 603.31 Composition, appointment, and duties. (a) In each State, medical advisory boards shall be appointed by the Governor. The boards shall, if practicable, consist of internists; eye, ear, nose, and throat specialists; orthopedists; surgeons, psychiatrists; clinical pathologists; radiographers; and dentists. In the event that a complete medical advisory board cannot be made available in any area, the Governor may appoint one or more individual specialists to act as a medical advisory board.

(b) Upon proper request, the medical advisory board shall examine and submit a report on the physical and mental fitness for service of a registrant who has been rejected for or separated from either military service or work of national importance under civilian direction. Upon request of the Director of Selective Service, the medical advisory board shall examine and submit a report on the physical and mental fitness of any assignee who is performing work of national importance and, if requested, shall recommend for or against the discharge of such assignee based upon his physical or mental condition.

2. The foregoing amendment to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-245]

MANDAN ELECTRIC SUPPLY CO.

John Iverson, doing business as Mandan Electric Supply Company, Mandan, North Dakota, is a warehouse as defined in General Preference Order M-9-a. From February 6, 1942, to June 9, 1942, the Company sold a substantial quantity of copper wire on orders which did not bear any preference ratings. During this period the Company was aware of the restrictions contained in General Preference Order M-9-a and its sales constituted wilful violations of that order which have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.245 Suspension Order No. S-245. (a) John Iverson, doing business as Mandan Electric Supply Company, his successors and assigns, shall not accept delivery of, sell, transfer, deliver, or otherwise deal in any copper or copper base alloy wire, except with the written approval of the Regional Compliance Chief, Chicago Regional Office, War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve John Iverson, doing business as Mandan Electric Supply Company, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on February 24, 1943, and shall expire on May 24, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 19th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 932—CORK AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH CORK IS A COMPONENT

[General Preference Order M-8-a as Amended Feb. 20, 1943]

Section 932.2 General Preference Order M-8-a is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 932.2 General Preference Order M-8-a—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Cork" means unmanufactured cork in all forms, including corkwood, bark, waste, by-product, shavings, curlings, and refugo.

(2) "Supplier" means any person in the United States who engages in the importation, sale, manufacture, or processing of cork or in the importation of manufactured cork in finished or semi-finished form.

(b) Reserve established. On and after October 1, 1941, each supplier is hereby directed to set aside his entire stock of cork and all finished and semi-finished products and materials of which cork is a component, as a reserve, for the fulfillment of present and future defense orders and such other orders and uses as may be authorized or directed from time to time by the Director General for Operations. No deliveries or withdrawals shall be made from this reserve, either for customers of such supplier or for purposes of manufacture or processing by such supplier, except pursuant to specific directions heretofore or hereafter issued by the Director General for Operations. Not later than November 1 for the month of November, 1941, and thereafter from time to time, the Director General for Operations will issue to each supplier specific directions covering deliveries by such supplier of cork and products and materials of which cork is a component which may be made by such supplier to his customers during any specified period, and further directing the kinds and quantities of cork products and materials of which cork is a component which may be manufactured by such supplier and the kinds and quantities of cork which may be used or processed by such supplier in the manufacture of such products and materials. The use, process to final product, and deliveries by such suppliers shall be made as directed in such allocation schedules. The Director General for Operations may also at any time limit or direct the uses which any person may or not make of cork products and materials of which cork is a component, and require any person seeking to place a purchase order for cork or products or materials of which cork is a component to place such order with one or more particular suppliers.

(c) Special limitations—(1) Cork discs. Notwithstanding any general authorization for the processing or delivery of cork discs for beverage crowns granted in any allocation schedule:

(i) No person not regularly engaged in the business of manufacturing and selling crowns with cork discs shall purchase or receive cork discs not in crown shells if his inventory, plus the amount to be acquired, is in excess of the number of cork discs not in crown shells he can and will insert or have inserted in crown shells during the 30-day period succeeding the date of proposed acquisition; and

(ii) No person shall sell or deliver cork discs not in crown shells to any person, other than one regularly engaged in the business of manufacturing and selling crowns with cork discs, unless the purchaser shall execute in duplicate Form PD-711, and deliver one copy to the seller with the purchase order. The seller shall retain such copy in his files for a period of 2 years.

(d) Reports. Each supplier shall execute and file with the War Production Board the following reports at the times specified:

(1) Form PD-29, on or before the 10th day of each month.

(2) Form PD-31, on or before the 10th day of each month.

(3) Form PD-32, on the 3d, 13th, and 23d days of each month.

(4) Such other forms at such times as may be specified from time to time.

All other persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as the Board shall from time to time request.

(e) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(2) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Cork, Asbestos and Fibrous Glass Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M-8-a.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 20th day of February, 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

[F R Doc. 43 2805; Filed February 20, 1943; 11 40 a. m.]

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Regulation 11, as Amended Feb 20, 1943]

PRODUCTION REQUIREMENTS PLAN

§ 944.32 Priorities Regulation No. 11—(a) Purpose. It is the purpose of this regulation to provide for the integration of the system of distributing scarce materials in the interest of the war and the maintenance of the essential civilian economy by requiring principal industrial users of scarce materials to qualify under the production requirements plan and to obtain preference rating assistance primarily under that plan.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this regulation:

(1) "person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly or product of any kind.

(3) "PRP application" means an application for priority assistance under the production requirements plan on Form PD-25A or any other prescribed form.

(4) "PRP certificate" means the copy of a PRP application which has been returned to the applicant by the Director General for Operations with an assignment of preference ratings or other priority action endorsed thereon, and includes any supplementary or advance quarter ("bob-tail") certificate which may be issued from time to time.

(5) "PRP unit" means any person who is qualified under the production requirements plan by the issuance to such person of a PRP certificate. In case the certificate is issued to a branch, plant, department, or other division of a corporation or business, "PRP unit" refers only to the portion of the business to which the certificate is issued.

(6) "Production material" means material (including fabricated parts and subassemblies) which will be delivered by a PRP unit as its product, or will be physically incorporated into such product, and includes the portion of such material normally consumed or converted into scrap or by-products in the course of processing. It does not include any supplies or manufacturing equipment.

(7) "Supplies" means maintenance and repair materials and operating supplies. It also includes minor items of productive capital equipment (such as jigs and fixtures, dies and die blocks, portable pneumatic or portable electric tools, material required for minor relocation of plant machinery and equipment) and such items as hand tools, customarily purchased by the particular employer for sale to his employees for use only in his business, in those cases where they would constitute operating supplies under established accounting practice if issued to employees without charge. It does not include any of the following regardless of whether normally carried as operating supplies according to established accounting practice:

(i) Fabricated containers (in knockdown or set-up forms, whether assembled or unassembled), required for packaging products to be shipped or delivered.

(ii) Printed matter and stationery.

(iii) Paper, paperboard and products manufactured therefrom; molded pulp products.

(iv) Fuel or electric power.

(v) Office machinery or office equipment (whether purchased or leased).

(vi) Clothing, shoes or other wearing apparel, if made of leather or textiles, except that the following types may be included in operating supplies when specifically designed and used to furnish protection against specific occupational hazards (other than weather):

(b) Safety clothing impregnated or coated for the purpose of making the same resistant against fire, acids, other chemicals or abrasives.

(c) Safety industrial rubber gloves and hoods and lineman's rubber gloves and sleeves.

(d) Gauntlet type welders' leather gloves and mittens, and electricians' leather protector or cover gloves.

(e) Other safety leather gloves or mittens, but only if stitched or steel reinforced.

(f) Safety industrial leather clothing other than gloves or mittens.

(g) Metal mesh gloves, aprons and sleeves.

(h) Plastic and fibre safety helmets.

(vii) Production material.

(viii) Materials for plant expansion or plant construction:

Provided, That this paragraph shall not prevent the acceptance by a PRP Unit of deliveries of "supplies" as defined in this regulation prior to February 23, 1943, pursuant to preference ratings properly applied prior to said date.

(8) "Listed material" means, with respect to any quarter, any material listed and given an item number on the Materials List No. 1, Revised, appearing on the form of PRP application for that quarter or required to be separately listed by supplementary instructions from the War Production Board.

(9) "Listed fabricated item" means, with respect to any quarter, any part, assembly or other item listed and given an item number on the Fabricated Items List No. 2 appearing on the form of PRP applications for that quarter. The first quarter for which such a list will be in effect will be the first quarter of 1943. "Listed fabricated item" also includes any item required to be listed separately by supplementary instructions from the War Production Board.

(10) "Class I producer" means any person (or any branch, plant, department, or other division of a corporation or business which operates as a separate entity and maintains a separate inventory) whose receipts or withdrawals from inventory during the most recent calendar quarter, or whose anticipated receipts or withdrawals from inventory during the current or next succeeding calendar quarter, of metals in the forms included on the attached metals list aggregate five thousand dollars or more in value, except:

(i) Any agency of the United States of any foreign government, of any state or territory, or of any subdivision thereof except when and to the extent that any such agency is engaged in the manufacture of commodities or other materials or the furnishing of repair facilities (such as Navy yards, arsenals, prison factories, etc.);

(ii) Any person to the extent that he is engaged in the business of:

(a) Transportation by any means;

(b) Furnishing of heat, light, power, electricity, gas or water to others;

(c) Quarrying;

(d) Production, refining, transportation, distribution or marketing of petroleum or associated hydrocarbons;

(e) Communications;

(f) Sewerage or drainage;

(g) The sale of material which he has not manufactured, processed, fabricated, assembled, or otherwise physically changed, including sales as a distributor, wholesaler, retailer, warehouse, industrial or mill supply house or scrap dealer;

(h) Construction at the site, of buildings, structures, or projects; and

(iii) Any producer located in Alaska, Panama Canal Zone, or in any territory or possession of the United States outside of the continental United States.

(11) "Assignment" of a preference rating means the granting to any person, by order or certificate issued by or under authority of the Director General for Operations, of the right to use such rating.

(12) "Application" of a preference rating means the use of the rating by the person to whom it is initially assigned by or under the authority of the Director General for Operations, and includes the initial issuance by any governmental agency, under authority of the Director General for Operations, of a preference rating certificate rating a delivery to be made directly to such agency.

(13) "Extension" of a preference rating means the use of the rating by any person to whom it is applied or extended by another person.

(c) Every Class I producer shall file a PRP application for the first quarter of 1943, except that no application shall be required of any person who becomes a Class I producer after December 31, 1942. Applications for the first quarter of 1943 shall be filed not later than October 25, 1942, or in the case of a person who was not a Class I producer as of October 15, 1942, as promptly after October 25, 1942, as possible. No person is required to file a PRP application for the second quarter of 1943 or for any subsequent quarter except as specifically directed by the Director General for Operations. The Director General for Operations may specifically require other persons to file such applications from time to time, and may also exempt particular Class I producers from the requirements of this paragraph or extend or advance their time for filing PRP applications. Any other processors of materials desiring priority assistance on a quarterly basis may also, with the consent of the Director General for Operations, qualify under the Production Requirements Plan, although not required to do so by this regulation.

(d) Restrictions on application and extension of ratings by PRP units. No PRP unit shall apply or extend any rating to the delivery of any material during any quarter other than the ratings authorized on its PRP certificates for that quarter; and the deliveries to which such ratings are so applied shall be limited in amount as specified on such certificates, with the following exceptions:

(1) A PRP unit may apply ratings specifically assigned to it for acquisition of items of capital equipment or materials for authorized plant expansion or plant construction.

(2) A PRP unit may apply to deliveries of material during the second quarter of 1943 and thereafter, the ratings assigned or permitted in Priorities Regulation No. 11A.

(3) In addition a PRP unit which receives a rated purchase order requiring the processing by another person of material owned and supplied by the PRP unit may extend the rating, for processing only and not for acquisition of material, to the person who is to do such processing for it.

(4) [Revoked January 30, 1943]

(5) In case preference rating assistance for a material is denied on the PRP certificate on the express ground that such assistance is unnecessary or that ratings for such material are not currently being assigned on PRP certificates, the provisions of this paragraph (d) shall not apply to such material.

(6) A PRP Unit may extend an AAA rating it receives, where necessary to obtain material which it will deliver or which will be physically incorporated into material which it will deliver on the AAA rating, subject to the following restrictions:

(i) The AAA rating may not be extended for quantities of material in excess of those required to be delivered by it or to be physically incorporated into materials to be delivered by it on the AAA rating;

(ii) The rating may not be extended to obtain any material to the extent that it has such material on hand which it would be required to divert for the purpose of supplying the material to be delivered on the AAA rating in accordance with the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1;

(iii) The rating may not be extended to replace inventory;

(iv) The quantity of any material obtained with the assistance of the AAA rating must, to the extent possible, be deducted from any quantity of such material authorized for receipt on its PRP certificates and not yet received; and

(v) In case it is necessary to extend the rating for materials other than those, or in excess of the quantities, authorized on its PRP certificates, a PD-25F form must be filed within three days after such extension reporting the excess quantity or the other materials to which the AAA rating was extended.

(e) Restrictions on receipt of listed materials and fabricated items. No PRP unit shall in any quarter accept deliveries (whether rated, unrated or allocated) of any listed material or any listed fabricated item, whether as production material, supplies or for any other use, in excess of the amounts specifically rated or otherwise authorized on its PRP certificates for such quarter, plus any balance of such materials or items authorized by its PRP certificates for delivery in the previous quarter which is in transit to the PRP unit at the end of the previous quarter or within three days thereafter, with the following exceptions:

(1) A PRP unit may accept deliveries of any balance of listed fabricated items specifically rated or otherwise authorized for the preceding quarter but not yet received.

(2) A PRP unit may in addition, subject to the applicable regulations and orders of the War Production Board, accept delivery of any such materials and items which consist of items of capital equipment or material for authorized plant expansion or plant construction.

(3) Any PRP unit which has applied ratings under the interim procedure specified in paragraph (i) of this regulation based on a particular PRP application may, until receipt of that particular PRP certificate, accept deliveries of the quantities of the materials to which it is authorized to apply ratings under the interim procedure. After receipt of such PRP certificate it may accept deliveries of listed materials and listed fabricated items in excess of the quantities authorized on such certificate only if the same were in transit to the PRP unit at the time its supplier received notice of postponement or cancellation of delivery pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (j) of this regulation and even then may not accept delivery of such materials or items unless shipment was made within ten days (including Sundays) after receipt by the PRP unit of the PRP certificate which necessitated such postponement or cancellation.

(4) A PRP unit may accept delivery of material to which it extends an AAA rating in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) (6) of this regulation.

(5) A PRP unit may accept delivery of listed materials or listed fabricated items in excess of the quantities authorized on its PRP certificates, to the extent that cancellation or postponement of such delivery is waived by the provisions of paragraph (j) (3) of this regulation.

(6) A PRP unit may, during the second quarter of 1943 and thereafter, accept delivery of listed materials or listed fabricated items to the extent permitted by Priorities Regulation No. 11A.

(f) Restrictions on use of material. Each PRP unit shall also comply with any additional restrictions which may be contained in its PRP certificate, including (without limitation) restrictions on the amount of material to be put into production, the use of any material, apportionment of quantities of material between different products, or on the sale of or delivery of specified products.

(g) Prohibition against placing duplicate orders. No PRP unit shall duplicate, in whole or in part, purchase orders which it has placed with one or more suppliers for delivery of any material (whether rated, unrated, or allocated) in such manner that the amount of such material ordered exceeds the amount actually required for delivery (not exceeding the amount authorized), even though the PRP unit intends to cancel or reduce its purchase orders prior to completion of delivery, to the amount of actual requirements as rated or otherwise authorized on its PRP certificate.

(h) Scheduling of deliveries. Each PRP unit shall, so far as practicable, place its purchase orders for the production material and supplies rated or otherwise authorized on its PRP certificate so as to call for substantially equal deliveries during each of the three months of the quarter, and shall in no event, unless absolutely necessary to maintain its delivery schedule or to obtain the minimum quantities practicably procurable, order for delivery during the first month of the quarter more than 40%, or during the first two months of the quarter more than 80%, of the total quantity of any production material authorized for delivery during the quarter.

(i) Interim procedure. During the interim between filing a PRP application for a particular quarter and receipt of the PRP certificate for such quarter a person may apply or extend preference ratings for delivery during such quarter, and, in case he shall have submitted advance quarter applications, may on or before February 2, 1943, but not thereafter, apply or extend preference ratings for delivery during only the first advance quarter, as follows:

(1) If he has been operating under the Production Requirements plan, he may apply the same preference ratings he was authorized to apply by his PRP certificates for the preceding quarter, to orders calling for delivery of not more than 40% during the first month of the quarter and 70% during the entire quarter, of the quantities of the materials indicated as his anticipated requirements on his PD-25A and on any PD-25F application for the quarter, submitted prior to receipt by him of the first PRP certificate received by him for the quarter.

(2) If he has not been operating under the Production Requirements Plan, he may continue to apply and extend ratings under any applicable preference rating orders or preference rating certificates in the same manner as permitted prior to the beginning of the particular quarter; and, notwithstanding the termination of any preference rating order on or after the end of the preceding quarter, the same shall be deemed to continue in effect as to any such person until he receives his PRP certificate: Provided, however, That he shall not apply or extend ratings to the delivery in the particular quarter of any material in an aggregate quantity greater than 40% during the first month of the quarter, nor greater than 70% during the entire quarter, of the amount of such material which he has indicated as his anticipated requirements on his PRP application for the quarter, subject to any further restrictions contained in the preference rating certificates or orders assigning the ratings which he is applying or extending.

(3) After a person has received an advance quarter authorization, he may not thereafter apply ratings under the interim procedure to deliveries in that advance quarter of any materials included in the authorization for that quarter, until he files a complete PD–25A application for such quarter, but must use only the ratings authorized on advance quarter authorizations for such materials in that quarter. Upon the filing of a complete PD–25A application for a quarter a PRP unit may then rate purchase orders in accordance with the interim procedure even if this permits rating quantities in excess of those authorized by a previous advance quarter authorization for that quarter.

(4) A person who applies or extends any preference rating pursuant to this paragraph (i) shall deduct the amount of any material which he has received or to which he has applied or extended such rating from the amount rated or otherwise authorized by his corresponding PRP certificate (on Form PD–25A or PD–25F, as the case may be) when issued to him.

(j) Rerating on receipt of PRP certificates. (1) Each PRP unit, not later than the seventh day (including Sundays) after the receipt of any PRP certificate for a quarter, shall adjust its outstanding purchase orders so that they shall not exceed, either in quantities or in grades of preference rating, those authorized for the quarter and for any advance quarters covered by the PRP certificates in accordance with the provisions of this regulation; but this provision shall not require the adjustment of orders duly placed under paragraph (i) of this regulation for materials covered by a PD–25F application filed before receipt of a PD–25A certificate, until the return of such PD–25F certificate.

(2) This adjustment may be made by cancellation, postponement of deliveries, or by rerating. To the extent that authorized ratings are higher than those already applied to outstanding orders, rating adjustment shall be optional, and, with respect to any material, the balance of any authorized rating not used may be added to the authorized amount of any lower authorized rating.

(3) No person shall be required by the provisions of this paragraph (j), however, to cancel any order or portion thereof calling for delivery during the first twenty-one days of November 1942 or during the first twenty-one days of January 1943, of any listed material, if the producer thereof certifies in writing to such person (i) that substitution of other orders, or diversion of the material to fill other orders, (even if such other orders call for later delivery or carry a lower rating) is impossible, and (ii) that the production of such material has been completed or that cancellation would disrupt the producer's production schedules and result in substantially diminished production. Nothing herein contained, however, shall relieve a PRP unit from the obligation of cancelling or postponing delivery under other orders calling for delivery of similar material during the quarter, as to which no certification is received, to the extent necessary to bring the total receipts of such material during the quarter within the quantities authorized on its PRP certificates.

(k) Restrictions on Class I producers who have not filed PRP applications. Any Class I producer who has not filed his PRP application by the time required by this regulation or by any specific direction of the Director General for Operations may not extend or apply any rating, other than AAA ratings, until he has mailed or personally submitted his PRP application to the War Production Board: Provided, however, That these restrictions do not apply to ratings specifically assigned to a Class I producer for the purpose of acquisition of items of capital equipment, or materials for authorized plant expansion or plant construction.

(l) Effect on existing orders and certificates. (1) The provisions of this regulation do not terminate any other existing order or certificate granting preference rating assistance, but limit and prohibit the use of such orders or certificates by specified persons in the manner set forth above.

(2) The provisions of this regulation do not relieve PRP unit from compliance with the terms of any order of the War Production Board controlling the distribution or restricting the use of any specific material, including requirements for the filing or supplying of applications or other documents in connection with the purchase, sale, delivery, or use of any such material.

(m) Special provisions with respect to metal mills. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this regulation, the following provisions shall govern with respect to any person (hereinafter in this paragraph (m) referred to as a "metal mill") to the extent that he is engaged in producing metals in any of the forms included on the attached metals list:

(1) A metal mill, in determining whether it is a Class I producer within the meaning of paragraph (b) (10) of this regulation, may exclude all receipts or withdrawals from inventory of metals which will be processed by the metal mill to produce any of the forms listed on the attached metals list. However, there must be included any metals in the forms listed, which will be used by it for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies, or will be fabricated by it beyond the forms listed.

(2) A metal mill need not include in its PRP application materials which will be processed by it to produce metals in any of the forms listed on the attached metals list, but it must include any material, including metals in the forms listed, which will be used by it for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies, or will be fabricated by it beyond the forms listed, and for which it requires priority assistance.

(3) A metal mill may extend and apply preference ratings assigned by a preference rating order or certificate, in the manner heretofore permitted, for delivery to it of material which has been excluded from its PRP application pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (m) and may accept delivery of such material.

(4) A metal mill, to the extent that it is engaged in producing any of the following:

(i) Pig iron and ferroalloys;

(ii) The following iron and steel products, including alloys: Ingots, blooms (including forged), billets (including forged), slabs (including forged), tube rounds, sheet and tin bars, structural shapes, piling, plates (universal and sheared), rails, tie plates, track spikes, splice bars, rail joints, hot rolled bars (including hoops and bands and concrete reinforcing bars), cold finished bars, pipe and tubes (except conduit), wire rods, wire as drawn (not including further fabrications therefrom), black plate, tin and terne plate, sheets, strip, tool steel bars (including high speed), steel wheels and axles (for railroad use only), railroad locomotive tires, armor plate, ordnance forgings, steel castings (rough as cast), skelp, rolling mill rolls, ingot molds;

(iii) Coke for use in the production of pig iron and ferroalloys;

May accept deliveries of supplies in any quarter without regard to the limitations of paragraph (e) hereof of this regulation and, notwithstanding the limitations of paragraph (d) hereof, may apply the ratings assigned on its PRP certificate to deliveries of supplies in the amounts essential for proper operation, subject, however, in every case to the restrictions of § 944.14 of Priorities Regulation No. 1 and to all other applicable regulations and orders.

(n) [Revoked January 30, 1943]

(o) Exceptions or exemptions. The Director General for Operations may grant exceptions or exemptions with respect to any or all provisions of this regulation. Any such action shall be in writing over the signature of the Director General for Operations and shall refer specifically to the fact that it is an exemption from or an exception to this regulation.

Issued this 20th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

METALS LIST

(a) Any of the metals listed in subparagraph (1) below in any of the forms listed in subparagraph (2) below:

(1) Metals:

Iron	Zinc
Carbon steel	Nickel
Alloy steel	Tin
Stainless steel	Cupro-nickel
Aluminum	Monel
Magnesium	Nickel-silver
Copper	Chrome nickel
Brass	Cadmium
Bronze	Silver
Lead (including antimonial)	Tantalum metal
	Tungsten carbide

(2) Forms of metal. Anodes, bars, billets, blooms, blocks, castings (including die castings), cones, dust, extruded shapes, fabricated shapes, foil, forgings, ingots, pigs, pipe, plates, powder, rails, refinery shapes, rings, rivets, rods, scrap, sheets, shot, skelp, slabs, strip, structural shapes and piling, tie plates and track accessories, tube and tubing, tube rounds, wheels and axles, wire and wire rods, wire products (including barbed and twisted fencing, bale ties, nails, staples, rope and strand but not including insect wire screen cloth).

PART 967—FORMALDEHYDE, HEXAMETHYLENETETRAMINE AND PENTAERYTHRITOL

[Allocation Order M–25 (General Preference Order M–25), as Amended Feb. 20, 1943]

Part 967 is hereby amended with respect to its heading to read, "Formaldehyde, Hexamethylenetetramine and Pentaerythritol".

The title General Preference Order M–25 is hereby amended to read, "Allocation Order M–25".

Section 967.1 is hereby amended in its entirety to read as follows:

§ 967.1 Allocation Order M–25—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Formaldehyde" means the chemical compound known by that name in any form and from whatever source derived. The term formaldehyde includes formaldehyde in solution form of any concentration including, but not limited to, solutions known as Formalin and Formol. The term formaldehyde also includes formaldehyde in dry form, commonly known as paraformaldehyde.

(2) "Hexamethylenetetramine" means the reaction product of formaldehyde and ammonia known also as hexamethylenemine, methenamine, hexamine, aminoform, urotropin, formin, cystamin, and cystogen.

(3) "Pentaerythritol" means the reaction product of formaldehyde and acetaldehyde.

(4) "Supplier" means any producer or distributor as herein defined.

(5) "Producer" means any person who produces formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol, regardless of whether he produces it for his own account or pursuant to toll agreement.

(6) "Distributor" means any purchaser of formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine, or pentaerythritol from a producer for purpose of resale without further processing or admixing.

(b) Restrictions on use and delivery of formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol. (1) On and after March 1, 1943, no supplier of formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol shall use or deliver such material, and no person shall accept delivery of such material from a supplier, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations, upon application pursuant to paragraph (f).

(2) Each person authorized to use or accept delivery of formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol shall use such material only for the purpose authorized, except as otherwise specifically directed by the Director General for Operations.

(3) In addition to regular monthly allocations, the Director General for Operations, at his discretion, may at any time issue special directions to any person with respect to the use, transportation or delivery of formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine, or pentaerythritol by such person, or of products made from such materials allocated to such person, notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (c), (d) or (e) hereof, or may issue special directions to any producer with respect to the kinds or quantity of formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol which he may produce or manufacture.

(c) Small order exemption. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) (1):

(1) Any person may use or accept delivery of formaldehyde in any form or solution containing 555 pounds or less of formaldehyde by weight (for example, 1,500 pounds or less of 37% formaldehyde solution by weight), 100 pounds or less of hexamethylenetetramine, and 350 pounds or less of pentaerythritol in the aggregate during any one calendar month without specific authorization under this order:

(i) Provided, That such person has not been specifically authorized to use or accept delivery of any quantity of the same material during such month, and also

(ii) Provided, That such material is not used in the manufacture of resins for protective coatings, plastics or adhesives.

(2) Any supplier may deliver formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol without specific authorization under this order, to any person entitled to accept delivery pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) above, Provided, That:

(i) No producer shall deliver an aggregate amount of formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol, respectively, in any one calendar month pursuant to this paragraph, in excess of 2% of the amount of such material which he is specifically authorized to deliver during such month; and

(ii) No supplier shall make delivery of formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol during any month pursuant to this paragraph, if such delivery will prevent completion of any delivery which has been specifically authorized for such month; and

(iii) Any supplier may make deliveries pursuant to this paragraph without regard to preference ratings.

(d) Defense plant production exemption. Formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine and pentaerythritol produced by any department or agency of the United States Government, or produced in any plant owned by any agency of the United States Government, and which is delivered to and consumed by any such department, agency or plant, may be so used and delivered without specific authorization under this order, notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) (1).

(e) Special exemption for March. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) (1), any supplier may deliver formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol, and any person may accept such delivery, prior to receipt of authorization by the Director General for Operations to make and to accept such delivery, if:

(1) Application pursuant to paragraph (f) to make and to accept such delivery shall have been filed with, or mailed to, the War Production Board on or before February 28, 1943; and

(2) Shipment shall have originated on or before March 31, 1943.

(f) Applications and reports. (1) Each person seeking authorization to accept delivery of formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine and pentaerythritol, and each supplier seeking authorization to use or accept delivery of formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine, or pentaerythritol, shall file application on Form PD–600 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions for the purpose of this order:

Form PD–600. Copies of Form PD–600 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

Time. Applications for delivery from a supplier shall be filed in time to ensure that copies will have reached the supplier and the War Production Board on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization for use or acceptance of delivery is requested, where the supplier is a producer; and on or before the 10th day where the supplier is a distributor.

During February, 1943, applications shall be filed as soon as practicable.

Number of copies. Five copies shall be prepared, of which one shall be retained by the applicant; one (with columns 11 through 23 inclusive blank) shall be sent to the supplier, and three certified copies shall be sent to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M–25.

Number of sets. A separate set of PD–600 application forms shall be submitted for each supplier and requests on separate sets of forms shall be made for formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine and pentaerythritol, respectively.

Heading. Under name of chemical, specify formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol, as the case may be; under War Production Board order number, specify M–25; under unit of measure, specify pounds, and fill in other information as required.

Column 1. In the case of formaldehyde, specify whether dry or solution form and specify strength of the solution. In the case of hexamethylenetetramine and pentaerythritol, specify grade as U. S. P., Technical, or other specified grade.

Column 2. Fill in as indicated.

Column 3. Fill in as follows:

For orders on hand:
- *Primary product
- Export (in original form)
- Resale (in original form)

For anticipated orders:
- *Primary product
- Export (in original form)
- Resale (in original form)

Inventory (in original form)
- *The primary products referred to above should be specified as follows:

(For formaldehyde)
- Allocated resins (specify type of resin)
- Non-allocated resins (specify type of resin)
- Hexamethylenetetramine
- Pentaerythritol
- Ethylene glycol
- Embalming fluid
- Drugs and pharmaceuticals (specify)
- Disinfectants
- Insecticides
- Fungicides
- Cellulose esters (specify)
- Dyes
- Photographic chemicals
- Other (specify)

(For hexamethylenetetramine)
- Explosives
- Allocated resins (specify type of resin)
- Non-allocated resins (specify type of resin)
- Drugs and pharmaceuticals (specify)
- Other (specify).

(For pentaerythritol)
- Allocated resins (specify type of resin)
- Non-allocated resins (specify type of resin)
- Explosives
- Other (specify)

Column 4. Opposite any primary product listed in Column 3 which is subject to allocation, specify only the allocation order number in Column 4. For each primary product not under allocation, specify end use in Column 4.

Opposite "Resale" in Column 3, suppliers shall write into Column 4 "upon further authorization, or under paragraph (c)".

Opposite "Export" in Column 3, specify in Column 4 the name of the individual, company or governmental agency to whom or for whose account the material will be exported, the country of destination and governing export license or contract numbers, unless Lend-Lease, in which case merely specify Lend-Lease. Also, indicate in Column 4 the same information with respect to any primary product listed in Column 3 which will be exported and which is not under allocation. For example, where explosives are specified in Column 3, indicate whether such explosives are to be exported.

Columns 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9. Leave blank.

Column 10. Specify requested delivery dates.

Table II. Fill in as indicated. The same grades, if any, shall be listed in Column 11 as in Column 1.

Table III. Fill in as indicated.

Table IV. Fill in as indicated for each primary product listed in Column 3 above, except those primary products under direct allocation under another War Production Board order (such as allocated synthetic resins).

(2) Each supplier seeking authorization to make delivery of formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol during any calendar month shall file application on Form PD–601 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions for the purpose of this order:

Form PD–601. Copies of Form PD–601 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

Time. Each supplier shall make application on Form PD–601 on or before the 20th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization to make delivery is requested, except that applications for March, 1943, may be filed or mailed as late as February 28, 1943.

Number of copies. Four copies shall be prepared, of which one shall be retained by the supplier and three certified copies shall be filed with the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–25.

Number of sets. A separate set of PD–601 forms shall be filed for each plant or shipping point of supplier, and a separate set for formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine and pentaerythritol respectively.

Heading. Under name of chemical, specify formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol, as the case may be; under War Production Board order number, specify M–25; under unit of measure, specify pounds; and fill in other information as required.

Table I. Fill in as indicated. Each supplier filing a PD–600 application for use or acceptance of delivery, specifying himself as his supplier, shall list his own name as customer on his PD–601 form.

Table II. Fill in all columns as indicated. Grades shall be specified as provided in the instructions above for Column 1 of Form PD–600.

(3) The Director General for Operations may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed, and may issue special directions to any such person with respect to preparing and filing Forms PD–600 and PD–601.

(g) Allocations for inventory. Formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol allocated for inventory shall not be used for any purpose except as specifically directed by the Director General for Operations or except to fill orders for authorized uses pending arrival of the formaldehyde, hexamethylenetetramine or pentaerythritol allocated to fill such orders. Upon arrival of such material, the allocated inventory shall be restored.

(h) Delayed deliveries. Each supplier shall fill all authorized orders in full and during the month for which allocated, as far as possible.

Each supplier shall notify the War Production Board of the cancellation of any authorized order, or of postponement of any authorized delivery for more than ten days after the allocation month, or of his inability to make any authorized delivery, as soon as possible after he has notice of such fact.

(i) Notification of customers. Each supplier shall notify his regular customers as soon as possible of the requirements of this order, but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any person from complying with the terms hereof.

(j) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board regulations, as amended from time to time, except Priorities Regulation No. 13, which shall be subject to this order to the extent that it is inconsistent herewith.

(2) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–25.

Issued this 20th day of February 1943

PART 1075—CONSTRUCTION

[Preference Rating Order P–55–a]

§ 1075.8 Preference Rating Order P–55–a; Conditions applicable to the holding and disposition of war housing units.—(a) Rental and sales price. Pursuant to the provisions of Application Form PD–105 and revisions thereof (and related instruments filed in connection therewith), hereinafter referred to as "application form," requiring permission from the Director General for Operations, among other things, to increase the applicable amount of rental therein set forth, to dispose of any dwelling unit for more than the applicable amount as there set forth or to dispose of it other than in the manner stated for that unit:

(1) With respect to rentals which may be charged the first occupant of the dwelling unit, holders of Preference Rating Order P–55 are hereby permitted to charge rentals in excess of rentals set forth in the application form wherever and to the extent that such increased rental charge is authorized by the National Housing Agency or its representatives, prior to occupancy of the dwelling unit and such amount so authorized is hereby approved.

(2) With respect to rentals chargeable after the dwelling unit has been occupied, holders of Preference Rating Order P–55 are hereby permitted to charge rentals in excess of rentals set forth in the application form wherever and to the extent that such increased rental charge is specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration; and such rental so authorized is hereby approved.

(3) Holders of Preference Rating Order P–55 are hereby permitted to sell or otherwise dispose of any dwelling unit for more than the amount set forth in the application form wherever and to the extent that such increased amount is authorized by the National Housing Agency or its representatives, and such amount so authorized is hereby approved.

(4) Holders of Preference Rating Order P–55 are hereby permitted to dispose of any dwelling unit in a manner other than in the manner stated in the application form wherever and to the extent that such other manner of disposition is authorized by the National Housing Agency or its representatives, and such manner of disposition is hereby approved.

(b) War workers. Notwithstanding the provisions of the application form wherein the owner certifies that he will not sell or rent any structure or portion thereof for at least thirty or sixty days after its completion except for occupancy by a person engaged in war activity as there defined, holders of Preference Rating Order P–55 are in addition hereby permitted so to dispose of such structure or portion thereof to such other persons as the National Housing Agency or its representatives may determine to be eligible to occupy such structure or portion thereof in accordance with regulations or orders of the National Housing Agency.

(c) Conditions applicable to owners of war housing. No person to whom a Preference Rating Order P–55 has been assigned shall transfer or dispose of any dwelling unit to which such order relates, or accept payment of rental or sales price for any such unit except in the manner and for the amount set forth in the application form or in the manner and for the amount approved pursuant to paragraph (a) hereof; nor shall any such person so transfer or dispose of any such unit to any person other than the persons specified in paragraph (b) hereof, except as authorized by regulations or orders of the National Housing Agency.

(d) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall unless otherwise directed be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: P–55–a.

(e) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provisions of this order or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the Director General for Operations, and may be denied permission to begin construction under General Conservation Order L–41.

Issued this 20th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1076—PLUMBING AND HEATING SIMPLIFICATION

[Schedule XII to Limitation Order L–42, as Amended Feb. 20, 1943]

PLUMBING FIXTURES

§ 1076.14 Schedule XII to Limitation Order L–42.—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this schedule:

(1) "Producer" means any person who manufactures, processes or fabricates plumbing fixtures.

(2) "Plumbing fixture" means any bathtub, bidet, bath (foot sitz), drain pool (for a septic tank system), drain board, fountain (drinking, wash), interceptor (grease, oil, plaster), lavatory, laundry tray, sink (except a scullery sink, with or without drain boards), sink and laundry tray combination, sink leg, shower receptor, shower stall and receptor combination, septic tank, water closet bowl (including frostproof bowl), urinal, urinal tank, water closet tank (other than a pressure tank for a frostproof closet); but it does not include any plumbing fixture trim not specifically named in this schedule:

[NOTE: Paragraph (a) (2) amended on Feb. 20, 1943]

(b) Limitations. Pursuant to Limitation Order L–42 the following limitations are established for the manufacture of plumbing fixtures:

No metal may be used in the manufacture of plumbing fixtures except that:

(1) Any person may incorporate into any plumbing fixture the minimum quantity of metal which is required for coating, nuts, bolts, screws, clamps, rivets and other items of joining hardware, excluding chair carriers, which are necessary for the construction, assembly or installation of the plumbing fixture, provided that such use is not prohibited by any other order of the Director General for Operations.

(2) In addition, any person may incorporate into any of the following named plumbing fixtures the metals specified in quantities not exceeding those designated, provided that such use is not prohibited by any other order of the Director General for Operations:

(i) Into any wash fountain, 36 inches or more in diameter, including reinforcing mesh and rods, trap, column, fixture trim and internal piping, twenty-five pounds of metal (including a maximum of one pound of copper or copper base alloy);

(ii) Into any grease interceptor (excluding flow control device), five pounds of ferrous metal;

(iii) Into any oil interceptor, five pounds of ferrous metal;

(iv) Into any plaster interceptor, eight pounds of ferrous metal;

(v) Into any cement or concrete laundry tray, one ounce of zinc for waste plug in each outlet and ferrous metal as follows: one compartment, one and a half pounds for reinforcement, one and a half pounds for cast-in waste fitting; two compartments, two pounds for reinforcement, two and a half pounds for cast-in twin waste fitting; three compartments, three pounds for reinforcement, four pounds for one single cast-in waste fitting and one cast-in twin waste fitting;

(vi) Into any cement or concrete shower receptor and cast-in drain, six pounds of ferrous metal;

(vii) Into any shower stall and receptor combination, twenty-four pounds of ferrous metal (only secondary quality of sheet steel, including the rejects and trimmings, may be used);

(viii) Into any concrete septic tank, ferrous metal required for reinforcement only, inlet or outlet connection, internal syphon and internal syphon pipe connection;

(ix) Into any water closet bowl that is to be supplied with water through a diaphragm or a piston type flush valve or a pressure tank, one pound of ferrous metal for spud;

(x) Into any water closet bowl that is to be supplied with water from a water closet tank, one pound of ferrous metal for spud;

(xi) Into any component working parts of any tank for water closet (other than a pressure tank for a frostproof closet), four pounds of metal;

(xii) Into any urinal, one pound of ferrous metal for spuds;

(xiii) Into any component working parts of any tank for urinal, having $\frac{3}{4}$" automatic flush valve, five pounds of metal; having 1" automatic flush valve, seven pounds of metal; having $1\frac{1}{4}$" or larger automatic flush valve, ten pounds of metal.

(3) The restrictions of this order shall not apply to the use of lead.

(c) General exceptions. The prohibitions and restrictions contained in this schedule shall not apply to the use of metal in the manufacture of any plumbing fixture or any part thereof which is being produced:

(1) Under a specific contract or subcontract for use in chemical plants, research laboratories or hospitals, where and to the extent that the physical, chemical and aseptic properties make the use of other materials impracticable. This exception, however, does not include any plumbing fixture used in private rooms or nurses' or attendants' quarters in any plant, laboratory or hospital.

(2) Under a specific contract or subcontract for use as part of the equipment of any aircraft or any vessel other than a pleasure craft where the use of other material is impracticable: Provided, however, That no monel metal shall be used in the manufacture of any trough urinal.

(3) Under a specific contract or subcontract specifying trough urinals for delivery to, or for the account of, the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration for use outside the continental United States (the several States and the District of Columbia): Provided, however, That no monel metal shall be used in the manufacture of any such trough urinal.

(d) Simplified practices; exceptions. No plumbing fixtures which do not conform to the standards established by this schedule shall be produced or delivered by any producer or accepted from any producer except with the express permission of the Director General for Operations: Provided, however, That the foregoing shall not prohibit the delivery by any producer of such plumbing fixtures as were in his stock in finished form on December 30, 1942, nor the receipt of such plumbing fixtures from such producer: Provided, further, That the foregoing shall not prohibit machining or assembling materials put into process prior to December 30, 1942, nor the delivery of the completed plumbing fixtures so produced, nor receipt of such plumbing fixtures from the producer: Provided, That the plumbing fixtures covered by the foregoing exceptions were not processed, produced or delivered in violation of this schedule as in effect prior to December 30, 1942.

(e) Reports. Each producer to whom this schedule applies, shall on or before the 15th day of each month, file with the War Production Board a report on Form PD 727 which shall cover the preceding month or portion thereof.

Issued this 20th day of February 1943

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1223—STANDARDIZATION AND SIMPLIFICATION OF PAPER

[Schedule X to Limitation Order L-120]

HOUSEHOLD WAX PAPER ROLLS IN CUTTER BOXES

§ 1223.11 Schedule X to Limitation Order L-120—(a) Standard ream count. Basis weights for wax paper used in household rolls for enclosure in cutter boxes shall be calculated by reference to a standard ream of 500 sheets 24" x 36", with a tolerance of 7½%, after waxing, over or under the specified weight, instead of by reference to the ream of 480 sheets 24" x 36" heretofore used.

(b) Restrictions on basis weight, width and length. Except as provided in paragraph (f) of this schedule, no person shall manufacture waxed paper household rolls for enclosure in cutter boxes:

(1) Out of paper of any basis weight except 18# and/or 21#, after waxing, calculated according to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this schedule;

(2) In any width greater than 12 inches, subject to a tolerance of 5%;

(3) In any length less than 125 feet;

(4) In more than two different lengths.

Each manufacturer shall immediately select the two particular lengths (neither less than 125 feet) in which he proposes to manufacture such rolls, shall furnish such information concerning his selection as may be requested from time to time, shall keep records and samples of his selection readily available for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, and hereafter shall not without specific authorization by the Director General for Operations, manufacture such rolls in any other lengths. Specific authorization to change the original selection may be applied for by letter, in triplicate, describing the lengths originally selected, the proposed new length or lengths, and the reason why the change is necessary.

(c) Elimination of metal edge. No manufacturer of cutter boxes for wax paper household rolls and no person who puts up household rolls in cutter boxes shall affix any metal cutting edge to or upon any such cutter box.

(d) Restrictions on weight of cores, size and type of cutter boxes, and number of cutter boxes per shipping case. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (f) of this schedule, no manufacturer shall wind waxed paper household rolls for enclosure in cutter boxes on cores or tubes which in weight exceed 25 lbs. per 1000 rolls, or package any such rolls in cutter boxes made in violation of the provisions of Table III of Schedule IV to Limitation Order L-239. For convenience, a copy of this table is included, as follows:

TABLE III—WAXED PAPER CUTTER BOXES

(a) No person shall manufacture any cutter boxes for packaging rolls of waxed paper excepting in accordance with the following maximum specifications:

(1) Box dimensions: $2^{11}/_{16}$" x $2^{11}/_{16}$" x $12^{3}/_{8}$".

(2) Quality of paperboard, no higher than bleached manila lined news basis 70 sheets per 50 lb. bundle.

(2) When packing such rolls for shipment each manufacturer shall pack the same in multiples of a dozen, with a minimum of 36 per shipping case, except that cutter boxes containing rolls of 200 feet or more in length may be packed a minimum of 24 per shipping case.

(e) Prohibition of new designs and brands. No manufacturer or distributor of waxed paper household rolls in cutter boxes shall use on or in connection with the cutter boxes for such rolls any trade design or brand the original plates for which were not in existence on or before February 20, 1943.

(f) Temporary exception for existing inventories. Until April 21, 1943, but not thereafter, any person may, notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (b) and (d) of this schedule, manufacture waxed paper household rolls for enclosure in cutter boxes out of paper of any basis weight or in any width or lengths, or wind the same on any weight cores, or package the same in any boxes or any number per shipping case, necessary to utilize such person's inventories of paper, cores, boxes or shipping cases on hand the 20th day of February, 1943.

Issued this 20th day of February 1943.

PART 3138—FOUNTAIN PENS, MECHANICAL PENCILS, WOOD CASED PENCILS PEN NIBS, AND PEN HOLDERS

[General Limitation Order L-227, as Amended Feb. 20, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of iron and steel and other materials for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3138.1 General Limitation Order L-227—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Fountain pen" means any writing device (including the pen nib) containing a reservoir of writing fluid in excess of that retained by capillary attraction on the surface of the pen nib thereof.

(2) "Mechanical pencil" means any writing instrument containing a movable core of lead or other marking material encased in a housing of any material whatsoever and including all types of automatic or mechanical pencils.

(3) "Wood cased pencil" means any writing instrument containing a non-movable core of lead or other marking material, encased in a sheath of wood.

(4) "Pen nib" means any removable writing point designed to deposit writing fluid upon a writing surface.

(5) "Pen holder" means any device designed to hold a pen nib in position for writing, except fountain pens.

(6) "Manufacturer" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not, who manufactures or assembles any fountain pens, mechanical pencils, wood cased pencils, pen nibs or pen holders, or who manufactures or assembles any part made specifically for incorporation into such products.

(7) "Part" means any part made specifically for incorporation into a fountain pen, mechanical pencil, wood cased pencil, pen nib or pen holder, except repair parts.

(8) "Repair part" means any part made specifically for incorporation into fountain pens, mechanical pencils, wood cased pencils, pen nibs or pen holders, which is not produced for or used in a new fountain pen, mechanical pencil, wood cased pencil, pen nib or pen holder.

(9) "Finishing material" means any material used as a protective coating on wood cased pencils or pen holders containing cellulose derivatives, synthetic resins, or plasticizers.

(b) Restrictions upon production of fountain pens. (1) On and after December 7, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron and steel, copper, copper base alloys, crude rubber or reclaimed rubber to be used in the production of fountain pens, nor shall any manufacturer process, fabricate, work on or assemble any stainless steel for pen nibs, or assemble any stainless steel pen nibs in fountain pens, except:

(i) Low carbon steel for functional parts of fountain pens other than pen nibs,

(ii) Crude or reclaimed rubber consisting of fountain pen semiprocessed or finished parts contained in his inventory prior to December 7, 1942,

(iii) Reclaimed rubber as permitted pursuant to Supplementary Order M-15-b, as amended from time to time,

(iv) Copper intended for silver or 14 karat gold pen nibs, and

(v) Stainless steel pen nibs which were contained in his inventory in completely fabricated form prior to December 7, 1942, may be assembled in fountain pens up to and including December 31, 1942.

(2) During the period beginning December 7, 1942, and ending December 31, 1942, inclusive, no manufacturer shall produce more parts or repair parts for fountain pens than the following percentages of such parts or repair parts produced by him during 1941:

(i) Parts for fountain pens, 7%.

(ii) Repair parts for fountain pens, 10%.

(3) During the period beginning December 7, 1942, and ending December 31, 1942, inclusive, no manufacturer shall produce more fountain pens than:

(i) 5% of the number of steel pen nib fountain pens produced by him during 1941, plus

(ii) 7% of the number of gold pen nib fountain pens produced by him during 1941.

(4) During the period of three months beginning January 1, 1943, and during each three months period thereafter, no manufacturer shall produce more parts or repair parts for fountain pens than the following percentages of such parts or repair parts produced by him during 1941:

(i) Parts for fountain pens, $12^{1}/_{2}$%.

(ii) Repair parts for fountain pens, 30%.

(5) During the period of three months, beginning January 1, 1943, and during each three months period thereafter no manufacturer shall produce more fountain pens than:

(i) $8^{3}/_{4}$% of the number of steel pen nib fountain pens produced by him during 1941, plus

(ii) $12^{1}/_{2}$% of the number of gold pen nib fountain pens produced by him during 1941.

(c) Restrictions upon production of mechanical pencils. (1) On and after December 7, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron and steel, copper, copper base alloys, crude rubber or reclaimed rubber for the production of mechanical pencils, except low carbon steel for functional parts, provided that no more than 8 pounds of such low carbon steel shall be contained in each group of 1,000 mechanical pencils produced by him on and after February 1, 1943.

(2) During the period beginning December 7, 1942, and ending December 31, 1942, inclusive, no manufacturer shall produce more parts or repair parts for mechanical pencils, or more mechanical pencils than the following percentages of such parts or repair parts for mechanical pencils, or mechanical pencils produced by him during 1941:

(i) Parts for mechanical pencils, 6%.

(ii) Repair parts for mechanical pencils, 10%.

(iii) Mechanical pencils, 6%.

(3) During the period of three months beginning January 1, 1943, and during each three months period thereafter, no manufacturer shall produce more parts or repair parts for mechanical pencils, or more mechanical pencils than the following percentages of such parts or repair parts for mechanical pencils, produced by him during 1941:

(i) Parts for mechanical pencils, $11^{3}/_{4}$%.

(ii) Repair parts for mechanical pencils, 30%.

(iii) Mechanical pencils, $11^{3}/_{4}$%.

(d) Restrictions on production of wood cased pencils. (1) On and after December 7, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron and steel, copper, copper base alloys, crude rubber or reclaimed rubber for the production of wood cased pencils, nor shall any manufacturer process, fabricate, work on or assemble any wood cased pencils containing any iron and steel, copper, copper base alloys, crude rubber or reclaimed rubber.

(2) During the period beginning December 7, 1942, and ending December 31, 1942, inclusive, no manufacturer of wood cased pencils shall produce more of such wood cased pencils than 22% of the number of such wood cased pencils produced by him during 1941.

(3) During the period of three months, beginning January 1, 1943, and during each three months period thereafter, no manufacturer of wood cased pencils shall produce more of such wood cased pencils than 22% of the number of such wood cased pencils produced by him during 1941.

(4) On and after December 7, 1942, no manufacturer shall use in connection with the manufacture of wood cased pencils more finishing material in the aggregate than an amount equal to the ratio of 1 gallon of finishing material per hundred gross of wood cased pencils produced by him.

(e) Restrictions on production of pen holders and pen nibs. (1) On and after December 7, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any iron and steel, copper, copper base alloys, crude rubber or reclaimed rubber for the production of pen holders, nor shall any manufacturer process, fabricate, work on or assemble any pen holders containing any iron and steel, copper, copper base alloys, crude rubber or reclaimed rubber.

(2) On and after December 7, 1942, no manufacturer shall use in connection with the manufacture of pen holders more finishing material in the aggregate than an amount equal to the ratio of 3 gallons of finishing material per hundred gross of pen holders produced by him.

(3) During the period beginning December 7, 1942, and ending December 31, 1942, inclusive, no manufacturer of pen holders shall produce more of such pen holders than 10% of the number of such pen holders produced by him during 1941.

(4) During the period of three months, beginning January 1, 1943, and during each three months period thereafter, no manufacturer of pen holders shall produce more of such pen holders than $31^{1}/_{4}$% of the number of such pen holders produced by him during 1941.

(5) During the period beginning December 7, 1942, and ending December 31, 1942, inclusive, no manufacturer of pen nibs shall produce more of such pen nibs than 23% of the number of such pen nibs produced by him during 1941.

(6) During the period of three months, beginning January 1, 1943, and during each three months period thereafter, no manufacturer of pen nibs shall produce more of such pen nibs than $46^{1}/_{4}$% of the number of such pen nibs produced by him during 1941.

(f) [Revoked February 20, 1943]

(g) Restrictions on plating. On and after December 31, 1942, no manufacturer shall use in the production of fountain pens, mechanical pencils, wood cased pencils, and pen holders any plating, coating or other metal finish containing any zinc, tin, cadmium, copper or nickel.

(h) Inconsistent orders. This order supersedes, as of December 7, 1942, Limitation Order L-113 and all amendments thereto and appeals granted thereunder.

(i) Reports. (1) Every manufacturer affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request.

(2) Every manufacturer affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L-227, on or before the 20th day following the close of each calendar month, Form PD-655.

(3) Every manufacturer affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L-227, on or before December 15, 1942, Form PD-721.

(j) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production, and sales.

(k) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(l) Avoidance of excessive inventories. No manufacturer of fountain pens, mechanical pencils, wood cased pencils, pen nibs, and pen holders shall accumulate for use in the manufacture of such fountain pens, mechanical pencils, wood cased pencils, pen nibs, and pen holders, inventories of raw materials, semi-processed materials, or finished parts in quantities in excess of the minimum amount necessary to maintain production at the rates permitted by this order.

(m) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(n) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order should be made on Form PD-500, addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers' Durable Goods Division, Ref.: L-227.

(o) Applicability of other orders. In so far as any other order heretofore or hereafter issued by the Director of Priorities, the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, limits the use of any material in the production of fountain pens, mechanical pencils, wood cased pencils, pen nibs, and pen holders to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions in such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

(p) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(q) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers' Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L-227.

Issued this 20th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3195—ANHYDROUS ALUMINUM CHLORIDE

[General Preference Order M-287]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of anhydrous aluminum chloride for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3195.1 General Preference Order M-287—(a) Definitions. (1) "Anhydrous aluminum chloride" means the chemical of that name, in any form.

(2) "Supplier" means any producer or distributor of anhydrous aluminum chloride.

(3) "Producer" means any person who produces anhydrous aluminum chloride.

(4) "Distributor" means any person who purchases anhydrous aluminum chloride for resale.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries and use. (1) On and after March 15, 1943, no supplier shall deliver or use anhydrous aluminum chloride, and no person shall accept delivery of anhydrous aluminum chloride from a supplier, except as specifically authorized or directed by the Director General for Operations.

(2) Authorizations or directions with respect to deliveries to be made or accepted in each month beginning with April, 1943 (and with respect to use by supplier) will so far as practicable be issued by the Director General for Operations prior to the commencement of such month, but the Director General for Operations may at any time at his discretion and notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c) hereof, issue directions with respect to deliveries to be made or accepted. He may also at any time issue directions with respect to the use or uses which may or may not be made by any person of anhydrous aluminum chloride to be delivered or then on hand, or with respect to the kinds of anhydrous aluminum chloride which a producer may manufacture.

(3) Each person specifically authorized to accept delivery of anhydrous aluminum chloride shall use such material for the purpose authorized, and only for such purpose, except as otherwise specifically directed by the Director General for Operations.

(4) Anhydrous aluminum chloride allocated for inventory shall not be used except as specifically directed by the Director General for Operations. Anhydrous aluminum chloride allocated to fill a specified order or class of orders shall, where and to the extent that such order or class of orders is for any reason not filled, revert to inventory.

(5) Each person who receives specific authorization to accept delivery of anhydrous aluminum chloride in any calendar month and who shall not prior to the first day of the next succeeding month have received delivery in full of the quantity so authorized, shall report such fact to the War Production Board not later than the 5th day of such succeeding month.

(6) Deliveries specifically authorized or directed to be made in any calendar month where the authorization or direction does not specify dates or order of shipment may be made without regard to preference ratings applicable to particular orders.

(c) Exception to requirement for specific authorization. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) (1) hereof, specific authorization or direction of the Director General for Operations shall not be required for:

(i) The acceptance of delivery by any person, or use by any supplier, of not more than 50 lbs. of anhydrous aluminum chloride in the aggregate in any calendar month: Provided, That such person (or supplier) has not been specifically authorized to use or accept delivery of any quantity of anhydrous aluminum chloride during such month.

(ii) The delivery of anhydrous aluminum chloride by any supplier to any person who shall have filed with him a certificate in substantially the following form:

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies to the War Production Board and to his supplier that the anhydrous aluminum chloride hereby ordered for delivery in _____ (month) 194__, does not, taken with all other anhydrous aluminum chloride delivered or to be delivered from all sources in such month exceed 50 lbs., the amount which he is entitled to receive under paragraph (c) (1) of General Preference Order M-287.

Name of purchaser

By_____
Date Authorized official Title

Provided, however, That no certificate shall be required respecting deliveries by any supplier to any person in any calendar month of not more than 10 lbs. Such certificate shall be signed by an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7. The receipt of such certificate shall not authorize the delivery of anhydrous aluminum chloride by a supplier where he knows or has reason to believe the same to be false, but in the absence of such knowledge or reason to believe, he may rely on the certificate.

(2) No producer shall in any calendar month pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) deliver an aggregate amount of anhydrous aluminum chloride in excess of one per cent of the amount of anhydrous aluminum chloride which he is specifically authorized to deliver during such month.

(3) No supplier shall make deliveries during any calendar month pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) if such deliveries will prevent completion of any deliveries which have been specifically authorized for such month.

(d) Applications and reports. (1) Each person seeking authorization to accept delivery of (and each supplier seeking authorization to use) anhydrous aluminum chloride in any calendar month beginning with April, 1943, whether for own consumption or resale, shall file application on or before the 15th day of the preceding month. Where delivery or use is to be in March, 1943, such application shall be filed as many days as possible in advance of the requested acceptance of delivery or use. In each case, application shall be made on Form PD-600, in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD-600 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Five copies shall be prepared, of which one shall be forwarded to the supplier and three to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M-287, the fifth to be retained for your files.

(iii) In the heading, under name of chemical specify anhydrous aluminum chloride; under WPB Order No., specify M-287; under name of company, specify name and mailing address; under unit of measure, specify pounds; and specify the month and year for which authorization for acceptance of delivery or use is sought.

(iv) In Columns 1, 11 and 19 specify grade in terms of the following: technical grade, chemically pure.

(v) In Columns 3, 20 and 22, specify your primary product in terms of the following:

Aviation gasoline
Refining aluminum metal
Synthetic rubber
Synthetic detergents
Toluene
Vat dyes
Nylon Pharmaceuticals
Terpene resins
Lubricating oil additive
Lubricating oil refining
Catalyst for aviation gasoline, its components and raw materials
Other chemicals (specify)
Others (specify)
Resale (as anhydrous aluminum chloride)
Inventory (as anhydrous aluminum chloride)

(vi) In Column 4, specify ultimate use of product (where, for example, your primary product called for in Column 3 is "vat dyes", the ultimate use of product might be "overcoats"), and also specify in each case whether your customer is Army, Navy, other government agency, Lend-Lease, or commercial customer. Where the Form PD-600 is an application for anhydrous aluminum chloride for resale or inventory (in each case as anhydrous aluminum chloride), leave Column 4 blank.

(2) Each supplier seeking authorization to make delivery of anhydrous aluminum chloride during any calendar month beginning with April, 1943, shall file application on or before the 20th day of the preceding month. The application shall be made on Form PD-601 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following special instructions:

(i) Copies of Form PD-601 may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(ii) Prepare four copies and forward three certified copies to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M-287.

(iii) Suppliers who have filed application on Form PD-600 specifying themselves as their suppliers, shall list their own names as customers on Form PD-601 and shall list their request for allocation in the manner prescribed for other customers.

(iv) In the heading, under name of chemical, specify "anhydrous aluminum chloride"; under WPB Order No., specify "M-287"; under name of company, state name and mailing address; under unit of measure specify "pounds"; and state the month and year during which deliveries covered by your application are to be made.

(v) In Columns 3 and 8, specify grades as stated in customer's Form PD-600.

(vi) The supplier may, if he wishes, leave Column 5 blank.

(vii) Names of customers to whom small order deliveries are to be made during the next calendar month pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) of this order need not be listed, but insert in Column 1 "Total small order deliveries (estimated)", and in Column 4, state the estimated quantity.

(viii) If it is necessary to use more than one sheet to list customers, number each sheet in order and show grand totals for all sheets on the last sheet, which is the only one that need be certified.

(3) The Director General for Operations may require each person affected by this order to file such other reports as may be prescribed, and may issue special directions to any such person with respect to preparing and filing Forms PD-600 and PD-601.

(e) Notification of customers. Each supplier shall notify his regular customers as soon as possible of the requirements of this order, but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any person from complying with the terms hereof.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: M-287.

Issued this 20th day of February 1943.

PART 1055—WOOL

Section 1055.1 Conservation Order M-73 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(b) Curtailment of use of wool for non-defense orders for period February 1, 1943, through July 31, 1943. During the period February 1, 1943 through July 31, 1943, no person shall put into process any wool except to fill defense orders or as otherwise permitted by this order.

(c) Quota for worsted system. Any person having a basic quarterly poundage on the worsted system shall be entitled to put into process:

(1) During the period from February 1, 1943, through May 2, 1943, an amount of wool owned by him not in excess of 15% of such basic quarterly poundage, or 2,000 pounds, whichever is higher, for the manufacture of fabrics and yarns of any wool content, and an additional amount of wool owned by him not in excess of 20% of such basic quarterly poundage, or 3,000 pounds, whichever is higher, for the manufacture of fabrics and yarns containing not more than 65% wool.

(2) During the period from May 3, 1943, through July 31, 1943, an amount of wool owned by him not in excess of 30% of such basic quarterly poundage, or 2,000 pounds, whichever is higher, for the manufacture of fabrics and yarns of any wool content, and an additional amount of wool owned by him not in excess of 40% of such basic quarterly poundage, or 3,000 pounds, whichever is higher, for the manufacture of fabrics and yarns containing not more than 65% wool.

(d) Quota for woolen and other systems. Any person having a basic quarterly poundage on the woolen, cotton, felt, or any other system shall be entitled to put into process:

(1) During the period from February 1, 1943, through May 2, 1943, an amount of wool owned by him not in excess of 5% of such basic quarterly poundage, or 800 pounds, whichever is higher, for the manufacture of fabrics and yarns of any wool content, and an additional amount of wool owned by him not in excess of 25% of such basic quarterly poundage, or 4,200 pounds, whichever is higher, for the manufacture of fabrics and yarns containing not more than 65% wool.

(2) During the period from May 3, 1943, through July 31, 1943, an amount of wool owned by him not in excess of 5% of such basic quarterly poundage, or 800 pounds, whichever is higher, for the manufacture of fabrics and yarns of any wool content, and an additional amount of wool owned by him not in excess of 25% of such basic quarterly poundage, or 4,200 pounds, whichever is higher, for the manufacture of fabrics and yarns containing not more than 65% wool.

(e) Bonus for use of certain types of wool. Any person shall, for each pound of wool of grades 44s and lower (including carpet wool) or pieces or locks of alpaca, llama, or huarizo, owned or hereafter acquired by such person and put into process within the limits of paragraphs (c) and (d), be entitled to put into process:

(1) On the worsted system, an additional two pounds of such material owned or hereafter acquired by him.

(2) On the woolen, cotton, or felt system, an additional five pounds of such material owned or hereafter acquired by him.

(f) Quota for manufacture of floor covering. Any person having a basic quarterly poundage calculated from wool put into process for the manufacture of floor covering shall be entitled to put into process:

(1) During the period from February 1, 1943, through May 2, 1943, an amount of wool owned by him not in excess of 25% of such basic quarterly poundage.

(2) During the period from May 3, 1943, through July 31, 1943, an amount of wool owned by him not in excess of 25% of such basic quarterly poundage.

(g) Carry-over of unused portions of quotas. Any amounts of wool which a person was entitled to put into process for non-defense orders during the period from August 3, 1942, through January 31, 1943, pursuant to this order as heretofore issued (excluding the additional allotment for use in knitted wear), and any amounts of wool which a person is entitled to put into process for non-defense orders during the period from February 1, 1943, through May 2, 1943, pursuant to paragraphs (c), (d), (e) and (f) of this order as presently effective, and which have not been put into process at the end of the applicable period may be carried over to the following period or periods covered by this order and operate to increase the corresponding quota of such following period or periods to that extent.

(h) Special provisions for manufacture of yarn for use in manipulated fabrics. (1) For the purposes of paragraphs (c) and (d) the putting into process of wool for the manufacture of yarns for sale to knitters or weavers to be manufactured by them into fabrics or garments containing not more than 65% wool shall be considered as the putting into process of wool for the manufacture of such fabrics.

(i) Restrictions on use of certain types of wool and of wool content of certain products.—(1) Restriction on wool content of blankets and lounging wear for nondefense use. No person shall manufacture for nondefense order any blanket, or any "feminine lounging wear" as defined in Limitation Order L–118, or any "masculine lounging wear" as defined in Limitation Order L–130, containing more than 65 per cent of wool.

(2) Restrictions on use of certain wools in drapery and upholstery fabrics for nondefense use. No person shall put into process for nondefense order for the manufacture of any drapery or upholstery fabrics any wool other than coarse carpet wool.

(3) Restrictions on use of certain wools in floor coverings. No person shall put into process any wool other than carpet wool for the manufacture of floor covering.

(4) Restrictions on use of alpaca, huarizo and llama. No person shall put into process any alpaca, llama or huarizo, other than pieces and locks, and no person shall use or process any alpaca tops, except for the manufacture of fabrics or yarn to be delivered to or for the account of, or to be physically incorporated into material or equipment to be delivered to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration.

(j) Defense orders filled out of inventory. The filling of a defense order out of stocks on hand, which stocks were not manufactured on defense order, shall operate to increase the amount of wool which a person may put into process on nondefense order in the period in which such defense order is filled, to the extent of the amount of wool contained in the goods used to fill such defense order.

(k) General exceptions. The prohibitions and restrictions of this order shall not apply to any person to the extent that such person puts wool into process for the making of wool products entirely by hand, including the spinning and weaving of the fabrics.

(l) Assignment of preference rating for certain uniform fabrics. Deliveries of fabric to be used in the manufacture of the following types of uniforms:

(1) U. S. Bureau of Customs personnel,

(2) U. S. Forest Service personnel,

(3) U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service personnel,

(4) U. S. Post Office Department personnel,

(5) Federal, State, County, Municipal or local government policemen, guards or militia,

(6) Flying personnel with commercial airlines,

(7) Organized civilian personnel assigned to the Armed Forces of the United States,

(8) Plant and airport guards,

(9) Nurses,

are hereby assigned a preference rating of A–10. Said rating shall be applied and extended in the manner provided by Priorities Regulation 3.

(m) Prohibition against sales or deliveries. No person shall hereafter sell or deliver any material to any person if he knows, or has reason to believe, such material is to be used in violation of this order.

(n) Fair distribution of products. In making sales or deliveries of wool yarn, fabrics, styles or patterns, no person shall make discriminatory reductions in amounts or quantities in acceptance of orders or deliveries between regular customers who meet such person's regularly established prices and terms, or between regular customers and his own consumption of these products.

(o) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Wool" means the fiber from the fleece of the sheep or lamb, or the hair of the Cashmere goat or camel or the alpaca, llama, vicuna, and related fibers, including fine carpet wool and coarse carpet wool, but (except for the purposes of paragraph (n)) shall not include mohair, noils, waste, reprocessed or reused wool, or yarn or cloth.

(2) "Manufacture" means any and all processing on any system beyond the scouring operation, excepting only the carding and combing operations on the worsted system.

(3) "Put into process" means:

(i) On the worsted system, the first process of drawing after combing.

(ii) On any other system using tops cut tops or broken tops, the first operation of cutting, breaking, picking or carding as the case may be.

(iii) On the woolen, felt, or any other system not using tops, the first step after scouring, carbonizing, dusting or similar cleaning or preparatory process and shall include the causing to be put into process by another for one's account.

(4) "Basic quarterly poundage" for any single system of manufacture shall mean one half of the number of pounds of wool and mohair, either kid or adult, put into process on that system by a person during the period from December 29, 1940 to June 28, 1941, both inclusive or for the period from January 1, 1941, to June 30, 1941, both inclusive, according to the method of keeping production records maintained by such person during such period. Such poundage shall be determined as follows:

(i) On the worsted system or any other system using tops, the weight of tops put into process at 15 per cent moisture regain, 3¼ per cent of oil and natural fats.

(ii) On the woolen system, scoured wool and mohair, either kid or adult, at 12 per cent moisture.

(iii) On the felt or any other system, the weight of wool and mohair, either kid or adult in the stage immediately preceding putting into process.

(p) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(q) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(r) Reports and records. (1) Each person who puts wool into process shall file with the War Production Board a report on Form PD–274 setting forth the information required therein. Any person having stocks of wool shall file reports on WPB–295 and/or WPB–370, setting forth the information required therein. Any person making wool and part wool, woven and knitted fabrics and yarn, shall file with the War Production Board a report on form WPB–1420, setting forth the information required therein.

(2) All persons who put wool into process shall keep and preserve such records as will clearly and adequately show their methods and amounts of consumption hereunder.

(s) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Division, Washington, D. C., Reference M–73.

Issued this 19th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

Subchapter A—General Provisions

PART 906—MACHINE TOOL TRANSFERS

[Directive 13]

§ 906.1 Directive 13—(a) Utilization of machine tools. (1) As a result of changes in program schedules, increasingly efficient operation, and development of new production techniques, many machine tools heretofore delivered have been rendered idle, or are in use on purposes less essential to the war effort than others for which they are urgently needed.

(2) To release all possible materials for other purposes and to bring about the production of articles of war in accordance with strategic military determinations, maximum utilization of existing machine tools must be secured.

(3) Machine tools recently purchased have been largely Government financed; when in conflict with the attainment of maximum utilization, the right to present or future ownership and the right to possession or use of any particular machine tool by any person, including any governmental agency, department or corporation, are deemed subordinate.

(4) The War Production Board is the agency responsible for developing information regarding existing machine tools not required in their present location, and is responsible for exercising overall supervision of the distribution of machine tools.

(b) Policies. Accordingly, the following policies have been established by the War Production Board in consultation with the War and Navy Departments, and the Defense Plant Corporation:

(1) The War Production Board may direct the transfer of any machine tool not in use or from use on any contract, purchase order, program, or other work regardless of ownership or contractual rights relating to the possession or use of such machine tool, to use on any other contract, purchase order, program, or other work in the same plant or any other plant. The direction of the War Production Board will be addressed to the departments or agencies primarily affected and a copy shall be furnished to the holder of such machine tool.

(2) The Tools Division of the War Production Board shall issue such a direction only after consultation with the War Department, the Navy Department, or any other Government agency or department the performance of whose contracts may be affected by such action. Consideration shall be given to the effect which such transfer will have on respective production programs, under the general policies directed by the Production Executive Committee.

(3) The guiding principle shall be that upon the issuance of such a direction the transfer of the machine tool in question shall be made promptly. Accordingly, every effort must be exerted by the Governmental agency concerned to obtain the consent of the holder of the machine tool to its immediate transfer. Adjustments between Governmental agencies necessitated by the transfer and likewise negotiations between such agencies and the machine tool holder with respect to the modification of any contract under which the machine tool is used or of any contract for the production of material with such machine tool shall, insofar as possible, be conducted after the transfer.

(4) If the consent of any private interest deemed necessary to the transfer of the machine tool cannot be obtained, or if the transfer is not accomplished with reasonable dispatch, the War Production Board will issue such orders as may be necessary to effectuate the transfer. When necessary, the machine tool shall be requisitioned pursuant to the Act of October 16, 1941, as amended.

(5) Reserves of machine tools retained by contractors against the possibility of future need for tools shall not be permitted if such tools are needed for other contractors. The execution of the policies herein established should obtain sufficient fluidity and flexibility in the distribution of machine tools to make such reserves wholly unnecessary.

(c) Review of orders for machine tools. The War Production Board, Tools Division, will request all Departments and Agencies participating in this directive to review all lists of machine tools on order so that those not urgently needed may be cancelled. The Tools Division will keep itself posted as to all urgent and special demands for machine tools so that immediate action may be taken in filling such orders.

(d) Reports on available machine tools. All departments and agencies of the Government participating in this directive shall determine the location of machine tools within their cognizance which are available for transfer to fill other more urgent needs, and shall promptly advise the War Production Board of such tools.

(e) Effectuation of directive. The War Production Board, the Army and Navy Departments, and the Defense Plant Corporation, shall take such other immediate steps as are necessary to effectuate this directive.

Issued this 6th day of February 1943.

Chairman.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1340—FUEL

[RPS 88,[1] Amendment 69]

PETROLEUM AND PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In § 1340.157, paragraph (b) is amended and new paragraphs (y), (z), and (aa) are added; the text of the first undesignated paragraph of § 1340.159 is amended, and a new paragraph (e) is added, as set forth below:

§ 1340.157 Definitions. • • •

(b) "Petroleum products" means:

All grades of gasoline, including natural gasoline and blending naphthas; also special hydrocarbon fractions utilized in the manufacture of gasoline or the components thereof
Liquefied petroleum gases
Tractor distillates and similar distillate type motor fuels other than gasoline
Kerosene, including range oil or stove oil
Distillate burning, heating or fuel oils
Diesel fuel oils

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

Residual burning, heating or fuel oils

Lubricating oils, including motor, aviation and stock oils (neutrals, bright stocks, steam refined stocks and other stock oils) and all greases and industrial lubricating oils except core oils and core washing oils

Naphthas, solvents, mineral spirits and other petroleum fractions when sold as antifreeze preparations.

Paving and cut-back asphalts, asphalt emulsions, road oils, roofing asphalt and roofing flux.

For the time being industrial naphthas and solvents, and specialty products (such as household oils and spot removers) are excluded from the list of petroleum products subject to Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

Asphalts and asphalt products not listed above are not for the time being included in the term "petroleum products" as defined above.

* * * * *

(y) "Highest price charged during March, 1942" means:

(1) The highest price which the seller charged at the same shipping or delivery point to a purchaser of the same class for delivery of the particular petroleum product during March 1942.

(2) If the seller made no such delivery during March 1942, such seller's highest offering price to a purchaser of the same class for delivery during that month.

(3) If the seller made no such delivery and had no such offering price to a purchaser of the same class, the highest price charged by the seller during March, 1942 to a purchaser of a different class, adjusted to reflect the seller's customary differential between the two classes of purchasers.

(4) In no event, however, shall a price charged pursuant to a contract entered into prior to March 1942 be regarded as a price charged in March 1942 unless such contract was adjustable to reflect current market conditions at or about the dates of deliveries under such contract.

(z) "Sale at wholesale" means a sale by a person who receives delivery of a commodity and resells it without substantially changing its composition, either to an industrial or commercial user or to any person other than an ultimate consumer.

(aa) "Sale at retail" or "selling at retail" means a sale or selling to an ultimate consumer other than an industrial or commercial user.

§ 1340.159 Appendix A: Maximum prices for petroleum and petroleum products. The maximum prices established by Revised Price Schedule No. 88 (§§ 1340.151 to 1340.159, inclusive) shall include the prices on all domestic, export and import transactions, sales, transfers, exchanges or purchases of crude petroleum and on all domestic, export and import transactions, sales, transfers or exchanges of petroleum products, involving contract, bid or spot sales of crude petroleum at the well, the gathering point, tank or terminal, and of petroleum products for cargo or barge shipment, harbor delivery, f. o. b. refinery and terminal, and tank car and tank wagon delivery. With the exception of industrial lubricating oils and greases, prices for petroleum products when sold at retail at service stations, garages and stores are not governed by Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

(e) Industrial lubricating oils and greases. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b) above, maximum prices of industrial lubricating oils and greases shall be determined as set forth below:

(1) Producer's maximum prices for industrial lubricating oils and greases delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 or prior thereto. The maximum price for a sale by a producer of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which is the same as an industrial lubricating oil or grease which was delivered or offered for delivery in March 1942 by the seller, shall be the highest price charged by the seller during March 1942 (as defined in paragraph (y) of § 1340.157) for the industrial lubricating oil or grease: Provided, however, That if no price was charged during March 1942 within the meaning of said paragraph (y) of § 1340.157, the producer's maximum price shall be determined under § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

If the industrial lubricating oil or grease was not delivered or offered for delivery by the producer during March 1942 but was delivered or offered for delivery prior thereto, the producer's maximum price thereof shall be determined under § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

(2) Producer's maximum prices for industrial lubricating oils and greases not delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 or prior thereto. The maximum price for a sale by a producer of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which is not the same as an industrial lubricating oil or grease which was delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 or prior thereto shall be the price determined by the first one of the four methods set forth in subdivisions (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) of this subparagraph (2) which applies to the industrial lubricating oil or grease.

(i) First pricing method: Minor changes. The maximum price of any industrial lubricating oil or grease differing from an industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery by the producer during March 1942 or prior thereto, only by reason of minor changes in composition which do not substantially reduce or increase the cost of ingredients or prevent its offering substantially equivalent serviceability shall be the maximum price of the industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery during that period.

(ii) Second pricing method: New industrial lubricating oils or greases which result from the compounding of two or more ingredients, each of which has a maximum price. The maximum price of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which cannot be priced under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph (2) and which is produced by mixing two or more ingredients for each of which the producer has a maximum price under applicable regulations of the Office of Price Administration, shall be the weighted average by volume or by weight depending on whether the blended product is sold by volume or by weight of the maximum prices of the ingredients. In determining the weighted average mentioned above the seller shall multiply the per unit maximum price of each product being blended by the percentage (by volume or weight as above prescribed) of each ingredient and add the results of such multiplication.

(iii) Third pricing method: Changes necessitated by shortages of ingredients. (a) The maximum price of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which cannot be priced under subdivisions (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph (2) and which differs from an industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery by the producer during March 1942, or prior thereto, only because of changes necessitated by shortages of ingredients, shall be the maximum price of the industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery during that month adjusted by adding or subtracting the increase or decrease in direct ingredient cost resulting from the changes. Once the seller has determined his maximum price for a particular industrial lubricating oil or grease under this subdivision (iii) that price is his maximum price thereafter.

In calculating the direct costs of the ingredients of the industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 and the changed industrial lubricating oil or grease, such cost shall be regarded as the maximum price which the producer's suppliers of such ingredient or ingredients may charge under applicable maximum price regulations.

(b) Report of maximum prices. Within five days after a purchaser first agrees to buy an industrial lubricating oil or grease for which a mximum price must be determined under this subdivision (iii), or at any time prior thereto, the producer shall report to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., the maximum price computed by him. The report shall set forth the following in the manner and form prescribed below:

The unit of sale should be the same for Part A1 and Parts B and C.

*Upon written request by the producer, information contained in the report shall be treated as confidential.

The maximum price so reported shall be the seller's maximum price unless it is disapproved in writing by the Office of Price Administration within thirty days after the date it is reported as above provided or a substitute price is set by the Office of Price Administration. If a substitute price is set, then such price shall be the maximum price. Subsequent to this thirty-day period, the price reported shall be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) at any time upon written order of the Office of Price Administration.

After the expiration of this thirty-day period the producer shall notify in writing each person purchasing the new industrial lubricating oil or grease for resale at wholesale that his maximum price for the new product shall be his maximum price for the product being replaced, adjusted by the amount of the difference in the cost to him of the new product.

(iv) Fourth pricing method: Tentative maximum prices. The maximum price for any industrial lubricating oil or grease which cannot be priced under subdivisions (i), (ii) or (iii) of this subparagraph (2) shall be determined in accordance with § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

(3) Maximum prices at wholesale or retail for industrial lubricating oils and greases delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 or prior thereto. The maximum price for a sale at wholesale or retail of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which is the same as an industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery in March 1942 by the seller, shall be the highest price charged by the seller during March 1942 (as defined in paragraph (y) of § 1340.157) for the industrial lubricating oil or grease: Provided, however, That if no price was charged during March 1942 within the meaning of said paragraph (y) of § 1340.157, the seller's maximum price shall be determined under § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

If the industrial lubricating oil or grease was not delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 but was delivered or offered for delivery prior thereto, the seller's maximum price thereof shall be determined under § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

If a producer's maximum price to a particular reseller for a particular industrial lubricating oil or grease as established under the General Maximum Price Regulation is increased or decreased by reason of the operation of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (e) such reseller's maximum price for the same industrial lubricating oil or grease shall be determined in accordance with § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

(4) Maximum prices on wholesale and retail sales of industrial lubricating oils and greases not delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 or prior thereto. The maximum price for a sale at wholesale or retail of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which is not the same as an industrial lubricating oil or grease which was delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 shall be determined by the first of the two methods set forth in subdivisions (i), (ii) or (iii) of this subparagraph (4) which applies to the industrial lubricating oil or grease.

(i) First pricing method: Minor changes. The maximum price of any industrial lubricating oil or grease differing from an industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery by a seller at wholesale or retail during March 1942 or prior thereto only by reason of minor changes in composition which do not substantially reduce or increase the cost of ingredients or prevent its offering substantially equivalent serviceability shall be the maximum price of the industrial lubricating oil or grease delivered or offered for delivery during that period.

(ii) Second pricing method: Wholesale prices—changes necessitated by shortages of ingredients. The maximum price for any sale at wholesale of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which cannot be priced under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph (4) and which has been priced by the producer thereof under subdivision (iii) of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (e) shall be the seller's maximum price for the product being replaced, adjusted by the amount of the difference in the cost of the new product to the seller.

(iii) Third pricing method: Tentative maximum prices. The maximum price for any sale at wholesale or retail, of any industrial lubricating oil or grease which cannot be priced under subdivision (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph (4) shall be determined in accordance with § 1340.159 (b) (7) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 88.

(5) Price differentials. Every seller shall continue all his allowances, discounts or other price differentials in effect during March 1942. In the case of industrial lubricating oils or greases priced under subparagraphs (2) or (4) of this paragraph (e) every seller shall in the case of sales to different classes of purchasers adjust the maximum prices determined for one class of purchaser to reflect all allowances, discounts and other price differentials which he was accustomed to make on that type of industrial lubricating oil or grease.

(6) Transportation costs. No seller of industrial lubricating oils or greases shall require any purchaser, and no purchaser shall be permitted, to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery of any industrial lubricating oil or grease, than the seller required purchasers of the same class to pay during March 1942 on deliveries of the same industrial lubricating oil or grease during March 1942. In the case of industrial lubricating oils or greases priced under subparagraph (2) or (4) of this paragraph (e) no seller shall require any purchaser and no purchaser shall be permitted to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery of such industrial oil or grease, than the seller required purchasers of the same class to pay during March 1942 on deliveries of the industrial lubricating oil or grease used as a basis for determining the maximum price of the new industrial lubricating oil or grease.

PART 1381—SOFTWOOD LUMBER

[MPR 290,[1] Amendment 1]

SITKA SPRUCE LUMBER

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1381.451 is amended by adding paragraph (c) and § 1381.452 (b) is amended as set forth below:

(c) The maximum f. o. b. mill prices for shipments originating in Alaska and delivered to points outside the Continental United States shall be the maximum f. o. b. mill prices set forth in Appendix A to which may be added an amount equal to the Maritime Commission's published freight rate from Seattle, Washington to the mill's shipping point, including surcharges, war risk insurance and the published Seattle wharfage and handling rate for comparable lumber. The maximum delivered prices for shipments originating in Alaska shall be the above maximum price plus transportation charges permitted in § 1381.454.

§ 1381.452 To what transactions, products, and persons this regulation applies. • • •

(b) What products are covered. This regulation covers all Sitka spruce (Picea sitchensis) lumber, except aircraft grades as defined in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 109, Aircraft Lumber,* whether the grades, sizes, and specifications are specifically named in the price tables in Appendix A or not. Sitka spruce lumber produced in all parts of the United States, in Canada, and in Alaska, is covered. All grade terms have the meaning given in the Standard Grading and Dressing Rules, Number 11, issued by the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, effective April 1, 1942.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[MPR 165 as Amended,[1] Supp. Service Reg. 8]

POWER LAUNDRIES IN PITTSFIELD AREA

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Supplementary Service Regulation No. 8 has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* For the reasons set forth in that statement and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended and Executive Order No. 9250, Supplementary Service Regulation No. 8 is hereby issued.

§ 1499.658 Power laundries in the Pittsfield area—(a) Dollars-and-cents maximum prices established for services sold by power laundries located in the Pittsfield area. (1) The maximum prices established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended—Services—for the family laundry services specified in Appendix A are modified as hereinafter provided. The maximum prices for family laundry services when sold by power laundries located in the Pittsfield area shall be the prices set forth in Appendix A.

The maximum price of a family laundry service which does not conform exactly to the description of one of the listed family services in Appendix A shall be that of the listed service all of whose specifications are met by the unlisted service. Thus, where an unlisted service offers more elements of laundry service than a particular listed service, but does not meet the specifications of a higher-priced listed service, its maximum price shall be that of the lower-priced listed service.

Power laundries in this area shall continue to accept as wearing apparel and flatwork those articles which customarily have been accepted as such, but may charge for all others at list price. In finished and list price services, starch must be supplied where necessary for proper finishing of wearing apparel (including shirts), unless the customer requests no starch. Handkerchiefs are to be priced and treated as wearing apparel.

(2) The maximum prices established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165, as amended, for commercial flatwork sold by power laundries in the Pittsfield area. The maximum prices in the Pittsfield area for commercial flatwork washed and finished, ready for use shall be 6¢ per pound. All other commercial laundry services shall be governed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended, or other applicable regulation.

(3) Definitions. As used in this supplementary service regulation the term:

"Family laundry services" means all laundry service except those supplied on a commercial or institutional basis.

"Pittsfield area" means the town of Pittsfield, Massachusetts, and is limited to it.

"Power laundries" means all establishments in the Pittsfield area offering laundry services for sale, with the exception of such hand laundries as do not use power machinery to wash laundry.

(4) Posting requirements. Within thirty days after the issuance of this supplementary service regulation, power laundries located in the Pittsfield area and offering family laundry services shall post, each in its own establishment, in a place and manner so that it is plainly visible to the purchasing public, a placard or card containing the maximum prices for the family laundry services set forth in Appendix A to this regulation, and for any other family laundry service, if offered. Also within thirty days after the issuance of this supplementary service regulation, power laundries in this area shall furnish to each customer a statement of the maximum prices of the services offered, with a description of each. In this statement the description of the listed services and their prices shall be exactly as set forth in Appendix A. Thereafter, new customers shall be furnished a similar statement.

(5) Other laundry services rendered by power laundries in the Pittsfield area. The maximum prices for other laundry services rendered by power laundries in the Pittsfield area shall be governed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended, or other applicable regulation.

(6) Prohibition against indirect price increases. A laundry may not refuse to supply any low-priced laundry service which it supplied in March 1942, if it supplies or offers to supply any higher priced service which includes the same or substantially the same processes (with or without additional processes) as the low-priced service; except that a laundry may substitute for any service supplied in March 1942 the service listed in Appendix A of this supplementary service regulation which most closely resembles it in specifications and price.

(7) Less than maximum prices. Lower prices for any of the services covered by this supplementary service regulation may be charged, offered, demanded, or paid.

(8) Appendix A: Maximum prices for family laundry services.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[MPR 165,[1] as Amended; Supp. Service Reg. 9]

POWER LAUNDRIES IN FALL RIVER AREA

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Supplementary Service Regulation No. 9 has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* For the reasons set forth in that statement and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Supplementary Service Regulation No. 9 is hereby issued.

§ 1499.659 Power laundries in the Fall River area—(a) Dollars-and-cents maximum prices established for services sold by power laundries located in the Fall River area. (1) The maximum prices established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended—Services—for family laundry services are modified as hereinafter provided in Appendix A.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

The maximum prices for family laundry services when sold by power laundries in the Fall River area shall be the prices set forth in Appendix A.

The maximum price of a family laundry service which does not conform exactly to the description of one of the listed family services in Appendix A shall be that of the listed service all of whose specifications are met by the unlisted service. Thus, where an unlisted service offers more elements of laundry service than a particular listed service, but does not meet the specifications of a higher-priced listed service, its maximum price shall be that of the lower-priced listed service.

Power laundries in this area shall continue to accept as wearing apparel and flatwork those articles which have customarily been accepted as such, but may charge for all others at list price. In finished and list price services, starch must be supplied where necessary for proper finishing of wearing apparel (including shirts), unless the customer requests no starch. Handkerchiefs are to be priced and treated as wearing apparel.

(2) Definitions. As used in this supplementary service regulation the term:

"Fall River area" means the town of Fall River, Massachusetts, and is limited to it.

"Family laundry services" means all laundry services except those supplied on a commercial or institutional basis.

"Power laundries" means all establishments in the Fall River area offering laundry services for sale, with the exception of such hand laundries as do not use power machinery to wash laundry.

(3) Posting requirements. Within thirty days after the issuance of this supplementary service regulation, power laundries located in the Fall River area and offering family laundry services shall post, each in its own establishment, in a place and manner so that it is plainly visible to the purchasing public, a placard or card containing the maximum prices for the family laundry services set forth in Appendix A to this supplementary service regulation, and for any other family laundry service, if offered. Also within thirty days after the issuance of this supplementary service regulation, power laundries in this area shall furnish to each customer a statement of the maximum prices of the services offered, with a description of each. In this statement the description of the listed services and their prices shall be exactly as set forth in Appendix A. Thereafter, new customers shall be furnished a similar statement.

(4) Other laundry services rendered by power laundries in the Fall River area. The maximum prices for industrial and commercial laundry services rendered by power laundries in the Fall River area shall be governed by Maximmm Price Regulation No. 165 as amended, or other applicable regulation.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[MPR 165,[1] as Amended, Supp. Service Reg. 10]

POWER LAUNDRIES IN WATERBURY-NAUGATUCK AREA

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of Supplementary Service Regulation No. 10 has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[*] For the reasons set forth in that statement and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Supplementary Service Regulation No. 10 is hereby issued.

§ 1499.660 Power laundries in Waterbury-Naugatuck area—(a) Dollar-and-cents maximum prices established for services sold by power laundries located in the Waterbury-Naugatuck area. (1) The maximum prices established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended — Services — for the family laundry services specified in Appendix A are modified as hereinafter provided. The maximum prices for family laundry services when sold by power laundries located in the Waterbury-Naugatuck area shall be the prices set forth in Appendix A.

The maximum price of a family service which does not conform exactly to the description of one of the listed family services in Appendix A shall be that of the listed service all of whose specifications are met by the unlisted service. Thus, where an unlisted service offers more elements of laundry service than a particular listed service, but does not meet the specifications of a higher-priced listed service, its maximum price shall be that of the lower-priced listed service.

Power laundries in this area shall continue to accept as wearing apparel and flatwork those articles which have customarily been accepted as such, but may charge for all others at list price. In finished and list price services, starch must be supplied where necessary for proper finishing of wearing apparel (including shirts), unless the customer requests no starch. Handkerchiefs are to be priced and treated as wearing apparel.

(2) Definitions. As used in this supplementary service regulation the term:

"Family laundry services" means all laundry services except those supplied on a commercial or institutional basis.

"Power laundries" means all establishments in the Waterbury-Naugatuck area offering laundry services for sale, with the exception of such hand laundries as do not use power machinery to wash laundry.

"Waterbury-Naugatuck area" means the towns of Waterbury and Naugatuck, Connecticut, and is limited to them.

(3) Posting requirements. Within thirty days after the issuance of this supplementary service regulation, power laundries located in the Waterbury-Naugatuck area and offering family laundry services shall post, each in its own establishment, in a place and manner so that it is plainly visible to the purchasing public, a placard or card containing the maximum prices for the family laundry services set forth in Appendix A to this supplementary service regulation, and for any other family laundry service, if offered. Also within thirty days after the issuance of this supplementary service regulation, power laundries in this area shall furnish to each customer a statement of the maximum prices of the services offered, with a description of each. In this statement the description of the listed services and their prices shall be exactly as set forth in Appendix A. Thereafter, new customers shall be furnished a similar statement.

(4) Other laundry services rendered by power laundries in the Waterbury-Naugatuck area. The maximum prices for other laundry services rendered by power laundries in the Waterbury-Naugatuck area shall be governed by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended, or other applicable regulation.

(5) Prohibition against indirect price increases. A laundry may not refuse to supply any low-priced laundry service which it supplied in March 1942, if it supplies or offers to supply any higher priced service which includes the same or substantially the same processes (with or without additional processes) as the low-priced services; except that a laundry may substitute for any service supplied in March 1942 the service listed in Appendix A of this supplementary service regulation which most closely resembles it in specifications and price.

(6) Less than maximum prices. Lower prices for each of the family laundry services listed in Appendix A may be charged, offered, demanded, or paid.

(7) Appendix A: Maximum prices for family laundry services.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Restriction Order 1,[1] Amendment 13]

MEAT RESTRICTION

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new § 1407.919a is added to read as set forth below:

§ 1407.919a Allocation orders. (a) The District Manager of the Office of Price Administration or, where there is none, the State Director, having jurisdiction over any meat allocation area, may issue allocation orders requiring any person who is engaged in the business of selling or delivering controlled meat in or from within that area, to deliver any controlled meat, which he has in or brings into the area, to such persons within the area, at such times and in such quantities as the District Manager or the State Director may direct. Such allocation order may be issued only if the District Manager (or State Director) finds it to be in the public interest to do so by reason of the fact that the person to whom the order requires deliveries to be made has been unable to secure a reasonable quantity of controlled meat for delivery or service to consumers and that, as a result, such consumers are unable to acquire a reasonable amount of controlled meat. However, no such order shall require delivery of controlled meat to individual consumers.

(b) Any person to whom an allocation order has been issued under this section shall make deliveries in accordance with the order, notwithstanding the terms of any contract, agreement, or commitment, regardless of when made, and shall make such deliveries at a price not in excess of the applicable maximum price established pursuant to any order of the Office of Price Administration.

(c) An allocation order issued pursuant to this section shall set forth the name and address of the person directed to make delivery; the name and address of the person to whom deliveries are to be made; the type and amount of controlled meat to be delivered; and the date on or before which such deliveries are to be made. An allocation order may be modified or revoked by the District Manager or State Director who issued it.

(d) An allocation order may be personally served on the person to whom it is directed or may be sent by registered mail either to his business address within the area or, if he has none there, to his principal business address. An allocation order shall be effective upon service, or, if mailed, twenty-four hours after mailing, or at such later time as may be specified therein.

(e) No person who fails to comply with an allocation order shall make any deliveries of controlled meat.

(f) The territory located within the State of Rhode Island and within each of the following Districts of the Office of Price Administration shall constitute a meat allocation area:

San Francisco, California.
Los Angeles, California.

This amendment shall become effective February 19, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Amendment 118 to Supp. Reg. 14[1] to GMPR[2]]

PETROLEUM TRANSPORTED BY BARGE ALONG GULF INTRACOASTAL WATERWAY

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new subparagraph (74) is added to paragraph (a) of § 1499.73 as set forth below:

§ 1499.73 Modification of maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of General Maximum Price Regulation for certain commodities, services and transactions. (a) The maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for certain commodities, services, and transactions listed below are modified as hereinafter provided.

* * * * *

(74) Transportation of petroleum and petroleum products, in bulk, by barge along Gulf Intracoastal Waterway—(i) Maximum prices. Maximum prices for the transportation, by carriers other than common carriers, of petroleum and petroleum products in bulk by barge between points on the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway shall continue to be determined under the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, except that the maximum prices for distances of 150 miles or more shall be as follows:

[Rate in mills per net ton per mile]

Distance in miles	Type of service	Minimum, 1,000 barrels	Over 1,000 to 24,000 barrels
150 to, but not including, 200	Towing only	3.70	3.00
	Tugs and barges	5.60	4.50
200 and over	Towing only	3.50	2.80
	Tugs and barges	5.30	4.25

Rules and Regulations

(a) Distances. Distances shall be determined in accordance with the official distance tables of the U. S. Engineers, except that 3 miles shall be added in the case of movements having one terminus east of Canal Street, New Orleans, and the other west of Harvey Canal lock.

(b) Application of rates to cargoes. The rates set forth above are based on the specified minimum cargoes. The maximum charge for cargoes of less than 16,000 barrels shall be the charge for a cargo of 16,000 barrels. The maximum charge for a cargo of over 16,000 barrels but less than 24,000 barrels shall not exceed the charge for a cargo of 24,000 barrels computed at the 24,000-barrel rate.

(c) Wharfage and dockage. The rates set forth above are exclusive of wharfage and dockage.

(d) Tolls and port charges. Canal tollage, lock charges and port charges are included in the rates set forth above for tugs and barges but not in those specified for towing only.

(e) Insurance. The rates set forth above are exclusive of cargo insurance. Insurance on barges is included in the rates set forth above for tugs and barges but not those specified for towing only.

(f) Pumping out by carrier. When cargo is discharged by use of carrier's pumps, an additional charge of ¾¢ per barrel may be made for use of carrier's pump. If the carrier performs discharging service, an additional charge may be added not exceeding the actual cost to the carrier of furnishing such service.

(g) Cleaning of equipment. In the event the shipper does not clean barges which have become dirtied in his service, the carrier may make an additional charge not to exceed the actual cost of any cleaning which may be necessary to make such barges suitable for the transportation of the commodities for which they were suitable when placed in the shipper's service. The carrier may also charge for all time necessary for such cleaning, whether performed by carrier or shipper, at the rates specified below for demurrage. Where cleaning is required to render barges suitable for transportation of the products of a particular shipper, the cost of cleaning shall be paid by the carrier or shipper, as determined by agreement between the parties: Provided, That the amount which may be added to the maximum prices herein specified may not exceed the actual cost of such cleaning.

(h) Demurrage. The rates specified above include free time of 3 hours at loading point and 3 hours at unloading point, and contemplate a loading rate of 2500 barrels per running hour and a discharge rate of 1500 barrels per running hour, day or night, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays not excepted. Demurrage for all additional time may be charged at the rate of $10.00 per running hour or fraction thereof per tug and $2.50 per running hour or fraction thereof per barge.

(i) Additional charge for operating in Gulf of Mexico. When operating conditions on the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway between Panama City and Port St. Joe, Florida, necessitate operation in the Gulf of Mexico, an additional charge may be made of not more than 33¢ per ton when the maximum rate is based on a cargo of 16,000 barrels and 24¢ per ton when the maximum rate is based on a cargo of 24,000 barrels.

(ii) Definitions. As used in this subparagraph (74):

(a) The term "barge" includes all non-self-propelled water craft used for the transportation of petroleum or petroleum products in bulk;

(b) The term "points on the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway" includes all points which are served with barge transportation by use of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway and all points on the Mississippi River south of, and including, North Baton Rouge, Louisiana: Provided, That the provisions of this subparagraph (74) shall not apply to any transportation performed wholly or partially on the Mississippi River north of North Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

(b) Effective dates. * * *

(113) Amendment No. 118 (§ 1499.73 (a)) to Supplementary Regulation No. 14 shall become effective February 19, 1943.

PART 1306—IRON AND STEEL

[RPS 41[1] as Amended February 20, 1943]

STEEL CASTINGS

Sections 1306.100, 1306.102 and 1306.112 are amended and a new paragraph (d) is added to § 1306.110a so that Revised Price Schedule 41 as amended by Amendment 4 shall read as follows:

The production of steel castings plays a critical role in the whole defense program. Steel castings at reasonable prices are essential to the increased flow of machines, tanks, ships, airplanes, guns, and, indeed, every variety of military and naval supplies, from the assembly line to the front line of the nation's defense.

Since January 1, 1941, the prices of steel castings have advanced to a point where a further increase would create pressure to raise the prices of ordnance, transportation equipment, and machinery of every description and cause unwarranted risk to our enlarged defense program in terms of delay and useless expense.

After a thorough investigation of costs and other factors relevant to the production and sale of steel castings and after numerous conferences with representatives of all branches of the steel castings industry, it has been decided in the interest of national defense and the public welfare, to establish maximum prices for steel castings of every description whatever.

Accordingly, under the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 8734, it is hereby directed that:

Sec.

1306.100 Maximum prices for steel castings and railroad specialties.
1306.101 Less than maximum prices.

[2] See definition in § 1306.112 (a).

(b) Railroad specialties. Regardless of any contract or other obligation, no producer shall sell or deliver, and no person shall buy or receive from a producer in the course of trade or business, any railroad specialties at prices higher than the maximum prices established in Appendix B (§ 1306.113) of this revised price schedule, and no producer or person purchasing or proposing to purchase from a producer shall agree, offer or attempt to do any of these things.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 7 (7 F.R. 5176) provides that the prohibition contained in any price regulation against buying or receiving any commodity or service at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by such regulation shall not apply to any war procurement agency, or government whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9894) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 34 (7 F.R. 10779) permits special packing excises to be added to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

§ 1306.101 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in § 1306.112, Appendix A, and § 1306.113, Appendix B, may be charged, paid, or offered.

§ 1306.102 Adjustable pricing. (a) Any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to or at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery.

(b) Where a petition for amendment has been made pursuant to § 1306.108 of this revised price schedule, petitioner, and any person who proposes to purchase or who purchases steel castings or railroad specialties from such producer may offer or agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

§ 1306.103 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in § 1306.100 shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods in connection with a purchase, sale, delivery or transfer of steel castings, alone or in conjunction with any other material, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

§ 1306.104 Filing of prices. On or before December 1, 1941, every producer shall file with the Office of Price Administration the exact and complete price or prices, extras, terms, and conditions, classified by size and quantity, in accordance with which he sold or would have sold on July 15, 1941, steel castings subject to § 1306.112, Appendix A: Provided, That where such price or prices coincide with the "Comprehensive Report" the producer need only signify that such prices do coincide with those listed in said Comprehensive Report: And, provided further, That filing as above is not necessary with respect to obsolete steel castings.

§ 1306.105 Records and reports. Every person making purchases or sales of steel castings after November 15, 1941, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than one year, complete and accurate records of (a) each such purchase or sale, showing the date thereof, the name and address of the buyer or the seller, the price paid or received, and the quantity of each kind purchased or sold, and (b) the quantity of steel castings (1) on hand, and (2) on order, as of the close of each calendar month.

Persons affected by Price Schedule No. 41 shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as it may, from time to time, require.

§ 1306.107 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Revised Price Schedule No. 41 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Revised Price Schedule No. 41, or any price schedule, regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest field or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1306.108 Petitions for amendment, adjustment or exception. (a) The Price Administrator may grant an exception permitting a seller of steel castings or railroad specialties to charge more than the maximum prices set forth in this Revised Price Schedule No. 41 in cases where the seller shows that he must otherwise absorb abnormally high transportation costs by reason of unusual circumstances arising from the emergency demands of the war. In all such cases the petitioner shall submit data indicating why the particular shipment or series of shipments are abnormal and the relation of such shipment or shipments to the war effort. Persons petitioning pursuant to this paragraph may be required to submit such data or reports in regard to any petition or order granting relief hereunder as may be from time to time required by the Price Administrator. Petitions for such exceptions must be filed in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Amendment 2 7 F.R. 4667]

(b) Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Revised Price Schedule No. 41 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

[Paragraph (b) as amended by Supplementary Order 26, 7 F.R. 8948]

[NOTE: Procedural Regulation No. 6 (7 F.R. 5087, 5665) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment of maximum prices for commodities or services under Government contracts or subcontracts. Supplementary Order No. 9 (7 F.R. 5444) makes the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6 applicable to all price regulations, with the exception of those on scrap, waste, and salvage materials.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9819) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

§ 1306.109 Definitions. When used in Revised Price Schedule No. 41, the term:

(a) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Supplementary Order 12, 7 F.R. 6385]

(b) "Producer" means a person engaged in the production of steel castings or railroad specialties;

(c) "Steel castings" means any cast steel object, whether rough or machined, that has been initially cast into the desired shape of the finished product, and which contains less than 1.70% carbon and/or alloys totaling not more than 8%, and includes miscellaneous steel castings and steel castings produced for railroads other than the railroad specialties defined in paragraph (d) below:

[Paragraph (c) as amended by Amendment 3, 7 F.R. 7434]

(d) "Railroad specialties" means any or all side frames, bolsters, yokes and couplers of the types and sizes listed in § 1306.113, Appendix B hereto;

(e) "Comprehensive Report" means the "Comprehensive Report of Price Lists of Miscellaneous Castings," published by the Steel Founders' Society of America, for the third quarter of 1941, beginning July 1, 1941.

(f) "Base territory" means the States of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan (southern peninsula only) and also including Bettendorf, Iowa, and St. Charles and St. Louis, Missouri.

[1] Revised, 7 F.R. 8961.

§ 1306.110 Effective date of Price Schedule No. 41. This Schedule (§§ 1306.100 to 1306.110, inclusive) shall become effective November 15, 1941. [Issued November 14, 1941]

§ 1306.110a Effective dates of amendments.

Amendment Nos. and Issue dates:

	Effective
Amendment 1, 3-12-42	3-16-42
Amendment 2, 6-20-42	6-25-42
Amendment 3, 9-18-42	9-24-42
Amendment 4, 2-20-43	2-26-43

§ 1306.111 Geographical application. The provisions of Price Schedule No. 41 shall apply only to sales, offers to sell, or deliveries of steel castings and railroad specialties moving within, into, or out of one of the 48 states or the District of Columbia.

§ 1306.112 Appendix A: Maximum prices for steel castings. The maximum prices for steel castings are set forth in the following four paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d). These maximum prices are applicable to the actual shipping weights of the castings. The maximum prices established in paragraph (a) shall not supersede any maximum prices which have been submitted to the Office of Price Administration on Form No. 141:4 and approved by the Office of Price Administration prior to February 26, 1943. Otherwise, the maximum prices in paragraph (a) of this Appendix A supersede maximum prices heretofore established for any or all of the classifications listed in Table I (Armor), Table II (Navy), Table III (Ordnance), and Table IV (Ship and Marine) which are set forth at the end of this Appendix A.

(a) Armor, navy, ordnance and ship and marine castings. The term "armor, navy, ordnance and ship and marine castings" means and includes all steel castings of the classifications (including "miscellaneous" classifications) listed in Tables I, II, III, and IV of this Appendix A. The maximum prices for such castings shall be computed as follows:

(1) Weighing one pound or more. Ascertain the applicable classification for the castings in Tables I, II, III or IV; ascertain from the column immediately to the left of the classification the key reference to the applicable price schedule for such classification; refer to the price schedule bearing such key reference, said price schedules appearing either in the Comprehensive Report on pages 74 to 158, inclusive, or where the letter "R"[4] is used in the key reference, in Table V of this Appendix A; the price in such price schedule for the applicable weight and quantity is the maximum price for the rough casting.[5]

(2) Weighing less than one pound. The maximum price each for rough castings shall be the applicable per pound price for an identical quantity of castings of the same classification weighing one to five pounds.[6]

(3) Extras. No charges for extras may be added in respect to the armor casting classifications listed in Table I, except charges for machining and charges where 100% non-destructive examination is specified. The charges for extras listed on pages 64, 65 and 66 of the Comprehensive Report may be added in respect to the navy, ordnance and ship and marine casting classifications listed in Tables II, III and IV where furnished and applicable. No charges for extras other than as above may be added in respect to said navy, ordnance and ship and marine casting classifications, except charges for machining and charges where non-destructive examination is specified.

(4) Transportation charges or allowances. The maximum prices as computed in this paragraph (a) are computed on a delivered basis. Where steel castings are sold or invoiced on an f. o. b. foundry basis there shall be deducted, in ascertaining the maximum price on such basis, the lowest applicable railroad rate from producer's foundry to the point of destination: Provided, That where the purchaser specifies a means of transportation costing in excess of the lowest applicable railroad charges in effect at the time of shipment, the excess may be added.

(5) Quantity differentials. Quantity differentials shall be applicable on the basis of quantities ordered from one pattern at one time. Where patterns are so constructed as to produce two or more dissimilar castings joined together and where the customer orders such combinations of castings shipped in one piece, the number of each separate component casting determines the quantity of each and the prices are based upon the individual weights. Where patterns are so constructed as to produce multiple castings of the same design but cast integrally in one piece the quantity is determined on the basis of the total number of individual castings so joined and the weight of the individual castings is determined by dividing the total weight of the integrated castings by the total number of individual castings so joined.

(6) Pattern charges. Prices are exclusive of pattern equipment or alterations thereof, except in the case of alterations only of any patterns which are to remain the property of the producer. In this exceptional circumstance the prices will be interpreted as including the furnishing by the foundry of the alterations.

(7) N. O. C. B. N. classifications. In any case where an applicable classification in Tables I, II, III or IV is labelled "N. O. C. B. N." the producer, may, in the alternative to using such classification and the applicable price schedule therefor, ascertain his maximum price in accordance with paragraph (d) of this Appendix A.

(b) Industrial steel castings made by a producer on or before July 15, 1941. The term "industrial steel castings" means and includes all steel castings other than armor, navy, ordnance and ship and marine castings. The maximum prices for a producer for industrial steel castings made by such producer on or before July 15, 1941, or for steel castings substantially similar in design and specification thereto, shall be the prices, to-

[4] The letter "R" has been used to designate price schedules in Table V. These price schedules do not appear in the Comprehensive Report. Wherever a key reference contains the letter "R" (for example, "X-11R"), the corresponding price schedule will be found in Table V, not in the Comprehensive Report.

[5] Example: An order is placed for 40 frame castings for diesel engines for the Navy. The shipping weight of these castings is 200 lbs. each. The applicable classification appears at Item No. 5255 in Table II. The key reference to the left of the classification in Table II is "4A-5." Price Schedule "4A-5" is the first price schedule on page 77 of the Comprehensive Report. The applicable price in this price schedule for the weight and quantity is $0.225 per lb.

If the key reference in the above example had been "4A-5R" instead of "4A-5", the corresponding price schedule would be found in Table V rather than in the Comprehensive Report.

[6] Example: An order is placed for 30 valve part (non-pressure) castings for the Navy. The shipping weight of these castings is less than 1 lb. each. The applicable classification appears at Item No. 5391 in Table II. The key reference to the left of the classification in Table II is "2B-6." Price schedule "2B-6" is the first price schedule on page 86 of the Comprehensive Report. The price for 30 castings weighing 1 to 5 lbs. is $0.42 per lb. The applicable price for 30 of the same castings weighing, less than 1 lb. each is $0.42 each.

gether with the extras, terms and conditions which were or customarily would have been charged by such producer on July 15, 1941.

(c) Industrial steel castings other than those in paragraph (b). The maximum prices for such castings shall be computed as follows:

(1) Weighing one pound or more. Ascertain the applicable classification for the casting in the alphabetical index of steel casting classifications appearing on pages 1 to 62, inclusive, of the Comprehensive Report;[1] ascertain from the column immediately to the left of the classification the key reference to the applicable price schedule for such classification; refer to the price schedule bearing such key reference, said schedules appearing in the Comprehensive Report on pages 74 to 158, inclusive; the price in such price schedule for the applicable weight and quantity is the maximum price for the rough casting. The two classifications in the Comprehensive Report, Items 5101 and 5102 on page 25 under title of "Miscellaneous Castings" and the classification, Item 6101, on page 35 under title of "Pressure Castings" are not "applicable classifications" within the meaning of this paragraph (c).

(2) Weighing less than one pound. The maximum prices each for rough castings shall be the applicable per pound price for an identical quantity of castings of the same classification weighing one to five pounds.

(3) Extras. The charges for extras listed on pages 64, 65 and 66 of the Comprehensive Report may be added where furnished and applicable. No charges for extras other than as above, except charges for machining or charges where non-destructive examination is specified, may be added.

(4) Transportation charges or allowances. The maximum prices as computed in this paragraph (c) are computed on a delivered basis. Where steel castings are sold or invoiced on an f. o. b. foundry basis there shall be deducted, in ascertaining the maximum price on such basis the lowest applicable railroad rate from producer's foundry to the point of destination: Provided, That where the purchaser specifies a means of transportation costing in excess of the lowest applicable railroad charges in effect at the time of shipment, the excess may be added.

(5) Quantity differentials. Quantity differentials shall be applicable on the basis of quantities ordered from one pattern at one time. Where patterns are so constructed as to produce two or more dissimilar castings joined together and where the customer orders such combinations of castings shipped in one piece, the number of each separate component casting determines the quantity of each and the prices are based upon the individual weights. Where patterns are so constructed as to produce multiple castings of the same design but cast integrally in one piece the quantity is determined on the basis of the total number of individual castings so joined and the weight of the individual castings is determined by dividing the total weight of the integrated castings by the total number of individual castings so joined.

(6) Pattern charges. Prices are exclusive of pattern equipment or alterations thereof, except (i) in the case of railway car castings when ordered in quantities of 500 or more pieces from one pattern at one time, provided the patterns are and remain the property of the foundry producing them, and (ii) in the case of alterations only of any patterns which are to remain the property of the producer. In these two exceptional circumstances the prices will be interpreted as including the furnishing by the foundry of patterns or alterations thereof as the case may be.

(7) N. O. C. B. N. classifications. In any case where an applicable classification in the Comprehensive Report is labelled "N. O. C. B. N." the producer may, in the alternative to using such classification and the applicable price schedule therefor, ascertain his maximum price in accordance with paragraph (d) of this Appendix A.

(d) Steel castings other than in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c). The maximum prices for such castings shall be determined as follows: The producer shall file with the Iron and Steel Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a cost estimate and proposed maximum selling price for such casting on and pursuant to Form No. 141:4 which proposed maximum selling price shall be approved, or approved subject to such adjustments, conditions, and limitations as the Office of Price Administration may provide, or shall be disapproved, within seven days from the time it is received by said Iron and Steel Branch, and in the event the Office of Price Administration does not send out, in writing, its approval or disapproval within seven days as above, the proposed maximum selling price as filed shall be deemed approved for the proposed sale with respect to which it was stated on Form No. 141:4 to be filed: Provided, That (i) in computing and filling out the items on Form No. 141:4 the cost factors and profit margins used shall be those in effect and prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941 for the producer filing said Form No. 141:4; (ii) where a price for a casting has been approved pursuant to this paragraph for a producer, such producer may submit to the Iron and Steel Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for approval a quantity price differential schedule for such casting, and if approved, such prices shall constitute the maximum prices at which such producer may sell such casting, except that a price schedule so established shall be subject to adjustment or revocation at any time by the Office of Price Administration on 30 days notice in writing to such producer.

[1] The navy classifications Items 5201 to 5393, inclusive, on pages 26–29, the ordnance classifications Items 5501 to 5584, inclusive, on pages 30–31 and the ship and marine classifications Items 8101 to 8162, inclusive, on pages 53–54 are not "applicable classifications" since they are not "industrial steel castings" and since maximum prices for these classifications are established in paragraph (a) of this Appendix A.

§ 1306.113 Appendix B: Maximum prices for railroad specialties. (a) The maximum prices, including extras except as hereinafter provided, for railroad specialties shall be as set forth in Tables I, II, III and IV of this Appendix: Provided, That (1) An additional charge may be made by any producer for any extras furnished by such producer in cases where such extras were customarily charged by railroad specialty producers between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and the maximum amount of any additional charge for any such extra shall be the amount which was customarily charged by railroad specialty producers for the same extra between October 1 and October 15, 1941.

(2) An additional charge may be made by any producer for pattern costs for side-frames and bolsters where such pattern costs were customarily charged by such producer between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and the maximum amount of any additional charge for such pattern costs shall be the amount which customarily was or would have been charged by such producer for the same or similar pattern costs between October 1 and October 15, 1941.

(3) The maximum prices for coupler repair parts furnished by any producer shall be the prices which railroad specialty producers customarily charged therefor between October 1 and October 15, 1941.

(4) Where deliveries are made outside of base territory, there may be added charges for freight prevailing at time of delivery with the customary differential allowed to the purchaser, computed by methods used by the producer on October 1, 1941.

(2) Maximum prices in cents per net ton for shipment by truck or wagon to all destinations for all uses. The maximum prices for shipment by truck or wagon shall be the applicable effective minimum price as of October 1, 1942, plus a sum not exceeding 80 cents per net ton.

(3) Maximum prices in cents per net ton for railroad locomotive fuel except as otherwise specifically provided herein. The maximum prices for all railroad locomotive fuel shall be the applicable effective minimum prices as of October 1, 1942, for all-rail on-line shipments (without adjustments on account of price exceptions and freight differentials, but with application of railroad locomotive fuel Price Instructions A, B, C, D, and E), plus a sum not exceeding 35¢ per net ton: Provided, That the maximum price on screenings (as defined in railroad locomotive fuel Price Instruction C of the Effective Minimum Price Schedule for District No. 10) for all railroad fuel uses for shipment from all mines in Price Groups 12 and 13, shall be the maximum railroad locomotive fuel price for such screenings.

(4) In the event any specific maximum price has been adjusted prior to February 15, 1943, the effective maximum price in such case shall not be determined by reference to sub-paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 above, but must be computed by adding to such adjusted price the following sum:

(A) For the methods of shipment and uses indicated in (1) above; No increase in Size Groups 1 to 8, inclusive; Fifteen (15) cents in Size Groups 9 to 29, inclusive.

(B) For the methods of shipment and uses indicated in (2) above; Ten (10) cents in all size groups.

(C) For use indicated in (3) above; Ten (10) cents.

This amendment shall be effective as of February 20, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 20th day of February 1943.

SEASONAL AND MISCELLANEOUS FOOD COMMODITIES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Sections 1351.954 (a) (1) and 1351.955 (a) (1) are amended; § 1351.959a is added; subparagraph (16) is added to § 1351.965 (a); and three commodities are added to the list in § 1351.969, all to read as set forth below:

§ 1351.954 Maximum prices for listed seasonal food commodities. * * *

(a) * * *

(1) No ingredient or packaging material subject to maximum prices prescribed by the Office of Price Administration shall be included in such costs at higher than the maximum purchase price to said producer. If the maximum purchase price is not a delivered price, the producer may add to this maximum purchase price the actual transportation costs which he incurred from the customary shipping point to his customary receiving point by the customary mode of transportation.

If any producer has heretofore calculated and reported a maximum price under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 262 without including such transportation charges, he may recalculate his maximum price in this respect only and report his recalculated maximum price in accordance with the method of reporting in § 1351.959 within thirty days after the effective date of this amendment.

* * * * *

§ 1351.955 Maximum prices for listed miscellaneous food commodities. * * *

(a) * * *

(1) He shall include in such cost every ingredient or packaging material subject to maximum prices prescribed by the Office of Price Administration at the maximum price established for the commodity for the class of purchasers to which he belongs. If the maximum price is not a delivered price, the producer may add to this maximum price the actual transportation costs which he incurs from the customary shipping point to his customary receiving point by the customary mode of transportation.

If any producer has heretofore calculated and reported his maximum price under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 262 without including such transportation charges, he may recalculate his maximum price in this respect only and report his recalculated maximum price in accordance with the method of reporting in § 1351.959 within thirty days after the effective date of this amendment.

* Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

If the producer does recalculate and report a new maximum price, he shall also give new notices under § 1351.957, except that the 90-day period referred to therein shall be from and after the effective date of this amendment.

* * * * *

§ 1351.959a Time limits where commodities are included by amendment. (a) Whenever a commodity is included in this regulation by amendment on or after February 26, 1943, the producer of the commodity shall, within thirty days after the effective date of the amendment adding such commodity, calculate and report his maximum prices determined under the regulation to the Office of Price Administration at Washington, D. C., in accordance with the method of reporting set forth in § 1351.959. Unless this is done the producer cannot sell the commodity at all after said thirty-day period until he does calculate and report his prices as required. After a producer has calculated and reported his maximum prices under the regulation as amended after December 31, 1942, the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries by him of the commodity added by amendment; and thirty days after the effective date of such amendment, the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries by producers of such commodity.

(b) Wherever in the preceding sections the words "effective date of this regulation" appear they shall read "effective date of this amendment" as applied to any commodity included in the regulation by amendment.

(c) The time within which maximum prices shall be calculated and reported for any commodity heretofore added to this regulation by amendment subsequent to December 31, 1942, shall be thirty days after the effective date of this present amendment, and this time limit shall have like effect and significance as to any such commodity as December 31, 1942, had in §§ 1351.951, 1351.952, 1351.953 and 1351.959 in reference to the initial commodities subject to this regulation prior to any amendment.

(16) "Canned homestyle chicken" means either whole chicken or any combination of the various parts of chicken with skin and broth purified by heat and packed in hermetically sealed containers.

* * * * *

Canned chicken a la king
Canned chicken and noodle dinner
Canned homestyle chicken

PART 1361—FARM EQUIPMENT

[MPR 133,[1] Amendment 4]

RETAIL PRICES FOR FARM EQUIPMENT

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[*]

Paragraph (a) of § 1361.3a is amended, and a new paragraph (e) is added to § 1361.3a, as set forth below:

Farm tractors (except crawler tractors)
Combines
Corn pickers
Corn binders
Hay balers (motor or tractor operated)
A combination of any of the above listed items with other items of farm equipment specifically designed for mounting thereon, provided the combination is sold as a unit.

(2) The "base price" is the first of the following which is available:

(i) The manufacturer's suggested retail price for the same item of equipment f. o. b. factory which is currently in effect or if there is no such price currently in effect, the manufacturer's suggested retail price last issued; or

(ii) If the item of equipment has no manufacturer's current suggested retail price and never had any, the maximum price for which the same or nearest equivalent item might be sold new by any dealer in the locality, minus carload freight from the plant of the manufacturer thereof.

(3) In the case of a combination sale referred to in subparagraph (1), the maximum price for the unit shall be equal to the sum of the maximum prices of each of the items of farm equipment sold as part of the unit.

* * * * *

(e) Prohibition against joint sales of used farm equipment and other items. Except as provided in paragraph (a) (1) of this section, each item of used farm equipment listed in paragraph (a) (1) shall be sold separately and

(1) No retail dealer, service dealer, or any other person shall sell or negotiate the sale of any item of used farm equipment listed in paragraph (a) (1) of this section jointly with another item of farm equipment, whether or not listed in paragraph (a) (1), or with any other commodity for a lump sum; and

(2) No retail dealer, service dealer, or any other person shall sell or negotiate the sale of any item of used farm equipment not listed in paragraph (a) (1) or any other commodity with the understanding that such purchase carries an option to purchase an item of used farm equipment listed in paragraph (a) (1).

This amendment shall become effective February 26, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 292 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

LUDLOW MANUFACTURING AND SALES COMPANY

Ludlow Manufacturing and Sales Company, 211 Congress Street, Boston, Massachusetts, made application under § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation for approval of a maximum price for its hemp webbing. Due consideration has been given to the application and an opinion in support of this order has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register. For the reasons set forth in the opinion, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued by the Office of Price Administration, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1728 Approval of maximum price for sales of hemp webbing by Ludlow Manufacturing and Sales Company. (a) On and after February 22, 1943, the maximum price at which Ludlow Manufacturing and Sales Company of 211 Congress Street, Boston, Massachusetts, may sell, deliver and offer for sale its 3½ inch hemp webbing shall be $3.78 per 71 yard cut.

(b) The maximum price enumerated herein for hemp webbing shall be subject to discounts and allowances no less favorable to the purchaser than those offered during March 1942 by Ludlow Manufacturing and Sales Company on sales of its 3½ inch jute webbing.

(c) The maximum prices authorized by this order shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(d) This Order No. 292 may be amended or revoked by the Office of Price Administration at any time.

This Order No. 292 shall become effective February 22, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 293 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

NATIONAL TITLE CO.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1729 Maximum prices for parts of a new fireplace grate manufactured by the National Tile Company, Inc. (a) This Order No. 293 sets temporary maximum prices for sales of parts of the new fireplace grates manufactured from substitute materials by the National Tile Company, Inc., Anderson, Indiana. It applies only to the parts which have been described in an application submitted by the manufacturer to the Office of Price Administration. The order is temporary. No sales or deliveries may be made under its authority after the first day of April, 1943.

Listed below are the maximum prices for sales by the manufacturer, wholesalers and retailers.

Name of part	Factory to jobber price	Factory to retailer price	Wholesale price	Retail price
Ends	$1.24	$1.38	$1.65	$2.48
Center	1.33	1.46	1.77	2.67
Front grilles	.38	.42	.51	.77
Side grilles	.35	.39	.47	.70
Bottom grilles	.46	.51	.54	.92
Front rails	.27	.30	.37	.55
Rear rails	.23	.26	.30	.46
Cross	.05	.06	.07	.10

(1) The price listed under "Factory to jobber" in the above table is the maximum price for sales by the manufacturer to wholesalers or jobbers. The price is f. o. b. factory.

(2) The price listed under "Factory to retailer" in the above table is the maximum price for sales by the manufacturer to retailers. The price is f. o. b. factory.

(3) The price listed under "Wholesale price" in the above table is the maximum price for sales at wholesale by a person other than the manufacturer. The price is f. o. b. the seller's city.

(4) The price listed under "Retail price" in the above table is the maximum price for sales at retail.

(b) Before delivery of any part to a purchaser for resale, the manufacturer shall attach a tag or label which plainly states the retail ceiling price of the part. For example, a statement in the following form on a front grille would be sufficient: "Retail ceiling price 77 cents." The tag or label shall not be detached until after the part has been delivered to the consumer.

(c) At or before the time of first delivery after the effective date of this order, the manufacturer shall notify in writing every person who buys from him of the maximum prices set by this order No. 293 for resales by the purchaser. This written notice may be given in any convenient manner; for example, it may be shown on or attached to the invoice, or packed with the merchandise.

(d) This Order No. 293 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(e) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in § 1499.20 of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to terms used herein.

(f) This Order No. 293 (§ 1499.1729) shall become effective on the 22d day of February, 1943 and shall terminate on the first day of April, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 203 Under § 1499.18 (b) of GMPR]

THE LEGIONNAIRE COMPANY

Order No. 203 Under § 1499.18 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation—Docket No. GF3-843.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1803 Adjustment of maximum prices for Flightex-cloth shirts manufactured by the Legionnaire Company for the American Legion. (a) The Legionnaire Company of Boston, Massachusetts may sell and deliver, and the American Legion may buy and receive from the Legionnaire Company the following commodities at prices not higher than those set forth below:

(1) $31.42 per dozen for white Flightex-cloth shirts manufactured by the Legionnaire Company for the American Legion, having the same specifications as to quality of fabrics and trimmings, standards of construction and garment dimensions, as those for which the Legionnaire Company established $25.42 per dozen as its maximum price under § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(2) $32.92 per dozen for blue Flightex-cloth shirts manufactured by the Legionnaire Company for the American Legion, having the same specifications as to quality of fabrics and trimmings, standards of construction and garment dimensions, as those for which the Legionnaire Company established $26.92 per dozen as its maximum price under § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(b) The adjustment granted to the Legionnaire Company in paragraph (a) is subject to the following conditions:

(1) This adjustment shall apply only to sales by the Legionnaire Company to the American Legion.

(2) All discounts, trade practices, and all practices relating to shipping and shipping charges in effect in March 1942, shall be applicable to the maximum prices set forth in paragraph (a) hereof.

(3) The Legionnaire Company shall mail to the American Legion a notice reading as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has permitted us to raise our maximum prices for sales to you of our Flightex-cloth shirts from $25.42 to $31.42 per dozen for the white shirts, and from $26.92 to $32.92 per dozen for the blue shirts. These amounts represent only that part of cost increases which we were unable to absorb, and the new maximum prices conform to the prices agreed on in the contract between this company and the American Legion, dated February 20, 1942. The Office of Price Administration has established $2.88 each for the white shirts and $3.00 each for the blue shirts as the maximum prices at which you may sell these shirts.

(c) American Legion may not charge for the shirts (without emblems or insignia) specified in paragraph (a) of this section a price in excess of $2.88 each for the white shirts and $3.00 each for the blue shirts.

(d) All prayers of the application not granted herein are denied.

(e) This Order No. 203 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) This Order No. 203 is hereby incorporated as a section of Supplementary Regulation No. 14 which contains modifications of maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(g) This Order No. 203 shall become effective February 22, 1943.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 13,[1] Amendment 1]

PROCESSED FOODS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 13 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1.1 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) The following foods called "processed foods", are covered by this order:

(1) All fruits, fruit juices, vegetables, vegetable juices, soups, and baby foods, packed in hermetically sealed containers of any type and sterilized by the use of heat;

(2) All frozen fruits and vegetables;

(3) All dried and dehydrated fruits and soups;

(4) All dry beans, lentils, and peas.

The only foods in the above group which are not covered by this order are: candied fruits; brandied fruits; cereals; chili con carne; fruit cakes; fruit puddings; mince meat; bouillon cubes; milk; olives; maraschino cherries; potato salad; popcorn; nuts and nut meats; frozen fruits and vegetables in containers over ten (10) pounds; fruit and vegetable juices in containers over one (1) gallon; jams, jellies, marmalades, fruit butters, and other similar preserves; meat stews containing some vegetables; fruit drinks containing 50% or less by weight of natural fruit juices; prepared spaghetti, macaroni, noodles or similar paste products packed in hermetically sealed containers even if mixed or combined with added vegetable sauces; pickles and relishes, including pickled watermelon, cocktail onions, cocktail mushrooms, cocktail oranges, and other similar pickled specialties; and by-products of fruits or vegetables, such as soya bean oil, soya bean milk, fruit and vegetable dyes, and similar products. The foods not covered by this order are not "processed foods" as that term is used.

2. Section 3.1 (a) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) A person produces processed foods:

(i) If he bottles, cans, or packs fruits, fruit juices, vegetables, vegetable juices, soups, or baby foods, in hermetically sealed containers and sterilizes them by the use of heat; or

(ii) If he packs and freezes fruits or vegetables in containers of ten (10) pounds or less; or

(iii) If he sorts, washes, and dries or dehydrates fruits; or

(iv) If he packs frozen fruits or vegetables from containers over ten (10) pounds into containers of ten (10) pounds or less; or

(v) If he packs fruit or vegetable juices from containers over one (1) gallon into hermetically sealed containers of one (1) gallon or less and sterilizes them by the use of heat; or

(vi) If he sorts, washes, and cleans dry beans, lentils, or peas; or

(vii) If he packages dried or dehydrated vegetables or meat stocks whether or not in combination with noodles or other similar paste products, for use as a dried soup or soup base; or

(viii) If he uses processed foods to produce other processed foods (as, if he uses canned peaches to make canned fruit salad).

[NOTE: Not all items in the above groups are processed foods as that term is defined. For example, fruit and vegetable juices packed in containers over one (1) gallon are not processed foods. Canned olives are not processed foods. Therefore, a person who packs fruit juices in containers over one (1) gallon, or who cans or bottles olives, does not thereby produce a processed food.]

3. Section 21.1 (a) (10) is amended to read as follows:

(10) "Processed foods" means:

(i) All fruits, fruit juices, vegetables, vegetable juices, soups, and baby foods, packed in hermetically sealed containers of any type and sterilized by the use of heat;

(ii) All frozen fruits and vegetables;

(iii) All dried and dehydrated fruits and soups;

(iv) All dry beans, lentils, and peas.

The only foods in the above group which are not covered by this Order are: candied fruits; brandied fruits; cereals; chili con carne; fruit cakes; fruit puddings; mince meat; bouillon cubes; milk; olives; maraschino cherries; potato salad; popcorn; nuts and nut meats; frozen fruits and vegetables in containers over ten (10) pounds; fruit and vegetable juices in containers over one (1) gallon; jams, jellies, marmalades, fruit butters, and other similar preserves; meat stews containing some vegetables; fruit drinks containing 50% or less by weight of natural fruit juices; prepared spaghetti, macaroni, noodles or similar paste products packed in hermetically sealed containers even if mixed or combined with added vegetable sauces; pickles and relishes, including pickled watermelon, cocktail onions, cocktail mushrooms, cocktail oranges, and other similar pickled specialties; and by-products of fruit or vegetables, such as soya bean oil, soya bean milk, fruit and vegetable dyes, and similar products. The foods not covered by this order are not "processed foods" as that term is used.

4. Section 21.1 (a) (12) is amended to read as follows:

(12) "Processor establishment" means any place where a "person" produces "processed foods" for sale or "transfer". A person is considered to "produce" if he:

(i) Bottles, cans or packs fruits, fruit juices, vegetables, vegetable juices, soups, or baby foods in hermetically sealed containers and sterilizes them by the use of heat; or

(ii) Packs and freezes fruits or vegetables in containers of ten (10) pounds or less; or

(iii) Sorts, washes, and processes dried or dehydrated fruits; or

(iv) Packs frozen fruits or vegetables from containers over ten (10) pounds into containers of ten (10) pounds or less; or

(v) Packs fruit or vegetable juices from containers over one (1) gallon into containers of one (1) gallon or less; or

(vi) Sorts, washes, and cleans, dry beans, lentils, or peas; or

(viii) Uses processed foods to make other processed foods. The term "processor establishment" also means any place to which a person imports processed foods into the United States, from any place outside the United States, for sale or transfer. It also includes a place at which a person does not produce or import processed foods, if he regularly keeps there, for sale or transfer, only processed foods which he himself produced or imported. Finally, there is one case in which a place where a person keeps stocks of processed foods produced or imported by someone else is a processor establishment. If he keeps those stocks at that place just to use them to produce other processed foods, that place is a processor establishment.

This amendment shall become effective 12:01 a. m. February 21, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Rev. Order 130 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

A. HUBBARD & SON, INC.

Section 1499.993 is amended to read as set forth below.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.993 Approval of maximum prices for sales of Old Mother Hubbard New Dry Vitaminized Cat Food. (a) A. Hubbard & Son, Inc., of Gloucester, Massachusetts, as producer, may sell and deliver, and any person may buy and receive from A. Hubbard & Son, Inc., Old Mother Hubbard New Dry Vitaminized Cat Food packed in 8-oz. bags at prices not exceeding 51 cents per dozen bags, delivered. This maximum price is only authorized for Old Mother Hubbard New Dry Vitaminized Cat Food when made according to the formula used by A. Hubbard & Son, Inc. in connection with its application for this order.

(b) No increase in the maximum price authorized by the previous paragraph may be made by any seller of Old Mother Hubbard New Dry Vitaminized Cat Food except by Old Mother Hubbard Dog Food Company, Inc. and by a seller at wholesale or retail.

(c) The maximum delivered price which Old Mother Hubbard Dog Food Company Inc. shall charge for Old Mother Hubbard New Dry Vitaminized Cat Food in a sale to any person delivered at a warehouse shall be 78 cents per dozen 8-oz. bags and in a sale to any other person shall be 83 cents per dozen 8-oz. bags.

(d) The maximum delivered price which a seller at wholesale (other than Old Mother Hubbard Dog Food Company, Inc.) shall charge in a sale to any person shall be 83 cents per dozen 8-oz. bags.

(e) The maximum delivered price which a seller at retail shall charge shall be 10 cents per 8-oz. bag.

(f) The maximum prices authorized by this order shall be subject to discounts, allowances and terms no less favorable than those in effect during March 1942 with respect to Old Mother Hubbard Canned Cat Food (or such earlier date upon which Old Mother Hubbard Canned Cat Food was last sold) and shall include duties, brokerage, advertising, storage, insurance, carrying and handling charges and charges for the extension of credit.

(g) Records. Every person making a purchase or sale of Old Mother Hubbard New Dry Vitaminized Cat Food in the course of trade or business, except a seller at retail, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 remains in effect, complete and accurate records of each such purchase and sale including (1) the date thereof, (2) the name and address of the purchaser, (3) the price charged and (4) the amount sold. Sellers at retail are not required to keep records of sales at retail but shall keep all invoices and notices received with the purchase of each shipping unit.

(h) On and after February 20, 1943, and on or before the time of first delivery of Old Mother Hubbard New Dry Vitaminized Cat Food to any person for purposes of resale the seller shall supply the buyer with a written statement, and also include or attach to each shipping unit of Old Mother Hubbard New Dry Vitaminized Cat Food a copy of such statement, which shall read as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has authorized a ceiling price for Old Mother Hubbard New Dry Vitaminized Cat Food. You are authorized to establish your ceiling price as follows:

(1) In a sale at wholesale you may charge 83 cents for each shipping case of twelve—8-oz. bags, delivered.

(2) In a sale at retail you may charge $1.20 for each shipping case of twelve 8 oz. bags, or 10 cents per 8-oz. bag, delivered.

If the first sale made by a wholesaler or retailer is a split case sale the wholesaler is required to supply the retailer with a copy of this notice. The Office of Price Administration requires that you keep this notice and all invoices for examination.

(i) All provisions of this order shall apply with like force and effect to the type of cat food previously produced (but not to any hereafter produced) by Old Mother Hubbard Dog Food Company Inc. which is like Old Mother Hubbard New Dry Vitaminized Cat Food.

(j) This Revised Order No. 130 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(k) This Revised Order No. 130 (§ 1499.993) shall become effective February 20, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 20th day of February 1943.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

Bituminous Coal Division.

[Docket No. B-364]

RIO GRANDE COAL CO.

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

In the matter of E. K. Olson, W. F. Olson, Francis Bradley and Mrs. George M. Hansen, individually and as partners, doing business under the name and style of Rio Grande Coal Company, code member.

A. Under provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act"), district boards are authorized in appropriate cases to file complaints of violations of the Act, the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code") and rules and regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division").

B. The Division on September 29, 1942, referred to District Board No. 20 information in its possession bearing on whether violations of the Act, the Code and orders, rules and regulations thereunder have been committed by E. K. Olson, W. F. Olson, Francis Bradley and Mrs. George M. Hansen, individually and as partners, doing business under the name and style of Rio Grande Coal Company, whose code membership became effective as of June 22, 1937, operator of the Rio Grande [redacted] Mine Index No. 18, located in Carbon County, Utah, Subdistrict No. 1 of District No. 20 in connection with the following:

1. Section 4 II (e) and (g) of the Act and Part II (c) and (g) of the Code. Sales and delivery by truck of coal produced at the aforesaid mine below the effective minimum price established therefor in the schedule of effective minimum prices for District No. 20 for all shipments plus an amount at least equal as nearly as practicable to the actual transportation, handling and incidental charges from the transportation facilities at the mine to the place from which all such charges were assumed and directly paid by the purchasers as required by Price Instruction and Exception No. 12 as amended and contained in Supplement No. 1 to the aforesaid schedule, including sales to the War Department, United States Government, during the period January 20, 1941 to March 31, 1941, both dates inclusive, for delivery to various C. C. C. Camps, of approximately 1446.97 net tons of 3" lump coal (Size Group No. 3) at delivered prices ranging from $4.25 to $9.00 per net ton, which were less than the effective minimum f. o. b. mine price of $3.24 per net ton, as set forth in the aforesaid schedule, plus the amount required to be added by said Price Instruction and Exception No. 12.

2. Section 4 II (e) and (g) of the Act and Part II (c) and (g) of the Code. Sales and delivery of coal purchased from Carl Nyman, a code member, which was produced at his National Mine, Mine Index No. 179, below the effective minimum price established therefor in said schedule of effective minimum prices, plus an amount at least equal as nearly as practicable to the actual transportation, handling and incidental charges from the transportation facilities at the mine to the place from which all such charges were assumed and directly paid by the purchasers, as required by said Price Instruction and Exception No. 12, including sales to the War Department, United States Government, during the period January 20, 1941 to March 31, 1941, both dates inclusive, for delivery to various C. C. C. Camps, of approximately 550.16 net tons of 3" lump coal (Size Group No. 3) at delivered prices ranging from $4.75 to $6.00 per net ton which were less than the effective minimum f. o. b. mine price for said coal of $3.34 per net ton as set forth in the aforesaid schedule, plus the amount required to be added by said Price Instruction and Exception No. 12 of said schedule.

3. Order No. 14 and Rule 17 of section VI of the marketing rules and regula- tions. Failure to file with the Statistical Bureau for District No. 20 a copy of the contract for the sale of the coal referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 hereinabove as required by Order No. 14 of the National Bituminous Coal Commission dated July 15, 1937 and adopted by order of the Bituminous Coal Division dated July 1, 1939 and Rule 7 of section VI of the marketing rules and regulations.

4. Rules 1 and 2 of section VIII of the marketing rules and regulations. Sales of the coal referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 hereinabove on the basis of an analysis without a report of such analysis having been filed with the Statistical Bureau for District No. 20 and the District Board for District No. 20 as required by said rules.

C. By letter dated December 21, 1942 the Division notified said Board that unless it took action in this matter within fifteen days from the date of said notification, the Division would take such action in lieu of the Board as it deemed to be appropriate.

D. District Board No. 20 has not taken any action in this matter.

E. Section 6 (a) of the Act, provides in part that in the event a district board shall fail for any reason to take action authorized or required by this section, then the Division may take such action in lieu of the district board.

F. District Board No. 20 having failed to take action as authorized or required by the Act on the matters hereinbefore described, the Division finds it necessary in the proper administration of the Act to take action thereon in lieu of the board, as in this notice of and order for hearing provided, pursuant to section 6 (a) and other pertinent provisions of the Act for the purpose of determining:

1. Whether the code member has willfully violated section 4 II (e) and (g) of the Act; Part II (e) and (g) of the Code; Order of the Division No. 14 dated July 15, 1937; Rule 7 of section VI and Rules 1 and 2 of section VIII of the marketing rules and regulations; and

2. Whether in the event the code member is found to have violated the Act and the Code and rules and regulations thereunder an order should be entered revoking the code membership of the code member or directing the code member to cease and desist from violating the Act, the Code and rules and regulations thereunder.

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, That a hearing, pursuant to sections 4 II (j), 5 (b) and 6 (a) and other pertinent provisions of the Act be held on April 2, 1943, at 10 a. m., at a hearing room of the Division at the County Court Room, Price, Utah, to determine whether the aforementioned code member has committed the violations in the respects heretofore described and whether the code membership of said code member should be revoked or an order entered directing the code member to cease and desist from violating the Act, the Code and rules and regulations of the Division thereunder.

It is further ordered, That D. C. McCurtain, or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time and to such places as he may direct by announcement at said hearing or any adjourned hearing, or by subsequent notice, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to said code member and to all other parties herein and to all persons or entities having an interest in such proceeding. Any person or entity eligible under § 301.123 of the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to sections 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Act may file a petition for intervention not later than five (5) days before the date set for hearing herein.

Notice is hereby given that answer setting forth the position of the code member with reference to the matters hereinbefore described must be filed with the Division at its Washington Office or with one of the Statistical Bureaus of the Division within twenty (20) days after the service of a copy hereof on the code member; and that any failure to file an answer within such period, unless otherwise ordered, shall be deemed to be an admission by the code member of the commission of the violations hereinbefore described and a consent to the entry of an appropriate order thereon.

Notice is also hereby given that any application, pursuant to § 301.132 of said rules of practice and procedure before the Division for the disposition of this proceeding without formal hearing must be filed not later than fifteen (15) days after receipt by the code member of this notice of and order for hearing.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and orders entered therein may concern, in addition to the charges specifically alleged herein, other matters incidental and related thereto, whether raised by amendment, petition for intervention, or otherwise, and all persons are cautioned to be guided accordingly.

Dated: February 19, 1943.

[Docket No. B-365]

R. GLENN DAVIS

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

A. Under provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act"), district boards are authorized in appropriate cases to file complaints of violations of the Act, the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code") and the rules and regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division").

B. The Division, on September 21, 1942, referred to District Board No. 20 information in its possession bearing on whether violations of the Act, the Code and orders, rules and regulations thereunder, and particularly section 4 II (e) of the Act, Part II (e) of the Code and Rule 1 of section III of the marketing rules and regulations, have been committed by R. Glenn Davis, the code member above-named, whose code membership became effective as of August 1 1941, operator of the Castle Valley Fuel Mine, Mine Index No. 29, formerly operated by the Castle Valley Fuel Company as the Burn Bright Mine, located in Emery County, Utah, Subdistrict No. 1 of District No. 20 in connection with sales of coal produced at the aforesaid mine and allowing unauthorized discounts from the effective minimum prices therefor as set forth in the schedule of effective minimum prices for District No. 20 on all shipments, including the following:

1. Sales on or about August 21, 1941 and September 4, 1941, to the Castle Valley Fuel Company, Salt Lake City, Utah (an unregistered distributor) for resale and which was resold to the Cooperative Fuel and Lumber Association, Wilder, Idaho, of approximately 99.29 net tons of 3" lump coal (Size Group No. 3) at the effective minimum price of $3.65 per net ton f. o. b. said mine and allowing unauthorized discounts of 25 cents per net ton from said sales price;

2. Sales during the period October 10, 1941 to January 26, 1942, both dates inclusive, to said Castle Valley Fuel Company for resale and which was resold to said Cooperative Fuel and Lumber Association, of approximately 296.24 net tons of 1⅝" lump coal (Size Group No. 4) at the effective minimum price of $3.45 per net ton f. o. b. said mine and allowing unauthorized discounts of 25 cents per net ton from said sales price; and

3. Sales on or about January 23, 1942, to said Castle Valley Fuel Company for resale and which was resold to said Cooperative Fuel and Lumber Association, of approximately 30.15 net tons of 1⅝" x 1" pea coal (Size Group No. 8) at the effective minimum price of $2.25 per net ton f. o. b. said mine and allowing unauthorized discounts of 12 cents per net ton from said sales price.

C. By letter dated December 21, 1942 the Division notified said Board that unless it took action in this matter within fifteen days from the date of said notification, the Division would take such action in lieu of the district board as it deemed to be appropriate.

D. District Board No. 20 has not taken any action in this matter.

E. Section 6 (a) of the Act provides in part that in the event a district board shall fail for any reason to take action authorized or required by this section, then the Division may take such action in lieu of the district board.

F. District Board No. 20 having failed to take action as authorized or required by the Act on the matters hereinbefore described, the Division finds it necessary in the proper administration of the Act to take action thereon in lieu of the board as in this notice of and order for hearing provided, pursuant to section 6 (a) and other pertinent provisions of the Act, for the purpose of determining

1. Whether the code member has willfully violated section 4 II (e) of the Act, Part II (e) of the Code and Rule 1 of section III of the marketing rules and regulations; and

2. Whether, in the event the code member is found to have violated the Act and the Code and the rules and regulations thereunder, an order should be entered revoking the code membership of R. Glenn Davis, code member, or directing said code member to cease and desist from violating the Act, the Code and rules and regulations thereunder.

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, That a hearing, pursuant to sections 4 II (j), 5 (b) and 6 (a) and other pertinent provisions of the Act be held on April 1, 1943, at 10 a. m., at a hearing room of the Division at the Courtroom, Price, Utah, to determine whether the aforementioned code member has committed the violations in the respects heretofore described and whether the code membership of said code member should be revoked or an order entered directing the code member to cease and desist from violating the Act, the Code and rules and regulations of the Division thereunder.

It is further ordered, That D. C. McCurtain, or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time and to such places as he may direct by announcement at said hearing or any adjourned hearing, or by subsequent notice, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to said code member and to all other parties herein and to all persons or entities having an interest in such proceeding. Any person or entity eligible under § 301.123 of the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the division in proceedings instituted pursuant to sections 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Act may file a petition for intervention not later than five (5) days before the date set for hearing herein.

Notice is hereby given that answer setting forth the position of the code member with reference to the matters hereinbefore described must be filed with the Division at its Washington Office or with one of the Statistical Bureaus of the Division within twenty (20) days after the service of a copy hereof on the code member; and that any failure to file an answer within such period, unless otherwise ordered, shall be deemed to be an admission by the code member of the commission of the violations hereinbefore described and a consent to the entry of an appropriate order thereon.

Notice is also hereby given that any application, pursuant to § 301.132 of said rules of practice and procedure before the Division for the disposition of this proceeding without formal hearing must be filed not later than fifteen (15) days after receipt by the code member of this notice of and order for hearing.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and orders entered therein may concern, in addition to the charges specifically alleged herein, other matters incidental and related thereto, whether raised by amendment, petition for intervention, or otherwise, and all persons are cautioned to be guided accordingly.

Dated: February 19, 1943.

[Docket No. B-366]

CARL NYMAN

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

A. Under provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act"), district boards are authorized in appropriate cases to file complaints of violations of the Act, the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code") and the rules and regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division").

B. The Division, on October 2, 1942, referred to District Board No. 20 information in its possession bearing on whether violations of the Act, the Code and orders, rules and regulations thereunder, and particularly section 4 II (e) and (g) of the Act and Part II (e) and (g) of the Code, have been committed by Carl Nyman, the code member above named, whose code membership became effective as of November 5, 1940, operator of the National Mine, Mine Index No. 179, located in Carbon County, Utah, Subdistrict No. 1 of District No. 20 in connection with sales of coal produced at the aforesaid mine and delivery of same by truck and by rail combined, below the applicable effective minimum prices therefor as set forth in Appendix III to the schedule of effective minimum prices for District No. 20 for all shipments plus an amount at least equal to the transportation, handling and incidental charges from the transportation facilities at the mine to the points from which such charges were assumed and directly paid by the purchasers as required by Price Instruction and Exception No. 12 as amended and contained in Supplement No. 1 to said schedule, including sales during the period December 26, 1941 to February 13, 1942, both dates inclusive, of approximately 340.90 net tons of 3" x 1⅝" nut coal (Size Group No. 7) to the United States Army and delivery of same to various C. C. C. camps located in Idaho, Nevada, Oregon and California at delivered prices ranging from $7.74 to $11.30 per net ton, which were less than the effective minimum f. o. b. mine price for said coal of $2.64 per net ton, plus the amount required to be added by said Price Instruction and Exception No. 12.

C. By letter dated December 21, 1942 the Division notified said board that unless it took action in this matter within fifteen days from the date of said notification the Division would take such action in lieu of the District Board as it deemed appropriate.

D. District Board No. 20 has not taken any action in this matter.

E. Section 6 (a) of the Act provides in part that in the event a district board shall fail for any reason to take action authorized or required by this section, then the Division may take such action in lieu of the district board.

F. District Board No. 20 having failed to take action as authorized or required by the Act on the matters hereinbefore described, the Division finds it necessary in the proper administration of the Act to take action thereon in lieu of the board as in this Notice of and Order for Hearing provided, pursuant to section 6 (a) and other pertinent provisions of the Act, for the purpose of determining

1. Whether the code member has willfully violated section 4 II (e) and (g) of the Act and Part II (e) and (g) of the Code; and

2. Whether, in the event the code member is found to have violated the Act and the Code and the rules and regulations thereunder, an order should be entered revoking the code membership of Carl Nyman, code member, or directing said code member to cease and desist from violating the Act, the Code and rules and regulations thereunder.

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, That a hearing, pursuant to sections 4 II (j), 5 (b) and 6 (a) and other pertinent provisions of the Act to be held on April 5, 1943, at 10 a. m., at a hearing room of the Division at the County Court Room, Price, Utah, to determine whether the aforementioned code member has committed the violations in the respects heretobefore described and whether the code membership of said code member should be revoked or an order entered directing the code member to cease and desist from violating the Act, the Code and rules and regulations of the Division thereunder.

It is further ordered, That D. C. McCurtain, or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time and to such places as he may direct by announcement at said hearing or any adjourned hearing, or by subsequent notice, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to said code member and to all other parties herein and to all persons or entities having an interest in such proceeding. Any person or entity eligible under § 301.123 of the rules and regulations governing practice and procedure before the Division in proceedings instituted pursuant to sections 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Act may file a petition for intervention not later than five (5) days before the date set for hearing herein.

Notice is hereby given that answer setting forth the position of the code member with reference to the matters hereinbefore described must be filed with the Division at its Washington Office or with one of the Statistical Bureaus of the Division within twenty (20) days after the service of a copy hereof on the code member; and that any failure to file an answer within such period, unless otherwise ordered, shall be deemed to be an admission by the code member of the commission of the violations hereinbefore described and a consent to the entry of an appropriate order thereon.

Notice is also hereby given that any application, pursuant to § 301.132 of said rules of practice and procedure before the Division for the disposition of this proceeding without formal hearing must be filed not later than fifteen (15) days after receipt by the code member of this notice of and order for hearing.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and orders entered therein may concern, in addition to the charges specifically alleged herein, other matters incidental and related thereto, whether raised by amendment, petition for intervention, or otherwise, and all persons are cautioned to be guided accordingly.

Dated: February 19, 1943.

[Docket No. A-1856]

DISTRICT BOARD 11

ORDER DENYING TEMPORARY RELIEF AND NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 11 for establishment of minimum prices for raw and for washed stoker coals for shipment to MStP&SSM Railway for locomotive use.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with the Division by District Board No. 11, requesting that temporary and permanent relief be granted by the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for raw and washed stoker coals for shipment to the MStP&SSM Railway for locomotive fuel use; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has not been made for the granting of temporary relief in this matter prior to the hearing herein; and

The following action being deemed necessary to effectuate the purposes of the Act:

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the request for temporary relief be, and the same hereby is, denied without prejudice to the renewal of such request for temporary relief upon a further showing or upon the basis of the record to be made at the hearing to be held herein:

It is further ordered, That a hearing in the above-entitled matter under the applicable provisions of said Act and the rules of the Division be held on March 23, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, at Washington, D. C. On such day the Chief of the Records Section will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Travis Williams, or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officers so designated to preside at such hearing are hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to all parties herein and to persons or entities having an interest in this proceeding and eligible to become a party herein. Any person desiring to be admitted as a party to this proceeding may file a petition of intervention in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division for proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Act, setting forth the facts on the basis of which the relief in the original petition is supported or opposed or on the basis of which other relief is sought. Such petitions of intervention shall be filed with the Bituminous Coal Division on or before March 17, 1943.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and any orders entered therein may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the petition, other matters necessarily incidental and related thereto, which may be raised by amendment to the petition, petitions of intervention or otherwise, or which may be necessary corollaries to the relief, if any, granted on the basis of this petition.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to a petition filed by District Board No. 11 requesting price classifications and minimum prices not heretofore established for raw or washed stoker coals, Size Groups 9–12, inclusive, and Size Groups 17–20, inclusive, in District No. 11, for shipment to the MStP&SSM Railway for locomotive fuel use.

Dated: February 19, 1943.

SOUTHERN GREAT PLAINS AREA

1942 SPECIAL AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM

The 1942 Special Agricultural Conservation Program for the Southern Great Plains Area,[1] as amended, is further amended as follows:

Section 1, (f), (1), the first paragraph thereof, is amended to read:

(1) The net payment for any farm shall be subject to a deduction of 2 percent of the maximum amount computed in connection with cropland (section 2, (c), item (1)) for each 1 percent of the cropland on the farm by which the acreage of cropland on the farm devoted exclusively to one or more of the following uses throughout the 1942 crop year is less than 20 percent of the cropland on the farm: Provided, however, That when all or a part of the cropland in the farm has been acquired for the purpose of the National War effort or was flooded in 1942 and it would be impracticable or inequitable to require compliance with the soil-conserving requirement on the basis of the total cropland in the farm, the county committee with the approval of the State Committee, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency may waive all or any part of such requirement.

Food Distribution Administration.

WASHINGTON, D. C., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF REPORT, ETC., ON HANDLING OF MILK

Notice of report and opportunity to file written exceptions with respect to a proposed marketing agreement, as amended, and to a proposed marketing order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Washington, D. C., marketing area, prepared by the Director of Food Distribution.

Pursuant to § 900.12 (a) of the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders, notice is hereby given of the filing with the hearing clerk, Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Agriculture, of this report of the Director of Food Distribution, with respect to a proposed marketing agreement, as amended, and to a proposed marketing order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Washington, D. C., marketing area. Interested parties may file exceptions to the report with the said hearing clerk, Room 1331, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., not later than the close of business of the 5th day after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions must be filed in quadruplicate.

The proceedings were initiated by the Food Distribution Administration upon receipt of a petition from the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Association, Inc., for a public hearing to receive evidence on several amendments they proposed. Other amendments were also proposed by handlers. Following this request, and after consideration of the proposals, notice of the hearing was issued on January 12, 1943, and the hearing was convened on January 18, 1943, at Washington, D. C. The time for filing briefs expired at 12:00 p. m., e. w. t., January 25, 1943.

The hearing included, in addition to the industry proposals, consideration of a proposal for amendment made by the Dairy and Poultry Branch, Food Distribution Administration.

The major issues developed at the hearing were concerned with (1) the definition of producer, (2) the classification of milk, (3) the allocation of milk received from producers to each class, (4) the level of prices for Class I milk, (5) the pricing of nonproducer milk, (6) the type of pooling plan to be used in making payments to producers, and (7) the allocation of plant loss up to a maximum of 2 per cent of receipts to be classified in Class II instead of Class I.

With respect to these issues it is concluded from the record:

(1) The term "producer" should be defined so as to include any person who produces milk on a farm from which milk is delivered direct to a plant located in the marketing area, or to a plant located outside the marketing area from which milk was shipped to a plant located in the marketing area during May 1942.

(2) The classification of milk should be revised so as to include all butterfat in one class and the skim milk in two separate classes.

(3) The skim milk in milk, skim milk, and cream received from producers by each handler should be allocated to the higher skim milk class up to the full amount of skim milk in such class.

(4) The price of 96 pounds of skim milk in the higher class and 4 pounds of butterfat should be approximately 40 cents higher than the price of Class I milk in Order No. 45, as amended.

(5) Any difference between the necessary cost of nonproducer milk, hereafter called emergency milk, needed in the market and the value of such milk at the proposed class prices, should be shared by all handlers in proportion to the respective amounts of skim milk disposed of by them in the higher class.

(6) The individual handler pooling plan now being used in paying producers should not be changed.

(7) Any plant loss of skim milk should be allocated to the higher class. All butterfat, including any lost in the plant, should be in one class.

Other changes of a minor nature have also been made in accordance with the evidence in the record.

The following proposed marketing order prepared by the Director of Food Distribution, pursuant to § 900.12 (a) of the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders, is recommended as the detailed means by which these conclusions may be carried out. The proposed marketing agreement is not included in this report because the provisions thereof will be the same as the provisions of the proposed marketing order.

PROPOSED MARKETING ORDER NO. 45, AS AMENDED, REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK IN THE WASHINGTON, D. C., MARKETING AREA.

It is found upon the evidence introduced at the public hearing held in Washington, D. C., January 18 and 19, 1943:

Findings. 1. That prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8e of the act (50 Stat. 246; 7 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 602, 608c), are not reasonable in view of the available supplies of feeds, the price of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect the supply of and demand for such milk and that the minimum prices set forth in the order, as amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and that the fixing of such prices does not have for its purpose the maintenance of prices to producers above the levels which are declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish;

2. That the order, as amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to handlers defined in a marketing agreement, as amended, upon which a hearing has been held; and

3. That the issuance of this order, as amended, and all of the terms and conditions of the order, as amended, tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Provisions

§ 945.3 Definitions. The following terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended.

(b) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States or any officer or employee of the United States Department of Agriculture who is, or who may hereafter be, authorized to exercise the powers and perform the duties of the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States.

(c) "Washington marketing area," hereinafter referred to as the "marketing area," means the territory included within the boundary lines of the District of Columbia and that territory in the State of Maryland included between the District of Columbia Line and the following boundaries: Beginning at the junction of the southeastern boundary of the District of Columbia Line and Route 224, thence south on Route 224 to Oxon Hill, thence east on St. Barnaby Road to Gordon's Corner, thence northeast on Suitland-Silver Hill Road continuing Suitland to the junction of Route 4, thence northwest on Route 4 to Hillside, thence north on Crystal Spring Road continuing through Capitol Heights to 61st Street, thence north on 61st Street to the District of Columbia Line, thence northeasterly and thence northwesterly along said District Line to Kenilworth Avenue, thence north on Kenilworth Avenue to Defense Highway, thence east on Defense Highway, thence north on Edmonston Road to Greenbelt, and around the outside limits of Greenbelt, thence returning on Edmonston Road to Branchville Road, thence west on Branchville Road to the Baltimore - Washington Boulevard, thence south on the Baltimore-Washington Boulevard to Metzerott Road, thence west on Metzerott Road to Riggs Valley Road, thence to County Road, thence west to Blair Road, thence north to Piney Branch Road, continuing north on Piney Branch Road to White Oak at intersection of Colesville Road, thence continuing north on Colesville Road to Colesville, thence west on Glenmont Road to Brookville Road, thence south on Brookville Road to Wheaton, thence on Lincoln Avenue to Kensington, thence west on Knowles Avenue and continuing west on Strathmore Avenue to Rockville Pike, thence south on Rockville Pike to Grosvenor Lane, thence west on Grosvenor Lane to Old Georgetown Road, thence north on Old Georgetown Road to Bellsmill Road, thence west on Bellsmill Road to the Seven Locks Road, thence south on Seven Locks Road to Bradley Road, thence west on Bradley Road continuing to Conduit Road, thence southeasterly on Conduit Road to the District of Columbia Line.

(d) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

(e) "Producer" means any person, irrespective of whether such person is also a handler, who produces milk on a farm from which milk is delivered direct to (1) a plant located in the marketing area which is approved or licensed for sale of milk for fluid consumption in the marketing area or (2) a plant located outside the marketing area from which milk was shipped during May 1942 to a plant included in (1) of this paragraph.

(f) "Handler" means any person, irrespective of whether such person is also a producer or a cooperative association of producers, who engages in the handling of milk, skim milk, or cream for fluid consumption in the marketing area: Provided, That this definition shall not include producers or cooperative associations of producers with respect to milk or cream not handled through their own receiving or bottling plant.

(g) "Market administrator" means the person designated pursuant to § 945.4 as the agency for the administration hereof.

(h) "Cooperative association" means any cooperative association of producers which the Secretary determines (1) to have its entire activities under the control of its members, and (2) to have and exercise full authority in the sale of milk of its members.

(i) "Delivery period" means the current marketing period from the first to the last day of each month, both inclusive.

(j) "Producer's milk plant" means any milk plant currently used for any or all of the handling functions of receiving, weighing (or measuring), sampling, cooling, pasteurizing, bottling, or other preparation of milk of producers for fluid sale or disposition in fluid form in the marketing area.

(k) "Farmer's milk plant" means any milk plant other than a "producer's milk plant" currently used for any or all of the handling functions of receiving, weighing (or measuring), sampling, cooling, pasteurizing, bottling, or other preparation of milk of persons who are not producers as defined in (e) of this section.

(l) "Emergency milk" means all milk, skim milk, and cream received at a producer's milk plant from a farmer's milk plant; and "emergency skim milk" means all of the skim milk in emergency milk.

§ 945.4 Market administrator—(a) Designation. The agency for the administration hereof shall be a market administrator who shall be a person selected by the Secretary. Such person shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by, and shall be subject to removal at the discretion of, the Secretary.

(b) Powers. The market administrator shall:

(1) Administer the terms and provisions hereof; and

(2) Report to the Secretary complaints of violations of the provisions hereof.

(c) Duties. The market administrator shall:

(1) Within 45 days following the date upon which he enters upon his duties, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary;

(2) Pay, out of the funds provided by § 945.11, the cost of his bond, his own compensation, and all other expenses necessarily incurred in the maintenance and functioning of his office;

(3) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for herein, and surrender the same to his successor or to such other person as the Secretary may designate;

(4) Publicly disclose to handlers and producers, unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, the name of any person who, within 2 days after the date upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not (i) made reports pursuant to § 945.5, or (ii) made payments pursuant to § 945.10;

(5) Promptly verify the information contained in the reports submitted by handlers; and

(6) Check the weight and butterfat test of milk, skim milk, and cream received from producers by each handler each month and report the results of the butterfat tests to producers or to their cooperative association. The market administrator may designate an independent agency to check the weight and butterfat test of such receipts by handlers.

§ 945.5 Reports of handlers—(a) Submission of reports. Each handler shall report to the market administrator, in the detail and on forms prescribed by the market administrator, as follows:

(1) On or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period the receipts of milk, skim milk, and cream at each producer's milk plant from producers, the weighted average test thereof, and the utilization of such receipts from producers, computed pursuant to § 945.6.

(2) On or before the 11th day after the end of each delivery period (i) the receipts of milk, skim milk, and cream at each producer's milk plant for the account of a handler or of a cooperative association, from each producer's milk plant and each farmer's milk plant, and the average butterfat content of each product from each source, (ii) the receipts at each producer's milk plant, if any, produced by him, and the average test thereof, (iii) the receipts at each producer's milk plant from new producers and the average test thereof, (iv) the name and address of each new producer, (v) the names of handlers from whom or to whom milk, skim milk or cream was received or delivered, and (vi) the address of each farmer's milk plant from which milk, skim milk, or cream was received at a producer's milk plant.

(3) Within 10 days after the market administrator's request with respect to any producer for whom such information is not in the files of the market administrator and with respect to a period or periods of time designated by the market administrator, (i) the name and address of such producer, (ii) the total pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream delivered and the average butterfat test thereof, (iii) the farm scores and cattle scores recorded by the respective health departments requiring permits to sell milk to handlers in the marketing area, and (iv) the number of days upon which deliveries were made.

(4) On or before the 19th day after the end of each delivery period, at the request of the market administrator, his producer pay roll, which shall show for each producer, (i) the total delivery of milk, skim milk, and cream with the average butterfat test thereof, (ii) the premium rate paid, (iii) the net amount of payment made pursuant to § 945.10, and (iv) the deductions and charges made by the handler with authorizations therefor.

(b) Verification of reports. Each handler shall provide the market administrator or his agent with reasonable access to those records and facilities which are necessary for:

(1) The verification of the information contained in the reports submitted in accordance with this section;

(2) The verification of the payments required by §§ 945.7 and 945.10;

(3) The checking of the weighing and sampling of milk, skim milk, and cream received by such handler; and

(4) Determining the utilization of milk, skim milk, and cream by the handler.

§ 945.6 Classification of milk—(a) Milk to be classified. All milk, skim milk, and cream received by each handler in his producer's milk plant shall be classified in the classes set forth in (b) of this section.

(b) Classes of utilization. Except as provided in (c) of this section, the classes of utilization of milk shall be as follows:

(1) Class I–A shall be all skim milk in milk, skim milk and cream received at a producer's milk plant that is not classified as Class II–A.

(2) Class I–B shall be all butterfat in milk, skim milk, and cream received at a producer's milk plant.

(3) Class II–A shall be all skim milk in milk, skim milk, and cream received at a producer's milk plant that is used in the manufacture of cottage cheese, skim milk powder, ice cream, and ice cream mix.

(c) Transfers of milk and cream. (1) The skim milk in milk, skim milk, and cream received at a producer's milk plant from another producer's milk plant shall be allocated to Class I–A: Provided, That it shall be allocated to Class II–A if the market administrator is requested in writing by the receiving handler and the selling handler to make such an allocation: Provided further, That the amount so allocated to any class shall not be greater than the amount used in that class by the receiving handler after deduction of any skim milk pursuant to (2) of this paragraph.

(2) The skim milk in milk, skim milk, and cream received at a producer's milk plant from a farmer's milk plant shall be allocated to Class II–A, except that any of this skim milk in excess of the amount of Class II–A disposed of at the producer's milk plant shall be allocated to Class I–A.

(d) Responsibility of handlers in establishing the classification of milk. In establishing the classification of any milk, skim milk, and cream received at a producer's milk plant, the burden rests upon the handler who received the milk, skim milk, or cream from producers or from a farmer's milk plant, to prove that it should not be classified as Class I–A and Class I–B.

§ 945.7 Minimum prices—(a) Class prices. Each handler shall pay not less than the following prices subject to (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of § 945.10, for milk, skim milk, and cream purchased or received from producers and associations of producers:

(1) Class I–A: Subtract 4 times the price of Class I–B, determined pursuant to (2) of this paragraph, from $3.97 and divide by 96: Provided, That for Class I–A disposed of by a handler from a plant not having a health department permit to sell fluid milk or fluid cream in the District of Columbia, the price shall be 0.48 of a cent less: Provided further, That with respect to Class I–A disposed of from any producer's milk plant under a program approved by the Secretary for the sale or disposition of milk to low-income groups including persons who are on relief, the price shall be an additional 0.48 of a cent less.

(2) Class I–B: Add all market quotations (using midpoint or any weekly range as one quotation) of prices for a 40-quart can of sweet cream approved for "Pennsylvania only" and for "Pennsylvania, Newark, and lower Merion Township" in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, market, reported by the United States Department of Agriculture prior to the 6th day of the month for each of the last 4 weeks ending within the preceding month, divided by the number of quotations, divide by 33.48, and subtract 8.32 cents.

(3) Class II–A: Subtract 4.5 cents from the average of all price quotations f.o.b. New York City for roller process dry skim powder for human consumption published during the delivery period by the United States Department of Agriculture, multiply by 7.5, and divide by 96.

(b) Class I–A cost adjustment. When the total pounds of Class I–A disposed of by all handlers from producer's milk plants exceed 97 percent of the total pounds of skim milk in milk, skim milk, and cream received from all producers during any delivery period, the cost per pound to handlers of Class I–A, computed pursuant to (a) of this section, shall be adjusted through the handler-settlement fund, as provided by § 945.10 (g), by an amount computed by subtracting the total value for all handlers of the emergency skim milk needed by the market, as determined pursuant to (c) and (e) of this section, from the total cost of such emergency skim milk determined pursuant to (d) of this section, and dividing the resulting amount by the total pounds of Class I–A disposed of from producer's milk plants by all handlers.

(c) Emergency skim milk needed by the market. The quantity of emergency skim milk needed by the market shall be considered as not exceeding for any handler the difference between 103 percent of his Class I–A disposed of within 30 miles of the milestone in Washington, D. C., and the pounds of skim milk in milk, skim milk, and cream received from producers by such handler.

(d) Cost of emergency skim milk. The cost per pound of emergency skim milk purchased or received by a handler that was needed by such handler, which in no event shall exceed the price per pound for Class I–A plus 0.5 of a cent, shall be determined by the market administrator as follows:

(1) Where a handler purchases or receives emergency skim milk for a farmer's milk plant not owned by such handler, the cost shall be determined by subtracting the Class I–B value from the cost of the emergency milk f. o. b. Washington, D. C., as shown by the sales and transportation records: Provided, That if the total pounds of emergency skim milk purchased or received by a handler exceeds the amount needed, as determined pursuant to (c) of this section, the emergency skim milk needed shall be considered to be that skim milk costing the least amount per pound during the delivery period; and

(2) Where a handler received emergency skim milk from a farmer's milk plant owned by such handler, the cost shall be equal to the average cost per pound of emergency skim milk purchased or received by all handlers in the marketing area, determined pursuant to (1) of this paragraph: Provided, That if there is no basis of determining, pursuant to (1) of this paragraph, the average cost of emergency skim milk paid by handlers, the cost per pound of emergency skim milk received by a handler from his own farmer's milk plant shall be determined by the market administrator on the basis of the prevailing price being paid for milk of similar quality to farmers in the same area, less the Class I–B value of such milk, plus the prevailing charge for hauling milk from the area in which the farmer's milk plant is located to the producer's milk plant, as determined by the market administrator, plus a country station allowance of 0.16 of a cent per pound.

(e) Class value of emergency skim milk needed. The class value of the emergency skim milk needed by each handler shall be computed as follows:

(1) Multiply the pounds of such emergency skim milk allocated to Class I–A by the Class I–A price specified in (a) of this section;

(2) Multiply the pounds of such emergency skim milk allocated to Class II–A, which is not in excess of 3 percent of the total pounds of Class I-A disposed of by such handler, by the Class II-A price specified in (a) of this section;

(3) Multiply the total pounds of emergency skim milk needed by such handler by the weighted average premium payable to producers by him for the delivery period; and

(4) Add together the resulting amounts.

§ 945.8 Application of provisions—(a) Handlers who are also producers. No provision hereof shall apply to a handler who is also a producer and who purchases or receives no milk from producers or an association of producers, except that such handler shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may request.

(b) Virgina handlers. Any handler whose plant is located in the State of Virginia and who is subject to such regulation of the Virginia Milk Commission as provides for the payment to producers of prices identical with, or in excess of, the prices set forth in § 945.7 hereof, who complies with §§ 945.5 (a) (1), (2), (3), and (b), 945.7 (b), (c), (d), and (e), 945.9 (b), and 945.10 (g), (h), (i), and (j) of this order, and who reports the total payments made for milk received from producers as directed by the market administrator, shall not be subject to other provisions of this order.

§ 945.9 Determination and announcement of uniform prices.—(a) Computation and announcement for each handler of uniform prices to be paid producers. On or before the 7th day after the end of each delivery period the market administrator shall announce the Class I-B price and the uniform price per pound of skim milk to be paid producers by each handler for such delivery period. The market administrator shall compute the uniform prices of skim milk as follows: (1) multiply the pounds of skim milk received from producers that were allocated to each class by the prices applicable pursuant to § 945.7 (a); (2) add together the resulting amounts; and (3) divide the result obtained by the total pounds of skim milk in milk, skim milk, and cream received from producers.

(b) Net pool obligations of handlers for emergency skim milk received at a producer's milk plant. The net pool obligation of each handler for emergency skim milk needed by the market received at producer's milk plants during each delivery period shall be a sum of money computed by multiplying the pounds of Class I-A disposed of by the handler, including Class I-A disposed of for the account of an association of producers, by the Class I-A cost adjustment determined pursuant to § 945.7 (b).

(c) Announcement of other market information. As soon after the 11th day after the end of each delivery period as such information becomes available, the following data shall be compiled and listed separately by the market administrator for handlers not disposing of any milk, skim milk, or cream for fluid consumption in the District of Columbia and for handlers disposing of milk, skim milk, or cream for fluid consumption in the District of Columbia:

(1) The total pounds of butterfat and skim milk in milk, skim milk, and cream received from producers and the total pounds of such skim milk allocated to each class.

(2) The total pounds of butterfat and skim milk in emergency milk received at each producer's milk plant, the total pounds of emergency skim milk needed at each producer's milk plant, and the total pounds of such skim milk allocated to each class.

(3) The cost of emergency skim milk received at a producer's milk plant from each farmer's milk plant that was needed by the market as determined by the market administrator pursuant to § 945.7 (d).

(4) The name and address of all farmer's milk plants shipping milk, skim milk, or cream to a producer's milk plant during the delivery period.

(5) The Class I-A adjustment determined pursuant to § 945.7 (b).

§ 945.10 Payment for milk—(a) Time and method of payment. On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall make payments, subject to (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of this section, for all milk, skim milk, and cream received from producers at the prices announced pursuant to § 945.9 (a) as follows:

(1) To each producer, except as provided in (2) of this paragraph, at not less than the prices announced pursuant to § 945.9 (a); and

(2) To a cooperative association for (i) milk, skim milk, and cream which is caused to be delivered to a handler from producers by a cooperative association, and for which such cooperative association collects payment, a total amount equal to not less than the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producers under (1) of this paragraph minus an amount equal to the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in milk, skim milk, and cream disposed of for the account of the association, times the composite price of skim milk and the Class I-B price, respectively, announced pursuant to § 945.9 (a), plus the weighted average premium payable to producers by such handler, times the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in such products, and (ii) other milk, skim milk, and cream in each use classification, determined pursuant to § 945.6 (c), received by such handler for the account of an association of producers at not less than the class prices specified in § 945.7 (a), plus the weighted average premium payable to producers by such handler.

(b) Errors in payment. Errors in making the payment prescribed in this section shall be corrected not later than the date for making payments next following the determination of such errors.

(c) Butterfat content of milk, skim milk, and cream received from producers and of emergency milk. The butterfat content of milk, skim milk, and cream received from producers shall be determined by taking the average of not less than 5 separate butterfat tests made from fresh samples during each delivery period. The butterfat content of emergency milk shall be determined at the producer's milk plant where it is received. The market administrator may designate an independent laboratory to make these tests.

(d) Location adjustments to producers. In making payments pursuant to (a) of this section the handlers may deduct 18 cents per hundredweight with respect to milk received from producers who have been delivering their entire supply of milk for the preceding 4 full delivery periods at a plant in which no milk is bottled or finally processed for distribution to consumers and which is located more than 35 miles from the District of Columbia: Provided, That handlers may make such a deduction on all milk received at such plant from new producers whose milk is not received on truck routes transferred to such a plant.

(e) Premiums to be paid by handlers. (1) In making payments pursuant to (a) of this section, handlers shall pay premium differentials on all milk, skim milk, and cream received from producers at producer's milk plants determined by applying the premium rates set forth in this paragraph for each producer on the same percentage of each producer's total deliveries as that percentage which the pounds of skim milk in milk, skim milk, and cream received from producers classified in Class I-A is to the total pounds of skim milk in milk, skim milk, and cream received from producers less the pounds of skim milk in milk, skim milk, and cream returned for the account of an association of producers. The premium rates referred to in this paragraph shall be determined from the following schedule with respect to the cattle scores and farm scores recorded for each producer by the respective health departments requiring permits to sell milk to handlers in the marketing area:

Farm score	With cattle score under 95	With cattle score 95 or over but under 98	With cattle score 98 or over
	Per hundredweight	Per hundredweight	Per hundredweight
Under 90	$0.00	$0.00	$0.00
90 to 92.9	.01	.03	.07
93 to 94.9	.02	.08	.13
95 to 96.9	.08	.14	.20
97 to 97.9	.21	.25	.27
Over 97.9	.31	.37	.31

(2) If more than one score has been recorded during any month, the simple average of the scores so recorded shall be used. Producers who are subject to health department regulations which do not provide for cattle scores in their scoring system shall be considered as having a cattle score of 98 or over and the score given them by the health department shall be considered the farm score for the purpose of supplying premiums under the above schedule.

(f) Handlers may distribute the payments they are required to make to producers for milk, skim milk, and cream received by them on any uniform basis, other than that specified above in this section, that is approved by the market administrator.

(g) Handler-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "handler-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to (h) and (j) of this section and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to (i) and (j) of this section: Provided, That the market administrator shall offset any such payment due to any handler against payments due from such handler. Immediately after computing the Class I-A cost adjustment for each delivery period the market administrator shall compute the amount by which each handler's net pool obligation is in excess of or less than the amount obtained by subtracting the cost of emergency skim milk needed by the handler, determined pursuant to § 945.7 (d) from the value of such emergency skim milk, determined pursuant to § 945.7 (e) and shall enter such amount on each handler's account as such handler's pool debit or pool credit, as the case may be, and render such handler a transcript of his account.

(h) Payments to the handler-settlement fund. On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall make full payment to the market administrator of any pool debit balance shown on the account rendered, pursuant to (g) of this section, for the preceding delivery period.

(i) Payments out of the handler-settlement fund. On or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler the pool credit balance shown on the account rendered, pursuant to (g) of this section, if any, for the preceding delivery period, less any unpaid obligations of the handler. If at such time the balance in the handler-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available.

(j) Adjustment of errors in payments. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors made in payments to the handler-settlement fund, the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount and such handler shall, within 5 days, make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever vertification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler, the market administrator shall, within 5 days make such payment to such handler, provided the balance in the handler-settlement fund is sufficient to make such payments.

§ 945.11 Expense of administration and marketing services—(a) Payments by handlers. As his prorate share of the expense of the administration hereof, each handler, except those handlers exempted pursuant to § 945.8, shall pay to the market administrator on or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period an amount equal to 2 cents per hundredweight with respect to all milk, skim milk, and cream received by him from a farmer's milk plant, producers, associations of producers, or produced by him during such delivery period, or such lesser amount, the exact amount to be determined by the market administrator: Provided, That each handler which is a cooperative association shall pay such prorate share of the expense of administration only on such milk, skim milk, and cream actually received at a producer's milk plant operated by such cooperative association. If the market administrator designates an independent agency to determine the butterfat content of milk, skim milk, and cream received by handlers from producers as permitted by § 945.10 (c), each handler shall pay to the market administrator an amount equal to the cost of such tests of emergency milk and one-half the cost of such tests of producers' milk, skim milk, and cream, the exact amount to be determined by the market administrator.

(b) Marketing services. If the market administrator designates an independent agency to determine the butterfat content of milk, skim milk, and cream received by handlers from producers, as permitted under § 945.10 (c), each handler shall deduct from his payments to each producer an amount equal to one-half the cost per test, the exact amount to be determined by the market administrator, and shall pay such deduction to the market administrator on or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to pay the independent laboratory for the verification of weight, sampling, and testing of milk, skim milk, and cream received from producers.

(c) Suits by market administrator. The market administrator may maintain a suit in his own name against any handler for the collection of such handler's pro rata share of expense set forth in this section.

§ 945.12 Effective time, suspension, or termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof, or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated pursuant to (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination of order. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this order or any provision hereof whenever he finds that this order or any provision hereof obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This order shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. (1) If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, there are any obligations arising hereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate.

(2) The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate, shall (i) continue in such capacity until removed by the Secretary, (ii) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements, and when so directed by the Secretary deliver all funds on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator or such person, to such person as the Secretary shall direct, and (iii) if so directed by the Secretary execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

§ 945.13 Emergency milk committee. The milk industry may select an "Emergency Milk Committee" for the purpose of supervising the purchase and allocation among handlers of emergency milk for all handlers desiring to purchase their emergency milk through a single importing agency. The market administrator may be a member of such committee and may act as chairman thereof. Notice of all meetings of the committee shall be given to the Secretary and such person or persons as the Secretary may designate shall be permitted to attend and take part in such meetings.

§ 945.14 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States or name any bureau or division of the United States Department of Agriculture to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

PHILADELPHIA MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF REPORT, ETC., ON HANDLING OF MILK

Notice of report and opportunity to file written exceptions with respect to a proposed amendment to the marketing agreement and to Marketing Order No. 61, regulating the handling of milk in the Philadelphia Marketing Area, prepared by the Director of the Food Distribution Administration.

Pursuant to § 900.12 (a) of the General Regulations of the Food Distribution Administration formerly the Agricultural Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, governing proceedings to formulate marketing orders and marketing agreements, notice is hereby given of the filing with the hearing clerk of the report of the Director of the Food Distribution Administration, with respect to a proposed amendment to the marketing agreement and marketing order regulating the handling of milk in the Philadelphia marketing area.

Interested parties may file exceptions to the report with the Hearing Clerk, Room 1331, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 5th day after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

The proceedings were initiated by the Food Distribution Administration upon receipt of a petition from the Inter-State Milk Producers Cooperative Association, Inc., for a public hearing to receive evidence on several amendments they proposed. Other amendments were also proposed by handlers. Following this request, and after consideration of the proposals, notice of the hearing was issued on January 13, 1943, and the hearing was convened on January 21, 1943, at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The time for filing briefs was set at the close of the hearing, to expire at the close of business January 30, 1943.

The hearing included, in addition to the industry proposals, consideration of several proposals for amendment made by the Dairy and Poultry Branch, Food Distribution Administration.

The major issues developed at the hearing were concerned with (1) revision of the Class I price, (2) definition of handler and definition of producer to conform to the needs of the market in relation to supplies, (3) the method of pricing Class I sales outside the marketing area, (4) differentials for place of receipt of milk and location differentials to be applied to prices paid producers, (5) premiums for Grade A milk, (6) the pricing of Class II milk and milk in excess of both Class I and Class II, "distress milk," (7) the expense of administration, (8) flat price payments, (9) butterfat differentials, and (10) a 3-cent additional deduction allowed handlers in making payments to producers.

It is concluded from the record that several amendments to the order are necessary to effectuate the act. Furthermore, an upward revision of the Class I price at the earliest possible date is imperative while other issues require more study.

It is further recommended that as soon as possible the order be further amended to provide for changes in the Class I price when a combination of butter and skim milk powder prices move beyond certain limits and that other amendments be made, particularly with respect to items (3), (4), (5), and (7) in the foregoing enumeration of issues.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE ORDER REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK IN THE PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA, MARKETING AREA

It is found upon the evidence introduced at the public hearing held at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, January 21, 22, and 23, 1942:

Findings. 1. That prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8c (50 Stat. 246; 7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 602, 608c) are not reasonable in view of the available supplies of feeds, the price of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect the supply of and demand for such milk and that the minimum price set forth in this amendment is such a price as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and that the fixing of such price does not have for its purpose the maintenance of prices to producers above the levels which are declared in the act to be the policy of Congress to establish;

2. That the order, as amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to handlers defined in a marketing agreement, as amended, upon which a hearing has been held; and

(3) That the issuance of this amendment and all of the terms and conditions of the order tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Provisions. 1. Delete § 961.4 (a) (1) and substitute therefor the following:

(1) Class I milk—$3.93 per hundredweight.

This report filed at Washington, D. C., the 19th day of February 1943.

[Docket No. 6484]

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH CO. AND POSTAL TELEGRAPH-CABLE CO.

ORDER DISMISSING PROCEEDINGS

At a meeting of the Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of February, 1943;

In the matter of The Western Union Telegraph Company and Postal Telegraph-Cable Company (New York). Proposed "Longram" classification of telegraph communications.

It appearing, that on December 30, 1942, The Western Union Telegraph Company and the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company (New York) filed with the Commission tariff schedules, to become effective February 1, 1943, proposing to establish a new classification of telegraph communications, designated as "Longram" communications; that by order of January 12, 1943, the Commission suspended the operation of said tariff schedules insofar as they provided for the "Longram" classification of communications, and deferred the use of such classification, and of the charges, regulations, practices, and services for and in connection with such classification, until and unless otherwise ordered by the Commission; and that the Commission ordered a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the "Longram" classification of telegraph communications, and of the charges, regulations, practices, and services for and in connection with such classification;

It further appearing, that on January 22, 1943, the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company (New York), filed with the Commission applications for permission to file tariff schedules to become effective February 1, 1943, which would combine the "Day Letter" and "Longram" classifications of telegraph communications into one classification, designated as the "Day Letter Longram" classification, and which would make certain other revisions in the tariff schedules suspended herein; and requested dismissal of the proceeding herein; that the special tariff permission so requested was granted on January 26, 1943; and that pursuant to such permission, the two carriers have filed revised tariffs with the Commission effective February 1, 1943;

It is ordered, That the proceeding herein be, and the same is, hereby dismissed.

By the Commission.

[Suspension Order 224]

EMERY R. HOFF

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

Emery R. Hoff, 239 Pearl Street, Adrian, Michigan, hereinafter called respondent, was duly served with a notice of specific charges of violations of Revised Tire Rationing Regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice a hearing was held in Lansing, Michigan, on December 17, 1942. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent. The evidence pertaining to the charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. The matter having been duly considered, it is hereby determined:

(a) Respondent is a dealer in tires at 239 Pearl Street, Adrian, Michigan

(b) Respondent has violated revised tire rationing regulations (§ 1315.606) in that respondent, as a duly authorized tire inspector, certified that he had inspected 4 tires mounted on an automobile belonging to one Howard Christian Brandt when, in fact, respondent had not inspected the said tires; and further, in that respondent certified that the said 4 tires were worn smooth and should be retreaded and that a spare tire was not suitable for retreading when in fact the said 4 tires did not require retreading and the spare tire was suitable for retreading.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of rubber in the United States respondent's violations of revised tire rationing regulations have hampered the administration and enforcement of the tire rationing regulations and impeded the war effort. It appears that further violations by respondents are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken.

It is therefore ordered:

(c) During the period in which this Suspension Order No. 224 shall be in effect,

(1) Respondent shall not accept any deliveries or transfers of, or in any manner directly or indirectly receive from any source any new, used, recapped or retreaded tires or any tubes for resale.

(2) Respondent shall not transfer or deliver or otherwise trade or deal in new, used, recapped or retreaded tires or any tubes.

(3) No person shall in any manner directly or indirectly transfer or deliver any new, used, recapped or retreaded tires or any tubes to respondent for resale.

(d) Any terms used in this Suspension Order No. 224 that are defined in revised tire rationing regulations shall have the meaning therein given them.

(e) This Suspension Order No. 224 shall become effective 12:01 a. m. March 1 1943, and unless sooner terminated, shall expire 12:01 a. m. April 30, 1943.

[Suspension Order 225]

C. W. COERPER

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

C. W. Coerper, doing business as Mountain Service Station, 16 Bloomfield Avenue, Verona, New Jersey, hereinafter called respondent, was duly served with a notice of charges of violations of Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice a hearing upon the charges was held in Newark, New Jersey, on December 18, 1942. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent failed to appear not withstanding personal service of notice of said hearing upon respondent. The evidence pertaining to the charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer.

The matter having been duly considered by the Chairman of the Industry Council, It is hereby determined:

(a) Respondent is a dealer in gasoline and operates a gasoline filling station at 16 Bloomfield Avenue, Verona, New Jersey.

(b) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations (§ 1394.1502), in that on November 18, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to consumers and into the fuel tanks of their motor vehicles without receiving in exchange therefor any gasoline ration coupons. Such transfers were not within the classes of transfers of gasoline permitted by the provisions of Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, to be made without the exchange of gasoline ration coupons.

(c) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations (§§ 1394.1502 and 1394.1503) in that on various occasions between July 22 and November 16, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to consumers and into the fuel tanks of their motor vehicles and accepted in exchange for such transfers 23 Class A, No. 3 gasoline ration coupons.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline in New Jersey respondent's violations of Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, have resulted in the diversion of gasoline from military and essential civilian uses into non-essential uses, in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to the national war effort. It appears to the Chairman of the Industry Council that further violations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken.

It is therefore ordered:

(d) During the period in which this Suspension Order No. 225 shall be in effect,

(1) Respondent shall not accept any deliveries or transfers of, or in any manner directly or indirectly receive from any source any gasoline for resale.

(2) Respondent shall not transfer or deliver or otherwise trade or deal in gasoline.

(3) No person shall in any manner, directly or indirectly transfer or deliver any gasoline to respondent for resale.

(e) Any terms used in this Suspension Order No. 225 that are defined in Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, shall have the meaning therein given them.

(f) This Suspension Order No. 225 shall become effective 12:01 a. m. March 1, 1943, and unless sooner terminated, shall expire 12:01 a. m. April 30, 1943.

(Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.; Sec. 2 (a) of Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong.; as amended by Pub. Law 89, 77th Cong. and by Pub. Law 507, 77th Cong.; E.O. No. 9125 (7 F.R. 2719); WPB Directive No. 1 (7 F.R. 562); Supplementary Directive No. 1H (7 F.R. 3478, 3877, 5216); Supplementary Directive 1Q (7 F.R. 9121))

Issued this 19th day of February 1943.

[Order 167 Under MPR 188]

H. W. COVERT CO.

APPROVAL OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 167 under § 1499.158 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188—Manufacturers' Maximum Prices for Specified Building Materials and Consumers Goods Other Than Apparel. Maximum prices for sales of a new fireplace grate manufactured by The H. W. Covert Company.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and pursuant to the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, It is ordered:

(a) This Order No. 167 sets temporary maximum prices for sales of a new fireplace grate manufactured by The H. W. Covert Company, 339 East 48th Street, New York, New York. It applies only to the grate which has been described in an application submitted by the manufacturer to the Office of Price Administration. The order is temporary. No sales or deliveries may be made under its authority after the first day of April 1943.

The prices stated below may be charged only if the manufacturer attaches to the grate the written warranty described in paragraph (b). If the manufacturer does not make the warranty, the maximum prices for sales by the manufacturer, wholesalers, and retailers shall be computed by deducting 15% from the prices stated below.

(1) For sales by the manufacturer to wholesalers or jobbers, the maximum price is $5.40 f. o. b. factory.

(2) For sales by the manufacturer to retailers, the maximum price is $5.95 f. o. b. factory.

(3) For sales at wholesale by persons other than the manufacturer, the maximum price is $7.20 f. o. b. the seller's city.

(4) For sales at retail, the maximum price is $10.80.

(b) The maximum prices set forth in paragraph (a) can be charged only if the manufacturer sells the grate with a written warranty in the following form:

"The H. W. Covert Company, 339 East 48th Street, New York, N. Y., the manufacturer of this grate, warrants to the retailer and to any person buying from him that it is fit for burning coal or wood in a fireplace." If the manufacturer desires to do so, he may add: "This warranty, however, does not protect against rough handling by the consumer."

The warranty shall be attached to the grate by the manufacturer and shall not be detached until after the grate has been delivered to the consumer.

(c) Before delivery of a fireplace grate to any purchaser for resale, the manufacturer shall attach a tag or label which plainly states the retail ceiling price of the grate. For example, a statement in the following form would be sufficient: "Retail ceiling price: $10.80". The tag or label shall not be detached until the grate has been delivered to the consumer.

(d) At or before the time of first delivery after the effective date of this order, the manufacturer shall notify in writing every person who buys from him of the maximum price set by this Order No. 167 for resales by the purchaser. This written notice may be given in any convenient manner; for example, it may be shown on or attached to the invoice or packed with the merchandise.

(e) This Order No. 167 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in § 1499.20 of the general maximum price regulation shall apply to terms used herein.

(g) This Order No. 167 shall become effective on the 22d day of February 1943 and shall terminate on the 1st day of April, 1943.

Issued this 20th day of February 1943.

[Order 168 Under MPR 188]

OHIO FOUNDRY & MANUFACTURING CO

APPROVAL OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 168 under § 1499.158 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188—Manufacturers' Maximum Prices for Specified Building Materials and Consumers Goods Other Than Apparel. Maximum prices for sales of a new fireplace grate distributed by The Ohio Foundry & Manufacturing Co.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and pursuant to the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, It is ordered:

(a) This Order No. 168 sets temporary maximum prices for sales of a new fireplace grate manufactured for The Ohio Foundry & Manufacturing Co., Steubenville, Ohio, by The Ohio Valley Clay Company, Steubenville, Ohio. It applies only to the grate which has been described in an application submitted by the manufacturer to the Office of Price Administration. The order is temporary. No sales or deliveries may be made under its authority after the first day of April, 1943.

The prices stated below may be charged only if The Ohio Foundry & Manufacturing Co. attaches to the grate a written warranty described in paragraph (b). If the company does not make the warranty, the maximum prices for sales by that company and by wholesalers and retailers should be computed by deducting 15% from the prices stated below.

(1) For sales by The Ohio Valley Clay Company to The Ohio Foundry & Manufacturing Co., the maximum price is $5.70.

(2) For sales by The Ohio Foundry & Manufacturing Co. to wholesalers or jobbers, the maximum price is $7.50 f. o. b., Steubenville, Ohio.

(3) For sales by The Ohio Foundry & Manufacturing Co. to retailers, the maximum price is $8.25, f. o. b. Steubenville, Ohio.

(4) For sales at wholesale by persons other than The Ohio Foundry & Manufacturing Co., the maximum price is $10.00, f. o. b. the seller's city.

(5) For sales at retail, the maximum price is $15.00.

(b) The maximum prices set forth in subparagraphs (2), (3), (4), and (5) of paragraph (a) can be charged only if The Ohio Foundry & Manufacturing Co. sells the grate with a written warranty in the following form:

"The Ohio Foundry & Manufacturing Co., Steubenville, Ohio, warrants to the retailer and to any person buying from him that this grate is fit for burning coal or wood in a fireplace". If the company desires to do so, it may add: "This warranty, however, does not protect against rough handling by the consumer."

The warranty shall be attached to the grate before shipment by The Ohio Foundry & Manufacturing Co., and shall not be detached until after the grate has been delivered to the consumer.

(c) Before delivery of a fireplace grate to any purchaser for resale, The Ohio Foundry & Manufacturing Co. shall attach a tag or label which plainly states the retail ceiling price of the grate. For example, a statement in the following form would be sufficient: "Retail ceiling price: $15.00." The tag or label should not be detached until the grate has been delivered to the consumer.

(d) At or before the time of the first delivery after the effective date of this order, The Ohio Foundry & Manufacturing Co. shall notify in writing every person who buys from it of the maximum price set by this Order No. 168 for resales by the purchaser. This written notice may be given in any convenient manner; for example, it may be shown on or attached to the invoice, or packed with the merchandise.

(e) This Order No. 168 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in § 1499.20 of the general maximum price regulation shall apply to terms used herein.

(g) This Order No. 168 shall become effective on the 22d day of February 1943, and shall terminate on the 1st day of April, 1943.

Issued this 20th day of February 1943.

[Suspension Order 219]

ABRAHAM SCHIPS

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

Abraham Schips, 2 Malden Street, Nassau, New York, hereinafter called respondent, was duly served with a notice of charges of violations of Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice, a hearing upon the charges was held in Albany, New York, on December 14, 1942. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent. The evidence pertaining to the charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. The matter having been considered, it is hereby determined that:

(a) Respondent is a dealer in gasoline and operates a filling station at 2 Malden Street, Nassau, New York.

(b) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, (§ 1394.1503) in that on or about October 8, 1942, respondent transferred five gallons of gasoline to a consumer and into the fuel tank of a motor vehicle in exchange for a loose Class S gasoline ration coupon that was not issued for such vehicle.

(c) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, (§ 1394.1502) in that on various occasions between July 22, 1942, and October 26, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to consumers and into the fuel tanks of motor vehicles without receiving in exchange therefor any gasoline ration coupons. Such transfers were not within the classes of transfers permitted by Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, to be made without the exchange of coupons.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline in New York respondent's violations of Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, have resulted in the diversion of gasoline from military and essential civilian uses into non-essential uses, in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to the national war effort. It appears that further violations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken.

It is therefore ordered:

(d) During the period in which this Suspension Order No. 219 shall be in effect,

(1) Respondent shall not in any manner directly or indirectly sell, transfer or deliver gasoline to any person.

(2) Respondent shall not in any manner directly or indirectly accept any deliveries or transfers of gasoline for resale.

(3) No person shall in any manner directly or indirectly transfer or deliver any gasoline to respondent for resale.

(e) Any terms used in this Suspension Order No. 219 that are defined in Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, shall have the meaning therein given them.

(f) This suspension Order No. 219 shall become effective 12:01 a. m. March 2, 1943, and shall remain in effect until 12:01 a. m. March 17, 1943.

FRYE'S GULF SERVICE STATION

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

Carl W. Frye, doing business as Frye's Gulf Service Station, 360 Virginia Avenue, Hagerstown, Maryland, hereinafter called respondent, was duly served with a notice of charges of violations of Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice, a hearing upon the charges was held in Baltimore, Maryland on December 4, 1942. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent. The evidence pertaining to the charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. The matter having been duly considered, it is hereby determined that:

(a) Respondent is a dealer in gasoline and operates a gasoline filling station at 360 Virginia Avenue, Hagerstown, Maryland.

(b) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations (§§ 1394.1502 and 1394.1503) in that on various occasions between July 22 and November 7, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to consumers and into the fuel tanks of their motor vehicles in exchange for gasoline ration coupons Class S from coupon books that were not issued for and did not bear the identification of the vehicles into which the transfers were made.

(c) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations (§§ 1394.1502 and 1394.1503) in that on various occasions between July 22 and November 7, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to consumers and into the fuel tanks of their motor vehicles and accepted in exchange for such transfers 4 Class A, No. 3 gasoline ration coupons.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline in Maryland, respondent's violations of Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, have resulted in the diversion of gasoline from military and essential civilian uses into non-essential uses, in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to the national war effort. It appears that further violations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken.

It is therefore ordered:

(d) During the period in which this Suspension Order No. 222 shall be in effect,

(1) Respondent shall not accept any deliveries or transfers of, or in any manner directly or indirectly receive from any source any gasoline for resale.

(2) Respondent shall not transfer or deliver or otherwise trade or deal in gasoline.

(3) No person shall in any manner, directly or indirectly transfer or deliver any gasoline to respondent for resale.

(e) Any terms used in this Suspension Order No. 222 that are defined in Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, shall have the meaning therein given them.

(f) This Suspension Order No. 222 shall become effective 12:01 a. m. March 2, 1943, and unless sooner terminated, shall expire 12:01 a. m. March 17, 1943.

[Suspension Order 223]

RED WING GAS AND OIL COMPANY

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

Red Wing Gas and Oil Company, 90 State Street, Albany, New York, hereinafter called respondent, was duly served with a notice of charges of violations of Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice, a hearing upon the charges was held in Albany, New York on December 15, 1942. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent. The evidence pertaining to the charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. The matter having been duly considered, It is hereby determined:

(a) Respondent is a licensed distributor of gasoline and operates a gasoline filling station located at 90 State Street, Albany, New York.

(b) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations (§§ 1394.1502 and 1394.1503) in that on various occasions between July 22 and November 2, 1942, respondent, by its agents, servants or employees, transferred gasoline to consumers and into the fuel tanks of their motor vehicles and accepted in exchange for such transfers 79 Class A, No. 3 gasoline ration coupons, 7 Class A, No. 4 gasoline ration coupons and 1 class A, No. 5 gasoline ration coupon.

(c) Respondent maintains a gasoline ration bank account in the State Bank of Albany, New York. On or about November 2, 1942, respondent deposited in said ration bank account, 450 Class A gasoline ration coupons which deposit included 79 Class A, No. 3 gasoline ration coupons, 7 Class A, No. 4 gasoline ration coupons and 1 Class A, No. 5 gasoline ration coupon. The State Bank of Albany has cancelled the credit of said deposit of 450 Class A gasoline ration coupons.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline in New York, respondent's violations of Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, have resulted in the diversion of gasoline from military and essential civilian uses into non-essential uses, in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to the national war effort. It appears that further violations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken.

It is therefore ordered:

(d) During the period in which this Suspension Order No. 223 shall be in effect,

(1) Respondent shall not accept any deliveries or transfers of, or in any manner directly or indirectly receive from any source any gasoline for resale.

(2) Respondent shall not transfer or deliver or otherwise trade or deal in gasoline.

(3) No person shall in any manner, directly or indirectly transfer or deliver any gasoline to respondent for resale.

(4) Respondent shall not make any withdrawals from or draw any checks upon its gasoline ration bank account.

(e) Respondent's gasoline ration bank account shall be credited to the extent of 1,452 gallons, the gallonage value of the valid coupons deposited by respondent on or about November 2, 1942.

(f) Any terms used in this Suspension Order No. 223 that are defined in Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, shall have the meaning therein given them.

(g) This Suspension Order No. 223 shall become effective 12:01 A. M. March 2, 1943, and unless sooner terminated, shall expire 12:01 A. M. March 17, 1943.

TERMINAL REST STOPS, INC.

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

Terminal Rest Stops, Inc., Route 17, Southfields, New York, a corporation, hereinafter called respondent, was duly served with a notice of charges of violations of Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice, a hearing upon the charges was held in New York City, New York, on December 10, 1942. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent. The evidence pertaining to the charges were presented before an authorized presiding officer. The matter having been duly considered, it is hereby determined:

(a) Respondent is a dealer in gasoline and operates a gasoline filling station located on Route 17, Southfields, New York.

(b) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations (§§ 1394.1502 and 1394.1503), in that between July 22 and September 19, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to consumers and into the fuel tanks of their motor vehicles and accepted in exchange therefor 98 Class A, No. 2 coupons; 8 Class A, No. 3 coupons; 9 Class A, No. 4 coupons; 1 Class A, No. 5 coupons; 11 Class A, No. 6 coupons.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline in New York, respondent's violations of Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, have resulted in the diversion of gasoline from military and essential civilian uses into non-essential uses in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to the national war effort. It appears that further violations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken.

It is therefore ordered:

(c) During the period in which this Suspension Order No. 226 shall be in effect,

(1) Respondent shall not accept any deliveries or transfers of, or in any manner directly or indirectly receive from any source any gasoline for resale.

(2) Respondent shall not transfer or deliver or otherwise trade or deal in gasoline.

(3) No person shall in any manner, directly or indirectly transfer or deliver any gasoline to respondent for resale.

(d) Any terms used in this Suspension Order No. 226 that are defined in Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, shall have the meaning therein given them.

This Suspension Order No. 226 shall become effective 12:01 a. m. March 2, 1943, and unless sooner terminated shall expire 12:01 a. m. March 12, 1943.

(Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.; sec. 2 (a) of Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong.; as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.; E.O. No. 9125 (7 F.R. 2719); WPB Directive No. 1 (7 F.R. 562); Supplementary Directive No. 1H (7 F.R. 3478, 3877, 5216); Supplementary Directive 1Q (7 F.R. 9121))

Issued this 20th day of February 1943.

[Suspension Order 228]

MAURO ALFIERI

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

Mauro Alfieri, 900 South Heald Street, Wilmington, Delaware, hereinafter called respondent, was duly served with a notice of charges of violations of Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice, a hearing upon the charges was held in Wilmington, Delaware on October 26, 1942. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent. The evidence pertaining to the charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. The matter having been duly considered, it is hereby determined that:

(a) Respondent is a dealer in gasoline and operates a filling station at 900 South Heald Street, Wilmington, Delaware.

(b) Respondent has violated Ration Order 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, (§ 1394.1102) in that on October 4, 1942, respondent had in his possession the following coupon books and coupons which had not been issued to or acquired by him in accordance with the provisions of Ration Order 5A: Two Class S gasoline ration books containing 630 coupons; two Class C gasoline ration books containing 102 coupons; and 344 Class C gasoline ration coupons in loose sheets.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline in Delaware, respondent's violations of Ration Order 5A, have interfered with the effective administration and enforcement of the gasoline rationing regulations. It appears that further violations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken.

It is therefore ordered:

(c) During the period in which this Suspension Order No. 228 shall be in effect,

(1) Respondent shall not accept any deliveries or transfers of, or in any manner directly or indirectly receive from any source any gasoline for resale.

(2) Respondent shall not transfer or deliver or otherwise trade or deal in gasoline.

(3) No person shall in any manner, directly or indirectly transfer or deliver any gasoline to respondent for resale.

(d) Any terms used in this Suspension Order No. 228 that are defined in Ration Order No. 5A, gasoline rationing regulations, shall have the meaning therein given them.

(e) This Suspension Order No. 228 shall become effective 12:01 a. m. March 2, 1943, and shall remain in effect until further order of the Office of Price Administration, but not later than December 31, 1944.

[Administrative Exception Order 1 Under Ration Order 17]

WILLMARK SERVICE SYSTEM, INC.

ORDER GRANTING EXCEPTION

The Willmark Service System, Inc. is a business enterprise engaged in rendering services to clients, consisting principally of owners of retail stores, to test the efficiency and honesty of the client's sales clerks. The method used involves the making of a complete purchase of an article and observing the actions of the sales clerk in the course of the transaction. The article purchased is later returned to the owner of the store for refund, at the same or another establishment of the client in a way to prevent revealing to the client's employees the identity of the individual making the test. The corporation, through its employees, normally makes approximately 15,000 test purchases of shoes each year. The Willmark Service System, Inc. requests authority to secure ration currency to enable it to continue to make test purchases of shoes in the course of its business.

The granting of the request in this and all similar cases would not defeat or impair the effectiveness of the policy of the ration order because it would not increase the quantity of shoes used.

It is hereby ordered, That Willmark Service System, Inc., 250 West 57th Street, New York, New York, is authorized to receive from any client special shoe stamps (or, until such stamps are available, loose War Ration Stamps No. 17 and simulated receipts for refunds) which its employees may use to make purchases of shoes in the manner otherwise permitted by Ration Order No. 17. Each client of the Willmark Service System, Inc. is likewise authorized to furnish it with such ration currency. As soon as practicable after making a purchase of shoes with such ration currency it shall return the shoes (unused) to the establishment from which the ration currency was received. The Willmark Service System, Inc. and each of its clients shall keep records of the issuance of ration currency hereunder and the return of the shoes and shall make such reports as the Office of Price Administration may require.

It is hereby further ordered, That any other persons similarly situated may be authorized on similar conditions, to receive or issue ration currency to be used to make test purchases of shoes. Such authority may be granted in writing by the Director of the Miscellaneous Products Rationing Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., or, if such services are performed only within the area of a Regional Office, by the Regional Administrator of the area.

This order shall become effective February 22, 1943.

(Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89, 507, 421, and 429, 77th Cong.; W.P.B. Dir. 1, 7 F.R. 562; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719)

[Administrative Exception Order 1 Under Ration Order 11]

PREMISES USED FOR REGISTRATION FOR WAR RATION BOOK TWO

ORDER GRANTING EXCEPTION

For the purpose of receiving consumer's applications for War Ration Book Two (Form OPA R-121) the Office of Price Administration will require the use of designated school and other premises which will need to be heated during the registration period.

The allowable ration for heat in non-residential premises in the area hereinafter described was reduced by Amendment No. 23 to Ration Order No. 11. The fuel oil inventory and available coupons may become inadequate for the maintenance of the minimum heating requirements of these premises during the balance of the heating year by reason of the consumption of fuel oil for heating them during the registration period. The Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing finds that in such cases the issuance of additional coupons for the amount of fuel oil used for this purpose would not defeat or impair the effectiveness or the policy of Ration Order No. 11, as amended, and that the granting of such relief would not constitute an exception to, or waiver or variance of, any provision setting forth standards of eligibility or need for a fuel oil ration.

It is therefore ordered, That the person to whom a ration was issued for heating premises, in the area hereinafter mentioned, which are used by the Office of Price Administration for the registration of consumers for War Ration Book Two, may at any time during the remainder of the heating year, if his fuel oil on hand and currently valid coupons are then insufficient to meet the minimum heating requirements of such premises during the remainder of the heating year, apply to his war price and rationing board for currently valid coupons equal in gallonage value to the amount of fuel oil consumed in heating the space used for registration purposes. The applicant shall present to the board a signed statement setting forth the space in the premises used by the Office of Price Administration for such registration and the number of gallons of fuel oil required to heat such space during the registration period. The board shall issue to such applicant Class 1 coupon sheets (Form OPA R-1105) equal in gallonage value to the amount of fuel oil used for this purpose. The area hereinbefore referred to is the States of Connecticut, Delaware, Florida (east of the Apalachicola River), Georgia, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

This order shall become effective February 22, 1943.

AVONDALE MILLS

ORDER AUTHORIZING MAXIMUM PRICE

Order No. 3 under § 1400.101 (b) (5) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 118—Cotton Products. Order authorizing maximum price for a cotton product.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, It is ordered:

(a) The maximum price for the following cotton product shall be:

Producer	Style No.	Description	Cents per yard
Avondale Mills, Sylacauga, Ala.	1760 N	36" 70 x 45 2.90 sanforized suiting.	22.62

(b) The maximum price set forth in paragraph (a) shall apply f. o. b. point of shipment and shall be subject to terms of 2 percent 10 days, 60 days extra, with anticipation at the rate of 6 per cent per annum where payment is made after nine days.

(c) The maximum price set forth in paragraph (a) is for a fabric made in accordance with the construction details on file with the Office of Price Administration for the particular style number.

(d) The maximum price set forth in paragraph (a) may be used by the producer as a base price from which to determine "in line" maximum prices for related types, styles and constructions of cotton products which cannot otherwise be priced under §§ 1400.101 or 1400.118 (e) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 118. If any such determinations are made, the producer shall submit an appropriate report as required by the regulation.

(e) This Order No. 3 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) This Order No. 3 shall become effective February 23, 1943.

[Order 170 Under MPR 188]

AMERICAN GRATE CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 170 under § 1499.158 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188—Manufacturers' Maximum Prices for Specified Building Materials and Consumers Goods Other Than Apparel.

Maximum prices for sales of new fireplace grates and parts distributed by American Grate Co.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and pursuant to the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order No. 9250, § 1499.158 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, and § 1499.3 (b) of General Maximum Price Regulation: It is ordered:

(a) This Order No. 170 sets temporary maximum prices for sales of new fireplace grates and parts manufactured for American Grate Co., 476 Broad Street, Newark, New Jersey, by Federal Seaboard Terra Cotta Corporation, Perth Amboy, New Jersey. It applied only to the grates and parts which have been described in an application submitted by the manufacturer to the Office of Price Administration. The order is temporary. No sales or deliveries may be made under its authority after the first day of April, 1943.

The prices listed below as the maximum prices for the grates may be charged only if American Grate Co. attaches to each grate a written warranty described in paragraph (b). If the company does not make the warranty, the maximum prices for sales by that company and by wholesalers and retailers shall be computed by deducting 15% from the prices stated below.

(1) For sales by the Federal Seaboard Terra Cotta Corporation to American Grate Co., the maximum prices are as follows:

5-piece grate----------	$3.00
6-piece grate----------	3.56
Inside piece----------	.56
Outside piece----------	.66

These prices are for the grates and parts at the seller's shipping floor, not packed.

(2) For sales by American Grate Co. to wholesalers or jobbers, the maximum prices, f. o. b. Perth Amboy, New Jersey, are as follows:

5-piece grate	$5.00
6-piece grate	5.93
Inside piece	.93
Outside piece	1.10

(3) For sales by American Grate Co. to retailers, the maximum prices, f. o. b. Perth Amboy, New Jersey, are as follows:

5-piece grate	$5.50
6-piece grate	6.52
Inside piece	1.02
Outside piece	1.21

(4) For sales at wholesale by persons other than American Grate Co., the maximum prices, f. o. b. the seller's city, are as follows:

5-piece grate	$6.67
6-piece grate	7.90
Inside piece	1.23
Outside piece	1.47

(5) For sales at retail, the maximum prices are as follows:

5-piece grate	$10.00
6-piece grate	11.85
Inside piece	1.85
Outside piece	2.20

(b) The maximum prices for the grates set forth in subparagraphs (2), (3), (4), and (5), of paragraph (a) can be charged only if American Grate Co. sells the grate with a written warranty in the following form:

"American Grate Co., 476 Broad Street, Newark, New Jersey, warrants to the retailer and to any person buying from him that this grate is fit for burning coal or wood in a fireplace." If the company desires to do so, it may add: "This warranty, however, does not protect against rough handling by the consumer."

The warranty shall be attached to the grate before shipment by the American Grate Co., and shall not be detached until after the grate has been delivered to the consumer.

(c) Before delivery of a fireplace grate or part to any purchaser for resale, the American Grate Co. shall attach a tag or label which plainly states the retail ceiling price of the grate or part. For example, a statement in the following form on a tag attached to a 5-piece grate would be sufficient: "Retail Ceiling Price $10.00." The tag or label should not be detached until the grate or part has been delivered to the consumer.

(d) At or before the time of the first delivery after the effective date of this order, the American Grate Co. shall notify in writing every person who buys from it of the maximum price set by this Order No. 170 for resales by the purchaser. This written notice may be given in any convenient manner; for example, it may be shown on or attached to the invoice, or packed with the merchandise.

(e) This Order No. 170 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) Unless the context otherwise requires the definitions set forth in § 1499.20 of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to terms used herein.

(g) This Order No. 170 shall become effective on the 23d day of February 1943, and shall terminate on the 1st day of April, 1943.

Issued this 22d day of February 1943.

PRENTISS M. BROWN,
Administrator.

[Suspension Order 220]

DICK HOUGH

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

Earl R. Hough, doing business as Dick Hough, 3008 Liberty Heights Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland, hereinafter called respondent, was duly served with a notice of charges of violations of Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice a hearing upon the charges was held in Baltimore, Maryland, on December 7, 1942. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent. The evidence pertaining to the charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. The matter having been considered by the Chairman of the Industry Council, it is hereby determined that:

(a) Respondent is a dealer in gasoline and operates a filling station and an automobile repair shop at 3008 Liberty Heights Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland.

(b) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations (§ 1394.1502), in that on several occasions between July 22, 1942, and November 15, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to consumers and into the fuel tanks of motor vehicles without receiving in exchange therefor any gasoline ration coupons. Such transfers were not within any of the classes of transfers permitted by the Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, to be made without the exchange of coupons.

(c) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations (§§ 1394.1502 and 1394.1503), in that on several occasions between July 22, 1942, and November 15, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to consumers and into the fuel tanks of motor vehicles and accepted in exchange therefor thirty-one Class A, No. 3 gasoline ration coupons.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline in Maryland respondent's violations of Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, have resulted in the diversion of Gasoline from military and essential civilian uses into non-essential uses, in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to the national war effort. It appears to the Chairman of the Industry Council that further violations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken, It is therefore ordered:

(d) During the period in which this Suspension Order No. 220 shall be in effect,

(1) Respondent shall not in any manner directly or indirectly sell, transfer or deliver gasoline to any person.

(2) Respondent shall not in any manner directly or indirectly accept any deliveries or transfers of gasoline for resale.

(3) No person shall in any manner directly or indirectly transfer or deliver any gasoline to respondent for resale.

(e) Any terms used in this Suspension Order No. 220 that are defined in Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, shall have the meaning therein given them.

(f) This Suspension Order No. 220 shall become effective 12:01 a. m. March 4, 1943, and shall remain in effect until 12:01 a. m. March 19, 1943.

[Emergency Order 1, Amendment 2 Under Ration Order 11]

KEROSENE SHORTAGE IN NEW ENGLAND AREA

Pursuant to the authority conferred upon the Regional Administrator by § 1394.5715 of Ration Order No. 11, as amended, paragraphs (b) (2), (d) and (f) of Emergency Order No. 1 are amended to read as follows:

(b) Order. * * *

(2) Limitations on transfers and deliveries. (i) During the effective period of this order, no person shall transfer or deliver kerosene within the kerosene shortage area to any consumer for use in space heaters in residential premises, or for domestic cooking or lighting, and no consumer shall accept a transfer or delivery for use in space heaters in residential premises, or for domestic cooking or lighting, in an amount in excess of twenty-five gallons in any one delivery. No such consumer shall be entitled to receive a delivery of kerosene which when added to his stock on hand will exceed twenty-five gallons.

(ii) No consumer shall, for the purpose of obtaining a delivery of kerosene, knowingly or in bad faith misstate or otherwise misrepresent the amount or supply of kerosene which he has on hand or the amount of his estimated needs. A dealer to whom a consumer has made misstatements or misrepresentations with respect to such consumers' supply on hand or needs shall forthwith report to the nearest State or District office of the Office of Price Administration the name and address of such consumer and the facts as to the misstatement or misrepresentation by such consumer.

* * * * *

(d) Definitions. "Kerosene shortage area" shall mean the States of Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island and the Counties of Belknap, Cheshire, Hillsboro, Merrimack, Rockingham, Sullivan and Stafford in the State of New Hampshire. All other terms used in this order shall have the meaning assigned to them in Ration Order No. 11.

* * * * *

(f) Effective period. Emergency order No. 1 shall terminate at 12:00 p. m. February 17, 1943 unless extended by further order.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

[File Nos. 59-34, 59-56]

NEW ENGLAND GAS AND ELECTRIC ASSN., ET AL.

ORDER DENYING MOTION, ETC.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 17th day of February, A. D., 1943.

In the matter of New England Gas and Electric Association, Paul Smith, Alexander Speer, and Frederick W. Bartow, as trustees of Gas and Electric Associates, Francis G. Goodale, as trustee of Utility Investing Trust, Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, as trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, Stanley Clarke, as trustee of Associated Gas and Electric Company; File No. 59-34.

In the matter of New England Gas and Electric Association; File No. 59-56.

Order denying motion and reconvening hearing for further proceedings; order consolidating such proceedings, and order for consolidated hearing.

The Commission, by order dated September 30, 1941, having instituted proceedings under section 11 (b) (2) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, with respect to New England Gas and Electric Association, a registered holding company; and hearings having been held, briefs having been filed, and the Commission having heard oral argument and taken said matter under advisement; and, by order dated September 26, 1942, having instituted proceedings under section 11(b)(1) of the said Act, with respect to New England Gas and Electric Association, and said order having designated November 30, 1942, as the date for public hearing in the matter embraced by said order, and such hearing date, at the request of New England Gas and Electric Association, having been postponed by subsequent order to February 24, 1943;

New England Gas and Electric Association having filed a motion to stay the issuance of any pending decision of the Commission in the said proceedings under section 11(b)(2) of the said Act, and to reopen said proceedings, alleging that certain new issues are pertinent to the section 11(b)(2) proceedings, and that they should be before the Commission for such action or consideration as the Commission may deem proper under the circumstances; said new issues having arisen as follows:

1. On October 16, 1942, there was instituted in the Middlesex Superior Court in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, a suit by Paul Smith, Alexander Speer, and Frederick W. Bartow, as Trustees of Gas and Electric Associates, a subsidiary of the Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, a registered holding company, against Francis G. Goodale, as Trustee of Utilities Investing Trust, and Floyd D. Campbell, H. Coleman Moore, Jr., Edward P. Furber, and Lothrop Withington, as Trustees of New England Gas and Electric Association, wherein the said Trustees of Gas and Electric Associates seek the following orders:

(a) That the Court order and decree that the issuance of 100,000 Second Preferred Shares by New England Gas and Electric Association to Utilities Investing Trust in substitution and exchange for 100,000 First Preferred Shares was fraudulent as to Gas and Electric Associates, that New England Gas and Electric Association issue or reissue 100,000 First Preferred Shares to Utilities Investing Trust, and that in return therefor, Utilities Investing Trust transfer and surrender the aforesaid 100,000 Second Preferred Shares to New England Gas and Electric Association;

(b) That the Court order and decree that the cancellation and release by Utilities Investing Trust of $14,583,290.12 of indebtedness of New England Gas and Electric Association to Utilities Investing Trust was fraudulent as to Gas and Electric Associates, that said indebtedness in said amount from New England Gas and Electric Associates to Utilities Investing Trust be reestablished, and that in return therefor, Utilities Investing Trust transfer and surrender to New England Gas and Electric Association, (1) 50,000 Common Shares of New England Gas and Electric Association, and (2) the 100,000 First Preferred Shares issued or reissued by New England Gas and Electric Association to Utilities Investing Trust.

2. On October 16, 1942, Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, as Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, and Stanley Clarke, as Trustee of Associated Gas and Electric Company, instituted proceedings in the District

Court of the United States for the District of Massachusetts against Floyd D. Campbell, H. Coleman Moore, Jr., Edward P. Furber, and Lothrop Withington, as Trustees of New England Gas and Electric Association, wherein the said Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation and Associated Gas and Electric Company seek the following orders:

(a) That the defendants be ordered to account to the plaintiffs for profits received by New England Gas and Electric Association in, and resulting from, the transfer of the stock and indebtedness of Electric Associates, Inc., from Associated Gas and Electric Corporation to New England Gas and Electric Association;

(b) That an order be entered establishing a lien in favor of the plaintiffs upon the securities and investments received by New England Gas and Electric Association from Electric Associates, Inc., and any other property held by New England Gas and Electric Association which is found to be the proceeds of the stock and indebtedness of Electric Associates, Inc., transferred to New England Gas and Electric Association, or of the assets of Electric Associates, Inc., to secure the payment of the amount found to be due plaintiffs upon such accounting;

(c) That defendants be enjoined and restrained, during the pendency of this complaint, from transferring, assigning, or otherwise alienating or disposing of their right, title, and interest in and to the securities and investments received by New England Gas and Electric Association from Electric Associates, Inc., or any of them.

As a further ground for staying the issuance of any pending decision of the Commission and to reopen the said proceedings, under section 11 (b) (2) of the Act, New England Gas and Electric Association urges that the advantages available to it under the Internal Revenue Act, recently passed by Congress, with respect to the retirement of debt, will be of advantage to the security holders, and will make unnecessary the type of readjustment of its capital structure now under consideration by the Commission.

The Commission having considered the motion, and it appearing that the matters set forth therein are not relevant to the proper disposition of the issues briefed and argued before the Commission under section 11(b)(2) of the Act, and that the said motion should be denied; and

It further appearing to the Commission that the matters set forth in the said motion with respect to the pending suits against the Trustees of New England Gas and Electric Association are relevant to the determination of a proper allocation of securities under any plan of recapitalization of New England Gas and Electric Association, and that the hearing under section 11(b)(2) should be reconvened to consider the subject matter of such suits and for further proceedings under sections 11(a), 11(b)(2), 12(f), 12(g), 15(f) and 20(a) of said Act, and that Paul Smith, Alexander Speer, and Frederick W. Bartow, as Trustees of Gas and Electric Associates, Francis G. Goodale, as Trustee of Utilities Investing Trust, Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, as Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, and Stanley Clarke, as Trustee of Associated Gas and Electric Company, be made parties in the proceeding, and that at said hearing there be considered, among other things, the various matters hereinafter set forth;

It further appearing to the Commission that all of the foregoing matters are related and that evidence offered in respect of each of the matters herein may have a bearing on the others, and that substantial savings in time, effort and expense, and substantial progress toward the speedy and effective carrying out of the purposes of the Act, and of the applicable provisions thereof, will result if the hearings in said matters are consolidated so that they may be heard as one matter, and that evidence adduced in each matter may stand as evidence in the others for all purposes; and that the hearing scheduled for February 24, 1943, with respect to the proceedings pursuant to section 11(b)(1) of said Act be postponed to the date of the consolidated hearing;

It is hereby ordered, That the said motion of New England Gas and Electric Association be, and hereby is, denied.

It is further ordered, That the said proceedings pursuant to sections 11 (a), 11 (b) (1), 11 (b) (2), 12 (f), 12 (g), 15 (f), and 20 (a) of said Act, be and hereby are consolidated for hearing, and that said consolidated hearing be held on March 4, 1943, at 10 a. m. E. W. T. at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day, the hearing room clerk in room 318 will advise where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act, and to a trial examiner under the Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That the following additional persons be, and hereby are, made parties to this proceeding: Paul Smith, Alexander Speer, and Frederick W. Bartow, as Trustees of Gas and Electric Associates, Francis G. Goodale, as Trustee of Utilities Investing Trust, Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, as Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, and Stanley Clarke, as Trustee of Associated Gas and Electric Company;

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of issues presented by the said consolidated proceedings, and the matters and questions set forth in the Commission's order dated September 26, 1942, particular attention will be directed at the outset of said hearing to the following additional matters and questions;

1. The determination, for the purpose of arriving at a fair and equitable plan of reorganization of New England Gas and Electric Associates, Francis G. Goodale, as Trustee of Utilities Investing Trust, Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, as Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, and Stanley Clarke, as Trustee of Associated Gas and Electric Company, and any other action to comply with section 11 (b) of the Act:

(a) Whether and to what extent Paul Smith, Alexander Speer, and Frederick W. Bartow, as Trustees of Gas and Electric Associates, and Francis G. Goodale, as Trustee of Utilities Investing Trust, have a valid claim against New England Gas and Electric Association;

(b) Whether and to what extent Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, as Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, and Stanley Clarke, as Trustee of Associated Gas and Electric Company, have a valid claim against New England Gas and Electric Association.

(c) In the event such claims are deemed to be valid, the relative rank of such claims in relation to the claims of publicly held securities of New England Gas and Electric Association;

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the hearing aforesaid by mailing a copy of this order by registered mail to Floyd D. Campbell, H. Coleman Moore, Jr., Edward P. Furber, and Lothrop Withington, as Trustees of New England Gas and Electric Association, to Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, as Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, to Stanley Clarke, as Trustee of Associated Gas and Electric Company, to Paul Smith, Alexander Speer, and Frederick W. Bartow, as Trustees of Gas and Electric Associates, and to Francis G. Goodale, as Trustee of Utilities Investing Trust; and that notice of the entry of this order and of the said hearing is hereby given to all subsidiaries of New England Gas and Electric Association, to all security holders of New England Gas and Electric Association and of its subsidiaries, to all consumers of said companies, to all States, municipalities and political subdivisions of States within which are located any of the utility assets of the holding company system of New England Gas and Electric Association, or under the laws of which any of the companies in said holding company system are incorporated, to all State commissions, State securities commissions, and to all agencies, authorities, administrative or judicial bodies, or instrumentalities of the United States of America and of one or more States, municipalities or other political subdivisions having jurisdiction over New England Gas and Electric Association, or any subsidiaries thereof, or over any of the other named parties, or over any of the businesses, affairs or operations of any of them, and to all other persons, such notice to be given by a general release of the Commission distributed through the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and

It is further ordered, That any other person proposing to be heard in these proceedings shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before the 26th day of February, 1943, his application therefor, as provided by Rule XVII of the Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be and hereby is reserved, if, at any time, it may appear conducive to an orderly and economic disposition of any proceeding or proceedings herein, to order a separate hearing concerning such proceeding or proceedings, to close the record with respect to any of the matters, or to take action on any of the matters prior to the closing of the record on the other matters.

By the Commission.

THE NORTH AMERICAN COMPANY

NOTICE REGARDING FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 18th day of February, 1943.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration or application (or both) has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by The North American Company, a registered holding company.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 6, 1943, at 4:00 p. m., e. w. t. request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter, said joint declaration or application, as filed or as amended, may ge granted, as provided in Rule U-23 of the Rules and Regulations promulgated pursuant to said Act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said joint declaration or application, which is on file in the office of the said Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below:

The North American Company proposes to pay a dividend on April 1, 1943 on its common stock in the common capital stock of The Detroit Edison Company, having a par value of $20 per share, owned by The North American Company, at the rate of one share of such stock of The Detroit Edison Company on each fifty shares of the outstanding common stock of The North American Company. No certificates will be issued for fractions of shares of stock of The Detroit Edison Company, but, in lieu thereof, cash will be paid at the rate of 38 cents for each 1/50 of a share of such stock of The Detroit Edison Company, this rate being based on the approximate market price of $19.00 per share as of February 11, 1943, the date the proposed dividend was declared. The North American Company estimates that the dividend will result in the distribution of substantially all of the 155,602 shares of such stock of The Detroit Edison Company owned by it and of approximately $350,000 in cash, and that the payment of the proposed dividend will result in a charge to earned surplus of approximately $4,100,000.

MANUFACTURERS TRUST COMPANY

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 19th day of February, 1943.

Notice is hereby given that on February 17, 1943, Manufacturers Trust Company filed an application in the above styled and numbered matter for an order extending its exemption as a holding company;

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said application, and that said application shall not be granted except pursuant to further order of the Commission;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such application under the applicable provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 be held on February 24, 1943 at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., in the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Edward C. Johnson or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a Trial Examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That any other person desiring to be heard in connection with these proceedings or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before February 23, 1943, his request or application therefor as provided by Rule XVII of the Rules of Practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the hearing aforesaid by mailing a copy of this order to Manufacturers Trust Company by registered mail; and that notice of said hearing be given to all persons by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The hearing herein ordered will be in regard to the request of the Manufacturers Trust Company that its exemption as a holding company, which expires on February 26, 1943, be extended to July 1, 1943.

REPUBLIC SERVICE CORPORATION AND ITS SUBSIDIARIES

ORDER REQUIRING DIVESTMENT OF CERTAIN INTERESTS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 19th day of February 1943.

The Commission having instituted proceedings pursuant to sections 11 (b) (1) and 11 (b) (2) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by its Notices of and Orders for Hearing, dated May 9 and June 17, 1942, to determine, among other matters; what action is necessary to limit the operations of the holding company system of Republic Service Corporation to a single integrated public utility system, and to such other businesses as are reasonably incidental or economically necessary or appropriate to the operations of such integrated public utility system; whether the corporate structure of Republic unduly or unnecessarily complicates the structure of the holding company system; and whether, for the purpose of fairly and equitably distributing voting power among security holders of Republic pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the Act, it is necessary or appropriate that Republic revise and simplify its corporate structure, and take other steps to distribute the voting power fairly and equitably among its security holders.

Hearings having been held from time to time after appropriate notice; the respondents having filed, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Act, a plan or reorganization designed to effect compliance with sections 11 (b) (1) and 11 (b) (2) of the Act, the proceedings as to which were duly consolidated with the pending proceedings under sections 11 (b) (1) and 11 (b) (2) of the Act; the Commission, on January 9, 1943 having issued a Notice and Order directing that consideration be given at the hearings reconvened on January 18, 1943 to certain issues specified in such Notice and Order;

A hearing having been held after appropriate notice and opportunity for hearing on the matters pertaining to the issues raised by said Notice and Order;

The parties having waived the filing of briefs, the submission of requests for specific findings and oral argument; the Commission having duly considered the record and having this day made and filed its findings and opinion herein;

It is ordered, Pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, that respondent Republic Service Corporation shall take such action as may be appropriate, not in contravention of the applicable provisions of the Act or the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder; to divest itself of all interests in, and all ownership and control of Page Power Company, Madison Power Company, Massanutten Power Corporation, Massanutten Water Corporation, and Holston River Power Company;

It is further ordered, Pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, that Republic Service Corporation shall take such steps as may be necessary to change its capitalization in an appropriate manner, not in contravention of the applicable provisions of the Act or the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, so as to ensure that the corporate structure of Republic Service Corporation does not unduly or unnecessarily complicate the structure or unfairly or inequitably distribute voting power among security holders of the Republic Service Corporation holding company system, and that, upon such recapitalization, the common stock of Republic Service Corporation shall be accorded no participation.

It is further ordered, That Republic Service Corporation, in accordance with section 11 (c) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, shall comply with this order within one year from the date of its entry; without prejudice to its right to apply for additional time for compliance with such order as provided in such section;

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction is reserved to enter such orders in these proceedings as may be necessary or appropriate for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this order;

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction is reserved with respect to all the issues remaining in the consolidated proceedings herein.

By the Commission.

SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY AND JAMES C. TUCKER

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE AND GRANTING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 19th day of February, A. D. 1943.

Southwestern Public Service Company, a registered holding company, having filed a declaration pursuant to section 12 (d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and Rule U-44 of the Rules and Regulations of the Commission promulgated thereunder, proposing to sell to James C. Tucker, an individual, all of the outstanding capital stock (being all of the securities) of two of its subsidiaries, the Arizona Electric Power Company and the Flagstaff Electric Light Company, for a basic purchase price of $775,000 cash, subject to certain adjustments to reflect changes in the current financial position of such subsidiary companies to the date of the closing of the transaction;

Said James C. Tucker having filed an application pursuant to sections 9 (a) (2) and 10 of said Act, proposing to purchase said securities;

A consolidated public hearing having been held upon said declaration and application, after appropriate notice, and the Commission having considered the record and having made and filed its findings and opinion herein; and

The Commission deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to permit said declaration to become effective pursuant to the applicable sections of the Act and to grant said application;

It is ordered, That said declaration be, and it hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, and said application be, and it hereby is, granted.

BADGER AUTO SERVICE COMPANY AND THE MILWAUKEE ELECTRIC RAILWAY & TRANSPORT COMPANY

ORDER APPROVING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 20th day of February 1943.

Badger Auto Service Company, a wholly owned subsidiary of The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company, and The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company, an indirect subsidiary of The North American Company, a registered holding company, having filed a joint application and declaration pursuant to applicable provisions of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the General Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder, relating to (1) the proposal of Badger Auto Service Company (a) to purchase 200 shares of its capital stock having a par value of $50 per share for cash at par from The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company, and (b) to retire and cancel the shares to be so purchased; and (2) the proposal of The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Transport Company to sell to the Badger Auto Service Company said 200 shares of the capital stock of the latter company for cash at the par value thereof; and

Said joint application and declaration having been filed on the 28th day of January, 1943, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the manner and form prescribed by Rule U-23 under said Act, and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to said joint application and declaration within the period specified in such notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that the requirements of sections 10, 12 (c) and 12 (f) and Rules U-42 and U-43 are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary thereunder, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers to permit said declaration to become effective;

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to said Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said Act and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 that said application be and the same is hereby approved and that said joint declaration be and the same is hereby permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission (Commissioner Healy dissenting for the reasons set forth in his memorandum of April 1, 1940).

(2) The term "non-quota purchaser" means:

(i) The Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps, the Coast Guard, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Defense Supplies Corporation, War Shipping Administration, or any agency of the United States Government for supplies to be delivered to or for the account of the government of any country pursuant to the act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(ii) Any person operating an oceangoing vessel engaged in the transportation of cargo or passengers in the foreign, coastwise, or intercoastal trade for nccessary supplies for such vessels.

(iii) Any person for retail sale through concession restaurants at Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard camps, or through outlets not operated for private profit and established primarily for the use of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard personnel within or on Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard establishments or vessels, including post exchanges, sales commissaries, officers' messes, servicemen's clubs, and ship's service departments.

(iv) Any person who furnishes eating facilities for members of the armed forces pursuant to contract therefor with the United States for necessary supplies for such purposes.

(v) Any person who purchases restricted canned foods for delivery in any territory, possession, or leased military base of the United States.

(vi) Any person who purchases grape juice, tomato pulp in 5 gallon cans, tomato paste in #10 cans, and peppers for use in the commercial manufacture of food products.

(vii) Any person who purchases restricted canned foods for resale to a nonquota purchaser, or to replace in his inventory material delivered to a nonquota purchaser.

(3) The term "person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business entity.

(4) The term "Director" means the Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, or any employee of the United States Department of Agriculture designated by such Director.

(5) The term "wholesale receiver" means any person other than a nonquota purchaser (regardless of whether or not he is also a canner) whose purchases, heretofore or hereafter, aggregate, during the period beginning on June 30, 1942, in excess of 4,000 cases of any group of restricted canned foods for any purpose.

(6) The term "base figure" means, at the wholesale receiver's option, either the total of his acceptances of delivery, or his sales, in each group, between January 1, 1942, and August 31, 1942, of all canned foods listed in such group, wherever or whenever packed, minus all such goods sold to non-quota purchasers listed in the order.

(b) Restrictions on delivery. (1) No canner shall deliver any restricted canned foods to any wholesale receiver who cannot legally receive the goods under this order.

(2) Any wholesale receiver who has in his possession, in transit to him, or under contract for delivery at a future date (excluding goods frozen by other orders), less than the following percentages of his base figure

	Percent
For group I (in Exhibit A)	25
For group II (in Exhibit A)	25
For group III (in Exhibit A)	25

may accept delivery of a quantity of restricted canned foods of each group sufficient when added to the quantity in his possession or under his control by virtue of existing contracts for future delivery to equal the percentages hereinabove stated.

(c) Unit of calculation. All calculations as to base figure, quotas, and any other calculation that may become necessary under the provisions of this order shall be made in terms of cases.

(d) Records and reports. Every person subject to this order shall maintain such records for at least two years (or for such other periods of time as the Director may designate) and shall execute and file such reports upon such forms and submit such information as the Director may from time to time request or direct, and within such times as he may prescribe.

(e) Audit and inspection. Every person subject to this order shall, upon request, permit inspections at all reasonable times of his stocks of restricted foods, and premises used in his business, and all of his books, records, and accounts shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by the Director.

(f) Applicability of order. (1) Any person doing business in one or more of the 48 States or the District of Columbia is subject to the provisions hereof. The provisions hereof shall not apply to any person doing business in any Territory or Possession of the United States with respect to such business.

(2) In the case of any person who is both a packer and a wholesale receiver, the provisions hereof applicable to packers shall apply to his operations as a packer, and the provisions hereof applicable to wholesale receivers shall apply to his operations as a wholesale receiver.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who by any act or omission falsifies records to be kept or information to be furnished pursuant to this order, or wilfully conceals a material fact concerning a matter within the jurisdiction of any Department or agency of the United States, may be prohibited from receiving or making further deliveries of any material subject to allocation; and such further action may be taken against him as the Director deems appropriate, including recommendations for prosecution under section 35 (a) of the Criminal Code (18 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 80), under paragraph 5 of section 301 of Title III of the Second War Powers Act, and under any and all other applicable laws.

(h) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him, may petition in writing (in triplicate) for relief to the Director, setting forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Director may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate, and such action shall be final.

(i) Communications to the Department of Agriculture. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Director of Food Distribution, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Ref: FD–24.

(j) Conservation Order M–237, as amended, superseded. This order supersedes in all respects Conservation Order M–237 of the War Production Board, as amended January 7, 1943 (8 F.R. 312) except that as to violations of said order or rights accrued, liabilities incurred, or appeals taken under said order prior to the effective date hereof, said Conservation Order M–237, as amended, shall be deemed in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action, or other proceeding with respect to any such violation, right, or liability. Any appeal pending under said Conservation Order M–237, as amended, shall be considered under (h) hereof.

(k) Effective date. This order shall take effect upon its issuance.

TITLE 10—ARMY: WAR DEPARTMENT

Chapter VII—Personnel

PART 79b—WOMEN'S ARMY AUXILIARY CORPS

ORDERS, ENROLLMENT AND DISCHARGE

Sections 79b.4, 79b.6 (e), and 79b.12 are amended as follows:

§ 79b.4 Orders. Orders authorizing assignment to duty, transfer, or other changes in status of individuals of the WAAC will be issued by the commanding general of the service command upon request of the WAAC service command director. Orders for detached service will be issued by the headquarters authorized to issue such orders for Army personnel at stations where WAAC personnel are assigned. (Act of May 14, 1942, Public Law 554, 77th Congress) [Par. 10, Women's Army Auxiliary Corps Regulations (Tentative) May 28, 1942, as amended by WAAC Cir. 17, December 29, 1942]

§ 79b.6 Enrollment.[1] • • •

(e) Enrollment will be conducted by Army recruiting officers at recruiting and induction stations. WAAC officers may, in the discretion of the commanding officer of the recruiting and induction station to which assigned, be authorized to administer the oath of enrollment to enrollees in the WAAC. (Act of May 14, 1942, Public Law 554, 77th Congress) [Par. 16, Women's Army Auxiliary Corps Regulations (Tenative) May 28, 1942, as amended by WAAC Cir. 13, October 14, 1942.]

[1] 7 F.R. 4818.

* * * * *

§ 79b.12 Discharge. (a) Upon satisfactory completion of her term of service, an enrolled member of the WAAC will be honorably discharged (white certificate).

(b) (1) An enrolled member of the WAAC may be discharged for the convenience of the Government by the Secretary of War, when in the discretion of the Director, retention in the Corps would not be for the best interests of the Government, and a member so discharged may be given an honorable discharge (white certificate), a discharge (white certificate), or a summary discharge (blue certificate).

(2) Except in the case of the discharge of a member to accept a commission in the WAAC, in cases involving pregnancy, and in cases similar to those in which commanding officers may recommend or make discharges under provisions of AR 615-360[1] without board proceedings, no member will be discharged under the provisions of this paragraph without a thorough and complete investigation of all facts and circumstances, conducted by a board, consisting of at least three WAAC officers, in conformity with the provisions of AR 420-5.[2]

(c) An enrolled member of the WAAC may be discharged by the Secretary of War for disability in the following instances: When an enrolled member, because of injury, disease, or disability, physical or mental, is unfitted for service.

(1) If the same occurs in the line of duty, and this fact is established in accordance with the provisions of AR 345-415,[3] an enrolled member will be given an honorable discharge (white certificate).

(2) If the same occurs not in line of duty, and this fact is established in accordance with the provisions of AR 345-415,[3] an enrolled member may be given an honorable discharge (white certificate), or a discharge (white certificate), or a summary discharge (blue certificate).

(d) Each enrolled member of the WAAC on active duty will be given a complete physical examination, such as is prescribed for members of the Army, within a period of 72 hours prior to her separation from the Corps. (Act of May 14, 1942, Public Law 554, 77th Congress) [Pars. 35 to 38, inclusive, Women's Army Auxiliary Corps Regulations (Tentative), May 28, 1942, as amended by WAAC Cir. 3, February 1, 1943]

§ 3.6 (a) Advertising falsely or misleadingly—Business status, advantages or connections of advertiser—Producer status of dealer or seller—Manufacturer. In connection with offer, etc., in commerce, of granite or marble monuments, tombstones or footstones, and among other things, as in order set forth, representing, by means of pictorial or other representations of a factory or manufacturing plant, or in any other manner, that respondent makes or manufactures its granite monuments or tombstones unless and until it owns and operates or directly and absolutely controls the factory or plant wherein such monuments or tombstones are made or manufactured by it; prohibited. (Sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended by sec. 3, 52 Stat. 112; 15 U.S.C., sec. 45b) [Modified cease and desist order, American Memorial Company, Docket 3369, February 16, 1943]

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of February, A. D. 1943.

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon order to show cause why this case should not be reopened for the purpose of issuing a modified order to cease and desist, which order came on for hearing before the Commission on January 27, 1943, and the respondent having been duly served with a certified copy of said order prior to said hearing, and the Commission having considered the matter and the record herein and being now fully advised in the premises;

It is ordered, That the respondent, American Memorial Company, its officers, representatives, agents, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale, and distribution of granite or marble monuments, tombstones, or footstones in commerce between and among the various states of the United States and in the District of Columbia, do forthwith cease and desist from:

(1) Representing by the use of the words "everlasting" or "eternal," or any other word of similar import or meaning, or in any other manner, that any monument, tombstone, or footstone composed of marble is everlasting;

(2) Representing that respondent's monuments or tombstones weigh 400 pounds or any other specified weight or weights unless and until such is the fact;

(3) Representing that the respondent has posted a bond guaranteeing the quality of its products, or has posted a bond which insures conformity by the respondent with the laws of the United States Government or with the rules and regulations of any agency thereof, or has posted any other bond, unless and until such is the fact;

(4) Representing, by means of pictorial or other representations of a factory or manufacturing plant, or in any other manner, that respondent makes or manufactures its granite monuments or tombstones unless and until it owns and operates or directly and absolutely controls the factory or plant wherein such monuments or tombstones are made or manufactured by it.

It is further ordered, That the respondent shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with this order.

By the Commission.

PART 3—DIGEST OF CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS

D. M. ALACHUZOS COMPANY

§ 3.6 (a) Advertising falsely or misleadingly—Business status, advantages or connections of advertiser—Producer status of dealer or seller—Grower or producer. In connection with offer, etc., in commerce, of sponge products, (1) representing in any manner that the respondent is a producer of sponges; or (2) using the term "producer" in advertising or in any other manner when such use represents that respondent is a sponge producer; prohibited. Sec 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended by sec 3, 52 Stat. 112; 15 U.S.C., sec. 45b) [Cease and desist order, D. M. Alachuzos Company, Docket 4051, February 17, 1943]

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of February, A. D. 1943.

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, answer of the respondent, testimony and other evidence, in support of and in opposition to the allegations of the complaint, taken before trial examiners of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, report of the trial examiners upon the evidence and exceptions filed thereto, and briefs filed in support of the complaint and in opposition thereto; and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that said respondent has violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That the respondent, D. M. Alachuzos Company, a corporation, and its officers, representatives, agents, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device in connection with the offering for sale, sale, and distribution of sponge products in commerce as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

(1) Representing in any manner that the respondent is a producer of sponges.

(2) Using the term "producer" in advertising or in any other manner when such use represents that respondent is a sponge producer.

It is further ordered, That the respondent shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with this order.

By the Commission.

UNITED STATES MARBLE & GRANITE COMPANY

§ 3.6 (h) Advertising falsely or misleadingly—Fictitious or misleading guarantees: § 3.6 (t) Advertising falsely or misleadingly—Qualities or properties of product or service: § 3.6 (x) Advertising falsely or misleadingly—Results: § 3.72 (f 15) Offering deceptive inducements to purchase—Guarantee, in general. In connection with offer, etc., in commerce, of marble tombstones and monuments, representing (1) that respondent's memorials composed of marble will stand the ravages of time forever, or that they are everlasting or forever durable, or that they will never fade, stain, or tarnish; (2) that respondent's said marble tombstones and monuments will always retain their original brightness or that said memorials are age enduring; and (3) that respondent has posted a "Gold Bond Guarantee" assuring purchasers of the everlasting quality and durability of his said marble tombstones and monuments and the freedom of such products from fading, staining, or tarnishing and that said "Gold Bond Guarantee" protects purchasers of such products if respondent's claims and representations are not true; prohibited. (Sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended by sec. 3, 52 Stat. 112; 15 U.S.C., sec. 45b) [Modified cease and desist order, United States Marble & Granite Company, Docket 4138, February 16, 1943]

In the Matter of Asa L. Wooten, an Individual trading as United States Marble & Granite Company.

At a regular session of the Federal Trade Commission, held at its office in the City of Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of February, A. D. 1943.

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon order to show cause why this case should not be reopened for the purpose of issuing a modified order to cease and desist, which order came on for hearing before the Commission on January 27, 1943, and the respondent having been duly served with a certified copy of said order prior to said hearing, and the Commission having considered the matter and the record herein and being now fully advised in the premises:

It is ordered, That the respondent, Asa L. Wooten, an individual, trading as United States Marble & Granite Company, or under any other trade name, his representatives, agents, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale, and distribution of marble tombstones and monuments in commerce as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from representing, directly or by implication:

(1) That respondent's memorials composed of marble will stand the ravages of time forever, or that they are everlasting or forever durable, or that they will never fade, stain, or tarnish;

(2) That respondent's said marble tombstones and monuments will always retain their original brightness or that said memorials are age enduring;

(3) That respondent has posted a "Gold Bond Guarantee" assuring purchasers of the everlasting quality and durability of his said marble tombstones and monuments and the freedom of such products from fading, staining, or tarnishing and that said "Gold Bond Guarantee" protects purchasers of such products if respondent's claims and representations are not true.

It is further ordered, That the respondent shall within sixty (60) days after service upon him of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which he has complied with this order.

By the Commission.

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 19.22 (b) (1)-1 of Regulations 103 [Part 19, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1940 Sup.], as amended by Treasury Decision 5194, approved December 8, 1942, is further amended as follows:

(A) By striking the first five sentences and the portion of the sixth sentence preceding the colon and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

The proceeds of life insurance policies, paid by reason of the death of an insured to his estate or to a beneficiary (individual, partnership, or corporation), directly or in trust, are excluded from the gross income of the beneficiary, except in the case of a transferee for valuable consideration (other than a transferee to which the next to the last sentence of section 22 (b) (2) (A) applies or a spouse to whom such payments are income under section 22 (k). If, however, such proceeds are held by the insurer under an agreement to pay interest thereon, the interest payments must be included in gross income. In the case of a beneficiary to whom payments are made in installments pursuant to an option exercised by such beneficiary, the amount exempted is the amount payable immediately after the death of the insured had such beneficiary not elected to exercise an option to receive the proceeds of the policy or any part thereof at a later date or dates. In any mode of settlement pursuant to an agreement of the insurer with a beneficiary the portion of each distribution which is to be included in gross income shall be determined as follows:

(B) Paragraph (a) is amended by striking out the parenthetical expression therein which reads as follows: "(whether with the insured or with a beneficiary)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "with a beneficiary".

(C) Paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) are amended by inserting after the word "If" as it first occurs therein the following: ", pursuant to such agreement,".

(D) The final paragraph of § 19.22 (b) (1)-1 is amended by inserting after the words "If a mode of settlement" the following: "pursuant to such agreement".

PAR. 2. Article 22 (b) (1)-1 of Regulations 101 [§ 9.22 (b) (1)-1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup.], article 22 (b) (1)-1 of Regulations 94 [§ 3.22 (b) (1)-1, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], and article 22 (b) (1)-1 of Regulations 86 are each amended as follows:

(A) By striking the first five sentences and the portion of the sixth sentence preceding the colon and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

The proceeds of life insurance policies, paid by reason of the death of an insured to his estate or to a beneficiary (individual, partnership, or corporation), directly or in trust, are excluded from the gross income of the beneficiary, except in the case of a transferee for valuable consideration. If, however, such proceeds are held by the insurer under an agreement to pay interest thereon, the interest payments must be included in gross income. In the case of a beneficiary to whom payments are made in installments pursuant to an option exercised by such beneficiary, the amount exempted is the amount payable immediately after the death of the insured had such beneficiary not elected to exercise an option to receive the proceeds of the policy or any part thereof at a later date or dates. In any mode of settlement pursuant to an agreement of the insurer with a beneficiary the portion of each distribution which is to be included in gross income shall be determined as follows:

(B) Paragraph (a) is amended by striking out the parenthetical expression therein which reads as follows: "(whether with the insured or with a beneficiary)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "with a beneficiary."

(C) Each of the succeeding paragraphs is amended by inserting after the word "If" as it first occurs therein the following: ", pursuant to such agreement,".

PART 1068—CANS

The following interpretation is hereby issued by the Director General for Operations with respect to § 1068.1, Conservation Order M-81.

Frozen tinplate, terneplate or blackplate means only tinplate, terneplate or blackplate which, since prior to December 9, 1942, has been held in the inventory of a can manufacturer (or in the inventory of a supplier of such plate, having been produced for the account of a can manufacturer) because it had been so processed, or was of such size, gauge or grade, that it was not suitable for the manufacture of cans for which tinplate, terneplate or blackplate, are specified, without qualification, in the "Can Material" columns of the schedules attached to the said order.

Issued this 22d day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1099—BEDS, SPRINGS AND MATTRESSES

[Limitation Order L-49 as amended Feb. 23, 1943]

§ 1099.1 General Limitation Order L-49—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Bedding products" means the following: coil, flat, box and fabric bedsprings (whether or not they are integral parts of beds or other sleeping equipment); innerspring mattresses, pads and pillows; studio couches, sofa beds and lounges designed for dual sleeping and seating purposes.

(2) "Base period" means the twelve month period ending June 30, 1941.

(3) "Iron and steel used" means the aggregate weight of iron and steel contained in a finished product.

(4) "Joining hardware" means the minimum amount of iron and steel required for nails, nuts, bolts, screws, clasps, rivets and similar joining purposes.

(5) "Manufacturer" means any person who manufactures or assembles bedding products or parts made specifically for incorporation into bedding products.

(6) "Renovator" means any person who repairs used bedding products.

(b) Restrictions on production of mattresses, pads and pillows. (1) On and after June 8, 1942, no manufacturer shall procure or acquire any wire to be used in the production of innerspring constructions for innerspring mattresses, pads and pillows from any source whatsoever, except from the inventories of other manufacturers of such products.

[1] Form filed as part of the original document.

(2) On and after August 1, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any wire for use in the production of innerspring constructions for innerspring mattresses, pads and pillows.

(3) During the month of August 1942, no manufacturer shall use more wire in the aggregate production of innerspring mattresses, pads and pillows than 100% of the average monthly amount of wire used by him in the aggregate production of such products during the base period.

(4) On and after September 1, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any mattresses, pads and pillows containing any iron or steel, except

(i) Buttons, ventilators, handles or eyelets; or

(ii) A manufacturer may replace units contained in mattresses, pads and pillows previously sold by him if such replacement is specifically required by guarantee agreements entered into by such manufacturer.

(5) On and after August 1, 1942, no manufacturer shall procure or acquire any iron or steel to be used in the production of buttons, ventilators, handles or eyelets for mattresses, pads and pillows from any source whatsoever, except from the inventories of other manufacturers of such products.

(6) On and after September 1, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any buttons, ventilators, handles or eyelets for mattresses, pads and pillows if such buttons, ventilators, handles or eyelets contain any iron or steel.

(c) Restrictions on production of coil, flat, box and fabric bedsprings. (1) On and after December 1, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any coil, flat, box or fabric bedsprings containing more iron or steel other than joining hardware than the following specified amounts:

(i) Full size, 15 pounds.

(ii) Single or twin size, 9 pounds.

(2) During the period of two months beginning February 1, 1943, no manufacturer shall use more iron and steel in the aggregate production of coil, flat, box and fabric bedsprings (whether or not they are integral parts of beds or other sleeping equipment) than 2 1/2% of the iron and steel used by him in the aggregate production of coil, flat and fabric bedsprings (which were not integral parts of beds or other sleeping equipment) during the base period, plus 4 1/6% of the iron and steel used by him in the production of box bedsprings (whether or not they are integral parts of beds or other sleeping equipment) during the base period.

(3) During the period of three months beginning April 1, 1943, and during each three months period thereafter, no manufacturer shall use more iron and steel in the aggregate production of coil, flat, box and fabric bedsprings (whether or not they are integral parts of beds or other sleeping equipment) than 3 1/3% of the iron and steel used by him in the aggregate production of coil, flat and fabric bedsprings (which were not integral parts of beds or other sleeping equipment) during the base period, plus 6 1/4% of the iron and steel used by him in the production of box bedsprings (whether or not they are integral parts of beds or other sleeping equipment) during the base period.

(4) The restrictions contained in paragraphs (c) (2) and (c) (3) shall not apply to manufacturers of parts made specifically for incorporation into coil, flat, box and fabric bedsprings, but only to manufacturers of complete coil, flat, box and fabric bedsprings.

(d) Restrictions on production of studio couches, sofa beds and lounges. (1) On and after August 1, 1942, no manufacturer of parts made specifically for incorporation into studio couches, sofa beds and lounges designed for dual sleeping and seating purposes shall procure or acquire any iron or steel to be used in the production of such parts from any source whatsoever, except from the inventories of other manufacturers of such parts.

(2) On and after September 1, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any parts made specifically for incorporation into studio couches, sofa beds and lounges designed for dual sleeping and seating purposes if such parts contain any iron or steel, other than joining hardware.

(3) On and after November 1, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any studio couch, sofa bed or lounge designed for dual sleeping and seating purposes which contains any iron or steel other than joining hardware, except that manufacturers may, after November 1, 1942, process, fabricate, work on or assemble final fabric covers on any such studio couch, sofa bed or lounge, provided that any such studio couch, sofa bed or lounge has otherwise been completely processed, fabricated, worked on or assembled prior to November 1, 1942.

(e) Restrictions on renovators of bedding products. On and after September 1, 1942, no renovator shall replace any unit contained in an innerspring mattress, pad, pillow, studio couch, sofa bed or lounge with a unit which has never been used by an ultimate consumer.

(f) Special exemptions. The restrictions contained in this order shall not apply to the production of bedding products for the following purposes:

(1) In fulfillment of a specific order of, or contract with, the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, The Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Coast Guard, Civilian Aeronautics Authority, the National Advisory Commission for Aeronautics, Office of Scientific Research and Development and any foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act); or

(2) In fulfillment of a specific order of, or contract with a hospital or sanitarium.

(g) Inventory restrictions. (1) The sales specified below shall be expressly permitted within the terms of paragraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation No. 13 (§ 944.34):

(i) Sales of wire by manufacturers of innerspring constructions for innerspring mattresses, pads and pillows, to other manufacturers of such products.

(ii) Sales of iron or steel by manufacturers of buttons, ventilators, handles or eyelets for mattresses, pads and pillows, to other manufacturers of such products.

(iii) Sales of iron or steel by manufacturers of parts made specifically for incorporation into studio couches, sofa beds and lounges designed for dual sleeping and seating purposes, to other manufacturers of such products.

(iv) Sales of wire by manufacturers of coil, flat, fabric or box bedsprings, to other manufacturers of such products.

(2) No manufacturer of bedding products shall accumulate for use in the manufacture of such products inventories of raw materials, semiprocessed materials, or finished parts in quantities in excess of the minimum amount necessary to maintain production of bedding products at the rates permitted by this order.

(h) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(i) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(j) Reports. Each manufacturer to whom this order applies shall file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said board shall from time to time request.

(k) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(l) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order must be made on Form PD-500 and must be filed with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant to which the appeal relates.

(m) Applicability of other orders. Insofar as any other order issued, or to be issued hereafter, limits or may limit the use of any material in the production of bedding products to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions in such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

(n) Communications. All reports to be filed, and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref: L-49.

Issued this 23d day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

INTERPRETATION 1

Paragraph (d) (3), as amended September 19, 1942, provides that "On and after November 1, 1942, no manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any studio couch, sofa bed or lounge designed for dual sleeping and seating purposes which contains any iron or steel other than joining hardware, except that manufacturers may, after November 1, 1942, process, fabricate, work on or assemble final fabric covers on any such studio couch, sofa bed or lounge, provided that any such studio couch, sofa bed or lounge has otherwise been completely processed, fabricated, worked on or assembled prior to November 1, 1942."

This language is to be strictly construed. No operation other than the putting on of final fabric covers is permitted on and after November 1, 1942. Studio couches, sofa beds or lounges which are merely "sprung up" may not be padded or worked on in any way other than the assembly of final fabric covers. In connection with the assembly of final fabric covers, any work which is absolutely essential to such assembly is permitted. The assembly of hinges, decorative molding, nails, and similar items, after the final fabric cover is placed upon the studio couch, sofa bed or lounge, is also permitted. (Issued October 2, 1942.)

PART 3096—PAPER AND PAPERBOARD

[General Conservation Order M-241 as Amended Feb. 23, 1943 [1]]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply, for defense, for private account and for export, of various materials and facilities required in the manufacture and distribution of paper and paperboard; and the following order is deemed necessary in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3096.1 General Conservation Order M-241—(a) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Produce" includes all operations connected with the production of paper and paperboard, including operations in the finishing room and packaging, but does not include processes or operations applied to paper and paperboard after the primary papermaking, such as printing, waxing, gumming, coating, bag manufacture, cup manufacture and envelope manufacture, box and container manufacture, and the fabrication of paper into paper articles.

(3) "Mill" means a congregation of pulp preparation and roll and sheet finishing equipment, paper machines and subsidiary facilities located and operated together as a single producing unit for the production of paper and paperboard.

(4) "Base period" means the six month period from October 1, 1941 through March 31, 1942.

(5) "Paper merchant" means any person regularly engaged in the business of buying and reselling paper and/or paperboard.

(c) Restrictions on production of paper and paperboard. (1) Unless specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations pursuant to subparagraph (5) of this paragraph (c), no person or persons shall produce paper or paperboard in any mill which has not produced paper or paperboard since August 1, 1942.

(2) Each manufacturer of paper and/or paperboard shall for each mill operated by him determine quarterly a production quota, calculated as follows:

(i) Determine, separately for each class of paper and paperboard on List A, the quantity thereof produced at such mill during the period from October 1, 1941 through March 31, 1942;

(ii) Subtract from the result for each class the quantity produced at such mill during such period of each of the grades of paper or paperboard on List B falling within such class;

(iii) Multiply the remainder for each class by percentage figure set opposite the particular class on List A;

(iv) Add together the several tonnages obtained by (iii), and divide by two.

The quantities shall be measured, to the nearest ton, in tonnage delivered from the paper machine. The method and basis for determining such tonnage shall be that method and basis followed at the particular mill in the past, or any other practicable method and basis, provided the same method and basis are used to determine both current production and production during the base period. If any machine unit of any mill was shut down during the base period for as much as 72 consecutive hours, excluding vacations and holidays, there may be added to (i) for such mill for the class of paper or paperboard principally produced on such machine unit, whatever quantity thereof could have been produced on such machine unit during the down time at the average rate of operation during the preceding month.

The Director General may from time to time by amendment change the classification and/or percentages on List A or change List B, specifying a particular date for the change to take effect. Quotas for production after any such date shall be calculated according to Lists A and B as amended, until further amended. If the effective date of any such amendment is other than the first day of a calendar quarter, the quota for the quarter within which such date falls shall be recalculated by adding together (i) the proportion of the old quota which equals the proportion of the quarter preceding such date and (ii) the proportion of the new quota which equals the proportion of the quarter following such date, including such date.

(3) No person or persons shall during the first calendar quarter of 1943 or any calendar quarter thereafter produce at any mill any quantity of paper and/or paperboard in excess of the quota for such mill for such quarter determined according to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (c), except:

(i) To the extent and upon the conditions stated in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph (c); or

(ii) To the extent specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations pursuant to paragraph (5) (c) of this order, subject to any conditions imposed by the Director General for Operations in such authorization: and, Provided, That,

(i) Within such quota there may be produced at any mill any quantities of any one or several kinds of paper and/or paperboard, provided that the aggregate during any quarter does not exceed such mill's quota for that quarter; and

(ii) Regardless of and over and beyond any such quota, any person may produce at any mill, unless restricted by paragraph (c) (1) or by paragraph (e), any quantity of any kind of paper on List B.

(4) If one person owns only one mill, and such mill is equipped with only one machine unit for the manufacture of paper and/or paperboard, such person may, unless restricted by paragraph (c) (1) or by paragraph (e), produce at such mill during any calendar week any quantity of paper and/or paperboard required to occupy such machine 120 hours during such week: Provided, That such person shall in no other week during the same calendar quarter operate such mill in excess of 120 hours.

(5) If any person owns more than one mill, and can show that by combining or exchanging the several quotas of such mills, or parts thereof, significant quantities of critical materials will be saved, transportation reduced, labor released in areas where needed, or other materials or facilities required in the national defense conserved, he may submit to the Director General for Operations, in writing, a plan for such combination or exchange, stating the quantity and kinds of paper and/or paperboard produced at each mill involved during each month of the year from October 1, 1941 through September 30, 1942, the quantity and kinds of paper expected to be produced at each such mill during each quarter under such plan, how long he proposes to operate under such plan, his reasons for desiring to adopt such plan, and the respects wherein he conceives that such plan will accomplish the purposes mentioned. The Director General for Operations may thereupon approve, modify, or disapprove such plan or may impose upon the execution of any such plan whatever conditions he may deem appropriate to this order. Upon receipt from the Director General for Operations of approval in writing of such a plan the proponent may produce at the mills designated in such plan the quantities and kinds of paper and/or paperboard provided for in such plan, subject to any modifications or conditions imposed by the Director General for Operations in his approval. No person shall undertake or attempt to carry into effect any such plan unless and until he receives such approval.

(d) Reserve production. Each manufacturer of paper and/or paperboard shall reserve in the production schedule of each of his mills for the month of January, 1943, and for each calendar month thereafter, time and supplies sufficient to produce and deliver within such month, at the order of the Director General for Operations, 2% of such mill's quota for the current calendar quarter. In general this should amount to approximately 6% of each month's production. The Director General for Operations may on or before the 15th of any month, by telegram or letter, direct any manufacturer to employ such reserve to produce any kind of paper and/or paperboard usually produced at such mill, and any quantity thereof, not to exceed in the aggregate for any one month 2% of such mill's quota for the current quarter, and sell and deliver the same within the month to any person named by the Director General for Operations. The manufacturer may refuse so to produce and deliver only for the reasons specified for the refusal of rated orders in § 944.2 (b) of Priorities Regulation No. 1. If the manufacturer does not on or before the 15th of any month receive from the Director General for Operations directions as to the disposition of such reserve (or has received directions as to the disposition of a part but not of the remainder) he may employ the same (or such remainder) as he may desire, consistent with the other provisions of this order.

(e) Restrictions on inventory. Unless specifically authorized by the Director General, by telegram or letter, or excepted by paragraph (e) (5):

(1) No person shall knowingly deliver, and no person shall accept delivery of any quantity of newsprint, if the inventory of newsprint in the hands of the person accepting delivery is, or will by virtue of such acceptance become, either (i) in excess of two carloads or (ii), if in excess of two carloads, greater than seventy five days' supply, on the basis of either his average rate of consuming newsprint for the preceding quarter or his average rate of consuming newsprint as projected for the then current quarter;

(2) No person shall knowingly deliver to any person except a paper merchant and no person except a paper merchant shall accept delivery of, any quantity of any grade of paper or paperboard other than newsprint, if the inventory of such grade in the hands of the person accepting delivery is, or will by virtue of such acceptance become, either (i) in excess of two carloads or (ii), if in excess of two carloads greater than sixty days' supply, on the basis of either his average rate of consuming such grade of paper or paperboard for the preceding quarter or his average rate of consuming such grade of paper or paperboard as projected for the then current quarter;

(3) No person shall knowingly deliver to a paper merchant, and no paper merchant shall accept delivery of, any quantity of any grade of paper or paperboard other than newsprint, if the inventory of such grade in the hands of such paper merchant is, or will by virtue of such acceptance become, either (i) in excess of two carloads or (ii), if in excess of two carloads, greater than ninety days' supply, on the basis of either his average rate of distributing such grade of paper or paperboard for the preceding quarte, or his average rate of distributing such grade of paper or paperboard as projected for the then current quarter;

(4) No person shall produce at any mill any quantity of any grade of paper or paperboard other than newsprint, if his inventory of such grade at such mill is, or will by virtue of such production become, in excess of (i) two carloads or (ii), if in excess of two carloads, greater than sixty days' supply, on the basis of either the average rate of shipment of such grade from such mill for the preceding quarter or the average rate of shipment of such grade from such mill as projected for the then current quarter.

(5) The term "grade of paper" or paperboard" refers to the classification on United States Department of Commerce (Census) Form WPB-514, as revised November 7, 1942, each caption (except those which are further broken down by following captions) representing a separate grade. If a person's gross inventory of a grade is in excess of two carloads or sixty days' supply, as above, but his inventory of a particular item within that grade is less than thirty days' supply (or, in the case of a paper merchant, less than sixty days' supply), he may accept delivery of or produce, and others may deliver to him, any quantity of such item as may be required to provide him with thirty days' supply (or in the case of a paper merchant sixty days' supply). The restrictions of this paragraph (e) apply equally to paper and paperboard of foreign and domestic origin, and apply to intra company deliveries as defined in § 944.12 of Priorities Regulation No. 1. They do not, however, apply to those papers commonly reported on United States Department of Commerce (Census) Form WPB-514, as revised November 7, 1942, under the captions "Photographic and other sensitized" (07611) and "Cigarette" (08512), or to any paper or paperboard after it is printed or converted beyond waxing or coating, or to inventories held by or for any agency or government referred to in § 944.1 (b) (1) and (2) of Priorities Regulation No. 1, or by or for the United States Government Printing Office.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(2) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(3) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request.

(4) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(6) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall unless otherwise directed, be addressed to, War Production Board, Pulp and Paper Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M-241.

Issued this 23d day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

LIST A

NOTE: The items "Container board", "Folding box board, etc.", "Set-up box boards, etc.", and "Special industrial boards" deleted Feb 23, 1943.

Column 1 lists general classes of paper and paperboard by names common in the trade. Each class includes all the grades of paper or paperboard reported on United States Department of Commerce (Census) Forms OPM-514 (for the last quarter of 1941) and WPB-514 (for the first quarter of 1942) by the code numbers, respectively as indicated, set out under the name. In the calculation of a mill's quota there should first be determined the whole quantity of each class produced at the mill during the base period, then subtracted from the result for each class the quantity produced at the mill during the base period of any kind of paper or paperboard on List B falling within such class, then the remainder multiplied by the percentage in column 2, and the several results added and the total divided by two. (See (c) (2) of Order M-241, as amended.)

LIST B

NOTE: Item "Container board, from waste" deleted; "Container board", "Folding box board, etc.", "Set-up box boards, etc.", and "Special industrial boards", added, Feb. 23, 1943.

Column 1 lists the grades of paper and paperboard which may in general be manufactured without restriction. (See (c) (3) of Order M-241, as amended). The general class within which each falls, according to the classification on List A, is indicated in Column 2. In the calculation of a mill's quota, the amount produced during the base period of each kind of paper and paperboard listed in column 1 is to be subtracted from the total quantity of the corresponding class in column 2 produced during the base period. (See (c) (2) (ii) of Order M-241, as amended). The kinds of paper and paperboard listed in column 1 are further identified by the numbers in parentheses following each, being the code numbers for each on United States Department of Commerce (Census) Forms OPM-514 (for the last quarter of 1941) and WPB-514 (for the first quarter of 1942), respectively as indicated.

PART 3189—FURNITURE

[General Limitation Order L-260]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of iron and steel and other critical materials for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3189.1 General Limitation Order L-260—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Furniture" means all items commonly classified as furniture and including all items contained on Schedule A attached to this order, as amended from time to time. It shall not include items listed on Schedule B attached to this order, as amended from time to time.

(3) "Non-essential metal parts" means any hardware or parts containing any metal specifically intended for incorporation into furniture other than essential metal parts.

(4) "Metal parts manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing or assembling hardware or metal parts specifically intended for incorporation into furniture, whether or not he also manufactures furniture.

(5) "Furniture manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing or assembling furniture, whether or not he also manufactures metal parts for furniture.

(6) "Pattern" means any piece of furniture having its own identification mark and selling price, except that for the purposes of this order, two or more pieces of furniture identical in every respect other than color, finishing materials, fabric, leather, or other outer covering or cover but having the same selling price shall be considered to be one pattern. Two or more pieces of furniture identical in every respect other than in their method of joining or their content of essential metal parts, shall be considered to be one pattern, whether or not they have the same selling prices. Two or more pieces of furniture identical in every respect but cut in different woods or veneers or containing different trims other than handles, shall be considered two or more patterns regardless of whether they carry identical identification marks and selling prices. Similarly, a suite of furniture of two or more different pieces shall constitute two or more patterns.

(7) "Preferred order" means any order, contract, or subcontract placed by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration.

(8) "Cost value" means cost computed in accordance with the method of accounting consistently used by a furniture manufacturer for bookkeeping and financial statement purposes.

(9) "Pattern base period" means the month of September, 1941.

(10) "Metal parts base period" means the calendar year 1941, except that in the case of a furniture manufacturer whose fiscal year did not end on December 31, 1941, it means his fiscal year ending at any time between June 1, 1941 and May 31, 1942, inclusive.

(11) "Consume" when applied to essential metal parts means to use such parts in the production or packing of furniture or to supply such parts with furniture shipped in knock-down form.

(b) Restrictions on production and acquisition of non-essential metal parts. (1) On and after March 1, 1943, no metal parts manufacturer shall accept delivery of any iron or steel intended for the fabrication of non-essential metal parts.

(2) On and after March 26, 1943, no metal parts manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any non-essential metal parts.

(3) On and after April 12, 1943, no furniture manufacturer shall accept delivery of any non-essential metal parts.

(c) Restrictions on essential metal parts. (1) During the period beginning February 23, 1943 and ending June 30, 1943, no furniture manufacturer shall consume in the production of furniture (other than for preferred orders) essential metal parts having a total cost value of more than 25% of the total cost value of essential metal parts consumed by him in the production of furniture during his metal parts base period (other than for preferred orders).

(2) During the three months period beginning July 1, 1943, and during each three months period thereafter, no furniture manufacturer shall consume in the production of furniture (other than for preferred orders) essential metal parts having a total cost value of more than 12½% of the total cost value of essential metal parts consumed by him in the production of furniture during his metal parts base period (other than for preferred orders).

(3) The restrictions contained in paragraphs (c) (1) and (c) (2) of this order shall not apply to venetian blinds.

(4) On and after June 1, 1943, no furniture manufacturer shall consume in the production of venetian blinds more essential metal parts than 9 ounces per blind plus 2 ounces per blind for venetion blinds measuring 45" or more in width.

(d) Restrictions on patterns. (1) On and after July 1, 1943, no furniture manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on, assemble or offer for sale more patterns than 35% of the total number of patterns offered for sale by him during the pattern base period, or 24 patterns, whichever is greater.

(2) On and after March 15, 1943, no furniture manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on, assemble or offer for sale any pattern which had not been offered for sale by him prior to that date.

(3) The restrictions contained in this paragraph (d) shall not apply to venetian blinds.

(e) Preferred order exemption. The restrictions contained in this order shall not apply to preferred orders.

(f) Special authorization exemption. The Director General for Operations may grant specific authorizations to furniture manufacturers for relief from the provisions of paragraphs (b), (3), (d) (1), and (d) (2) of this order.

(g) Reports. (1) All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request.

(2) On or before February 27, 1943, each furniture manufacturer shall file with the War Production Board a report on Form PD-798, stating the cost value of essential metal parts consumed by him during the metal parts base period and the number of patterns offered for sale by him during the pattern base period.

(h) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(i) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(j) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(l) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(m) Applicability of other orders. In so far as any other order heretofore or hereafter issued by the Director of Priorities, the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations limits the use of any material in the production of wood furniture to a greater extent than the limits imposed by this order, the restrictions in such other order shall govern unless otherwise specified therein.

(n) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L-260.

Issued this 23d day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

SCHEDULE A

Venetian blinds.
Barber and beauty shop furniture.
Store display equipment and show cases.
Frames to be used in the production of furniture.

SCHEDULE B

Metal office furniture and equipment as covered by Limitation Order L-13-a, as amended.
Metal household furniture as defined in Limitation Order L-62, as amended.
Bedding products as defined in Limitation Order L-49, as amended.
Hospital, medical, dental and related equipment as covered by List A of Conservation Order M-126, as amended.
Refrigerators.
Wooden lockers for offices and factories.
Wooden shelving.
Wooden factory and industrial equipment.
Furniture specifically designed for use in offices.
Wooden filing cabinets.
Baby cribs, high chairs, toilet chairs, toilet seats, and bathinettes.

PART 3207—INDUSTRIAL TYPE INSTRUMENTS, CONTROL VALVES AND REGULATORS: SIMPLIFICATION

[Limitation Order L-272]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply for defense, for private account and for export of industrial type instruments, control valves, and regulators, and of critical materials entering into the production thereof, and the following order and the schedules issued pursuant hereto are deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3207.1 Limitation Order L-272—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order and any schedule issued pursuant hereto:

(1) "Producer" means any person who manufactures for sale control valves, regulators or any industrial type instrument as said products may be determined and defined in any schedule issued pursuant to this order.

(2) "Manufacture" means to put into production by performing or causing the performance of the first operation of machining, altering, processing or assembling material, by physical or chemical means, for the fabrication, assembly or production of control valves, regulators, or any industrial type instrument.

(3) "Repair part" means any component part of any control valve, regulator or industrial type instrument, as said products may be determined and defined in any schedule issued pursuant to this order, which is designed and produced to replace an identical part when such replacement is essential to the repair of any control valve, regulator or industrial type instrument.

(b) Limitations. (1) The Director General for Operations may from time to time issue schedules to this order establishing simplified practices with respect to the types, sizes, forms, specifications, composition, or other qualifications for control valves, regulators, and industrial type instruments; and on and after the date of issuance of any such schedule no producer shall manufacture any control valve, regulator or industrial type instrument to which such schedule relates which does not conform to the types, sizes and other specifications contained and prescribed in such schedule.

(2) No person shall sell or make delivery, and no person shall knowingly purchase or accept delivery of any control valve, regulator or industrial type instrument manufactured in violation of the terms of this order or any schedule issued pursuant hereto.

(c) Exemptions. (1) The provisions of this order and any schedule issued pursuant hereto shall not apply to the manufacture, sale, purchase or delivery of:

(i) Any control valve, regulator or industrial type instrument manufactured to fill a purchase order placed prior to the date of issuance of any applicable schedule, except to the extent specified in such schedule, or

(ii) Any repair parts.

(2) Where the provisions of this order or any schedule issued pursuant hereto conflict or are inconsistent with the provisions of Limitation Order L-134, the less restrictive provisions of either shall control to the extent of such conflict or inconsistency.

(d) Applicability of regulations. This order and any schedule issued pursuant hereto are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board.

(e) Records. All persons affected by this order or any schedule issued pursuant hereto shall keep and preserve for not less than two (2) years accurate and complete records concerning the manufacture, sale and delivery of control valves, regulators and industrial type instruments.

(f) Reports. All persons affected by this order or any schedule issued pursuant hereto shall file such reports as may be required from time to time by the War Production Board.

(g) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order or any schedule issued pursuant hereto shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(h) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order or any schedule issued pursuant hereto, or who in connection with this order or any such schedule, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(i) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, appeals and other communications concerning this order, or any schedule issued pursuant hereto, should be addressed to: War Production Board, Radio and Radar Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L-272.

Issued this 22d day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3207—INDUSTRIAL TYPE INSTRUMENTS, CONTROL VALVES AND REGULATORS: SIMPLIFICATION

[Schedule I to Limitation Order L-272]

CONTROL VALVES

§ 3207.2 Schedule I to Limitation Order L-272—(a) Definition. "Control valve" means any globe type valve, the inner portion of which is automatically positioned by pneumatic or hydraulic motive power, and which is produced and designed for use with any industrial type instrument, and shall include any body assembly thereof irrespective of the use to which such body assembly may be applied; exclusive, however, of control valves manufactured for use on watercraft other than pleasure craft.

(b) Specifications. (1) Screwed, union and flanged ends for bronze, iron and steel body control valves shall be manufactured only as follows:

(a) Screwed ends up to and including 2-inch sizes for primary pressure rating of 600-lb. American Standards Association and lower.

(b) Flanged ends, 2-inch size and above.

(c) Union ends shall be eliminated.

(2) Flanged body control valves shall be manufactured only with flanged facings and for primary pressure ratings as follows:

(a) Cast steel control valve bodies:
300-lb. American Standards Association.
600-lb. American Standards Association.
900-lb. American Standards Association.
1500-lb. American Standards Association.

End flange faces shall be either American Standards Association large male face; American Standards Association octagonal ring joint groove; or American Petroleum Institute octagonal ring joint groove, providing the groove is cut in the basic flange thickness in the 300-lb. pressure class.

(b) Cast iron control valve bodies:
125-lb. American Standards Association.
250-lb. American Standards Association.

(c) Bronze control valve bodies:
150-lb. Manufacturers Standardization Society—SP2.
300-lb. Manufacturers Standardization Society—SP2.

(3) Reduced area trim in balanced type control valves shall be furnished only where safety considerations require such construction.

(4) The following sizes of control valves shall be eliminated:

3¾ inch—4½ inch—5 inch—7 inch.

(5) Materials for control valve bodies shall be limited to bronze, cast iron, cast carbon steel or forged carbon steel; except that carbon molybdenum steel may be used in the 600-lb., 900-lb. and 1500-lb. American Standards Association primary pressure classes, or for operating temperatures exceeding 1000 degrees Fahrenheit or below minus 50 degrees Fahrenheit.[1]

[1] See paragraph (c) (2) of Limitation Order L-272.

(6) Producer's standard forms of the following classes shall be manufactured only:

Parabolic.
V-port.
Quick-opening.

(This limitation does not restrict the manufacture of butterfly, angle or needle type valves).

(7) Inner valves and seat rings for control valves shall be manufactured from the following materials only:

(a) Carbon steel.
(b) Stainless steel of chromium content not to exceed eighteen percent and nickel content not to exceed eight percent.[1]
(c) Bronze or brass.

Issued this 22d day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3207—INDUSTRIAL TYPE INSTRUMENTS, CONTROL VALVES AND REGULATORS; SIMPLIFICATION

[Schedule II to Limitation Order L-272]

LIQUID LEVEL CONTROLLERS

§ 3207.3 Schedule II to Limitation Order L-272—(a) Definition. "Liquid level controller" means any float cage, external ball float or displacement type instrument normally used for the control of liquid level in industrial type processes; exclusive, however, of liquid level controllers, manufactured for use on watercraft other than pleasure craft.

(b) Specifications. Liquid level controllers shall be furnished only with 1 inch, 1½ inch or 2 inch National Pipe Thread screwed equalizing connections at producer's opinion for each size produced.

Issued this 22d day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3207—INDUSTRIAL TYPE INSTRUMENTS, CONTROL VALVES AND REGULATORS; SIMPLIFICATION

[Schedule III to Limitation Order L-272]

PYROMETERS AND RESISTANCE THERMOMETERS

§ 3207.4 Schedule III to Limitation Order L-272—(a) Definitions. (1) "Pyrometer" includes millivoltmeter and potentiometer pyrometers and means any galvanometer type or null current automatically balanced type of potential measuring instrument which measures thermocouple voltage, is calibrated in degrees temperature, and has a scale length of not less than 4½ inches; exclusive, however, of precision type pyrometers manufactured and designed for laboratory use, or for use on watercraft other than pleasure craft.

(2) "Resistance thermometer" means any galvanometer type or null current automatically balanced type resistance measuring instrument which measures variations in resistance, is calibrated in degrees temperature, and has a scale length of not less than 4½ inches; exclusive, however, of precision type resistance thermometers manufactured and designed for laboratory use, or for use on watercraft other than pleasure craft.

(b) Operation of Schedule III. The exemption provisions of paragraph (c) (1) (i) of Limitation Order L–272 shall not apply to this schedule.

(c) Specifications. (1) The following features, attachments and devices shall be eliminated:

(i) Special scale designs.

(ii) Special size cases and special finishes.

(iii) Cases having special design external wiring or conduit connection, either as to type or location of connections.

(iv) Internally mounted, manually operated thermocouple selector switches.

(v) External protection cases.

(vi) Special attachments or housing to adapt to explosion resistant service.

(vii) Special nameplates.

(viii) Legend plates.

(ix) Locks on control setters.

(x) Handles on non-portable instruments.

(xi) Connecting lugs with thermocouple leads for pyrometers having an internal resistance of one hundred ohms and above.

(2) Only one size chart for each style or type (strip or round) shall be furnished, size to be at producer's option.

(3) No scale or chart illumination (external or internal) shall be furnished except where same is a part of producer's standard manufacturing practice.

(4) No instrument lock and keys shall be furnished except where same are a part of producer's standard manufacturing design and practice.

Issued this 22d day of February 1943.

PART 1351—FOODS AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[RPS 51[1] as Amended Feb. 22, 1943]

COCOA BEANS AND COCOA BUTTER

Sections 1351.59 (b) (3) and 1351.59 (d) have been added and § 1351.61 (g) amended by Amendment 3, so that Revised Price Schedule 51 shall read as follows:

During the past few months, the prices of cocoa beans, a wholly imported commodity, and cocoa butter have increased sharply as the result of uncertainties in the shipping situation and increases in transportation and insurance costs. This has occurred despite the fact that stocks of cocoa beans are now the largest ever accumulated in this country. Since the high nutritive value of the foods processed from cocoa beans makes them of material importance to both our armed forces and our civilian population, it is essential that any inflationary price rises in this commodity be curbed. The outbreak of hostilities in the Far East on December 7, 1941, gave rise to a sharp increase in speculative activity which caused this Office to issue a temporary freezing order on December 11, 1941, limiting prices to those prevailing on December 8, 1941.

In the intervening weeks, this Office has been engaged in a thorough study of the economic and trade position of cocoa beans and cocoa butter. Due consideration has been given to prices prevailing during the period October 1 to October 15, 1941, and adjustments made for relevant factors.

Therefore, to prevent any future price spiraling and to maintain the stability recently achieved by the trade, the Office of Price Administration hereby issues a permanent Schedule for cocoa beans and cocoa butter.

Accordingly, under the authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 8734, it is hereby directed that:

Sec.

1351.51 Maximum prices for cocoa beans and cocoa butter.
1351.52 Export sales.
1351.53 Exempt sales.
1351.54 Less than maximum prices.
1351.55 Evasion.
1351.56 Records and reports.
1351.57 Petitions for amendment.
1351.58 Enforcement.
1351.59 Definitions.
1351.60 Effective date of Revised Price Schedule No. 51.
1351.60a Effective dates of amendments.
1351.61 Appendix A: Maximum prices for cocoa beans.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[1] 7 F.R. 1307.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1351.51 to 1351.62, inclusive, issued under E.O. 8734, 8875, 6 F.R. 1917, 4483; Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1351.51 Maximum prices for cocoa beans and cocoa butter. On and after December 11, 1941, no person shall sell, offer to sell, deliver or transfer cocoa beans or cocoa butter, and no person shall buy, offer to buy, or accept delivery of cocoa beans or cocoa butter at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendices A and B hereof incorporated herein as §§ 1351.61 and 1351.62, except that

(a) Contracts entered into prior to December 11, 1941, may be carried out at the contract prices.

(b) Contracts for cocoa beans entered into prior to February 3, 1942, but subsequent to December 11, 1941, may be carried out at prices no higher than the maximum prices established in Price Schedule No. 51, as effective prior to Amendment No. 2.

(c) Special cocoa bean agreements now or hereafter entered into with Commodity Credit Corporation (United States Department of Agriculture, 1942, C.C.C., Cocoa Bean Form No. 1) providing for a price higher than the maximum price may be carried out at the contract price.

[§ 1351.51 as amended by Amendment 2, 7 F.R. 7404]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 7 (7 F.R. 5176) provides that the prohibition contained in any price regulation against buying or receiving any commodity or service at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by such regulation shall not apply to any war procurement agency or government whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9894) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for the purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

§ 1351.52 Export sales. To the maximum prices for cocoa beans and cocoa butter sold for export, except to Canada, the following additions may be made:

(a) Consular fees actually incurred by the seller; and

(b) Ten percent of the prices set forth in §§ 1351.61 and 1351.62.

[§ 1351.52 as amended by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 2633]

§ 1351.53 Exempt sales. Sales of less than one bag of cocoa beans and of less than one bale of cocoa butter, and sales of cocoa butter deodorized or specially treated for pharmaceutical or cosmetic uses, shall be excepted from the operation of Revised Price Schedule No. 51.

§ 1351.54 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than the maximum prices established by Revised Price Schedule No. 51 may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

§ 1351.56 Records and reports. (a) All sellers and all buyers who have entered into contracts prior to February 3, 1942, for the sale or delivery of cocoa beans or cocoa butter, on or after February 3, 1942, at prices higher than the maximum prices established by Revised Price Schedule No. 51, shall report all such contracts to the Office of Price Administration on or before February 25, 1942, stating (1) the name and address of the buyer and seller; (2) the actual date of the contract; (3) each and every delivery date provided for in the contract; and (4) the price, quantity, and description of the product sold.

After the buyer has received the final shipment called for by the contract he shall then report such receipt to the Office of Price Administration within two weeks thereof, certifying that the total amount received did not exceed the quantity specified in such contract.

(b) Every person making purchases or sales of cocoa beans or cocoa butter on and after February 3, 1942 shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than one year complete and accurate records thereof, including the name of the purchaser, the date of the contract, the price paid or received, and the type, grade, quality, and amount sold.

(c) Every person affected by Revised Price Schedule No. 51 shall submit such report to the Office of Price Administration as it may from time to time require.

§ 1351.57. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provisions of this Revised Price Schedule No. 51 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[1]

[§ 1351.57 as amended by Supplementary Order 26, 7 F.R. 8948.]

[NOTE: Procedural Regulation No. 6 (7 F.R. 5087, 5665) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment of maximum prices for commodities or services under Government contracts or subcontracts. Supplementary Order No. 9 (7 F.R. 5444) makes the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6 applicable to all price regulations, with the exception of those on scrap, waste, and salvage materials.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

§ 1351.58 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Revised Price Schedule No. 51 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Revised Price Schedule No. 51 or any price schedule, regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest field or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

[§ 1351.58 as amended by Supplementary Order 3, 7 F.R. 2132]

§ 1351.59 Definitions. When used in Revised Price Schedule No. 51 the term:

(a) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Supplementary Order 12, 7 F.R. 6385]

(b) "Cost of putting cocoa beans into the warehouse" includes (1) "labor in and out" (2) warehouse storage charges for not more than thirty days and (3) cartage to the warehouse.

(c) "Cocoa beans and cocoa butter sold for export" means sales by a domestic seller directly to a foreign buyer or foreign broker.

(d) "Growth" refers to the country of origin.

[Paragraphs (b) and (d) as amended by Amendment 3]

§ 1351.60 Effective date of Revised Price Schedule No. 51. This Schedule (§§ 1351.51 to 1351.62, inclusive) shall become effective on December 11, 1941.

§ 1351.60a Effective dates of amendments.

Amendment Nos and issue dates:	Effective
Amendment 1, 4-3-42	4- 6-42
Amendment 2, 9-17-42	9-23-42
Amendment 3, 2-22-43	2-27-43

§ 1351.61 Appendix A: Maximum prices for cocoa beans. (a) The maximum prices shall include all commissions and all other charges, except that:

(ii) On cocoa beans not eligible for the special cocoa bean agreement of the Commodity Credit Corporation and which were shipped after August 15, 1942. Increases in the charges prevailing prior to the opening of business on December 8, 1941 for ocean freight, war risk insurance and marine insurance may be added to the maximum prices, if such charges have been actually incurred by the seller on such sale: Provided, That the amount of the permissible addition for such charges may not exceed the difference between the war risk charges prevailing on December 8, 1941 and the prevailing war risk insurance rates offered by the War Shipping Administration at the date of shipment from the country of origin. Decreases in such charges prevailing prior to the opening of business on December 8, 1942 must be subtracted from the maximum prices.

(iii) On cocoa beans eligible for the special cocoa bean agreement of the Commodity Credit Corporation. Increases in the charges prevailing prior to the opening of business on December 8, 1941 for ocean freight, war risk insurance and marine insurance may not be added to the maximum prices for such cocoa beans except that increases in said charges may be added to the maximum prices in the case of sales to the War Department of the United States of America. Cocoa beans eligible for the Special Cocoa Bean Agreement of the Commodity Credit Corporation are: (a) Cocoa beans covered by unshipped contracts which were in force at 12:01 a. m. July 2, 1942. (b) Cocoa beans covered by unshipped contracts which were made between June 19 and July 2, 1942 and were in transit to a point within the continental United States at or prior to July 2, 1942.

[Paragraph (1) as amended by Amendment 2, 7 F.R. 7404]

(2) If the services of a broker or brokers are required, a commission or commissions which in the aggregate shall not exceed one percent of the selling price may be added to the maximum prices, provided such commissions have been actually paid.

(3) Where the buyer agrees to pay for cocoa beans or cocoa butter on a deferred payment basis, interest in an amount not to exceed one-half of one percent per month for not more than two months, and one-fourth of one percent per month for not more than ten months thereafter, may be charged.

[Paragraph (3) added by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 2633]

(b) The maximum prices for cocoa beans shall be as follows:

	Cents per pound ex dock New York City
F. F. Accra (main crop)	8.90
F. A. Q. Lagos	8.75
Ivory Coast (main crop)	8.90
F. A. Q. Cameroons	8.70
Fine St. Thome	9.25
Superior Bahia	8.70
Sanchez	8.55
Superior Red Summer Arriba	11.50
Superior Seasons Arriba	10.75
La Guayra Caracas	11.25
Trinidad Caracas	12.25
Trinidad Estates	13.90
Grenada Estates	13.65
Fermented Panama	9.35
Fermented Costa Rican	9.25
Haiti	8.45
Java Estates #1	20.25
Ceylon Estates	16.75
Samoan	16.25

The maximum prices for cocoa beans imported from any other country, or for grades of better or inferior quality not named, shall be determined by applying the customary trade differentials to the maximum price for the grade listed above which is most closely related in quality.

(c) The maximum prices quoted above are ex dock New York City. The maximum prices ex dock any other port of entry shall be determined by adding to or subtracting from the New York City price the difference between the actual cost of ocean freight, war risk insurance, and marine insurance from the port of origin to New York City and the actual cost of ocean freight, war risk insurance, and marine insurance from the port of origin to such other port of entry.

(d) For any cocoa beans sold ex warehouse, rather than ex dock New York City or any other port of entry, the cost of actually "putting the cocoa beans into the warehouse" as defined in § 1351.59 may be added by the seller who incurred the cost.

(e) The delivered price for cocoa beans shall in no case exceed the maximum prices specified above plus actual transportation charges incurred from the dock or warehouse at New York City or other port of entry to the place of destination or to the place of ship loading, if the cocoa beans are intended for export.

(f) Any person making sales of cocoa beans in lots of twenty-five bags or less may add to the maximum prices for those sales an amount which shall not exceed seven and one-half percent of his comparable selling price for lots of more than twenty-five bags.

[Paragraph (f) as amended by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 2633]

(g) The above prices shall be the maximum prices for all transactions except for futures contracts traded on the New York Cocoa Exchange, Inc. The maximum price for cocoa beans in contracts traded on the New York Cocoa Exchange, Inc., shall be 8.86 cents per pound. The maximum prices for cocoa beans delivered pursuant to a contract traded on the New York Cocoa Exchange, Inc., shall be as follows:

(1) If the delivery is against a futures contract entered into by the seller after December 11, 1941, but prior to February 3, 1942, the maximum price for that delivery shall be no higher than the maximum price for delivery of that growth and grade of cocoa beans established in Price Schedule No. 51, § 1351.61 (b) as effective prior to February 3, 1942, to which may be added cost of putting cocoa beans into the warehouse as defined in § 1351.59 and costs incurred in repiling cocoa beans for deliveries according to the rules of the New York Cocoa Exchange, Inc.

(2) If the delivery is against a futures contract entered into by the seller after February 3, 1942, but prior to February 27, 1943, the maximum price shall be no higher than the maximum price for delivery of that growth and grade of cocoa beans established in Revised Price Schedule 51, § 1351.61 (b) as effective on February 3, 1942, to which price may be added cost of putting cocoa beans into the warehouse as defined in § 1351.59 and costs incurred in repiling cocoa beans for deliveries according to the rules of the New York Cocoa Exchange, Inc.

(3) If the delivery is against a futures contract entered into by the seller after February 26, 1943, the maximum price shall be 8.86¢ increased or decreased in accordance with all the by-laws and rules of the New York Cocoa Exchange, Inc., provided that the total price charged to the buyer may not exceed the maximum price which may have been charged for the same lot of cocoa beans as determined under this schedule for the sale and delivery of cocoa beans in a transaction other than on the New York Cocoa Exchange, Inc.

§ 1351.62 Appendix B: Maximum prices for cocoa butter. (a) The maximum prices for cocoa butter in bales sold in carload lots shall be twenty-five cents per pound f. o. b. factory shipping point.

(b) The delivered price shall in no case exceed the maximum price plus actual transportation charges incurred from the factory shipping point to the place of destination or to the place of shiploading, if the cocoa butter is intended for export.

(c) The following amounts may be added to the maximum price for cocoa butter when packed in:

(1) Cartons—20 cents per one hundred pounds;

(2) Wood cases—$1.00 per one hundred pounds; and

(3) Tin lined wood cases—$1.25 per one hundred pounds.

(d) To the maximum price for cocoa butter sold in less than carload lots an amount may be added which shall not exceed the following:

(1) 11,000 pounds to carload lots—0.15 cents per pound;

(2) 2,000 pounds to 10,999 pounds—0.25-cents per pound;

(3) 1,000 pounds to 1,999 pounds—0.40 cents per pound; and

(4) 200 pounds to 999 pounds—1 cent per pound.

(e) If the services of a broker or brokers are required, a commission or commissions, which in the aggregate shall not exceed 1% of the maximum prices named in paragraph (a) of § 1351.61 may be added to such maximum prices. This addition may be made only when such commissions have been actually paid, and shall be based upon the net maximum price established by the Schedule.

[Paragraph (e) added by Amendment 2, 7 F.R. 7404]

Issued this 22d day of February, 1943.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[MPR 275,[1] Amendment 3]

EXTRACTED HONEY

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Subdivision (b) of Appendix A § 1351.1319 (c) (1) (ii) is amended to read as set forth below:

(b) Cost increase for transportation. The cost increase per pound for transportation shall be the difference, if any, between the figure obtained by dividing the total freight dollars paid for honey purchased during the "base period" by the total pounds of honey produced and purchased during the "base period", and the figure obtained by dividing the total freight dollars paid for honey purchased during the months of June, July and August, 1942, by the total pounds of honey produced and purchased during the months of June, July and August, 1942.

If the cost increase for transportation cannot be computed because of purchases not having been made during one or both of the above specified periods, then computations may be made on the basis of purchases made during those periods closest in point of time to the periods specified above. The periods adopted must each consist of three consecutive months and must be periods during which representative quantities were purchased. Transportation taxes which were paid shall be excluded in making the computations.

Example—(Continued) The seller's freight bill for 4,000 pounds of honey which was shipped into his plant during the base period of September, October and November, 1941, was $25.00. This total freight bill of $25.00 must be divided by 5,000 pounds which is the total number of pounds of honey that he purchased and produced during the base period. The resulting figure is 5¢ per pound.

During June, July and August, 1942, this seller of X brand clover honey purchased and shipped in 2,000 pounds and produced 500 pounds. His freight bill for the 2,000 pounds of honey shipped in during the period of June, July, and August, 1942, totalled $15.00. This freight bill of $15.00 must be divided by 2,500 pounds. The resulting figure is 6¢.

6¢ (freight cost in second period).
− 5¢ (freight rate cost in first period).

1¢ per lb (Amount allowed for increased freight cost)

This amendment shall become effective February 27, 1943.

PART 1400—TEXTILE FABRICS, COTTON, WOOL, SILK, SYNTHETICS AND ADMIXTURES

[MPR 118,[1] Amendment 16]

COTTON PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Added: §§ 1400.118 (d) (26) (vi), 1400.118 (d) (29) (vi).

The following item is inserted in § 1400.118 (d) (8) immediately before subdivision (i) thereof:

The maximum prices established herein for ducks shall apply to such products regardless of whether they are produced in a cotton mill, woolen or worsted mill, carpet mill, plush mill, paper mill or any other type of mill: Provided, That contracts entered into prior to February 27, 1943, at prices in compliance with the price regulation which was applicable on the date of contract may be carried out at the contract price.

Amended: §§ 1400.101 (b); 1400.118 (d) (8) (iii) (c); in 1400.118 (d) (29) (b) (e); under the column headed "Maximum Price", Reference No. 12 is amended to read ".80", Reference No. 17 is amended to read ".15", and Reference No. 27 is amended to read ".88".

In the table in § 1400.118 (d) (8) (x) (c), the words "Plied yarns throughout" are amended to read "10s 4-ply yarn throughout".

The proviso in § 1400.104 (c) is amended to read "Provided, That the maximum prices established herein for producers shall apply to sales and deliveries by any person to a converter or finisher."

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

In the first sentence of § 1400.118 (b), the designation "§ 1400.101 (b) and (d)" is amended to read "§ 1400.101 (b) (2)".

In the first sentence of § 1400.118 (d) (22) (ii) the designation "§ 1400.101" is amended to read "§ 1400.101 (b) (2)".

Section 1400.118 (d) (23) (ii) (b) is amended by striking therefrom the portion beginning "On or before the 10th day of November, 1942", and ending with "the use to which the goods are to be put by the purchaser".

Revoked: §§ 1400.101 (c), 1400.101 (d), 1400.118 (e), and footnotes[2] and[4] under § 1400.101 (b).

§ 1400.101 Maximum prices for cotton products. • • •

(b) Except as otherwise provided herein, maximum prices shall be determined as follows:

(1) If the cotton product falls within one of the fabric groups enumerated in § 1400.118 (d):

(i) The maximum price shall be the price set forth therein for the particular cotton product: Provided, That any price established for the product of a particular producer shall apply only to that producer; or

(ii) If the maximum price for the particular cotton product cannot be determined under (i) above, the maximum price shall be a price in line with[5] the maximum price of the most nearly comparable cotton product which is specifically priced and is made by the same producer. A report (see subparagraph (4) below) is required when any product is priced under this subdivision (ii).

(iii) If the maximum price for the particular cotton product cannot be determined under (i) or (ii) above, the maximum price shall be a price authorized by the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. In requesting authorization of a price under this subdivision (iii), the producer must submit to the Textile, Leather and Apparel Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on Form No. 648:151 all of the applicable information called for by that Form. The producer must also submit a full explanation of the necessity that exists for producing the cotton product for which a price is requested. It is not permissible to sell or deliver any cotton product which is to be priced under this subdivision until after the price is authorized, except as is permitted by paragraph (e) of this section.

(2) If the cotton product does not fall within one of the fabric groups enumerated in § 1400.118 (d):

(i) If the particular cotton product is one which the seller contracted to sell or listed for sale at a specific price during the base period, the maximum price shall be the weighted average price of such seller for such cotton product during the base period to a purchaser of the same general class, or, if the seller has no weighted average price (as defined herein) for the base period to such a purchaser, the maximum price shall be his weighted average price to purchasers of the most nearly comparable class, appropriately adjusted to compensate for his normal differential between prices charged purchasers of the respective classes. As used herein, the term "weighted average price" means (a) the average of prices agreed upon in connection with contracts of sale, weighted in accordance with the quantity sold at each price, or (b) if no contracts of sale were made, the average of the list prices in effect, weighted in accordance with the number of business days each list price was in effect. The maximum prices established by this subdivision for any cotton product may be increased by five cents per pound of cotton or flax noil contained in the cotton product after weaving and before any finishing or fabrication.

(ii) If the particular cotton product is one which the particular seller did not sell or list for sale at a specific price during the base period, the maximum price shall be a price in line[5] with the maximum price for the most nearly comparable cotton product made by the same seller and priced under subdivision (i) above. A report (see subparagraph (4) below) is required when any product is priced under this subdivision (ii).

(iii) If the cotton product is one which the particular seller did not sell or list for sale at a specific price during the base period, and one for which the particular seller cannot determine a price under subdivision (ii) above, the maximum price shall be a price authorized by the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. In requesting authorization of a price under this subdivision (iii), the producer must submit to the Textile, Leather and Apparel Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., on Form No. 648:151 all of the applicable information called for by that form. The producer must also submit a full explanation of the reasons why the product cannot be priced under the other provisions of this paragraph and a full statement of the necessity that exists for producing the cotton product for which a maximum price is requested. It is not permissible to sell or deliver any cotton product which is to be priced under this subdivision until after the price is authorized, except as is permitted by paragraph (e).

(3) All maximum prices properly determined under §§ 1400.101 (b) (2), (b) (3), (b) (4) and 1400.118 (e) (as said sections were in effect prior to February 27, 1943) which have been properly reported to the Office of Price Administration shall continue to be effective.

(4) If the maximum price for a cotton product is determined in accordance with subparagraph (1) (ii) or (2) (ii), of this paragraph, the seller, upon making his first sale, contract of sale or delivery based upon such price, shall file with the Textile, Leather and Apparel Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a report on Form No. 648:151, giving all of the applicable information called for by that Form.

• • • • •

§ 1400.118 Specific and formula maximum prices for certain cotton products: construction reports. • • •

(d) • • •

(8) Ducks (in the grey). • • •

(iii) Single-filling ounce duck (flat duck). • • •

(e) Sales of gem ducks by wholesalers and jobbers. Notwithstanding the provisions of § 1400.104 (a), the maximum prices for sales of gem ducks by persons other than manufacturers shall be:

	Cents per yard
8 oz.	21.34
9 oz.	24.25

These maximum prices are net prices and may be increased by an appropriate division factor for the purpose of granting customary credit or discount terms. Actual freight from mill to destination (not to exceed $1.00 per cwt.) shall be allowed by the seller. These prices apply to goods 30" to 31" in width, inclusive. For other widths, the pro rata basis set forth in (b) above, shall be used.

These maximum prices shall also apply, in lieu of those established in (b) above, to sales and deliveries of 8 oz. and 9 oz. gem ducks (in the grey), by the Shoe Fabrics Division of Pepperell Manufacturing Company, 160 State Street, Boston, Massachusetts, to shoe manufacturers.

• • • • •

(26) Terry products. • • •

(vi) Maximum prices for sales of name-woven institutional towels by wholesalers and jobbers. This subdivision applies to all sales of name-woven institutional towels by persons other than producers.

The maximum price for any sale of name-woven institutional towels by persons other than producers shall be the maximum price determined in accordance with the General Maximum Price Regulation, adjusted as follows:

(a) If the maximum price determined under the General Maximum Price Regulation is based on an offering price for delivery during March 1942, of the same or a similar commodity, no adjustment shall be made.

(b) If the maximum price determined under the General Maximum Price Regulation is based on a delivery made during March 1942, of the same or a similar commodity, the seller shall determine the actual cost to him of the commodity delivered in March and the replacement cost under this regulation. He shall then adjust his maximum price computed under the General Maximum Price Regulation by the difference (in dollars and cents) between the actual cost of the commodity delivered in March 1942, and the replacement cost thereof: Provided, That if such adjustment results in a maximum price which is less than 107½ percent of replacement cost, then the maximum price shall be 107½ percent of replacement cost. As used herein the term "actual cost" means the net price actually paid after deducting all discounts allowed by the producer. The term "replacement cost" means the net maximum price permitted to producers by this regulation at the time a particular sale is made by a person other than a producer.

• • • • •

(29) Duck and crash towels and corded napkins. • • •

(vi) Maximum prices for sales of name-woven institutional towels by wholesalers and jobbers. This subdivision applies to all sales of name-woven institutional towels by persons other than producers.

The maximum price for any sale of name-woven institutional towels by persons other than producers shall be the maximum price determined in accordance with the General Maximum Price Regulation, adjusted as follows:

(a) If the maximum price determined under the General Maximum Price Regulation is based on an offering price for delivery during March 1942, of the same or a similar commodity, no adjustment shall be made.

(b) If the maximum price determined under the General Maximum Price Regulation is based on a delivery made during March 1942, of the same or a similar commodity, the seller shall determine the actual cost to him of the commodity delivered in March and the replacement cost under this regulation. He shall then adjust his maximum price computed under the General Maximum Price Regulation by the difference (in dollars and cents) between the actual cost of the commodity delivered in March 1942, and the replacement cost thereof: Provided, That if such adjustment results in a maximum price which is less than 107½ percent of replacement cost, then the maximum price shall be 107½ percent of replacement cost. As used herein the term "actual cost" means the net price actually paid after deducting all discounts allowed by the producer. The term "replacement cost" means the net maximum price permitted to producers by this regulation at the time a particular sale is made by a person other than a producer.

(p) Amendment No. 16 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 118 shall become effective as follows:

(1) As of November 1, 1942, with respect to § 1400.118 (d) (29) (v) (e) Reference Nos. 12, 17, and 27.

(2) As of February 27, 1943, with respect to §§ 1400.101 (b), (c), and (d), 1400.104 (c), and 1400.118 (b), 1400.118 (d) (8), (d) (8) (iii) (e), (d) (8) (x) (c), (d) (22) (ii), (d) (23) (ii) (b), (d) (26) (vi), (d) (29) (vi), 1400.118 (e), and footnotes[2] and[4] in 1400.101 (b).

[MPR 28]

ETHYL ALCOHOL (EXCLUDING WEST COAST ETHYL ALCOHOL)

The preamble and the title are amended, and §§ 1335.150 to 1335.161, inclusive, are amended, renumbered and redesignated as set forth below:

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 is hereby issued.

SEC.

1412.251 Prohibition against sales of ethyl alcohol above maximum prices.
1412.252 Applicability of other regulations.
1412.253 Less than maximum prices.
1412.254 Export sales.
1412.255 Adjustable pricing.
1412.256 Petitions for amendment.
1412.257 Evasion.
1412.258 Enforcement.
1412.259 Records and reports.
1412.260 Definitions.
1412.261 Geographical applicability.
1412.262 Effective dates.
1412.263 Appendix A: Maximum prices for ethyl alcohol.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1412.251 to 1412.263, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1412.251 Prohibition against sales of ethyl alcohol above maximum prices. (a) On and after February 27, 1943, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation:

(1) No person shall sell, deliver, or transfer ethyl alcohol in quantities of fifty gallons or more at higher prices than the maximum prices set forth in this regulation.

(2) No person shall buy or receive ethyl alcohol in quantities of fifty gallons or more in the course of trade or business at higher prices than the maximum prices set forth in this regulation.

(3) No person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

(b) Nothing in this regulation, or in the General Maximum Price Regulation,[2] shall apply to sales of ethyl alcohol by the Defense Supplies Corporation to the United States or any agency thereof, or to the Government of any country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States under the terms of the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to promote the defense of the United States," or any agency of any such Government, or to any person who will use such ethyl alcohol purchased by him to fulfill a contract with the United States or any agency thereof, or with any such Government or any agency of any such Government, or a subcontract under any such contract.

§ 1412.252 Applicability of other regulations. (a) The provisions of this regulation supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries of ethyl alcohol for which maximum prices are established by this Regulation.

(b) The provisions of this regulation, however, do not apply to sales and deliveries of west coast ethyl alcohol for which maximum prices are established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 295.[3]

(c) The provisions of this regulation do not apply to sales and deliveries of anti-freeze for which maximum prices are established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 170.[4]

(d) On and after February 27, 1943, the provisions of this regulation supersede the provisions of Revised Price Schedule No. 28,[5] except that orders issued under Revised Price Schedule No. 28 shall continue in effect according to their terms.

§ 1412.253 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

§ 1412.254 Export sales. The maximum price at which a person may export ethyl alcohol shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation,[6] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1412.257 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded either by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to ethyl alcohol, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying agreement, or other trade understanding, or by transactions with or through the agency of subsidiaries or affiliates or otherwise.

§ 1412.259 Records and reports. (a) Every person making sales or purchases of ethyl alcohol for which maximum prices are established by this regulation, after February 26, 1943, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, complete and accurate records of each such purchase or sale, showing the date thereof, the name and address of the buyer and the seller, the price contracted for or received, the quantity of each type and grade of such ethyl alcohol purchased or sold, and the type of container in which such ethyl alcohol was purchased or sold.

(b) Such persons shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and shall keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraph (a) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

§ 1412.260 Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Manufacturer" means a person operating a factory, plant, or distillery which manufactures or produces ethyl alcohol and includes any agent of such manufacturer.

(3) "Ethyl alcohol" means ethyl alcohol, whether undenatured (including pure) or denatured, of 188 proof or higher produced in an industrial alcohol plant for sales to any person or produced in any other type of plant for sales to the United States or any agency thereof.

(4) "Gallon" means a wine gallon of 231 cubic inches, unless the context otherwise requires.

(5) "Premium grade pure ethyl alcohol" means ethyl alcohol of acidity as acetic acid not exceeding 0.0014 gms. per 100 cc, containing non-volatile material not over 0.0025 gms. per 100 cc, having no foreign odor in either dilute or concentrated form, and testing not less than 40 minutes permanganate time determined by the following method: A glass stoppered cylinder is thoroughly cleaned, rinsed with distilled water and then with the alcohol to be tested. If the cylinder has been previously used in this test, it should be cleaned with strong hydrochloric acid to remove the oxides of manganese formed in testing previous samples. A 50 cc portion of the alcohol to be tested is introduced, the cylinder and contents cooled to approximately 15° Centigrade, and 2 cc of freshly prepared potassium permanganate solution containing 0.2 gm. per liter is added by means of a pipette, the exact time being noted. The contents are mixed at once by inverting the stoppered cylinder, which is then placed out of bright light and kept at 15° to 16° C until the test is finished. The number of minutes required for the complete disappearance of the pink color is the permanganate time of the alcohol.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in Section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1412.261 Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

§ 1412.262 Effective dates. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 shall become effective February 27, 1943: Provided, That Revised Price Schedule No. 28 shall remain in effect until this Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 becomes effective February 27, 1943.

§ 1412.263 Appendix A: Maximum prices for ethyl alcohol. The following maximum prices are established, f. o. b. manufacturer's production point, for sales by manufacturers in quantities of fifty gallons or more of ethyl alcohol produced in any state of the United States and the District of Columbia except California, Oregon and Washington. The maximum prices are per wine gallon of ethyl alcohol of 188–191.6 proof, except where otherwise specified:

(a) Heavy tonnage formulae—(1) Sales in tank cars or tank trucks.

	Fermentation ethyl alcohol	Synthetic ethyl alcohol
CD12	$0.50	$0.28
CD13	.50	.28
CD14	.50	.28
SD1	.50	.275
SD2B	.48	.245
SD3A	.48	.29
SD12A	.475	.25
SD23A	.49	.28
SD23G	.53	.31
SD23H	.495	.28
1% proprietary name solvent	.51	.29

(2) Sales other than in tank cars or tank trucks. For sales other than in tank cars or tank trucks, the following amounts per gallon may be added to the maximum prices established in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph:

Container	C. L.	L. C. L.
		Over 950 gallons	50-950 gallons
Drums (50–55 gallons)	$0.07	$0.09	$0.12
Half drums (25–30 gallons)	.09	.11	.14
Barrels (50–55 gallons)	.12	.14	.17
Half barrels (25–35 gallons)	.18	.20	.23
5 gallon containers	.17	.19	.22
Containers of less than 5 gallons	.22	.24	.27

For sales in intermediate size containers not listed above, there may be added the per gallon differential for the next larger size container of the same general type, plus or minus the per gallon difference in cost between the container being used and the next larger size container.

(b) Undenatured ethyl alcohol and other formulae of denatured ethyl alcohol.—(1) Sales in tank cars or tank trucks.—(i) Undenatured (including pure) ethyl alcohol.

Undenatured (including pure) fermentation ethyl alcohol ---------- $0.48
Undenatured (including pure) synthetic ethyl alcohol ---------- .245
For premium grade pure ethyl alcohol, add $.02 per gallon to above prices.

(ii) Other formulae. The maximum price per gallon for denatured ethyl alcohol of a formula not listed in paragraph (a) above shall be a price determined as follows:

To the maximum tank car price for 100 gallons of SD2B ethyl alcohol ($48.00 in the case of fermentation ethyl alcohol and $24.50 in the case of synthetic ethyl alcohol), add 115% of the net cost of the denaturants added to 100 gallons of undenatured ethyl alcohol to prepare the formula being priced; divide this total by the number of gallons of denatured ethyl alcohol thus obtained; round the figure so obtained to the nearest half cent, and add one cent. The resulting figure is the maximum tank car or tank truck price per gallon of the formula of denatured ethyl alcohol being priced.

"Net cost of the denaturants" means the delivered cost to the manufacturer of the denaturants actually used. Such "net cost" shall be determined in accordance with the accounting procedures in use by the manufacturer on September 30, 1942, for computing costs of material used, and shall not exceed the maximum delivered price to such manufacturer for such denaturants as established by any applicable regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(2) Sales other than in tank cars or tank trucks. For sales other than in tank cars or tank trucks, the following amounts per gallon may be added to the maximum prices established in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph:

Container	C. L.	L. C. L.
		Over 950 gallons	50-950 gallons
Drums	$0.07	$0.105	$0.135
Half drums	.09	.125	.155
Barrels	.12	.155	.185
Half barrels	.18	.215	.245
5 gallon metal container	.20	.235	.265
Other 5 gallon container	.40	.435	.465
1 gallon	.60	.635	.665

For sales in other size containers not listed above, there may be added the per gallon differential for the next larger size container of the same general type, plus or minus the per gallon difference in cost between the container being used and the next larger size container.

(c) Undenatured and denatured ethyl alcohol of proof higher than 191.6. For sales of undenatured (including pure) ethyl alcohol of higher than 191.6 proof and formulae of denatured ethyl alcohol based on ethyl alcohol of higher than 191.6 proof the following amounts per gallon may be added to the maximum prices established in paragraphs (a) and (b) above:

	Fermentation ethyl alcohol	Synthetic ethyl alcohol
Over 191.6 and less than 195.5 proof	$0.01	$0.01
195.5-200 proof	.05	.03

(d) Containers. No extra charge may be made for containers. The seller may, however, require the buyer to return a container, but where he does so the maximum price for the contents of any such container as established by paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) above shall be decreased by an amount equal to the maximum price established by the applicable regulation of the Office of Price Administration for a used container of the same kind in good condition, f. o. b. buyer's plant. Where a seller requires the return of a container, he may charge a reasonable deposit for the return of such container. The deposit must be repaid to the buyer upon his return of the container in good condition within a reasonable time. Transportation costs with respect to the return of empty containers to the seller shall in all cases be borne by the seller.

(e) Tax paid ethyl alcohol. The amount of any tax paid under the provisions of section 2800 of the Internal Revenue Code by the seller thereof with respect to any alcohol for which maximum prices are established by paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) above, less the amount of any drawback received by such seller with respect to such ethyl alcohol under the provisions of section 2800 of the Internal Revenue Code, may be added by such seller to the maximum prices established by paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) above for such ethyl alcohol.

(f) Credit charges. The maximum prices established by this regulation shall not be increased by any charges for the extension of credit.

(g) Denatured ethyl alcohol sold on a toll basis. Where denatured ethyl alcohol, made with denaturants furnished by the buyer, is sold by a manufacturer, the buyer shall pay the freight on the denaturants to the denaturing plant, and the manufacturer may charge for every gallon of undenatured ethyl alcohol supplied the maximum prices established in this regulation for undenatured ethyl alcohol of the same type and proof sold in the same quantity in identical containers and, in addition, 1½¢ per gallon of denatured ethyl alcohol thus produced.

(h) Ethyl alcohol produced in converted alcoholic beverage distilleries. (1) Until and including December 31, 1943, the maximum prices for the sale to the United States or any agency thereof of ethyl alcohol of 188 proof or higher produced in a converted alcoholic beverage distillery having a capacity of less than 15,000 gallons per day and which prior to July 1, 1942 did not sell ethyl alcohol of 188 proof or higher exclusively, shall be the maximum prices set forth in paragraphs (a) to (d) of this section, or the maximum prices computed pursuant to the following formula:

Maximum price per gallon f. o. b. works shall be the sum of the following cost items per gallon, less the recovered value of dried feed, fusel oil and the like, plus $0.04:

(i) Direct materials.
(ii) Direct labor.
(iii) Miscellaneous direct production charges.
(iv) Indirect production expenses.
(v) Miscellaneous direct expenses.
(vi) General expenses, not in excess of three cents per gallon.

(2) Maximum prices computed pursuant to the formula contained in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall be determined for the ethyl alcohol produced during each calendar quarterly three month period. For the period after a converted beverage distillery starts production of ethyl alcohol of 188 proof or higher, and until the end of the first calendar quarterly period thereafter which includes at least two full months, such maximum prices may be computed on the basis of estimated cost items. The prices for each succeeding calendar quarterly three month period, however, shall be computed on the basis of the actual cost items for the preceding period.

(3) Reports of all prices computed pursuant to the formula contained in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall be submitted to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. on a form to be obtained from that Office upon written request. The report for the first period after a converted alcoholic beverage distillery starts production of ethyl alcohol of 188 proof or higher for which maximum prices are computed pursuant to such formula shall be submitted within twenty days after the first sale of such ethyl alcohol by such producer, and shall show the prices he proposes to charge and the estimated cost items upon which such prices are based. Within twenty days after the end of the first period, and within twenty days after the end of each succeeding period, there shall be submitted a report on such form. Such maximum prices shall be subject to disapproval in writing at any time by the Office of Price Administration, and if a maximum price reported by a producer pursuant to this paragraph is revised downward by the Office of Price Administration, and if any payment has been made at the reported price, the producer may be required to refund the excess.

(4) Maximum prices determined under § 1335.159 (e) of Revised Price Schedule No. 28 shall continue in effect until the end of the period for which such prices were determined. Where a converted alcoholic beverage distillery has previously determined maximum prices under § 1335.159 (e) of Revised Price Schedule No. 28, the maximum price for such converted alcoholic beverage distillery for the first period for which a maximum price is determined under this paragraph (h) shall be based upon the actual costs for the period preceding the period for which a maximum price is determined hereunder, and not upon estimated costs.

Issued this 22d day of February 1943.

PART 1439—UNPROCESSED AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

[MPR 331]

SOYBEANS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for sales of soybeans.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. So far as practicable the Administrator has advised and consulted with members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250 and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration after consultation with and with the concurrence of the Secretary of Agriculture, this Maximum Price Regulation No. 331 is hereby issued.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1439.201 to 1439.215, inclusive issued under Public Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong., E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1439.201 Prohibition against sales of soybeans above maximum prices. On and after the effective date of this regulation regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person subject to this regulation in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive soybeans at a price higher than the maximum prices permitted by this regulation and no person subject to this regulation shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing: Provided, That the provisions of this regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries of soybeans otherwise covered by this regulation if prior to the effective date of this regulation such soybeans have been sold to a buyer and have been received by a carrier other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller for shipment to such buyer. But any resales of such last mentioned soybeans which are so in transit at the effective date of this regulation shall be subject to this regulation.

§ 1439.202 Sales at lower than maximum prices. Lower prices than the maximum prices set forth in this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1439.204 Sales by a producer or any person selling to a country elevator. The maximum price that a producer selling to anyone, or that any person (other than a trucker) selling to a country elevator, is permitted to charge in a sale of soybeans is $1.66 per bushel for class I (yellow) grades No. 1 and 2 and class II (green) grades No. 1 and 2. For all other classes and grades of soybeans the maximum price per bushel that a producer selling to anyone, or that any person (other than a trucker) selling to a country elevator is permitted to charge shall be figured by subtracting the processing value discounts currently prevailing for such classes and grades from said maximum price of $1.66 per bushel.

§ 1439.205 Sales by a country elevator operator. The maximum price that a country elevator operator is permitted to charge in a sale of soybeans shall be figured by adding a markup of 4¼ cents per bushel to the highest price which could be paid a producer for a like class and grade under the above section. To this maximum price may be added actual transportation charges, where furnished by the country elevator operator, from such country elevator to the buyer's receiving point.

§ 1439.206 Sales by a trucker. The maximum price that a trucker is permitted to charge in a sale of soybeans shall be one cent per bushel over the maximum price that may be charged by a producer for a like class and grade plus the lowest common carrier rate for the transportation of such soybeans by the trucker or, if no such rate exists, a reasonable charge for such transportation.

A sales ticket or bill of sale or other evidence indicating the point of origin of the soybeans and the quantity secured at the point of origin in question, shall be furnished by the trucker to the buyer in establishing the mileage for calculating the total transportation charge.

§ 1439.207 Sales by a terminal elevator operator, commission merchant or any other seller. The maximum price that a terminal elevator operator, commission merchant or any other seller not mentioned heretofore is permitted to charge in a sale of soybeans shall be determined by adding a markup of one cent per bushel to the maximum price that could be charged by a country elevator for a like class and grade, plus, actual transportation charges where furnished by the seller and an additional one cent per bushel for warehouse charges when incurred by the seller. Irrespective of the number of sellers of the class specified in this section who may have handled any particular lot of soybeans, neither of the two markups of one cent per bushel permitted by this section may be included more than once in figuring the maximum price.

§ 1439.209 Addition of freight tax. In adding transportation charges under the above sections the seller may add and include as a part of such transportation charges the 3 per cent transportation tax, when paid, as provided for under Section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942.[1]

§ 1439.210 Maximum price for export sales. The maximum price at which any person subject to this regulation may export any soybeans covered by this regulation shall be determined in accordance with Revised Maximum Export Regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1439.211 Maximum prices shall not be increased for any special charges. Except as otherwise provided herein the maximum prices hereinbefore specified shall not be increased by any other charges whatsoever including but not limited to duties, brokerages, or commissions, storage, insurance, carrying or handling charges or charges for the extension of credit.

§ 1439.212 Definitions. The definitions set forth in the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to this regulation except as follows:

"Country elevator operator" and "Terminal elevator operator (which latter shall include subterminal elevator operator)" and "Commission merchant" shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the feed and grain industry.

"Producer" means a person who grows or raises soybeans, whether land owner, landlord or tenant.

Soybeans—grades and classes refer to the grades and classes set forth in the Handbook of Official Grain Standards of the United States issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Trucker" means a person who purchases soybeans at the farm and delivers them to a buyer by truck without warehousing.

§ 1439.213 Records and reports. (a) Every seller subject to this regulation shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, his customary records including, if any, all bills, invoices and other documents relating to every sale or delivery of soybeans after the effective date of this regulation.

(b) Upon demand every such seller shall submit such records to the Office of Price Administration and keep such further records as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

§ 1439.214 Evasion. The maximum prices set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded in any manner whatsoever in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to soybeans alone, or in conjunction with any other charge, discount, premium or privilege, or by tying agreement or other trade understanding, or by changing a previous business practice.

§ 1439.215 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension provisions and suits for treble damages provided for in the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

This regulation shall become effective February 27, 1943.

Issued this 22d day of February 1943.

PRENTISS M. BROWN,
Administrator.

Approved:

CLAUDE R. WICKARD,
Secretary of Agriculture.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 294 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

COLLEGE INN FOOD PRODUCTS CO.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1730 Authorization of maximum prices for sales of "College Inn Chili Dinner" in 9½ ounce packages by College Inn Food Products Company, 4301 South Ashland Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, by wholesalers and by retailers. (a) On and after February 23, 1943, the maximum price for sales by College Inn Food Products Company, 4301 South Ashland Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, for College Inn Chili Dinners shall be:

$1.26 per dozen 9½ ounce packages.

This price shall include prepaid freight to purchasers' stations.

(b) Wholesale grocers shall determine their maximum delivered selling prices of "College Inn Chili Dinner" by adding to their net cost of each item a mark-up of 20% of such net cost. The maximum delivered prices so determined shall not exceed $1.51 per dozen 9½ ounce packages.

Where a maximum price per dozen determined by the provisions of this paragraph is a fractional cent price and the fraction of a cent is less than one-half cent, the price per dozen shall be lowered to the next lower cent. If the fraction is one-half cent or larger, the wholesaler may increase his maximum price per dozen to the next higher cent.

Net cost for a wholesale grocer as mentioned in this paragraph shall be his invoice price for the first delivery of "College Inn Chili Dinner" delivered in a customary quantity for this type of item by the customary mode of transportation to his customary receiving point, less all discounts allowed him, except discount for prompt payment. No charge or cost for unloading or local trucking shall be included in net cost.

(c) Sellers at retail shall determine their maximum selling prices of "College Inn Chili Dinner" by adding to their net cost of each item a mark-up of 33⅓% of such net cost. The maximum prices so determined shall not exceed 17 cents per 9½ ounce package.

Where a maximum price per package determined by the provisions of this paragraph is a fractional cent price and the fraction of a cent is less than one-half cent, the price per package shall be lowered to the next lower cent. If the fraction is one-half cent or larger, the retailer may increase his maximum price per package to the next higher cent.

Net cost for a retailer as mentioned in this paragraph shall be his invoice price for the first delivery of "College Inn Chili Dinner" delivered to his customary receiving point in a customary quantity of this type of item by a customary mode of transportation and from a customary source of supply, less all discounts allowed him except the discount for prompt payment. No charge or cost for unloading or local trucking shall ever be included.

(d) No seller, except a seller at retail, shall change his customary discounts, allowances and price differentials applying to comparable items of "College Inn Chili Dinner" in making sales of "College Inn Chili Dinner" unless such change in these customary discounts, allowances and price differentials results in lower selling prices.

(e) On and after February 23, 1943, College Inn Food Products Company, 4301 South Ashland Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, shall supply written notification to each wholesaler before or at the time of first delivery of "College Inn Chili Dinner" and for a period of three months thereafter shall include with each shipping unit of the "College Inn Chili Dinner" a written notification to retailers. If such retailer notification is inclosed in a shipment unit, a legend shall be affixed outside of such unit to read "Retailer's Notice Enclosed." The written notification for each type of purchaser shall include the following appropriate statements:

Notification from College Inn Food Products Company, to Wholesalers

The OPA has authorized us to charge wholesalers the following price per dozen packages of "College Inn Chili Dinner", subject to all customary allowances, and discounts:

$1.26 per dozen 9½ ounce packages

Wholesalers are authorized to establish a ceiling price for each item by adding to the net cost of the item 20% of such net cost, provided that the ceiling prices so determined shall not exceed $1.51 per dozen 9½ ounce packages. Net cost is the invoice cost of the first delivery of a customary supply at the customary receiving point, less all discounts, other than for prompt payment, and excluding charges for local hauling. Retailers shall establish a ceiling price by adding to their net cost 33⅓% of such net cost. Each individual ceiling price determined by any seller shall be figured to the nearest cent (raise one-half cent fractions to the next even cent). A copy of a notification to retailers is included in every shipping unit of these items. If the initial sale of one of these items to any retailer is a split case sale, wholesalers are required to provide such retailer with a copy of the retail notification so enclosed. OPA requires that you keep this notice for examination.

Notification From College Inn Food Products Company to Retailers

The OPA authorizes retailers to establish ceiling prices for "College Inn Chili Dinner" by adding to the net cost of each item 33⅓% of such net cost, provided that the ceiling prices so determined shall not exceed 17 cents per 9½ ounce package. Net cost is the invoice cost of the first delivery of a customary supply at the customary receiving point, less all discounts, other than for prompt payment, and excluding charges for local hauling. Such ceiling prices shall be figured to the nearest cent (raise one-half cent fractions to the next even cent). OPA requires that you keep this notice for examination.

(f) This Order No. 294 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) This Order No. 294 (§ 1499.1730) shall become effective February 23, 1943.

[Amendment 45 to GMPR[2]]

MILK PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A footnote is added to § 1499.9 (a) (3), and subparagraph (2) of § 1499.20 (p) is amended, as set forth below:

§ 1499.9 Commodities excepted from this General Maximum Price Regulation. (a) This General Maximum Price Regulation shall not apply to sales or deliveries of the following commodities.

* * * * *

(3) All milk products,[3] including butter, cheese, condensed and evaporated milk, except that fluid milk sold at wholesale and retail, cream sold at wholesale and retail, and ice cream shall be governed by this General Maximum Price Regulation.

§ 1499.20 Definitions and explanations. This General Maximum Price Regulation, and the terms appearing therein, unless the context otherwise requires, shall be construed as follows:

* * * * *

(p) "Sale at wholesale" means a sale by a person who buys a commodity and resells it, without substantially changing its form, to any person other than the ultimate consumer, except that * * * (2) "sold at wholesale" refers to a sale, by any person, of fluid milk or cream in bottles or paper container, ice cream mix whose butterfat content is reduced to not less than 8% included in 14% or more (by weight) of milk solids, and ice cream to any person, including an industrial or commercial user, other than the ultimate consumer.

This Amendment No. 45 to the General Maximum Price Regulation shall become effective February 22, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Amendment 119 to Supp. Reg. 14[4] to GMPR[2]]

ICE CREAM AND ICE CREAM MIX

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new subparagraph (1a) is added to § 1499.73 (a), as set forth below:

§ 1499.73 Modification of maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of General Maximum Price Regulation for certain commodities, services, and transactions. (a) The maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for the commodities, services, and transactions listed below are modified as hereinafter provided:[5]

* * * * *

(1a) Ice cream and ice cream mix—(i) Adjusted maximum prices for ice cream and ice cream mix sold at wholesale and retail.

(a) Maximum prices for sales at wholesale or retail of "ice cream" shall be the seller's established maximum price in effect on February 21, 1943, as determined under § 1499.2, General Provisions, of the General Maximum Price Regulation, or any applicable supplementary or adjustment order, adjusted as follows: Deduct 2¢ per gallon, or a proportionate amount for a part of a gallon, for each 1% reduction in butterfat more than 2½%.

(b) Maximum prices for sales at wholesale or retail of "ice cream mix" shall be the seller's established maximum price in effect on February 21, 1943, as determined under Maximum Price Regulation No. 280,[6] adjusted as follows: Deduct 4¢ per gallon, or a proportionate amount for a part of a gallon, for each 1% reduction in butterfat more than 2½%.

(ii) Calculations. (a) The foregoing pricing formula shall apply only to "ice cream" and "ice cream mix" of the same weight per gallon and quality as in March 1942, the butterfat content of which is reduced to not less than 8% (by weight) included in 14% or more (by weight) of milk solids. It applies to sales in any package size, whether more or less than one gallon, on a proportionate basis.

(b) If the seller had established maximum prices on February 21, 1943, for "ice cream" or "ice cream mix" having different percentages of butterfat content, his new maximum price for the same "ice cream" or "ice cream mix" with reduced butterfat content shall be determined on the basis of that "ice cream" or "ice cream mix" which, prior to change in butterfat, was next highest in butterfat content to the new product.

(c) If the seller at wholesale or retail had an established maximum price on February 21, 1943 for sales of bulk or packaged "ice cream" manufactured in combination with sherbet or other frozen milk products as a blended milk dessert, he shall change his maximum price by adjusting the highest price charged by him for said product during March 1942 to a purchaser of the same class by the amount of the required decrease applicable to the percentage of "ice cream" (by volume) contained in the combination product.

For example: Ice cream product consists of 66% (by volume) of ice cream testing 16% butterfat, combined with 34% (by volume) of sherbet. The butterfat content of the ice cream is lowered to 12%. The required decrease for ice cream whose butterfat is lowered 4% is 3¢ per gallon. 66% of 3¢ amounts to 2¢. The required decrease for this ice cream product is, therefore, 2¢ per gallon.

(d) The foregoing pricing formula is applicable to vanilla "ice cream" and "ice cream" having other flavors.

(1) The pricing formula applicable for vanilla "ice cream" of a particular percentage of butterfat content shall also be applicable to other flavored "ice cream" manufactured from the same preparation or mix, regardless of slight variations in butterfat content between the vanilla and the other flavored product.

(2) If no vanilla "ice cream" is manufactured out of the same preparation or mix, the flavored "ice cream" shall be priced on the basis of its actual butterfat content.

(e) All calculations shall be carried to the fourth decimal place of a cent. For sales at wholesale, maximum prices for any unit size less than one gallon resulting in a fraction of a cent shall be adjusted to the nearest ¼¢. In the case of single unit sales at retail, a maximum price expressed in a fraction of a cent must be reduced to the lowest even cent, if the fraction is less than ½¢, and may be increased to the next highest even cent if the fraction is ½¢ or more.

(iii) Notice to retailers.—(a) Ice cream. Every seller at wholesale of "ice cream" shall calculate the retailers' required decrease, if any, under this subparagraph (1a) of § 1499.73 (a) for each unit size sold at retail. At the time of making the first delivery after February 21, 1943, upon putting into effect a decrease in butterfat content or a required decrease in price, such wholesalers shall mail or otherwise deliver to retailers who purchase "ice cream" from them written notices of the change in butterfat content and the retailers' required decrease in price, if any, for each grade of "ice cream". With proper insertions, the notices shall read as follows:

Notice of Required Decrease in Price and Change in Butterfat Content of Ice Cream

Our ice cream now has a butterfat content of ------ %. Prior to the issuance of Food Distribution Order No. 8 by the Secretary of Agriculture on January 19, 1943, the butterfat content was ------ %, and our ceiling price was $------ for (10 gallon, 5 gallon, 3 gallon, gallon, half gallon, quart, pint, or half-pint) container sizes. Our new ceiling price is $------ for (10 gallon, 5 gallon, 3 gallon, gallon, half gallon, quart, pint or half pint) container sizes.

Your new OPA ceiling price shall be your maximum price for such ice cream on February 21, 1943, minus $------ for (10 gallon, 5 gallon, 3 gallon, gallon, half gallon, quart, pint, or half-pint) container sizes.

OPA requires that you keep this notice for examination, and that you record your new ceiling price in your statement of base period maximum prices kept in your store. You should also post your new ceiling price on bulk or packaged ice cream in place of your old ceiling prices.

(b) Ice cream mix. At the time of making the first delivery after February 21, 1943, upon putting into effect a decrease in butterfat content of a required decrease in price, every seller at wholesale of "ice cream mix" shall mail or otherwise deliver to purchasers of "ice cream mix" written notices of the change in butterfat content and the seller's required decrease, if any, for each grade of mix. With proper insertions, the notices shall read as follows:

Notice of Required Decrease in Price and Change in Butterfat Content of Ice Cream Mix

Our ice cream mix now has a butterfat content of ------%. Prior to the issuance of Food Distribution Order No. 8 by the Secretary of Agriculture on January 19, 1943, the butterfat content was ------ %, and our ceiling price was $------ for (10 gallon, 5 gallon, 3 gallon, gallon, half gallon, quart, pint, or half-pint) container sizes. Our new ceiling price is $------ for (10 gallon, 5 gallon, 3 gallon, gallon, half gallon, quart, pint or half pint) container sizes.

Your new OPA ceiling price shall be your maximum price for such ice cream on February 21, 1943, minus $------ for (10 gallon, 5 gallon, 3 gallon, gallon, half gallon, quart, pint, or half-pint) container sizes.

OPA requires that you keep this notice for examination, and that you record your new ceiling price in your statement of base period maximum prices kept in your store. You should also post your new ceiling price on bulk or packaged ice cream in place of your old ceiling prices.

(c) Combination ice cream products. At the time of making the first delivery after February 21, 1943, upon putting into effect a change in butterfat content or a required decrease in price, every seller at wholesale of an ice cream product consisting of ice cream manufactured in combination with sherbet or other frozen milk dessert shall mail or otherwise deliver to retailers who purchase such products for resale a written notice with proper insertions. The notices shall read as follows:

Notice of Required Decrease in Price and Change in Butterfat Content

The ice cream contained in our ice cream product now has a butterfat content of ------%. Prior to the issuance of Food Distribution Order No. 8 by the Secretary of Agriculture on January 19, 1943, the butterfat content was ------ %, and our ceiling price was $------ for (10 gallon, 5 gallon,

(iv) Records and reports. On or before March 10, 1943, every seller of "ice cream" or "ice cream mix" at wholesale affected by the provisions of this subparagraph (1a) who sold more than 25 000 gallons of "ice cream" or "ice cream mix" during 1942, shall prepare, on the basis of available information and records, and file with the Office of Price Administration, Food Price Division, Dairy Section, Washington, D. C., a report showing:

(a) Butterfat content of ice cream or ice cream mix during March 1942;

(c) Selling prices during March 1942 for each container size;

(d) Selling price after adjustment;

(e) Cost of butterfat at present (specify whether obtained from cream or butter); and

(f) Average weight per gallon of ice cream during March 1942 and at the present time.

(v) Exempt sales. The price adjustment authorized by this subparagraph (1a) for sellers who reduce the butterfat content of their products, shall not be applicable to any seller who violates the provisions of Food Distribution Order No. 8, issued by the Secretary of Agriculture on January 19, 1943.

(vi) Definitions. For purposes of this subparagraph (1a):

(a) "Ice cream" means any frozen or partially frozen dairy food product containing milk solids and sugar, flavoring, and/or stabilizer, fruit, nuts, coloring, testing 8% or more (by weight) of milk fat included in 14% or more (by weight) of total milk solids.

(b) "Ice cream mix" means any liquid or dry unfrozen dairy food product containing milk solids and sugar, testing 8% or more (by weight) of milk fat included in 14% or more (by weight) of total milk solids, and intended for the manufacture of ice cream.

(c) A seller of "ice cream mix" who does not change the butterfat content of his product shall continue in effect his established maximum prices existing on February 21, 1943, as determined under Maximum Price Regulation No. 280.

(vii) Evasion. The provisions of this subparagraph (1a) shall not be evaded by direct or indirect means, including but not limited to, the following:

(a) Reducing the quality of "ice cream" or "ice cream mix", other than by changing the butterfat content provided for herein; this includes any change in flavoring, fruits, nuts or weight of the product.

(b) Requiring any purchaser to enter into a tying agreement as a condition for the purchase of "ice cream" or "ice cream mix".

(c) Compelling a person purchasing a given quantity of "ice cream" or "ice cream mix" to accept delivery in the form of two or more smaller units at the higher prices applicable to such smaller container sizes.

This amendment shall become effective February 22, 1943 and terminate on May 23, 1943.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[General Ration Order 5,[1] Amendment 1]

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

General Ration Order No. 5 (§ 1305.202) is amended in the following respects:

1. A new Article XXIV and section 24.1 are added, to read as follows:

Article XXIV—War Relocation Authority and the Department of Justice

SEC. 24.1 How the War Relocation Authority and the Department of Justice obtain rationed foods for institutional use in war relocation centers and alien detention stations and camps. (a) The War Relocation Authority and the Department of Justice may apply to the Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration for allotments of rationed foods for allotment periods, beginning with March 1, 1943, for use in the preparation and service of food to persons confined in war relocation centers and alien detention stations and camps. These agencies are not required to register with a board under this order. Allotments will be given in accordance with arrangements made with the Office of Price Administration. The Washington Office will issue one certificate for each rationed food. The amount for which the certificate is issued may be distributed, through the use of ration checks, to the various centers, stations and camps.

(b) Ration bank accounts may be opened for centers, stations, and camps at any time after February 23, 1943, in the same manner as ration bank accounts may be opened for other institutional users.

2. The effective date provision of General Ration Order No. 5 is amended to read as follows:

This general ration order shall become effective 12:01 a. m., March 1, 1943, except that sections 22.1 and 23.1 shall become effective February 20, 1943, and section 24.1 shall become effective February 23, 1943.

This amendment shall become effective February 23, 1943.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[Ration Order 1A,[1] Amendment 12]

TIRES, TUBES, RECAPPING AND CAMELBACK

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

The following sections are amended: §§ 1315.201 (a) (4), 1315.201 (a) (26) 1315.201 (a) (27), 1315.401 (d), 1315.503 (c), 1315.503 (d) (4), 1315.609 (a) (2), 1315.609 (b) (1), 1315.804 (d) (2), 1315.804 (d) (4), 1315.806 (g) and 1315.806 (h) (2); the following sections are revoked: §§ 1315.508 (a) (2), 1315.610 (b) (2), 1315.804 (c) (4) (i), 1315.804 (d) (6), 1315.804 (h) and 1315.806 (h) (3); the following sections are added: §§ 1315.304, 1315.806 (h) (4) and 1315.806 (n); in § 1315.502, in the text of § 1315.503 (a) and in 1315.503 (a) (3) the phrase "or recapping service" is deleted; in the table in § 1315.804 (c) (3) the phrase "or 8½ lbs. of passenger-type camelback" is deleted; in § 1315.804 (d) (3) the phrase "or of OPA Form R-48" is deleted; and in § 1315.901 (e) and (f) the phrase "(truck or passenger-type)" is inserted after the word "camelback."

(4) "Camelback" means any rubber compound designed for application to a worn tire to make a new tread in the process of recapping. Except where the context indicates otherwise, "camelback" refers to truck-type camelback only.

• • • • •

(26) "Recapping" means the process of tread renewal in which passenger or truck-type camelback is applied to the tread surface of a tire.

(27) "Recapping service" means the recapping of a certificate holder's tire with truck-type camelback or a tire by a dealer or manufacturer to a certificate holder of a tire recapped with truck-type camelback in exchange for a recappable tire carcass.

§ 1315.304 No board jurisdiction over passenger-type camelback. No board may issue a certificate authorizing the recapping of any tire with passenger-type camelback.

§ 1315.401 Quotas. • • •

(d) Passenger automobile spare tires. No board shall issue a certificate for a spare tire to an applicant for a passenger automobile for which there has been issued only a Basic ration currently valid under Ration Order No. 5C, unless the mileage driven in such vehicle is necessary for carrying out one or more of the purposes described in § 1394.7706 of Ration Order No. 5C, except between the twenty-fifth and the last day of a month, and then only if there are no pending applications for tires for running wheels using passenger-type tires.

§ 1315.503 Eligibility of passenger automobile. • • •

(c) Eligibility determined on basis of adjusted ration. When the board has adjusted an applicant's mileage requirements pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, it shall determine the applicant's eligibility for a tire or tube on the basis of such adjusted mileage, and not on the basis of his former allowed gasoline mileage, in accordance with the following table:

Total allowed mileage	Kind of tire	Kind of tube
500 miles per month or less	Grade III	New or used at applicant's option.
501 to 1,000 miles per month	Grade II or Grade III tire at applicant's option.	New or used at applicant's option.
1,001 miles per month or over	Grade I, Grade II or Grade III tire at applicant's option.	New or used at applicant's option.
For fleet passenger automobiles or official passenger automobiles for which interchangeable gasoline ration books have been currently issued.	Grade III tire; if applicant establishes that the particular vehicle will be operated for the requisite number of miles (501 or 1,000) per month, then a Grade II or Grade I tire.	New or used at applicant's option.

The following limitations are applicable in determining the grade of tire that may be acquired on the basis of allowed mileage under the above table: Mileage allowed on a special ration shall not be included in the allowed mileage; and no certificate for a tire may be granted if the tire to be replaced can be recapped, except under the circumstances set forth in paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) Exceptions to eligibility; mileage not governing. • • •

(4) An applicant may be granted a certificate for a Grade III tire in any area where recapping facilities are unavailable or inadequate, upon turning in a recappable tire carcass.

• • • • •

§ 1315.609 Execution and issuance of certificate—(a) Execution of certificates. • • •

(2) The board shall indicate on the certificate the exact number, type, grade and size of the tires or tubes which may be acquired, or the number, type and size of the tires for which recapping service has been authorized.

(b) Issuance of certificates. • • •

(1) The board shall note on a certificate for recapping service that the applicant is entitled to truck-type camelback

§ 1315.804 Dealer and manufacturer transfers. • • •

(d) Camelback. • • •

(2) For recapping. A recapper may apply truck or pasenger-type camelback to the tread surface of a tire carcass: Provided, That no truck-type camelback shall be used in recapping a tire to be mounted on any station wagon, suburban carry-all or on an automobile originally designed to carry seven passengers or less, whether or not rebuilt, unless rebuilt as a bus or unless the vehicle is a taxicab or jitney. No recapper shall apply truck or passenger-type camelback to the thread surface of a tire carcass if the carcass will not be serviceable as a recapped tire. No recapper shall apply any rubber substance other than camel back to the thread surface of a tire for the purpose of tread renewal unless authorized by the Office of Price Admipistration or the War Production Board.

• • • • •

(4) Permitted replenishment of camelback. Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph any camelback dealer or manufacturer may, in exchange for the properly endorsed replenishment portion of a certificate marked "truck-type camelback", transfer the amount of camelback specified in the following table:

Size of tire	Number of pounds of camelback which may be purchased for each such tire
Smaller than 30 x 5	8½
30 x 5 up to but not including 7.50 x 18	12
7.50 x 18 up to but not including 9.00 x 20	16
9.00 x 20 up to but not including 12.00 x 20	22
12.00 x 20 and larger (regular truck-type)	32
12.00 and up (but not including tires 12.00 x 24 and larger) used on farm tractors (rear tires only), road-graders, earth movers and other similar equipment used primarily on off-the-road work	55
12.00 x 24 and larger	Amount necessary

When the amount of camelback to be replenished cannot be calculated from the above table, the person purchasing the camelback shall attach to the replenishment portion of the certificate or receipt a certified statement showing the amount of camelback necessary to recap the number of tires specified on the certificate or receipt, and he shall be entitled to purchase the amount of camelback appearing on such statement.

§ 1315.806 Transfers without certificate, special authorization or notice. • • •

(g) Turn in of tires or tubes to be replaced. A consumer who holds a certificate for a tire or tube and who is required to turn in the replaced tire or tube shall transfer it to a dealer. A dealer who receives tires under this paragraph shall retain such tires for a period of not less than thirty (30) days before disposing of them.

(h) Transfers for recapping. • • •

(2) A dealer may transfer a recappable carcass to a recapper if accompanied by Part B of a certificate authorizing recapping service and the recapper may transfer a used or recapped tire in exchange for such Part B.

• • • • •

(4) A person may have a tire recapped with passenger-type camelback without certificate.

• • • • •

(n) Transfers of passenger-type camelback. No person may purchase any passenger-type camelback in an amount which would give him in excess of 1500 pounds of passenger-type camelback for each mold he operates capable of recapping tires smaller than 7.50-20. A manufacturer of, or dealer in, camelback may not ship passenger-type camelback to any person unless such person makes a certification accompanying his order that the amount of passenger-type camelback ordered plus his stock on hand at the date of ordering will not exceed the amount he is entitled to possess under this paragraph.

This amendment shall become effective February 20, 1943.

PART 1372—SEASONAL COMMODITIES

[MPR 315,[1] Amendment 1]

LEAD ARSENATE

A statement of considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1372.206 is amended to read as set forth below:

§ 1372.206 Notification by manufacturers and distributors of price changes. If reductions or increases of the manufacturer's maximum prices for lead arsenate result from the provisions of this regulation, every manufacturer shall supply a written statement to each distributor or dealer to whom he sells, at or before the time of his first delivery to the distributor or dealer after the price reduction or increase becomes effective. The manufacturer shall also notify each distributor that the distributor is required to supply a copy of the same written statement to each dealer at or before the time of the distributor's first delivery to the dealer after the price reduction or increase becomes effective. The written statement shall read as follows:

The OPA has authorized us to increase (required us to reduce) our ceiling prices on lead arsenate as follows:

[The statement shall here list the amount of price increase or reduction for each package size of each lead arsenate product produced by the manufacturer, for which a change in maximum price has resulted from the provisions of the regulation.]

Distributors are allowed to increase (required to reduce) their ceiling prices for these products by the same amounts on merchandise delivered to them at such adjusted prices. Dealers are also allowed to increase (required to reduce) their ceilings by the same amounts on merchandise delivered to them at such adjusted prices. Distributors are, therefore, required to supply such dealers with an exact copy of this notice at or before the time of first delivery of such merchandise. OPA requires distributors and dealers to keep a copy of this notice for examination.

This amendment shall become effective March 1, 1943.

PART 1389—APPAREL

[MPR 332]

SIMPLIFIED MEN'S AND BOYS' SHIRTS AND PAJAMAS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for the sale of simplified shirts and pajamas produced in accordance with War Production Board limitations.

The maximum prices established by this regulation are, in the judgment of the Price Administrator, generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order 9250, Maximum Price Regulation No. 332 is hereby issued.

Sec.

1389.501 Scope of this regulation.
1389.502 Rule 1: maximum prices for sales by manufacturers.
1389.503 Rule 2: maximum prices for sales by wholesalers and retailers.
1389.504 Maximum prices for simplified garments which cannot be priced under Rule 1 or 2.
1389.505 Informational requirements.
1389.506 Relation to other regulations, and other special situations.
1389.507 Transactions which are prohibited by this regulation.
1389.508 Less than maximum prices may be charged.
1389.509 Evasion.
1389.510 Disclosure of maximum prices.
1389.511 How this regulation may be amended.
1389.512 Enforcement.
1389.513 Definitions.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1389.501 to 1389.513 inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1389.501 Scope of this regulation—(a) What garments are covered by this regulation. This regulation applies to men's and boys' shirts and pajamas manufactured with curtailments of material and trimmings, and restrictions on packing in accordance with General Limitation Order L-169 of the War Production Board.[1] These shirts and pajamas will be called "simplified garments."

"Pajamas" includes any garment of a type customarily used by men and boys for sleeping, including garments consisting of a coat and pants, nightgowns, sleep coats, sleep slacks, sleep shirts, and lounging pajamas and suits.

This regulation requires that manufacturers label or mark each simplified garment with the symbol "–R–" to enable purchasers easily to recognize such garments.

(b) What garments are excluded from this regulation. Shirts of the following descriptions are not covered by this regulation:

(1) Shirts customarily graded as work shirts and made of any of the following constructions of cotton body material: carded yarn shirting chambrays, carded yarn shirting coverts, twills, carded yarn poplins, whipcords, moleskins, jeans, drills, cottonades; and

(2) Shirts made of wool, part-wool, cotton suede and cotton flannel including cotton domet.

(c) What sellers must price under this regulation. This regulation applies to all types of sellers. Manufacturers, including manufacturing retailers and custom tailors, will price under Rule 1 (§ 1389.502); wholesalers and retailers will price under Rule 2 (§ 1389.503).

§ 1389.502 Rule 1: maximum prices for sales by manufacturers—(a) How a manufacturer determines his maximum price. In any sale of a simplified garment by a manufacturer, the maximum price shall be his present maximum price of the "comparable" unsimplified garment put into process by him prior to November 25, 1942, less the reduction in cost resulting from the curtailments and restrictions of the simplified garment, and less, also, an amount equal to 15% of such reduction in cost.

(1) What is a "comparable" garment. An unsimplified garment is considered "comparable" to a simplified garment if both garments have the following characteristics:

(i) They are made of material having the same (a) weave, (b) weight and thread count within the tolerances as provided by the Worth Street rules, (c) finish, including type of shrinkage treatment, (d) color fastness; and

(ii) They are offered for sale in the same range of sizes and have the same size dimensions except for the simplifications made in accordance with General Limitation Order L-169 of the War Production Board; and

(iii) They have trimmings equal in quality and serviceability except for the simplifications made in accordance with General Limitation Order L-169 of the War Production Board;

(iv) They are manufactured and finished with equal standards of workmanship and inspection.

(v) They would ordinarily be sold by the manufacturer in the same price line except for the simplifications made in accordance with General Limitation Order L-169 of the War Production Board.

(2) Reduction in cost of a price line. Where the comparable unsimplified garment is one of a number of different styles which were sold in the same price line, the saving in each item of cost is figured on the basis of the average saving for the price line as a whole. This average is determined in accordance with the percentage of actual sales of each style of the comparable unsimplified garment during 1942. Based on this average saving, the reduction in cost shall be the same for all the styles of comparable unsimplified garments composing the price line.

For example: a pajama manufacturer had a $30.00 price line, composed of two unsimplified styles which are comparable to two simplified models he is now producing. His saving on trimmings is 30¢ a dozen on the first style and 75¢ a dozen on the second. In 1942, he sold in that price line 20% of the first style and 80% of the second. His average saving per dozen will be figured as follows:

First style—30¢ x 20%	$0.06
Second style—75¢ x 80%	0.60
Average saving per dozen	$0.66

His reduction in cost on trimmings for the entire price line will, therefore, be 66¢ per dozen.

(3) How a manufacturer calculates his "reduction in cost"—(i) Meaning of "cost." "Cost" includes all expenses for the following four items: (a) material, (b) direct and indirect labor, (c) trimmings, (d) boxing and other supplies.

(ii) Savings which constitute the reduction in cost. The saving in each of these items of cost must be figured separately in computing the amount of the reduction in cost. These savings shall be determined (a) by the actual reduction in yardage at the current cost of the material used in the simplified garment, (b) by the current cost of trimmings eliminated, (c) by the cost at current rates of the direct and indirect labor operations which have been eliminated or decreased, and (d) by the current cost of the boxing and other supplies reduced or eliminated. The measure of each saving shall be based on a comparison with the yardage taken, trimmings used, labor employed and boxing and other supplies used for the comparable unsimplified garment put into process by the manufacturer prior to November 25, 1942.

(iii) Off-setting the increase in cost of fine combed-yarn cotton goods. An increase in the replacement cost of fine combed-yarn cotton goods from November 25, 1942, to February 23, 1943, may be offset against the savings which result from the curtailments and restrictions of the simplified garment. No other increase in cost shall be offset against the savings. The maximum price of the simplified garment can never exceed the maximum price of the comparable unsimplified garment.

(iv) Examples of calculation. A manufacturer should calculate the amount of his saving in the production of a simplified garment in the following manner, substituting for each item listed his own actual figures for cost of material and the savings in yardage, direct and indirect labor, trimmings, and boxing and other supplies.

(a) Example for shirt manufacturers.

(Saving per dozen garments)
Material—1¼ yds. @ 24¢ yd. (current cost)	$.30
Labor saving on boxing, collars, etc	.05
Boxing supplies, etc	.05
Reduction in cost	.40
Plus 15% on 40¢	.06
Reduction in price	.46

If a manufacturer's maximum price of the comparable unsimplified garment is $15.50 per dozen, the maximum price of the simplified garment would be $15.50 less $.46, or $15.04.

(b) Example for pajama manufacturers.

(Saving per dozen garments)
Material—1¾ yds. @ 28¢ yd. (current cost)	$.49
Trimmings—pipings, frogs, sashes, decorations, etc	.50
Labor—frogs, piping, sashes, cuffs on sleeves and trousers, collars	.30
Reduction in cost	1.29
Plus 15% on $1.29	.19
Reduction in price	1.48

If a manufacturer's maximum price of the comparable unsimplified garment is $28.50 per dozen, the maximum price of the simplified garment would be $28.50 less $1.48, or $27.02.

(c) Example of offsetting increase in cost of fine combed-yarn cotton goods. If a pajama is made of fine combed-yarn cotton goods, and the replacement cost of these goods increased from November 25, 1942 to February 23, 1943, the calculation would be revised as follows:

Reduction in cost (taken from Example (b))	$1.29
Increase in replacement cost of goods: Cost on February 23, 1943	28¢
Cost on November 25, 1942	27¢
Increase per yard	1¢
Multiply by 50 (yardage of simplified garment)	.50
Net reduction in cost	.79
Plus 15% on 79¢	.12
Reduction in price	.91

The above examples (a) and (b) are merely illustrations and do not give maximum savings nor are they inclusive of all possible savings that may be made by a manufacturer.

(b) Maximum price of a "second." The maximum price of a simplified garment which is a "second," according to the manufacturer's standard of grading a "second" of the comparable unsimplified garment, is the maximum price of the simplified garment established by this regulation less the seller's customary percentage allowance for "seconds."

§ 1389.503 Rule 2: maximum prices for sales by wholesalers or retailers. (a) In any sale of a simplified garment at wholesale or retail, the maximum price of such garment shall be determined in accordance with the following procedure:

The seller shall

(1) Select from the same general classification and price range as the garment being priced under this section, the unsimplified garment of which the seller delivered the largest number of units during March 1942 and for which he had an established maximum price; and

(2) Divide his maximum price for that unsimplified garment by his replacement cost of that garment; and

(3) Multiply the percentage so obtained by the net cost to him of the garment being priced under this section. The resulting figure shall be the maximum price of the simplified garment being priced.

For example:

Maximum price of unsimplified garment	$2.00
Replacement cost of that unsimplified garment ($15.75 a doz.)	1.31
Net cost of simplified garment being priced ($15.00 a doz.)	1.25

$\frac{2.00}{1.31} = 153\%$

Multiply 153% by $1.25: 153% x $1.25 = $1.91 maximum price for simplified garment

(b) For purposes of this section, "replacement cost" means the net cost to the seller for his last purchase, or the net cost the seller would have had to pay on the basis of the last offering price to him, after May 18, 1942 but before February 23, 1943. "Net cost" means the price paid after deducting all discounts allowed to the seller, but adding transportation or delivery charges paid by him.

§ 1389.504 Maximum prices for simplified garments which cannot be priced under Rule 1 or 2. In certain cases, it will not be possible for a manufacturer to determine his maximum price of a simplified garment under Rule 1 (§ 1389.502) or for a wholesaler or retailer to determine his maximum price under Rule 2 (§ 1389.503). This is true, for example, in the case of a new retailer or wholesaler, or a company newly entering the shirt manufacturing business. In these and other appropriate cases, the seller's maximum price shall be determined in accordance with the following procedure:

(a) Where a seller cannot determine his maximum price under Rule 1 or 2, his maximum price of a simplified garment shall be the same as the maximum price established in accordance with this regulation by the most closely competitive seller of the same class, (1) for the same simplified garment, or (2) if no such maximum price has been established for that garment, then for the similar simplified garment most nearly like it.

(b) In any case in which a seller cannot determine the maximum price of a simplified garment under Rule 1 or 2, or paragraph (a) of this section, he shall not sell, deliver, or offer for sale any such simplified garment until he has first received authorization from the Office of Price Administration. A seller who seeks such authorization shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., three copies of an application setting forth (1) the reasons why he cannot price under the provisions of this regulation, (2) a description in detail of the garment for which a maximum price is sought, including a description of the fabric out of which the garment is made, (3) the differences which distinguish the simplified garment being priced from the unsimplified garments for which applicant has an established maximum price, and (4) an explanation of the necessity for manufacturing this particular simplified garment.

If such authorization is given, it will be accompanied by instructions as to the method of establishing the maximum price of the particular garment.

§ 1389.505 Information requirements—(a) Identification of simplified garments—(1) Labeling or marking. On and after March 1, 1943, a manufacturer must not deliver any simplified garment unless it has a label attached or other mark placed thereon which shall clearly bear the symbol "–R–". However, if the garment had been boxed before that date, the symbol "–R–" may be placed upon the box. No person shall remove any such label or mark from the garment before it is delivered to the ultimate consumer.

(2) Bills, invoices, catalogs, and statements. In every invoice, bill, catalog, and statement in which a manufacturer or wholesaler describes or designates a garment for which a maximum price is established by this regulation, he shall identify such garment by adding the symbol "–R–" to the style or catalog number.

(b) Statement of maximum prices to be furnished to purchasers for resale. Unless the specific information has been previously furnished to the purchaser, every manufacturer, wholesaler or other person who sells or delivers to a purchaser for resale, any garment for which a maximum price has been established by this regulation, shall furnish, at the time of delivery of such garment to the purchaser thereof, a statement in the following form containing the seller's maximum price for the garment delivered:

This notice is sent to you, as required by Maximum Price Regulation No. 332 issued by the OPA. It explains our maximum prices for the garments listed below, and tells you how to find your maximum prices.

Each of the styles listed below is marked with an "–R–", either on the garment or on the box. This shows that the garment has been simplified to conserve material in accordance with General Limitation Order L–169 of the War Production Board. You will find below our maximum prices for our new simplified styles, and also for the comparable unsimplified styles, if any, formerly sold by us. Wherever we have made a saving on the simplified style, we have passed on the reduction to you, as required by the OPA.

(Under each of the following headings, list the items sold)

Style No. of simplified garment	Description	Our maximum price	Our selling price	Our maximum price and style No. for the unsimplified model previously made

How to Compute Your Maximum Prices for Simplified Garments

You will

(1) Select from the same general classification and price range as the simplified garment being priced by you, the unsimplified garment of which you delivered the largest number of units during March 1942 and for which you had an established maximum price; and

(2) Divide your maximum price for that unsimplified garment by your replacement cost of that garment.

(3) Multiply the percentage so obtained by the net cost to you of the simplified garment being priced. The resulting figure shall be the maximum price of the simplified garment.

For example:

Maximum price of unsimplified garment	$2.00
Replacement cost of that unsimplified garment ($15.75 a doz.)	1.31
Net cost of simplified garment being priced ($15.00 a doz.)	1.25

Divide 2.00 by 1.31: $\frac{2.00}{1.31}$ = 153%

Multiply 153% by $1.25: 153% × $1.25 = $1.91 maximum price for simplified garment

In finding your maximum price in accordance with the above method, you should take as your replacement cost, the net cost to you of your last purchase or the net cost you would have had on the basis of the last offering price to you of the unsimplified garment, after May 18, 1942 but before February 23, 1943. "Net cost" means the price you paid after deducting all discounts allowed to you and after adding any transportation or delivery charges paid by you.

If you cannot compute your maximum prices under these instructions, then your maximum price of a simplified garment shall be the same as the maximum price established by the most closely competitive seller of the same class, (a) for the same simplified garment, or (b) if no such maximum price has been established for that garment, then for the similar simplified garment most nearly like it.

(For full details of pricing, consult Maximum Price Regulation No. 332 or the nearest state or district office of the Office of Price Administration.)

WARNING: The OPA has ruled that inasmuch as a garment made with curtailments of material and trimmings, and restrictions on packing, cannot be considered the "same" as or "similar" to a garment made without such curtailments and restrictions, all maximum prices for simplified garments must reflect the appropriate reduction in costs.

§ 1389.506 Relation to other regulations, and other special situations—(a) General Maximum Price Regulation. Any sale or delivery of a simplified garment covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 332 is not subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation.[1] However, the following sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation, as well as the amendments to them, shall continue to be applicable to any person selling any simplified garment covered by this regulation:

(1) Determination of maximum prices by sellers at retail operating more than one retail establishment (§ 1499.4a).

(2) Transfers of business or stock in trade (§ 1499.5).

(3) Federal and state taxes (§ 1499.7).

(4) Base-period records (§ 1499.11).

(5) Current records (§ 1499.12).

(6) Maximum prices of cost-of-living commodities; statement, marking, or posting (§ 1499.13), except that paragraph (b) of § 1499.13 shall not apply.

(7) Sales slips and receipts (§ 1499.14).

(8) The registration and licensing provisions of §§ 1499.15 and 1499.16 of the General Maximum Price Regulation are applicable to every person subject to this regulation selling at wholesale or retail.

(b) War procurement agencies—Maximum Price Regulation 157. This regulation does not apply to sales of simplified shirts made in accordance with military specifications, when the sales are made to war procurement agencies as defined in Maximum Price Regulation 157.[2] It does not apply to sales made by war procurement agencies of simplified shirts, whether or not the shirts are made in accordance with military specifications.

(c) Maximum Price Regulation No. 210[3] does not apply to simplified men's and boys' shirts and pajamas.

(d) Export sales. This regulation does not apply to export sales of simplified garments, and the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[4] applies to such sales.

(e) Contractors' services. This regulation does not apply to the supply of contractors' services as defined in Maximum Price Regulation No. 172.[5]

(f) Geographical applicability. This regulation applies to sales in the District of Columbia and the 48 states.

§ 1389.507 Transactions which are prohibited by this regulation. On and after March 1, 1943, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall

(a) Sell or deliver any simplified garment at a price higher than the maximum price established by this regulation; or

(b) Require a purchaser to buy or agree to buy any other article, service, wrapper or package in connection with a sale or delivery of any simplified garment for which a maximum price is established by this regulation; or

(c) Buy or receive any simplified garment in the course of trade or business at a price higher than the maximum price established by this regulation; or

(d) Do any other act which directly or indirectly increases the consideration paid for any simplified garment above the maximum price established by this regulation; or

(e) Offer, attempt, or agree to do any of the acts prohibited by this regulation.

§ 1389.508 Less than maximum prices may be charged. Lower prices than the maximum prices established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1389.509 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods. Any practice which is a device to secure the benefit of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the maximum price is as much a violation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, discounts, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and the like.

§ 1389.510 Disclosure of maximum prices. Every person selling or offering for sale any simplified garment for which a maximum price has been established by this regulation shall, within 10 days after receipt of a written request from any person to whom the seller has sold such garment, disclose in writing to such person the seller's maximum price for the garment.

§ 1389.511 How this regulation may be amended. Any person seeking a modification of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for an amendment of general applicability in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1389.512 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

§ 1389.513 Definitions—(a) Definitions incorporated by reference. Unless the context otherwise requires, or unless otherwise specifically provided herein, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 and in § 1499.20 of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to the terms used herein.

(b) Other definitions. When used in this regulation, the following terms shall have the meanings set forth below:

(1) "Manufacturer" means a person who sells a garment which he has fabricated or which has been fabricated for him by an agent or by a "contractor" as that term is defined in Maximum Price Regulation No. 172.

(2) "Wholesaler" means a person who buys a garment and resells it otherwise than at retail without substantially changing the form of the garment.

(3) "Retailer" means a person who sells a garment, in a form substantially unchanged from the form in which he bought it, to an ultimate consumer other than an industrial or commercial user.

(4) "Simplified garment." A simplified garment is one which was manufactured with curtailments of materials and trimmings and restrictions on packing in accordance with General Limitation Order L–169 of the War Production Board.

(5) "Unsimplified garment." An unsimplified garment is one which was manufactured without the curtailments of materials and trimmings, and the restrictions on packing specified in General Limitation Order L–169 of the War Production Board.

This regulation shall become effective March 1, 1943.

Issued this 23d day of February 1943.

PART 1304—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 5C,[1] Amendment 24]

MILEAGE RATIONING: GASOLINE REGULATIONS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

The words "the back of" where they appear in § 1394.8003 are deleted; the text of § 1394.8217 is designated paragraph (b) of § 1394.8217; § 1394.7504, the text of paragraph (d) of § 1394.8004, the text of paragraph (c) of § 1394.8153, §1394.8165, §1394.8173 and paragraph (c) of § 1394.8201 are amended; a new paragraph (h) to § 1394.8215, a new paragraph (a) to § 1394.8217, and a new paragraph (x) to § 1394.8352 are added; as set forth below:

Scope of Ration Order No. 5C

§ 1394.7504 Effect on other ration orders. No allotment of gasoline issued pursuant to Ration Order No. 5C for use with a motor vehicle shall be construed to authorize such use where it would be in violation of Ration Order No. 1A or Ration Order No. 2A or any other automobile rationing regulation or to remove or avoid any disqualification of such vehicle under such ration orders or regulations.

General Provisions With Respect to Issuance of Rations and Tire Inspection Records

§ 1394.8004 Notation on ration books, applications, coupons and tire inspection records. • • •

(d) Each person to whom a ration book has heretofore been or is hereafter issued shall clearly write in ink or stamp in ink on the reverse side of each coupon issued to him (except that in the case of Class B coupons, the writing or stamping may be either on the front or reverse side), before accepting a transfer of gasoline in exchange for such coupons, the following information.

General Provisions With Respect to Transfer and Use

§ 1394.8153 Transfer to consumers in exchange for coupons. • • •

(c) Bulk coupons. Bulk transfers may be made in exchange for bulk coupons as follows:

• • • • •

Prohibited Acts

§ 1394.8165 Display of stickers. No person may use a Class A, B, C, T–1, or T–2 coupon book, or bulk coupon, other than one representing a special ration, issued for a registered or commercial motor vehicle, unless a sticker identifying the class of ration issued for use with such vehicle, in such form as may be prescribed by the Office of Price Administration, is affixed to and conspicuously displayed on such vehicle. Such sticker shall be displayed on such vehicle at all times, but the display of such sticker shall be in accordance with the laws of the State in which such vehicle is operated. A person to whom any ration in addition to a Class A ration has been issued shall display only the sticker identifying such additional ration.

§ 1394.8173 Use in violation of other ration orders. No person shall use gasoline for the operation of any motor vehicle in violation of Ration Order No. 2A or any other automobile rationing regulations or which results in the use of tires in violation of Ration Order No. 1A.

Replenishment and Audit

§ 1394.8201 Registration of inventory and capacity. • • •

(c) Each place of business at which functions corresponding to those of a dealer or intermediate distributor are performed, or at which gasoline is received from a licensed distributor on consignment for purposes of sale, which, under the terms of § 1394.7551 (a) (17), is deemed to be a part of the facilities of a licensed distributor, shall be registered (on Form OPA R–545) by such licensed distributor or consignee on December 1 and 2, 1942, with the Board having jurisdiction over the area in which such place of business is located: Provided, That neither the inventory of gasoline on hand nor the gasoline storage capacity shall be registered, but only the name of the licensed distributor or consignee operating such place of business, a statement that the place of business is operated by a licensed distributor or by a consignee,

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Amendment 117 to Supp. Reg. 14[1] to GMPR[2]]

TRANSPORTATION OF FLUID MILK BY MOTOR TRUCK

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new subparagraph (73) is added to § 1499.73 (a) as set forth below:

§ 1499.73 Modification of maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of General Maximum Price Regulation for certain commodities, services, and transactions. (a) The maximum prices established by § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for the commodities, services, and transactions listed below are modified as hereinafter provided:

* * * * *

(73) Transportation of fluid milk by motor truck. (i) Maximum prices arrived at in accordance with the provisions of § 1499.2 of the General Maximum Price Regulation for the transportation by truck of fluid milk consigned from the producers thereof to processing plants located in Fremont, Ohio, and Mayfield, Kentucky, may be altered as follows:

(a) Milk consigned from the producer thereof to processing plants in Mayfield, Kentucky, may be increased 5¢ per hundred pounds.

(b) Milk consigned from the producer thereof to processing plants in Fremont, Ohio; instead of being at the present rate of 25 cents per hundred pounds may be charged at the following rates:

Under $1.30 per cwt., 22½¢ per cwt.
$1.30–1.75 per cwt., 25¢ per cwt.
$1.75–2.25 per cwt., 27½¢ per cwt.
$2.25–2.75 per cwt., 30¢ per cwt.
Above $2.75 per cwt., 32½¢ per cwt.

Correction

The second sentence of the notice in paragraph (d) of the document appearing on page 2122 of the issue for Wednesday, February 17, 1943, should read, "Manufacturers' discounts may not be less than 10% trade discount plus 2% cash discount for payment within 10 days."

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 291 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

FAINER FROZEN FOODS

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1727 Authorization of maximum prices for sales of Fainer Brand Frozen Foods by Fainer Frozen Foods, Pasadena, California, by authorized wholesale distributors and by retailers. (a) On and after February 24, 1943, the maximum prices net f. o. b. Los Angeles, California, for sales by Fainer Frozen Foods, having its principal place of business at 915 South Arroyo Parkway, Pasadena, California, of "Fainer Frozen Foods" shall be:

$1.20 per dozen of 1 pound packages.
$2.28 per dozen of 2 pound packages.

for Fainer Brand Baked Beans, Chili Beans, Spaghetti with Soup Stock and Tomato Sauce; and

$1.92 per dozen of 1 pound packages.
$3.72 per dozen of 2 pound packages.

for Fainer Brand Chili and Beans and Spaghetti with Meat Sauce.

(b) Authorized wholesale distributors shall determine their maximum delivered selling prices of "Fainer Frozen Foods" by adding to their net cost of this item a mark-up over net cost of 33 percent of their net cost. Where a maximum price per dozen determined by the provisions of this paragraph is a fractional cent price and the fraction of a cent is less than one-half cent, the price per dozen shall be lowered to the next lower cent. If the fraction is one-half cent or larger, the distributor is permitted to increase his maximum price per dozen to the next higher cent.

Net cost for an authorized wholesale distributor as mentioned in this paragraph shall be his cost of Fainer Frozen Foods delivered in a customary quantity of this type of item by the customary mode of transportation to his customary receiving point, less all discounts allowed him, except discount for prompt payment. No charge or cost for unloading or local trucking shall be included in net cost.

(c) Sellers at retail shall determine their maximum selling prices of "Fainer Frozen Foods" by adding to their net cost of this item a mark-up over net cost of 36 percent of their net cost. Where a maximum price per package determined by the provisions of this paragraph is a fractional cent price and the fraction of a cent is less than one-half cent, the price per package shall be lowered to the next lower cent. If the fraction is one-half cent or larger, the retailer is permitted to increase his maximum price per package to the next higher cent.

Net cost for a retailer as mentioned in this paragraph shall be his cost for "Fainer Frozen Foods" delivered to his customary receiving point in a customary quantity of this type of item by a customary mode of transportation and from a customary source of supply, less all discounts allowed him, except the discount for prompt payment. No charge or cost for unloading or local trucking shall be included in net cost.

(d) No seller, except a seller at retail, shall change his customary discounts, cold storage allowances or other allowances applying to sales of other quick-frozen food items in making sales of "Fainer Frozen Foods" unless such a change in these customary discounts, cold storage allowances and other allowances results in lower selling prices.

(e) On and after February 24, 1943, Fainer Frozen Foods shall supply a written notification to each authorized wholesale distributor before or at the time of the first delivery of "Fainer Frozen Foods" to a distributor, and for a period of three months thereafter shall include with each shipping unit of "Fainer Frozen Foods" a written notification to retailers. If such a retailer notification is enclosed in a shipping unit, a legend shall be affixed outside of such unit to read "Retailer's Notice Enclosed." The written notifications, for each type of purchaser, shall include the following appropriate statements:

Notification From Fainer Frozen Foods to Authorized Wholesale Distributors

OPA has authorized us to charge wholesalers the following net selling prices, f. o. b. Los Angeles, California, for "Fainer Frozen Foods:"

$1.20 per dozen 1 pound packages.
$2.28 per dozen 2 pound packages.

for baked Beans, Chili Beans, Spaghetti with Soup Stock and Tomato Sauce and Hominy, and

$1.92 per dozen 1 pound packages.
$3.72 per dozen 2 pound packages.

for Chili and Beans and Spaghetti with Meat Sauce, subject to all customary discounts, cold storage allowances and other allowances. Wholesalers are authorized to establish a ceiling price by adding to the net cost of these items 33 per cent of such net cost. Net cost is cost at the customary receiving point less all discounts, other than for prompt payment, and excluding charges for local hauling. Retailers shall establish ceiling prices by adding to their net cost 36 percent of their net cost. Each individual ceiling price determined by any seller shall be figured to the nearest cent (raise one-half cent fractions to the next even cent). A copy of notification to retailers is included in every shipping unit of these items. If the initial sale of these items to any retailer is a split case sale, wholesalers are required to provide such retailer with a copy of the retail notification so enclosed. OPA requires that you keep this notice for examination.

Notification From Fainer Frozen Foods to Retailers

OPA authorizes retailers to establish ceiling prices for "Fainer Frozen Foods" in 1 pound and 2 pound packages by adding to the net cost of these items 36 percent of their net cost. Net cost is the invoice cost at the customary receiving point less all discounts, other than for prompt payment, and excluding charges for local hauling. Such ceiling prices shall be figured to the nearest cent (raise one-half cent fractions to the next even cent). OPA requires that you keep this notice for examination.

(f) This Order No. 291 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) This Order No. 291 (§ 1499.1727) shall become effective February 24, 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 292 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

GROCERY PRODUCTS MANUFACTURING CORP.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1734 Authorization of maximum prices for sales of diced dehydrated mushrooms in bulk by Grocery Products Manufacturing Corporation, Mushroom Division, West Chester, Pennsylvania. (a) On and after February 24, 1943 the maximum price for sales by the Grocery Products Manufacturing Corporation, Mushroom Division, West Chester, Pennsylvania, of diced dehydrated mushrooms shall be $4.45 per pound delivered anywhere in the United States.

The maximum price authorized herein is a gross price and includes the cost of shipping containers. The Grocery Products Manufacturing Corporation, Mushroom Division, shall not make any additional charge for such shipping containers for any sale or delivery, and if any bulk sales of diced dehydrated mushrooms without being packaged in containers are made the per pound maximum price of such dehydrated mushrooms shall be reduced in such proportion as the cost of the shipping container bears to the total cost of the product per pound.

(b) The Applicant, Grocery Products Manufacturing Corporation, Mushroom Division, shall not change its customary allowances, discounts or price differentials unless such change results in a lower price.

(c) This Order No. 298 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(d) Unless the context otherwise requires the definitions set forth in § 1499.20 of the General Maximum Price Regulation and section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to terms used herein.

(e) This Order No. 298 (§ 1499.1734) shall become effective on the 24th day of February 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong., E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

In every case the capacity in which the person signs, whether as owner, managing owner, agent, etc., shall be clearly stated below his signature. In addition to the information therein required, the application shall state the name of any former owner.

(b) When application for an official number is filed with the collector at the port designated as home port of the vessel, the original only of customs Form 1320 shall be forwarded to the Bureau. When application for an official number is filed with the collector at any port other than the home port of the vessel, the original and one copy of the application shall be forwarded to the Bureau. Upon the award of an official number to the vessel, the Bureau will forward to the collector transmitting the application a notice of such award on customs Form 1321 in duplicate. The original shall be delivered to the applicant and the duplicate retained in the collector's files. When the application for official number is filed with the collector at any port other than the home port of the vessel, and an official number is awarded to the vessel, a copy of the notice of award will also be forwarded by the Bureau to the collector at the home port together with a copy of the application.

(c) All seagoing vessels of 100 tons or over, in addition to an official number, may have signal letters awarded. Signal letters may also be awarded to seagoing vessels of less than 100 tons where special application is made therefor through the collector.

Chapter IV—War Shipping Administration

[General Order 12, Supp. 14]

PART 306—GENERAL AGENTS AND AGENTS

COMPENSATION PAYABLE TO GENERAL AGENTS, ETC.

Compensation payable to general agents, agents, berth sub-agents, and domestic and foreign sub-agents—dry cargo vessels.

1. Section 306.2 Effective period is amended to read:

§ 306.2 Effective period. (a) The compensation payable to general agents, agents, domestic sub-agents and foreign sub-agents for services performed in connection with the business of dry cargo vessels under Service Agreements (GAA and TCA) shall be calculated in accordance with the provisions of General Order 12, Part I, and applicable supplements thereto (§§ 306.1 to 306.12 inclusive), as follows:

(1) Vessels delivered on or after February 25, 1942:

The date of delivery of the vessel;

(2) Vessels delivered prior to February 25, 1942:

(i) As to vessels owned by or bareboat chartered to the Administration:

The commencement of the first voyage on or after April 22, 1942;

(ii) As to vessels time chartered to the Administration:

The commencement of the first voyage on or after February 25, 1942.

(b) The compensation payable to berth sub-agents for services performed in connection with the business of dry cargo vessels shall be calculated, as follows:

(1) In the absence of any agreed compensation, on any voyage that commenced on or after December 1, 1941 and prior to the attachment of the vessel under General Order 12, Part I, and applicable supplements thereto:

The compensation prescribed in Press Release 1085, i. e., one-third of one cent per bale cubic foot capacity per month;

(2) On any voyage that commenced subsequent to the attachment of the vessel under General Order 12, Part I, and applicable supplements thereto, and prior to midnight June 30, 1942:

The compensation prescribed in § 306.7 of General Order 12, Part I, and applicable supplements thereto (subject to adjustment in conformity with the suggestion contained in the Administrator's form letter dated November 23, 1942);

(3) On any voyage that commenced after midnight June 30, 1942:

The compensation prescribed in § 306.5 (a) in Supplement 7 to General Order 12, Part I; and

(4) In instances where only a relatively small part of the total bale capacity of a vessel was utilized by a berth sub-agent prior to the attachment of vessels under General Order 12 (such as vessels operated in the service of the military authorities on the West Coast):

The compensation of the berth sub-agent and domestic and foreign sub-agents shall be as determined by the Assistant Deputy Administrator for Fiscal Affairs.

2. Section 305.5 (a) Berth sub-agent defined, (General Order 12, Supp. 7, 7 F.R. 7561) is amended by striking out the comma and inserting in lieu thereof a a period after the words "June 30, 1942" in the fifth line of the second paragraph thereof, and by deleting the remainder of the sentence reading "and, as to any voyage then in progress, when the vessel is next free of cargo on board at that time."

3. Section 306.7 Compensation of agents in continental United States ports, (7 F.R. 6587, 8565, 8714, 10724; 8 F.R. 185, 279) is amended by adding the following paragraph:

(g) For compensation as Agent in connection with passengers transported on dry cargo vessels, the Agent will be compensated as follows:

$3.00 for each passenger carried outward.
$2.00 for each passenger carried homeward.

The term "passenger" for which compensation will be payable under this paragraph is as defined in § 306.23 of Supplement 3 to General Order 12.

This compensation is payable from the effective dates set forth in § 306.2, as amended.

4. Section 306.8, Compensation of agents at ports outside of continental United States, (7 F.R. 6587, 8565, 8714; 8 F.R. 185) is amended by adding the following paragraph:

(g) For compensation as Sub-Agent at ports outside the continental limits of the United States, including Alaska, for passengers handled on dry cargo vessels, the Agent may pay his foreign Sub-Agent, with respect to such passengers, at the prevailing commercial rate, but not in excess of the following:

$2.00 for each passenger embarked.
$1.00 for each passenger disembarked.

The term "passenger" for which compensation will be payable under this paragraph is as defined in § 306.23 of Supplement 3 to General Order 12.

This compensation is payable from the effective dates set forth in § 306.2, as amended.

5. Section 306.10 Adjustment of earnings to cover deficiencies, is amended by adding the following paragraph:

The effective date of the provisions of this § 306.10 shall be July 1, 1942, and adjustment for the first period shall be for the six months ending December 31, 1942, and thereafter on an annual basis.

6. Section 306.11 Adjustment for excessive compensation, is amended by adding the following paragraph:

The effective date of the provisions of this § 306.11 shall be July 1, 1942, and adjustment for the first period shall be for the six months ending December 31, 1942, and thereafter on an annual basis.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

[Amendment 1 to Service Order 92]

PART 95—CAR SERVICE

DESIGNATION OF AGENT AT CERTAIN PORTS

At a Session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 19th day of February, A. D. 1943.

Good cause appearing therefor; It is ordered, That:

Section 95.31 of this part is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 95.31 (a) Designation of agent at New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, and Maryland ports; outline of duties. W. R. Godber, Joint Manager of the Anthracite Tidewater Emergency Committee, 143 Liberty Street, New York, N. Y., is hereby designated and appointed as Agent of the Commission and vested with authority to control the movement of railroad cars used in the transportation of coal for transshipment by vessels at New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, and Maryland ports and storage yards named in Trunk Line Tariff Bureau Tariff 139-C I.C.C. A-751, or in Trunk Line Tariff Bureau Tariff No. 138-B I.C.C. No. A-750, or supplements thereto. As Agent, he is hereby authorized to represent the Commission in the regulation of the shipment of coal to piers in such manner as to prevent the accumulation of cars of coal at such piers and storage yards by any transshipper in excess of the ability of such transshipper to provide vessel capacity for the prompt dumping of the coal. As Agent, he is authorized and directed to determine and advise the Commission in the establishment of the maximum number of cars which any transshipper may have on hand at any pier or storage yard or in transit from points of origin to said piers and storage yards. In arriving at said maximum number of cars said Agent shall give consideration to past performance in dumping, as well as any other circumstances which will affect the ability of the transshipper to unload from cars to vessels. As Agent, he is also authorized and directed to promote voluntary consolidation, for transshipment, of various grades and consignment designations of coal and to promote the reduction of the number of grades and consignment designations of coal to a minimum. As Agent, he is also authorized and directed to take the necessary action to bring about embargoes of transshippers, piers, or ports, to properly control the movement of cars used in the transportation of coal.

(b) Diversion and rerouting of coal. As Agent, he is authorized and vested with authority to divert and reroute cars loaded with coal moving to or through the ports named in paragraph (a) of this section, for transshipment by vessel or for delivery at the port, from the line or piers of any railroad which, in his opinion, can not currently accept and move such traffic, over the line or piers of any other railroad or railroads less congested and in a better position to handle the traffic. Such diversion and rerouting shall be made at any intermediate point en route, and, when necessary, at point of origin. Such diversion and rerouting shall be made regardless of the routing shown on the bill of lading designated by either shipper or carrier.

(c) Rates to be applied. Inasmuch as the diversion and rerouting of traffic pursuant to this order is deemed to be due to carriers' disability, rates applicable to traffic so forwarded shall be those which would have applied to the shipments if such shipments had moved as originally routed.

(d) Division of rates. In executing the orders and directions of the Commission provided for in this order the common carriers involved shall proceed without reference to contracts, agreements, or arrangements now existing between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic; such divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; and upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act.

It is further ordered, That this amendment shall become effective immediately and shall remain in force until further order of the Commission; and that copies of this amendment be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and that notice of this amendment be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register, The National Archives.

By the Commission, Division 3.

[SEAL] W. P. BARTEL,
Secretary.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

Bituminous Coal Division.

[Docket No. B-349]

BLUE GEM COAL CO.

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

In the matter of A. C. Owens, H. D. McDonald and Lester Owens, individually and as co-partners doing business under the name and style of Blue Gem Coal Company, a partnership, Code Member.

An amended complaint dated February 17, 1943, pursuant to the provisions of sections 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act"), having been duly filed on February 17, 1943, by Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 8, complainant, with the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division"), alleging wilful violation by A. C. Owens, H. D. McDonald and Lester Owens, individually and as co-partners, doing business under the name and style of Blue Gem Coal Company, (the "Code Member"), of the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code"), and rules and regulations thereunder:

It is ordered, That a hearing in respect to the subject matter of such amended complaint be held on March 22, 1943, at 10 a. m. at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division at Room 214, Post Office Building, Knoxville, Tennessee.

It is further ordered, That Charles O. Fowler or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, to take evidence, and to continue said hearing from time to time, and to such places as he may direct by announcement at said hearing or any adjourned hearing or by subsequent notice, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to said Code Member and to all other parties herein and to all persons and entities having an interest in this proceeding. Any person or entity eligible under § 301.123 of the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure Before the Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to sections 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Act, may file a petition for intervention not later than five (5) days before the date herein set for hearing on said amended complaint.

Notice is hereby given that answer to the amended complaint must be filed with the Division at its Washington Office or with any one of the statistical bureaus of the Division, within twenty (20) days after date of service thereof on the Code Member; and that failure to file an answer within such period, unless otherwise ordered, shall be deemed to be an admission of the allegations of the amended complaint herein and a consent to the entry of an appropriate order on the basis of the facts alleged.

Notice is also hereby given that if it shall be determined that the Code Member has wilfully committed any one or more of the violations alleged in the amended complaint, an order may be entered either revoking the membership of the Code Member in the Code and the Code Member's right to an exemption from the taxes imposed by section 3250 (b) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, or directing the Code Member to cease and desist from violating the Code and regulations made thereunder.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above entitled matter and orders entered therein may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the amended complaint herein, other matters incidental and related thereto, whether raised by amendment of such amended complaint, petition for intervention, or otherwise, and all persons are cautioned to be guided accordingly.

Notice is also hereby given that any application, pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division for the disposition of this proceeding without formal hearing, must be filed not later than fifteen (15) days after receipt by the Code Member of the amended complaint herein.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the amended complaint filed by said complainant alleging that A. C. Owens, H. D. McDonald and Lester Owens, individually and as co-partners doing business under the name and style of Blue Gem Coal Company, a code member of Twinton, Tennessee, whose code membership became effective as of September 3, 1940, and who operates the Blue Gem Mine, Mine Index No. 2481, located in Overton County, Tennessee, District No. 8, has willfully violated the Act, the Code, and the effective minimum prices established thereunder by selling during the period October 12, 1940, to September 25, 1941, both dates inclusive coal produced at the above-named mine to various purchasers, at prices below the effective minimum prices as established in the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 8 for Truck Shipment, as follows:

Size	Tonnage	Sales price f. o. b. mine	Effective minimum price f. o. b. mine
6" lump	53.55	$2.24 to $2.43	$2.50
2" x 6" egg	210.90	$1.50 to $2.09	2.10
2" x 3" nut	1,826.50	$0.50 to $1.50	1.85
1" x 2" pea	340.50	$0.29 to $1.35	1.85
Run of mine	36.50	$1.17 to $1.20	1.85
2" nut and slack	190.00	$0.35 to $0.76	1.35

Each sale and delivery of coal as set forth above resulted in a violation of section 4 Part II (e) of the Act and Part II (e) of the Code.

Dated: February 22, 1943.

B. Section 4 II (e) of the Act, Part II (e) of the Code and Rule 1 of Section X of the Marketing Rules and Regulations. Granting unauthorized claims for allowances from the effective minimum prices, in amounts ranging from 25 cents to 40 cents per net ton, for alleged substandard preparation or quality, and also failing to comply with the requirements of Rule 1 of Section X of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, on coal sold to said Asael Farr Coal Company and Consolidated Coal Company, as follows:

1. To the Asael Farr Coal Company during the period October 16 to December 31, 1941, clusive, approximately 311.91 net tons of 3" lump coal; approximately 294.90 net tons of 3½" x 8" coal; approximately 261.92 net tons of 1⅝" x 3½" coal; and approximately 47.60 net tons of 3½" lump coal; and

2. To the Consolidated Coal Company during the period October 27, 1941 to December 31, 1941, inclusive, approximately 250.55 net tons of 8" lump coal; 228.75 net tons of 3½" x 8" coal; approximately 42.90 net tons of 1⅝" x 3½" coal; and approximately 43.90 net tons of 3½" x 10" coal.

C. Order of the Division No. 313, dated February 24, 1941. Failing to show on copies of invoices filed with the Division the actual size of coal sold by it, including all of the coal referred to in Item A hereinabove, sold for rail shipment to various purchasers, during the period March 31, 1941 to January 15, 1942, inclusive, as required by Order of the Division No. 313 dated February 24, 1941.

D. Section 4 II (e) of the Act and Part II (e) of the Code. Sales of coal produced at the aforesaid mine for truck shipment below the applicable minimum prices therefor as set forth in the Schedule including the following transactions:

1. Sales to the Eureka Powder Company during the period January 14 to 27, 1942, of approximately 34.85 tons of 3" lump coal at approximately $3.09 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, whereas the effective minimum price applicable for such coal was $3.65 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, as set forth in the Schedule;

2. The sale on or about January 14, 1942, to J. D. Richardson, of approximately 7.15 net tons of 1⅝" lump coal at approximately $2.89 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, whereas the effective minimum price applicable for such coal was $3.45 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, as set forth in the Schedule; and

3. The sales to Byron Fergeson on or about January 16, 1942, of approximately 11.67 net tons of 1" slack coal (oiled) at approximately $1.98 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, and approximately 13.03 net tons of 3" lump coal, on March 3, 1942, at approximately $3.09 per net ton, whereas the effective minimum prices applicable for such coals were $2.00 and $3.65 respectively, per net ton f. o. b. the mine, as set forth in the Schedule.

E. Order of the Division No. 312 dated February 24, 1941. Failing to show on copies of invoices filed with the Division the net actual weight and price per ton of the coal referred to in Item D hereinabove, as required by Order of the Division No. 312 dated February 24, 1941.

III. By said communication dated February 11, 1943, the Division notified said Board that unless it took action on the matters referred to therein within ten days from the date thereof the Division would take such action in lieu of the board as it deemed to be appropriate.

IV. District Board No. 20 has not taken any action on said matters.

V. Section 6 (a) of the Act provides in part that in the event a district board shall fail for any reason to take action authorized or required by this section then the Division may take such action in lieu of the district board.

VI. District Board No. 20 having failed to take action as authorized or required by the Act on the matters hereinbefore described, the Division finds it necessary in the proper administration of the Act to take action thereon in lieu of the Board, as in this Notice of and Order for Hearing provided, pursuant to section 6 (a) and other pertinent provisions of the Act for the purpose of determining:

A. Whether the Code Member wilfully violated sections 4 II (e) and (i) 8 of the Act; Part II (e) and (i) 8 of the Code; Rule 1 of section X, Rule 2 of section XII, and Rule 8 of section XIII, of the Marketing Rules and Regulations; and Orders of the Division No. 312 and 313, each dated February 24, 1941; and

B. Whether, in the event the Code Member is found to have violated the Act and the Code and rules and regulations thereunder, an order should be entered revoking the Code Membership of the Code Member, or directing the Code Member to cease and desist from violating the Act, the Code and rules and regulations thereunder.

It is hereby ordered, That a hearing pursuant to sections 4 II (j), 5 (b) and 6 (a), and other pertinent provisions of the Act, be held on March 29, 1943, 10 a. m. at a hearing room of the Division at the Courtroom, Salt Lake Court, Salt Lake City, Utah, to determine whether the aforementioned Code Member has committed the violations in the respects heretofore described and whether the Code Membership of said Code Member should be revoked or an order entered directing the Code Member to cease and desist from violating the Act, the Code and rules and regulations of the Division thereunder.

It is further ordered, That D. C. McCurtain, or any other officer of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time and to such places as he may direct by announcement at said hearing or any adjourned hearing, or by subsequent notice, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to said Code Member and to all other parties herein and to all persons or entities having an interest in such proceeding. Any person or entity eligible under § 301.123 of the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure Before the Division in Proceedings Instituted pursuant to sections 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Act may file a petition for intervention not later than five (5) days before the date set for hearing herein.

Notice is hereby given that answer setting forth the position of the Code Member with reference to the matters hereinbefore described must be filed with the Division at its Washington Office or with one of the Statistical Bureaus of the Division within twenty (20) days after the date of service of a copy hereof on the Code Member; and that any failure to file an answer within such period, unless otherwise ordered, shall be deemed to be an admission by the Code Member of the commission of the violations hereinbefore described and a consent to the entry of an appropriate order thereon.

Notice is also hereby given that any application, pursuant to § 301.132 of said Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division for the disposition of this proceeding without formal hearing must be filed not later than fifteen (15) days after receipt by said Code Member of this Notice of and Order for Hearing.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and orders entered therein may concern, in addition to the charges specifically alleged herein, other matters incidental and related thereto, whether raised by amendment, petition for intervention, or otherwise, and all persons are cautioned to be guided accordingly.

Dated: February 22, 1943.

[Docket No. B-369]

R. A. NIXON

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

A complaint dated June 2, 1942, pursuant to the provisions of section 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act"), having been duly filed on June 4, 1942, by Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 11, complainant, with the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division"), alleging wilful violation by R. A. Nixon, a code member in District No. 11 (the "Code Member"), of the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code"), or rules and regulations thereunder:

It is ordered, That a hearing in respect to the subject matter of such complaint be held on March 23, 1943, at 10:00 a. m. at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division at the Commissioner's Room, Vanderburgh County Courthouse, Evansville, Indiana.

It is further ordered, That Joseph A. Huston, or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, to take evidence, and to continue said hearing from time to time, and to such places as he may direct by announcement at said hearing or any adjourned hearing or by subsequent notice, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to said Code Member and to all other parties herein and to all persons and entities having an interest in this proceeding. Any person or entity eligible under § 301.123 of the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure Before the Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to sections 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Act, may file a petition for intervention not later than five (5) days before the date herein set for hearing on the complaint.

Notice is hereby given that answer to the complaint must be filed with the Division at its Washington Office or with any one of the statistical bureaus of the Division, within twenty (20) days after date of service thereof on the Code Member; and that failure to file an answer within such period, unless otherwise ordered, shall be deemed to be an admission of the allegations of the complaint herein and a consent to the entry of an appropriate order on the basis of the facts alleged.

Notice is also hereby given that if it shall be determined that the Code Member has wilfully committed any one or more of the violations alleged in the complaint, an order may be entered either revoking the membership of the Code Member in the Code and the Code Member's right to an exemption from the taxes imposed by section 3520 (b) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, or directing the Code Member to cease and desist from violating the Code and regulations made thereunder.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above entitled matter and orders entered therein may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the complaint herein, other matters incidental and related thereto, whether raised by amendment of the complaint, petition for intervention, or otherwise, and all persons are cautioned to be guided accordingly.

Notice is also hereby given that any application, pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division for the disposition of this proceeding without formal hearing, must be filed not later than fifteen (15) days after receipt by the Code Member of the complaint herein.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the complaint filed by said complainant alleging that R. A. Nixon, located in Spurgeon, Indiana, whose code membership became effective as of March 4, 1940, operator of the Nixon Mine, Mine Index No. 887, located in Pike County, Indiana, District No. 11 has wilfully violated:

1. Section 4 II (e) of the Act and Part II (e) of the Code by selling to various purchasers, subsequent to October 1, 1940, approximately 3032 net tons of 1¼" lump coal (Size Group No. 6) produced at the aforesaid mine at $1.80 per net ton f. o. b. the mine, whereas the effective minimum price for said coal is $2.20 per net ton f. o. b. the mine.

2. Section 4 II (i) 8 of the Act and Part II (i) 8 of the Code, Orders of the Division Nos. 296 and 297, and Rule 2 of section XII and Rule 8 of section XIII of the Marketing Rules and Regulations by failing to set forth on his truck sales tickets during the period from October 1, 1940 to December 31, 1940, both dates inclusive, the actual size of coal sold during said period as required by said Orders of the Division Nos. 296 and 297. Said code member recorded the size of the coal sold on said truck sales tickets as run of mine coal, whereas it was in fact 1¼" lump coal.

3. Section 4 II (i) 8 of the Act and Part II (i) 8 of, the Code, Order of the Division No. 307 and Rule 2 of section XII and Rule 8 of section XIII of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, by failing to set forth on his truck sales tickets during the period from January 1, 1941 to February 25, 1941, both dates inclusive, the actual size of coal sold during said period as required by said Order of the Division No. 307. Said code member recorded the size of the coal sold on said truck tickets as run of mine coal, whereas it was in fact 1¼" lump coal.

4. Order of the Division No. 307, by failing during the period from February 26, 1941 to March 31, 1941 to maintain records of coal sold by truck or wagon during said period as required by the said Order of the Division No. 307.

5. Section 4 II (1) 8 of the Act and Part II (1) 8 of the Code, Order of the Division No. 312 and Rule 2 of section XII and Rule 8 of section XIII of the Marketing Rules and Regulations, by failing to maintain proper records during the period from July 21, 1941 to October 18, 1941, both dates inclusive, as required by said Order of the Division No. 312. Said code member recorded the size of the coal sold on said truck tickets as run of mine coal, whereas it was in fact 1¼" lump coal.

Dated: February 22, 1943.

[Docket No. A-1737]

DISTRICT BOARDS 7 AND 8

ORDER POSTPONING HEARING AND EXTENDING TIME FOR FILING STATEMENTS OR PETITIONS OF INTERVENTION

In the matter of the petition of District Boards Nos. 7 and 8 for an increase in minimum prices, pursuant to section 4 II (a) and (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

The Bituminous Coal Producer Board for District No. 3, an interested party in the above-entitled matter, filed an application on February 12, 1943, requesting that the time within which interested persons or parties may file their statements or petitions of intervention, setting forth their positions with regard to the specific requests and proposals of the original petitioners herein, and their own specific requests and proposals be extended to March 20, 1943, and that the hearing in said matter, heretofore scheduled for February 24, 1943, be postponed until March 24, 1943. All participants were given adequate opportunity to express their views concerning the application and many (including District Boards 1, 2, 4, 7, 8, 9, 11 and 12 and Consumers' Counsel) urged or stated they had no objection to the granting of the application for postponement of the hearing. Good cause has been shown why the application should be granted in part.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the time within which interested persons or parties in this docket may file statements or petitions of intervention pursuant to the Memorandum Opinion and Order Denying Temporary Relief and Notice of and Order for Hearing, entered January 9, 1943, be, and the same hereby is, extended to March 3, 1943.

It is further ordered, That the hearing in the above-entitled matter be postponed from February 24, 1943 to March 24, 1943, at the time and place heretofore designated.

Dated: February 19, 1943.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION.

[Docket No 4915]

THE DENTISTS' SUPPLY COMPANY OF NEW YORK

NOTICE OF HEARING

Complaint. Pursuant to the provisions of an Act of Congress approved October 15, 1914, entitled "An Act to Supplement Existing Laws Against Unlawful Restraints and Monopolies, and for Other Purposes" (the Clayton Act), as amended by an Act of Congress approved June 19, 1936 (U.S.C. Title XV, section 13) (The Robinson-Patman Act), and pursuant to the provisions of an Act of Congress approved September 26, 1914, entitled "An Act to Create a Federal Trade Commission to Define Its Powers and Duties and for Other Purposes" (The Federal Trade Commission Act), the Federal Trade Commission having reason to believe that the respondent named in the caption hereof has violated and is now violating the provisions of subsection (a) of section 2 of said Clayton Act as amended; and the Federal Trade Commission having reason to believe that said respondent has been and is using unfair methods of competition in commerce as "commerce" is defined in said Federal Trade Commission Act, and it appearing to said Commission that a proceeding by it in respect thereof would be in the public interest, hereby issues its complaint against the said respondent, stating its charges as follows:

Count 1

PARAGRAPH ONE: Respondent Dentists' Supply Company of New York is a corporation organized and existing by virtue of the laws of the State of New York with an office and principal place of business located at 220 West 42nd Street, New York City, and with factories located at York, Pennsylvania, and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

PAR. TWO: Respondent corporation is now, and has been since prior to June 19, 1936, engaged in the business of manufacturing artificial teeth which it sells to wholesale dealers known as dental supply houses, to dental laboratories and to dentists, located in States other than the State of Pennsylvania, causing said artificial teeth, when sold, to be transported from the place of manufacture within said State of Pennsylvania to the purchasers thereof located in states other than the State of Pennsylvania, and there is, and has been at all times herein mentioned, a continuous current of trade and commerce in said product across state lines between respondent's factories and the purchasers of such product. Said product is sold and distributed for use, consumption and resale within the various states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

PAR. THREE: In the course and conduct of its business as aforesaid respondent is now, and during the time herein mentioned has been, in substantial competition with other corporations engaged in the business of manufacturing and selling artificial teeth in commerce between and among the various states of the United States and the District of Columbia. Said corporate respondent is the largest manufacturer and distributor of artificial teeth in the United States, its sales constituting approximately 70% of the total United States production, and as such occupies a dominant position in the artificial teeth industry. The annual net sales of respondent in the United States of artificial teeth total approximately $3,000,000. Respondent's product is sold to over 200 authorized dealers known as dental supply houses which are wholesalers and which resell to the ultimate purchasers, dental laboratories and dentists located in the various states of the United States and in the District of Columbia. Dentists by trade custom seldom make their own false denture requirements but customarily order such work performed by dental laboratories which laboratories constitute the dominant factor in the use and consumption of artificial teeth. While respondent's dealers sell other dental supplies than teeth, approximately 20% of their sales are artificial teeth purchased from respondent.

Respondent is now, and has been since prior to June 19, 1936, selling its said dealers on the following uniform discount plan: Respondent grants its dealers a 40% discount, plus 9% for payment within 30 days, from the unit retail price of the artificial teeth as shown on respondent's price list; and in addition, where a dealer sells to a dental laboratory or dentist in $300 quantities, respondent grants the dealer making such purchase an additional 7½% discount. Dealers' resale prices, as suggested by respondent, are now and have been during said period on the basis of 10% discount from list prices on $100 purchases and 20% discount from list prices on purchases amounting to $300 or more.

PAR. FOUR: In the course and conduct of its business as aforesaid since June 19, 1936, respondent has been, and is now, discriminating in price between different purchasers buying such products of like grade and quality sold by the respondent for use, consumption and resale, by giving and allowing some of its purchasers of such products lower prices than given or allowed other purchasers competitively engaged in said line of commerce and by giving and allowing certain of said purchasers adjustments, rebates or discounts in the form of cash or commodities not given or allowed to other of respondent's purchaser customers. That the respondent has effectuated the discriminations in price referred to herein by superimposing upon the regular schedule of discounts allowed by respondent to its dealers and by its dealers to the ultimate purchasers a variety of additional rebates and discounts given in the form of free or bonus artificial teeth and more particularly hereinafter described in paragraphs 5, 6, 7 and 8 of this complaint.

PAR. FIVE: Respondent employs some twenty district sales representatives who visit dental laboratories and dentists for the purpose of promoting the sale of teeth by said prospective purchasers from respondent's dealers. Such sales representatives take orders for teeth, and solicit the execution of bonus contract agreements hereinafter described. Any orders for teeth obtained by respondent's sales representatives aforesaid are transmitted to respondent's New York Office where they are either filled directly by respondent or referred to a dealer to fill out of such dealer's current stock or are filled by shipping the order to such dealer for subsequent delivery to the purchaser. Respondent's book entries, however, invariably show the sale as having been made to the dealer and respondent looks to such dealer for payment of the order and credits the dealer's account accordingly.

As a special inducement to dental laboratories to purchase from respondent's dealer selling agencies in amounts in excess of $1000 per annum, since prior to June 19, 1936, respondent through its sales representatives aforesaid has been and is now soliciting and obtaining the execution of bonus contract agreements from numerous dental laboratories located in the various states of the United States and in the District of Columbia. If a laboratory agrees to purchase $1,000, $2500, $5000, or $10,000 worth of teeth annually from respondent's dealers or any of them, then respondent in turn agrees to give such purchaser 10% or $100 worth of free bonus teeth computed at unit retail prices on a $1000 to $2499 annual volume purchase, 15% or $375 worth of free bonus teeth similarly computed on a $2500 to $4999 annual volume purchase, 20% or $1000 worth of free bonus teeth similarly computed on a $5000 to $9999 annual volume purchase, and 25% or $2500 worth of free bonus teeth similarly computed on a $10,000 or greater annual volume purchase. That said bonus contracts contain among other provisions the following clauses, to-wit:

(1) The Consumer covenants and agrees to purchase from the Company's regular selling agencies named herein teeth of the Company's manufacture, namely: "Trubyte," "Solila," "Twentieth Century," "Dentsply," "Famous" and "Trubridge" teeth (Steele's facings excepted) and/or "Trubase" and "Truwax" and/or White's teeth to the total purchase price and amount of ---------- Dollars during the term of this agreement.

• • • • •

(5) Upon the faithful carrying out by the Consumer of the aforesaid covenants, the Company hereby covenants and agrees to give direct to the Consumer a Bonus on all such teeth and on "Trubase" or "Truwax" of its manufacture and on White's teeth purchased and paid for by the consumer during the term of this agreement by supplying free of charge to the Consumer porcelain teeth of the Company's manufacture (Steele's facings excepted), as specified by the Consumer of the value of $---------- Dollars. The value of the teeth so delivered as said Bonus to be computed at the Unit Prices of such teeth published in the price list of the Company, current December 31, 194-, or at the date of the termination of this agreement in case of its earlier termination.

(6) It is mutually covenanted and agreed that as evidence of the purchase of such teeth or wax by the Consumer, the Consumer shall present to the Company on or before January 20, 194-, receipted bills or other evidence, satisfactory to the Company, showing the quantities purchased, from whom purchased and amounts paid for same by the Consumer during the term of this agreement; and the amount of such purchases upon which the Bonus shall be computed shall be the amount actually paid by the Consumer for said teeth and wax; and within thirty days after the presentations of such evidence by the Consumer, the Company agrees to give the Consumer the quantity of teeth so due as said bonus.

That the amount of dollar purchases of teeth which the dental laboratory entering into such a contract agrees to purchase is either $1000, $2500, $5000 or $10,000 annually as heretofore alleged, one of which amounts being inserted in the space provided in clause (1) of such contract above set forth. That the dollar amount of bonus or free teeth agreed to be supplied by respondent to such dental laboratory purchaser in consideration for the agreed annual dollar volume purchase is a sum certain computed in the manner alleged, said dollar amount of bonus or free teeth being inserted in the space provided in clause (5) of such contract above set forth. If the amount which a dental laboratory agrees to purchase is not reached but one of the lower brackets is obtained within the period covered by the contract, then such dental laboratory is paid in accordance with the bracket it does reach whereas if a higher bracket is reached than agreed upon under the bonus contract, then such dental laboratory is paid at the rate provided for such higher bracket. The bonus provided by such bonus contract agreement is cumulative. For example, a dental laboratory purchasing $9500 in teeth is given 20% of $9500 or $1900 in free teeth. If, however, it purchases an additional $500 it will reach the $10,000 bracket and be paid a bonus at the rate of 25% of its entire purchases or $2500. That approximately 1400 of such bonus contracts have been executed by respondent and respondent's purchaser customers annually since June 19, 1936, and that minimum annual volume purchases provided for under such contracts were completed and bonus or free teeth given in the amount provided as to approximately 65% of the total number of bonus contracts executed. That respondent through its sales representatives not only personally solicits such dental laboratories for both regular teeth orders and for bonus contract agreements but also makes effective its special price policies and schedules as applied to them which price policies and schedules are reduced to writing and formally executed by both respondent and by such dental laboratories in the form of such bonus contracts aforesaid. That such dental laboratories are purchasers from and customers of respondent within the intent and meaning of the provisions of subsection (a) of section 2 of the Act described in the preamble hereof. That such bonus system results in a lower unit price being paid for teeth by respondent's purchaser customers who are able to take advantage of such bonus system by purchasing in the required volume and enables such purchaser customers in whose favor such discrimination is made either to undersell their competitors or furnish better facilities and services to their dentists customers, or both.

PAR. SIX: That, for the purpose of granting and allowing the bonus or free teeth discounts under its bonus system described in paragraph Five hereof, respondent has permitted the main office of some chain dental laboratory buyers to pool the orders of the unit laboratories thereof and has granted and allowed to such chain dental laboratory buyers the bonus applicable to the volume of teeth purchases during the bonus contract period represented by the pooled orders. For example, if the pooled order has totaled over $10,000 in teeth ordered from respondent during the bonus contract period, each unit laboratory through its main office has received a 25% free teeth bonus on all its purchases even though the individual unit laboratory may not have ordered a sufficient quantity to qualify for any or for more than a 10% bonus under respondent's bonus system. That the respondent granting and allowing such pooling privilege in connection with the granting and allowing of bonus teeth under its bonus system aforesaid did not make shipment of the teeth purchased from all the unit laboratories during the bonus contract period to the main office or warehouse of such dental laboratory chains. That in fact the teeth purchased by such dental laboratory chains were and are now purchased in small amounts from time to time by each unit laboratory from many of respondent's dealers. That the chain dental laboratories receiving such pooling privilege in the calculation of bonuses under respondent's bonus system aforesaid were and are now in competition with other dental laboratories competing with such dental laboratory chains in the sale of respondent's teeth but which by virtue of not being a unit laboratory of a chain do not receive any bonus or as large a bonus from respondent.

PAR. SEVEN: Respondent since prior to June 19, 1936, has and now does operate a dental depot in New York City, where it keeps a complete stock of artificial teeth manufactured in its factories in the State of Pennsylvania and shipped to said dental depot located in New York City, State of New York. That in connection with the operation of such dental depot it sells directly to dental laboratories in competition with its dealers located in New York City. That in connection with such direct sales made to its purchaser customers it solicits and procures the execution of bonus contract agreements identical in form to said bonus contract agreements described in Paragraph Five of this complaint. That such bonus system employed in connection with sales made from respondent's New York City depot to purchaser customers located in the New York City area results in a lower unit price being paid for teeth by respondent's purchaser customers who are able to take advantage of such bonus system by purchasing in the required volume and enables such purchaser customers in whose favor such discrimination is made either to undersell their competitors or furnish better facilities and services to their dentist customers, or both.

PAR. EIGHT: The prices at which respondent sells its teeth products to its dealers are uniform and are as set forth in Paragraph Three of this complaint with the following exception: In fulfilling its agreement to furnish a specified amount of bonus or free teeth to its bonus contract holders, respondent since June 19, 1936, has and now does issue to such purchaser customers holding and completing bonus contracts certificates entitling the holder thereof to bonus or free teeth in the dollar amount specified therein upon presentation of such certificates to respondent or to any of respondent's dealers. Prior to January 1, 1939, respondent allowed its dealers a secondary bonus or discount of 8% of the dollar value of bonus certificates and in proportion to the dollar amounts of respondent's teeth purchased by the bonus certificate holders from such dealers. To illustrate: Abel Dental Laboratory of Houston, Texas, having a $1000 bonus contract, purchased during the period specified therein $56.48 worth of teeth from A. P. Cary Co. and $979.17 worth of teeth from Pendleton & Arto, two of respondent's dealers located in Houston, Texas; respondent issued to said dental laboratory purchaser two bonus certificates, one in the amount of $97.91 and another in the amount of $5.65. Both of such certificates were redeemed by said Pendleton & Arto and its account was credited for the amount of the teeth given in such redemption at dealers' list prices; however, Pendleton & Arto, which handled the redemption of both certificates, was allowed by respondent 8% of $97.91 as $979.17 of the merchandise had been purchased from such dealer and A. P. Cary Co. was allowed by respondent 8% of $5.65 as $56.48 of the merchandise had been purchased from such dealer. Since the dealer redeeming the bonus certificates is credited with the full amount of teeth given in redemption of such certificates at dealers' prices, no profit is made by the dealer on the transaction as is the case in ordinary dealers' sales. It is only in the event that the dealer has originally sold some of the merchandise to the bonus certificate holder upon which the bonus certificate is issued that the dealer redeeming the certificate obtains any part of the above described secondary bonus or discount. From January 1, 1939, and thereafter respondent increased such secondary bonus or discount paid to its dealers upon bonus certificates in the manner aforesaid from 8% to 12½%. The dealer's account is credited by respondent in the amount of such secondary bonus or discount allowed, thereby reducing the cost to the dealer of the teeth purchased by such dealer at regular dealers' prices. That the practice aforesaid of respondent's secondary bonus system to dealers results in a lower unit price being paid for teeth by some of respondent's dealers than is paid by other of respondent's dealers. Moreover, said secondary bonus or discount paid by respondent to its dealers and predicated upon the bonus certificates issued to dental laboratories under respondent's bonus system described in Paragraph Five hereof, implements and makes effective such bonus system to dental laboratories, thereby contributing to the discriminations and competitive injuries resulting from said bonus system of respondent described in said Paragraph Five hereof.

PAR. NINE: The effect of the discriminations in price set forth in paragraphs Five to Eight, inclusive, hereof, may be substantially to lessen competition between respondent and its competitors; between the customers of respondent in whose favor such discriminations are made and the customers of the competitors of the respondent; tend to create a monopoly in respondent in the line of commerce in which it is engaged; to injure, destroy or prevent competition with respondent; to injure, destroy or prevent competition with the customers of respondent who receive the benefit of such discriminations; to injure, destroy or prevent competition with customers of persons, partnerships and corporations that have knowingly received and are now knowingly receiving the benefit of such discriminations.

Such discriminations in price by the respondent between different purchasers of goods of like grade and quality in interstate commerce in the manner and form aforesaid, are in violation of the provisions of subsection (a) of section 2 of the Clayton Act described in the preamble hereof.

Count II

PARS. ONE TO EIGHT, INCLUSIVE: As Paragraphs One to Eight, inclusive, of Count II of this complaint, the Commission hereby incorporates Paragraphs One to Eight, inclusive, of Count I hereof to precisely the same extent as if each and all of them were set forth in full and repeated verbatim in this count.

PAR. NINE: The capacity, tendency and effect of the respondent's system of bonus contract agreements extended to dental laboratories in the manner fully described in Paragraphs Five, Six and Seven hereof and of the respondent's system of secondary bonuses or discounts extended to its dealers in the manner fully described in Paragraph Eight hereof, are and have been:

1. To bring about an unlawful discrimination in the prices at which respondent's artificial teeth are sold to respondent's purchaser customers.

2. To discriminate unlawfully against small dental laboratories who are or have been engaged or desire to engage in the use, consumption and resale of respondent's artificial teeth.

3. To unreasonably lessen, eliminate, restrain, stifle, hamper, suppress and injure competition in the sale of artificial teeth by encouraging concentrated buying of respondent's teeth in order to obtain the bonuses under respondent's bonus system and thereby depriving dealers of competing manufacturers of the business which they would enjoy under conditions of normal and unobstructed or free and fair competition in the sale of artificial teeth.

4. To encourage the purchase of excess requirements of respondent's artificial teeth beyond the needs of purchaser customers, thereby restricting, restraining and impeding the normal flow of commerce in such products.

5. To monopolize or to tend to monopolize in respondent interstate trade and commerce in artificial teeth.

6. To hamper and interfere with the natural flow of trade in commerce of artificial teeth to and through the various states of the United States; and to injure the manufacturer competitors of respondent by unfairly diverting business and trade from them and by depriving them of the business which they would enjoy were it not for the unfair tendency and effect of respondent's bonus system.

7. To prejudice and injure manufacturers who do not conform to respondent's bonus system or sales methods or who do not desire to conform to them but are compelled to adopt similar systems or sales methods by the action of respondent in that particular.

PAR. TEN: The acts and practices in this count set forth are all to the prejudice of the public; they have a dangerous tendency, to hinder, lessen, restrict and suppress competition in the interstate sale of artificial teeth throughout the several states, and to create a monopoly thereof in the hands of the respondent and constitute unfair methods of competition in commerce within the meaning of section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act described in the preamble hereof.

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 18th day of February, 1943, hereby issues its complaint against said respondent.

Notice. Notice is hereby given you, The Dentists' Supply Company of New York, a corporation, respondent herein, that the 26th day of March, A. D. 1943, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said Act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance at the place and on the date above stated be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The Rules of Practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule IX) provide as follows:

> In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.
> . . . . . .
>
> Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.
> If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true.
> Contemporaneously with the filing of such answer the respondent may given notice in writing that he desires to be heard on the question as to whether the admitted facts constitute the violation of law charged in the complaint. Pursuant to such notice, the respondent may file a brief, directed solely to that question, in accordance with Rule XXIII.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 18th day of February A. D. 1943.

By the Commission.

[Amendment of Vesting Order 13]

VESTING OF CERTAIN PATENTS

Whereas pursuant to Vesting Order No. 13 of May 29, 1942, (7 F.R. 4128) the undersigned purported to vest several patents described in the Exhibits attached to the said order;

Whereas included among the patents listed in Exhibit D attached to the aforesaid order was Patent Number 2,261,008 (inventor R. Van Sickle, et al., for circuit interrupter) which patent was described therein as standing of record in United States Patent Office in the name of Lorenz, C. Aktiengesellschaft;

Whereas such patent in fact stands of record in the United States Patent Office in the name of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, a corporation of the United States; and

Whereas it was intended to vest Patent Number 3,264,008 (which patent was subsequently vested by Vesting Order Number 201 of October 2, 1942) but such patent was, through clerical error, designated in Vesting Order Number 13 as Patent Number 2,261,008;

No, therefore, Vesting Order Number 13 of May 29, 1942, is hereby amended as follows and not otherwise:

By striking the number "2,261,008" appearing in Exhibit D attached thereto and made a part thereof.

All other provisions of said Vesting Order Number 13 and all action taken on behalf of the undersigned in reliance thereon, pursuant thereto and under the authority thereof are hereby ratified and confirmed.

Executed at Washington, D. C. on February 18, 1943.

[Vesting Order 600]

HEINRICH WILHELM OSCAR DUVINAGE, ET AL.

Re: Real property in Queens County, New York, interests in which are owned by German citizens.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that the persons, whose names and last known addresses as represented to the undersigned are set forth in Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof, are citizens of Germany and are nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. Finding, therefore, that all right, title, interest and estate, both legal and equitable, of said persons, and each of them, as their interests appear opposite their respective names in said Exhibit A, in and to that certain real property situated at 9581 113th Street, South Ozone Park, Queens County, New York, together with all fixtures, improvements and appurtenances thereto, more particularly described in Exhibit B attached hereto and made a part hereof, is property within the United States owned or controlled by nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

3. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

4. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 2 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

5. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C. on December 30, 1942.

INDENTURE OF TRUST BY SINGER MANUFACTURING CO.

In re: Indenture of Trust made by Singer Manufacturing Company dated January 29, 1926—File No. D-38-299; E. T. sec. 128.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the Alien Property Custodian after investigation,

Finding that—

(1) The property and interests hereinafter described are property which is in the process of administration by the Treasurer of the City of New York as depositary, acting under the judicial supervision of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, in and for the County of Kings;

(2) Such property and interests are payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, a national of a designated enemy country, Italy, namely,

	Last known address
National:
Marie Burns Alberti d'Enno	Italy.

And determining that—

(3) If such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of a designated enemy country, Italy; and

Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and deeming it necessary in the national interest,

Now, therefore, the Alien Property Custodian hereby vests the following property and interests:

All right, title, interest, and claim of any kind or character whatsoever of Marie Burns Alberti d'Enno in and to the fund deposited with the Treasurer of the City of New York pursuant to an order of the City of New York issued in connection with a petition by the Fulton Trust Company of New York requesting the Court to direct the settlement and distribution of the proceeds of a trust executed on January 29, 1926, by The Singer Manufacturing Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey, and Fulton Trust Company of New York, a corporation organized under the Banking Law of the State of New York.

to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

Such properly and interests and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in a special account pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property and interests or the Proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Dated: February 17, 1943.

No. 1 cans	Extra Standard 2, 3 and 4 sieve blended sweet peas.	.93
8 ounce	Fancy No. 1 sieve Alaska peas.	.91
8 ounce	Fancy No. 2 sieve Alaska peas.	.87
No. 1 cans	Standard 5 sieve sweet peas.	.77
8 ounce	Extra standard No. 2 sieve Alaska peas.	.70
8 ounce	Fancy No. 3 sieve cut green beans.	.68
8 ounce	Fancy No. 3 sieve cut wax beans	.68
No. 2 cans	Fancy 2, 3, and 4 sieve blended cut green beans.	1.15
No. 2 cans	Fancy 2, 3 and 4 sieve blended cut wax beans.	1.15
No. 10 cans	Fancy 2, 3 and 4 sieve blended cut green beans.	5.46
No. 10 cans	Fancy 2, 3, and 4 sieve blended cut wax beans.	5.46

(b) This Order No. 29 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(c) The applicant, Lake Side Packing Company, shall not change its customary allowances, discounts or price differentials unless such change results in a lower price.

(d) Unless the context otherwise requires the definitions set forth in § 1341.30 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 152 and section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall be applicable to the terms used herein.

(e) This order shall become effective on 24th day of February 1943.

Issued this 23d day of February 1943.

FLORIDA FURNITURE INDUSTRIES, INC.

ORDER GRANTING ADJUSTMENT

Order No. 171 under § 1499.161 (a) (1) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188—Manufacturers' Maximum Prices for Specified Building Materials and Consumers' Goods Other Than Apparel—Docket No. GF3-2821.

Granting an adjustment of maximum prices for sales of a bedroom suite by Florida Furniture Industries, Inc.

For the reasons set forth in the opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and by virtue of the authority vested in the Administrator under the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, It is ordered:

(a) Florida Furniture Industries, Inc., Palataka, Florida, may sell and deliver its No. 71 bedroom suite at prices no higher than those set forth below:

Item:	Maximum price
No. 71 Bed	$7.45
No. 71 Chest	7.46
No. 71 Vanity	11.29

These prices shall be subject to Florida Furniture Industries, Inc.'s, discounts, allowances, and price differentials in effect for these articles during March, 1942.

(b) Florida Furniture Industries, Inc., shall send to each customer with each first delivery of an item in its No. 71 bedroom suite a notice reading as follows:

The Office of Price Administration has granted Florida Furniture Industries, Inc., permission to increase its maximum prices on the items of its #71 bedroom suite, but since the new maximum prices are below the prices charged by competitive manufacturers, you will not be permitted to increase your maximum prices.

(c) All prayers of this application not granted herein are denied.

(d) This Order No. 171 may be revoked or amended by the Administrator at any time.

(e) This Order No. 171 shall become effective February 24, 1943.

Issued this 23d day of February 1943.

The President

PROCLAMATION 2576

RED CROSS WAR FUND CAMPAIGN, 1943

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the American National Red Cross during the first year of our participation in the war has rendered vital humanitarian services to the members of our armed forces and to their families;

WHEREAS the demands made upon the Red Cross are steadily increasing from day to day as it is called upon to accompany our Army and Navy into world-wide theaters of action, to provide blood plasma for our wounded, to send relief to American and United Nations prisoners of war, and to expand its preparations to meet emergencies at home; and

WHEREAS the American National Red Cross is under the necessity of raising further funds in order that these essential services may be continued and expanded;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America and President of the American National Red Cross, do hereby designate the month beginning March 1, 1943, as "Red Cross Month", and I request that during that month our people rededicate themselves to the splendid aims and activities of the Red Cross. I summon the men, women, and young people of our country, in every city and town and village, in every county and State throughout the land, to enlist in the army of mercy mobilized under the banner of the Red Cross and to contribute generously to the Red Cross War Fund in order that the sum of one hundred twenty-five million dollars, every cent of which is needed, may be raised promptly.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this 23rd day of February, in [SEAL] the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-seventh.

FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT

By the President:

CORDELL HULL,
Secretary of State.

MANNER OF OBTAINING INSURANCE[1]

§ 412.1 Application for insurance. Application for insurance, on a form prescribed by the Corporation for such purpose, may be made by any person to cover his interest as landlord, owner, tenant, or sharecropper in cotton to be grown in the current year. If an applicant has an interest in both American Upland cotton and American Egyptian cotton, such applicant may insure either or both, using a separate application for American Upland cotton and for American Egyptian cotton, and if an application for American Upland cotton or American Egyptian cotton is submitted, only that cotton for which the application is submitted will be covered. An application shall cover the applicant's interest in the cotton crop on each insurance unit in the county in which the applicant has an interest at the beginning of the planting thereof. Applications shall be submitted to the office of the county committee on or before the applicable closing date established by the Corporation for the county or area in which the insurance unit is located. These regulations shall apply to each application submitted regardless of whether it is to cover American Egyptian or American Upland cotton and any provisions of these regulations shall be construed as applying to both types of cotton unless the context specifically indicates otherwise.

§ 412.2 Acceptance of applications by the Corporation. (a) Upon acceptance of an application by the county committee, as evidenced by the signature of a county committeeman for and on behalf of the county committee in the space provided on the application, the insurance contract shall be in effect: Provided, That such application is submitted in accordance with the provisions of the application and of these regulations and any amendments thereto. Applicant's copy of accepted application is intended for delivery to the applicant. Each change in the data originally shown on the application shall be deemed to have been assented to by the applicant if such change is shown on the applicant's copy of the accepted application and he has not filed with the county committee a written objection to such change within ten days after his copy has been forwarded to him.

(b) The Corporation reserves the right to reject any application for insurance or to limit the insurance on the applicant's interest to 50 percent of the average yield for each insurance unit covered by the application in any case where the county committee determines that the risk which would be incurred warrants either such action.

PREMIUM FOR INSURANCE CONTRACT

§ 412.3 Amount of premium. (a) The premium for each insurance unit under the contract shall be the number of pounds of lint cotton determined by multiplying the acreage of cotton planted on such insurance unit (as determined by the Corporation but not in excess of the maximum insurable acreage), by the premium rate per acre and by the insured's interest in the crop at the beginning of its planting. If more than one premium rate has been established for the insurance unit, a premium shall be computed separately using the applicable acreage for each rate, and the total of the amounts so computed shall be the premium for the insurance unit. The premium for the insurance contract shall be the total of the premiums for the insurance units covered by the contract. The premium with respect to each insurance unit shall be regarded as earned when the cotton crop on such unit is planted. The minimum premium payable by the insured with respect to any insurance contract shall be ten pounds of cotton.

(b) The applicant's annual premium may be reduced in any year not to exceed 50 percent, if it is determined by the Corporation from a comparison of the insured production with the accumulated balance of premiums paid over indemnities received (with appropriate adjustments for insurance on cottonseed) on consecutively insured crops, that the risks on cotton crops produced by the insured justify such reduction. Nothing in this provision shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium as a result of the total premiums he has paid exceeding the total indemnities he has received.

§ 412.4 Manner of payment of premium. (a) Each applicant for insurance shall sign a note in the form and manner prescribed by the Corporation. Such note shall represent a promise to pay the Corporation the total premium for all insurance units covered by the insurance contract and shall be payable on or before the maturity date specified in § 412.46 hereof. Such note shall not bear interest.

(b) Payment on any such note may be made in whole or in part before maturity, either in cotton or cash, or both. After maturity, payment may be made only in cash. In connection with any payment before maturity, there shall be credited on the note the number of whole pounds of lint cotton computed by dividing the payment made (the proceeds of the sale of cotton if cotton is paid) by the cash equivalent price per pound for the date of payment. The amount of any such note due at maturity shall be the cash equivalent thereof based on the cash equivalent price per pound applicable for such maturity date.

(c) Any unpaid amount on any such note (either before or after the date of maturity) may be deducted from any indemnity payable under the contract, from the proceeds of any commodity loan to the insured, and from any payment made to the insured under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, or any other act of Congress administered by the United States Department of Agriculture. Where any such deduction is made before the date of maturity, the cash equivalent of the deduction will be based on either the cash equivalent price used on computing the indemnity payment or the cash equivalent price in effect on the day the county committee approves such loan or other payment. Such price shall also be used in determining the number of pounds of lint cotton to be credited on the note.

(d) Payments in cash shall be made by means of cash or by check, money order, or bank draft payable to the order of the Treasurer of the United States. All checks and drafts will be accepted subject to collection, and payments tendered shall not be regarded as paid unless collection is made. When a payment is made in cotton, it shall be by means of an instrument acceptable to the Corporation representing salable cotton.

INSURANCE COVERAGE

§ 412.5 Insurance period. Insurance with respect to any insurance unit shall attach at the time the crop is planted and shall cease with respect to any portion of the crop upon weighing in at the gin, other disposal after harvest, transfer of interest in unharvested cotton after harvest is commenced, or January 31 of the year following the year in which the insured crop was planted, whichever occurs first, unless such date is extended in writing by the Corporation.

§ 412.6 Insured production. The insured production for each insurance unit under the contract shall be the number of pounds of cotton determined by multiplying the acreage of cotton planted (as determined by the Corporation but not in excess of the maximum insurable acreage as defined in § 412.38 (o) hereof) by the average yield per acre, by the insured percentage, and by the insured's interest in the crop at the beginning of its planting. If more than one average yield has been established for the insurance unit, the insured production shall be computed separately, using the applicable acreage for each yield, and the total of such computed amounts shall be the insured production for the insurance unit.

§ 412.7 Causes of loss or damage insured against. The insurance contract shall cover loss in yield of cotton due to drought, flood, hail, wind, frost, lightning, fire, tornado, storm, insect infestation, animal pests, plant diseases, excess or deficient moisture, incursions of animals, and such other unavoidable causes not specifically mentioned herein as may be determined by the Board of Directors of the Corporation, and loss caused by direct enemy attack or as a direct result of the actions of our own forces in resisting such attack. The contract shall not cover damage to quality, or loss in yield caused by the neglect or malfeasance of the insured or of any person in his household or employment or connected with the farm as tenant, sharecropper, or wage hand, nor shall it cover losses caused by theft, use of defective or unadapted seed, failure properly to prepare the land for planting, or properly to plant, care for, or harvest the insured crop, or by failure to replant the cotton in areas and under circumstances where the Corporation determines it is customary to replant, or, where insurance is written on an irrigated basis, failure properly to apply irrigation water to cotton in proportion to the amount of water available for all irrigated crops.

§ 412.8 Notice of transfer damage, removal, etc., of cotton crop. (a) Unless otherwise provided by the Corporation, notice in writing shall be given the Corporation at the office of the county committee (1) immediately after the cotton crop or any portion thereof is transferred to another person, or (2) if a loss is probable, immediately after any material damage to the insured crop and before the crop is harvested, removed, or any other use is made of it. Any such notice shall be given in time to allow the Corporation to make appropriate investigation.

(b) Any portion of the cotton crop that has been destroyed or substantially totally destroyed may be put to another use only with the consent of the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if such portion of the crop remained for harvest. No acreage planted to cotton shall be considered as put to another use as long as any cotton on such acreage is remaining for harvest. Proper measures shall be taken to protect the crop from further damage, and there shall be no abandonment of any crop or portion thereof to the Corporation.

§ 412.9 Time of loss. Loss, if any, shall be deemed to have occurred at the completion of weighing in of the insured crop at the gin, or disposal of the harvested crop, or January 31 of the year following the year in which the insured crop was planted (unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation), whichever occurs first, unless the Corporation determines that total or substantially total destruction of the cotton crop occurred earlier, in which event the loss shall be deemed to have occurred on the date so determined by the Corporation. The cotton crop shall be deemed to have been substantially totally destroyed if the Corporation finds that it has been so badly damaged that farmers generally in the area where the farm is located and on whose farms similar losses occurred would not further care for the crop or harvest any portion thereof.

§ 412.10 Proof of loss. If a loss is claimed, the insured shall submit to the Corporation at the office of the county committee, on a form prescribed by the Corporation, a statement in proof of loss containing such information as may be required regarding the insured crop. Such statement in proof of loss shall be submitted not later than 30 days after the time of loss, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation. It shall be a condition precedent to any liability under the insurance contract that the insured establish that any loss for which claim is made has been directly caused by one or more of the hazards insured against by the insurance contract during the term of the contract, and that the insured further establish that such loss has not arisen from or been caused by, either directly or indirectly, any of the hazards not insured against by the insurance contract.

§ 412.11 Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss for which indemnity will be payable with respect to any insurance unit will be the insured production under the contract for such insurance unit less the interest insured under the contract (at the time harvest is commenced) in the lint cotton harvested from the insurance unit, and not destroyed, and the appraised production of lint cotton not harvested: Provided, however, That such amount shall be subject to one or more of the following reductions, whenever applicable, multiplied by the insured's interest in the crop at the time harvest is commenced or, if the crop is not harvested, at the time of loss:

(1) With respect to American Upland cotton where any acreage of cotton planted is put to another use with the consent of the Corporation, the number of pounds of cotton equal to the appraised production which would have been obtained from such acreage if it had not been put to such other use;

(2) Where any acreage of cotton is not replanted to cotton in areas and under circumstances where the Corporation determines it is customary to replant cotton, the number of pounds of cotton by which the amount of cotton, determined as the production from such acreage, is less than the product of the acreage, the average yield, and the insured percentage;

(3) Where a reduction in production of cotton on any acreage results either in whole or in part from one or more causes not insured against, including (i) the use of such acreage for any purpose other than the production of cotton, without the consent of the Corporation, and (ii) failure properly to apply irrigation water to cotton in proportion to the water available for all irrigated crops in instances in which insurance is written on an irrigated basis, a number of pounds equal to the appraised reduction in production, except that with respect to any acreage on which there is a complete failure in yield due solely to a cause not insured against, such number of pounds shall not be less than the product of the acreage, the average yield, and the insured percentage;

(4) Where any acreage of cotton is planted on acreage of poorer average quality than the average quality of the land considered in establishing the average yield and premium rate and such planting was not the result of an established rotation, or where the Corporation's risk has been increased upon any acreage by (i) planting a variety of cotton different from the variety of cotton considered in establishing the average yield or premium rate, (ii) following a fertilizer or other practice, in connection with the production of cotton on the insurance unit, different from that taken into consideration in establishing the average yield and premium rate for the unit, or (iii) planting the cotton crop under conditions of immediate hazard without adjustment of the average yield or premium rate to reflect such hazard, a number of pounds equal to the product of such acreage, the insured percentage, and the number of pounds of cotton per acre representing the difference between the average yield established and the yield appraised on the basis of the quality of the land seeded, the variety of cotton planted, the practice followed, or the immediate hazard at the time of planting, as the case may be. This adjustment shall be made for any one or more of the reasons listed in this item, notwithstanding that damage or total destruction of the insured crop occurs by reason of any other cause;

(5) Where the insurance unit consists of only a portion of the acreage considered in establishing the average yield and premium rate and the average productivity or farming hazards for such unit differs materially from the average productivity or farming hazards for the average considered in establishing the average yield and premium rate and the loss is caused by such difference, a number of pounds of cotton representing the product of the difference between the average yield per acre established for the acreage of which such unit is a part and the average productivity per acre appraised for such unit, the acreage of cotton on such unit, and the insured percentage;

(6) Where the loss is caused by inability to obtain labor, fertilizer, machinery, repairs, or insect poisons, as a result of war conditions, and a reasonable effort has been made to obtain such labor, fertilizer, machinery, repairs, insect poisons, or other farming essentials as may be approved by the Corporation, a number of pounds of cotton of not less than the smaller of either (i) the equivalent of the savings in cost of producing the insured crop, including harvesting and ginning, computed by dividing the savings in cost by 120 percent of the applicable cash equivalent price per pound for American Upland cotton and by 115 percent for American Egyptian cotton, or (ii) the amount of loss attributable to such cause;

(7) Where any acreage of American Egyptian cotton planted is totally or substantially totally destroyed before July 2, the number of pounds of cotton equal to the appraised production from such acreage: Provided, however, That the appraised production for such acreage shall not be less than 82 percent of the lint cotton insurance per acre if the crop is totally or substantially totally destroyed on or before April 30. Such percentage limitation shall be decreased by one percent per day from May 1 to May 31, inclusive, and by one-half of one percent per day from June 1 to July 2, inclusive. The county committee shall determine the date of the total or substantially total destruction of the cotton crop or of the portion of the acreage of the cotton crop affected, as the case may be, which date shall be the date for determining the amount of the appraised production and the percentage limitation on the appraised production with respect to such crop or acreage; and

(8) With respect to American Egyptian cotton, for any acreage not totally or substantially totally destroyed before July 2, 35 percent of the number of pounds of cotton by which the lint cotton produced on the insurance unit is less than the product of the lint cotton insurance per acre and such acreage not totally or substantially totally destroyed before July 2, except that if the cotton that has been harvested is destroyed before weighing in at the gin, the adjustment made for such cotton shall be only for the number of pounds of lint cotton equivalent to the savings in costs. The production shall be appraised for any cotton not harvested on acreage not totally or substantially totally destroyed before July 2.

(b) Where the insured fails to establish and maintain records of acreage or production for the component parts of a combination of two or more insurance units or portions thereof, the insurance contract may be voided by the Corporation and the premium forfeited by the insured: Provided, however, That if all the component parts of the combination are insured the insured production for the combination shall be ascertained and any loss for such combination shall be determined as outlined in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) In order to cover loss of cottonseed on any insurance unit, there shall be added to the amount of loss determined under paragraph (a) of this section a number of pounds of lint cotton equal to 20 percent of such amount of loss of American Upland cotton or a number of pounds of lint cotton equal to 15 percent of such amount of loss of American Egyptian cotton.

PAYMENT OF INDEMNITY

§ 412.12 When indemnity payable. The amount of loss for which the Corporation may be liable with respect to any farm covered by the insurance contract shall be payable within 30 days after satisfactory proof of loss is approved by the Corporation. However, if payment of any indemnity is delayed for any reason beyond the time specified, the Corporation shall not be liable for interest or damages on account of such delay.

§ 412.13 Indemnity payment. (a) Any indemnity due under the insurance contract will be paid by the issuance of a certificate of indemnity on which will be shown the amount of loss. Settlement under such certificate will be made in cash or cotton in accordance with these regulations. Such certificate may also be used to obtain a loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation, if loans are available, in accordance with instructions issued by it.

(b) Any indemnity payable under an insurance contract shall be paid to, and settlement under the certificate of indemnity made with, the insured, his beneficiary, or such other person as may be entitled to the benefits of the insurance contract under the provisions of these regulations, notwithstanding any attachment, garnishment, receivership, trustee process, judgment, levy, equity, or bankruptcy directed against the insured or such other person, or against any indemnity alleged to be due to such person; nor shall the Corporation or any officer, employee, or representative thereof be a proper party to any suit or action with reference to such indemnity or the proceeds thereof nor be bound by any judgment, order, or decree rendered or entered therein. No officer, agent, or employee of the Corporation shall, because of any such process, order or decree, pay, or cause to be paid, to any person other than the insured, his beneficiary (designated by him in such form and manner as the Corporation may prescribe), or other person entitled to the benefits of the insurance contract, any indemnity payable, or any amount due in settlement of any certificate of indemnity in accordance with the provisions of the insurance contract. Nothing herein contained shall excuse any person entitled to the benefits of the insurance contract from full compliance with, or performance of, any lawful judgment, order, or decree with respect to the disposition of any sums paid thereunder as an indemnity.

§ 412.14 Adjustments in connection with indemnity payments. Where an adjustment is made in the amount of an indemnity, settlement for such adjustment may be made on the basis of a cash equivalent price per pound other than that used in making settlement under the certificate of indemnity originally issued.

§ 412.15 Other insurance. If the insured has or acquires any other "all-risk" insurance against substantially all the risks that are insured against by the Corporation under the insurance contract on the crop or portion thereof covered in whole or in part by such other "all-risk" insurance contract, whether valid or not, or whether collectible or not, the liability of the Corporation shall not be greater than its share would be if the amount of its obligations were divided equally between the Corporation and such other insurer. In any case where an indemnity is paid to the insured by another government agency because of damage to the cotton crop, the Corporation reserves the right to determine its liability under the cotton crop insurance contract taking into consideration the amount paid by such other agency.

§ 412.16 Subrogation. The Corporation may require from the insured an assignment of all rights of recovery against any person(s) for loss or damage to the extent that payment therefor is made by the Corporation, and the insured shall execute all papers required and shall do everything that may be necessary to secure such rights.

§ 412.17 Suit. No suit or action shall be brought to enforce any claim for loss under the insurance contract unless all the requirements of such contract have been complied with.

§ 412.18 Creditors. An interest existing by virtue of a debt, lien, mortgage, garnishment, levy, execution, bankruptcy, or any other process shall not be considered an interest in an insured crop within the meaning of these regulations.

PAYMENT OF INDEMNITY TO PERSONS OTHER THAN ORIGINAL INSURED

§412.19 Payment to transferee. Payment of indemnity will be made only to the person(s) having the insured interest in a cotton crop at the beginning of harvest or the time of loss, whichever occurs first. In the event there is a transfer of the insured interest in a cotton crop after planting and before the beginning of harvest, or the time of loss, whichever occurs first, the transferee shall be entitled to the benefits of the insurance contract as follows: (a) If the transfer is one of the entire insured interest in the crop or a percentage of such entire interest, the insurance unit shall not be changed, and the transferee shall be entitled to indemnity payable with respect to the transferred interest; (b) if the transfer is one of the insured interest or a portion thereof in a portion of the acreage constituting the insured crop, the acreage with respect to which such interest is transferred shall constitute a separate insurance unit for the purposes of determining the amount of loss: Provided, however, That an involuntary transfer of an insured interest in a cotton crop solely because of the existence of a debt, lien, mortgage, garnishment, levy, execution, bankruptcy, or other process shall not entitle any holder of any such interest to any benefits under the insurance contract: Provided, further, That if any transfer takes place after material damage to the insured crop or a portion thereof and the Corporation determines that the transfer was made for the purpose of requiring that the Corporation pay a greater indemnity than would have been paid if the transfer had not taken place, the Corporation shall not be liable for a greater amount of indemnity in connection with the insured crop than would have been paid if the transfer had not taken place. If, as a result of any such transfer, diverse interests appear, the indemnity, if any, payable with respect to such unit may be paid jointly to all persons having the insured interest in the crop at the time harvest is commenced or the time of loss, whichever occurs first, or to one of such persons on behalf of all such persons, and payment in any such manner shall constitute a complete discharge of the Corporation's liability under the insurance contract.

§ 412.20 Death, incompetence, or disappearance of insured. (a) If no beneficiary has been designated by the insured (or if designated, is ineligible or unavailable) and if the insured dies, is judicially declared incompetent, or disappears, before the time of loss or the time harvest is commenced, whichever occurs first, and his insured interest in a cotton crop is a part of his estate at such time, or if insured dies, is judicially declared incompetent, or disappears subsequent to such time, the indemnity, if any, shall be paid to the legal representative of his estate, if one is appointed or is duly qualified. If no such representative is or will be so qualified, the indemnity shall be paid to the persons beneficially entitled to share in the insured's interest in the crop or to any one or more of such persons on behalf of all such persons: Provided, however, That if the indemnity represents a number of pounds of cotton, the cash equivalent of which exceeds $500.00, the Corporation may withhold the payment of the indemnity until a legal representative of the insured's estate is duly qualified to receive such payment.

(b) If no beneficiary has been designated by the insured (or if designated, is ineligible or unavailable) and if the insured dies, is judicially declared incompetent, or disappears before the time harvest is commenced, or the time of loss, whichever occurs first, and his interest in the crop is not a part of his estate at such time, the indemnity, if any, shall be paid to the person(s) who succeeded to his interest in the crop in the manner provided for in § 412.19.

(c) If a beneficiary has been named by the insured and if the insured dies, is judicially declared incompetent, or disappears, payment of any indemnity to which the insured is entitled will be made to such beneficiary if eligible and available.

(d) If an applicant for insurance dies, is judicially declared incompetent, or disappears, before the cotton crop intended to be covered by the application is planted, whoever succeeds him on the farm with the right to plant the cotton crop as his heir or heirs, administrator, executor, guardian, committee, or conservator shall become a party in his stead to the contract for which he applied upon filing with the office of the county committee, within 15 days (unless such period is extended by the Corporation) after such death, judicial declaration, or disappearance, a statement in writing requesting and undertaking such substitution, provided that at the time of such filing there has not been and is not imminent a loss of the crop for which an indemnity would be payable if the insurance had already attached to the crop.

(c) The insured shall be deemed to have disappeared within the meaning of these regulations if he fails to file with the county committee written notice of his new mailing address within 180 calendar days after any communication by or on behalf of the Corporation is returned undeliverable at the address stated in the proof of loss or after such loss has been established otherwise, whichever is earlier.

§ 412.21 Collateral assignment of right under insurance contract. The right to an indemnity under an insurance contract may be assigned by the original insured as collateral security for a current loan, current advance to assist in the making of a cotton crop, the amount of the current year's rental due under a leasing agreement with respect to the insurance unit upon which the cotton crop is or will be planted, or the amount of the current annual installment due under a mortgage, purchase, or trust agreement covering the purchase of the insurance unit upon which the cotton crop is or will be planted and an additional amount of any delinquency which may be due under the mortgage, purchase, or trust agreement of not to exceed the amount of the current annual installment, including interest and taxes. Such assignment shall be made by the execution of a form prescribed by the Corporation and, upon approval thereof by the Corporation, the interests of the assignee will be recognized in the event an indemnity is payable under the insurance contract, to the extent of the amount determined to be the unpaid balance of the amount (including interest and other charges) for which such assignment was made as collateral security: Provided, however, That (a) the Corporation in payment of the indemnity may issue a check payable jointly to all persons entitled thereto and that such payment shall constitute a complete discharge of the Corporation's obligation with respect to any loss under the insurance contract; and (b) payment of any indemnity will be subject to all conditions and provisions of the insurance contract. The Corporation's approval of an assignment shall not create in the assignee any right other than that derived from the assignor. The Corporation shall in no case be bound to accept notice of any assignment of the insurance contract, and nothing contained in any assignment shall give any right against the Corporation to any person other than the insured except to an assignee approved by the Corporation. Only one such assignment will be recognized in connection with the insurance contract, but if an assignment is released a new assignment of the right to an indemnity under the insurance contract may be made.

§ 412.22 Fiduciaries. Any indemnity payable under an insurance contract entered into in the name of a fiduciary who is no longer acting in such capacity at the time for the payment of indemnity and settlement under the certificate of indemnity will be made to the succeeding fiduciary upon appropriate application and proof satisfactory to the Corporation of his incumbency. In the event there is no succeeding fiduciary, payment of the indemnity and settlement under the certificate of indemnity shall be made to the person beneficially entitled under these regulations to the insured interest in the crop to the extent of their respective interests upon proper application and proof of the facts: Provided, however, That the loss may be adjusted with any one or more of the persons so entitled, and payment may be made to such person or persons in behalf of all the persons so entitled, whether or not the person to whom payment is made has been authorized to receive such payment by the other persons so entitled.

§ 412.23 Indemnities subject to all provisions of insurance contract. Indemnities payable to any person shall be subject to all the provisions of the insurance contract, including the right of the Corporation to deduct from any such indemnity the unpaid amount of the note of the original insured for the payment of the earned premium: Provided, however, That, in case of a transfer of an interest in an insured crop, such deduction to be made from an indemnity payable to the transferee shall not exceed the premium due on the interest in the crop so transferred. Any indemnity payable to any person other than the original insured as a result of transfer, or otherwise, shall be subject to any collateral assignment of the insurance contract by the original insured.

§ 412.24 Determination of person to whom indemnity shall be paid. In any case where the insured has transferred his interest in all or a portion of the cotton crop on any farm, has died, has become incompetent, has disappeared, has ceased to act as a fiduciary, or has designated a beneficiary or, if designated, such beneficiary is deceased or is otherwise unavailable or ineligible, payment in accordance with the provisions of these regulations will be made only after the facts have been established to the satisfaction of the Corporation. The determination of the Corporation as to the existence or nonexistence of a circumstance in the event of which payment may be made and of the person(s) to whom such payment shall be made shall be final and conclusive. Payment of any indemnity under this section shall constitute a complete discharge of the Corporation's obligation with respect to the loss for which such indemnity is paid and shall be a bar to recovery by any other person.

DEPOSITS, REFUNDS OF DEPOSITS, AND EXCESS NOTE PAYMENTS

§ 412.25 Deposits to be applied toward payment of notes for future crop years. (a) Any payment made by or for an applicant in excess of an amount equal to the number of pounds of lint cotton required to pay the note shall be credited as a deposit to be applied toward payment of the premium in the next succeeding crop year. Such deposit shall be stated in terms of the cotton equivalent of the payment made. The cotton equivalent shall be determined by dividing the amount of such excess payment by the cash equivalent price per pound applicable for the date on which the excess payment was made. The Corporation reserves the right to reject any tender of deposit.

(b) The acceptance of any deposit shall not obligate the Corporation to insure the interest of the depositor under any insurance contract, and any such deposit will be subject to the provisons of the insurance contract for the year in which the deposit is used. The depositor shall have no title or interest in any lint cotton held by the Corporation, including that deposited by him, and the Corporation shall be liable to the depositor only for the cash equivalent price per pound for each pound of the quantity of cotton credited to the insured's account.

§ 412.26 Refunds of deposits. Except as otherwise may be provided by the Corporation, no claim for refund of a deposit shall be made prior to the final date fixed by the Corporation for receipt of applications for the next succeeding Cotton Crop Insurance Program in the county in which the insurance unit covered by the insurance contract is located, unless an earlier time for such filing is fixed by the Corporation: Provided, however, That the Corporation may refund any deposit at such earlier date as it may determine. The cash equivalent price per pound of any refund of deposit shall be determined by multiplying the number of pounds of cotton credited to the insured's account by the cash equivalent price per pound applicable for the date on which the deposit was tendered.

§ 412.27 Refunds of excess note payments. (a) Before maturity of note: The Corporation shall not be required to make a refund of any excess payment made on account of a note until the acreage planted to cotton on all insurance units covered by the insurance contract has been determined. However, an earlier date may be fixed by the Corporation.

The cash equivalent of any refund shall be determined on the basis of the number of pounds of lint cotton to be refunded and the cash equivalent price for the appropriate grade and staple of such lint cotton, effective for the date such payment was submitted to the Corporation. If more than one payment is made on the note for the crop insurance premium, the payments shall be applied in the order of submittal to the Corporation. In computing the amount of any refund the payments shall be considered in their inverse order and each such payment or portion thereof shall be regarded as a separate payment in determining the cash equivalent of the refund.

(b) After maturity of note: Payments received after the maturity of the note for the payment of the crop insurance premium shall be refunded in the actual amount of money paid to the Corporation in excess of that determined to be necessary to pay such note.

There shall be no refund of an amount less than $1.00, with respect to payments made either before or after the maturity of the note, unless written request for such refund is received by the Corporation within one year after the date of maturity of the note.

§ 412.28 Assignment or transfer of claims for refunds. No claim for a refund, or any part or share thereof, or any interest therein, shall be assignable or transferable, notwithstanding any assignment of the insurance contract as security or any transfer of interest in any cotton crop covered by the insurance contract. Refund of any deposit will be made only to the depositor and refund of any other payment will be made only to the person who made such payment except as provided in § 412.29.

§ 412.29 Refund in case of death, incompetence, or disappearance. In any case where a person, who is entitled to a refund of a payment or a deposit, has died, has been judicially declared incompetent, or has disappeared, the provisions of § 412.20 with reference to the payment of indemnities in any such case shall be applicable with respect to the making of any such refund.

ESTABLISHMENT OF AVERAGE YIELDS AND PREMIUM RATES

§ 412.30 Determination of farm average yields of lint cotton per acre. (a) The county committee shall determine the 1941 crop yield of lint cotton per acre from reliable records for each farm on which cotton was planted in 1941. For those cotton farms on which no cotton was planted in 1941, or for which no 1941 crop data are available, the county committee shall appraise the 1941 crop yield per planted acre, basing such appraisal on the actual 1941 crop yield per planted acre on a similar farm and other available information. For those farms for which the county committee determines that the actual crop data are not applicable, the county committee shall adjust the crop yield to a figure which represents the yield of similar farms in the county which were not subject to the conditions for which adjustment is being made. The county committee may determine that actual crop data are not applicable in those cases in which (1) the committee finds that the yield for 1941 was abnormally low due to a cause which did not result in losses generally throughout the county, and which is not more likely to recur on the farm than to occur on any other farm in the county, which condition shall be referred to as "spot loss;" or (2) the committee determines that the crop in 1941 was planted on a small or unrepresentative acreage.

(b) The average yield of lint cotton for the farm shall be determined by averaging the 1941 crop yield per planted acre with the average yield of lint cotton per acre previously established for the farm and approved by the Corporation for use in determining the average farm yield for the 1943 program, giving a weight of nine to the average yield so previously established for the farm and a weight of one to the 1941 crop yield per planted acre: Provided, however, That the average yield established before factoring shall not exceed the average yield so previously established for the farm by more than 10 percent.

(c) For each farm for which a regular allotment has not been established for 1943 for which a permitted acreage or "new-grower allotment" has been established, upon application by a person having an interest in the cotton grown on such farm the county committee shall appraise an average yield. Such appraisal shall be based on the average yield of a farm similar in acreage, farming practices, topography, and risk of loss.

(d) An acreage of the final yields established for all farms in the county or administrative area, weighted by the most recent cotton acreage allotments then established for such farms under the agricultural conservation program, shall not exceed the check yield established by the Corporation for such county or administrative area.

§ 412.31 Determination of premium rates for insurance. (a) For all farms in the county for which an average yield is established in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 412.30, the premium rate for 75-percent lint insurance shall be determined (1) by determining the loss cost portion of the premium rate for 75-percent lint insurance previously established for the farm and approved by the Corporation for use in determining the 1943 farm premium rate, (2) by adjusting such figure for the difference between the preliminary average yield of lint cotton per acre established for the farm for 1943 and the average lint yield per acre for the farm as approved by the Corporation for use in determining the 1943 average yield, (3) by averaging such adjusted figure with the 1941 crop loss per acre (that is, the amount by which the 1941 crop yield is less than 75 percent of the 1943 preliminary average lint yield per acre for the farm), giving a weight of nine to the figure arrived at under (2) above and a weight of one to the 1941 crop loss per acre (provided, however, that the amount of the 1941 crop loss per acre used in this computation shall not exceed 100 pounds), and (4) by averaging the figure thus obtained with the 1943 county check premium rate, giving equal weight to each. The Corporation may prescribe, however, different weights to be given to such figures where it determines that such procedure results in premium rates which more adequately reflect the risks on farms in the county. The same method of weighting shall be used for all farms in the county unless the Corporation determines that cotton farming conditions in the county warrant the use of different methods of weighting in separate areas within the county. The Corporation may provide other means of computation which will result in premium rates substantially the same as those arrived at under the above provisions.

(b) For each farm for which a regular allotment has not been established for 1943 but for which a permitted acreage or "new-grower allotment" has been established, upon application by a person having an interest in the cotton grown on such farm the county committee shall appraise a lint premium rate. Such appraisal shall be based on the established premium rate of a farm similar in acreage, farming practices, topography, and risk of loss.

(c) The average of the lint premium rates established for all farms in the county or administrative area weighted by the cotton acreage allotments established for such farms under the agricultural conservation program shall not be less than the check premium rate established by the Corporation for such county or administrative area.

(d) The minimum premium rate per acre for 75-percent lint insurance on American Upland cotton shall be four pounds of lint cotton plus two percent of the average yield established for the insurance unit, except that for insurance units with an average yield of less than 100 pounds per acre such minimum premium rate shall be six percent of the average yield established for the insurance unit. The minimum premium rate per acre for 75-percent lint insurance on American Egyptian cotton shall be 60 percent of the minimum rate thus computed.

(e) The premium rate for 50-percent lint insurance shall be determined by applying a percentage factor as determined by the Corporation to the premium rate for 75-percent lint insurance irrespective of the minimum premium rate for 75-percent insurance which has been established for the insurance unit. This percentage factor shall be based upon the relationship between the county average loss cost for 50-percent insurance and the county average loss cost for 75-percent insurance but shall not be less than 15 percent.

(f) The minimum rate for 50-percent lint insurance shall be one-third of the minimum rate for 75-percent lint insurance.

(g) To pay the premium for protection against loss of cottonseed, the premium rate for lint cotton insurance shall be increased by 20 percent on American Upland cotton and by 15 percent on American Egyptian.

(h) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, the Corporation may establish premium rates by means of premium rate schedules, provided such method achieves the establishment of rates for insurance units in the same yield classification that are determined by the Corporation to be fair and just.

(i) The maximum premium rate per acre for lint insurance shall be one-half of the lint cotton insurance per acre established for the insured percentage as approved under the insurance contract.

§ 412.32 Average yields and premium rates where farm varies widely in productivity or farming hazards or where tracts of the farm are widely separated. If the land comprising any farm consists of tracts varying widely in productivity, topography, or farming hazards, or if tracts of the farm are widely separated, separate average yields and premium rates may be established by the Corporation for such tracts on the basis of appraisal, taking into consideration the yield data available.

§ 412.33 County check yields. (a) County check yields shall be established by the Corporation by averaging the county check yield established for the 1942 Cotton Crop Insurance Program (except in those counties in which the 1942 county check yield was identical with the 1942 Agricultural Conservation Program county normal yield, in which cases the average yield for a representative period shall be used) adjusted for changes in farming operations, where necessary, with the 1941 average yield in the county, giving a weight of nine to the 1942 county check yield, as adjusted, and a weight of one to the 1941 county average yield: Provided, however, That, if the county check yield thus computed differs by more than five percent from the 1942 county average yield used in computing the 1943 county check yield, such yield shall be limited to a value which shall be not less than 95 percent nor more than 105 percent, plus a certain portion (determined by the Corporation to be reasonable) of the calculated percentage increase in excess of 105 percent, of such 1942 county average yield.

(b) The Corporation may establish check yields which it deems fair and just for administrative areas other than a county.

§ 412.34 County check premium rates. (a) The Corporation shall establish county check premium rates on the basis of average loss costs for the county, for a period determined by the Corporation to be representative from annual yield data for the county during such period, and the relationship between yields and loss costs for sample farms in the county selected for actuarial purposes adjusted to reflect extraordinary conditions of loss included in actuarial data available to the Corporation and to reflect farming hazards not included in actuarial data available to the Corporation.

(b) The Corporation may establish check premium rates which it deems fair and just for administrative areas other than a county.

§ 412.35 Average yields and premium rates for fractional parts of a farm and for farms which are combined or divided after the listing sheets are prepared. (a) The average yield and premium rate for a fractional part of a farm which is to be insured as a separate insurance unit shall be the same as the average yield and premium rate for the entire acreage considered in establishing such average yield and premium rate, except as provided in § 412.32.

(b) Where due to combinations of insurance units after yields and rates applicable to the component parts of the combination have been approved by the Corporation and determination of the acreage planted to cotton on such component parts is not feasible or practical, average yields and premium rates for the acreage comprising such combinations may be established by the Corporation, provided the combination was effected before the planting of any cotton on the combination. Such determinations shall be based upon the average yield and premium rate for farms similar in acreage, farming practices, topography, and farming hazards, taking into consideration the average yield(s) and premium rate(s) for the original farm(s).

§ 412.36 Average yields and premium rates for special farming practices and for American Egyptian cotton. In areas where farming practices are followed which are determined by the Corporation to be special practices or where American Egyptian cotton is grown, yields and premium rates may be established for each special practice or for American Egyptian cotton for the county or administrative area and for individual insurance units. The method used for establishing average yields and premium rates for a special practice or for American Egyptian cotton shall be substantially the same as that used for establishing the yields and premium rates for the general practice or for American Upland cotton. Premium rates for American Egyptian cotton may be established by means of premium rate schedules as provided for in § 412.31, paragraph (h), of these regulations. The yield and premium rate thus established for the insurance unit(s) shall apply to the acreage of cotton planted on the insurance unit under the special farming practice or to the acreage planted to American Egyptian cotton on the insurance unit.

§ 412.37 Yield and rate appeals. An applicant may appeal for a change in the amount of lint cotton insurance per acre or premium rate per acre, established under these regulations with respect to a farm, in accordance with instructions issued by the Corporation.

GENERAL

§ 412.38 Meaning of terms. For the purpose of the 1943 Cotton Crop Insurance Program, the term:

(a) "Average yield" means the average yield of lint cotton per acre established by the Corporation for each insurance unit.

(b) "Cash equivalent price per pound" means the net price per pound of lint cotton established by the Corporation for the area in which the insurance unit is located on the basis of the price of lint cotton at the applicable spot market with differentials for the location of the area in which the insurance unit is situated.

(c) "Closing date" means the final date for the submission of applications for insurance to the office of the county committee, or the beginning of the planting of the cotton crop on any of the insurance units covered by the application for insurance, whichever occurs first. Such dates are specified by areas in § 412.45 hereof.

(d) "Corporation" means the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

(e) "Cotton crop" means only American Upland, or American Egyptian cotton when yields and rates have been approved by the Corporation, and does not include any cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(f) "Crop year" means the period within which the cotton crop is planted and normally harvested, and shall be designated by reference to the calendar year in which the crop is planted.

(g) "County" means a political or civil division of a state and includes parishes in Louisiana.

(h) "County committee" means the group of persons elected within any county to assist in the administration of the agricultural conservation program in such county.

(i) "Farm" means all adjacent or nearby farm land under the same ownership which is operated by one person, including also: (1) Any other adjacent or nearby farm land which the county committee determines is operated by the same person as part of the same unit with respect to the rotation of crops and with workstock, farm machinery, and labor substantially separate from that for any other lands; and (2) any field-rented tract (whether operated by the same or another person) which, together with any other land included in the farm, constitutes a unit with respect to the rotation of crops.

A farm shall be regarded as located in the county or administrative area, as the case may be, in which the principal dwelling is situated, or, if there is no dwelling thereon, it shall be regarded as located in the county or administrative area, as the case may be, in which the major portion of the farm is located.

(j) "Insurance contract" means the contract of insurance entered into between the applicant and the Corporation by virtue of the application for insurance and these regulations and any amendments thereto.

(k) "Insured percentage" means the percentage of the average yield of lint cotton per acre for the insurance unit covered by an insurance contract, and shall be either 50 or 75 percent.

(l) "Insurance unit" with respect to each insured shall be all or a portion of the acreage considered as a farm for the purpose of establishing the average yield and premium rate in which the insured has an interest as a cotton producer at the time of its planting except that when such acreage consists of land, part of which is regularly irrigated and the remainder never irrigated, or land upon part of which American Upland is grown and upon part of which American Egyptian is grown, or when separate yields and rates have been established for widely separated parts of a farm, such portions shall be considered separately for the purpose of establishing insurance units.

(m) "Landlord" or "owner" means a person who owns farm land and either rents such land to another person or operates it as a farm.

(n) "Lint cotton insurance per acre" means the number of pounds of lint cotton per acre for which the applicant is insured and shall be based upon the insured percentage.

(o) "Maximum insurable acreage" means the largest number of acres of cotton which may be insured on an insurance unit. Such acreage shall be the cotton acreage allotment for the insurance unit under the then current agricultural conservation program. In the event that the insurance unit is a part of the farm for which such cotton acreage allotment is established, the total of the maximum insurable acreages for all units constituting the farm shall not exceed such allotment and, if the cotton planted on all such units does exceed such allotment, the maximum insurable acreage for each such unit shall be the same percentage of the acreage planted to cotton on the unit as the cotton acreage allotment for the farm is of the total acreage planted to cotton on all such units. The term cotton acreage allotment shall also mean permitted acreage where applicable.

(p) "Operator" means a person who as landlord or cash tenant, or standing or fixed-rent tenant, is operating a farm, or who as a share tenant is operating a whole farm.

(q) "Person" means an individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate, or trust, or other business enterprise or other legal entity and, wherever applicable, a state, a political subdivision of a state, or any agency thereof.

(r) "Premium rate" means the premium rate per acre established by the Corporation.

(s) "Sharecropper" means a person who works a farm in whole or in part under the general supervision of the operator and is entitled to receive for his labor a share of the cotton crop thereon or of the proceeds therefrom.

(t) "State committee" means the group of persons designated within any state to assist in the administration of the agricultural conservation program in such state.

(u) "Tenant" means a person other than a sharecropper who rents land from another person (for cash, a fixed commodity payment, or a share of the crop or proceeds therefrom), and is entitled under a written or oral lease or agreement to receive all or a share of the crop or proceeds therefrom produced on such land.

§ 412.39 Restriction on purchase and sale of cotton by the Corporation. The restriction on the purchase and sale of cotton, as provided in section 508 (d) of the Federal Crop Insurance Act, as amended, reads in part as follows:

Insofar as practicable, the Corporation shall purchase the agricultural commodity only at the rate and to a total amount equal to the payment of premiums in cash by farmers or to replace promptly the agricultural commodity sold to prevent deterioration, and shall sell the agricultural commodity only to the extent necessary to cover payments of indemnities and to prevent deterioration: Provided, however, That nothing in this section shall prevent prompt offset purchases and sales of the agricultural commodity for convenience in handling. Nothing in this section shall prevent the Corporation from accepting, for the payment of premiums, notes payable in the commodity insured or the cash equivalent, upon such security as may be determined pursuant to subsection (b) of this section, and from purchasing the quantity of the commodity represented by any of such notes not paid at maturity.

§ 412.40 Records and access to farm. For the purpose of enabling the Corporation to determine the loss, if any, that may have occurred under the insurance contract, the insured shall keep, or cause to be kept, records of the harvesting, ginning, storage, shipment, sale, or other disposition, of all cotton produced on each insurance unit covered by the insurance contract. Such records shall be made available for examination by the Corporation, and as often as may reasonably be required, any person or persons designated by the Corporation shall have access to the farm. (See § 412.11 (b) hereof.)

§ 412.41 Review of determinations of county committees. All determinations by a county committee shall be subject to review and approval or revision by duly authorized representatives of the Corporation.

§ 412.42 Applicant's warranties; voidance for fraud. In applying for insurance the applicant warrants that the information, data, and representations submitted by him in connection with the insurance contract are true and correct, and are made by him, or by his authority, and shall be taken as his act. The insurance contract may be voided and the premium forfeited to the Corporation without the Corporation's waiving any right or remedy, including its right to collect the amount of the note executed by the insured, whether before or after maturity, if at any time the insured has concealed any material fact or made any false or fraudulent statements relating to the insurance contract, the subject thereof, or his interest in the cotton crop covered thereby, or if the insured shall neglect to use all reasonable means to produce, care for or save the cotton crop covered thereby, whether before of after damage has occurred, or if the insured fails to give any notice, or otherwise fails to comply with the terms of the contract, including the note, at the time and in the manner prescribed.

§ 412.43 Modification of insurance contract. No notice to any county committee or representative of the Corporation or knowledge possessed by any such county committee or representative or by any other person shall be held to effect a waiver of or change in any part of the insurance contract or to estop the Corporation from asserting any right or power under such contract; nor shall the terms of such contract be waived or changed except as authorized in writing by a duly authorized officer or representative of the Corporation; nor shall any provision or condition of the insurance contract or any forfeiture be held to be waived by any delay or omission by the Corporation in exercising its rights and powers thereunder or by any requirement, act, or proceeding, on the part of the Corporation or of its representatives, relating to appraisal or to any examination herein provided for.

§ 412.44 Fractional units in acres and yields. Fractions of yields per acre shall be rounded to the nearest pound. Fractions of loss costs and premium rates shall be rounded to the nearest tenth of a pound. Fractions of pounds, other than loss costs and premium rates, shall be rounded to the nearest pound. Fractions of acres representing total acres of cotton shall be rounded to the nearest tenth of an acre. Computations shall be carried to one digit beyond the digit that is to be rounded. If the extra digit computed is 1, 2, 3, or 4, the rounding shall be downward. If the extra digit computed is 6, 7, 8, or 9, the rounding shall be upward. If the extra digit computed is 5, the computation shall be carried to another digit. If the two extra digits are 50, the rounding shall be downward, and if the two extra digits are 51 or any higher figure, the rounding shall be upward.

Chapter XI—Food Distribution Administration

[FDO 6-1, Amendment 1]

PART 1405—FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

ORDER REQUIRING CITRUS FRUIT TO BE SET ASIDE

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Food Distribution Order No. 6 (8 F.R. 511) issued by the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States on January 12, 1943, § 1405.3 (e) of Food Distribution Order No. 6-1 (8 F.R. 998) issued by the Director of Food Distribution on January 20, 1943, is amended as follows:

1. By inserting "(1)" at the beginning of the paragraph in said § 1405.3 (e) of said Food Distribution Order No. 6-1.

2. By inserting at the end of said section, as hereby amended, the following:

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of (a), (b), and (c) hereof, any handler during any shipping period for any type or variety of citrus fruit may, at his option, set aside more than the quantities of citrus fruit required to be set aside by said provisions in (a), (b), and (c). Such excess amounts so set aside shall be accumulated as credits to be applied against shipments in future shipping periods: Provided, That any deficient quantities, permitted under (e) (1) hereof, shall first be deducted. Such credits against shipments in future shipping periods shall be applied in the same manner as if citrus fruit were actually set aside in such future shipping periods. The credits remaining unused, with respect to citrus fruit produced in California, shall be cancelled on November 15 in each year; and the credits remaining unused, with respect to citrus fruit produced in Arizona, Texas, or Florida, shall be cancelled on August 15 in each year.

The provisions of this amendment shall take effect at the beginning of the first shipping period, as defined in said Food Distribution Order No. 6, subsequent to the date of issuance hereof.

(E.O. 9280, 7 F.R. 10179; F.D.O. No. 6, 8 F.R. 511)

Issued this 24th day of February 1943.

Chapter III—Claims and Accounts

PART 38—ALLOTMENTS OF PAY

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Sections 38.1 (a) (6 F. R. 1650; 8 F. R. 580) and 38.6 (6 F.R. 1650) are amended as follows:

§ 38.1 Definitions—(a) Allotment. The word "allotment" as used herein refers to a definite portion of the pay of an officer, Army nurse, warrant officer, enlisted man, member of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, contract surgeon, or permanent civilian employee of the War Department on duty outside the continental limits of the United States, which is authorized to be paid to another person, or institution, in a manner prescribed by the Secretary of War. Allotments of pay are purely voluntary acts of the allotters; they carry no corresponding allowance or other obligation of the Government and require no administrative adjudication to become effective. They are revocable at the will of the alloter and vest no property rights in the allottee unless and until they have been paid to the allottee. (See 10 Comp. Dec. 208; 2 Comp. Gen. 144.) Mere issuance of a check for the allotment does not constitute payment thereof. The allotment has not been paid until the check has been collected or negotiated by the payee. (See 16 Comp. Dec. 151; 24 id., 734.) (Sec. 16, 30 Stat. 981; 40 Stat. 384; 52 Stat. 354; 10 U.S.C. 894; sec. 3, Act of Oct. 26, 1942, Public Law 761, 77th Congress) [Par. 2*a*, AR 35-5520, March 4, 1941, as amended by C 4, January 12, 1943]

• • • • •

§ 38.6 Action in case allotter captured by enemy. In case of capture by the enemy of a commissioned officer, Army nurse, warrant officer, officer of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, enlisted man, or enrolled member of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, who has an allotment in force at the time of the capture, the monthly payments of the same will be continued until otherwise ordered by the Secretary of War. TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Director General for Operations

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under P.D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W.P.B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a) Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.

PART 1188—RAILROAD EQUIPMENT

[Supplementary Limitation Order L-97-a-1 as Amended Feb. 24, 1943]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of iron, steel and other materials for defense, for private account and for export; the railroad car building industry has on hand diversified inventories of materials not in balance among individual producers; it is desirable that such inventories be utilized to the best possible advantage; and the following order, supplementing General Limitation Order L-97-a, is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1188.3 Supplementary General Limitation Order L-97-a-1—(a) Effect of General Limitation Order L-97-a. This order supplements General Limitation Order L-97-a and is subject to the provisions of that order as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Car parts" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly or product manufactured for use in the construction of cars.

(2) "Cars" means all cars for use on railroads, including freight cars and passenger cars.

(3) "Supplier" means any person with whom a contract or order has been placed for delivery of car parts to a producer or another supplier.

(c) General restrictions. Preference ratings of A-2 or lower assigned prior to April 29, 1942, to the delivery of car parts or other material for the manufacture of cars under Preference Order P-8 (in accordance with paragraph (f) thereof), Preference Rating Order P-90 (Form PD-25A) or any certificate or order issued pursuant to PD-1 or PD-1A applications, are hereby canceled as of April 29, 1942. A purchase order to the delivery of which had been assigned a preference rating canceled by operation of this paragraph (c) shall be treated as an unrated order.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of § 944.11 (Use of Material Obtained Under Allocation or Preference Rating) of Priorities Regulation No. 1 as amended, or of General Preference Order M-21 as amended, any producer of cars or supplier may sell and deliver to any other such producer (including a producer of locomotives) or supplier, or to a railroad, any car parts the material in which was obtained under a preference rating for the construction of cars: Provided, That such material is to be used for the construction or repair of cars or locomotives, and that the purchaser endorses on the purchase order for such material the following statement signed by a duly authorized official:

The undersigned represents to the seller and to the War Production Board that the material ordered herein will be used for the construction or repair of railroad cars or locomotives.

Date

Name of purchaser

Signature of authorized official

Title

Such sales shall be expressly permitted within the terms of paragraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation No. 13, as amended. Nothing in this paragraph (d) shall impair the force and effect of § 944.2 (Compulsory Acceptance of Defense and Other Rated Orders) of said Regulation No. 1.

(e) Interchangeability of car parts. (1) Irrespective of the terms of any contract of sale or purchase with regard to specifications, every producer shall, in the production of cars, utilize all car parts which were in his inventory on February 15, 1943, to the extent that such car parts are interchangeable with those specified by the particular customer, unless an appeal by such customer has been granted pursuant to paragraph (e) (2) hereof. For the purpose of this paragraph (e) (1), no car part shall be considered interchangeable if it is not acceptable for use in interchange by the Code of Rules for the Interchange of Traffic as adopted by the Association of American Railroads, or if it does not meet the minimum requirements of said Association's Manual of Standard and Recommended Practice.

(2) Any customer who considers that compliance with the provisions of paragraph (e) (1) hereof would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him may appeal to the Transportation Equipment Division of the War Production Board setting forth the pertinent facts and the reason he considers he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

Issued this 24th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3066—SHEEP INTESTINES

[General Conservation Order M–220 as Amended February 24, 1943]

§ 3066.1 General Conservation Order M–220—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Sheep intestine" means any and all parts (other than the cecum) of the entire intestine of a sheep (ovis aries) which are suitable for the manufacture of surgical gut.

(2) "Surgical gut" means sterile gut prepared from the longitudinally split segment of sub-mucous connective tissue of the intestines of healthy sheep (ovis aries), meeting U.S.P. standards for diameter and tensile strength.

(3) "Slaughterer" means any person who slaughtered over 1,000 sheep during the 365 day period immediately prior to February 24, 1943.

(b) Restrictions on the use, sale and delivery of sheep intestines. (1) No slaughterer shall use or process any sheep intestines for purposes other than the manufacture of surgical gut nor sell or deliver any sheep intestines which he knows or has reason to believe will be used or processed for purposes other than the manufacture of surgical gut, until he has filled all purchase orders and contracts in his hands for sheep intestines which are to be processed or prepared for use in the manufacture of surgical gut.

(2) Any person desiring to purchase or accept delivery of sheep intestines from a slaughterer for the purpose of processing or preparing such sheep intestines for use in the manufacture of surgical gut shall make a certification on his purchase order or contract, signed by himself or a duly authorized official, in substantially the following form:

The undersigned hereby certifies that the sheep intestines ordered by this purchase order (or purchased under this contract) will be processed or prepared solely for use in the manufacture of surgical gut. This certification is made in accordance with the terms of Order M–220 with which the undersigned is familiar.

Name _____
By _____ Address _____
Date _____

Such certification shall constitute a representation to the War Production Board and the slaughterer of the facts stated therein. The slaughterer shall be entitled to rely on such representation until he knows or has reason to believe it to be false.

(c) Intra-company deliveries. The prohibitions and restrictions of this order with respect to deliveries of sheep intestines shall apply not only to deliveries to other persons, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also to deliveries from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(d) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production, sales, and deliveries, and shall also preserve all purchase orders and contracts affected by the terms of this order.

(e) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall file such reports as may be required from time to time by the War Production Board.

(f) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance herewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him may appeal to the War Production Board, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(g) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the Priorities Regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(i) Communications to War Production Board. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Safety and Technical Equipment Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–220.

Issued this 24th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3180—WOODEN AND FIBRE SHIPPING CONTAINERS

[Preference Rating Order P–140]

To facilitate the acquisition of wooden and fibre shipping containers in the public interest and to promote the defense of the United States, preference ratings are hereby assigned to deliveries of such containers upon the following terms:

§ 3180.1 Preference Rating Order P–140—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Shipping container" means any empty new or used box, crate, case, barrel, keg, kit, pail, tub, drum, basket, or hamper, in set-up or knock-down form, which is made in whole or in part from wood or corrugated or solid fibre and which is used as an outer container for the delivery or shipment of materials. The term does not include trunks, luggage or military locker boxes.

(2) "Part" means any shook, cleat, stave, heading, veneer, plywood, or corrugated or solid fibre which is cut to size for a shipping container.

(3) "User" means any person who:

(i) Uses shipping containers for the shipment or delivery of materials in connection with the sale thereof;

(ii) Gives, sells, rents or lends shipping containers to his suppliers of any product for their use in shipping or delivering such product to him.

(b) Assignment of preference ratings. (1) Preference ratings are hereby assigned as follows to deliveries of shipping containers or parts for the uses indicated below:

(i) AA–1 for the uses specified in List 1 attached hereto;

(ii) AA–2X for the uses specified in List 2 attached hereto;

(iii) AA–3 for the uses specified in List 3 attached hereto;

(iv) AA–4 for the uses specified in List 4 attached hereto;

(v) AA–5 for the uses specified in List 5 attached hereto.

(2) Preference ratings for uses not specified in the Lists attached hereto, as well as preference ratings differing from those assigned for Listed uses in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (b) may, on application by any person on Form PD 802, be assigned to deliveries of shipping containers or parts by the Director General for Operations. Such assignment shall be accomplished by returning to the applicant an approved copy of said Form PD 802.

(3) Except where specifically stated to the contrary, the preference ratings assigned hereunder shall be available for the uses authorized, irrespective of whether or not the materials to be placed in the shipping containers have any inner wrappings or containers.

(c) Application and extension of preference ratings. (1) The preference ratings assigned pursuant to paragraphs (b)(1) and (2) above may be applied by any user in the manner provided in Priorities Regulation 3, for the purpose of obtaining shipping containers or parts for the uses indicated.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other preference rating order, preference rating certificate, or Regulation of the War Production Board, on and after February 24, 1943, no person receiving a rated order for the delivery of shipping containers or parts shall extend such rating to obtain any materials (other than parts as herein defined) for use in the manufacture of such shipping containers or parts; but if the person receiving such rated order acquires shipping containers or parts for redelivery without fabrication by him, other than the assembly of parts, he may extend such rating (as provided in Priorities Regulation 3) to such purchases.

(3) Notwithstanding any contrary provision of any Regulation of the War Production Board, no person eligible under this paragraph (c) to apply or extend preference ratings hereunder shall be considered ineligible because he is a PRP unit.

(d) Ratings applicable to existing unfilled orders. (1) Preference ratings assigned hereunder may be applied or extended to any unfilled order for shipping containers or parts placed prior to February 24, 1943. Any ratings so applied or extended shall supersede any other ratings applicable to such orders to the extent provided by Priorities Regulation 12.

(2) No person shall give effect to any preference rating which has been applied or extended to any existing unfilled order placed prior to February 24, 1943, for shipping containers or parts, unless

(i) Such preference rating has been applied or extended to such order after February 24, 1943 in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (d), or

(ii) The items covered by such order are actually in transit or delivered to the customer on or before the 11th day of March 1943, or

(iii) He has been advised in writing by the person from whom such order was received that the rating originally applied or extended thereto is consistent with the ratings assigned under this order.

(3) The provisions of this paragraph (d) shall not affect rated orders placed prior to February 24, 1943, for the delivery of materials, other than parts, to be used in the manufacture of shipping containers or parts, nor require the cancellation or rerating of such orders.

(e) Restrictions on application, extension and acceptance of other ratings. (1) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (f) of this order, but notwithstanding any contrary provisions of any other preference rating order, preference rating certificate or regulation of the War Production Board, no person shall apply or extend any preference rating, for the delivery of shipping containers or parts except as specified in and in accordance with this order.

(2) No person receiving an order for shipping containers or parts shall give effect to any preference rating applied or extended thereto on and after February 24, 1943, if he knows or has reason to believe that said rating has not been applied or extended in accordance with the provisions of this order.

(f) AAA ratings. Nothing in this order shall apply to or in any way restrict the application or extension of any rating of AAA.

(g) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. Except as otherwise provided in this order, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board as same may be amended from time to time.

(2) Effect of other orders. The assignment of preference ratings hereunder shall not constitute authorization for the delivery, receipt, manufacture or use of any materials in violation of the provisions of any conservation or limitation order heretofore or hereafter issued by the Director of Priorities of the Office of Production Management, the Director of Industry Operations, or the Director General for Operations of the War Production Board.

(3) Records. In addition to the records required to be kept under Priorities Regulation No. 1, a user and each other person placing or receiving any purchase order or contract rated pursuant to this order shall retain for a period of two years for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board endorsed copies of all such orders or contracts, whether accepted or rejected, segregated from all other purchase orders or contracts or filed in such a manner that they can be readily segregated for such inspection.

(4) Reports. Each person who applies a preference rating assigned by or pursuant to this order shall file such reports as may be required from time to time.

(5) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: P–140.

(6) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(7) Revocation or amendment. This order may be revoked or amended at any time as to any person. In the event of revocation, deliveries already rated pursuant to this order shall be completed in accordance with said rating, unless the rating has been specifically revoked with respect thereto. No additional applications of the rating to any other deliveries shall thereafter be made by the person affected by such revocation.

Issued this 24th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

LISTS OF USES OF SHIPPING CONTAINERS TO WHICH PREFERENCE RATINGS ARE ASSIGNED BY ORDER P–140

LIST 1—AA–1

Shipping containers or parts for:

(a) The delivery or shipment, to the Army or Navy of the United States of the following combat end products complete for tactical operations—

(1) Aircraft
(2) Ammunition
(3) Armament and weapons
(4) Tanks
(5) Vehicles
(6) Escort naval vessels
(7) The following subsistence items:
  a. Emergency rations
  b. Canned meats, fish and poultry
  c. Canned butter and powdered milk
  d. Canned dried eggs
(8) Drugs, pharmaceutical and biological preparations
(9) Medical and surgical supplies and equipment

(b) The delivery or shipment of materials which are to be physically incorporated in any of the foregoing products provided—

(i) such products are to be delivered to the Army or Navy of the United States;

(ii) orders for the shipping containers or parts indicate that they are to be used solely for the delivery or shipment of such materials.

LIST 2—AA–2X

Shipping containers or parts for the following uses to the extent not covered by List 1:

(1) Export shipment of any article to any point outside of the forty-eight states of the United States, the District of Columbia, or Canada.

(2) Delivery or shipment of materials to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States (exclusive of United States Army or Marine Corps Post Exchanges or United States Navy Ships Service Departments located within the Continental limits of the United States), the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration and the Panama Canal.

(3) Delivery or shipment of materials which are to be physically incorporated into products to be delivered to or for the account of any of the following, where orders for the shipping containers or parts indicate that they are to be used solely for such delivery or shipment:

Army or Navy of the United States (exclusive of United States Army or Marine Corps Post Exchanges or United States Navy Ships Service Departments).
United States Maritime Commission.
War Shipping Administration.
Panama Canal.
Any agency procuring for delivery pursuant to the Act of Congress of March 11, 1941 entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(4) Delivery or shipment of foods set aside for purchase by government agencies pursuant to orders heretofore or hereafter issued by the Director General for Operations or the Secretary of Agriculture. Use of shipping containers for storage of such foods during the set aside period pending government purchase shall be considered use for delivery or shipment for purposes of this order.

(5) Delivery, shipment or storage of "controlled meats", as defined in Restriction Order No. 1 of the Office of Price Administration, delivered or held for delivery "without charge against quotas" as provided by said order.

LIST 3—AA–3

Shipping containers or parts for the delivery or shipment of the following products (to the extent that such delivery or shipment is not covered by any preceding list):

1. Abrasive wheels and abrasives.
2. Agricultural implements; machinery, parts, accessories and equipment therefor.
3. *Alcohol, 5 gallons.
4. Automotive replacement parts and replacement batteries as defined in Orders L–158 and L–180.
5. *Butter, 10 lbs.
6. Chemicals, except those in List 4.
7. Communication equipment.
8. Crucibles, commercial.
9. Dried apples, dried apricots and dried peaches.
10. *Driers for paints, varnish and lacquer, 5 gallons.
11. Drugs, pharmaceutical and biological preparations.
12. *Edible or inedible oils or greases, 30 gallons.
13. Fish, including shell fish.
14. Fresh fluid milk.
15. Fresh fruits and vegetables as follows:

Apples	Plums
Apricots	Pears
Bananas	Prunes, fresh
Cherries	Berries
Citrus	Beans, snap and lima
Grapes	Carrots
Nectarines	Peas, fresh green
Peaches	Tomatoes

16. Fresh meat, meat products and lard.
17. •Fruit and vegetable juices, 10 gallons.
18. •Honey, 10 gallons.
19. Industrial machinery, including electrical equipment; parts, accessories and equipment, engines and batteries therefor.
20. Internal combustion engines.
21. Laboratory Reagent Chemicals, C. P Grade.
22. •Lard, tallow and shortening, 5 gallons.
23. •Lubricating greases, 5 pounds.
24. •Lubricating oils, 5 gallons.
25. Machine tools and accessories.
26. Medical and surgical supplies.
27. Mechanical power transmission machinery and equipment.
28. Metal sheets, rods and tubes.
29. Mining machinery
30. •Paint, except dry powder, 5 gallons
31. •Pickled foods, 5 gallons.
32. Printing ink.
33. •Putty, glazing and caulking compounds, 5 gallons
34. Professional and scientific equipment and instruments.
35. Railroad machinery, equipment and track accessories
36. •Refractory cements, 5 gallons.
37. •Roof cements, plastic, 5 gallons.
38. •Roof coatings, liquid, 5 gallons.
39. Tractors and construction equipment (including motor vehicles); parts, accessories and equipment therefor.
40. •Varnish and Lacquer, 5 gallons

•The preference rating assigned to List 3 uses is available to obtain shipping containers or parts for the materials on said list marked with an asterisk only when such materials are packed without inner packaging or wrapping and only when the containers have a capacity equal to or greater than that indicated after each such material.

LIST 4—AA-4

Shipping containers or parts for the delivery or shipment of the following products (to the extent that such delivery or shipment is not covered by any preceding list):

1. Alloys and rollings.
2. Asbestos products
3. •Asphalt, 30 gallons.
4. Batteries
5. •Beverages, 5 gallons
6. Burners, boilers and mechanical stokers, accessories therefor
7. Canned foods
8. Castings and forgings.
9. Chemicals, as follows:
   - Aluminum sulfate
   - Ammonium chloride
   - Ammonium nitrate
   - Ammonium phosphate (Di)
   - Ammonium phosphate (Mono)
   - Ammonium sulfate
   - Borax
   - Boric acid
   - Calcium arsenate
   - Calcium carbonate
   - Calcium oxide
   - Calcium phosphate (Di basic)
   - Calcium phosphate (Tri basic)
   - Calcium phosphate (Mono basic)
   - Calcimine
   - Carbon (activated)
   - Copper carbonate
   - Copper sulfate
   - Lead arsenate
   - Manganese sulfate
   - Magnesium carbonate
   - Magnesium sulfate (Epsom Salts)
   - Paradichlorobenzene
   - Potash Alum
   - Potassium carbonate
   - Potassium bicarbonate

LIST 4—AA-4—continued

9. Chemicals, as follows—Continued.
   - Potassium tartrate
   - Sal soda
   - Soda alum
   - Soda ash
   - Sodium bicarbonate
   - Sodium carbonate (sesqui)
   - Sodium chloride
   - Sodium metaborate
   - Sodium phosphate (di basic)
   - Sodium phosphate (mono basic)
   - Sodium phosphate (tri basic)
   - Sodium phosphate (hexameta)
   - Sodium phosphate (tetra)
   - Sodium pyrophosphate
   - Sodium pyrophosphate (tetra)
   - Sodium silicates, dry
   - Sodium sulfate (anhydrous)
   - Sodium sulfate (Glaubers salt)
   - Stearic acid
   - Sulfur dust
   - Sulfur refined
   - Tartaric acid
   - Zinc sulfate
   - Zinc stearate
   - Related compounds:
     - Adhesives (dry)
     - Boiler compounds (dry)
     - Dry detergents (except those containing more than 5% Caustic Soda or Caustic Potash and excepting synthetic wetting agents).
10. Compressed and liquefied gas.
11. Cork products.
12. Dairy products not otherwise listed.
13. Dried, frozen and preserved foods not elsewhere listed
14. Explosives and ammunition (non-military).
15. Fibrous glass products.
16. Fire extinguishers.
17. Fresh fruits and vegetables, as follows:

Cranberries	Kale
Quinces	Lettuce
Asparagus	Okra
Beets	Onions, green
Broccoli	Peppers, green
Cauliflower	Radishes
Celery	Rhubarb
Chickory Greens	Shallots
Collards	Spinach
Cucumbers	Potatoes, sweet
Egg Plant	Squash, summer
Escarole	Turnips
Greens

18. Fruit and vegetable trees and plants (excluding ornamental).
18a. Glass containers and closures therefor.
19. Hardware (including but not limited to nuts, bolts, nails, screws, and spikes).
20. Mineral wool products.
21. •Molasses, 5 gallons.
22. Petroleum products
23. Pipe and pipe fittings.
24. Poultry and poultry products (including shell and dry eggs).
25. Pumps and pumping equipment.
26. Refractories
27. •Rosin, 30 gals.
28. Shortening and edible oil.
29. Stamping and machine shop metal products
30. Steam fittings.
31. Steam turbines.
32. Steel springs.
33. Tin cans and tinware
34. Tools
35. •Turpentine, 30 gals
36. •Tar, 30 gals

•The preference rating assigned to List 4 uses is available to obtain shipping containers or parts for the materials on said list marked with an asterisk only when such materials are packed without inner packaging or wrapping and only when the containers have a capacity equal to or greater than that indicated after each such material.

LIST 5—AA-5

Shipping containers or parts for the delivery or shipment of the following products (to the extent that such delivery or shipment is not covered by any preceding list):

1. Beverages.
2. Bicycles.
3. Blowers and fans.
4. Caskets or coffins.
5. Clothing.
6. Cooking and heating appliances.
7. Enameled iron sanitary ware.
8. Fabricated structural metals.
9. Flat glass.
10. Leather products.
11. Office and store machines.
12. Paint—dry powder.
13. Protective coatings.
14. Putty, glazing and caulking compounds
15. Paper and pulp products.
16. Refrigerators.
17. Steam and hot water appliances.
18. Steel doors and windows.
19. Textiles.
20. Tobacco.
21. Vitreous plumbing and enameled products.
22. Waxes and polishes.
23. Fresh fruits and vegetables not elsewhere listed.

PART 3196—STERILIZER EQUIPMENT

[General Limitation Order L-266]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply for defense, for private account and for export of the materials entering into the manufacture of sterilizer equipment; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3196.1 General Limitation Order L-266—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Sterilizer equipment" means the following types of sterilizers, as each is hereinafter defined, and includes heating elements when such elements are an integral part of such sterilizers: Pressure sterilizers, bulk pressure sterilizers, pressure water sterilizers, non-pressure water sterilizers, non-pressure utensil sterilizers, non-pressure instrument sterilizers, laboratory pressure sterilizers, bedpan washers, and field sterilizers. The term shall not include used or rebuilt sterilizer equipment, nor any parts or materials for the repair or maintenance of existing sterilizer equipment, nor shall it include any pressure cooker designed for processing foods.

(2) "Pressure sterilizer" means a sterilizer having a volumetric capacity of less than 40,000 cubic inches which is designed to utilize steam under pressure in order to free articles from living pathogenic microorganisms.

(3) "Bulk pressure sterilizer" means a sterilizer having a volumetric capacity of 40,000 cubic inches or more which is designed to utilize steam under pressure in order to free articles from living pathogenic microorganisms. It may or may not include attachments for fumigating purposes.

(4) "Pressure water sterilizer" means a sterilizer which is designed to heat water to a temperature higher than 212° F. in order to free it from living pathogenic microorganisms.

(5) "Non-pressure water sterilizer" means a sterilizer which is designed to free water from living pathogenic microorganisms by means of boiling.

(6) "Non-pressure utensil sterilizer" means a sterilizer which is designed to free hospital or medical utensils and similar articles from living pathogenic microorganisms by subjecting them to boiling water.

(7) "Non-pressure instrument sterilizer" means a sterilizer which is designed to free surgical, medical and dental instruments and similar articles from living pathogenic microorganisms by subjecting them to a boiling liquid. The term shall not include any such sterilizer which contains metal in no part other than the heating element, lid and essential hardware.

(8) "Laboratory pressure sterilizer" means a sterilizer which is designed to free articles from living pathogenic microorganisms by utilizing steam under pressure and which is specially designed for use in a laboratory.

(9) "Bedpan washer" means apparatus designed to wash (and, in some cases, to sterilize) bedpans, urinals, and similar articles, and which may or may not be equipped with flushing mechanism.

(10) "Field sterilizer" means any sterilizer which is designed for use in the field and which is manufactured for delivery to or for the account of (i) the Army or Navy of the United States, or (ii) any agency of the United States Government for delivery to or for the account of the government of any country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled, "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(11) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the manufacturing, fabricating or assembling of sterilizer equipment.

(12) "Distributor" means any person who purchases sterilizer equipment solely for the purpose of resale without further fabrication.

(b) Restrictions on the manufacture of sterilizer equipment. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (b), no manufacturer shall manufacture or continue the manufacture of any sterilizer equipment other than the permitted sizes of the permitted types set forth in Schedule A attached to this order.

(2) Any sterilizer equipment which was in the process of fabrication on February 24, 1943, and which cannot be completely fabricated within the restrictions of Schedule A, attached to this order, may be further fabricated after said date only to the extent specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations. Any manufacturer requesting such specific authorization shall file a statement in duplicate with the War Production Board setting forth in detail the number of units of each type in process of fabrication on February 24, 1943, the extent of the fabrication, the amount of materials required to complete fabrication, the reasons why such units cannot be converted to the permitted types and sizes set forth in Schedule A, and any other facts supporting the request for specific authorization.

(c) Restrictions on the use of certain materials in the manufacture of sterilizer equipment. No manufacturer shall incorporate in the manufacture of any non-pressure utensil sterilizer, non-pressure instrument sterilizer, bulk pressure sterilizer or bedpan washer, any monel metal, stainless steel, copper, copper base alloy, nickel or chromium, except where the use of such metals is required in electrical circuits, control valves, safety valves, and gauges.

(d) Restrictions on the sale and delivery of sterilizer equipment. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (d), no person shall sell or deliver any sterilizer equipment, except to or for the account of:

(i) The Army or Navy of the United States;

(ii) Any agency of the United States Government for delivery to or for the account of the government of any country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled, "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act);

(iii) Any person to whom an export license covering the specific equipment has been issued by the Board of Economic Warfare: Provided, however, That delivery shall not be made to any person holding an export license which was issued prior to February 24, 1943, unless such export license has been revalidated by the Board of Economic Warfare after said date;

(iv) Any distributor; or

(v) Any other person who has filed Form PD-556 pursuant to paragraph (e) of this order and has been specifically authorized on such form by the Director General for Operations to receive the specific sterilizer equipment and has furnished to his supplier one copy of such form bearing the signature of the Director General for Operations. (As a general rule, authority to receive sterilizer equipment will be granted only in cases where the equipment will receive general use and where essentiality is clearly established.)

(2) The restrictions set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (d) shall not apply to the sale or delivery of:

(i) Non-pressure instrument sterilizers which are 16" x 6" x 4" or smaller in size, or

(ii) Laboratory pressure sterilizers which are sold or delivered as "laboratory equipment" in accordance with the provisions of Limitation Order L-144.

(3) No person shall purchase or accept delivery of any sterilizer equipment if he knows or has reason to believe that the delivery of such sterilizer equipment is prohibited by the terms of this order.

(e) Applications on Form PD-556. Each person seeking authorization, as permitted by paragraph (d) (1) (v) of this order, to receive sterilizer equipment shall prepare Form PD-556 in quintuplicate (copies of which form may be obtained at the local offices of the War Production Board) in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions:

(1) The form should be filed only by the person (transferee) desiring to receive sterilizer equipment and not by the person (transferor) desiring to make delivery of such equipment.

(2) In describing the equipment for which application is made, give the type, manufacturer's name and catalogue number, and the size.

(3) Do not fill in section (6).

(4) Under section (5) give the following information:

(i) State whether or not you have in use any sterilizer equipment of the same type as, or of a type similar to, the equipment applied for. If so, (1) describe such equipment and (2) state whether the equipment applied for would be used to replace existing equipment or is needed for expansion of existing facilities. If the equipment applied for would be used to replace existing equipment, state what repairs of the existing equipment are necessary and why such repairs cannot be made. If the equipment applied for is needed for expansion of existing facilities, state the average number of hours per week during which the equipment is now used and the reasons why additional equipment is needed.

(ii) State how you now accomplish the work for which the equipment applied for would be used.

(iii) State what attempts you have made to obtain used or rebuilt equipment.

(iv) Give any other pertinent information which bears on the question of your need for the equipment for which application is made.

(f) Production and shipping schedules and restrictions thereon. On or before March 15, 1943, and on or before the 15th day of each succeeding calendar month, each manufacturer of sterilizer equipment shall file with the War Production Board in triplicate on Form PD-774, his proposed production and shipping schedules of sterilizer equipment for such period as production and shipping may be planned. Upon receipt of such form, the Director General for Operations will approve the proposed production and shipping schedule or make such changes therein as he shall deem necessary, and will return to the manufacturer a copy of such form as approved or changed. Each manufacturer shall produce and ship in accordance with his production and shipping schedule as approved or changed on such form by the Director General for Operations.

(g) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall file such reports as may be required from time to time by the War Production Board.

(h) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(k) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(l) Correspondence. Reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Safety and Technical Equipment Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: L-266.

Issued this 24th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

SCHEDULE A

Permitted types	Permitted sizes[1]
Pressure sterilizer (cylindrical)	16" diameter by 24" length 20" diameter by 36" length 30" diameter by 54" length
Pressure water sterilizer (one tank only)	8 gallon capacity 15 gallon capacity 25 gallon capacity
Non-pressure instrument sterilizer	13" length by 5" width by 3¼" depth 16" length by 6" width by 4" depth 20" length by 10" width by 9" depth
Non-pressure utensil sterilizer	24" length by 20" width by 20" depth
Vertical laboratory pressure sterilizer (cylindrical)	11" diameter by 24" length 14" diameter by 26" length
Bulk pressure sterilizer	No restriction
Field sterilizer	No restriction
Bedpan washer	No restriction

PART 3198—OXY-ACETYLENE APPARATUS

[General Conservation Order L-268]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials used in the manufacture of oxy-acetylene apparatus for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3198.1 General Conservation Order L-268—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person to the extent that he is engaged in the fabrication or assembly of oxy-acetylene apparatus, or parts thereof, and includes any sales or distribution agencies, outlets, warehouses, or branches owned or controlled by any such person.

(3) "Dealer" means any person to the extent that he acquires oxy-acetylene apparatus or parts thereof for resale, but does not include any sales or distribution agencies, outlets, warehouses or branches owned or controlled by a manufacturer.

(4) "Oxy-acetylene apparatus" means any new, manually operated device designed to use oxygen and acetylene gas, or other fuel gases, for the welding, heating, or cutting of metals.

(b) Restrictions on acceptance and delivery of orders. (1) On and after March 6, 1943, no manufacturer or dealer shall accept any order for oxy-acetylene apparatus, or parts thereof, unless the order bears a preference rating of AA-5 or higher.

(2) On and after April 25, 1943, no manufacturer or dealer shall deliver any oxy-acetylene apparatus or parts thereof except in fulfillment of an order bearing a preference rating of AA-5 or higher.

(3) The limitations and restrictions of paragraphs (b) (1) and (b) (2) above shall not apply to (i) any order for, or delivery of, oxy-acetylene apparatus or parts for the direct use of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, or (ii) any order for, or delivery of, parts for repair of oxy-acetylene apparatus then in the hands of the user.

(c) Manufacturing and sales restrictions—(1) Materials restrictions. On and after May 25, 1943, no non-ferrous metals or stainless steels shall be used in the manufacture of the following parts or portions of oxy-acetylene apparatus:

(i) Case and bezel or slip ring of pressure gauges.

(ii) Bonnet of regulator.

(iii) Grip of adjusting screws and valves.

(iv) Hose connection nut.

(v) Cylinder connecting nuts for regulators and adaptors.

(vi) Packing nut of needle valves.

(vii) Lever or other actuating control of cutting oxygen.

(viii) Name plates.

(ix) Ferrules used on hose for sealing tight the hose connections.

(x) Torch handle casing of blowpipes or torches.

(xi) Cylinder adaptors for gases other than oxygen, except the section which conveys the gas.

(xii) Handle for tip cleaning drills. The provisions of this subparagraph shall not apply to oxy-acetylene apparatus or parts designed and used for operation under water.

(2) Sales restrictions. On and after March 6, 1943, no manufacturer or dealer shall pack or sell any blow pipe or torch tips or hose connections as part of the blow pipe or torch; but shall pack and sell such articles only as separate items of equipment bearing an independent sales price: Provided, however, That the provisions of this subparagraph shall not be construed to permit, justify or require any increase in the sales price of the equipment covered hereby.

(3) Repair facilities for tips. Any manufacturer who maintains facilities for, and performs the function of repairing oxy-acetylene apparatus, or part thereof, manufactured by him shall, upon request, repair any welding or cutting tips of his manufacture, except to the extent that his repair facilities are inadequate to fill the orders so received.

(d) Purchase restrictions. (1) No person shall purchase any oxy-acetylene apparatus part which will increase his inventory thereof beyond an amount equal to that used by him for repair purposes during the preceding two calendar months.

(2) No person shall purchase any oxy-acetylene apparatus as spare or standby equipment if and to the extent that the purchase will increase his stock thereof beyond one piece of spare apparatus for each ten pieces of like apparatus, or fraction thereof, in operation.

(e) Production schedules. Regardless of the terms of any other order or rule or regulation of the War Production Board, or of any contractual commitment by any manufacturer, purchaser or other person, the Director General for Operations may at any time (i) prescribe production and delivery schedules for any manufacturer, for any oxy-acetylene apparatus, or parts, for any periods of time, (ii) direct the cancellation of any order held by any manufacturer, (iii) allocate any undelivered order to any other manufacturer, or (iv) direct the delivery of any oxy-acetylene apparatus or parts, whether in production or completed, to any other person, in accordance with prices and terms regularly established for sales by the supplying manufacturer to such a purchaser; and each manufacturer shall schedule and effect his production and make deliveries of oxy-acetylene apparatus and parts in accordance with any such directions of the Director General for Operations.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Records and reports. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production, and sales.

All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board, such reports and questionnaires as the Director General for Operations shall from time to time request.

(2) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(3) Other limitation orders. Where the limitations imposed by any other L or M Order are applicable to the subject matter of this order, the most restrictive limitation shall apply, unless otherwise specifically provided herein.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Appeals. An appeal from this order may be made either by the manufacturer or by the purchaser or proposed purchaser. Any such appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(6) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L-268.

Issued this 24th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

Subchapter C—Director, Office of War Utilities

PART 4500—ELECTRIC, GAS, WATER, AND STEAM UTILITIES—MATERIALS

[Utilities Order U-1]

Preference Rating Order P-46, as heretofore amended, is hereby revoked and shall be superseded by Utilities Order No. 1, as follows:

§ 4500.1 Utilities Order U-1—(a) Definitions for the purpose of this order:

(1) "Producer" means any individual, partnership, association, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not, located in the United States, its territories, or possessions, engaged in, or constructing facilities for the purpose of engaging in, one or more of the following services, whether or not such producer has applied the preference ratings herein assigned:

(i) Supplying electric power directly or indirectly for general use by the public.

(ii) Supplying gas, natural or manufactured, directly or indirectly for general use by the public, exclusive of the production and transmission of natural gas up to the point of its entry into gas transmission lines from field gathering lines.

(iii) Supplying water directly or indirectly for general use by the public, other than exclusively for irrigation purposes.

(iv) Supplying central steam heating directly or indirectly for general use by the public.

(v) Supplying any of the foregoing services but not for general use by the public, provided that a specific direction from the Director, Office of War Utilities, entitles such person or agency to apply the ratings herein assigned. Application for such a specific direction should be made by letter to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: U-1.

(2) "Producer" also means any producer, as defined in paragraph (a) (1), but located in the Dominion of Canada, to whom and in whose name a copy of this order has been specifically issued by the Director, Office of War Utilities, or the War Production Board.

(3) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind.

(4) "Controlled material" means controlled material as defined in Schedule I of CMP Regulation 1.

(5) "Maintenance" means the upkeep of a producer's property and equipment in sound working condition.

(6) "Repair" means the restoration of a producer's property and equipment to sound working condition after wear and tear, damage, destruction of parts, or the like have made such property or equipment unfit or unsafe for service.

(7) "Operating supplies" means:

(i) Material which is essential to the operation of any of the industries or services specified above and which is generally carried in a producer's inventory and charged to operating expense accounts.

(ii) Material for an addition to or an expansion of property or equipment (including a minor extension of lines), provided that such addition or expansion shall not include any work order, job, or project in which the cost of material shall exceed $1,500 in the case of underground construction and $500 in the case of other construction, and provided that no single construction project shall be subdivided into parts in order to come below these limits.

(8) Material for "maintenance," "repair," and "operating supplies" includes only material which is essential to minimum service standards, and does not include material for the improvement of a producer's property or equipment through the replacement of material which is still usable in the existing installation with material of a better kind, quality, or design.

(9) "Supplier" means any person with whom a purchase order or contract has been placed for delivery of material to a producer or to another supplier.

(10) "Calendar quarterly period" means the quarterly period commencing on the first day of the first, fourth, seventh, and tenth months of the calendar year and ending, respectively, on the last day of the third, sixth, ninth, and twelfth months of the calendar year, or the producer's customary accounting period closest to such period.

(11) "Inventory" means all new or salvaged material in the producer's possession, unless physically incorporated in plant, without regard to its accounting classification, excluding, however, appliances, merchandising supplies, and material in the producer's possession which is segregated for use in additions and expansions specifically authorized (a) under paragraph (e) (2) of this order, or (b) by an operative order in the P-19 series, or (c) by an operative preference rating certificate issued by the War Production Board. After construction of such an addition or expansion is complete, however, any material remaining shall be included in "inventory", even though the rating therefor is still operative.

(12) "Construction" means any addition to or expansion of property or equipment having a dollar value for material in excess of the dollar values specified for "operating supplies" in paragraph (a) (7) (ii) of this order.

(13) "Class" means any one of those categories of material established as a basis for the classification of inventory in Schedule A of this order.

(14) "Short item" means any item of material which the producer estimates he will require for use in maintenance, repair, or as operating supplies during the ninety-day period following its delivery date.

(b) Preference ratings. (1) For maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, a preference rating of AA-1 is hereby assigned to orders to be placed by a producer for material (including controlled material, Class A products, Class B products, and other products or material), except that no preference rating is assigned to deliveries of controlled material after March 31, 1943.

(2) For construction of transmission, switching and distribution facilities necessary to serve rated projects or to serve rated equipment, the lowest rating assigned to such project for the delivery of controlled material or for the delivery of such equipment, is hereby assigned, subject to the provisions of paragraph (e) (2), to orders to be placed by a producer for material (including controlled material, Class A products, Class B products, and other products or material).

(c) Restrictions on use of rating. The preference ratings hereby assigned shall not be applied or extended by a producer or supplier:

(1) To obtain deliveries of scarce material, the use of which could be eliminated without serious loss of efficiency by substitution of less scarce material or by change of design,

(2) To obtain deliveries of material which can be purchased without the use of such ratings,

(3) To obtain automotive replacement parts as defined by Limitation Order L-158.

(d) Procedure for obtaining controlled material. (1) Subject to the terms of this order, any producer requiring delivery after March 31, 1943, of any controlled material, except aluminum, for use in maintenance, repair, or as operating supplies, may obtain such controlled material by placing on his delivery order substantially the following certification, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

CMP allotment symbol MRO–U. The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in Section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that the controlled material covered by this order is required for use in essential maintenance, repair or as operating supplies, and that delivery thereof will not result in a violation of the restrictions of paragraph (f) of Utilities Order U–1.

(2) An order for controlled materials for use in maintenance, repair, and as operating supplies, and bearing the CMP allotment symbol MRO–U and the certification required in this paragraph (d) shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order and shall have the same status as an order bearing an allotment number under all applicable CMP regulations unless otherwise expressly provided. Such allotment symbol shall constitute an "allotment number or symbol" for the purposes of CMP Regulation 3.

(3) Aluminum for delivery after March 31, 1943, required by a producer for any of the purposes specified in this paragraph (d), may be obtained only on specific application to the War Production Board, Director, Office of War Utilities, Washington, D. C., Ref.: U–1.

(e) Application and extension of ratings. (1) The ratings assigned by this order may be applied by a producer:

(i) To deliveries of material other than controlled material for use in maintenance, repair, and as operating supplies, only by use of a certification in substantially the following form (in lieu of the endorsement specified in Priorities Regulation No. 3 and the certification required in CMP Regulation 5), signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

Preference Rating AA–1, CMP allotment symbol MRO–U. The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in Section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that all material covered by this order is required for use in maintenance, repair, or as operating supplies; that this order is rated and placed in accordance with the restrictions of Utilities Order No. U–1.

(ii) To deliveries of material other than controlled material for construction to serve rated projects or equipment, in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 3, as amended, Provided:

(a) That approval for such construction has been granted pursuant to paragraph (e) (2) hereof; and

(b) That the CMP allotment number assigned, upon approval of the construction pursuant to paragraph (e) (2), to deliveries of controlled material to be used in such construction by the producer is indicated on all rated orders.

(2) In addition to the requirements of paragraph (e) (1), a producer, in order to apply the preference ratings assigned by paragraph (b) (2), or to segregate material from inventory for the uses described in such paragraph, or to accept delivery of material for such uses, must, unless otherwise directed, communicate with the Office of War Utilities, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: U–1, supplying in detail the following information or such other information as may from time to time be required:

(i) The producer's job number relating to the proposed construction.

(ii) A description of the project or equipment to be served, including the location, an estimate of peak load and consumption, as well as other pertinent information.

(iii) A description of the proposed utility construction including a print of line construction showing size of conductor or pipe, capacity of transformers, pumps, compressors, tanks, holders, and other equipment, the location of hydrants and important control valves, as well as other information relevant thereto.

(iv) A statement of relationship to military needs, war production, public health or safety.

(v) A copy of the customer's project or equipment preference rating order or certificate. (Such copies of orders or certificates are not required when utilities' applications accompany the customer's project application.)

(vi) A statement explaining whether service can be rendered in any other way, or by any other producer, with the use of smaller quantities of critical materials.

(vii) An estimate of the total cost of the producer's project.

(viii) A list of materials required for the construction, giving the estimated weight of each material with the estimated cost, classified as indicated in the instructions for revised Form PD–200. (Such list should indicate materials in inventory not to be replaced, materials to be purchased from the excess stocks of other producers, materials to be obtained or replaced without priorities assistance, and materials expected to be obtained or replaced with priorities assistance.)

(ix) The dates when deliveries of controlled material as specified on Form CMP–4C are required to meet the construction schedule, and the quantities of controlled material needed during each calendar quarter, excluding, however, controlled material to be obtained from other U–1 producers.

The Director, Office of War Utilities, will notify the producer whether and to what extent the application is approved and no producer shall apply such preference ratings, segregate material from inventory for the uses described in paragraph (b) (2), or accept delivery of material for such uses without such approval.

(3) The ratings assigned by this order may be extended by a supplier in the manner provided in Priorities Regulation No. 3, and CMP Regulation 3.

(4) An order for material, other than controlled material, bearing a rating assigned or extended in accordance with this paragraph (e) and a CMP allotment number or symbol shall have the same status as a rated order bearing a CMP allotment number under all applicable CMP regulations. Such number or symbol shall constitute an "allotment number or symbol" for the purposes of CMP Regulation 3.

(f) Restrictions on deliveries, inventory, and withdrawals.—(1) Scheduling deliveries. No producer shall, in placing orders, schedule for delivery to him in any calendar quarterly period any material (whether or not rated pursuant to this order) to be used for maintenance, repair, as operating supplies, or for any other purpose (except material to be segregated for use in additions and expansions specifically authorized under paragraph (e) (2) of this order, or by an operative order in the P–19 series, or by an operative preference rating certificate), the aggregate dollar value of which shall exceed one-third of the aggregate dollar value of withdrawals of material of the same class from inventory for such uses during the last nine months of 1942, Provided, That:

(i) Not more than 50 per cent of permitted scheduled deliveries of wire, cable, and bus bar may be scheduled by an electric power producer for delivery from a supplier other than another producer, and

(ii) Not more than 75 per cent of permitted scheduled deliveries of iron and steel pipe may be scheduled by a producer of gas, water, central steam heating, or public sanitation service for delivery from a supplier other than another producer.

(2) Accepting deliveries; inventory restrictions. No producer shall at any time accept any delivery of material (whether or not rated pursuant to this order) to be used for maintenance, repair, as operating supplies, or for any other purpose (except material to be segregated for use in additions and expansions specifically authorized under paragraph (e) (2) of this order, or by an operative order in the P–19 series, or by an operative preference rating certificate), if the producer's inventory of material in the same class is, or will by virtue of such acceptance become in excess of a practical working minimum. The value of such practical working minimum inventory shall in no case exceed the aggregate dollar value of inventory permitted, class by class, by paragraph (f) (2) of Preference Rating Order P–46 as amended October 10, 1942: Provided that after March 31, 1943, the value of such inventory, class by class, shall not exceed:

(i) For material in the following classes—transmission and distribution, meters, house regulators, and (in the case of electric power producers) wire, cable, and bus bar, as well as wood poles and cross arms—four-thirds of the aggregate dollar value of items of material of the same class withdrawn from inventory for use in maintenance, repair, and as operating supplies during the last nine months of 1942;

(ii) For material in the following classes—source of supply, reservoirs, elevated and pressure tanks, pumping and booster stations (excluding fuel), generating station (other than fuel), production and pumping station (excluding fuel)—the aggregate dollar value of items of material of the same class in inventory on the most recent date during the calendar year 1940 on which the producer's inventory was taken, plus an amount proportionate to the increase in system output during the preceding calendar quarterly period compared with the system output during the corresponding quarterly period of 1940;

(iii) For material in the switching and substation class, the aggregate dollar value of items of material of the same class in inventory on the most recent date during the calendar year 1940 on which the producer's inventory was taken;

(iv) For every other class of material except the classes specified in paragraph (f) (7), two-thirds of the aggregate dollar value of material of the same class withdrawn from inventory for use in maintenance, repair, and as operating supplies during the last nine months of 1942.

(3) Withdrawals. No producer shall, during any calendar quarterly period, make withdrawals from inventory of material to be used for maintenance, repair, as operating supplies or for any other purpose (except material to be sold or to be segregated for use in additions and expansions specifically authorized under paragraph (e) (2) of this order, or by an operative order in the P–19 series, or by an operative preference rating certificate), the aggregate dollar value of which shall exceed one-third of the aggregate dollar value of withdrawals of material of the same class from inventory for such uses during the last nine months of 1942.

(4) Exceptions. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (f) (1) and (3):

(i) A producer may, in any calendar quarterly period, increase scheduled deliveries and withdrawals of material in any of the classes named in paragraph (f) (2) (ii), over the limits prescribed in paragraphs (f) (1) and (f) (3) respectively, proportionately to the increase in system output in the preceding calendar quarterly period over the system output in the calendar quarter of 1942 corresponding to such preceding calendar quarterly period;

(ii) A producer may make withdrawals from inventory of consumer's meters or house-regulators in any calendar quarterly period in an amount not in excess of one-third of the number of such meters or house-regulators condemned and destroyed by the producer in the last nine months of 1942, plus the number of meters and house-regulators necessary to serve the net increase in customers occurring in the current quarter. For the purposes of this subparagraph, withdrawals of meters and house-regulators shall not include meters or house-regulators put in service to replace meters and house-regulators removed from service;

(iii) A producer may in any calendar quarterly period schedule for delivery or make withdrawals from inventory of, material necessary for the maintenance or repair of the producer's property or equipment which is damaged by acts of the public enemy, sabotage, explosion, fire, flood, and storm or similar climatic conditions: Provided, That if the restrictions of paragraphs (f) (1) and (3) are exceeded because of the scheduling of such deliveries, or because of such withdrawals, a full report thereof together with reasons therefor shall be made immediately to the Director, Office of War Utilities.

(iv) A producer may in any calendar quarterly period schedule for delivery material in any class having in the aggregate a dollar value not more than the dollar value of material of the same class taken from the producer's inventory for delivery to other persons authorized to accept delivery under applicable regulations of the War Production Board but only if, and to the extent that, such taking has reduced the producer's inventory of material of the same class below a practical working minimum; and

(v) A producer may in any calendar quarterly period withdraw from inventory material in any class having in the aggregate a dollar value not more than the dollar value of usable material of the same class salvaged from plant during the current calendar quarterly period.

(5) Short item deliveries. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (f) (2), in cases where the inventory of a class of material exceeds a practical working minimum, a producer may accept deliveries of any short item within such class which is required for use in maintenance, repair, or as operating supplies;

(i) Provided, That all material in all classes of inventory in excess of a practical working minimum is:

(a) Separately accounted for on the producer's records,

(b) Continuously held for sale to financially responsible persons and agencies authorized (under applicable regulations issued by the War Production Board) to accept delivery thereof; and

(c) Reported to the War Production Board on Form WPB–921 A, B, or C, or in such other manner as the Director, Office of War Utilities, may prescribe, and

(ii) Further provided that material transferred from excess to practical working minimum inventory on the records of a producer or used from excess inventory is accounted for as a scheduled delivery under paragraph (f) (1); that is, that in any calendar quarterly period the aggregate dollar value of material in any class transferred on the producer's records from that portion of inventory which is separately accounted for as excess pursuant to this paragraph (f) (5) to practical working minimum inventory, or of material taken directly from such portion of inventory for use in maintenance, repair, or as operating supplies, plus the aggregate dollar value of short item deliveries in such class, does not exceed one-third of the aggregate dollar value of withdrawals of material of the same class from inventory for such uses during the last nine months of 1942.

(6) The Director, Office of War Utilities, on his own motion or on the application of any producer, may modify the limitations on practical working minimum inventory, on scheduling or accepting deliveries, or on making withdrawals set forth in this paragraph (f).

(7) The provisions of paragraphs (f) (1), (f) (2), and (f) (3) shall not apply to fuel, water purification material, and gas chemical material and supplies.

(g) Controlled material to be used in construction. (1) After March 31, 1943, notwithstanding the provisions of any preference rating certificate or other order, except a direction referring specifically to this paragraph (g), no producer shall schedule for delivery or accept delivery of any controlled material named in, and in the form indicated in, Schedule B of this order for use in construction if his usable stocks of such controlled material are, or will by virtue of such scheduling or acceptance become, in excess of the dollar value of such controlled material he estimates will be required for use in authorized construction on his system during the 60-day period succeeding the scheduled delivery date of such material, or the actual delivery date, whichever is the later.

(2) Notwithstanding the restrictions of paragraph (g) (1), a producer may accept deliveries of controlled material for use in construction under the circumstances stated in paragraph (c) of CMP Regulation 2.

(h) Restrictions on additions to plant. (1) No producer shall construct an addition to or an expansion of property or equipment, and no producer shall, in the case of contract construction, accept delivery of material for such purposes, unless:

(i) Such addition or expansion is specifically authorized by the Director, Office of War Utilities, or by the Director General for Operations, or

(ii) Such addition or expansion is an extension less than 250 feet in length (including service drop or service pipe and any portion built by or for a consumer) of a line to serve a new building where the foundation, under the main part of the structure, was completed prior to July 1, 1942, or

(iii) Such addition or expansion requires an expenditure of material having a dollar value of less than $1,500 in the case of underground construction and $500 in the case of other construction, and is not an extension of a line to consumer premises: Provided, however, That no single work order, job, or project shall be subdivided into parts to come below these limits and that such addition or expansion requires only material which is essential to minimum service standards and does not include material for the improvement of the producer's property through the replacement of material which is still usable in the existing installation with material of a better kind, quality, or design.

(2) No producer shall connect with a line built by or for a consumer or a prospective consumer which, at the date of its completion, exceeded the restrictions of this order applicable to lines constructed by or for producers, unless the producer has been specifically authorized by the Director, Office of War Utilities, to construct a line of substantially identical specifications to serve such consumer.

(i) Sales from inventory. No producer may make a sale of material from his inventory except as follows:

(1) Any sale of material which is a special sale under Priorities Regulation No. 13, as amended from time to time, may be made as provided in that regulation. In addition, any producer may make a special sale (i) to any other producer to fill an order bearing a preference rating of AA–5 or higher or (ii) pursuant to a specific direction issued by the Director, Office of War Utilities, and any such sale shall be expressly permitted under paragraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation No. 13.

(2) Any sale of material which is not a special sale under Priorities Regulation No. 13 may, subject to the restrictions of Limitation Orders L–31, L–94, and L–102, be made:

(i) To fill an order bearing a preference rating of AA–3 or higher, or

(ii) Pursuant to a specific direction issued by the Director, Office of War Utilities, or by the Director General for Operations, or

(iii) To a person who produces, or to the person from whom the producer purchased, such material in the form in which it was purchased, or

(iv) To a scrap dealer as scrap, or

(v) To a used equipment dealer for resale if the item is used equipment and is not listed on Schedule D hereof, or

(vi) To the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or a public housing authority for the repair of an actual or threatened breakdown of electric, gas, water, or central steam heating facilities owned and operated by such agencies. This exception shall not be construed to extend to a sale of material for use in construction.

(j) Placing orders. After March 31, 1943, except in an emergency no producer may transmit to any supplier, other than another producer, an order totaling $100 or more for the delivery of any material listed in Schedule C of this order (including material to be used in construction) without first obtaining a statement from the War Production Board Utility Inventory Control Office in his region that such material is not reasonably available in the excess inventory of another producer. This statement shall be secured by filing an inquiry, in duplicate, in letter form or by using the producer's own price inquiry forms, stating (1) the quantity of each item required and (2) a description of the item. An oral or telephonic statement will be sufficient for the purposes of this paragraph, provided that confirmation is promptly obtained.

(k) Refusal to sell to other producers. Any producer may, by specific direction from the Director, Office of War Utilities, be prohibited from applying or extending preference ratings assigned by this order or by any other certificate or order, upon a determination by the Director, Office of War Utilities, that such producer has wilfully refused to sell (after receiving a bona fide offer to purchase at not less than maximum prices established by regulations of the Office of Price Administration, made by any financially responsible producer who is authorized—under applicable regulations—to accept delivery of the material specified in such offer) the following material:

(1) Material which is in inventory in excess of a practical working minimum, and

(2) Material which is included in practical working minimum inventory when such material is required by another producer for the repair of an actual breakdown of facilities or equipment.

(l) Audits and reports. (1) Each producer and each supplier who applies the preference ratings hereby assigned, and each person who accepts a purchase order or contract for material to which a preference rating is applied, shall submit from time to time to an audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(2) Each producer and each such supplier shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request. Unless otherwise directed, producers shall file quarterly inventory reports on Forms PD–193B, 194B, or 195B.

(3) Each producer shall maintain a continuing record of inventory and of segregated material in his possession.

(4) In addition to the records required to be kept under Priorities Regulation No. 1, the producer, and each supplier placing or receiving any purchase order or contract rated hereunder, shall retain, for a period of 2 years, for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, endorsed copies of all such purchase orders or contracts whether accepted or rejected, segregated from all other purchase orders or contracts or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated for such inspection.

(m) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Office of War Utilities, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: U–1.

(n) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from process or use of, material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(o) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby, except as herein otherwise provided, are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time. The restrictions of paragraph (f) of CMP Regulation 5, however, shall not apply to producers as defined in this order, nor shall the preference ratings assigned in CMP Regulation 5 supersede preference ratings assigned by this order.

(p) All official actions pursuant to Preference Rating Order P–46 prior to February 24, 1943, in the name of the Director General for Operations are hereby ratified.

Issued this 24th day of February 1943.

J. A. KRUG,
Director, Office of War Utilities.

SCHEDULE A

All material in the inventory of any producer shall be carried on the producer's own records and reported to the War Production Board on Form PD–193B, 194B, 195B, or as otherwise required, classified as follows:

WATER UTILITIES MATERIAL CLASSES

1. Fuel, such as coal, fuel oil, and other fuel.
2. Material for source of supply, reservoirs, elevated and pressure tanks, pumping and booster stations (excluding fuels).
3. Purification materials, such as chlorine, alum, lime, other chemicals, and other purification operating supplies.
4. Meters.
5. Transmission and distribution material and supplies (excluding meters), cast iron, steel, and wrought iron pipe, copper and brass pipe and tubing, lead pipe, pipe fittings, valves and valve parts, hydrants, parts for meters and hydrants, other transmission and distribution materials and supplies.
6. Other material and supplies.

ELECTRIC UTILITIES MATERIAL CLASSES

1. Fuel, such as coal, fuel oil, and other fuel.
2. Generating Station Material (other than fuel), such as electrical equipment, parts, and materials, chemical materials and supplies, and other materials and supplies.
3. Switching and substation material, such as power transformers, other station equipment, parts, and material, and other material and supplies.
4. Wire, cable, and bus bar, such as bare copper and aluminum, weatherproof copper, underground cable, aluminum and copper shapes.
5. Wood poles and cross arms.
6. Meters.
7. Other transmission and distribution material, such as iron and steel poles, towers, and parts, line hardware—overhead and underground, distribution transformers, meter and transformer parts, and other line material and equipment (including insulators, lightning arrestors, etc.).
8. Other material and supplies.

GAS UTILITIES MATERIAL CLASSES

1. Fuel and gas production material, such as coal, coke, gas oil and crude oil, butane and propane, other fuel, residuals, and byproducts.
2. Production and pumping station material (excluding fuel).
3. Chemical material and supplies.
4. Meters and house regulators.
5. Transmission and distribution material (excluding meters and house regulators), such as cast iron, steel and wrought iron pipe, copper and brass pipe and tubing, pipe fittings, valves, and valve parts, governors and regulators, parts for meters, regulators, and governors, other transmission and distribution material and supplies.
6. Other material and supplies.

SCHEDULE B

Forms of controlled material subject to the restrictions of paragraph (g):

ALUMINUM

Cable (electric transmission only).

COPPER

Copper and copper base alloy tubing and pipe.

Copper rods and bars, including extruded shapes.

Copper wire and cable (including copper content of insulated wire and cable and copper content of composite conductor).

STEEL

Carbon and alloy steel bars, cold finished or hot rolled.
Carbon and alloy steel pipe.
Carbon and alloy steel plates.
Carbon steel rails and track accessories.
Carbon steel sheets and strip.
Carbon steel structural shapes and piling.
Carbon and alloy steel tubing.
Carbon steel wheels and axles.
Carbon and alloy steel wire rods, wire and wire products.

SCHEDULE C

Items restricted by the provisions of paragraph (j):

A. Items to be used by water utilities:
1. Cast iron pipe
2. Steel pipe
3. Wrought iron pipe
4. Cement asbestos pipe
5. Copper and brass tubing
6. Lead and lead-alloy pipe and tubing
7. Steel pipe fittings
8. Electric motors
9. Meters
10. Hydrants
11. Distribution valves, 2 inches and larger
12. Bronze valves, smaller than 2 inches, corporation cocks, curb stops
13. Pumps
14. Steel tanks
15. Steam engines
16. Chlorinators

B. Items to be used by gas utilities:
1. Cast iron pipe
2. Steel pipe
3. Wrought iron pipe
4. Copper and brass pipe and tubing
5. Steel pipe fittings, 1¼ inches and larger
6. Mechanical pipe couplings
7. District regulators and governors
8. Gas meters
9. Valves, 1¼ inches and larger
10. Condensers (coolers)
11. Electric motors
12. Steam engines
13. Exhausters
14. Boosters
15. Compressors
16. Pumps
17. Blowers
18. Station meters

C. Items to be used by electric utilities:
1. Wire (all types)
2. Cable
3. Bus bar shapes
4. Power transformers
5. Distribution transformers
6. Watt-hour meters
7. Oil or air circuit breakers
8. Disconnecting switches
9. Electric motors
10. Current transformers
11. Potential transformers
12. Suspension insulators
13. Lightning arrestors, 20,000 volts and over
14. Steam valve, piping and fittings, larger than 3 inch and for pressures of 300 pounds and over
15. Regulators (feeder voltage)
16. Fuse cutouts
17. Automatic line splices

SCHEDULE D

The following items of used equipment in the possession of producers may not be the subject of a sale to any used equipment dealer pursuant to paragraph (i) (2) (v) of this order:

USED EQUIPMENT

(1) Steam generating boilers designed for pressures of 100 pounds per square inch or above
(2) Steam engines and engine generator units of more than 300 h. p. rated capacity
(3) Oil or air circuit breakers of 2200 volts or higher
(4) Air circuit breakers of less than 2200 volts with interrupting capacity of 15,000 amperes or higher
(5) Metal clad switchgear of 2200 volts or higher
(6) Metal clad switchgear of less than 2200 volts containing oil or air circuit breakers listed in this Exhibit
(7) Unit substations containing transformers of 250 KVA or higher rated capacity
(8) Unit substations containing transformers of less than 250 KVA rated capacity if they also contain oil or air circuit breakers listed in this Exhibit
(9) Chlorinators
(10) Diesel and natural gas engines and engine generator units of more than 300 h. p. rated capacity
(11) Liquid filled power or distribution transformers 250 KVA and larger
(12) Steam turbine generator units of more than 300 h. p. rated capacity
(13) Mechanical drive steam turbines of more than 300 h. p. rated capacity
(14) Water gas sets
(15) Gas purification apparatus
(16) Electric motors, 250 h. p. or larger

PART 4500—ELECTRIC, GAS, WATER, AND STEAM UTILITIES—MATERIALS

[Supplementary Utilities Order U–1–b]

Supplementary Preference Rating Order P–46–b, as amended December 16, 1942, is hereby revoked and superseded by § 4500.3, Supplementary Utilities Order U–1–b, as follows:

§ 4500.3 Supplementary Utilities Order U–1–b. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (h) of Utilities Order U–1, gas and electric service connections may be made by producers to permit the operation of a gas or electric range in the dwelling of a domestic consumer; Provided, That:

(a) Complete facilities are not installed for serving either a gas range or an electric range.

(b) The dwelling proposed for connection is not equipped with a range of any kind; and

(c) Connections (including any additional service drop, primary, secondary, and ground conductor, but excluding service entrance conductor and interior wiring) can be made with an expenditure by the producer of not more than the following amounts of material:

(i) In the case of an electric range, 15 pounds of copper, or

(ii) In the case of a gas range, 75 feet of one and one-quarter inch steel pipe, or any length of steel pipe weighing in the aggregate not more than 170 pounds.

PART 4500—ELECTRIC, GAS, WATER, AND STEAM UTILITIES—MATERIALS

[Supplementary Utilities Order U–1–c]

Supplementary Preference Rating Order P–46–c, as amended January 20, 1943, is hereby revoked and superseded by § 4500.4 Supplementary Utilities Order U–1–c, as follows:

§ 4500.4 Supplementary Utilities Order U–1–c. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (h) of Utilities Order U–1, electric service connections may be made by producers to permit the operation of farm production equipment: Provided, That all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(a) The prospective consumer possesses one of the following types of electric farm equipment of sufficient capacity for the use contemplated, or can obtain such equipment without priorities assistance, or a preference rating of AA–5 or better has been assigned to deliveries of such equipment to him:

(1) Water pump for livestock; (2) milking machine; (3) milk cooler; (4) incubator; (5) brooder; (6) feed grinder.

(b) There is no other means of operating such equipment on the premises.

(c) The length of such connection will not exceed 100 feet per animal unit determined in accordance with Schedule I annexed hereto, and will not exceed 5,000 feet total length, except upon specific authorization from Director, Office of War Utilities or the Director General for Operations.

(d) The prospective consumer will use electric service to operate equipment for farm production, and has livestock on hand which, together with his estimated production of livestock for market, aggregates not less than 10 animal units, determined in accordance with Schedule I annexed hereto.

(e) Primary lines are single phase and are constructed of No. 6 galvanized steel wire (except that copper-covered steel wire or No. 4 or No. 6 A. C. S. R. conductor may be used to the extent that it is available in the excess inventory of any producer).

(f) Secondary lines and services require not more than 30 pounds of copper for any prospective consumer.

(g) The prospective consumer's application for service is accompanied by a certification from his USDA County War Board in substantially the following form:

(To the Utility Addressed):

Mr ---------- is eligible for an electric connection of ------ feet under the terms of Utilities Order U–1–c. In the opinion of this USDA County War Board this connection will result in a substantial increase in farm production, or a substantial saving of farm labor, and is in accord with the spirit, as well as the letter, of Utilities Order U–1–c

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1306—IRON AND STEEL

[RPS 49,[1] Amendment 12]

RESALE OF IRON OR STEEL PRODUCTS

A statement of considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

A new section and appendix designated as § 1306.164, Appendix F is added to Revised Price Schedule No. 49 and a new paragraph (aa) is added to § 1306.157; §§ 1306.151, 1306.152, 1306.157 (c) and (f) and 1306.159, Appendix A, (f) and (1) have been amended.

§ 1306.151 Maximum prices for the resale of iron or steel products. On and after December 15, 1941, regardless of the terms of any contract of sale or purchase, or other commitment, no seller as defined in § 1306.157 (b) of this Revised Price Schedule No. 49 shall sell, offer to sell, deliver or transfer iron or steel products, and no person shall buy, offer to buy, or accept delivery of iron or steel products at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A, incorporated herein as § 1306.159 and in Appendix F, incorporated herein as § 1306.164.

§ 1306.152 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in § 1306.159, Appendix A and § 1306.164, Appendix F, may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1306.157 Definitions. • • •

(c) "Iron or steel product" includes all iron or steel ingots, all semi-finished iron or steel products, all finished hot rolled or cold rolled iron or steel products, all iron or steel products further finished (by galvanizing, enameling, plating, coating, drawing, extruding or otherwise) in a manner commonly performed at steel works or rolling mills, and shall include all products listed in the table of Capacity and Production for Sale contained in the Annual Statistical Report of the American Iron and Steel Institute for 1939, pages 42 and 43: Provided, That the term shall not include pig iron. Any iron or steel product, as defined above, subject to the operations of pickling, cutting by machine or flame, cutting and threading of pipe, shall be considered a part of this definition of iron or steel product. This definition includes primes, rejects, seconds, wasters, waste wasters, side and end shearings, coil ends, fish tails, mill crop ends and all other off-grade products including reusable products. It does not include (1) crop ends of unused structural steel shapes, structural steel plates and steel shafting, all originating in shipbuilders' or in other fabricators' yards or plants, and reusable structural steel shapes, structural steel plates and steel shafting (which are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 310, Reusable Structural Steel Shapes and Plates, and Shafting [2]); (2) relaying rail (which is covered by Revised Price Schedule No. 46, Relaying Rail [3]); (3) reusable iron and steel pipe (which is covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 230, Reusable Iron and Steel Pipe [4]); and (4) iron and steel scrap (which is covered by Revised Price Schedule No. 4, Iron and Steel Scrap [5]). The term "iron or steel product" includes concrete reinforcing bars but not the fabrication thereof (which is covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 159, Fabricated Concrete Reinforcing Bars [6]). The term "iron or steel product" includes structural steel shapes but not the fabrication thereof (which is covered by Order No. 61, § 1499.3 (b) of General Maximum Price Regulation [7]). The term "iron or steel product" also includes cut nails allocated and sold to distributors under directive order, dated July 23, 1942, issued by the Director of Industry Operations, War Production Board.

• • • • • •

(f) "Dislocated tonnage" means—

(1) Any shipments by a seller of 150 to 350 miles which are made through any listed city, into any listed city, or substantially in the same direction and past any listed city; or

(2) Any shipments by a seller of more than 350 miles in any direction.

• • • • • •

(aa) The further definitions as set forth in § 1306.164, Appendix F, paragraph (b) shall apply to the secondary or rejected iron or steel products covered by Appendix F.

§ 1306.159 Appendix A: Domestic, export, and import maximum prices for iron and steel products. • • •

(f) Maximum delivered prices for dislocated tonnage. For dislocated tonnage, as defined in § 1306.157 (f), out of warehouse stock, the maximum delivered price for any iron or steel product so shipped shall be the seller's maximum price for shipments out of his own city or free delivery area (that is, his country price) as established in this Revised Price Schedule No. 49, plus freight to destination, less 15¢ per 100 pounds. Provided, That if, in computing the price on dislocated tonnage, the resultant delivered price is lower than the price that would be obtained by using § 1306.159 (b), only that part of the 15¢ need be deducted which will make the price

equivalent to that established by § 1306.159 (b). (In effect, if to the seller's advantage, he may use the dislocated tonnage provision when applicable; if not, he may use § 1306.159 (b)). Provided further, That the maximum delivered prices for dislocated tonnage shall not apply to shipments of pipe or tubular goods, and that on all shipments of standard pipe, seamless pipe, water well casing, large O. D. pipe, line pipe and wrought iron pipe originating from jobber's stocks in the States of Washington, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Wyoming, Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Arizona, California, New Mexico and Texas (El Paso and Pecos only) and shipped to points within the above mentioned states or to points West of the 103rd meridian, within the States of North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Texas, any freight actually paid in excess of the sum of thirty (30) cents per 100 pounds may be charged, notwithstanding that freight equalization of more than this amount may be required by the provisions of § 1306.159 (i) (1) and (2), establishing maximum delivered prices at such points of delivery.

• • • • • •

(l) Maximum delivered prices for all other secondary or rejected iron or steel products for which prices are not established in § 1306.164, Appendix F, and reusable iron or steel products not governed by any other maximum price regulation. The maximum delivered price for all other secondary or rejected iron or steel products for which prices are not established in § 1306.164, Appendix F, and reusable iron or steel products not governed by any other maximum price regulation, after such shearing, cutting, straightening, bending, or pickling as may be necessary, shall be computed in the same manner used by the seller on April 16, 1941. Provided, That such prices do not exceed the maximum delivered prices for comparable iron or steel products of prime quality.

• • • • • •

§ 1306.164, Appendix F: Maximum delivered prices for certain secondary or rejected iron or steel products. The maximum delivered prices for the following secondary or rejected iron or steel products: hot rolled, cold rolled, galvanized, galvannealed, and long terne sheets; hot and cold rolled strip; sheared and universal mill plates; tin mill black plate; and semi-finished iron or steel products; shall not be the prices for products of prime quality as otherwise established in this Revised Price Schedule No. 49, regardless of the sorting or other processing which the seller may perform, but shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of this § 1306.164, Appendix F.

(a) Relationship to § 1306.159, Appendix A. The provisions of the following paragraphs of § 1306.159, Appendix A, shall also apply to this Appendix F:

[8] 1306.159, Appendix A, (e) Maximum prices for exports of iron or steel products.

§ 1306.159, Appendix A, (k) (Sub-paragraphs (1), (2), (5), (6) and (8) only). Maximum delivered prices for shipments of carload quantities and in certain specific cases.

§ 1306.159, Appendix A, (m) General provisions.

§ 1306.159, Appendix A, (s) Maximum prices for imported iron or steel products.

(b) Definitions. When used in this Appendix F, the term:

(1) "Secondary or rejected iron or steel products" means iron or steel products purchased by the seller as any grade lower than prime quality or invoiced to him as such by his supplier.

(2) "Sheared to specifications" means cut from a size in stock either by shearing, slitting or burning to a different and exact dimension or dimensions specified in the buyer's order. It does not mean cut for the purpose of reconditioning material.

(3) "Unsheared" means not sheared to specifications.

(4) "Job or warehouse pickled" means pickled by any person other than an iron or steel mill or producer.

(5) "Mill extra" means the standard published or quoted extra of the United States Steel Corporation and its subsidiaries presently in effect as permitted under Revised Price Schedule No. 6.*

(6) "Rejects" means flat rolled secondary or rejected iron or steel products which meet the following requirements:

(i) Are of a designated specific grade, size and gauge (or thickness); and

(ii) Contain minor imperfections, such as surface defects, lack of flatness, camber, off-grade, off-temper and similar imperfections, but which may be utilized without requiring unusual processing in order to remove of minimize the imperfections; and

(iii) Conform to the following size restrictions:

Sheet "rejects": may not be smaller than 18" wide by 50" long or have an area of less than 900 square inches.

Sheared plate "rejects": may not be smaller than 36" wide by 84" long or have an area less than 21 square feet.

Universal mill plate "rejects": may not be smaller than 6" wide by 60" long.

Hot rolled strip "rejects": may not be smaller than 36" long by 3" wide or have an area less than 108 square inches.

Cold rolled strip "rejects": may not be smaller than 36" long by 3" wide or have an area less than 108 square inches.

Tin mill black plate "rejects": may not be smaller than 14" wide by 20" long or have an area less than 280 square inches; tin mill black plate "rejects" includes tin mill black plate in U. S. S. gauge #28 and heavier, which by product classification is priced on a sheet basis.

(7) "Wasters" means flat-rolled secondary or rejected iron or steel products

(i) Which meet the following requirements:

(a) Are of a designated specific gauge (or thickness) and are unassorted to size; and

(b) Are of the same quality as rejects; and

(c) Conform to the following size restrictions:

Sheet "wasters": may not be smaller than 15" wide by 40" long or have an area less than 600 square inches.

Sheared plate "wasters": may not be smaller than 24" wide by 72" long or have an area less than 12 square feet.

Universal mill plate "wasters": may not be smaller than 6" wide by 60" long.

Hot rolled strip "wasters": may not be smaller than 36" long by 3" wide or have an area less than 108 square inches.

Cold rolled strip "wasters": may not be smaller than 36" long by 3" wide or have an area less than 103 square inches.

Tin mill black plate "wasters": may not be smaller than 10" wide by 10" long or have an area less than 100 square inches; tin mill black plate "wasters" includes tin mill black plate in U. S. S. gauge #28 and heavier which by product classification is priced on a sheet basis; or

(ii) Which would otherwise be of rejects classification (i. e., sorted to size and of a designated specific gauge (or thickness)) except that they do not meet the rejects size restrictions but do meet the wasters size restrictions.

(8) "Waste wasters" means flat rolled secondary or rejected iron or steel products

(i) Which meet the following requirements:

(a) Are unassorted to both size and gauge (or thickness), whether of rejects or lower quality; and

(b) Conform to the following size restrictions:

Sheet "waste wasters": may not be smaller than 15" wide by 40" long or have an area less than 600 square inches.

Sheared plate "waste wasters": may not be smaller than 24" wide by 72" long or have an area less than 12 square feet.

Universal mill plate "waste wasters": may not be smaller than 6" wide by 60" long.

Tin mill black plate "waste wasters": may not be smaller than 10" wide by 10" long or have an area less than 100 square inches; tin mill black plate "waste wasters" includes tin mill black plate waste wasters in U. S. S. gauge #28 and heavier, which by product classification is priced on a sheet basis; or

(ii) Which are of rejects and wasters classifications but contain imperfections, in addition to those specified under rejects above, which appreciably limit the utility of the product (such as blisters, laminations, fluctuating gauges, perforations, dirty surfaces, bad edges, wrinkles and other mars), and require further processing by the purchaser (such as shearing, pickling, scrubbing or gauging) in order to remove or minimize such imperfections; and meet the waste wasters size restrictions as set forth in (i) above.

(9) "Offal" means flat-rolled secondary or rejected iron or steel products which would otherwise be:

(i) Of rejects classification, but fall within the following size restrictions:

Sheet offal: (a) are under 18" wide by 50" long or the equivalent area of 900 square inches but (b) are not smaller than 12" wide by 20" long or the equivalent area of 240 square inches.

Sheared plate offal: (a) are under 36" wide by 84" long or the equivalent area of 21 square feet but (b) are not smaller than 20" wide by 50" long or the equivalent area of 1000 square inches; or

(ii) Of wasters classifications, but fall within the following size restrictions:

Sheet offal: (a) are under 15" wide by 40" long or the equivalent area of 600 square inches but (b) are not smaller than 12" wide by 20" long or the equivalent area of 240 square inches.

Sheared plate offal: (a) are under 24" wide by 72" long or the equivalent area of 12 square feet but (b) are not smaller than 20" wide by 50" long or the equivalent area of 1000 square inches.

(10) "Side and end shearings" means flat-rolled secondary or rejected iron or steel products which would otherwise be:

(i) Of waste wasters classification, but fall within the following size restrictions:

Sheet side and end shearings: (a) are under 15" wide by 40" long or the equivalent area of 600 square inches but (b) are not smaller than 3" wide by 20" long or the equivalent area of 60 square inches.

Sheared plate side and end shearings: (a) are under 24" wide by 72" long or the equivalent area of 12 square feet but (b) are not smaller than 4" wide by 24" long or the equivalent area of 96 square inches; or

(ii) Of wasters or waste wasters classification, but fall within the following size restrictions:

Tin mill black plate side and end shearings. have an area less than 100 square inches.

(11) "Semi-finished rejects" means partly finished iron or steel products such as, but not limited to, blooms, billets, slabs, sheet bars, skelp, and tube rounds, which have been rejected because of poor surface condition, lack of internal soundness or other defects which render the steel unsuitable for sale or use by the mill as a prime product.

(c) Maximum delivered prices for unsheared products. (1) The maximum delivered price for unsheared secondary or rejected iron or steel products shall be the aggregate of:

(i) The delivered base price, as determined under sub-paragraph (2) below; plus

(ii) The extras specifically permitted in Table V below; and

(iii) The quantity charge or deduction and the warehouse pickling charge, where applicable, as set forth in paragraphs (f) and (g) below, respectively.

(2) The delivered base price (referred to under (c) (1) (i) above) shall be:

(i) For any shipment made within or into any city for which a base price for the product sold is listed in Tables I, II, III, or IV below, the delivered base price shall be the city base price as shown in Tables I, II, III, or IV for the classification and product sold. No freight or delivery charge is to be added.

(ii) For any shipment made to a destination for which a base price for the product sold is not listed in Tables I, II, III, or IV, the delivered base price shall be the country base price, as listed in Tables I, II, III, or IV of that city, for the classification and product sold, which, plus freight from that same city to destination, results in the lowest delivered base price at destination.

(iii) For any shipment which qualifies as dislocated tonnage, as defined in § 1306.157 (f), the delivered base price shall be the delivered country base price as established under subdivision (i) or (ii) above for the city from which shipment is made plus freight from that city to destination, less 15¢ per 100 pounds. If the resultant delivered base price at destination is lower than that established for such destination by subdivision (i) or (ii) above, it need not be used.

TABLE VI—PERMISSIBLE EXTRAS ON UNSHEARED SHEETS, STRIP, PLATES, AND BLACK PLATE

Description of product				Only permissible extras
Type	Classification	Sorting required	Size restrictions
I. Hot rolled, galvanized, galvannealed, and long terne sheets.	A. Rejects	Grade, size, and gauge.	Not smaller than 18" wide by 50" long or have an area of at least 900 square inches.	90% of mill extras for size, gauge and pickling (If pickled).
	B. Wasters	Gauge	Not smaller than 15" wide by 40" long or have an area of at least 600 square inches.	80% of mill extras for gauge and pickling (If pickled). Where products have a combined size and gauge extra, 80% of lowest standard mill extra for that particular gauge.
	C. Waste wasters	None	Not smaller than 15" wide by 40" long or have an area of at least 600 square inches.	75% of mill extra for pickling (If pickled). Where lot is unassorted as to gauge within a specified range of gauges, 75% of lowest standard mill gauge extra within the range, for the entire lot.
	D. Offal	Gauge	Not smaller than 12" wide by 20" long or have an area of at least 240 square inches.	75% of mill extras for gauge and pickling (If pickled.) Where products have a combined size and gauge extra, 75% of lowest standard mill extra for that particular gauge.
	E. Side and end shearings.	None	Not smaller than 3" wide by 20" long or have an area of at least 60 square inches.	65% of mill extras for pickling (If pickled). Where lot is unassorted as to gauge within a specified range of gauges, 65% of lowest standard mill gauge extra within the range, for the entire lot.
II. Cold rolled sheets	A. Rejects	Grade, size, and gauge.	Not smaller than 18" wide by 50" long or have an area of at least 900 square inches	90% of mill extras for size and gauge; and 60% of extras for drawing quality and stretcher levelled resquared quality, of $.25 per 100 lbs. and $.55 per 100 lbs., respectively, provided such quality is specified in buyer's order and is actually furnished by seller.
	B. Wasters	Gauge	Not smaller than 15" wide by 40" long, or have an area of at least 600 square inches.	80% of mill extra for gauge. Where products have a combined size and gauge extra, 80% of lowest standard mill extra for that particular gauge.
	C. Waste wasters	None	Not smaller than 15" wide by 40" long, or have an area of at least 600 square inches.	Where lot is unassorted as to gauge within a specified range of gauges, 75% of lowest standard mill gauge extra within the range, for the entire lot.
	D. Offal	Gauge	Not smaller than 12" wide by 20" long, or have an area of at least 240 square inches.	75% of mill extra for gauge. Where products have a combined size and gauge extra, 75% of lowest standard mill extra for that particular gauge.
	E. Side and end shearings.	None	Not smaller than 3" wide by 20" long, or have an area of at least 60 square inches.	Where lot is unassorted as to gauge within a specified range of gauges, 65% of lowest standard mill gauge extra within the range, for the entire lot.
III. Mill sheared plates	A. Rejects	Grade, size, and gauge.	Not smaller than 36" wide by 84" long or have an area of at least 21 square feet.	90% of mill extras for thickness, size, pickling (If pickled), and blasting and quality; provided that quality extra may be charged only if it has been actually charged by the mill, was not the reason for the original rejection and is specified in buyer's order.
	B. Wasters	Gauge	Not smaller than 24" wide by 72" long or have an area of at least 12 square feet.	80% of mill extras for gauge and pickling (If pickled). Where products have a combined size and gauge extra, 80% of lowest standard mill extra for that particular gauge.
	C. Waste wasters	None	Not smaller than 24" wide by 72" long or have an area of at least 12 square feet.	75% of mill extra for pickling (If pickled). Where lot is unassorted as to gauge within a specified range of gauges, 75% of lowest standard mill gauge extra within the range, for the entire lot.
	D. Offal	Gauge	Not smaller than 20" wide by 50" long or have an area of at least 1,000 square inches.	75% of mill extras for gauge and pickling (If pickled). Where products have a combined size and gauge extra, 75% of lowest standard mill extra for that particular gauge.
	E. Side and end shearings.	None	Not smaller than 4" wide by 24" long or have an area of at least 96 square inches.	65% of mill extra for pickling (If pickled). Where lot is unassorted as to gauge within a specified range of gauges, 65% of lowest standard mill gauge extra within the range for the entire lot.
IV. Universal mill plates.	A. Rejects	Grade, size and gauge.	Not smaller than 6" wide by 60" long..	90% of mill extras for thickness, size, pickling (If pickled), sand blasting and quality, provided that quality extra may be charged only if it has actually been charged by the mill, was not the reason for the original rejection and is specified in buyer's order.
	B. Wasters	Gauge	Not smaller than 6" wide by 60" long..	80% of mill extras for gauge and pickling (If pickled). Where products have a combined size and gauge extra, 80% of lowest standard mill extra for that particular gauge.
	C. Waste wasters	None	Not smaller than 6" wide by 60" long..	75% of mill extra for pickling (If pickled). Where lot is unassorted as to gauge within a specified range of gauges, 75% of lowest standard mill gauge extra within the range, for the entire lot.
V. Hot rolled strip	A. Rejects	Grade, size and gauge.	Not smaller than 3" wide by 36" long or have an area of at least 108 square inches.	90% of mill extras for size, gauge and pickling (If pickled).
	B. Wasters	Gauge	Not smaller than 3" wide by 36" long or have an area of at least 108 square inches.	80% of lowest mill extra for gauge and 80% of mill extra for pickling (If pickled) for width range of 5⅛" to 12" of that gauge.
VI. Cold rolled strip	A. Rejects	Grade, size and gauge.	Not smaller than 3" wide by 36" long or have an area of at least 108 square inches.	90% of mill extras for size and gauge for strip .26 carbon and higher, 90% of mill extras for size and gauge in cut lengths for either hard or soft temper for strip under .26 carbon.
	B. Wasters	Gauge	Not smaller than 3" wide by 36" long or have an area of at least 108 square inches.	80% of lowest mill gauge extra for width range of over 6" to 9" inclusive, in cut lengths.
VII. Black plate	A. Rejects	Grade, size and gauge.	Not smaller than 14" wide by 20" long or have an area of at least 280 square inches.	90% of mill extras for size, gauge and finish (If applicable).
	B. Wasters	Gauge	Not smaller than 10" wide by 10" long or have an area of at least 100 square inches.	80% of mill extras for gauge and finish (If applicable). Where products have a combined size and gauge extra, 80% of lowest standard mill extra for that particular gauge.
	C. Waste wasters	None	Not smaller than 10" wide by 10" long or have an area of at least 100 square inches.	75% of mill extra for finish (If applicable). Where lot is unassorted as to gauge within a specified range of gauges, 75% of lowest standard mill gauge extra within the range, for the entire lot.

[1] This table is to be used in conjunction with tables I, II, III, and IV.

(d) Maximum delivered prices for products sheared to specifications. (1) The maximum delivered price for secondary or rejected iron or steel products sheared to specifications shall be the aggregate of:

(i) The delivered base price, as determined under subparagraph (2) below; plus

(ii) The extras specifically permitted in Table VIII below; and

(iii) The quantity charge or deduction, the warehouse pickling charge, and the shearing, slitting or flame-cutting charge, where applicable, as set forth in paragraphs (f) and (g) and Table IX below, respectively. Provided, That no shearing or slitting charge may be made where hot and cold rolled sheets are sheared or slit to width only, 12" or under, and plates are sheared or flame-cut to width only, 6" or under.

(2) The delivered base price (referred to under (d) (1) (i) above) shall be:

(i) For any shipment made within or into any city for which a base price for the product sold is listed in Table VI or VII below, the delivered base price for the product sold shall be the city base price, as shown in Table VI or VII. No freight or delivery charge is to be added.

(ii) For any shipment to a destination for which a base price for the product sold is not listed in Table VI or VII, the delivered base price shall be the country base price, as listed in Table VI or VII of that city for the product sold, which, plus freight from that same city to destination, results in the lowest delivered base price at destination.

(iii) For any shipment which qualifies as dislocated tonnage, as defined in § 1306.157 (f), the delivered base price shall be the delivered country base price as established under sub-division (i) or (ii) above for the city from which shipment is made plus freight from that city to destination, less 15¢ per 100 pounds. If the resultant delivered base price at destination is lower than that established for such destination by sub-division (i) or (ii) above, it need not be used.

(3) The weight used in determining the total delivered price of sheared products shall be the net weight of the products shipped, not the gross weight from which they were sheared.

TABLE VIII[1]—PERMISSIBLE EXTRAS ON PLATES AND SHEETS SHEARED TO SPECIFICATIONS

Description of product		Only permissible extras
Type of shearing or slitting	Type of product sheared
I. To both length and width	A. Hot rolled sheets	A. 90% of lowest mill size and gauge extra for the particular gauge of hot rolled sheets, and 90% of mill extra for pickling (if pickled) of hot rolled sheets.
	B. Cold rolled sheets	B. 90% of lowest mill size and gauge extra for the particular gauge of cold rolled sheets.
	C. Galvanized sheets	C. 90% of mill gauge extra for galvanized sheets.
	D. Galvannealed sheets	D. 90% of mill gauge extra for galvannealed sheets.
	E. Long terne sheets	E. 90% of mill gauge extra for long terne sheets.
	F. Plates (both mill sheared and universal mill)	F. 90% of mill gauge extra for plates.
II. To width only over 12" wide or to length only.	A. Hot rolled sheets	A. 90% of lowest mill size and gauge extra for the particular gauge of hot rolled sheets, and 90% of mill extra for pickling (if pickled) of hot rolled sheets.
	B. Cold rolled sheets	B. 90% of lowest mill size and gauge extra for the particular gauge of cold rolled sheets.
	C. Galvanized sheets	C. 90% of mill gauge extra for galvanized sheets.
	D. Galvannealed sheets	D. 90% of mill gauge extra for galvannealed sheets.
	E. Long terne sheets	E. 90% of mill gauge extra for long terne sheets.
III. To width only 12" or under	A. Hot rolled sheets	A. 90% of mill hot rolled strip extras for size, gauge and pickling (if pickled).
	B. Cold rolled sheets	B. 90% of mill cold rolled strip extras for size and gauge for strip .29% carbon and higher; 90% of mill cold rolled strip extras for size and gauge and lengths for either hard or soft temper for strip under .29% carbon.
IV. To width only over 6" wide or to length only.	Plates (both mill sheared and universal mill)	60% of mill extras for gauge and, pickling (if pickled) of plates.
V. To width only 6" or under (¼" to 4" thick inclusive).	Plates (both mill sheared and universal mill)	100% of mill bar size flats extra for size.

B. PLATE[1] SHEARING CHARGES

[Dollars per 100 pounds]

Type of shearing	Length
	6" to under 12"	12" to under 24"	24" to under 36"	36" to under 60"	60" and longer
I. To length only	.55	.30	.15	.10	.00
II. To width only, over 6" wide,[2] or to any width and the lengths listed	.75	.50	.35	.30	.20
III. Minimum shearing charge	$1.50 per size

[1] ¼" to 1" thick inclusive, including universal mill, sheared, flange, fire box, high carbon and floor plates.
[2] Widths only 6" and under are covered by table VII, under "To width only 6" or under, (¼" to 4" thick inclusive)."

C. PLATE[1] FLAME-CUTTING CHARGES

1. THE CHARGES

[Dollars per lineal foot]

Thickness (inches)	Lineal feet			Thickness (inches)	Lineal feet
	Under 5	5 to under 20	20 and over		Under 5	5 to under 20	20 and over
1	.23	.18	.14	3½	.67	.53	.40

3¾	.61	.49	.37	10	2.51	2.01	1.51

[1] For all flame-cutting of plates over 1" thick, except for plates 1" thick and under which are flame-cut to width of 6" wide and narrower. The latter range is covered by table VII, in the column "To width only 6" or under (¼" to 4" thick inclusive)."

2. THE METHOD OF APPLYING THE CHARGES

A. Charges are to be based on total lineal feet of one thickness.
B. Minimum charge—50¢ net, per thickness.
C. Intermediate thicknesses are to take the next heavier plate basis.
D. Fractions of an inch of burning are to be charged for the next full inch.
E. Rectangular Plates—All thicknesses charged on net weight plus flame-cutting one side and one end at above rates per lineal foot. Flame-cutting all edges is specified, when charge is for two sides and two ends.
F. Circular Plates—All thicknesses are to be charged on the basis of gross weight of smallest square from which circle can be cut (size of square ½ inch larger than diameter specified), plus flame-cutting charge based on circumference of circle.
G. Rings—All thicknesses are to be charged at the gross weight of the nearest square from which ring can be flame-cut (size of square ½ inch larger than diameter specified), plus lineal foot charge for flame-cutting inner and outer circumferences.
H. Sketches with Straight Sides and no Re-entrant Cuts—All thicknesses are to be charged at the gross weight of smallest rectangle from which sketch can be cut (size of rectangle ½ inch larger than plate required), plus charge for lineal feet per perimeter of sketch.

(e) Maximum delivered prices for semi-finished rejects. (1) The maximum delivered price for semi-finished rejects shall be the aggregate of:

(i) The mill basing point base price for rerolling grade (or prime grade if there is no rerolling grade for the product) at the mill basing point nearest freightwise to the point of shipment, plus the applicable mill extra for cross-sectional area, plus freight from the basing point to location from which shipment is made, as established by Revised Price Schedule No. 6; plus

(ii) 10% per cent of (i) above; plus

(iii) Freight from location from which shipment is made to customer's destination.

(f) Quantity charge or deduction. (1) For a quantity of less than 40,000 pounds.

(i) For all products except cold rolled strip.

(a) To determine the quantity charge or deduction under subdivision (b) below, combine the weight of material on all orders of one day from one person for shipment to one destination, regardless of how shipments may be split by the seller for his own convenience or at the buyer's request; similarly, combine the weight of material in all shipments to one person in one day to one destination, regardless of whether such shipments are made against one order or any number of orders placed over a period of time.

(b) The quantity charge or deduction shall be at the rate of:

Under 100 =	Add $1.00 per 100 =
100 = to 399 =	Add $0.75 per 100 =
400 = to 1,999 =	No charge or deduction
2,000 = to 9,999 =	Deduct $0.10 per 100 =
10,000 = to 19,999 =	Deduct $0.15 per 100 =
20,000 = to 39,999 =	Deduct $0.20 per 100 =

(ii) For cold rolled strip only.

(a) To determine the quantity charge or deduction under sub-division (b) below, combine the weight of material on all orders for one gauge, width, temper and finish, of one day from one person for shipment to one destination, regardless of how shipments may be split by the seller for his own convenience or at the buyer's request; similarly, combine the weight of material in all shipments of one gauge, width, temper and finish, made to one person in one day to one destination, regardless of whether shipments are made against one order or any number of orders placed over a period of time.

(b) The quantity charge or deduction shall be at the rate of:

Under 200 =	Add $5.25 per 100 =
200 = to 299 =	Add $3.25 per 100 =
300 = to 499 =	Add $2.25 per 100 =
500 = to 999 =	Add $1.25 per 100 =
1,000 = to 1,999 =	Add $0.65 per 100 =
2,000 = to 5,999 =	Add $0.25 per 100 =
6,000 = to 39,999 =	No charge or deduction

(2) For a quantity of 40,000 pounds or more, the quantity charge or deduction shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of § 1306.159 (k) (2) and (5).

(g) Warehouse pickling charge. For secondary or rejected iron or steel products which have been job or warehouse pickled, in addition to the mill pickling extra allowed under Table V or VIII, there may also be added 25¢ per 100 pounds for sheets and 20¢ per 100 pounds for plates. No extra charges may be made in connection with this charge, such as, but not limited to, oiling, liming, drying, handling and transportation or cartage. The method of invoicing this warehouse pickling charge is set forth in paragraph (j) below.

(h) Restrictions on extras and charges. (1) Where a shipment is made containing two or more products or grades of products (or both) having different base prices or quality extras (or both), the maximum price for any shipment containing such range of products or grades (or both), unless the exact amount of each can be specified by the seller, shall be determined by computing the lowest base price or the lowest quality extra (or both). Such lowest base price or lowest quality extra (or both) shall be used in computing the price for the entire shipment.

For example:

(i) Where a shipment contains both hot rolled strip and cold rolled strip and the exact amount of each product cannot be specified by the seller, the maximum price for the entire shipment is the hot rolled strip price.

(ii) Where a shipment contains both hot rolled sheets and hot rolled pickled sheets and the exact amount of each grade cannot be specified by the seller, the maximum price for the entire shipment is the hot rolled sheet price.

(2) No extras not specifically listed in Table V or VIII above, and no charges not specifically listed in paragraphs (f) and (g) and Table IX above, may be added to the maximum delivered price (such as, but not limited to, analysis, thickness or gauge tolerance, deoxidizing, surface inspection, and roller levelling). Provided, That the Office of Price Administration may approve, upon application, certain extras and charges not permitted in this § 1306.164, Appendix A, and which were in effect and charged on April 16, 1941, by the seller or group of sellers applying.

(i) Special inventory filing and record requirements. Every seller of secondary or rejected iron or steel products, covered by this § 1306.164, Appendix F, shall comply with the following requirements:

(1) File, in duplicate, with the Office of Price Administration, Iron and Steel Price Branch, Washington, D. C., on or before April 1, 1943, his total inventory on hand on March 1, 1943, of secondary or rejected iron or steel products covered by this § 1306.164, Appendix F. This filing need not be made by any seller who had no inventory of secondary or rejected iron or steel products on hand on March 1, 1943. The inventory filing shall include the total tonnage of the products covered by this § 1306.164, Appendix F, segregated according to prime and secondary or rejected quality. A separate filing of this information shall be made for each warehouse location.

This requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(2) Keep open for inspection for a two year period an inventory in a form similar to that required to be filed under subparagraph (1) above, taken at the end of each of his accounting periods. Also, keep open for inspection for two years after date of purchase a record of all material purchased as secondary or rejected iron or steel products which are covered by this § 1306.164, Appendix F. Such record shall distinguish secondary or rejected quality material from prime quality material. Further, there shall be kept for the same period records of purchases and sales of universal mill plates adequate to identify them as the product of a universal mill; of purchases and sales of all classifications of tin mill black plate in U. S. S. gauge # 28 and heavier; and of sales of job and warehouse pickled material on which a charge has been made in accordance with paragraph (g) above.

(j) Special invoicing requirements. Every seller of secondary or rejected iron or steel products shall indicate on all invoices covering the sale of such products, the classification of the material sold, that is, rejects, wasters, waste wasters, offal or side and end shearings; also, whether sheared to specifications or unsheared. There shall, also, be indicated as a separate item on each invoice covering all job or warehouse pickled material on which a charge has been made in accordance with paragraph (g) above, the statement "charge for warehouse pickling."

(k) Secondary or rejected products not qualifying as rejects, wasters, waste wasters, offal or side and end shearings. The maximum prices for secondary or rejected iron or steel products subject to this § 1306.164, Appendix F, which do not qualify as rejects, wasters, waste wasters, offal, or side and end shearings, shall be those set forth in Revised Price Schedule No. 4 for sales of iron and steel scrap to a consumer.

§ 1306.158 (a) Effective dates of amendments. • • • (1) Amendment No. 12 (§§ 1306.151; 1306.152; 1306.157 (c), (f), and (aa); 1306.159, Appendix A, (f) and (l); 1306.164, Appendix F) to Revised Price Schedule No. 49 shall become effective March 1, 1943.

Issued this 23d day of February, 1943.

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 5B,[1] Amendment 15]

GASOLINE RATIONING REGULATIONS FOR PUERTO RICO

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Sections 1394.2460, 1394.2461, 1394.2462 and 1394.2463 are added and paragraph (o) is added to § 1394.3052.

Zafra Season Rations

§ 1394.2460 Zafra season—(a) Introductory. Sugar has been declared an essential commodity, the production of which is a necessary part of the war effort. Sugar cane is cut and processed in Puerto Rico during a period covering approximately from January 1st to July 1st in each year which is known as the "Zafra," or grinding season. So that there shall be a minimum of interference with the operations of the "Zafra" and in order to have complete control over the rationing of gasoline to be used in connection therewith, a "Zafra" season ration for gasoline may be issued by the Office of Price Administration for Puerto Rico during the "Zafra" season.

§ 1394.2461 Zafra season ration. (a) The owner or the person entitled to the use of a truck actually used for the transportation of cane, sugar or supplies essential to the cutting, processing, grinding and planting of sugar during the "Zafra" season shall be entitled to the gallonage necessary to perform such services.

(b) Applicant shall use the S type ration book issued to him by a board to acquire gasoline for the necessary haulage on the first day of his participation in the "Zafra". At the conclusion of his first day's work, he shall surrender to a member of the board assigned to the sugar central by which applicant has been engaged all ration books issued to him for the operation of each truck used by him on that date and upon proof by applicant to such member of the board of the consumption of a specific quantity of gasoline that day, he shall receive a Zafra certificate authorizing the acquisition of such quantity of gasoline. The Zafra certificate shall be on Form OPA PR–R 189, shall be signed by the authorized member of the board, signed and sealed by the person duly authorized to sign on behalf of the sugar central and signed by the applicant or his agent prior to its delivery to the applicant. Thereafter a Zafra certificate shall be issued at the completion of each day's work for the quantity of gasoline consumed during that day.

(c) Each Zafra certificate shall be valid for transfers of gasoline only on the next succeeding working day into the tanks of trucks specifically listed on the reverse thereof. Upon transfer of a quantity of gasoline into the truck or trucks whose license numbers are listed on the reverse thereof, the applicant or his agent shall insert the number of gallons so transferred to each such truck, and sign his name respectively, in the last two columns provided for the purpose.

(d) Each dealer shall deliver all Zafra certificates in his possession in accordance with the provisions of § 1394.2913, to the Board having jurisdiction not later than noon of the first Monday following the transfer of gasoline thereon and shall receive an exchange certificate (Form OPA R–548) in exchange therefor.

(e) Zafra certificates shall be numbered serially. The original or copy on white paper shall be delivered to the applicant. The duplicate original, or yellow copy, which shall be signed by the applicant, representative of the sugar central and by the member of the board, shall be retained by the sugar central until such time as the Director shall require its surrender to the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1394.2462 Weekly reports by sugar centrals. (a) Each sugar central shall prepare in duplicate a weekly report on form OPA PR–R 190. Such report shall be signed by a duly authorized officer or agent of the sugar central. The original thereof shall be mailed to the Office of Price Administration for Puerto Rico and a duplicate original thereof to the board having jurisdiction on the Monday following each calendar week of the Zafra season.

§ 1394.2463 Return of S type ration book. (a) Upon the termination of the use of a truck for the Zafra season, the owner or the person entitled to the use thereof and the duly authorized officer or agent of the sugar central shall both certify to that fact by executing Form OPA PR–R 191. Upon surrender thereof to the board having jurisdiction over the sugar central, the board shall remove from the ration book for cancellation all expired coupons and a proportionate number of coupons for that portion of the currently valid period which has already passed and shall then return the ration book to the person entitled thereto.

(b) Nothing contained in §§ 1394.2460 to 1394.2463 shall be construed to limit the right of any person to use any other type of ration authorized pursuant to Ration Order No. 5B.

• • • • •

§ 1394.3052 Effective dates of amendments. • • •

(o) Amendment No. 15 (§§ 1394.2460, 1394.2461, 1394.2462 and 1394.2463[1] to Ration Order No. 5B, shall become effective at 8:00 a. m. on January 29, 1943.

(Pub. Law 617, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong., Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong., W.P.B. Directive No. 1, Supp. Dir. No. 1J, 7 F.R. 562, 8731)

Issued this 29th day of January 1943.

WILLIAM B. MEAD,
Director,
Office of Price Administration
for Puerto Rico.

PART 1439—UNPROCESSED AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

[Temporary MPR 28]

CERTAIN PERISHABLE FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, to issue a temporary maximum price regulation establishing as the maximum prices for certain perishable fruits and vegetables the prices prevailing with respect thereto within the five days prior to the date of issuance of this regulation.

The maximum prices herein established are not below prices which will reflect to the producers of these perishable fruits and vegetables prices equal to the highest of the prices required by the provisions of section 3 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the aforesaid Act and Executive Order, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[1] Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 is hereby issued.

1439.251 Purposes of this regulation.
1439.252 Prohibition against buying and selling above maximum prices.
1439.253 Maximum prices for certain perishable fruits and vegetables.
1439.254 Exempt sales.
1439.255 Evasion.
1439.256 Sales for export.
1439.257 Records and reports.
1439.258 Enforcement.
1439.259 Petitions for amendment.
1439.260 Relationship to the General Maximum Price Regulation.
1439.261 Geographical applicability.
1439.262 Definitions.
1439.263 Revocation or replacement of regulation.
1439.264 Effective period.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1439.251 to 1439.264, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250; 7 F.R. 7891.

§ 1439.251 Purposes of this regulation. The purposes of this regulation are to establish maximum prices for sales and deliveries of the following fresh fruits and vegetables, whether imported or domestic:

(a) Tomatoes.
(b) Snap beans.
(c) Carrots.
(d) Cabbage.
(e) Green peas.

The perishable fruits and vegetables listed above are referred to in this regulation as the "listed commodities."

§ 1439.252 Prohibition against buying and selling above maximum prices. From February 23, 1943 to April 24, 1943, inclusive, regardless of any contract, agreement, or any other obligation no person shall sell or deliver a listed commodity and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive a listed commodity at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing. Lower prices than the maximum prices may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1439.253 Maximum prices for certain perishable fruits and vegetables. (a) The seller's maximum price for any listed commodity shall be the highest price charged by the seller to a purchaser of the same class during the period February 18, 1943 to February 22, 1943, inclusive, for the same listed commodity.

(b) If a seller during the period of February 18, 1943 to February 22, 1943, inclusive, did not sell, deliver or otherwise deal in a listed commodity, such seller's maximum price for such listed commodity shall be the highest price charged during the period February 18, 1943 to February 22, 1943, inclusive, by his most closely competitive seller to a purchaser of the same class for such listed commodity.

§ 1439.254 Exempt sales. This Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 shall not apply to the following:

(a) Deliveries to the United States, or any agency thereof, under contracts entered into prior to February 18, 1942.

(b) Sales or deliveries made directly by a farmer of any listed commodity grown on his farm. However, this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 shall apply to a sale or delivery by a farmers' cooperative or to a sale or delivery made directly by a farmer of any listed commodity to an ultimate consumer if during the preceding month the farmer's sales to ultimate consumers of all food and food products produced on his farm exceeded $75.

§ 1449.255 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to a listed commodity alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of any commission, service, transportation,, or other charge, or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or by changing a business practice relating to the price lines, grading, labeling, packaging or branding of a listed commodity.

§ 1439.256 Sales for export. The maximum prices at which a person may export a listed commodity shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1439.257 Records and reports. (a) As to all sales not specifically exempted by other sections of this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 every person selling a listed commodity shall preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration all his existing records relating to prices which he charged for such listed commodity delivered or supplied during the period February 18, 1943 to February 22, 1943, inclusive, and his offering prices for delivery or supply of a listed commodity during such period; and shall prepare, on or before March 15, 1943, on the basis of all available information and records, and thereafter keep for examination by any person during ordinary business hours, a statement showing (1) the highest prices charged for such listed commodity during such period, together with an appropriate identification of such commodity, and (2) all his customary allowances, discounts, and other price differentials.

(b) As to all sales not specifically exempted by other sections of this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 every person selling a listed commodity shall keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration records of the same kind as he has customarily kept relating to the prices which he charged for such listed commodity during the period from February 23, 1943 to April 24, 1943, inclusive, and in addition, records showing, as precisely as possible, the basis upon which he determined maximum prices.

(c) Such persons shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

§ 1439.258 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses, provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 or of any price schedule, regulation, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration, or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest district, state, or regional office of the Office of Price Administration, or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1439.259 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, and amendments, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1439.260 Relationship to the General Maximum Price Regulation. The following sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation,[1] and amendments to them, shall be applicable to every person selling a listed commodity:

(a) Determination of maximum prices by sellers at retail operating more than one retail establishment. (§ 1499.4a) In applying § 1499.4a of the General Maximum Price Regulation, the base period of February 18, 1943 to February 22, 1943, inclusive, shall be substituted for the period of March 1942 used therein.

(b) Adjustment of maximum prices in cases of special deals. (§ 1499.4).

(c) Transfers of business or stock in trade. (§ 1499.5).

(d) Federal and state taxes. (§ 1499.7) In applying § 1499.7 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, the base period of February 18, 1943 to February 22, 1943, inclusive, shall be substituted for the period of March 1942 used therein, and the date February 22, 1943, shall be substituted for the date March 31, 1942.

§ 1439.261 Geographical applicability. The provisions of this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 shall be applicable to the United States, its territories and possessions, and the District of Columbia.

§ 1439.262 Definitions. (a) When used in this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28, the term:

(1) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, and any agencies of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Highest price charged during the period February 18, 1943 to February 22, 1943, inclusive, means the highest price which the seller charged for a listed commodity delivered by him during the period from February 18, 1943 to February 22, 1943, inclusive, to a purchaser of the same class, or, if the seller made no such delivery during such period, his highest offering price for delivery during that period to a purchaser of the same class. No seller shall change his customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials unless such change results in a lower price. No seller shall require any purchaser, and no purchaser shall be permitted, to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery or supply of any listed commodity than the seller required purchasers of the same class to pay during the period February 18, 1943 to February 22, 1943, inclusive, on deliveries of a listed commodity.

(3) "Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice followed by the seller in the ninety-day period preceding February 22, 1943, in setting different prices for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, but not limited to, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, government agency, public institution, individual consumer or any ordinarily recognized subgroup or combination of the foregoing) or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or under different conditions of sale.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in the General Maximum Price Regulation, issued by the Office of Price Administration, shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1439.263 Revocation or replacement of regulation. This Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 may be revoked or replaced by a permanent maximum price regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1439.264 Effective period. This Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 (§§ 1439.251 to 1439.264, inclusive) shall become effective on February 23, 1943 and shall unless earlier revoked or replaced expire at twelve o'clock midnight, April 24, 1943.

Issued this 23d day of February 1943.

PRENTISS M. BROWN,
Administrator.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 297 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

IRVINGTON VARNISH & INSULATOR COMPANY

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1733 Authorization for Irvington Varnish & Insulator Company to determine maximum prices for new products of varnished paper or varnished paper combined with other materials which products differ in use, serviceability or price range from other products delivered during March 1942 by Irvington Varnish and Insulator Company, and also differ in use, serviceability or price range from products delivered by Irvington Varnish & Insulator Company's most nearly competitive manufacturer during March 1942. These products are hereinafter called "new varnished paper products". (a) The maximum prices which may be charged for new varnished paper products sold by Irvington Varnish & Insulator Company, Irvington, New Jersey, hereinafter called "the manufacturer" shall be determined in accordance with the following instructions:

(1) The cost of raw materials shall be computed at the cost of acquisition, which in no event shall exceed the appropriate maximum price established by the Office of Price Administration for such raw materials, or at the highest price which was charged for such raw materials during March 1942, whichever is lower. All subsequent savings in the cost of raw materials shall be reflected in the maximum prices.

(2) All charges for hand or machine operations involved in the manufacture or conversion of the product shall be computed at a rate not to exceed the hourly rate at which such hand or machine operations were computed during the month of March 1942, and the time allowance, or the resulting piece rates, for the operations shall not be in excess of those estimated or used during the month of March 1942.

(3) The percentage margin or difference between total manufacturing costs and selling price, f. o. b. manufacturer's plant, shall not exceed that percentage margin used in determining a selling price for that item sold by the manufacturer during March 1942 which most closely resembles the new varnished paper product in manufacturing cost, quantities of raw materials per unit, converting operations required and quantity of production.

(i) The manufacturer shall continue to grant its customary discounts, differentials and allowances to the different classes of purchasers in accordance with its accepted practice.

(ii) If the manufacturer's customary practice during March 1942 was to sell on a delivered basis, such practice shall be continued.

(b) Within ten days after a maximum price has been determined in accordance with this Order, Irvington Varnish & Insulator Company shall report to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. the maximum price as computed by it. The report shall set forth in detail a description of the new varnished paper product, a statement of the facts which differentiate this product from other commodities delivered during March 1942 by the manufacturer and by other competitive manufacturers of the same class, a computation of estimated costs, together with the percentage margin or difference between total manufacturing costs and selling price f. o. b. manufacturer's plant, the amount of transportation charges to be absorbed and also a statement indicating whether or not the method of handling freight charges is in line with the established policy of Irvington Varnish & Insulator Company for comparable commodities.

(c) Within ninety days after a maximum price has been determined in accordance with this order, Irvington Varnish & Insulator Company shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a report covering the actual manufacturing costs of the new varnished paper product. The report shall cover the entire period during which the new varnished paper product shall have been manufactured and any change in the allocation of freight charges and those set forth in the report required by (b) above shall be indicated.

(d) Any selling price determined under this order shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(e) This Order No. 297 may be revoked or amended by the Office of Price Administration at any time.

(f) This Order No. 297 (§ 1499.1733) shall become effective February 25, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 24th day of February 1943.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 299 Under § 1499.3 (b) of GMPR]

SPERTI, INCORPORATED

Order No. 299—Maximum Prices Authorized under § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, It is ordered:

§ 1499.1735 Approval of maximum prices for sales of Bio-Dyne Ointment produced by Sperti, Incorporated—(a) Maximum prices for sales at retail of Bio-Dyne Ointment by any person—(1) Maximum prices for sales at retail other than on prescription. The maximum prices for sales at retail other than on prescription by any person of Bio-Dyne Ointment produced by Sperti, Incorporated, Cincinnati, Ohio, are established as follows:

Size of package:	Maximum price per package
1 ounce	$0.65
15 ounces	5.50
5 pounds	21.50

(2) Maximum prices for sales on prescription. The maximum prices established by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall not apply to sales on prescription of Bio-Dyne Ointment produced by Sperti, Incorporated. The maximum price for a sale on prescription of such Bio-Dyne Ointment shall be determined by the person making the sale on prescription in accordance with the provisions of § 1499.3 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, except that no report of the maximum price so determined need be filed as required by that section.

(b) Maximum prices for sales to retailers other than chain stores. The maximum prices for sales to retailers other than chain stores by any person of Bio-Dyne Ointment produced by Sperti, Incorporated, are established as follows:

Size of package:	Maximum price per dozen
1 ounce	$5.20
15 ounces	44.00
5 pounds	171.96

(c) Maximum prices for sales to wholesalers and chain stores. The maximum prices for sales to wholesalers and chain stores by any person of Bio-Dyne Ointment produced by Sperti, Incorporated, are established as follows:

Size of package:	Maximum price per dozen
1 ounce	$4.33
15 ounces	36.67
5 pounds	143.28

(d) Maximum prices for sales to surgical supply houses. The maximum prices for sales to surgical supply houses by any person of Bio-Dyne Ointment produced by Sperti, Incorporated, are established as follows:

Size of package:	Maximum price per dozen
1 ounce	$4.68
15 ounces	39.60
5 pounds	154.80

(e) Discounts, allowances and price differentials on sales by Sperti, Incorporated, of Bio-Dyne Ointment. As to sales by Sperti, Incorporated, the maximum prices set forth above are f. o. b. Norwood Station, Cincinnati, Ohio, on orders of less than $100, transportation charges to the buyer prepaid on orders of $100 and more. Sales to independent sales contractors by Sperti, Incorporated, shall be at a discount of not less than 10 percent of the maximum price set forth above applicable to the sale by the independent sales contractor to his customer.

(f) Discounts, allowances, and price differentials on sales by persons other than Sperti, Incorporated, of Bio-Dyne Ointment. Any person other than Sperti, Incorporated, making sales of Bio-Dyne Ointment shall apply to the maximum prices set forth above for such sales all quantity differentials, trade practices, credit terms, practices relating to the payment of shipping charges, and other customary discounts, allowances, or differentials for sales to purchasers of different classes (such as hospitals, industrial plants, and physicians) which were in effect in March, 1942, on his sale of the ointment most nearly comparable to Bio-Dyne Ointment.

(g) Marking package with retail ceiling price. On and after February 25, 1943, Sperti, Incorporated shall mark the cardboard container in which it packages each size package of Bio-Dyne Ointment as follows:

Size package:	Marking
1 ounce	"Ceiling Price 65 cents"
15 ounces	"Ceiling Price $5.50"
5 pounds	"Ceiling Price $21.50"

These legends shall be printed or stamped in letters at least one quarter as large as those used for the name of the product on such container to be used by the seller at retail to the ultimate consumer, when it is not sold on prescription and the type shall be sufficiently bold and the words shall be printed or stamped in a color which sharply contrasts with the background so that the words are clearly legible. No retailer, except a person making a sale on prescription, shall make sales of such ointment unless the package is marked with the ceiling price as required by this paragraph.

(h) Notification of maximum prices—(1) By Sperti, Incorporated, to wholesalers. Sperti, Incorporated, shall supply or shall cause each of its independent sales contractors to supply to each wholesaler before or at the time of its first delivery of Bio-Dyne Ointment a written notification of maximum prices as follows:

OPA has authorized us to charge wholesalers not more than the following maximum prices net for Bio-Dyne Ointment:

Size of package:	Maximum price per dozen
1 ounce	$4.33
15 ounces	36.67
5 pounds	143.28

Wholesalers' maximum prices for sales of Bio-Dyne Ointment to retailers are established as follows less customary discounts and allowances:

Size of package:	Maximum price per dozen
1 ounce	$5.20
15 ounces	44.00
5 pounds	171.96

Retailers' maximum prices for sales of Bio-Dyne Ointment are established as follows, less customary discounts and allowances, as marked upon each package:

Size of package:	Maximum price each
1 ounce	$0.65
15 ounces	5.50
5 pounds	21.50

OPA requires that you keep a copy of this notice for examination.

(2) By Sperti, Incorporated, to retailers. Sperti, Incorporated, shall supply a written notification to each retailer before or at the time of its first delivery of Bio-Dyne Ointment to such retailer. The written statement shall read as follows:

OPA has authorized us to charge retailers no more than the following maximum prices for Bio-Dyne Ointment, transportation charges prepaid on orders amounting to $100 or more.

Size of package:	Maximum price per dozen
1 ounce	$5.20
15 ounces	44.00
5 pounds	171.93

Your maximum prices are as follows for each of such packages:

Size of package:	Maximum price per package
1 ounce	$0.65
15 ounces	5.50
5 pounds	21.50

OPA requires that you keep this notice for examination. Where the retailer referred to in this subparagraph is a chain store, the following paragraph shall be substituted in lieu of the first paragraph of the written statement required by this paragraph:

OPA has authorized us to charge chain stores (retailers with six or more outlets) no more than the following maximum prices for Bio-Dyne Ointment, transportation charges prepaid on orders amounting to $100 or more:

Size of package:	Maximum price per dozen
1 ounce	$4.33
15 ounces	36.67
5 pounds	143.28

(i) Definitions. When used in this order "chain store" means a retailer operating six or more separate retail outlets.

(j) This Order No. 299 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(k) This order shall become effective February 25, 1943.

(Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871)

Issued this 24th day of February 1943.

Chapter XIII—Petroleum Administration for War

[PAO 9]

PART 1515—PETROLEUM PRODUCTION OPERATIONS

PROHIBITION OF GAS WELL DRILLING IN PORTIONS OF TEXAS

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage of materials necessary for the production of petroleum for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary in the public interest, to promote the national defense, and to provide adequate supplies of petroleum for military and other essential purposes:

§ 1515.4 Petroleum Administrative Order No. 9—(a) Definitions. (1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind.

(b) Prohibiting gas well drilling in portions of the State of Texas. Notwithstanding the provisions of Conservation Order M-68,[2] as amended (§ 1047.1 of Chapter IX), no person may use material to drill, complete or provide additions to any well in any discovered or undiscovered natural gas field in the counties of Carson, Collingsworth, Gray, Hansford, Hartley, Hutchinson, Moore, Potter, Sherman or Wheeler in the State of Texas, except in accordance with any exception issued pursuant to paragraph (c) (10) of Conservation Order M-68, as amended, subsequent to February 23, 1943.

(c) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him may file an appeal setting forth the pertinent facts and reasons why he considers himself entitled to relief. All appeals shall be filed in quadruplicate and shall be addressed to the Director of the Natural Gas and Natural Gasoline Division, Petroleum Administration for War, Interior Building, Washington, D. C., Ref.: PAO 9.

(d) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, by any act or omission, falsifies records kept or information furnished in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or such other action may be taken as is deemed appropriate.

VOYAGE CHARTER PARTY

Warshipvoy

PART II

1. Vessel and voyage. The Vessel on tendering hereunder shall be, as far as due diligence can make her so, tight, staunch and strong and fitted for service. Because of existing war conditions it is agreed that the Vessel may be of a type not fitted, constructed or ordinarily employed for the contract voyage and all risk of loss, damage or delay inherent in such carriage or attributable to such use shall be borne by the Charterer.

2. Stevedoring and lighterage. (a) Stevedoring and other expenses of loading and discharging, including any expense of tallying, winchmen, dunnage, cargo fittings, heavy lifts, dumping and trimming, removal of strongbacks with shore equipment where necessary is upon the basis set out in Part I. Any work not expressly undertaken in Part I by the Owner shall be performed by the Charterer at its risk and expense. Unless otherwise agreed, dunnage and fittings placed aboard by the Charterer may be retained on board at the option of the Owner. If the Owner elects not to retain them on board, the cost of removal and discharge shall be borne by the Charterer, and time so used shall count as laytime.

(b) If by the provisions of Part I the Charterer is to load or discharge, the Vessel will permit the use of ship's winches and other appropriate gear actually on board. The Vessel will, at all times, provide power sufficient to run all the winches, or all necessary to be worked. In cases where it is necessary to employ the Vessel's crew to operate winches, they shall be deemed the agents of the Charterer. At any berth where the Charterer is to load or discharge at his expense, or at any berth used upon the request of the Charterer, the Charterer must supply adequate light for night work performed but may have the use of any lighting facilities already aboard the vessel.

(c) Charterer agrees to indemnify the vessel and her owner, operator and agents in respect of any damage or expense arising from acts or negligence of the Charterer or his agents or contractors in the loading or discharging of the vessel; or from failure of equipment supplied by them.

(d) Lighterage, if any, to be at the risk and expense of the cargo.

3. Loading port. (a) The Vessel shall load the Cargo described in Part I, but in no case shall the Cargo exceed what the vessel can reasonably stow and carry, in the judgment of the Master, over and above the space and burthen necessary for Vessel's officers and crew, her cabin, tackle, apparel, furniture, provisions, fresh water, stores, necessary ballast and fuel. No Cargo shall be loaded on deck, unless provided in Part I hereof, and in such case the carriage of deck cargo shall be at the sole discretion of the Master and at the risk of the Charterer and Owners of such cargo. Any material required for securing deck cargo to be for account of the Charterer.

(b) Loading port or ports to be named by the Charterer not later than upon signing this charter.

4. Loading berth. (a) The Vessel will load at such berth or berths that the Charterer may designate, always, however, subject to the approval of the War Shipping Administration. One loading berth only is contemplated, and permission of the Owner is required for any additional berths.

(b) The Charterer warrants that such berth or berths as may be designated by him shall be safe in all respects and shall have sufficient depth of water at all times and stages of tide to accommodate safely Vessel of the size and particulars designated in Part I hereof, and that Vessel can proceed thereto, remain thereat, and depart therefrom always safely afloat.

(c) Charterer warrants that the berth will be available immediately upon Vessel being ready to load. Any time lost to the Vessel while awaiting berth to be counted as used time for loading.

5. Loading time. When the Vessel has arrived at the loading port, and is in all respects ready to load, a notice of readiness to load will be tendered at that time to the Charterer or his agent, whether or not during usual business hours. Four hours after the tender of notice of readiness (whether or not during usual business hours), the time allowed for loading shall commence, Vessel in or out of berth, unless loading actually started sooner.

6. Freight. (a) Freight to be considered earned on Cargo as same is taken aboard whether expressed herein to be prepaid or collect, Vessel and/or Cargo lost or not lost; loading weights or measurements, (as evidenced by cargo receipts) conclusive, if Vessel and/or Cargo lost.

(b) Freight shall be payable in United States currency in the United States upon completion of loading, without deductions for any cause, except for advances to the Master. In the event freight is to be determined on the out-turned weight, 90% of the freight on the loading weight shall be paid upon the signing of cargo receipts; the balance payable upon ascertainment of the gross landed weights as determined by certificates of public weighers, railway scale weights or by other customary means not inconsistent with these. Vessel may check-weight or -measure at its own expense.

(c) Should the Charterer fail to supply the Cargo stipulated in Part I hereof, the Vessel may, at the Master's option, and shall, upon the request of the Charterer, proceed on her voyage, provided that she is, in the judgment of the Master, in a seaworthy condition so far as the stowage of the Cargo is concerned. In such event, dead freight shall be paid upon the difference of the quantity loaded and the quantity she would have carried if loaded as contracted; such dead freight subject to all of the stipulations as to freight generally, hereunder.

(d) The Charterer agrees to pay such increase in freight and/or surcharge as may be prescribed in ordinary course by the War Shipping Administration on or before the date of completion of loading, and the Vessel shall have a lien upon the goods for any difference between such increased rate and surcharge and the rate and surcharge shown herein. Similarly, any reduction shall inure to the benefit of the Charterer.

7. Advances. Cash shall be advanced by the Charterer to the Master, if required, for ordinary disbursements at ports of loading and discharge against Master's receipt, and at current rates of exchange, free of interest, discount, commission, or insurance fees.

8. Discharging port. (a) If the port or ports of discharge are not specified in Part I hereof, such port or ports shall be named by the Charterer not later than time of completion of loading. Any loss of time resulting from delay in naming discharging port to count as used loading time.

(b) Diversion of the Vessel to another discharging port while enroute to the first named port at the request of the Charterer may be permitted by the Owner on such terms as may be agreed upon, but not a less additional charge than if an option had originally been granted in Part I hereof.

9. Discharging berth. (a) The Vessel will discharge at the berth or berths that the Charterer designates, always, subject, however, to the approval of the War Shipping Administration. One discharging berth only is contemplated, and permission of the Owner required for any additional berths.

(b) The Charterer warrants that such berth or berths as may be designated by him shall be safe in all respects and shall have sufficient depth of water at all times and stages of tide to accommodate safely the Vessel designated in Part I hereof, and that the Vessel can proceed thereto, remain thereat and depart therefrom always safely afloat.

(c) The Charterer warrants that the berth will be available immediately upon Vessel being ready to discharge. Any time lost to the Vessel while awaiting berth to be counted as used time for discharging.

10. Discharging time. When the Vessel has arrived at the discharging port, and is in all respects ready to discharge, a notice of readiness to discharge will be tendered at that time to the Charterer or his agent, whether or not during usual business hours. Four hours after the tender of notice of readiness (whether or not during usual business hours) the time allowed for discharging shall commence. Vessel in or out of berth, unless discharging actually started sooner.

11. Separation of cargo. Unless otherwise stipulated in Part I all of the Cargo loaded is of the same character and quality, and no separation thereof is to be required. Cargo may be discharged and landed as it comes to hand. In the event the Charterer should desire separation of cargo, such separation to be at his risk and expense, and any material required to be for Charterer's account. In any event, the Owner not to be responsible for delivery of Cargo by quality or grade.

12. Demurrage and overtime. The freight designated in Part I hereof is predicated upon the Vessel working to her full capacity twenty-four hours per day of each and every day, Sundays and holidays included. The Charterer shall pay demurrage at the rate stipulated in Part I for all time that loading, discharging and used time (as elsewhere herein provided) exceeds the allowed laytime. If demurrage is incurred in loading, time saved in discharging may be credited against it, but otherwise time allowed for loading and discharging is not reversible. Overtime arising out of the Charterer's obligations hereunder to be paid by the Charterer; overtime arising out of the Owner's obligations hereunder to be paid by the Owner.

13. Appointment of agents. Owner's agents will act for the Vessel at both loading and discharging ports.

14. Dues, taxes, wharfage, etc. Any Government dues or other charges levied against the Vessel, either at the port of loading or port of discharge, which are not measured by the volume of Cargo, shall be for the account of the Vessel. The Vessel will be free of any wharf, dock, or quay dues, or similar charges, at both the port of loading and port of discharge. All other dues, taxes or assessments of any sort, including those against the Vessel which are measured by the volume of the cargo, shall be paid by the Charterer.

15. Customs, weighers, etc. All arrangements and expense for weighers, samplers and other Customs requirements in connection with the cargo to be paid by Charterer, and any delay resulting from failure to make such arrangements shall count as used laytime.

16. Lien. The Owner shall have an absolute lien on the cargo and upon all subfreights for all amounts due under this charter including freight, dead freight, demurrage and costs (including attorney's fees) of recovering the same, which lien shall continue after delivery of the Cargo hereunder.

17. Assignment. Subject to the prior approval of War Shipping Administration, the Charterer shall have the option of subletting or assigning this Charter to any individual or company, but the Charterer shall always remain responsible for the due fulfillment of this Charter in all its terms and conditions.

18. Cargo receipt. Non-negotiable receipts, in the form appearing herein, shall be signed by the Master as requested. Any receipt signed by the Master or Agent of the Owner shall be without prejudice to the terms, conditions and exceptions of this charter and subject to all of them. The Charterer hereby agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Owner, the Master, and the Vessel from all consequences or liabilities that may arise from the Charterer or its agents, or the Master, signing bills of lading or other documents inconsistent with this Charter, or from any irregularity in papers supplied by the Charterer or its agents, or from complying with its or its agents' orders.

19. Limitation of liability. The Owner and the Vessel in all matters arising under this Charter Party shall be entitled to the like privileges and rights and immunities as are contained in Section 3 (6), Section 4, and Section 11 of the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act of the United States approved April 16, 1936. The aforesaid provisions (except as may be otherwise specifically provided herein) shall govern before the goods are loaded on and after they are discharged from the Vessel and throughout the entire time the goods are in the custody of the Owner or Vessel.

Neither the Vessel or Owner, nor any corporation owned by, subsidiary to or associated or affiliated with the Vessel or Owner shall be liable to answer for or make good any loss or damage to the goods occurring at any time and even though before loading on or after discharge from the Vessel, by reason or by means of any fire whatsoever, unless such fire shall be caused by its design or neglect.

Any provision of this Charter to the contrary notwithstanding, the Owner shall have the benefit of all limitation of, and exemptions from, liability accorded to the Owner or Chartered Owner by any statute or rule of law for the time being in force. See also clause 28 hereof.

20. Both-to-blame collision clause. If the Vessel comes into collision with another ship as a result of the negligence of the other ship and any act, neglect or default of the master, mariners, pilot or the servants of the Owner of the Vessel in the navigation or in the management of the Vessel, the owners of the Cargo carried hereunder will indemnify the Owner of the Vessel against all loss or liability to the other or non-carrying ship or her owners insofar as such loss or liability represents loss of, or damage to, or any claim whatsoever of the owners of said Cargo, paid or payable by the other or non-carrying ship or her owners to the owners of said Cargo and set-off, recouped or recovered by the other or non-carrying ship or her owners as part of their claim against the carrying Vessel or Owners. The foregoing provisions shall also apply where the owners, operators or those in charge of any ship or ships or objects other than, or in addition to, the colliding ships or objects are at fault in respect of a collision or contact.

21. General average clause. General average shall be adjusted, stated, and settled, according to Rules 1 to 15, inclusive, 17 to 22, inclusive, and Rule F of York-Antwerp Rules 1924, at such port or place in the United States as may be selected by the Owner of the Vessel, and as to matters not provided for by these Rules, according to the laws and usages at the port of New York. In such adjustment, disbursements in foreign currencies shall be exchanged into United States money at the rate prevailing on the dates made and allowances for damage to cargo claimed in foreign currency shall be converted at the rate prevailing on the last day of discharge at the port or place of final discharge of such damaged cargo from the Vessel. Average agreement or bond and such additional security, as may be required by the Owner, must be furnished before delivery of the Cargo. Such cash deposit as the Owner or his agents may deem sufficient as additional security for the contribution of the cargo and for any salvage and special charges thereon, shall, if required, be made by the cargo, shippers, consignees, or owners of the Cargo to the Owner before delivery. Such deposit shall, at the option of the Owner, be payable in United States money, and be remitted to the adjuster. When so remitted the deposit shall be held in a special account at the place of adjustment in the name of the adjuster pending settlement of the general average and refunds or credit balances, if any, shall be paid in United States money.

22. Amended "Jason" clause. In the event of accident, danger, damage, or disaster before or after commencement of the voyage resulting from any cause whatsoever, whether due to negligence or not, for which or for the consequence of which the Owner is not responsible by statute, contract, or otherwise, the Cargo, shippers, consignees, or owners of the Cargo shall contribute with the Vessel and its Owner in general average to the payment of any sacrifices, losses or expenses of a general average nature that may be made or incurred, and shall pay salvage and special charges incurred in respect of the Cargo. If a salving vessel is owned or operated by the Owner, salvage shall be paid for as fully as if the salving vessel or vessels belong to strangers.

23. War risk clauses. In any situation whatsoever and wheresoever occurring and whether existing or anticipated before commencement of or during the voyage, which in the judgment of the Owner or Master is likely to give rise to risk of capture, seizure, detention, damages, delay or disadvantage to or loss of the Vessel or any part of her Cargo, or to make it unsafe, imprudent or unlawful for any reason to commence or proceed on or continue the voyage or to enter or discharge the Cargo at the port of discharge, or to give rise to delay or difficulty in arriving, discharging at or leaving the port of discharge or the usual place of discharge in such port, the Owner or Master may before loading or before the commencement of the voyage, require the shipper or other person entitled thereto to take delivery of the Cargo at port of shipment and upon their failure to do so, may warehouse the Cargo at the risk and expense of the Cargo; or the Owner or Master, whether or not proceeding toward or entering or attempting to enter the port of discharge or reaching or attempting to reach the usual place of discharge therein or attempting to discharge the Cargo there, may discharge the Cargo into depot, lazaretto, craft or other place; or the Vessel may proceed or return, directly or indirectly, to or stop at any such port or place whatsoever as the Master or the Owner may consider safe or advisable under the circumstances, and discharge the Cargo or any part thereof, at any such port or place; or the Owner or the Master may retain the cargo on board until the return trip or until such time as the Owner or the Master think advisable and discharge the Cargo at any place whatsoever as herein provided or the Owner or the Master may discharge and forward the Cargo by any means at the risk and expense of the Cargo. The Owner or the Master is not required to give notice of discharge of the Cargo, or the forwarding thereof as herein provided. When the Cargo is discharged from the vessel, as herein provided it shall be at its own risk and expense, such discharge shall constitute complete delivery and performance under this contract and the Owner and the Vessel shall be freed from any further responsibility. For any service rendered to the Cargo as herein provided the Owner or the Vessel shall be entitled to a reasonable extra compensation.

The Owner, Master and Vessel shall have liberty to comply with any orders or directions as to loading, departure, arrival, routes, ports of call, stoppages, discharge, destination, delivery or otherwise howsoever given by the government of any nation or department thereof or any person acting or purporting to act with the authority of such government or of any department thereof, or by any committee or person having, under the terms of the war risk insurance on the Vessel, the right to give such orders or directions. Delivery or other disposition of the Cargo in accordance with such orders or directions shall be a fulfillment of the contract voyage. The Vessel may carry contraband, explosives, munitions, warlike stores, hazardous cargo, and may sail armed or unarmed and with or without convoy.

In addition to all other liberties herein the Owner and the Vessel shall have the right to withhold delivery of, reship to, deposit or discharge the Cargo at any place whatsoever, surrender or dispose of the Cargo in accordance with any direction, condition or agreement imposed upon or exacted from the Owner or the Vessel by any government or department thereof or any person purporting to act with the authority of either of them. In any of the above circumstances the Cargo shall be solely at its risk and expense and all expenses and charges so incurred shall be payable by the owner or consignee thereof and shall be a lien on the Cargo.

24. Scope of voyage. The scope of voyage herein contracted for shall include usual or customary or advertised ports of call whether named in this contract or not, also ports in or out of the advertised, geographical, usual or ordinary route or order, even though in proceeding thereto the Vessel may sail beyond the port of discharge or in a direction contrary thereto or return to the original port, or depart from the direct or customary route, and includes all canals, straits and other waters. The Vessel may call at any port for the purposes of the current voyage or of a prior or subsequent voyage. The Vessel may omit calling at any port or ports whether scheduled or not, and may call at the same port more than once; may for matters occurring before loading the Cargo, known or unknown at the time of such loading and matters occurring after such loading, either with or without the Cargo or passengers on board, and before or after proceeding toward the port of discharge, adjust compasses, dry dock, with or without cargo aboard go on ways or to repair yards, shift berths, make trial trips or tests, take fuel, passengers, crew or stores, remain in port, sail with or without pilots, tow and be towed, and save or attempt to save life or property; and all of the foregoing are included in the contract voyage.

25. Exceptions. The Vessel, her Master and Owner, shall not, unless otherwise in the Charter expressly provided, be responsible for any loss or damage or delay or failure in performing hereunder, arising or resulting from: Any act, neglect, default or barratry of the Master, pilots, mariners or other servants of the Owner in the navigation or management of the Vessel; fire, unless caused by the personal design or neglect of the Owner; collision, stranding, or peril, danger or accident of the sea or other navigable waters; saving or attempting to save life or property; wastage in weight or bulk, or any other loss or damage arising from inherent defect, quality or vice of the cargo; any act or omission of the Charterer, the Owner, shipper or consignee of the cargo, their agents or representatives; insufficiency of packing, insufficiency or inadequacy of marks; explosion, bursting of boilers, breakage of shafts, or any latent defects in hull, equipment or machinery; unseaworthiness of the Vessel unless caused by want of due diligence on the part of the Owner to make the vessel seaworthy or to have her properly manned, equipped and supplied, or from any other cause of whatsoever kind arising without the actual personal fault or privity of the Owner. And neither the Vessel, the Master or Owner, nor the Charterer, shall, unless otherwise in the Charter expressly provided, be responsible for any loss or damage or delay or failure in performing hereunder arising or resulting from: Act of God; act of war; act of public enemies, pirates or assailing thieves; arrest or restraint of princes, rulers or people, or seizure under legal process; strike or lockout or stoppage or restraint of labor from whatever cause, either partial or general; or riot or civil commotion. The Vessel shall have liberty to sail with or without pilots, to tow or to be towed, to go to the assistance of vessels in distress and to deviate for the purpose of saving life or property or of landing any ill or injured person on board or to repair or go on drydock either with or without cargo aboard. No exemption afforded to the Charterer under this clause shall diminish its obligations for payment of any sums due the Owner under the other provisions of this Charter.

26. Ice clause. The Vessel shall not be ordered to nor bound to enter any ice-bound place or any place where lights, lightships, marks and buoys on Vessel's arrival are or are likely to be withdrawn by reason of ice or where there is risk that ordinarily the Vessel will not be able on account of ice to enter, reach or leave the place. The Vessel shall not be obliged to force ice. If on account of ice the Master considers it dangerous to remain at the loading or discharging place for fear of the Vessel being frozen in and/or damaged, he has the liberty to sail to a convenient open place and await the Charterer's further instructions. Detention through any of the above causes to be for the Charterer's account.

27. Definition of "owner". Wherever the word "Owner" appears herein without further definition it refers to the Owner of the vessel, and shall be deemed to include a Time Charterer, Demise Charterer, or a Requisition Charterer or user.

28. Part I and Part II. This Charter Party consists of this Part II and Part I on the reverse hereof. Unless in this Part II otherwise provided, all of the provisions of said Part I shall be part of this Charter Party as though fully incorporated herein. In the event of conflict between the provisions of this Part II and those of Part I, the provisions of Part I shall govern to the extent of such conflict.

29. Members of Congress. No member of or delegate to the Congress, nor Resident Commissioner, shall be admitted to any share or part of this Charter or to any benefit that may arise therefrom, except as provided in Section 116 of the Act approved March 4, 1909.

ORDER RESCHEDULING HEARING AND REDESIGNATING EXAMINER

The above entitled matter having been heretofore scheduled for hearing on December 3, 1942, at 10 a. m., at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division at the Cabell County Court House, Huntington, West Virginia, and said hearing having been postponed by Order dated November 27, 1942, to a time and place to be thereafter designated by an appropriate order; and

The Director deeming it advisable that the place and date of such hearing should now be designated;

Now therefore it is ordered, That the hearing in the above entitled matter be held on March 26, 1943, at 10 a. m., at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division at Federal Ct. Rm., Federal Bldg., Catlettsburg, Kentucky.

It is further ordered, That Joseph A. Huston or any other officer of the Bituminous Coal Division that may be duly designated shall preside at said hearing vice the officer or officers heretofore designated.

It is further ordered, That the Notice of and Order for Hearing herein as amended by Order of the Director dated October 23, 1942, shall in all other respects remain in full force and effect.

Dated: February 22, 1943.

JOE ADDIS & SON

NOTICE OF AN ORDER FOR HEARING

In the matter of Joe Addis, Phillip Addis and Lester Meeks, individually and as co-partners, doing business under the name and style of Joe Addis & Son, Code Member.

A complaint dated December 7, 1942, pursuant to the provisions of section 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 (the "Act"), having been duly filed on December 11, 1942, by Bituminous Coal Producers Board for District No. 4, a district board, complainant, with the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division"), alleging wilful violation by Joe Addis, Phillip Addis and Lester Meeks, doing business under the name and style of Joe Addis & Son (the "Code Member"), of the Bituminous Coal Code (the "Code"), or rules and regulations thereunder:

It is ordered, That a hearing in respect to the subject matter of such complaint be held on March 25, 1943, at 10 a. m. at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division at Federal Court Room, Federal Building, Catlettsburg, Kentucky.

It is further ordered, That Joseph A. Huston, or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, to take evidence, and to continue said hearing from time to time, and to such places as he may direct by announcement at said hearing or any adjourned hearing or by subsequent notice, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to said Code Member and to all other parties herein and to all persons and entities having an interest in this proceeding. Any person or entity eligible under § 301.123 of the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure Before the Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to sections 4 II (j) and 5 (b) of the Act, may file a petition for intervention not later than five (5) days before the date herein set for hearing on the complaint.

Notice is hereby given that answer to the complaint must be filed with the Division at its Washington Office or with any one of the statistical bureaus of the Division, within twenty (20) days after date of service thereof on the Code Member; and that failure to file an answer within such period, unless otherwise ordered, shall be deemed to be an admission of the allegations of the complaint herein and a consent to the entry of an appropriate order on the basis of the facts alleged.

Notice is also hereby given that if it shall be determined that the Code Member has wilfully committed any one or more of the violations alleged in the complaint, an order may be entered either revoking the membership of the Code Member in the Code and the Code Member's right to an exemption from the taxes imposed by section 3520 (b) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code, or directing the Code Member to cease and desist from violating the Code and regulations made thereunder.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above entitled matter and orders entered therein may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the complaint herein, other matters incidental and related thereto, whether raised by amendment of the complaint, petition for intervention, or otherwise, and all persons are cautioned to be guided accordingly.

Notice is also hereby given that any application, pursuant to § 301.132 of the Rules of Practice and Procedure before the Division for the disposition of this proceeding without formal hearing, must be filed not later than fifteen (15) days after receipt by the Code Member of the complaint herein.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the complaint filed by said complainant alleging that Joe Addis, Phillip Addis and Lester Meeks, individually and as co-partners, doing business under the name and style of Joe Addis & Son, a code member, of Ironton, Ohio, operating mines designated as Mines Index Nos. 2 and 1146, both located in Lawrence County, Ohio, District No. 4, Subdistrict No. 7, have wilfully violated the Act, the Code and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder:

(1) By failing and refusing to file for the months from and including January 1941 to and including November 1942 with the Statistical Bureau for District No. 4 within five (5) days after the end of each of said months reports of all sales made during each of said months of coal produced at either or both of the above mines and shipped therefrom by truck or wagon to various purchasers; and failing and refusing to file with the said Statistical Bureau for said period copies of truck tickets, sales slips, invoices and listings of said sales, as prescribed by section III (b) of Order No. 307, dated December 11, 1940, thereby violating Order No. 309, dated January 14, 1941, and section 4 II (a) of the Act;

(2) By failing and refusing to file currently as rendered with the Statistical Bureau for District No. 4 for the months of January, February and March 1941, copies of all invoices rendered of coal produced at either or both of the above mines and sold for rail shipment to various purchasers; and failing and refusing to file currently as rendered with said Statistical Bureau for said months copies of credit and debit memoranda and memoranda of all changes in specifications or in lieu thereof the information permitted to be filed in monthly reports, in violation of Order No. 156, dated December 18, 1937 and section 4 II (a) of the Act;

(3) By failing and refusing to maintain and file with the Division for each month from and including April 1941 to and including November 1942, certain records relating to the sale of coal produced at either or both of the above mines and shipped therefrom by rail; and failing and refusing for each of said months to maintain and keep on file at their office copies of all loading records, shipping records and daily billing sheets; and failing and refusing during said period to file with the Division copies of debit memoranda, credit memoranda or other memoranda, in violation of Order No. 313, dated February 24, 1941 and section 4 II (a) of the Act;

(4) By failing and refusing within ten (10) days after accepting any spot order to file a copy thereof with the Statistical Bureau for District No. 4 for each month from and including January 1941 to and including November 1942, covering all sales of coal produced at either or both of the above mines during said period and sold on spot orders; and failing within fifteen (15) days after entering into any contact to file a copy thereof with said Statistical Bureau covering all sales of coal produced at either or both of the above mines and sold on contract. Each failure to file within the time required resulted in a violation of Order No. 14, dated July 15, 1937, Rule 3 of section V or Rule 7 of section VI of the Marketing Rules and Regulations and section 4 II (a) of the Act;

(5) By selling and delivering for truck shipment, coal produced at the aforesaid mine (Mine Index No. 1146) during the period October 1, 1940 to July 31, 1942, both dates inclusive, to various purchasers at prices which were below the applicable minimum prices established therefor in Schedule No. 1 of the Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 for Truck Shipments, as follows:

Approximate number of tons	Size	Size group No.	F. o. b. mine sales price per net ton	Effective minimum price per net ton
1,417.60	3/8" x 0 slack	8	$1.00 to $1.[illegible]	$1.65
13,280.275	3/8" lump	2	2.21 to 2.[illegible]	2.45
941.120	3/8" x 1 1/4" stoker	6	1.00 to 1.[illegible]	1.65

Each sale resulted in a violation of section 4 II (e) of the Act and Part II (e) of the Code;

(6) By selling for truck shipment subsequent to September 30, 1940 coal produced at the aforesaid mine (Mine Index No. 1146) below the minimum prices established therefor in the Schedule No. 1 of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 for Truck Shipments, including approximately 83.725 net tons of 3/8" x 0 slack coal (Size Group No. 8) during the period August 15, 1942 to August 20, 1942, both dates inclusive, to Superior Cement Corporation, Portsmouth, Ohio, at $1.25 per net ton f. o. b. said mine, whereas the effective f. o. b. mine price for said coal was $1.65 per net ton as set forth in the aforesaid Schedule 1, resulting in violations of section 4 II (e) of the Act and Part II (e) of the Code;

(7) By selling and delivering by truck during the period January 1, 1941 to July 31, 1942, both dates inclusive, coal produced at the aforesaid mine bearing Mine Index No. 1146 to the Superior Cement Corporation, f. o. b. the purchaser's bins at Portsmouth, Ohio, located approximately 7.7 miles from the code member's mine (Mine Index No. 1146), and failing to add to the f. o. b. mine price an amount equal, as nearly as practicable, to the actual cost of transporting and handling from the facilities at said mine to Portsmouth, Ohio, at which point such charges were asumed and paid by the purchaser, resulting in sales below the effective minimum prices established in the Schedule No. 1 of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 for Truck Shipments, as follows:

Approximate number of tons	Size	Size group No.	Delivered sales price per net ton	Effective minimum price per net ton
667.45	3/8" x 0	8	$1.75	$1.65
2,440.50	Mine run	6	2.00	1.65

1,850.20	3/8" x 0	8	1.55	1.65
4,386.0	3/8" lump	5	2.25	2.45

Each sale for truck shipment resulted in violation of Price Instruction No. 6 of the Schedule No. 1 of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 for Truck Shipments, as amended, and section 4, Parts II (e) and (g) of the Act and Parts II (e) and (g) of the Code;

(8) By selling and delivering by truck during the period December 20, 1940 to July 31, 1942, both dates inclusive, coal produced at Mine Index No. 1146, to the Ohio Calcium Company, Ironton, Ohio, f. o. b. the purchaser's bins at Ironton, Ohio, located approximately 3.9 miles from said mine, and failing to add to the f. o. b. mine price an amount equal as nearly as practicable, to the actual cost of transporting and handling from the facilities at said mine to Ironton, Ohio, at which point such charges were assumed and paid by the purchaser, resulting in sales below the effective minimum prices established in Schedule No. 1 of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 for Truck Shipments, as follows:

Approximate number of tons	Size	Size group No.	Delivered sales price per net ton	Effective minimum price per net ton
700.00	1 1/4" lump	5	$2.48	$2.45
1,[illegible].00	1 1/4" x 1 1/4" egg	5	2.50	2.45

1,[illegible].00	lump	5	2.00	2.45
1,[illegible].00	lump	5	2.15	2.45

Each sale for truck shipment resulted in violation of Price Instruction No. 6 of Schedule No. 1 of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 for Truck Shipments, as amended, and section 4 Parts II (e) and (g) of the Act and Parts II (e) and (g) of the Code;

(9) By selling and delivering for rail shipment coal produced at the aforesaid mine bearing Mine Index No. 1146, on or about April 9, 1941, to Evans Coal Company, Lima, Ohio, approximately 53.5 net tons of 1 1/4" lump coal, and on or about January 28, 1942, to the Jackson Iron and Steel Company, Jackson, Ohio, approximately 52.3 net tons of 3 1/2" lump coal, whereas prices, temporary or final, had not been established by the Division for sales of said coal for shipment by rail. Each sale of said coal resulted in a violation of the Order in General Docket No. 19, dated October 9, 1940.

Dated: February 22, 1943.

SPRINGFIELD COAL CORP.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER REOPENING MATTER AND NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

In the matter of the petition of Springfield Coal Corporation, operator of Springfield No. 5 Mine, Mine Index No. 153, for approval of agreement to purchase 400 net tons of coal per day from F. R. Maurer and T. F. Price, a co-partnership, doing business as Maurer and Price, operator of the Cornwall No. 6 (S) Mine, Mine Index No. 3705, and Cornwall No. 7 (D) Mine, Mine Index No. 3706; for changes in freight origin group numbers and shipping points for the coals of Mine Index Nos. 3705 and 3706; and for permission to mix the coals of these mines.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, was duly filed with the Bituminous Coal Division, requesting the approval of an agreement attached thereto; temporary and permanent relief to load and mix coals produced at the Cornwall No. 6 (S) Mine, Mine Index No. 3705, and at the Cornwall No. 7 (D) Mine, Mine Index No. 3706 by F. R. Maurer and T. F. Price, a co-partnership trading and doing business as Maurer Price, with the coals produced by Springfield Coal Corporation, at the Springfield No. 5 Mine, Mine Index No. 153; and changes in the Freight Origin Group Numbers and shipping points for the coals of said Cornwall Nos. 6 and 7 mines.

An Order Granting Temporary Relief and Conditionally Providing For Final Relief was issued in the above-entitled matter on November 3, 1942, granting permission to load and mix the coals produced at said mines, changing the Freight Origin Group Numbers and shipping points for such coals, and providing that the price applying to such mixture shall be that which is listed for the coal in the mixture which has the highest price classification.

An application for modification of such temporary and conditionally final relief was filed in the above-entitled matter by the Bituminous Coal Consumers' Counsel, praying that said Order entered herein on November 3, 1942 be modified so as to provide as follows:

(a) When such mixture is sold the invoice shall properly identify the coal. This requirement is to be effective both as to temporary and as to final relief.

(b) The temporary relief granted by said Order of November 3, 1942 (as modified by requested item "• • • (a)" above) shall remain in force and effect for a period of 60 days from November 3, 1942. Prior to the expiration of said 60 days period, the original petitioner or District Board No. 1 shall submit to the Director and to the Consumers Counsel information regarding the percentages of coal from the component mines going into the mixture sold by petitioner under the terms of said temporary relief; factual information as to the physical and chemical characteristics such as analytical data, of the mixture sold by the petitioner, including similar data as to the various coals comprising said mixture; and any other information which would further enable the Director to determine the classification and minimum mine price which should finally apply to said mixture. Upon the submission of such data, the temporary relief shall remain in effect pending an order finally determining the applicable classification and minimum mine price for said mixture. If such data are not submitted as aforesaid, the said temporary relief shall terminate; and final relief shall become effective, to the effect that the price that shall apply to such mixture shall be the price which is listed for the coal in the mixture which has the "F" price classification (the lowest classification now applicable to a component coal).

A petition of intervention was filed in the above-entitled matter by District Board No. 1, the district in which the mines involved herein are located, requesting that said order entered herein on November 3, 1942 remain in full force and effect without modification.

It appears, however, that the temporary relief granted in the order issued herein on November 3, 1942 has become final pursuant to the provisions of said order. Nevertheless, in view of the positions taken in the petition of intervention filed herein by District Board No. 1, and in the application for modification filed herein by Bituminous Coal Consumers' Counsel, the Director is of the opinion that this matter should be reopened and scheduled for hearing.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the above-entitled matter be, and the same hereby is, reopened.

It is further ordered, That a hearing in the above-entitled matter under the applicable provisions of said Act and the rules of the Division be held on March 16, 1943 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, Washington, D. C. On such day the Chief of the Records Section will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Travis Williams or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officers so designated to preside at such hearing are hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to all parties herein and to persons or entities having an interest in this proceeding and eligible to become a party herein. Any person desiring to be admitted as a party to this proceeding may file a petition of intervention in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division for proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Act, setting forth the facts on the basis of which Bituminous Coal Division on or before March 12, 1943.[1]

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and any orders entered herein may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the petition, other matters necessarily incidental and related thereto, which may be raised by amendment to the petition, petitions of intervention or otherwise, or which may be necessary corollaries to the relief, if any, granted on the basis of this petition.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the petition filed in the above entitled matter by Springfield Coal Corporation, and the application for modification filed by the Bituminous Coal Consumers' Counsel, which are more fully hereinabove described.

Dated: February 23, 1943.

[Docket Nos. A-1766, Part II and A-1786, Part II]

DISTRICT BOARD NO. 4 AND SHEBAN MINING CO.

ORDER GRANTING MOTION TO POSTPONE HEARING, AND POSTPONING HEARING

In the matters of the petitions filed by District Board No. 4 and Sheban Mining Company for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals produced at the Sheban Mine, Mine Index No. 2314.

The above-entitled matter having been heretofore scheduled for hearing on February 26, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, Washington, D. C., by a Notice of and Order for Hearing issued herein on February 4, 1943; and

A motion having been filed with this Division by District Board No. 4, one of the original petitioners herein, requesting that said hearing be postponed to April 8, 1943; and

It appearing from said motion that it is the opinion of said movant that in view of petitions of intervention filed herein that it is necessary that a more extensive investigation into this matter be made; and

The Director deeming that good cause for such postponement has been shown and that said hearing should be postponed;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That said motion to postpone said hearing to April 8, 1943, be, and the same hereby is granted.

It is further ordered, That said hearing be, and the same hereby is, postponed to April 8, 1943, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the place and before the officer or officers previously designated.

It is further ordered, That the order entered in the above-entitled matter on February 4, 1943, shall, in all other respects, remain in full force and effect.

Dated: February 23, 1943.

[Docket No. A-1780]

DISTRICT BOARD NO. 11

ORDER AMENDING ORDER GRANTING TEMPORARY RELIEF

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 11 for establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for Mine Index No. 291.

An original petition pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 was filed by the above-named party requesting the establishment of temporary price classifications and minimum prices for rail shipments into Market Area No. 32 for approximately 8,000 tons of 1¼" x 0 Fourth Vein raw screenings produced at the Daviess County Mine, Mine Index No. 291, of Daviess County Coal Company, and stored on the ground at such mine.

By order issued January 1, 1943, in the above-entitled matter, temporary price classifications and minimum prices were established which were the same as those in effect for Fourth Vein coals produced at other mines located in Price Group 13 in District No. 11, for approximately 8,000 tons of 1¼" x 0 raw screenings (Size Group 14) produced at the Daviess County Mine, Mine Index No. 291, in District No. 11, and stored on the ground at said mine. Montgomery, Indiana, on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad was established as the shipping point without the benefit of deductions for freight rate differences. The Order made the price classifications applicable only to destinations within Market Area No. 32. It was also ordered that District Board No. 11 notify the Division when the sale and delivery of this coal was completed and upon receipt of such notification Docket No. A-1780 would be closed.

Subsequent to the date of the order of January 1, 1943, District Board No. 11 filed a motion to amend its original petition. It was alleged that the code member producer has had difficulty in finding an outlet in Market Area No. 32 and requests that relief granted by order of the Director, dated January 1, 1943, be broadened to include all Market Areas in the State of Indiana, namely, Nos. 22-28, and 30-34, inclusive.

It appears that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth, that no petitions of intervention have been filed in this matter and that the following action is necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act:

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That pending further order in the above-entitled matter, the motion to amend the order of January 1, 1943, be and the same hereby is granted in the manner set forth herein: Commencing forthwith, temporary prices of $1.55 per ton for shipment into Market Area No. 32 and $1.60 per ton for shipment into all other market areas are established for approximately 8,000 tons of 1¼" x 0 raw screenings (Size Group No. 14) produced at the Daviess County Mine, Mine Index No. 291, in District No. 11, and now stored on the ground at said mine, which prices are the same as those for coals produced in the Fourth Vein seam in Price Group 13 in the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 11. These prices shall apply f. o. b. shipping facilities at Montgomery, Indiana, on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, without the benefit of deductions for freight rate differences.

It is further ordered, That the Daviess County Coal Company shall file with the Division and District Board No. 11 not later than the 15th of the month following the month of shipments, statements indicating the tonnage shipped, the price received therefor, and to whom sold; that District Board No. 11 shall notify the Division by formal document appropriately designated as pertaining to Docket No. A-1780, when the sale and delivery of coal pursuant to this order has been completed; and that proceedings in Docket No. A-1780 shall be terminated and the docket closed upon receipt of the aforesaid notification from District Board No. 11.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this Order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to sections 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

Dated: February 22, 1943.

DISTRICT BOARD NO. 8

ORDER GRANTING MOTION FOR CONTINUANCE AND CONTINUING HEARING

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 8 for a change in price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Burning Creek Mine, of the Burning Springs Collieries Company, in District No. 8.

The above-entitled matter having been heretofore scheduled for hearing on February 23, 1943 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, Washington, D. C., by a Notice of and Order for Hearing issued herein on February 3, 1943; and

A motion for continuance having been filed herein by District Board No. 8, the original petitioner in the above-entitled matter, requesting that said hearing be continued to April 23, 1943, or such date thereafter as may be convenient for the Director and the parties; and

The Director, deeming it advisable that said motion should be granted to the extent as hereinafter indicated and that said hearing should be continued; and

It appearing that no petitions of intervention have been filed in the above-entitled matter;

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That the hearing in the above-entitled matter be, and the same hereby is, continued from February 23, 1943 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day to April 23, 1943 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at the place and before the officer or officers previously designated.

[Administrative Exception Order 2 Under Ration Order 6]

UNITED STATES RUBBER COMPANY

ORDER GRANTING EXCEPTION

(a) The above petitioner has in its inventory of rubber footwear certain types of sport and dress boots which it cannot dispose of under rationing control. These boots are not practical or heavy enough for industrial use and are, therefore, frozen in its possession. It requests that these boots be excluded from the rationed types and seeks permission to sell these boots Certificate-free. The boots in these categories are:

(1) U. S. Clay Snugleg Sporting Boot with pressed-fibre nonslip sole, hip-height boot now classed at type 1 (Mfg's. No. MB583);

(2) U. S. Clay Flyweight Boot with molded pressed-fibre nonslip sole, hip-height boot now classed as type 1 (Mfg's. No. MB527);

(3) U. S. Cavalry Boot with bright varnish finish, below-the-knee boot now classed as type 4 (Mfg's. No. MB937); and

(4) U. S. Over-the-Shoe Pac with 15" Slide Fastener, Saddle Brown, below-the-knee boot now classed at type 4 (Mfg's No. ML691).

(b) The relief requested in this and similar cases may be granted without defeating or impairing the effectiveness or policy of the Ration Order involved because:

(1) The War Production Board has prohibited the manufacture of these types of rubber footwear.

(2) Throughout the entire country there are not more than 1,000 to 2,000 pairs available.

(3) They cannot be sold for industrial use because they give substantially less than normal wear for industrial uses.

(c) It is, therefore, ordered, That the United States Rubber Company of 1230 Sixth Avenue, New York, New York, be and it hereby is authorized to transfer Certificate-free the rubber footwear listed in paragraph (a) above; Provided, That:

The United States Rubber Company shall first submit to the State Director in the area where it is registered a copy of its inventory and a list of the footwear to be sold Certificate-free, with the number of pairs and description of each. Upon the finding by the State Director that the list submitted falls within the classes set forth in paragraph (a) above, the United States Rubber Company shall correct its own copy of inventory (OPA Form R-601A) and file a corrected copy with the Central Inventory Unit, Empire State Building, New York City, and shall attach a label to such footwear stating they are "Not Rationed."

(d) It is further ordered that any other establishment having boots of a similar kind, whether made by the same or other manufacturers, may sell them Certificate-free after following the procedure set forth in paragraph (c) above, and obtaining the approval of the State Director.

(e) It is further ordered that any person receiving any rubber footwear labeled "Not Rationed" pursuant to paragraph (c) above, may further transfer such rubber footwear without applying for approval of the State Director.

This order shall become effective February 24, 1943.

(Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89, 507, 421, and 429, 77th Cong.; W.P.B. Directive 1, 7 F.R. 572; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719)

Issued this 24th day of February, 1943.

Applications having been filed by, or on behalf of, Consolidated Cities Light, Power & Traction Company, Dominion Natural Gas Company, Limited, United Fuel Investments, Limited, Hamilton By Product Coke Ovens, Limited, United Gas and Fuel Company of Hamilton, Limited, The Wentworth Gas Company, Limited, and The United Suburban Gas Company, Limited, pursuant to section 3 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, for exemption from the provisions of said Act applicable to them as subsidiaries of Cities Service Company, a registered holding company and by, or on behalf of, Dominion Natural Gas Company, Limited, United Fuel Investments, Limited, and United Gas and Fuel Company of Hamilton, Limited, pursuant to section 3 (a) (5) of said Act, for exemption from the provisions of said Act applicable to them as holding companies; and

A hearing having been held in respect of these matters after appropriate notice and the Commission having made and filed its findings herein;

It is ordered, That the application of Consolidated Cities Light, Power & Traction Company, pursuant to section 3 (b), be, and it hereby is, denied.

It is further ordered, That Dominion Natural Gas Company, Limited, United Fuel Investments, Limited and United Gas and Fuel Company of Hamilton, Limited, be, and hereby are, granted exemption, pursuant to section 3 (a) (5), from the provisions of section 4 which would require them to register by reason of owning, controlling or holding with power to vote 10 per centum or more of the outstanding voting securities of a public-utility company or of a holding company so controlling a public-utility company.

It is further ordered, That Dominion Natural Gas Company, Limited, United Fuel Investments, Limited, United Gas and Fuel Company of Hamilton, Limited, Hamilton By Products Coke Ovens, Limited, The Wentworth Gas Company, Limited, and The United Suburban Gas Company, Limited, be, and hereby are, granted exemption, pursuant to section 3 (b), from the following provisions of the Act:

a. Section 6, except that this exemption shall not extend to any issue or sale of securities which are to be publicly offered for sale within the United States or to any exercise of a privilege or right to alter the priorities, preferences, voting power, or any other right of the holders of any security which has previously been publicly offered for sale within the United States.

b. Section 9, except that this exemption shall not apply to the acquisition of any utility assets located within the United States or to the acquisition of any interest in the business of, or securities issued or guaranteed by any public-utility or holding company which, directly or indirectly, owns or controls utility assets located within the United States.

c. Section 11 (g), except with respect to solicitation within the United States of any proxy, consent, authorization, power of attorney, deposit or dissent in respect of any reorganization plan of any of such companies.

d. Subsection (b) of section 12; subsection (c) of section 12, except with respect to the acquisition, retirement or redemption of any security of such companies then held within the United States; subsection (e) of section 12, except with respect to the solicitation within the United States of any proxy, power of attorney, consent or authorization regarding any security of such companies; subsections (f) and (g) of section 12 except with respect to transactions with associate or affiliate companies located within the United States; subdivision (2) of subsection (h) of section 12, except with respect to contributions to or in support of any political party within the United States or any committee or agency thereof; Provided, however, That the exemptions herein granted under section 12 shall be inapplicable in the event any order under section 12 should be made expressly applicable to Dominion or its subsidiaries or should any rule under section 12 be, by its terms, made expressly applicable to a company which is not, and has no subsidiary which is, a public-utility company operating within the United States or should any rule under section 12 be applicable to a transaction, involving Dominion or its subsidiaries, which is the subject of an application or declaration filed with this Commission.

e. Section 13, except with respect to the performing of services or construction work for, or the sale of goods to, any public-utility or holding company which, directly or indirectly, owns or controls utility assets located within the United States.

f. Section 15, unless rules, regulations or orders promulgated by the Commission pursuant to the provisions of this section shall by their terms be made expressly applicable to any company which is not, and which has no subsidiary company which is, a public-utility company operating in the United States.

g. Section 17 (c) of the Act.

It is further ordered, That nothing herein contained shall prejudice any rights of said applicants to apply for additional or other exemption.

It is further ordered, That the exemptions granted herein shall be subject to the provisions of the Act, and the rules thereunder, with respect to their revocation.

By the Commission.

tion thereto; and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that said respondent has violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That the respondent, Pasadena Products, Inc., a corporation, its officers, representatives, agents, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device in connection with the offering for sale, sale, or distribution of its preparation known as "Sal-Ro-Cin," or any other preparation of substantially similar composition or possessing substantially similar properties, whether sold under the same name or under any other name, do forthwith cease and desist from directly or indirectly:

1. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated any advertisement by means of United States mails or by any means in commerce as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act which advertisement fails to reveal that the frequent or continued use of respondent's preparation, "Sal-Ro-Cin," may be dangerous and should not be taken in excess of the dosage recommended of one to two tablets two to four times daily; provided, however, that if the directions for use, wherever they appear, on the label, in the labeling, or both on the label, and in the labeling, contain a warning of the potential dangers in the use of said preparation as hereinabove set forth, such advertisement need contain only the precautionary statement, "Caution: Use only as directed."

2. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated any advertisement by any means for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase in commerce as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of said preparation "Sal-Ro-Cin" which advertisement fails to reveal facts material with respect to the consequences which may result from the use of respondent's preparation as required in paragraph (1) hereof.

It is further ordered, That the respondent shall; within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with this order.

By the Commission.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

Chapter I—Bureau of Internal Revenue

Subchapter B—Estate and Gift Taxes

[T.D. 5232]

PART 80—ESTATE TAX UNDER THE REVENUE ACTS OF 1926 AND 1932, AS AMENDED

DEDUCTION ON ACCOUNT OF PROPERTY PREVIOUSLY TAXED

In order to conform Regulations 80 (1937 Edition) [Part 80, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations], applicable to estates of decedents dying before February 11, 1939, to the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately after section 303 (a) (2) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended by the Revenue Acts of 1932 and 1934, and preceding such section 303 (a) (2) as originally enacted, which precede article 41 (§ 80.41 of such Title 26), the following:

SEC. 407. DEDUCTION ON ACCOUNT OF PROPERTY PREVIOUSLY TAXED. (Revenue Act of 1942)

* * * * *

(b) Amendments to Revenue Act of 1926 relating to property previously taxed.

(1) The second sentence of section 303 (a) (2) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, is amended by striking out "this" following "estate tax imposed under" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Revenue Act of 1932".

* * * * *

(c) Effective dates.

* * * * *

(4) The amendments made by subsection (b) shall be applicable with respect to estates of decedents dying after the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932.

* * * * *

PAR. 2. The note which precedes article 41 (§ 80.41 of such Title 26) is amended to read as follows:

NOTE: The amendments to section 303 (a) (2) since its original enactment on February 26, 1926, were made by section 806 (a) of the Revenue Act of 1932, except as follows:

(1) Amendment by section 402 of the Revenue Act of 1934, inserting the clause, "and only if in determining the value of the net estate of the prior decedent no deduction was allowable under this paragraph in respect of the property or property given in exchange therefor", and

(2) Amendment by section 407 (b) (1) of the Revenue Act of 1942, which is set forth herein.

PAR. 3. Article 41 (§ 80.41 of such Title 26) is amended by inserting immediately preceding Example (1) the following paragraph:

Section 407 (b) (1) of the Revenue Act of 1942 amends section 303 (a) (2) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, to provide for the allowance of the deduction for property previously taxed where only the additional estate tax under the Revenue Act of 1932 was imposed and paid with respect to the estate of the prior decedent. This amendment is applicable to estates of decedents dying after June 6, 1932, the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932. (See article 99 relative to refund or credit of any overpayment in cases where such deductions have been disallowed.)

PAR. 4. There is inserted immediately after section 303 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1934, and preceding such section 303 as originally enacted, which precede article 51 (§ 80.51 of such Title 26), the following:

SEC. 407. DEDUCTION ON ACCOUNT OF PROPERTY PREVIOUSLY TAXED. (Revenue Act of 1942.)

* * * * *

(b) Amendments to Revenue Act of 1926 relating to property previously taxed.

* * * * *

(2) The second sentence of section 303 (b) (2) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, is amended by striking out "this" following "estate tax imposed under" and inserting in lieu thereof "the Revenue Act of 1932".

(c) Effective dates.

* * * * *

(4) The amendments made by subsection (b) shall be applicable with respect to estates of decedents dying after the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932.

* * * * *

PAR. 5. The note which immediately precedes section 807 of the Revenue Act of 1932, (preceding article 51 (§ 80.51 of such Title 26)) is amended to read as follows:

NOTE: All of the amendments to section 303 (b) (2), as originally enacted, were made by section 806 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1932, except as follows:

(1) Amendment by section 402 of the Revenue Act of 1934, inserting the clause, "and only if in determining the value of the net estate of the prior decedent no deduction was allowable under this paragraph in respect of the property or property given in exchange therefor", and

(2) Amendment by section 407 (b) (2) of the Revenue Act of 1942, which is set forth herein.

PAR. 6. Article 53 (§ 80.53 of such Title 26) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following paragraph:

Section 407 (b) (2) of the Revenue Act of 1942 amends section 303 (b) (2) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended, to provide for the allowance of the deduction for property previously taxed where only the additional estate tax under the Revenue Act of 1932 was imposed and paid with respect to the estate of the prior decedent. This amendment is applicable to estates of decedents dying after June 6, 1932, the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1932. (See article 99 relative to refund or credit of any overpayment in cases where such deductions have been disallowed.)

PAR. 7. There is inserted immediately after the quotation of section 3228 of the Revised Statutes, as amended by the Revenue Act of 1928, and preceding section 319 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as originally enacted, which precede article 99 (§ 80.99 of such Title 26), the following:

SEC. 407. DEDUCTION ON ACCOUNT OF PROPERTY PREVIOUSLY TAXED. (Revenue Act of 1942.)

* * * * *

(d) Overpayments. If the refund or credit of any overpayment to the extent resulting from the application of subsections (a), (b), and (c) of this section, is prevented on the date of enactment of this Act or within one year from such date, then, notwithstanding any other provision of law or rule of law (other than this subsection of this section and other than section 3761 of the Internal Revenue Code or section 3229 of the Revised Statutes, or such section as amended by section 815 of the Revenue Act of 1938, relating to compromises), such overpayment shall be refunded or credited in the same manner as in the case of an estate tax erroneously collected if claim therefor is filed within one year from the date of enactment of this Act.

PAR. 8. Article 99 (§ 80.99 of such Title 26), as amended by Treasury Decision 4831, approved July 18, 1938, is further amended by inserting immediately after the fourth paragraph thereof the following paragraph:

In case a refund or credit of any overpayment involving a deduction for property previously taxed to the extent resulting from the application of subsection (b) of section 407 of the Revenue Act of 1942, is prevented on October 21, 1942, or within one year from such date, then, notwithstanding any other provision of law or rule of law (other than subsection (d) of section 407 of the Revenue Act of 1942 and other than section 3761 of the Internal Revenue Code or section 3229 of the Revised Statutes, or such section as amended by section 815 of the Revenue Act of 1938, relating to compromises), such overpayment shall be refunded or credited in the same manner as in the case of an estate tax erroneously collected if claim therefor is filed within one year from October 21, 1942.

(SEC. 1101 of the Revenue Act of 1926 (44 Stat. 111, 26 U.S.C., 1934 ed., 1691 (a) (1)), in sec. 403 of the Revenue Act of 1932 (47 Stat. 245, 26 U.S.C., 1934 ed., 537), and in secs. 303 (a) (2) and 303 (b) (2) of the Revenue Act of 1926, as amended respectively by secs. 806 (a) and 806 (b) of the Revenue Act of 1932, by sec. 402 of the Revenue Act of 1934 (44 Stat. 72, 73, 47 Stat. 281, 48 Stat. 753, 26 U.S.C., 1934 ed., 412 (c), 461 (a) (2)), and by sec. 407 (b), (c) (4), and (d) of the Revenue Act of 1942 (Public Law 753, 77th Congress), approved October 21, 1942)

(b) Limitations. Parts manufactured for repair and maintenance of any heavy forged hand tools are not subject to the limitations of this Schedule.

(c) Simplified practices. Pursuant to Limitation Order L–157 the sizes, types, grades, weights and finishes set forth in Appendix A and Tables 1 through 10 of this schedule are established for the manufacture of heavy forged hand tools.

(d) Effective date of simplified practices. On and after the 3rd day of November, 1942, no heavy forged hand tool which does not conform to the size, type, grade, finish, weight and standard established by paragraph (c) of this schedule (and set forth in Appendix A and tables hereto) shall be produced by any producer except upon approval of the Director General for Operations.

(e) Records covering materials, work in progress, etc. Each producer of heavy forged hand tools shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time require.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

APPENDIX A TO SCHEDULE IV

[NOTE. Paragraph (4) Amended Feb 25, 1943]

Explanations and Limitations

(1) Finishes. Faces, bits, points, and other commonly ground parts of a heavy forged hand tool shall not have a finish finer than the finish resulting from the use of a 60-grit emery wheel, dry, when good commercial technique is employed, except that sample tools selected from a lot for inspection may be polished to as fine a degree as may be necessary for such inspection. All other surfaces of heavy forged hand tools shall not be finished other than by applying a coating of paint, enamel, or lacquer over the natural forged surface, free from scale.

(2) Sizes. Weights given herein are exclusive of wooden handles. Dimensions and weights are subject to commercial tolerances

(3) Eyes. The shapes of eyes specified by number herein and the dimensions of eyes, except those for which dimensions are given herein, shall conform with the diagrams and data on eye shapes and sizes shown pp. 10 to 18, inclusive, of Simplified Practice Recommendation R17–35, Forged Tools, issued by the National Bureau of Standards.

(4) Chisels cold, chisels hot, as both such types of chisel are set forth in Table 2 of this Appendix: Chisels, track (designs 1 and 2, A R E A) as set forth in table 7 of this Appendix; mauls, Pittsburgh or Bell pattern (designs 1 and 2, A R E A) as set forth in table 3 of this Appendix; and blacksmiths' double face sledges in 6-, 8-, 10-, and 12-pound sizes as set forth in table 3 of this Appendix; may be made of carbon steel or of such National Emergency alloy steels as are permitted by the Director General for Operations. All other tools listed in this Schedule, Appendix and Tables shall be made of carbon steel only.

(5) No producer shall offer the tools listed herein in more than one grade, finish, or kind of steel, except as provided in paragraph 4 above.

(6) Reference herein to "the forged hammers schedule" and to "the forged hatchets schedule" refer to Schedule II of Limitation Order L–157.

PART 3102—NATIONAL EMERGENCY SPECIFICATIONS FOR STEEL PRODUCTS

[Schedule 4 to Limitation Order L–211]

STRUCTURAL STEEL SHAPES

§ 3102.5 Schedule 4 to Limitation Order L–211—(a) Definitions. (1) "Structural steel shapes" means flanged sections of carbon and alloy steel used in the construction of bridges, buildings, ships, towers, tanks, and for general structural purposes, but not including bar size sections such as channels, angles, tee and zee bars having maximum cross-section dimensions as follows: Equal angles and tees, under 2 inches; unequal angles, under 2½ inches; all other, under 3 inches.

(2) "Government order" means an order placed:

(i) By the Government of the United States or any department or agency thereof, or

(ii) By any other person covering material to be physically incorporated into material to be delivered to such government, department, or agency, or

(iii) By a warehouse which has been designated by such government, department, or agency as a source of supply for government orders, for delivery to a stock maintained for that purpose.

(b) Restrictions in sizes and shapes. No person shall produce, fabricate, or deliver any structural steel shape except in a size and shape set forth in National Emergency Specifications, Simplification of Structural Steel Shapes, as revised May 11, 1942.

(c) Restrictions on specifications—(1) Government orders. No person shall produce, fabricate, or deliver on a Government order any structural steel shape which does not conform to a specification set forth in List 1 or List 2 of this schedule.

(2) Other orders. No person shall produce, fabricate, or deliver on any order other than a government order any structural steel shape which does not conform to a specification set forth in List 1 of this Schedule.

(d) Acceptance of delivery. No person shall accept delivery of any structural steel shape which he knows or has reason to believe was produced, fabricated, or delivered in violation of the provisions of paragraphs (b) or (c).

(e) General exceptions. The provisions of paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) shall not apply to structural steel shapes:

(1) The production, fabrication, delivery, or acceptance of which is specifically excepted by the Director General for Operations. In the case of alloy structural steel shapes, such exceptions may be granted with respect to chemical compositions by the approval of a melting, production, or delivery schedule by the Director General for Operations, or

(2) Which have been produced or fabricated before February 25, 1943, or which before such date have been processed in such manner and to such extent that processing to conform to such provisions would be impracticable.

(3) Which are certified by the U. S. Army or Navy to the producer, fabricator, or supplier as being necessary to insure the military characteristics of the item for which such structural steel shape is required.

(f) Exceptions on specifications. The provisions of paragraphs (c) and (d) shall not prevent

(1) Waiver by the purchaser or procuring agency of any of the inspection or test requirements of the specifications prescribed in paragraph (c), or

(2) Delivery or acceptance of structural steel shapes which because of errors in manufacture do not conform to the requirements of paragraph (c), providing such requirements are waived by the purchaser or procuring agency.

(g) Records. Each person owning or possessing structural steel shapes excepted by the provisions of paragraphs (e) or (f) shall retain records of such material available for inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board. In addition, each person accepting an order for structural steel shapes excepted by the provisions of paragraph (e) (3) shall furnish details of such order to the War Production Board within five days after such acceptance.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3102—NATIONAL EMERGENCY SPECIFICATIONS FOR STEEL PRODUCTS

[Schedule 5 to Limitation Order L–211]

STEEL AXLES AND FORGINGS (RAILROAD AND TRANSIT SERVICES)

§ 3102.6 Schedule 5 to Limitation Order L–211—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this schedule:

(1) "Axles" means rolled or forged steel axles for locomotives, tenders, and freight and passenger cars for railroad and rail transit service.

(2) "Forgings" means steel forgings (other than axles, wheels, or tires) for locomotives, tenders, freight and passenger cars for railroad and rail transit service.

(3) "Annealed" as used in any of the specifications in Lists 1 or 2, means heated to obtain the desired internal structure and cooled, evenly and slowly, either in air or in the furnace at the option of the manufacturer.

(b) Restrictions on sizes and shapes. No person shall produce, fabricate, or deliver:

(1) Freight car axles, except in the sizes and dimensions conforming to the 1939 AAR Standard Axle Designs as set forth in the 1941 Manual of the Association of American Railroads.

(2) Railroad passenger car and tender friction bearing axles except in the sizes and dimensions conforming to the AAR Design No. 6, adopted 1940, as set forth in the 1941 Manual of the Association of American Railroads.

(3) Transit car axles with machine offset dust guards, except in designs having off-set dimensions greater than ¼ inch, conforming to the specifications set forth in List 2 of this schedule.

(c) Restrictions on specifications. (1) No person shall produce, fabricate, or deliver axles except in conformance to the specifications set forth in List 1 of this schedule.

(2) No person shall produce, fabricate, or deliver forgings except in conformance to the specifications set forth in List 2 of this schedule.

(d) Acceptance of delivery. No person shall accept delivery of axles or forgings which he knows or has reason to believe were produced, fabricated, or delivered in violation of the provisions of paragraphs (b) or (c).

(e) General exceptions. (1) The provisions of paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) shall not apply to axles and forgings, the production, fabrication, delivery, or acceptance of which is specifically permitted by the Director General for Operations, or which have been produced or fabricated before February 25, 1943, or which before such date have been processed in such manner and to such extent that processing to conform to such provisions would be impracticable.

(2) The provisions of paragraphs (c) and (d) shall not prevent the purchaser or procuring agency from waiving any of the inspection and test requirements of the specifications prescribed in paragraph (c).

(3) The provisions of paragraphs (c) and (d) shall not prevent the delivery or acceptance of axles and forgings which because of errors in manufacture do not conform to the requirements of paragraph (c) providing such requirements are waived by the purchaser or procuring agency.

(4) The provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) shall not apply to machining operations performed in the purchasers' shops.

(5) The provisions of paragraph (b) (2) shall not prevent the production, fabrication, delivery, or acceptance of railroad passenger car and tender friction bearing axles in other sizes and dimensions for repairs or replacements to railroad passenger cars and tenders built prior to February 25, 1943, provided the purchaser endorses on the purchase order a statement signed by an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7, substantially as follows:

As permitted by Schedule 5 to Limitation Order L–211, the axles covered by this order are to be used for repairs or replacements to railroad passenger cars or tenders built prior to February 25, 1943.

PART 3102—NATIONAL EMERGENCY SPECIFICATIONS FOR STEEL PRODUCTS

[Schedule 6 to Limitation Order L-211]

MECHANICAL STEEL TUBING

§ 3102.7 Schedule 6 to Limitation Order L-211—(a) Definitions. "Mechanical tubing" means steel tubing for mechanical, structural or other nonpressure uses. Such tubing is generally made to special sizes and wall thicknesses other than those for standard pipe and is not hydrostatically mill tested.

(b) Restrictions on quantities and sizes. (1) No person shall produce cold drawn seamless mechanical tubing of low carbon steel (carbon less than 0.30 percent maximum) except on an order for at least the following minimum quantities, for manufacture and delivery at any one time, in any one size or in any one grade or finish; Provided, however, That orders may be pooled for manufacture if the total of the pooled orders exceeds the minimum quantities shown:

Outside diameter (inches)	Minimum permissible quantity in one size or one grade (feet)
Up to ¾ inch inclusive	1,000
Over ¾ inch to and including 1½ inches	800
Over 1½ inches to and including 3 inches	600
Over 3 inches to and including 6 inches	400
Over 6 inches	250

(2) No manufacturer shall be required to schedule for manufacture or delivery, for jobber or warehouse stock, cold drawn seamless mechanical tubing, of low carbon steel (carbon less than 0.30 percent maximum) except in the standard sizes set forth in Table I, attached hereto and made a part of this order.

(c) Restrictions on specifications. (1) No person shall produce, fabricate, or deliver cold drawn seamless mechanical tubing of low carbon steel (carbon less than 0.30 percent maximum) for jobber or warehouse stock which does not conform to the requirements set forth in the American Iron and Steel Institute Manual, section 18 (Steel Tubular Products) as revised September 1942, or to Army, Navy, or Federal specifications.

(2) No person shall produce, fabricate, or deliver mechanical tubing of a free cutting grade containing sulphur in excess of 0.05 percent.

(d) Acceptance of delivery. No person shall accept delivery of mechanical tubing which he knows or has reason to believe was produced, fabricated, or delivered in violation of the provisions of paragraph (b) or (c).

(e) General exceptions. The provisions of paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) shall not apply to mechanical tubing:

(1) The production, fabrication, delivery, or acceptance of which is specifically excepted by the Director General for Operations.

(2) Which has been produced or fabricated before February 25, 1943, or which before such date has been processed in such manner and to such extent that processing to conform to such provisions would be impracticable.

(f) Exceptions on specifications. The provisions of paragraphs (c) and (d) shall not prevent:

(1) Waiver by the purchaser or procuring agency of the inspection or test requirements of the specifications prescribed in paragraph (c), or

(2) Delivery or acceptance of mechanical tubing which because of errors in manufacture does not conform to the requirements of paragraph (c), providing such requirements are waived by the purchaser or procuring agency.

(g) Records. Each person owning or possessing mechanical tubing excepted by the provisions of paragraphs (e) and (f) shall retain records of such material available for inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

Issued this 25th day of February, 1943

[Schedule 7 to Limitation Order L-211]

RAILS AND TRACK ACCESSORIES

§ 3102.8 Schedule 7 to Limitation Order L-211—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this schedule:

(1) "Rails" means new standard tee rails (weighing over 60 pounds per yard) and plain, grooved and guard types of new steel girder rails.

(2) "Track accessories" means new steel joint bars (variously called splice bars, angle bars and fish plates), tie plates, track spikes, and track bolts and nuts.

(b) Restrictions on specifications. No person shall produce, fabricate, deliver, or accept rails or track accessories which he knows or has reason to believe do not conform to a specification set forth in List 1 of this schedule.

(c) Exceptions. (1) The provisions of paragraph (b) shall not apply to rails or track accessories:

(i) The production, fabrication, delivery, or acceptance of which is specifically permitted by the Director General for Operations.

(ii) Which have been produced or fabricated before February 25, 1943, or which before such date have been processed in such manner and to such extent that processing to conform to such provisions would be impracticable.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (b) shall not prevent

(i) Waiver by the purchaser or procuring agency of any of the inspection or test requirements of the specifications prescribed in paragraph (b).

(ii) Delivery or acceptance of rails or track accessories which because of errors in manufacture do not conform to the requirements of paragraph (b), providing such requirements are waived by the purchaser or procuring agency.

(iii) The production, fabrication, delivery, or acceptance of rails with hardened, milled, or beveled ends.

(iv) The production, fabrication, delivery, or acceptance of standard length rails (no shorts) of #1 classification without "A" rails, for use in the fabrication of frogs, switches and crossings, provided the purchaser endorses on the purchase order a statement signed by an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7, substantially as follows:

As permitted by Schedule 7 to Limitation Order L-211, the standard length rails (no shorts) of #1 classification without "A" rails covered by this order are for use in the fabrication of frogs, switches, or crossings.

PART 3115—CONSTRUCTION MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT SIMPLIFICATION AND CONSERVATION

[Schedule V to Limitation Order L-217]

PORTABLE CONSTRUCTION CONCRETE MIXERS

§ 3115.6 Schedule V to Limitation Order L-217—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this Schedule V:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the manufacture of portable construction concrete mixers.

(3) "Portable construction concrete mixer" means any concrete mixer manufactured to mix concrete in batches of 3½ cubic feet to 14 cubic feet inclusive.

(4) "Repair part" means any part manufactured for use in the repair of portable construction concrete mixers.

(5) "Running gear" means the mounting for portable construction concrete mixers such as truck wheels or skids.

(6) "Accessories and attachments" means any equipment regularly sold by a producer to be used in conjunction with the operation of a portable construction concrete mixer, but shall not include power units.

(b) Limitation on production. (1) On and after March 15, 1943, no producer shall put into process any materials for the manufacture of portable construction concrete mixers, running gear, or accessories and attachments which do not conform to the sizes and types established in paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) hereof. Nothing in this paragraph (b) (1) shall be deemed to prohibit the use of any such materials which may have been in transit to such producer or in process by him on that date.

(2) Nothing in this schedule shall be deemed to restrict the production of repair parts.

(c) Limitation on sizes and types of portable construction concrete mixers. Producers are limited to the following sizes and types of portable construction concrete mixers:

(1) 7 cubic feet, two opening drum type.

(2) 10 cubic feet, two opening drum type.

(3) 14 cubic feet, two opening drum type.

(d) Limitation on sizes and types of running gear. Producers are limited to the following sizes and types of running gear:

(1) End discharge on two wheel mounting for 7 cubic feet and 10 cubic feet sizes of portable construction concrete mixers (except to fill orders placed by or for the account of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration).

(2) End discharge on four wheel mounting for 14 cubic feet size of portable construction concrete mixer.

(3) Skid mounting for 7, 10 and 14 cubic feet sizes of portable construction concrete mixers.

(e) Limitation on sizes and types of accessories and attachments. Producers are limited to the following sizes and types of accessories and attachments:

(1) Power loading skip for the 7, 10 and 14 cubic feet portable construction concrete mixers.

(2) Skip shaker for the 7, 10 and 14 cubic feet portable construction concrete mixers.

(3) Water measuring tank for the 7, 10 and 14 cubic feet portable construction concrete mixers.

(4) Batch meter for the 7, 10 and 14 cubic feet portable construction concrete mixers.

(5) Auxiliary water pump for the 7, 10 and 14 cubic feet portable construction concrete mixers.

(6) Gated batch-hopper for the 14 cubic feet portable construction concrete mixer only.

(7) Auxiliary hoist for the 14 cubic feet portable construction concrete mixer only.

(f) Limitation on painting. On and after March 15, 1943, no producer shall use striping or trimming on portable construction concrete mixers, nor use more than one color finish coat paint on any one mixer and its repair parts if painted. Nothing in this paragraph (f) shall be deemed to require the repainting of any mixers or repair parts in any such producer's inventory on March 15, 1943.

(g) Limitation on mudguards and fenders. On and after March 15, 1943, no producer shall put into process any metal in the manufacture of mudguards or fenders for portable construction concrete mixers except for supporting brackets, nor use any metal for streamlining except when required for structural strength or for safety. Nothing in this paragraph (g) shall be deemed to prohibit the use of any metal which may have been in transit to such producer or in process by him on that date.

(h) Restrictions on producers. No person, unless actively engaged in the current production of portable construction concrete mixers (as indicated by his January, 1943 filing of production and shipment schedules on form PD-697, pursuant to Limitation Order L-192) shall thereafter enter into the production thereof.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3115—CONSTRUCTION MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT SIMPLIFICATION AND CONSERVATION

[Schedule VI to Limitation Order L-217]

TRUCK MIXER-AGITATORS

§ 3115.7 Schedule VI to Limitation Order L-217—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this Schedule VI:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the manufacture of truck mixer-agitators.

(3) "Truck mixer-agitator" means any mixer body suitable for truck mounting ordinarily used for mixing or agitating concrete in transit, where the batched materials are or may be loaded by gravity into the mixer drum.

(4) "Repair part" means any part manufactured for use in the repair of truck mixer-agitators.

(b) Limitation on production. (1) On and after March 15, 1943, no producer shall put into process any materials for the manufacture of truck mixer-agitators which do not conform to the sizes and types established in paragraph (c) hereof. Nothing in this paragraph (b) (1) shall be deemed to prohibit the use of any such materials which may have been in transit to such producer or in process by him on that date.

(2) Nothing in this schedule shall be deemed to restrict the production of repair parts.

(c) Limitation on sizes and types. Producers are limited to the following sizes of truck mixer-agitators, and no more than one type (either the inclined axis rotating drum or open body type) is permitted for each such size:

(1) 2 cubic yard mixer (3 cubic yard agitator).

(2) 4 cubic yard mixer (6 cubic yard agitator).

(d) Limitation on painting. On and after March 15, 1943, no producer shall use striping or trimming on truck mixer-agitators, nor, except for sign lettering, use more than one color finish coat paint on any one truck mixer-agitator and its repair parts if painted. Nothing in this paragraph (d) shall be deemed to require the repainting of any truck mixer-agitators or repair parts in any such producer's inventory on March 15, 1943.

(e) Limitation on attachments. On and after March 15, 1943, no producer shall use or put into process any metal in the manufacture of running board platforms or drum guards for truck mixed-agitators except for supporting brackets. Nothing in this paragraph (e) shall be deemed to prohibit the use of any metal which may have been in transit to such producer or in process by him on that date.

(f) Restrictions on producers. No person, unless actively engaged in the current production of truck mixer-agitators (as indicated by his January, 1943, filing of production and shipment schedules on Form PD-697, pursuant to Limitation Order L-192) shall thereafter enter into the production thereof.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

PART 3115—CONSTRUCTION MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT SIMPLIFICATION AND CONSERVATION

[Schedule VII to Limitation Order L-217]

PUMPS

§ 3115.8 Schedule VII to Limitation Order L-217—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this Schedule VII:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the manufacture of pumps as herein defined.

(3) "Pumps" means gasoline or electric motor driven pumps, skid or trailer mounted, ordinarily used by contractors for dewatering and supply of the types approved by the Associated General Contractors of America (A. G. C.), February 21, 1941, and listed below:

(i) Centrifugal self-priming pumps.
(ii) Diaphragm pumps.
(iii) Triplex piston road pumps.
(iv) Plunger pumps.

This definition does not include Underwriter's approved fire fighting pumps, farm type pumps and industrial type pumps.

(4) "Repair part" means any part manufactured for use in the repair of pumps as herein defined.

(5) "The Military" means the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration and the following persons when acting as the authorized procurement agents for the Navy:

(i) Fuller, Merritt, Chapman and Scott Corporation.
(ii) M. T. Reed Contracting Company
(iii) Siems Drake Puget Sound.
(iv) Pacific Naval Air Bases.

(6) "New" when applied to pump means any pump which has not been sold by a producer or a distributor to a person acquiring it for use, regardless of whether such pump may have been leased to any person by such producer or distributor.

(7) "Copper" means unalloyed copper metal, including unalloyed copper metal produced from scrap.

(8) "Copper base alloy" means any alloy metal in the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds forty percent (40%) of the total weight of the alloy. It shall include alloy metal produced from scrap.

(b) Exemptions. Nothing in this schedule shall be deemed to prevent producers from filling orders for pumps placed by or for the account of the military.

(c) Limitation on production and assembly of pumps. (1) On and after March 15, 1943, no producer shall put into process any materials for the manufacture of pumps which do not conform to the sizes, types, models and designs established in paragraph (d) hereof. Nothing in this paragraph (c) (1) shall be deemed to prohibit the use of any such materials which may have been in transit to such producer or in process by him on that date.

(2) Nothing in this schedule shall be deemed to restrict the production of repair parts.

(d) Limitation on sizes and types. Producers are limited to the following sizes, types and models of pumps, and no more than one design is permitted for each such type, size and model:

(1) Self-priming centrifugal pumps (Iron body construction only):
(i) 1½"—3,000 G. P. H. minimum capacity (mounted on skids only).
(ii) 2"—10,000 G. P. H. minimum capacity (two wheel trailer mounting or on skids only).
(iii) 3"—20,000 G. P. H. minimum capacity (two wheel trailer mounting or on skids only).
(iv) 4"—40,000 G. P. H. minimum capacity (two wheel trailer mounting or on skids only).
(v) 6"—90,000 G. P. H. minimum capacity (two wheel trailer mounting or on skids only).
(vi) 8"—125,000 G. P. H. minimum capacity (two wheel running gear or on skids only).
(vii) 10"—180,000 G. P. H. minimum capacity (four wheel running gear or on skids only).

(2) Diaphragm pumps:
(i) 3" single diaphragm on 2 wheel trailer mounting with closed type discharge.
(ii) 4" single diaphragm on 2 wheel trailer mounting with closed type discharge.

(3) Triplex road pumps:
(i) 125 G. P. H. at 500 pounds pressure model mounted on four wheel running gear.

(4) Plunger pumps:
(i) No plunger pumps are to be manufactured for dewatering purposes.

(e) Limitation on painting. On and after March 15, 1943, no producer shall use striping or trimming on pumps, nor use more than one color finish coat paint on any one pump and its repair parts if painted. Nothing in this paragraph (e) shall be deemed to require the repainting of any pumps or repair parts in any such producer's inventory on March 15, 1943.

(f) Limitations on accessories. On and after March 15, 1943, no producer shall manufacture, or receive from his supplier for resale, any of the following items, unless such items are in process or on order prior to February 25, 1943:

(1) Hand cranks, other than rope starters, to be furnished as equipment for new single cylinder engine pumps;
(2) Spring axle mountings for new pumps;
(3) Bearings, except plain or agricultural pin type bearings, for axle wheels on new pumps;
(4) Vacuum or pressure gauges, except for resale as special equipment;
(5) Skids, unless made of wood, for new pumps; or
(6) Wheel bushings containing copper or copper base alloy.

(g) Restrictions on producers. No producer, unless actively engaged in the current production of pumps (as indicated by his January, 1943, filing of production and shipment schedules on Form PD-697, pursuant to Limitation Order L-192) shall thereafter enter into the production thereof.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1123—SHELLAC

[Allocation Order M-106 as Amended Feb. 25, 1943]

The order title Conservation Order M-106 is hereby amended to read Allocation Order M-106.

Section 1123.1 is hereby amended in its entirety to read as follows:

§ 1123.1 (Allocation Order M-106)—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Shellac" means lac of all grades produced from the secretion of Lacifer Lacca Kerr (Tachardia Lacca) including dry, cut, bleached or otherwise processed shellac, seedlac or other types of lac, but excluding such lac after it has been incorporated into protective or technical coatings or molding compounds, or after it has been mixed with a substantial quantity of other materials (except chlorine, alcohol or other solvents, or impurities in the original lac), or has been made an integral part of some article (such as electrical equipment or parts). This exemption shall not apply to lac processed no further than cutting or bleaching.

(2) "Allocation month" means the calendar month during which the use, processing, delivery or acceptance of delivery of a particular quantity of shellac is specifically authorized.

(3) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not, including but not limited to consumers and suppliers as hereinafter defined.

(4) "Consumer" means any person who so uses shellac as defined above that it ceases to be within the definition of shellac; for example, any person who incorporates shellac into protective coatings is a consumer, but a person who merely cuts or bleaches shellac, or who uses a protective coating containing shellac, is not a consumer.

(5) "Supplier" means any person, including any importer, engaged in the business of selling shellac to other persons.

(6) "Inventory" of a person includes all shellac to or in which such person has any title or equity of redemption, as well as the inventory as so defined of affiliates and subsidiaries of such person, but excluding shellac ordered for future delivery for which payment has not been made.

(b) Restrictions on use, processing and delivery. (1) No person shall use, process, deliver or accept delivery of shellac except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations upon application pursuant to paragraph (e).

(2) Each person authorized to accept delivery of shellac shall use such material only for the purpose authorized except as otherwise specifically directed by the Director General for Operations.

(3) Shellac allocated for inventory shall be reserved intact and shall not be used, processed or delivered except as further specifically directed by the Director General for Operations. Likewise, shellac which is not used for the purpose for which it was allocated shall revert to inventory as though allocated for inventory.

(4) Authorizations for a particular allocation month shall not terminate at the end of such month, except with respect to delivery to and acceptance of delivery by any consumer who

(i) Requires the supplier to postpone any authorized delivery beyond ten days after the close of the allocation month; or

(ii) Fails to place an order with the supplier for the authorized shellac before the end of the allocation month.

(5) In addition to regular allocations of shellac by the Director General for Operations for each allocation month, the Director General for Operations at his discretion, notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c) or (d) hereof, may issue special directions to any person with respect to use, processing, delivery or acceptance of delivery of shellac by such person.

(c) Existing stock exceptions. The provisions of paragraph (b) (1) shall not apply to:

(1) Shellac which was cut or bleached and in the possession of a person other than a cutter, bleacher or importer prior to February 25, 1943; or

(2) Seed-lac which was cut or bleached prior to February 25, 1943, subject to any specific directions which may have been issued to the cutter or bleacher by the Director General for Operations with respect to such seed-lac.

(d) General exceptions. The provisions of paragraph (b) (1) shall not apply to:

(1) The use or processing for testing purposes by any person in any one calendar month of not more than 20 lbs. of shellac; or the delivery of samples of shellac of not more than 20 lbs. each by any person to any other person and the use of such samples of shellac by the deliveree for testing purposes, provided that no person during any one calendar month shall accept delivery of more than 20 lbs. of shellac for testing purposes, or deliver more than 50 lbs. of shellac for testing purposes.

(2) Delivery of shellac by (but not to), and the use or processing of shellac by, the United States Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(3) Delivery of shellac by any person to Defense Supplies Corporation, Commodity Credit Corporation, or any other Government agency which may from time to time be specified by the Director General for Operations.

(4) The importation of shellac into the United States or its territories and possessions, the acceptance of delivery of such shellac by the consignee thereof and the delivery by such consignee to any person who purchased or contracted to purchase such shellac prior to its importation; provided, that nothing contained in this paragraph (d) (4) shall alter the requirements of General Imports Order M-63, as now or hereafter amended.

(5) Delivery of shellac by any person to a supplier; provided, however, that no supplier shall deliver shellac to another supplier pursuant to this paragraph (d) (5), unless the aggregate amount of shellac held in inventory by the supplier making delivery is less than ten thousand (10,000) pounds immediately prior to the delivery.

(e) Applications. (1) Each consumer as defined in paragraph (a) (4) above seeking authorization to use, process or accept delivery of shellac shall file application for such authorization on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the requested allocation month, on Form PD–617 (revised), in the manner prescribed therein. Such consumer shall state, among other things, the technical reasons necessitating the use of shellac instead of other materials, the grade of shellac requested, alternate acceptable grades, or technical reasons why alternate grades cannot be used, and whether he proposes to process the shellac requested himself or how he wishes to have it processed before delivery to him. He shall forward five certified copies of his application to his supplier if seeking authorization for delivery as well as use; if seeking authorization for use of shellac from his own inventory only, he shall forward three certified copies of his application to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–106.

(2) Each supplier receiving a set of PD–617 forms from a consumer shall, if he wishes to acquire a like amount of shellac from another supplier, execute Part II of the PD–617 set of forms and shall forward all these forms to the second supplier. The second supplier may repeat this process by executing Part III of the set of PD–617 forms and forwarding them to a third supplier. The third supplier and any subsequent suppliers to whom the set of PD–617 forms are forwarded, shall add similar additional parts in the same form and at the same time add one copy of all parts of the complete set before forwarding the set to another supplier.

(3) Each supplier receiving a set of PD–617 forms from a consumer or from another supplier and not needing to apply for delivery of shellac from another supplier, shall forward such forms, without making any entry therein or adding any additional copies, to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–106.

(4) Each supplier seeking authorization to process shellac in inventory in anticipation of future orders shall apply for authorization on Form PD–617 in the manner prescribed therein on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the requested allocation month. Three certified copies of such PD–617 application shall be forwarded to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: M–106.

(f) Reports. (1) On or before March 15, 1943, and on or before the 15th day of each calendar month thereafter, each person who on the first day of the previous calendar month had 5,000 pounds or more of shellac shall file with the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–106, an inventory report on Form PD–334 (revised) in the manner prescribed therein. Each person having a lesser quantity of shellac who shall receive a set of PD–334 forms from the War Production Board shall so certify in such forms as indicated and shall return such forms to the War Production Board.

(2) Each person who shall accept delivery of shellac pursuant to paragraph (d) (5) shall, within twenty-four hours after acceptance of such delivery, report by letter addressed to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref: M–106, the amount and grade of shellac delivered and the names of the persons making and accepting such delivery.

(3) Each person affected by this order shall file such other reports as may from time to time be required by the Director General for Operations.

(g) Notification of customers. Each supplier shall notify his regular customers as soon as possible of the requirements of this order as amended, but failure to receive such notice shall not excuse any person from complying with the terms hereof.

(h) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board Regulations, as amended from time to time, except Priorities Regulation No. 13, which shall be subject to this order to the extent it is inconsistent herewith.

(2) Records. Each person who shall use or participate in any transaction with respect to shellac shall keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years accurate and complete records of all such transactions and of his use and inventory of shellac.

(3) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C., Ref.: M–106.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3022—SILVER

[Conservation Order M–199 as Amended Feb 25, 1943]

The fulfillment of the requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of silver for defense, for private account, and for export, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 3022.1 Conservation Order M–199.—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Silver" means silver bullion, silver scrap and other secondary forms of silver, and any alloy, compound, salt, or mixture containing more than one-half of one per cent of silver by weight. The term does not include alloyed gold produced in accordance with U. S. Commerce Standards CS 51–35 and CS 67–38.

(2) "Foreign silver" means any silver except that which has been produced since July 1, 1939, from mines situated inside of the territorial limits of the United States, its territories and possessions. It also includes foreign silver scrap and other secondary forms of foreign silver, and any alloy, compound, salt, or other mixture containing more than one-half of one per cent of foreign silver by weight. Provided, however, That scrap and other secondary forms of silver resulting from the processing of silver produced since July 1, 1939, from mines situated inside of the territorial limits of the United States, its territories and possessions, shall be considered as excepted from the category of "foreign silver," as such term is used herein, only as long as such scrap and secondary form of silver remains in the ownership of the person whose processing operations produced it.

(3) "Restricted use" means a use of silver in the manufacture of a product or part thereof or in any other use appearing upon List A hereto attached.

(4) "Inventory" of a person includes the inventory of affiliates and subsidiaries of such person, and the inventory of others where such inventory is under the control of or under common control with or available for the use of such person.

(5) "Manufacturer" means any person who uses silver by incorporating it physically in the products or parts thereof which he manufactures or who uses or consumes silver in any manufacturing, testing, laboratory, plating, or repairing process.

(6) "Supplier" means any person who imports, smelts, alloys, melts, rolls, or refines silver, or who sells silver to manufacturers. The term includes distributors.

(7) "Process" means cut, draw, machine, stamp, melt, cast, forge, roll, turn, spin, or otherwise shape. It also means assemble. The term does not include sand-bobbing, buffing, or polishing an assembled article.

(8) "Put into process" means the first change by the manufacturer in the form of material from that form in which it is received by him.

(9) The term "assemble" shall not be deemed to include the putting together of an article after delivery to a sales outlet or consumer in knockdown form pursuant to an established custom. The term "assemble" shall also not be deemed to include adding finished parts to an otherwise finished article when the placing of one or more finished parts or the size or type of one or more finished parts is determined by the use to which the ultimate consumer is to put the article. In all other cases, the term "assemble" shall be deemed to include adding parts, whether of silver or of any other material, to an article of silver, where such article is not deemed complete and ready for immediate sale or use until such parts have been added, including adding gems, stones, or glass jewels or beads to articles or parts of silver, and adding brushes, combs, knives, forks, or other utensils to backs or handles of silver.

(10) The term "deliver" shall not be deemed to include a redelivery of silver to the owner thereof, who is a manufacturer, by a person to whom such owner delivered such silver to be alloyed or processed and returned to such owner for further processing; nor does it include the delivery under the same circumstances by the owner to the person who alloys or processes the silver for the owner.

(11) The term "receive" shall not be deemed to include a receipt of silver by the owner thereof, who is a manufacturer, from a person to whom such owner delivered such silver to be alloyed or processed and returned to such owner for further processing; nor does it include the receipt under the same circumstances from the owner by the person who alloys or processes the silver for the owner.

(12) "Domestic silver" means any silver except foreign silver.

(b) Restrictions upon sale or delivery of foreign silver for restricted uses. No supplier shall sell foreign silver except to a supplier or a manufacturer. No manufacturer shall sell foreign silver in the form of raw material, semi-processed material, or scrap except to a supplier or to fill orders bearing a preference rating of A–1–a or higher or to Metals Reserve Company or any other corporation organized under section (5) (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act as amended. Between July 29, 1942, and October 1, 1942, except to fill orders bearing a preference rating of A–1–a or higher, no supplier shall sell or deliver foreign silver to any manufacturer for restricted uses in excess of one-twelfth of the aggregate amount by weight of such foreign silver sold or delivered by him to such manufacturer for restricted uses during the calendar year 1941 or in excess of one-sixth of the aggregate amount by weight of such foreign silver sold or delivered to him by such manufacturer for restricted uses during the period from January 1, 1942, to July 1, 1942, whichever is greater; and after October 1, 1942, except to fill orders bearing a preference rating of A–1–a or higher, no supplier shall sell or deliver any foreign silver to any manufacturer for restricted uses. No supplier shall sell or deliver foreign silver to any person if he knows, or has reason to believe, such silver is to be received or used in violation of the terms of this order.

(c) Restrictions upon purchase or receipt of foreign silver for restricted uses. Between July 29, 1942, and October 1, 1942, except to fill orders bearing a preference rating of A–1–a or higher, no manufacturer shall purchase or receive foreign silver for restricted uses in excess of one-twelfth of the aggregate amount by weight of such foreign silver purchased or received by such manufacturer for restricted uses during the calendar year 1941 or in excess of one-sixth of the aggregate amount by weight of such foreign silver purchased or received by such manufacturer for restricted uses during the period from January 1, 1942, to July 1, 1942, whichever is greater; and after October 1, 1942, except to fill orders bearing a preference rating of A–1–a or higher, no manufacturer shall purchase or receive any foreign silver for restricted uses.

(d) Restrictions upon manufacture of foreign silver for restricted use. Between July 29, 1942, and October 1, 1942, except to fill orders bearing a preference rating of A–1–a or higher, no manufacturer shall put into process foreign silver for restricted uses in excess of one-twelfth of the aggregate amount by weight of such foreign silver put into process by such manufacturer for restricted uses during the year 1941 or in excess of one-sixth of the aggregate amount by weight of such foreign silver put into process by such manufacturer for restricted uses during the period from January 1, 1942, to July 1, 1942, whichever is greater. Except to fill orders bearing a preference rating of A–1–a or higher, no manufacturer shall put into process any foreign silver for restricted uses, nor shall he process further any partially processed products or parts thereof of foreign silver on List A, unless the foreign silver was put into process prior to October 1, 1942, and unless the products or parts will be finished by November 15, 1942. After October 1, 1942, except to fill orders bearing a preference rating of A–1–a or higher, no manufacturer shall put into process any foreign silver for restricted uses; and after November 15, 1942, except to fill orders bearing a preference rating of A–1–a or higher, no manufacturer shall process any foreign silver for restricted uses.

[NOTE: The word "foreign" was struck from paragraphs (b) and (i) Feb. 25, 1943.]

(e) Restrictions upon the purchase or receipt of domestic silver for restricted uses. In the period between February 25, 1943, and April 1, 1943, and in any calendar month thereafter until further notice, no manufacturer shall purchase or receive domestic silver for restricted uses, except to fill orders bearing a preference rating of A–1–a or higher, in excess of $\frac{1}{24}$ of the aggregate amount by weight of all silver purchased or received (not including receipts under toll agreement) by such manufacturer for restricted uses during the calendar year 1941 or the calendar year 1942, whichever is greater; Provided, however, That such manufacturer, in computing the amount of domestic silver which he is entitled to purchase or receive under the foregoing provision, shall deduct from his said aggregate purchases or receipts for restricted uses for the year 1941 or 1942, as the case may be, the aggregate amount by weight of sales made by him in such year of silver scrap or silver waste material resulting from his processing operations.

(f) Restrictions upon manufacture of domestic silver for restricted uses. In the period between February 25, 1943, and April 1, 1943, and in any calendar month thereafter until further notice, no manufacturer shall put into process domestic silver for restricted uses, except to fill orders bearing a preference rating of A–1–a or higher, in excess of $\frac{1}{24}$ of the aggregate amount by weight of all silver put into process by such manufacturer for restricted uses during the calendar year 1941 or the calendar year 1942, whichever is greater; Provided, however, That such manufacturer, in computing the amount of domestic silver which he is entitled to put into process under the foregoing provision, shall deduct from the said aggregate amount put into process by him for restricted uses for the year 1941 or 1942, as the case may be, the aggregate amount by weight of sales made by him in such year of silver scrap or silver waste material resulting from his processing operations.

(g) Special exception as to domestic silver. The restrictions of this order as to the purchase, receipt, and manufacture of domestic silver for restricted uses shall not apply to any manufacturer:

(1) Who manufactures jewelry by the use of hand tools exclusively; or

(2) Who meets each and all of the following requirements:

(i) He was engaged in the silver manufacturing business throughout the year 1941;

(ii) His gross receipts in the year 1941 from the sale of silver products did not exceed $25,000;

(iii) He continues to employ five persons or less in such silver manufacturing business, each of whom is either over the age of 50 years or physically incapacitated from performing ordinary factory labor; and

(iv) His gross sales of silver products for the calendar year 1943 and for each calendar year thereafter do not exceed $35,000 per year.

(h) Delivery certificate for silver. No supplier shall deliver silver to any manufacturer and no manufacturer shall receive silver from any supplier unless the manufacturer shall make and deliver to the supplier, or endorse on the purchase order, a certificate, manually signed by the manufacturer or a responsible official thereof, in substantially the following form, to-wit:

The undersigned hereby certifies that he is familiar with the terms of Conservation Order M–199; that he is a manufacturer as such term is used in such order, and that the silver covered by the accompanying order of even date shall be received and used as permitted by said Order M–199.

Dated _____
Name _____
By _____

Such certificate shall constitute a representation by the manufacturer to the supplier and the War Production Board of the facts stated therein. The supplier shall be entitled to rely on such representation unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false.

[NOTE: Paragraphs (h), (i), (j), (k), (l) and (m) formerly designated (e), (f), (g), (h), (i) and (j).]

(i) General exception. None of the restrictions in this order as to sale, purchase, delivery, receipt, or use of silver shall be applicable to the United States or any of its departments or governmental agencies.

(j) Repair exception. The restrictions of this order shall not apply to a person repairing a used article on or off the premises of the owner, if the person making the repair does not use silver weighing in the aggregate more than 3 ounces and if any putting into process or processing done by such person is for the purpose of making the specific repair. The term "repair" as used in this paragraph shall include the replating of used articles, provided the article was originally made of silver or silver-plated material.

(k) Limitations of inventories. No manufacturer shall receive delivery of silver, in the form of raw materials, semi-processed materials, finished parts, or sub-assemblies, nor shall he put into process any raw material, in quantities which in either case shall result in an inventory of raw, semi-processed, or finished material in excess of a minimum practicable working inventory, taking into consideration the limitations placed upon the use of silver by this order.

(l) Reports. Each supplier and each manufacturer and every other person affected by this order shall file such reports as may be requested from time to time by the Director General for Operations.

(m) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Appeal. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a degree of unemployment which would be unreasonably disproportionate compared with the amount of silver conserved, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from non-defense to defense work, may appeal to the War Production Board by letter or other written communication, in triplicate, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons he considers he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(2) Applicability of order. The prohibitions and restrictions contained in this order as to foreign silver shall apply to the use of such material in all items manufactured after July 29, 1942, irrespective of whether such items are manufactured pursuant to a contract made prior or subsequent to July 29, 1942. The prohibitions and restrictions contained in this order as to domestic silver shall apply to the use of such material in all items manufactured after February 25, 1943, irrespective of whether such items are manufactured pursuant to a contract made prior or subsequent to February 25, 1943. Insofar as any other order of the Director General for Operations may have the effect of limiting or curtailing to a greater extent than herein provided, the use of foreign or domestic silver in the production of any item, the limitations of such other order shall be observed.

(3) Applicability of Priorities Regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the Priorities Regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Miscellaneous Minerals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: M-199.

(5) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 25th day of February, 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

LIST A

[NOTE: The title of List A and items 7, 10 and 11 amended Feb. 25, 1943]

RESTRICTED USES OF SILVER UNDER CONSERVATION ORDER M-199

1. Silverware, including, without limitation, knives, forks, spoons, plates, platters, dishes, pitchers, vases, cups, candlesticks, and all other kinds of flatware and holloware and table, kitchen, and decorative utensils and objects.
2. Watch cases and jewelry, including, without limitation, costume jewelry, blackout jewelry and other articles of personal adornment.
3. Badges and insignia.
4. Church goods as defined in General Limitation Order L-136.
5. Slide fasteners, hooks and eyes, snaps, fasteners, and buttons.
6. Closures for containers.
7. Pens and pencils, except the nibs and interior tubes of fountain pens.
8. Toilet sets and picture frames.
9. Musical instruments.
10. Electroplating not necessary for operational purposes, except for use in the manufacture and repair of dental, surgical, veterinary, and optical (including spectacle frames) instruments, appliances, and equipment.
11. Silverclad metal, except for use in the manufacture and repair of dental, surgical, veterinary, and optical (including spectacle frames) instruments, appliances, and equipment.
12. Insulated wire for electrical conductors

INTERPRETATION 1

Conservation Order M-199 imposes certain limitations upon the amount of foreign silver which a manufacturer may put into process for restricted uses. In many silver manufacturing processes, a manufacturer starts with a certain amount of silver in primary shapes and ends the operation with a large part of such silver in the form of scrap. It is customary for the manufacturer in these cases to have this scrap melted, rolled, or otherwise processed so as to return it to a primary shape in which it can again be subjected to manufacturing processes. This reforming of the silver scrap in some instances is done by the manufacturer himself, in other instances the work is done by others under toll agreement. The question has been presented as to whether the processing of this reformed scrap must be considered as coming within the meaning of the term "put into process" or whether such processing of reformed scrap shall be considered as only the continuation of a processing operation which began when the manufacturer processed for the first time in any form for a restricted use the specific amount of silver from which such scrap was produced.

It is hereby determined that for the purposes of Order M-199, the term "put into process" shall be deemed to cover only the manufacturer's first processing for a restricted use of a given amount of silver. It shall not be deemed to cover the subsequent processing of reformed scrap produced therefrom, whether such reforming is done by the manufacturer himself or by others for him under toll agreement. The term shall be deemed to cover, however, the processing for a restricted use of reformed scrap which was produced in a manufacturing operation which is not restricted under the order. (Issued September 1, 1942.)

PART 3169—KNIT UNDERWEAR

[Limitation Order L-247]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in the supplies of materials for knit underwear for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3169.1 Limitation Order L-247.—(a) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Knit underwear" means all underwear made of knitted fabrics. The term shall not include slips, pajamas or gowns, other than infants' gowns.

(2) Unless otherwise indicated all trade terms shall have their customary trade meanings.

(c) General restrictions on manufacture. No person shall cut any fabric for or manufacture knit underwear, except in conformity with the following requirements:

(1) The types and number of permitted fabrics and models for each type shall be as shown in Schedule A. Any variation in either construction, fiber content of yarn, type of stitch, or weight, shall constitute a different fabric. Any variation in either cut, trim, or sleeve or leg length shall constitute a different model. A variation in color, method of finishing or size shall not constitute a different model.

(2) No knit underwear shall have any rayon striping, or any decorative trimming which does not add to the serviceability of the garment, unless permitted by Schedule A.

(3) The weight of any circular knit rayon fabric used shall not be lighter than 6.00 yards per pound or heavier than 3.50 yards per pound both based on 36 inch width.

(4) The rayon content in men's shirts, shorts or union suits or any types of infants' knit underwear shall be less than 50%.

(d) Exception. The prohibitions and restrictions of paragraph (c) shall not apply to knit underwear delivered to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration.

(e) Fair distribution of products. No person shall discriminate, in the acceptance or filling of orders, sales or deliveries, of knit underwear as between any of his customers who meet his established prices and terms.

(f) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, purchases, production and sales.

(g) Reports. Each person affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as may be required by said Board from time to time.

(h) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(i) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Textile, Clothing and Leather Division, Washington, D. C. Reference L-247.

(j) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(k) Effective date. This order shall take effect on April 1, 1943.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3193—MATCHES

[Limitation Order L-263]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply for defense, for private account and for export of lumber and other materials used in the manufacture of matches; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3193.1 Limitation Order L-263—(a) Definitions. (1) "Strike-on-box match" means a wood splint match normally strikeable on the box only, through the special preparation of the match head and the striking surface of the box.

(2) "Strike-anywhere match" means a wood splint match normally strikeable on any surface.

(3) "Book match" means a paper or cardboard splint match normally sold in book form.

(4) "Nought-size match" means a strike-anywhere match normally sold in boxes containing between 37 and 41 matches.

(5) "Single-lined board" means any paper board having a lining on one side containing virgin pulp or high grade waste or a combination thereof, the center and back being composed solely of materials listed in Schedule A annexed hereto.

(6) "Distributor" means a person who purchases matches for sale at wholesale and includes any person who purchases matches directly from a match manufacturer, but shall not include the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(7) "30-day supply" or "45-day supply" means one-twenty-fourth and one-sixteenth, respectively, of the total quantity of matches of which delivery was accepted during the two year period January 1, 1941, to December 31, 1942.

(b) Restrictions on production and packaging. No manufacturer of matches shall on and after March 27, 1943:

(1) Manufacture any strike-anywhere match having a splint length exceeding $2\frac{1}{8}$ inches.

(2) Manufacture any strike-on-box match or nought-size match having a splint length exceeding 1 13/16 inches.

(3) Manufacture any book match having less than 20 or more than 40 splints per book.

(4) Package wood splint matches in any match box or holder designed to carry or hold, on an average, less than 40 wood splint matches.

(5) Package in any caddy a quantity of book match books containing in the aggregate less than 1,000 book match splints.

(6) Use in stitching any book match, steel wire heavier than 25 gauge wire or use more than $\frac{7}{8}$ of an inch of wire for each 20 book match splints.

(7) Manufacture more than one size of book match splint, nor shall the width of paper board used exceed 1.25 inches for each ten match splints.

(8) Manufacture any box for strike-on-box matches having a phosphorus striking surface greater than the area of one side of such box.

(9) Manufacture any cover for book matches having a phosphorus striking surface exceeding $\frac{1}{4}$ inch in width.

(10) Use in the manufacture of any match, match box, book cover, or caddy, any metal powder, metallic ink, lacquer, spirit varnish or over-print varnish.

(11) Use in the manufacture of any book match cover any paper board other than single-lined board or board manufactured solely from materials listed in said Schedule A.

(12) Package any book match in any caddy made from paper board manufactured from materials other than those listed in said Schedule A.

(13) Package any wood splint match in any match box made from paper board other than single-lined board or board manufactured solely from materials listed in said Schedule A.

(c) Restrictions on deliveries. (1) No distributor shall order, or accept delivery of, matches if the total quantity of matches (regardless of type) then owned by him or in his possession exceeds a 30-day supply.

(2) The quantity of matches which may be ordered or received by a distributor who at the time of placing such order or of such receipt does not own or have in his possession more than the 30-day supply specified in paragraph (c) (1) hereof, shall not exceed a 45-day supply: Provided, however, That this paragraph (c) (2) shall not prevent a distributor from ordering or accepting delivery of a single carload of matches or a single truck load of matches where shipment was made to him by carload or truck load, as the case may be, during the two year period January 1, 1941 to December 31, 1942.

(3) No person shall deliver matches to a distributor if he knows or has reason to believe that such delivery will be in violation of paragraphs (c) (1) and (c) (2) hereof.

(d) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(3) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington, D. C. Ref: L-263.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 5C,[1] Amendment 25]

MILEAGE RATIONING: GASOLINE REGULATIONS

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[*]

Ration Order 5C is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1394.7805 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) The Board shall examine the single unit certificate or the fleet certificate submitted and shall insert at the appropriate places provided in the application the maximum number of gallons of gasoline allowed by such certificate for the quarterly periods thereupon indicated. The Board shall allow the maximum number of gallons of gasoline permitted under paragraph (a) of this section, or the quantity of gasoline required by the applicant during the period or periods for which the ration is sought as stated in the application, whichever is less. The Board shall issue Class T-1 or T-2 books or bulk coupons in sufficient number to provide the number of gallons of gasoline allowed by it.

2. Section 1394.7805 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) The Board shall, when issuing Class T-1, T-2 or D books as transport rations, remove and cancel all coupons in excess of the number required to supply the gallonage allowed. The Board shall note on the face of the books the date of issuance or December 1, 1942, whichever is later, and the date of expiration of such books. If the applicant has requested that bulk coupons be issued to him, and if the applicant meets the requirements of paragraph (a) of § 1394.8006, the Board shall issue bulk coupons to the extent of the gallonage allowed by it for which bulk coupons are requested. On and after March 1, 1943, either at the time of original issuance or upon the first renewal of a transport ration for use with a vehicle for which a certificate of war necessity is required to be presented, the Board shall note on the face of the single unit certificate the Board number and the initials of the person issuing such books. In the case of a fleet certificate the Board shall note on the reverse side thereof the name or number and address of the issuing Board, and the initials of the person issuing such books.

3. Section 1394.7901 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1394.7901 Persons entitled to non-highway rations. Any person who requires gasoline for a non-highway purpose may obtain a non-highway ration authorizing the acquisition of the amount of gasoline required for such purpose, except as provided in § 1394.7904. Non-highway rations shall be issued for three-month periods except that rations for use in connection with farming shall be issued for six-month periods.

4. Section 1394.7902 (a) is amended by substituting for the words "three-month period" the words "three or six-month period".

5. Section 1394.7903 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) The applicant shall state the amount of gasoline needed for non-highway use during the three-month period, or if the use is in connection with farming, during the six-month period, following the date on which such ration is required, and the non-highway purpose or purposes for which such gasoline is needed.

6. Section 1394.7904 (a) is amended by substituting for the words "three-month period" the words "three or six-month period".

7. Section 1394.7904 (b) (3) is added to read as follows:

[*] Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.
[1] 7 F.R. 9335, 10714; 8 F.R. 531.
[1] 7 F.R. 10144, 10337, 10475, 10585, 10786, 10995; 8 F.R. 158, 876, 877, 1120, 1468, 1741, 1885, 2024, 2038.
[1] 7 F.R. 9135, 9787, 10147, 10016, 10110, 10338, 10706, 10786, 10787, 11009, 11070, 8 F.R. 179, 274, 369, 372, 607, 565, 1028, 1202, 1203, 1365, 1282, 1366, 1318, 1588, 1813, 1895, 2098.

(3) In the case of an inboard motorboat or outboard motor used in connection with farming, the gallonage determined by the formulae in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph shall be multiplied by two and the non-highway ration so determined shall be issued for a six-month period.

8. Section 1394.7904 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Except as provided in paragraph (a) of § 1394.8103, no non-occupational ration may be issued for an inboard motor boat or an outboard motor during any three or six-month period for which a ration has already been issued.

9. Section 1394.8010 (a) is redesignated § 1394.8010 Presentation of tire inspection records.

10. Section 1394.8010 (b) is revoked.

11. Section 1394.8051 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) (1) If there have been no substantial changes since the date of the original application in the applicant's gasoline needs, or in the nature, amount, and conditions of use of the motor vehicle for which the original ration was issued, and if such original application accurately calculated the applicant's requirements, application for a renewal thereof (except in the case of a basic, special or transport ration) may be made by executing Form OPA R–543. The applicant shall in such case note on such form any changes in the nature or amount of his use since the date of the original application. If the applicant or principal user is employed at an establishment or facility described in subparagraph (3) of paragraph (a) of § 1394.7704 such form must be certified as indicated thereon by an official in charge of an organized transportation plan at such place of employment. If the Board is satisfied that there have been no substantial changes in the applicant's gasoline needs, or in the nature, amount and conditions of use of the motor vehicle for which the original ration was issued it may issue a renewal of such ration without requiring execution by the applicant of a new original application.

(2) In the case of a renewal of a transport ration issued for use with a commercial vehicle for which a certificate of war necessity has been issued, the Board shall, before the beginning of the calendar quarter, issue a renewal ration for such quarter without requiring execution by the applicant of any renewal form. If the renewal is for a fleet of commercial motor vehicles the Board shall notify the applicant not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the beginning of the new quarter to appear for a renewal ration. In order to obtain the first renewal after March 1, 1943 of a Transport ration issued before that date the applicant must present to the Board the single unit certificate issued for the vehicle, or in the case of a fleet of commercial vehicles, the fleet certificate issued for such fleet. The Board, upon such a renewal, shall insert at the appropriate places provided in the applicant's original application on Form OPA R–536 the maximum number of gallons of gasoline allowed by such certificate for the quarterly periods thereupon indicated. Upon receipt of notice from the Office of Defense Transportation that a certificate of war necessity has been recalled or revoked, or that the maximum gallonage allowance upon such certificate has been modified for any quarter, the Board shall make a notation upon the applicant's original application that the certificate has been recalled or revoked, or shall, in accordance with the notice received, revise the quarterly allowances which it originally inserted on such application pursuant to this section or paragraph (b) of § 1394.7805. Thereafter, if the certificate has been revoked, the Board shall issue no renewals. If the allowances have been modified, the renewals shall be issued in accordance with the modified allowances.

(3) An applicant may renew a transport ration for use with a motor vehicle owned or leased by the military or naval forces of the United States or State military forces organized pursuant to section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended, by filling in the pertinent information on the face of the original Form OPA R–536 for the period for which the ration is required and executing the renewal certificate.

12. A new § 1394.8182 is added, to read as follows:

§ 1394.8182 Misuse of certificates of war necessity. No person shall use or attempt to use a certificate of war necessity to obtain the issuance of rations which would provide gallonage for use with any vehicle or fleet in excess of the maximum gallonage allowed by the Office of Defense Transportation, as stated upon the currently valid single unit or fleet certificate issued for such vehicle or fleet.

This amendment shall become effective March 2, 1943.

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 11,[1] Amendment 39]

FUEL OIL RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1394.5001 (a) (1) is amended; in § 1394.5151 (a) (1) (IV) inferior subdivision (c) is amended, and a new inferior subdivision (f) is added to subdivision (iv); § 1394.5731 (a) (1) is amended by deleting, wherever it appears, the word "calendar" between the words "preceding" and "month"; as set forth below:

Definitions

§ 1394.5001 Definitions. (a) . . .

(1) "Additional facilities" means any equipment designed to use fuel oil, other than internal combustion engines or equipment used for domestic cooking or lighting purposes, which was installed subsequent to July 31, 1942. The term also means any space heater (whether or not installed) which was transferred subsequent to December 19, 1942.

. . . . .

Restrictions on Issuance of Rations

§ 1394.5151 Restrictions on issuance of rations. (a) No ration shall be issued or used:

(1) For the operation of additional facilities or converted facilities except where: . . .

(iv) The additional facility is a space heater and one of the following facts is established by the applicant: . . .

(c) Such space heater is used to heat the same premises heated by it prior to December 19, 1942; . . .

(f) The space heater has been acquired pursuant to Ration Order No. 9.[1]

. . . . .

This amendment shall become effective on March 2, 1943.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Ration Order 3,[2] Amendment 42]

SUGAR RATIONING REGULATIONS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Subparagraph (27) of paragraph (c) of § 1407.21 is amended; in paragraph (c) of § 1407.140 the word "only" is deleted, and paragraph (h) is added to § 1407.140 as set forth below:

Definitions

§ 1407.21 Meaning of terms used in Rationing Order No. 3. . . .

(c) Definitions. . . .

(27) "Depositor" means a person who has a ration bank account. A person shall be deemed a separate depositor with respect to each of his accounts but shall be deemed a depositor only with respect to establishments served by such accounts.

. . . . .

Sugar Purchase Certificates, War Ration Books, War Ration Stamps and War Ration Checks

§ 1407.140 Use of checks by depositors and non-depositors. . . .

(h) No person may accept stamps, certificates, or checks which he knows or has reason to believe are transferred or surrendered in violation of this section.

This amendment shall become effective March 2, 1943.

PART 1432—RATIONING OF CONSUMERS' DURABLE GOODS

[Ration Order 9,[1] Amendment 2]

HEATING STOVES

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1432.1 is amended by inserting the word "Oregon" between the words "Ohio" and "Pennsylvania", and by inserting the word "Washington" between the words "Virginia" and "West Virginia"; the phrase "all possible" in § 1432.13 (c) is deleted; § 1432.14 is amended; a new § 1432.14a is added; § 1432.15 (a) is amended; the headnote to and the text of § 1432.16 are amended; a new § 1432.16a is added; §§ 1432.17, 1432.18, 1432.31, 1432.32, 1432.33 and 1432.44 are amended; as set forth below:

Subpart B—Provisions Affecting Consumers and Boards

§ 1432.14 Persons eligible to obtain certificates for new oil heating stoves. The only persons who may obtain new oil heating stoves are those who:

(a) Need a new oil heating stove to heat essential living or working space which is not heated by any equipment, and who have not in the sixty (60) days before application disposed of any equipment which could have been used for heating the space; or

(b) Wish to replace oil burning equipment which heated essential living or working space and which is worn out or damaged beyond repair, and who have not in the sixty (60) days before application disposed of any equipment which could have been used for heating the space.

§ 1432.14a Same; further qualifications. The persons mentioned in § 1432.14 will not receive certificates for new oil heating stoves unless they are unable to use coal or wood burning equipment because:

(a) Coal burning equipment or coal for the use of such equipment is not available (excluding temporary shortages); and

(b) Wood burning equipment or wood for the use of such equipment is not available (excluding temporary shortages); or

(c) There is no flue or chimney or other provision for venting either coal or wood burning equipment; or

(d) No member of the household is physically able to operate either coal or wood burning equipment.

§ 1432.15 Application for a certificate; persons who need new coal heating equipment as a substitute for or to supplement oil burning equipment. (a) A person who wishes to substitute a new coal heating stove for oil burning equipment (see paragraph (a) of § 1432.13) must surrender to his board those unused and unexpired fuel oil coupons or coupon sheets which were issued for heating the space which is to be heated by the coal heating stove. The board shall retain the surrendered coupon sheets and coupons for thirty (30) days, and if within that period a coal heating stove (or the necessary coal) is not available and if the applicant shall tender to the board his unused stove certificate, the board shall return the coupon sheets to him in exchange for his unused stove certificate.

. . . . .

§ 1432.16 Application for a certificate; persons who need a new coal heating stove. A person who needs a new coal heating stove to heat unheated essential space (see paragraph (b) of § 1432.13) must present to the board the following statement signed by him:

(Date)

I, ---, hereby certify that (Print name)

Subpart C—Provisions Affecting Exporters and Certain Government Agencies

§ 1432.31 Transfer of new heating stoves to certain Government Agencies. The Army, Navy, Marine Corps, War Shipping Administration or the Maritime Commission, of the United States may acquire range burners, new coal or new oil heating stoves without obtaining certificates from Boards but they must, at or before the time of delivery, give to the dealer a memorandum receipt on an official letterhead of the agency, signed by an authorized representative thereof, setting forth the date of delivery, the name and address of the dealer and the number of units delivered, unless this information is contained in other documents retained by the dealer.

§ 1432.32 Transfer of new heating stoves for export. Any government agency or other person acquiring new coal or new oil heating stoves for export to and consumption or use in any foreign country may acquire such equipment without obtaining certificates from Boards, but they must, at or before the time of delivery, give to the dealer a memorandum receipt on the official letterhead of the agency or person, signed by an authorized representative of the agency or of such person, setting forth the date of delivery, the name and address of the dealer and the number of units delivered, unless this information is contained in other documents retained by the dealer.

§ 1432.33 Transfers of new coal heating stoves under W. P. B. preference rating orders. The Federal Public Housing Authority acquiring new coal heating stoves under any preference rating order of the War Production Board, or any contractor acquiring new coal heating stoves under W. P. B. Preference Orders Nos. P–55, P–110 or any preference rating order of the P–19 series, may acquire these stoves without obtaining certificates from Boards but they must, at or before the time of delivery, give to the dealer a memorandum receipt on an official letterhead of the agency or contractor, signed by an authorized representative of the agency or contractor, setting forth the date of delivery, the name and address of the dealer and the number of units delivered, unless this information is contained in other documents retained by the dealer.

Subpart D—Provisions Which Apply to the Trade

§ 1432.44 New coal heating stoves may not be shipped outside limitation area. No person may ship new coal heating stoves from inside the limitation area to any point outside the limitation area, except to the territory of Alaska or upon special permission from the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

PART 1410—WOOL

[MPR 123,[1] as Amended Feb. 24, 1943]

RAW AND PROCESSED WOOL WASTE MATERIALS

Section 1410.71a is amended; § 1410.80, Table I, "Maximum Prices for Wool Waste," is amended; new items are added to the "Men's Wear" and "Miscellaneous" categories in Table II; Table III, "Maximum Prices for Knitted Wool Clips," is amended; and an item is added to the "Miscellaneous" category in Table IV; and in § 1410.81 the "Maximum Charge" table is amended by Amendment 5 so that Maximum Price Regulation 123 shall read as follows:

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the prices of raw and processed wool waste materials have risen and are threatening further to rise to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of raw and processed wool waste materials prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this Regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this Regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said Act. A statement of the considerations[2] involved in the issuance of this Regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1,[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 123 is hereby issued.

Sec.

1410.71 Maximum prices for raw and processed wool waste materials
1410.71a Maximum prices for processed wool waste materials which cannot be priced under § 1410.71.

1410.79a Effective dates of amendments
1410.80 Appendix A: Maximum prices for raw and processed wool waste material.
1410.81 Appendix B: Maximum charges for special processing services.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1410.71 to 1410.81, inclusive, issued pursuant to Pub. Laws No. 421 and 729 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1410.71 Maximum prices for raw and processed wool waste materials. On and after April 28, 1942, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease, or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver raw or processed wool waste materials and no person shall buy or receive raw or processed wool waste materials in the course of trade or business, at prices higher than the maximum prices established herein; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing: Provided, That contracts entered into prior to April 28, 1942, at prices in compliance with Revised Price Schedule No. 58,[4] as amended, may be carried out at the contract price.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 7 (7 F.R. 5176) provides that the prohibition contained in any price regulation against buying or receiving any commodity or service at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by such regulation shall not apply to any war procurement agency, or government whose defense is vital to the defense of the United States.]

(a) Raw wool waste materials. (1) The maximum price for any raw wool waste material of the type, kind, classification and grade (including color and percentage of wool content) enumerated in Tables I to VI, inclusive, of Appendix A, incorporated herein as § 1410.80, shall be the price set forth therein.

(2) (i) The maximum price for any type, kind, classification or grade of raw wool waste material not enumerated in Tables I to VI, inclusive, of Appendix A, incorporated herein as § 1410.80, shall be a price in line with the maximum price set forth in Tables I to VI, inclusive, for the nearest related type, kind, classification, and grade (including color and percentage of wool content) of raw wool waste material. The term "in line with," as used in this subparagraph (2), means having a justifiable relation to the maximum price with commensurate decreases or increases to give effect to actual differences in the type, kind, classification, grade, condition and quality of the materials.

(ii) In the event that a person has in stock or on contract 500 pounds or more of a raw wool waste material, the maximum price for which is determined pursuant to this subparagraph (2), such person shall, within 5 days after making his first sale of any part thereof, submit a request for the approval of the maximum price therefor to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. Such request for approval shall be accompanied by a sample and a description of such raw wool waste material and of the nearest related type, kind, classification and grade (including color and percentage of wool content) of raw wool waste material, the maximum price for which is set forth in the applicable table in § 1410.80: Provided, That if the maximum price approved by the Office of Price Administration is lower than the price at which the raw wool waste material was sold, the seller shall within 10 days after the approval of such maximum price refund to the purchaser the amount by which such selling price exceeded the approved maximum price.

[Paragraph (2) as amended by Amendment 3, 7 F.R. 9325]

(b) Processed wool waste materials. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) the maximum price for processed wool waste materials shall be the aggregate of:

(i) The prices actually paid by the seller for the constituent raw materials, not including dyes, chemicals, oil or similar substances: Provided, That the prices for the constituent raw wool waste materials do not exceed the applicable maximum prices for such materials set forth in the Tables of § 1410.80, and

(ii) The applicable processing margin as defined in and subject to the provisions of § 1410.78 (a) (5): Provided, That no amount may be added to the prices actually paid by the seller for raw wool waste materials enumerated in Tables IV, V and VI, inclusive, of § 1410.80, for blending such materials.

(2) The maximum price for processed wool waste materials subjected only to any one or a combination of more than one of the special processing services set forth in Appendix B, incorporated herein as § 1410.81 shall be the aggregate of:

(i) The maximum prices for the constituent raw materials set forth in the applicable Tables of § 1410.80; and

(ii) The applicable maximum charges set forth in § 1410.81:

(3) Every person making a sale of processed wool waste materials in the course of trade or business or otherwise dealing therein, after April 27, 1942, shall deliver to the purchaser an invoice or similar document which shall show, in addition to the other items specifically required in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 123: (i) the quantity of the processed wool waste materials shipped or delivered and the price contracted for, received or paid therefor; (ii) the aggregate quantity of and the aggregate price paid by the seller for, the raw wool waste materials in the processed product so sold; (iii) an itemization of each of the processing services actually performed by the seller, or for his account and (iv) the applicable processing margin or the maximum charges set forth in § 1410.81 for the processing services performed.

(c) Export sales. The maximum prices for export sales of raw or processed wool waste materials sold by an exporter shall be determined in accordance with the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[5] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

[Paragraphs (b) and (c) as amended by Amendment 3]

§ 1410.71a Maximum prices for processed wool waste materials which cannot be priced under § 1410.71. The seller's maximum price for any processed wool waste material which cannot be priced under § 1410.71 of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 123, shall be a price in line with the level of maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 123, determined by the seller after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration. A person who seeks an authorization to determine a maximum price under the provisions of this § 1410.71a shall file with the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., an application setting forth (a) a description in detail of the processed wool waste material for which a maximum price is sought, together with a sample thereof and (b) a statement of the reasons why the maximum price for such processed raw wool waste material cannot be determined under the provisions of § 1410.71.

[§ 1410.71a added by Amendment 3 and amended by Amendment 5]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9894) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 34 (7 F.R. 10779) permits special packing expenses to be added to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

§ 1410.72 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 123 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1410.73 Conditional agreements. No seller of raw or processed wool waste materials shall enter into an agreement permitting the adjustment of the prices to prices which may be higher than the maximum prices provided by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 123 in the event that this Maximum Price Regulation No. 123 is amended or is determined by a court to be invalid or upon any other contingency: Provided, That if a petition for amendment has been duly filed, and such petition requires extensive consideration, and the Administrator determines that an exception would be in the public interest pending such consideration, the Administrator may grant an exception from the provisions of this section permitting the making of contracts adjustable upon the granting of the petition for amendment. Requests for such an exception may be included in the aforesaid petition for amendment.

§ 1410.74 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 123 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to raw or processed wool waste materials, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

§ 1410.75 Records and reports—(a) Raw wool waste materials. Every person making a purchase or sale of raw wool waste materials in the course of trade or business or otherwise dealing therein, after April 27, 1942, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for a period of not less than one year, complete and accurate records of each such purchase or sale, showing: (1) the date thereof; (2) the name and address of the seller and buyer; and (3) the quantity of and the price contracted for, received or paid for each type, kind, classification and grade of materials so purchased or sold. An invoice or other similar document shall be delivered by the seller to the purchaser showing each of these items, in addition to the other items specifically required by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 123.

(b) Processed wool waste materials. (1) Every person making a sale of processed wool waste materials in the course of trade or business or otherwise dealing therein, after April 27, 1942, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than one year, complete and accurate records showing with respect to each such sale (i) the date thereof; (ii) the name and address of the purchaser; (iii) the quantity and cost price to the seller of each kind, classification and grade of the constituent materials in the processed product so sold; (iv) the quantity of processed wool waste material shipped or delivered to the purchaser and the price contracted for, received or paid therefor; (v) an itemization of each of the processes actually performed by the seller, or for his account, and the amount charged or paid therefor; (vi) the percentages and allowances for shrinkage or gain in processing and (vii) any other charges.

(2) Every person making a sale of processed wool waste materials in the course of trade or business or otherwise dealing therein, after April 27, 1942, shall keep and preserve in a safe place and make available for the inspection of the Office of Price Administration existing records showing each of the items (i) to (vii), inclusive, listed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, with respect to each sale during the period between October 1 and December 15, 1941, inclusive.

(c) Such persons shall keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as it may, from time to time, require.

§ 1410.76 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 123 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of any price schedule, regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest district, state or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

(c) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 5*—Licensing, are applicable to every dealer selling wool waste materials subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 123 to a consumer. "Dealer" shall in this paragraph (c) and this paragraph only have the meaning given to it by Supplementary Order No. 5. "Consumer" shall in this paragraph (c) and in this paragraph only mean a person who performs any or a combination of more than one of the processes enumerated in paragraph (a) (3) of § 1410.78 on wool waste materials or who uses wool waste materials in the manufacture of woolen yarn or in any other manufacturing process.

[§ 1410.76 as amended by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 3829]

§ 1410.77 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 123 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

[§ 1410.77 as amended by Supplementary Order No. 26, 7 F.R. 8948]

[NOTE: Procedural Regulation No. 6 (7 F.R. 5087, 5665) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment of maximum prices for commodities or services under Government contracts or subcontracts. Supplementary Order No. 9 (7 F.R. 5444) makes the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 6 applicable to all price regulations, with the exception of those on scrap, waste, and salvage materials.]

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

§ 1410.78 Definitions. (a) When used in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 123, the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States and any agency thereof, or any other government or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the foregoing.

[Paragraph (1) as amended by Amendment 1, 7 F.R. 3829]

(2) "Raw wool waste materials" includes the types, kinds, classifications and grades of wool waste materials, enumerated in Tables I through VI, inclusive, of Appendix A hereof (§ 1410.80), regardless of the system of manufacture on which the waste materials were produced, as well as all related types, kinds, classifications and grades of raw wool waste materials, except those covered by other regulations and price schedules issued by the Office of Price Administration. The term is applicable to both domestic and imported raw wool waste materials.

(3) "Processing" includes any one or a combination of more than one of the following processes: blending, dusting, lumping, carding, shredding, garnetting, carbonizing, cutting, scouring, washing, stripping, dyeing, picking, sterilizing, burr picking and neutralizing. The term shall also include sorting when done in combination with any one or more of the aforementioned processes, other than sterilizing, burr picking or neutralizing.

(4) "Processed wool waste materials" means raw wool waste materials, whether or not in combination with wool or other fibers, which have been subjected to any one or a combination of more than one of the processes enumerated in subparagraph (3), and shall include raw wool waste materials subjected to any one or a combination of more than one of the special processing services for which maximum charges are established in § 1410.81. Without limiting the generality of the above definitions, processed wool waste materials include both "reused wool" and "reprocessed wool" as those terms are defined in the Wool Products Labeling Act of 1939. The term shall not include imported processed wool waste materials.

[Paragraphs (2), (3), and (4) as amended by Amendment 3, 7 F.R. 9325]

(5) "Applicable processing margin" means:

(i) The margin received by the seller for the sale or delivery to a purchaser of the same general class, during the period between October 1 and December 15, 1941, inclusive, of processed wool waste materials, of the same general type, classification and grade, on which the same process or processes have been performed. This margin shall be determined by subtracting the price paid by the seller for the constituent raw materials from the price received by the seller for the processed wool waste materials; or

(ii) If during said period no such sale or delivery were made, an amount in line with the applicable processing margin, determined in accordance with subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, received by the seller for the sale or delivery during the period between October 1 to December 15, 1941, inclusive, of the same, or if not the same, the nearest related type, classification and grade of processed wool waste materials on which the same, or if not the same, the nearest related process or processes have been performed. The term "in line with" as used in this subdivision means having a justifiable relation to the applicable processing margin, as determined in accordance with subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, with commensurate increases or decreases to give effect to actual differences in the processes performed and in type, classification and grade of the constituent raw materials; or

* 7 F.R. 3403.

(iii) In those cases in which the seller did not make a sale or delivery during the period between October 1 and December 15, 1941, inclusive, of the same or related processed wool waste materials on which the same or related process or processes have been performed, the margin or amount, determined in accordance with subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph, received by the most closely competitive seller of the same general class for the sale or delivery during the period between October 1 and December 15, 1941, inclusive, of the processed wool waste materials of the same, or if not the same, the nearest type, classification and grade on which the same, or if not the same, the nearest related process or processes have been performed.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1410.79 Effective date. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 123 (§§ 1410.71 to 1410.80, inclusive) shall become effective April 28, 1942.

[Issued April 24, 1942]

§ 1410.79a Effective dates of amendments.

Amendment Nos. and issue dates	Effective
Amendment 1, 5–20–42	5–20–42
Amendment 2, 8–20–42	8–20–42
Amendment 3, 11–11–42	11–17–42
Amendment 4, 12–18–42	12–17–42
Amendment 5, 2–24–43	3– 1–43

* Amendment No. 3 shall become effective November 17, 1942: Provided, That a seller making deliveries of raw or processed wool waste materials within 60 days of November 17, 1942, pursuant to contracts entered into prior to such date in compliance with the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 123, as then effective, may charge the contract prices therefor. [Amendment 4, 7 F.R. 10708]

§ 1410.80 Appendix A: Maximum prices for raw and processed wool waste material. (a) The maximum prices for raw wool waste material set forth in the following Tables I to VI, inclusive, and the maximum prices for processed wool waste materials as determined in accordance with § 1410.71 (b), are f. o. b. shipping point. Raw and processed wool waste materials may, however, be sold, offered for sale, delivered or transferred at prices delivered buyer's receiving point. In such case, the transportation charges must be shown as a separate item on the invoice or other document to be delivered by the seller to the purchaser, and the price f. o. b. shipping point, obtained by subtracting the transportation charge from the total delivered price, must not exceed the maximum f. o. b. shipping point price established herein. Whenever delivery is made in the seller's conveyance, the transportation charge shall not exceed the charge which would be applicable on an identical shipment from the same point of shipment to the same receiving point at the lowest available commercial transportation rate. In such cases the transportation charges must be shown as a separate item on the invoice or other similar document to be delivered by the seller to the purchaser.

(b) The maximum prices established herein shall not be increased by any charges for the extension of credit.

(c) The maximum prices established herein shall include all commissions, premiums and other charges except as provided herein.

(1) Commissions for sales or purchases by brokers. In the event that a purchaser or seller of wool waste materials of the types, kinds, classifications and grades enumerated in Table I hereof, except scourer's waste, shall employ a broker to make a purchase or sale on his behalf, a brokerage commission of not more than ¼ cent per pound or 1% of the purchase price, whichever is greater, may be charged for such services and added to the applicable maximum price established herein: Provided, That a commission may not be charged to both buyer and seller and a commission shall be payable only if (i) such wool waste materials are purchased or sold at a price not higher than the applicable maximum price established herein; (ii) the commission is shown as a separately itemized charge on the invoice or similar document delivered to the purchaser; and (iii) the commission is not split or divided with the buyer or with the seller or with an agent or employee of the buyer or the seller.

(2) Premiums for sales of unprocessed government clips. Any person who purchases from the United States Government wool clips of the types, kinds, classifications and grades enumerated in Table VI hereof, for resale, may upon such resale, add to the applicable maximum price established by this Regulation for such clips, a premium of ½ cent a pound or 3%, whichever is greater, if he resells them in their original government baling, and an additional premium of 1 cent a pound if sorted free of contraries and rebaled; Provided, That if such clips are sold after they have been subjected to any of the processes listed in § 1410.78 (a) (3) no such premium may be added but the maximum price shall be determined in accordance with § 1410.71 (b).

[Paragraph (3) revoked by Amendment 3, 7 F.R. 9325]

TITLE 33—NAVIGATION AND NAVIGABLE WATERS

Chapter I—Coast Guard, Department of the Navy

[General License 3]

PART 6—SECURITY OF PORTS AND THE CONTROL OF VESSELS IN THE NAVIGABLE WATERS OF THE UNITED STATES

LICENSING OF GREAT LAKES VESSELS OPERATING BETWEEN UNITED STATES AND CANADA

Whereas, by § 6.18, Part 6, Subpart A, Title 33, Regulations for the Security of Ports and Control of Vessels in the Navigable Waters of the United States (7 F.R. 8026), it is provided that the Commandant of the Coast Guard may issue general licenses for any class or classes of vessels for which a departure or movement license is required by said regulations if he finds that the granting of such general license would not be inimical to the national war effort or to the safety and protection of vessels or navigable waters of the United States; and

Whereas I find that the granting of a general license for the class of vessels hereinafter specified, and under the following terms and conditions, would not be inimical to the war effort or to the safety and protection of vessels or the navigable waters of the United States;

Now therefore by virtue of the authority vested in me by the regulations above cited:

§ 6.202. General License 3. All vessels exclusive of those covered by § 6.19 of this part (7 F.R. 8028) which are now in or which may hereafter enter the local waters are hereby generally licensed to depart from local waters by crossing the international boundary between the United States and Canada for operation on the Great Lakes and the connecting waters thereof subject to the following terms and conditions:

(a) Pleasure vessels departing from a port or place within the United States may not touch at any Canadian port or place without having obtained a permit from the Captain of the Port.

(b) This general license may be revoked by the Commandant of the Coast Guard whenever he finds its continuance in force would be inimical to the war effort and to the safety and protection of vessels or the navigable waters of the United States.

(c) The Commandant of the Coast Guard may, in his discretion, exclude individual vessels from this general license upon notification to the owners, agents, masters, or operators thereof, but any vessel so excluded may be granted an individual license under the provisions of § 6.15 of Subpart A (7 F.R. 8027).

(d) The issuance of this general license does not in any manner relieve any vessel covered thereby or its owner, master, or operator from compliance with the provisions of any other applicable law or regulation.

R. R. WAESCHE,
Commandant.

METAL, PLASTICS, MACHINERY, INSTRUMENT, AND ALLIED INDUSTRIES

NOTICE OF HEARING

Notice of hearing on the minimum wage recommendation of Industry Committee No. 53 for the Metal, Plastics, Machinery, Instrument, and Allied Industries, to be held March 16, 1943.

Whereas the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, acting pursuant to section 5 (b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 on January 27, 1943, by Administrative Order No. 173 appointed Industry Committee No. 53 for the Metal, Plastics, Machinery, Instrument, and Allied Industries, composed of an equal number of representatives of the public, employers in the industry and employees in the industry, such representatives having been appointed with due regard to the geographical regions in which the industry is carried on; and

Whereas Industry Committee No. 53, on February 16, 1943, recommended a minimum wage rate for the Metal, Plastics, Machinery, Instrument, and Allied Industries and duly adopted a report containing such recommendations and reasons therefor and filed such report with the Administrator on February 17, 1943, pursuant to section 8 (d) of the Act and § 511.19 of the regulations issued under the Act; and

Whereas the Administrator is required by section 8 (d) of the Act, after due notice to interested persons and giving them an opportunity to be heard, to approve and carry into effect by order the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 53 if he finds that the recommendation is made in accordance with law and is supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the industry committee, will carry out the purposes of section 8 of the Act; and, if he finds otherwise, to disapprove such recommendation;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that:

I. The recommendation of Industry Committee No. 53 is as follows:

Wages at a rate of not less than 40 cents an hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 by every employer to each of his employees in the Metal, Plastics, Machinery, Instrument, and Allied Industries (as defined in Administrative Order No. 173) who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

II. The definition of the Metal, Plastics, Machinery, Instrument, and Allied Industries as set forth in Administrative Order No. 173, issued January 27, 1943, is as follows:

The production of metals and the manufacture of any product or part made of metal or plastics; and the manufacture from any material of machinery, instruments, tools, electrical goods, transportation equipment, and ordnance: Provided however, The definition shall not include:

1. The mining or milling of metalliferous ores.

2. The production of any basic material other than metal.

3. The further processing of any basic material other than metal or plastics: Provided, however, That such processing when performed by an establishment producing from such material a product of this industry or subassembly of such product shall be included within this definition.

4. Any product, the manufacture of which is covered by the definition of an industry for which the Administrator has already issued a wage order or appointed an industry committee.

III. The full text of the report and recommendation of Industry Committee No. 53 is and will be available for inspection by any person between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 4:00 p. m. at the following offices of the United States Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division:

IV. A public hearing will be held on March 16, 1943, before Major Robert N. Campbell, Presiding Officer, at 10:00 a. m. in Room 1610, 165 West 46th Street, New York, New York, for the purpose of taking evidence on the following question:

Whether the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 53 should be approved or disapproved.

V. Any interested person supporting or opposing the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 53 may appear at the aforesaid hearing to offer evidence, either on his behalf or on behalf of any other person: Provided, That not later than March 11, 1943, such person shall file with the Administrator at New York, New York, a notice of his intent to appear which shall contain the following information:

1. The name and address of the person appearing.
2. If such person is appearing in a representative capacity, the name and address of the person or persons whom he is representing.
3. Whether such person proposes to appear for or against the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 53.
4. The approximate length of time requested for his presentation.

Such notice may be mailed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, 165 West 46th Street, New York, New York, and shall be deemed filed upon receipt thereof.

VI. Any person interested in supporting or opposing the recommendation of Industry Committee No. 53 may secure further information concerning the aforesaid hearing by inquiry directed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, 165 West 46th Street, New York, New York, or by consulting with attorneys representing the Administrator who will be available for that purpose at the Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Labor, in Washington, D. C. and New York, New York.

VII. Copies of the following document relating to the Metal, Plastics, Machinery, Instrument and Allied Industries will be made available on request for inspection by any interested person who intends to appear at the aforesaid hearing:

Report entitled, Memorandum to Industry Committee No. 53 for the Metal, Plastics, Machinery, Instrument, and Allied Industries, prepared by the Economics Branch, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, February 1943.

VIII. The hearing will be conducted in accordance with the following rules, subject, however, to such subsequent modifications by the Administrator or the Presiding Officer as are deemed appropriate.

1. The hearing shall be stenographically reported and a transcript made which will be available to any person at prescribed rates upon request addressed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, 165 West 46th Street, New York, New York.

2. In order to maintain orderly and expeditious procedure, each person filing a Notice to Appear shall be notified, if practicable, of the approximate day and the place at which he may offer evidence at the hearing. If such person does not appear at the time set in the notice, he will not be permitted to offer evidence at any other time except by special permission of the Presiding Officer.

3. At the discretion of the Presiding Officer, the hearing may be continued from day to day, or adjourned to a later date, or to a different place by announcement thereof at the hearing by the Presiding Officer or by other appropriate notice.

4. At any stage of the hearing, the Presiding Officer may call for further evidence upon any matter. After the Presiding Officer has closed the hearing before him, no further evidence shall be taken, except at the request of the Administrator, unless provision has been made at the hearing for the later receipt of such evidence. In the event that the Administrator shall cause the hearing to be reopened for the purpose of receiving further evidence, due and reasonable notice of the time and place fixed for such taking of testimony shall be given to all persons who have filed a notice of intention to appear at the hearing.

5. All evidence must be presented under oath or affirmation.

6. Written documents or exhibits, except as otherwise permitted by the Presiding Officer, must be offered in evidence by a person who is prepared to testify as to the authenticity and trustworthiness thereof, and who shall, at the time of offering the documentary exhibit, make a brief statement as to the contents and manner of preparation thereof.

7. Written documents and exhibits shall be tendered in duplicate and the persons preparing the same shall be prepared to supply additional copies if such are ordered by the Presiding Officer. When evidence is embraced in a document containing matter not intended to be put in evidence, such a document will not be received, but the person offering the same may present to the Presiding Officer, the original document together with two copies of these portions of the document intended to be put in evidence.

8. Subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses or the presentation of a document from any place in the United States at any designated place of hearing may be issued by the Administrator at his discretion, and any person appearing in the proceeding may apply in writing for the issuance by the Administrator of the subpoena. Such application shall be timely and shall identify exactly the witness or document and state fully the nature of the evidence proposed to be secured.

9. Witnesses summoned by the Administrator shall be paid the same fees and mileage as are paid witnesses in the courts of the United States. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the party at whose instance witnesses appear, and the Administrator before issuing subpoena may require a deposit of an amount adequate to cover the fees and mileage involved.

10. The rules of evidence prevailing in the courts of law or equity shall not be controlling.

11. The Presiding Officer may, at his discretion, permit any person appearing in the proceeding to cross-examine any witness offered by another person insofar as is practicable, and to object to the admission or exclusion of evidence by the Presiding Officer. Requests for permission to cross-examine a witness offered by another person and objections to the admission or exclusion of evidence shall be stated briefly with the reasons for such request or the ground of objection relied on. Such requests or objections shall become a part of the record, but this record shall not include argument thereon except as ordered by the Presiding Officer. Objections to the approval of the Committee's recommendation and to the promulgation of a wage order based upon such approval must be made at the hearing before the Presiding Officer.

12. Before the close of the hearing, the Presiding Officer shall receive written requests from persons appearing in the proceeding for permission to make oral arguments before the Administrator upon the matter in issue. These requests will be forwarded to the Administrator by the Presiding Officer with the record of the proceedings. If the Administrator, in his discretion, allows the request, he shall give such notice thereof as de deems suitable to all persons appearing in the proceedings, and shall designate the time and place at which the oral arguments shall be heard. If such requests are allowed, all persons appearing at the hearing will be given opportunity to present oral argument.

13. Briefs (12 copies) may be submitted to the Administrator following the close of the hearing, by any persons appearing therein. Notice of the final dates for filing such briefs shall be given by the Administrator in such manner as shall be deemed suitable by him.

14. On the close of the hearing, the Presiding Officer shall forthwith file a complete record of the proceedings with the Administrator. The Presiding Officer shall not file an intermediate report unless so directed by the Administrator. If a report is filed it shall be advisory only and have no binding effect upon the Administrator.

15. No order issued as a result of the hearing will take effect until after due notice is given of the issuance thereof by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Signed at New York, New York, this 22d day of February 1943.

DEHYDRATING OF CITRUS PULP AND WASTE INDUSTRY

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY TO PETITION, ETC

Notice of opportunity to petition for review of the determination in the matter of the rehearing of the application for the exemption of the dehydrating of citrus pulp and waste from the maximum hours provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 as an industry of a seasonal nature, pursuant to section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and Part 526, as amended, of the regulations issued thereunder.

Whereas the Kuder Citrus Pulp Company of Florida and various other parties filed an application for the exemption of the dehydrating of citrus pulp and waste from the maximum hours provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as an industry of a seasonal nature, pursuant to section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and Part 526, as amended, of the regulations issued thereunder; and

Whereas in accordance with § 526.5 of the regulations, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division determined that a prima facie case for the granting of the exemption had been shown, and notice of this preliminary determination was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (6 F.R. 1697) on March 29, 1941; and

Whereas within 15 days following that preliminary determination, the Administrator received objection and request for a hearing from the Citrus By-Products Workers Union No. 20831, of Los Angeles, California; and

Whereas pursuant to notice a public hearing was held on June 5, 1941 at Los Angeles, California before Presiding Officer Harold Stein, a duly authorized representative of the Administrator, who upon the basis of the record made at the hearing, found that the dehydrating of citrus pulp and waste, and the manufacture of cattle feed therefrom, is not an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and Part 526 of the regulations, and determined that the application should be denied, and notice of this finding was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (6 F.R. 5647) on November 6, 1941; and

Whereas, petitions were filed by the applicants pursuant to § 526.7 of the regulations for review of the said denial, and

Whereas the Administrator thereupon set the matter for further hearing pursuant to §§ 526.5 and 526.6 of the regulations before an authorized representative of the Administrator, for the purpose of taking additional evidence on the questions raised by the said petitions in lieu of reviewing the determination under the provisions of § 526.7 of the regulations; and

Whereas the Administrator then gave notice of public hearings to be held at Tampa, Florida on January 12, 1942, at San Antonio, Texas on January 20, 1942, and at Los Angeles, California on January 26, 1942, before James G. Johnson, authorized as representative of the Administrator to take testimony, to hear argument, and to determine:

Whether the dehydrating of citrus pulp and waste is an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and Part 526, as amended, of the regulations issued thereunder, and if so, the appropriate limits of said industry; and

Whereas, the hearing scheduled for Los Angeles was indefinitely postponed at the instance of the interested parties, and the hearings scheduled for Tampa and San Antonio were, pursuant to notice, consolidated into a public hearing held on January 16, 1942 at Washington, D. C., before James G. Johnson, as Presiding Officer, who made the following findings of fact and determination:

1. The dehydration establishments receive the citrus pulp and waste from the citrus canneries as soon as it becomes available.

2. The pulp must be processed within a few hours after the juice or sections have been removed from the fruit. The dehydration plants operate during the period or periods in which citrus cannings and juicing plants operate and are dependent entirely upon these plants for their principal raw materials.

3. Citrus waste is available to the dehydration industry in Texas during a period of not over six months out of each year. Citrus waste is technically available in Florida for a period of approximately eight months. However, due to various factors it is usually available as a raw material to the citrus dehydration industry for a period of time averaging six to seven months out of each year.

4. The dehydration of citrus pulp and waste and the manufacture of cattle feed therefrom, insofar as the dehydration of citrus pulp and waste in the states of Florida and Texas are concerned, is an industry of a seasonal nature within the meaning of section 7 (b) (3) of the Act and part 526 of the Regulations issued thereunder.

The application for seasonal exemption under section 7 (b) (3) is granted to the branch or branches of the citrus pulp and waste dehydration industry, located in the states of Florida and Texas.

Whereas it appears from the findings and determination of Presiding Officer Johnson that he concluded that the operations of dehydrating citrus pulp and waste in the states of Florida and Texas constitute a branch or branches of the dehydration of citrus pulp and waste industry and are of a seasonal nature within the meaning of the Act and the Regulations; and

Whereas the findings and determination of James G. Johnson as Presiding Officer were duly filed with the Administrator on January 8, 1943, and are now on file in Room 1619, National Office of the Wage and Hour Division, 165 West 46th Street, New York, New York, and are available for examination by all interested parties;

Now, therefore, pursuant to § 526.7 of the aforesaid regulations, notice is hereby given that any person aggrieved by the said determination may with 15 days after the date this notice appears in the FEDERAL REGISTER, file a petition with the Administrator at the National Office of the Wage and Hour Division, 165 West 46th Street, New York, New York, requesting that he review the action of the said representative upon the record of the hearing. Such petition shall set forth the grounds upon which the petition for review is based.

Signed at New York, New York, this 23rd day of February 1943.

Administrator.

[Vesting Order 596]

ROYAL SAXON COMPANY, INC.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Fritz von Philipp and Hans von Philipp, whose last known addresses were represented to the undersigned as being Leipzig, Germany, are citizens of Germany and are nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. Finding that said persons are the owners of 97 shares of $50 par value common stock of Royal Saxon Company, Inc., a New Jersey corporation, Bound Brook, New Jersey, registered as follows:

Names:	Number of shares
Fritz von Philipp	49
Hans von Philipp	48
Total	97

3. Finding that said corporation is a business enterprise within the United States and that said 97 shares of stock constitute a substantial part (namely, 97%) of all the outstanding capital stock of said business enterprise and represent control thereof;

4. Finding, therefore, that said business enterprise is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

5. Determining that to the extent that any or all of such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the shares of stock described in subparagraph 2 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of such business enterprise to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC-1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The term "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on December 30, 1942.

PERSONAL PROPERTY OWNED BY, AND CERTAIN OBLIGATIONS OWING TO, FELIX TONNAR, G. M. B. H.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Felix Tonnar, G. m. b. H., whose last known address was represented to the undersigned as being Duelken b. Krefeld, Germany, is a citizen of Germany and is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. Finding that the property described as follows:

a. Textile machinery parts owned by said Felix Tonnar, G. m. b. H., and stored by the J. J. Krehbiel Company, Inc., 381 Fourth Avenue, New York, New York, in their warehouse located at 900 Passaic Avenue, East Newark, New Jersey; and

b. All right, title, interest and claim of any name or nature whatsoever of said Felix Tonnar, G. m. b. H. in and to all obligations, contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured, owing to Felix Tonnar, G. m. b. H. by said J. J. Krehbiel Company, Inc., including but not limited to all security rights in and to any and all collateral for any or all of such obligations and the right to sue for and collect such obligations, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

3. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

4. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and

5. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 2 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The term "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on January 6, 1943.

GOSHO SALES CORPORATION

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Kyujiro Akashi, Shinnosuke Iwai, Shigetoshi Kida, Ryoso Sasaki and Kunio Yamada, whose last known addresses were represented to the undersigned as being Japan, are nationals of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that 100 shares of $50 par value common capital stock of Gosho Sales Corporation, a New York corporation, New York, New York, are registered in the names of and owned by the aforesaid individuals in the following respective amounts:

Names:	Number of shares
Kyujiro Akashi	4
Shinnosuke Iwai	2
Shigetoshi Kida	40
Ryoso Sasaki	8
Kunio Yamada	46
Total	100

3. Finding that an additional 400 shares of such capital stock of Gosho Sales Corporation are owned by Gosho Company, Inc., which latter company was found in Vesting Order Number 87 of July 31, 1942 to be a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

4. Finding that said corporation is a business enterprise within the United States and that the aforesaid 500 shares of stock constitute all of the outstanding capital stock of said business enterprise and represent ownership thereof;

5. Determining, therefore, that said business enterprise is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

6. Determining that to the extent that the aforesaid nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

7. Having made all other determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the shares of stock described in subparagraph 2 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of such business enterprise to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

8. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control, or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on January 9, 1943.

[Vesting Order 710]

ALLIED LINEN INDUSTRIES, INC.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that the following named persons, whose last known addresses are indicated opposite their names, are nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany):

Names:	Last known addresses
Carl Weber & Co. Ltd.	Oerlinghausen, Germany.
Carl Weber & Co. Ltd.	Berlin, Germany.
George Stelling, Graber & Co	Hanover, Germany
Handstickerei-Gesellschaft, Ltd.	Munich, Germany
Julius Langes Leinen Industry, A. G.	Waltersdorf, Germany.
Vereinigung Deutscher Leinenwebereien, Ltd.	Berlin, Germany.
Herman Pichler	Stuttgart, Germany.

2. Finding that 200 shares of $100 par value common capital stock of Allied Linen Industries, Inc., a New York corporation, New York, New York, are registered in the names of and owned by the aforesaid persons in the following respective amounts:

Names:	Number of shares
Carl Weber & Co. Ltd., Oerlinghausen, Germany	28
Carl Weber & Co., Ltd., Berlin, Germany	25
George Stelling, Graber & Co	15
Handstickerei-Gesellschaft, Ltd	22½
Julius Langes Leinen Industry, A. G.	22½
Vereinigung Deutscher Leinenwebereien, Ltd	75
Herman Pichler	11
Total	200

3. Finding that said corporation is a business enterprise within the United States and that said 200 shares of stock constitute all of the outstanding capital stock of said business enterprise;

4. Determining, therefore, that said business enterprise is owned or controlled by the aforesaid persons and is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

5. Finding that the property described as follows:

All right, title, interest and claim of any name or nature whatsoever of said Vereinigung Deutscher Leinenwebereien, Ltd. in and to all obligations, contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured, owing to it by said Allied Linen Industries, Inc., including but not limited to all security rights in and to any or all of such obligations and the right to sue for and collect such obligations, is an interest in the aforesaid business enterprise held by a national of an enemy country, and also is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

6. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

7. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the shares of stock described in subparagraph 2 hereof and the property described in subparagraph 5 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of such business enterprise to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

8. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on January 18, 1943.

[Vesting Order 714]

HARA CORPORATION, INC.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Having found in Vesting Order Number 53 of July 22, 1942, that Hara and Company (a partnership) was, at the time such vesting order was issued, a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that Yukio Suzuki, whose last known address is Yokohama, Japan, is (and was at the time of the issuance of the aforesaid vesting order) a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

3. Finding that Shunosuke Yoshimoto is a subject of the Empire of Japan, and is presently interned in the United States, and therefore is (and was at the time of the issuance of the aforesaid vesting order) a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

4. Finding that Hara Corporation, Inc., a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New York, is a business enterprise within the United States;

5. Finding that out of the total issued and outstanding capital stock of said business enterprise, consisting of 100 shares of common stock having a par value of $100 each, 85 shares were, prior to the issuance by the undersigned of the aforesaid vesting order, owned by the aforesaid Hara and Company, and the remaining 15 shares are registered in the name of and owned (and were so registered and owned at the time of the issuance of the aforesaid vesting order) by the aforesaid Yukio Suzuki and Shunosuke Yoshimoto in the following respective amounts:

Names:	Number of shares
Yukio Suzuki	5
Shunosuke Yoshimoto	10
Total	15

6. Determining, therefore, that the aforesaid business enterprise was, immediately prior to the issuance by the undersigned of the aforesaid vesting order, owned and controlled by nationals of a designated enemy country (Japan);

7. Determining, therefore, that said business enterprise is a national of a designated enemy country, and that the 15 shares of stock owned by the aforesaid Yukio Suzuki and Shunosuke Yoshimoto represent interests in said business enterprise owned by nationals of a designated enemy country (Japan);

8. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

9. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the 15 shares of stock referred to in subparagraph 7 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of such business enterprise to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

10. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on January 18, 1943.

J. W. SPEAR & SONS, INCORPORATED

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that J. W. Spear & Soehne, a co-partnership, whose principal place of business is located in Nuremberg, Germany, is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. Finding that 12 shares of $100 par value common capital stock of J. W. Spear & Sons, Incorporated, a New York corporation, New York, New York, are registered in the name of and owned by the aforesaid J. W. Spear & Soehne;

3. Finding that said corporation is a business enterprise within the United States and that said 12 shares of stock constitute all the outstanding capital stock of said business enterprise and represent ownership thereof;

4. Determining that said business enterprise is controlled by and acting for and on behalf of said J. W. Spear & Soehne and is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

5. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the shares of stock described in subparagraph 2 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of such business enterprise to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

[Vesting Order 764]

KATSUJI ONISHI AND STANDARD IMPORT AND EXPORT COMPANY

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Katsuji Onishi is a subject of Japan interned in the United States, and therefore is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that said Katsuji Onishi owns and controls two sole proprietorships, one of which is or was conducted in his own name and the other under the trade name of Standard Import and Export Company;

3. Finding that the aforesaid sole proprietorships are business enterprises within the United States and are nationals of a designated enemy country (Japan);

4. Finding therefore that the property described as follows:

All property of any nature whatsoever situated in the United States and owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to, the aforesaid sole proprietorships, or either of them, is property of business enterprises within the United States which are nationals of a designated enemy country (Japan);

5. Finding that the property described as follows:

All property of any nature whatsoever situated in the United States and owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to, said Katsuji Onishi, individually,

is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

6. Determining that to the extent that the property referred to in subparagraph 5 hereof (belonging to Katsuji Onishi as an individual and apart from the business enterprises conducted by him) constitutes cash, bullion, moneys, currencies, deposits, credits, credit instruments, foreign exchange or securities as those terms are used in Section 2 (c) of said Executive Order, it is necessary to vest the same for the maintenance or safeguarding of other property (namely, that described in subparagraph 4 hereof) belonging to the same national of the same designated enemy country and subject to vesting (and in fact vested by this order) pursuant to Section 2 of said Executive Order;

7. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

8. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraphs 4 and 5 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

9. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

FIFTH AVENUE CUTLERY SHOP INC.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that J. A. Henckels Kommandit Gesellschaft, a copartnership whose principal place of business is located in Solingen, Germany, is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. Finding that 2,000 shares of $100 par value common capital stock of Fifth Avenue Cutlery Shop Inc., a New York corporation, New York, New York, registered in the names of Johanna M. Kind, Emilio (sometimes known as "Emil") Iwersen, and Hermann H. Kind, as trustees of the Estate of Hermann Kind, are beneficially owned by said J. A. Henckels Kommandit Gesellschaft;

3. Finding that said corporation is a business enterprise within the United States and that said 2,000 shares of stock constitute all of the outstanding capital stock of said business enterprise;

4. Determining, therefore, that said business enterprise is owned and controlled by the aforesaid J. A. Henckels Kommandit Gesellschaft and is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

5. Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the shares of stock described in subparagraph 2 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of such business enterprise to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

GRAEF & SCHMIDT, INC.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1 Finding that J. A. Henckels Kommandit Gesellschaft, a copartnership whose principal place of business is located in Solingen, Germany, is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2 Finding that 100 shares of no par value common capital stock of Graef & Schmidt, Inc., a New York corporation, New York, New York, registered in the names of Johanna M. Kind, Emilio (sometimes known as "Emil") Iwersen and Hermann H. Kind, as trustees of the Estate of Hermann Kind, are beneficially owned by said J. A. Henckels Kommandit Gesellschaft;

3 Finding that said corporation is a business enterprise within the United States and that said 100 shares of stock constitute all of the outstanding capital stock of said business enterprise;

4 Determining, therefore, that said business enterprise is owned and controlled by the aforesaid J. A. Henckels Kommandit Gesellschaft and is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

5 Determining that to the extent that such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Germany);

6 Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and

7 Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

hereby (i) vests in the Alien Property Custodian the shares of stock described in subparagraph 2 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States, and (ii) undertakes the direction, management, supervision and control of such business enterprise to the extent deemed necessary or advisable from time to time by the undersigned.

Such property, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian, to return such property or the proceeds thereof or to vary the extent of such direction, management, supervision or control or to terminate the same, if and when it should be determined that any of such action should be taken.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. CERTAIN CAPITAL STOCK AND OTHER INTERESTS IN GENERAL ANILINE & FILM CORPORATION

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

(a) Finding that I. G. Farbenindustrie, A. G., whose last known address was represented to the undersigned as being Frankfurt, Germany, is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

(b) Finding that the shares of stock (constituting a substantial part, namely, approximately 97% of all outstanding shares) of General Aniline & Film Corporation, a Delaware corporation, which is a business enterprise within the United States, which shares were covered by the vesting order issued by the Secretary of the Treasury under date of February 16, 1942, and which are described therein, and which were thereafter vested by the undersigned pursuant to Vesting Order No. 5 of April 24, 1942, and delivered to the undersigned by the Secretary of the Treasury, were, prior to such vesting thereof by the Secretary of the Treasury, owned by or held for the benefit of said I. G. Farbenindustrie, A. G.;

(c) Finding, therefore, that said business enterprise is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

(d) Finding that 16,186 shares (other than the shares referred to in subparagraph (b) and those vested by the undersigned pursuant to Vesting Order Number 155 of September 19, 1942) of Class A common stock of said business enterprise are owned by or held for the benefit of nationals of designated enemy countries (Japan and Germany), the names in which such shares are registered and the names and last known addresses of the persons for whom such shares are held and the number of shares held for each, are respectively set forth in Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof;

(e) Determining, therefore, that said 16,186 shares of stock are interests in the aforesaid business enterprise held by nationals of designated enemy countries (Japan and Germany);

(f) Finding that all right, title, interest and claim of any name or nature whatsoever of H. Sturznegger and Company of Basle, Switzerland, in and to all indebtedness, contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured, owing to said company by William H. vom Rath, including but not limited to all security rights in and to any and all collateral (including 300 shares of Class A common stock of General Aniline & Film Corporation, registerd in the name of William H. vom Rath) for any or all of such indebtedness and the right to enforce and collect such indebtedness, is property of a company which is presently on The Proclaimed List of Certain Blocked Nationals promulgated pursuant to Proclamation 2497 of the President of the United States of America of July 17, 1941 and which is owned or controlled by the aforesaid I. G. Farbenindustrie, A. G., and, therefore, is property within the United States owned by a national of a designated enemy country (Germany) and also is an interest in the aforesaid business enterprise owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

(g) Finding that 36 shares of $1.00 par value common stock of Agfa Ansco Corporation of New York, the holders of which are entitled to receive (pursuant to a merger agreement excuted in 1939 under the terms of which said Agfa Ansco Corporation of New York was absorbed by General Aniline & Film Corporation) one share of Class A common stock of General Aniline & Film Corporation for each three shares of such stock of Agfa Ansco Corporation of New York, are owned by or held for the benefit of nationals of Germany and Hungary, the names in which such shares are registered and the names and last known addresses of the persons for whom such shares are held and the number of shares held for each are respectively set forth in Exhibit B attached hereto and made a part hereof;

(h) Finding, therefore, that such shares of stock of Agfa Ansco Corporation of New York are interests in the aforesaid business enterprise held by nationals of designated enemy countries (Germany and Hungary);

(i) Finding that 28 shares of $1.00 par value common stock of Agfa Ansco Corporation of Delaware, the holders of which are entitled to receive (pursuant to a merger agreement executed in 1939 under the terms of which said Agfa Ansco Corporation of Delaware was absorbed by General Aniline & Film Corporation) one share of Class A common stock of General Aniline & Film Corporation for each three shares of such stock of Agfa Ansco Corporation of Delaware, are owned by or held for the benefit of nationals of Germany, the names in which such shares are registered and the names and last known addresses of the persons for whom such shares are held and the number of shares held for each are respectively set forth in Exhibit C attached hereto and made a part hereof;

(j) Finding, therefore, that such shares of stock of Agfa Ansco Corporation of Delaware are interests in the aforesaid business enterprise held by nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

(k) Determining that to the extent that any or all of the aforesaid nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that each such person be treated as a national of one of the aforesaid designated enemy countries (Germany, Japan or Hungary);

(l) Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise; and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the shares of stock and other interests described in subparagraphs (d), (f), (g) and (i) to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

(m) Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Such property and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in a special account pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on February 15, 1943.

[Vesting Order 909]

SUMITOMO BANK, LTD. (NEW YORK)

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Sumitomo Bank, Ltd., a Japanese corporation, Osaka, Japan, is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that said Sumitomo Bank, Ltd. has an established agency or branch office at New York, New York, engaged in the conduct of business within the United States and therefore, is, to that extent, a business enterprise within the United States;

3. Finding that the property of such New York agency of said Sumitomo Bank, Ltd. is in the process of administration by the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York acting under judicial supervision of the Supreme Court of the State of New York;

4. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

The excess proceeds of the business and property in the State of New York of Sumitomo Bank, Ltd. in the possession of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York, or which may hereafter come into his possession under and by virtue of the Banking Law of the State of New York, including but not limited to the excess proceeds of all assets of any nature whatsoever, owned or controlled by or payable or deliverable to or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to the New York agency of said Sumitomo Bank, Ltd., remaining after the payment of the claims of the creditors accepted or established in accordance with the Banking Law of the State of New York, arising out of transactions had by them with the New York agency of said Sumitomo Bank, Ltd. or whose names appear as creditors on the books of such agency, together with interest on such claims and the expenses of liquidation, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Japan), and also is property which is payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, a national of a designated enemy country (Japan) and which is in the process of administration by a person acting under judicial supervision;

5. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 4 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Nothing in this order is intended to affect the right and power of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York to continue to retain possession of, collect and liquidate such business, property and assets and, in the course thereof, to do such acts and perform such duties (not inconsistent herewith) as may be required or permitted to said Superintendent of Banks by and in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Banking Law of the State of New York: Provided, however, That after the claims of the creditors described in subparagraph 4 hereof, together with interest thereon and the expenses of liquidation, have been paid in full, the proceeds of the remaining assets of said Sumitomo Bank, Ltd. in the possession of said Superintendent of Banks shall be held for the account of and subject to the further order of the Alien Property Custodian.

The property herein vested, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national," "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C. on February 15, 1943.

BANCA COMMERCIALE ITALIANA

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Banca Commerciale Italiana, an Italian corporation, Milan, Italy, is a national of a designated enemy country (Italy);

2. Finding that said Banca Commerciale Italiana has an established agency or branch office at New York, New York, engaged in the conduct of business within the United States and therefore is, to that extent, a business enterprise within the United States;

3. Finding that the property of such New York agency of said Banca Commerciale Italiana is in the process of administration by the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York acting under judicial supervision of the Supreme Court of the State of New York;

4. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

The excess proceeds of the business and property in the State of New York of Banca Commerciale Italiana in the possession of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York, or which may hereafter come into his possession under and by virtue of the Banking Law of the State of New York, including but not limited to the excess proceeds of all assets of any nature whatsoever, owned or controlled by or payable or deliverable to or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to the New York agency of said Banca Commerciale Italiana, remaining after the payment of the claims of creditors, accepted or established in accordance with the Banking Law of the State of New York, arising out of transactions had by them with the New York agency of said Banca Commerciale Italiana or whose names appear as creditors on the books of such agency, together with interest on such claims and the expenses of liquidation, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Italy), and also is property which is payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, a national of a designated enemy country (Italy) and which is in the process of administration by a person acting under judicial supervision;

5. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Italy);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 4 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Nothing in this order is intended to affect the right and power of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York to continue to retain possession of, collect and liquidate such business, property and assets and, in the course thereof, to do such acts and perform such duties (not inconsistent herewith) as may be required or permitted to said Superintendent of Banks by and in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Banking Law of the State of New York: Provided, however, That after the claims of the creditors described in subparagraph 4 hereof, together with interest thereon and the expenses of liquidation, have been paid in full, the proceeds of the remaining assets of said Banca Commerciale Italiana in the possession of said Superintendent of Banks shall be held for the account of and subject to the further order of the Alien Property Custodian.

The property herein vested, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on February 15, 1943.

BANK OF TAIWAN, LTD.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Bank of Taiwan, Ltd., a Japanese corporation, Taihoku, Formosa, Japan, is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that said Bank of Taiwan, Ltd. has an established agency or branch office at New York, New York, engaged in the conduct of business within the United States and therefore is, to that extent, a business enterprise within the United States;

3. Finding that the property of such New York agency of said Bank of Taiwan, Ltd. is in the process of administration by the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York acting under judicial supervision of the Supreme Court of the State of New York;

4. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

The excess proceeds of the business and property in the State of New York of Bank of Taiwan, Ltd. in the possession of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York, or which may hereafter come into his possession under and by virtue of the Banking Law of the State of New York, including but not limited to the excess proceeds of all assets of any nature whatsoever, owned or controlled by or payable or deliverable to or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to the New York agency of said Bank of Taiwan, Ltd., remaining after the payment of the claims of creditors, accepted or established in accordance with the Banking Law of the State of New York, arising out of transactions had by them with the New York agency of said Bank of Taiwan, Ltd. or whose names appear as creditors on the books of such agency, together with interest on such claims and the expenses of liquidation,

Is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Japan), and also is property which is payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, a national of a designated enemy country (Japan) and which is in the process of administration by a person acting under judicial supervision;

5. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 4 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

Nothing in this order is intended to affect the right and power of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York to continue to retain possession of, collect and liquidate such business, property and assets and, in the course thereof, to do such acts and perform such duties (not inconsistent herewith) as may be required or permitted to said Superintendent of Banks by and in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Banking Law of the State of New York: Provided, however, That after the claims of the creditors described in subparagraph 4 hereof, together with interest thereon and the expenses of liquidation, have been paid in full, the proceeds of the remaining assets of said Bank of Taiwan, Ltd. in the possession of said Superintendent of Banks shall be held for the account of and subject to the further order of the Alien Property Custodian.

The property herein vested, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

[Vesting Order 912]

MITSUI BANK, LTD.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Mitsui Bank, Ltd., a Japanese corporation, Tokyo, Japan, is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that said Mitsui Bank, Ltd., has an established agency or branch office at New York, New York, engaged in the conduct of business within the United States and therefore is, to that extent, a business enterprise within the United States;

3. Finding that the property of such New York agency of said Mitsui Bank, Ltd., is in the process of administration by the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York acting under judicial supervision of the Supreme Court of the State of New York;

4. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

The excess proceeds of the business and property in the State of New York of Mitsui Bank, Ltd. in the possession of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York, or which may hereafter come into his possession under and by virtue of the Banking Law of the State of New York, including but not limited to the excess proceeds of all assets of any nature whatsoever, owned or controlled by or payable or deliverable to or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to the New York agency of said Mitsui Bank, Ltd., remaining after the payment of the claims of the creditors, accepted or established in accordance with the Banking Law of the State of New York, arising out of transactions had by them with the New York agency of said Mitsui Bank, Ltd. or whose names appear as creditors on the books of such agency, together with interest on such claims and the expenses of liquidation, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Japan), and also is property which is payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, a national of a designated enemy country (Japan) and which is in the process of administration by a person acting under judicial supervision;

5. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 4 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Nothing in this order is intended to affect the right and power of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York to continue to retain possession of, collect and liquidate such business, property and assets and, in the course thereof, to do such acts and perform such duties (not inconsistent herewith) as may be required or permitted to said Superintendent of Banks by and in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Banking Law of the State of New York: Provided, however, That after the claims of the creditors described in subparagraph 4 hereof, together with interest thereon and the expenses of liquidation, have been paid in full, the proceeds of the remaining assets of said Mitsui Bank, Ltd. in the possession of said Superintendent of Banks shall be held for the account of and subject to the further order of the Alien Property Custodian.

The property herein vested, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on February 15, 1943.

BANK OF CHOSEN, LTD.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Bank of Chosen, Ltd., a Japanese corporation, Keijo, Chosen, Japan, is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that said Bank of Chosen, Ltd., has an established agency or branch office at New York, New York, engaged in the conduct of business within the United States and therefore is, to that extent, a business enterprise within the United States;

3. Finding that the property of such New York agency of said Bank of Chosen, Ltd. is in the process of administration by the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York acting under judicial supervision of the Supreme Court of the State of New York;

4. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

The excess proceeds of the business and property in the State of New York of Bank of Chosen, Ltd., in the possession of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York, or which may hereafter come into his possession under and by virtue of the Banking Law of the State of New York, including but not limited to the excess proceeds of all assets of any nature whatsoever, owned or controlled by or payable or deliverable to or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to the New York agency of said Bank of Chosen, Ltd., remaining after the payment of the claims of creditors, accepted or established in accordance with the Banking Law of the State of New York, arising out of transactions had by them with the New York agency of said Bank of Chosen, Ltd., or whose names appear as creditors on the books of such agency, together with interest on such claims and the expenses of liquidation

is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Japan), and also is property which is payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, a national of a designated enemy country (Japan) and which is in the process of administration by a person acting under judicial supervision;

5. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 4 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Nothing in this order is intended to affect the right and power of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York to continue to retain possession of, collect and liquidate such business, property and assets and, in the course thereof, to do such acts and perform such duties (not inconsistent herewith) as may be required or permitted to said Superintendent of Banks by and in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Banking Law of the State of New York: Provided, however, That after the claims of the creditors described in subparagraph 4 hereof, together with interest thereon and the expenses of liquidation, have been paid in full, the proceeds of the remaining assets of said Bank of Chosen, Ltd. in the possession of said Superintendent of Banks shall be held for the account of and subject to the further order of the Alien Property Custodian.

The property herein vested, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

BANCO DI NAPOLI

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Banco di Napoli, an Italian corporation, Naples, Italy, is a national of a designated enemy country (Italy);

2. Finding that said Banco di Napoli has an established agency or branch office at New York, New York, engaged in the conduct of business within the United States and therefore is, to that extent, a business enterprise within the United States;

3. Finding that the property of such New York agency of said Banco di Napoli is in the process of administration by the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York acting under judicial supervision of the Supreme Court of the State of New York;

4. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

The excess proceeds of the business and property in the State of New York of Banco di Napoli in the possession of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York, or which may hereafter come into his possession under and by virtue of the Banking Law of the State of New York, including but not limited to the excess proceeds of all assets of any nature whatsoever, owned or controlled by or payable or deliverable to or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to the New York agency of said Banco di Napoli, remaining after the payment of the claims of creditors, accepted or established in accordance with the Banking Law of the State of New York, arising out of transactions had by them with the New York agency of said Banco di Napoli or whose names appear as creditors on the books of such agency, together with interest on such claims and the expenses of liquidation, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Italy), and also is property which is payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, a national of a designated enemy country (Italy) and which is in the process of administration by a person acting under judicial supervision;

5. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Italy);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 4 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Nothing in this order is intended to affect the right and power of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York to continue to retain possession of, collect and liquidate such business, property and assets and, in the course thereof, to do such acts and perform such duties (not inconsistent herewith) as may be required or permitted to said Superintendent of Banks by and in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Banking Law of the State of New York: Provided, however, That after the claims of the creditors described in subparagraph 4 hereof, together with interest thereon and the expenses of liquidation, have been paid in full, the proceeds of the remaining assets of said Banco di Napoli in the possession of said Superintendent of Banks shall be held for the account of and subject to the further order of the Alien Property Custodian.

The property herein vested, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

THE YOKOHAMA SPECIE BANK, LTD. (NEW YORK)

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that The Yokohama Specie Bank, Ltd., a Japanese corporation, Tokyo, Japan, is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that said The Yokohama Specie Bank, Ltd., has an established agency or branch office at New York, New York, engaged in the conduct of business within the United States and therefore is, to that extent, a business enterprise within the United States;

3. Finding that the property of such New York agency of said The Yokohama Specie Bank, Ltd., is in the process of administration by the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York acting under judicial supervision of the Supreme Court of the State of New York;

4. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

The excess proceeds of the business and property in the State of New York of the Yokohama Specie Bank, Ltd., in the possession of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York, or which may hereafter come into his possession under and by virtue of the Banking Law of the State of New York, including but not limited to the excess proceeds of all assets of any nature whatsoever, owned or controlled by or payable or deliverable to or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to the New York agency of said The Yokohama Specie Bank, Ltd., remaining after the payment of the claims of the creditors, accepted or established in accordance with the Banking Law of the State of New York, arising out of transactions had by them with the New York agency of said The Yokohama Specie Bank, Ltd. or whose names appear as creditors on the books of such agency, together with interest on such claims and the expenses of liquidation, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Japan), and also is property which is payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, a national of a designated enemy country (Japan) and which is in the process of administration by a person acting under judicial supervision;

5. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 4 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Nothing in this order is intended to affect the right and power of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York to continue to retain possession of, collect and liquidate such business, property and assets and, in the course thereof, to do such acts and perform such duties (not inconsistent herewith) as may be required or permitted to said Superintendent of Banks by and in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Banking Law of the State of New York: Provided, however, That after the claims of the creditors described in subparagraph 4 hereof, together with interest thereon and the expenses of liquidation, have been paid in full, the proceeds of the remaining assets of said The Yokohama Specie Bank, Ltd. in the possession of said Superintendent of Banks shall be held for the account of and subject to the further order of the Alien Property Custodian.

The property herein vested, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on February 15, 1943.

[Vesting Order 916]

BANCO DI ROMA

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned after investigation:

1. Finding that Banco di Roma, an Italian corporation, Rome, Italy, is a national of a designated enemy country (Italy);

2. Finding that said Banco di Roma has an established agency or branch office at New York, New York, engaged in the conduct of business within the United States;

3. Finding that the property of such New York agency of said Banco di Roma is in process of administration by the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York acting under judicial supervision of the Supreme Court of the State of New York;

4. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

The excess proceeds of the business and property in the State of New York of Banco di Roma, in the possession of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York, or which may hereafter come into his possession under and by virtue of the Banking Law of the State of New York, including but not limited to the excess proceeds of all assets of any nature whatsoever, owned or controlled by or payable or deliverable to or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to the New York agency of said Banco di Roma, remaining after the payment of the claims of creditors, accepted or established in accordance with the Banking Law of the State of New York, arising out of transactions had by them with the New York agency of said Banco di Roma or whose names appear as creditors on the books of such agency, together with interest on such claims and the expenses of liquidation, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Italy), and also is property which is payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, a national of a designated enemy country (Italy) and which is in the process of administration by a person acting under judicial supervision;

5. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Italy);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 4 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Nothing in this order is intended to affect the right and power of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York to continue to retain possession of, collect and liquidate such business, property and assets and, in the course thereof, to do such acts and perform such duties (not inconsistent herewith) as may be required or permitted to said Superintendent of Banks by and in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Banking Law of the State of New York: Provided, however, That after the claims of the creditors described in subparagraph 4 hereof, together with interest thereon and the expenses of liquidation, have been paid in full, the proceeds of the remaining assets of said Banco di Roma in the possession of said Superintendent of Banks shall be held for the account of and subject to the further order of the Alien Property Custodian.

The property herein vested, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national," "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on February 15, 1943.

MITSUBISHI BANK, LTD.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Mitsubishi Bank, Ltd., a Japanese corporation, Tokyo, Japan, is a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. Finding that said Mitsubishi Bank, Ltd. has an established agency or branch office at New York, New York, engaged in the conduct of business within the United States and therefore is, to that extent, a business enterprise within the United States;

3. Finding that the property of such New York agency of said Mitsubishi Bank, Ltd. is in the process of administration by the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York acting under juricial supervision of the Supreme Court of the State of New York;

4. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

The excess proceeds of the business and property in the State of New York of Mitsubishi Bank, Ltd. in the possession of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York, or which may hereafter come into his possession under and by virtue of the Banking Law of the State of New York, including but not limited to the excess proceeds of all assets of any nature whatsoever, owned or controlled by or payable or delivered to or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to the New York agency of said Mitsubishi Bank, Ltd., remaining after the payment of the claims of the creditors, accepted or established in accordance with the Banking Law of the State of New York, arising out of transactions had by them with the New York agency of said Mitsubishi Bank, Ltd or whose names appear as creditors on the books of such agency, together with interest on such claims and the expenses of liquidation, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Japan), and also is property which is payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, a national of a designated enemy country (Japan) and which is in the process of administration by a person acting under judicial supervision;

5. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Japan);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 4 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Nothing in this order is intended to affect the right and power of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York to continue to retain possession of, collect and liquidate such business, property and assets and, in course thereof, to do such acts and perform such duties (not inconsistent herewith) as may be required or permitted to said Superintendent of Banks by and in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Banking Law of the State of New York: Provided, however, That after the claims of the creditors described in subparagraph 4 hereof, together with interest thereon and the expenses of liquidation, have been paid in full, the proceeds of the remaining assets of said Mitsubishi Bank, Ltd. in the possession of said Superintendent of Banks shall be held for the account of and subject to the further order of the Alien Property Custodian.

The property herein vested, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on February 15, 1943.

CREDITO ITALIANO

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation:

1. Finding that Credito Italiano, an Italian Bank, Milan, Italy, is a national of a designated enemy country (Italy);

2. Finding that said Credito Italiano has an established agency or branch office at New York, New York, engaged in the conduct of business within the United States and therefore is, to that extent, a business enterprise within the United States;

3. Finding that the property of such New York agency of said Credito Italiano is in the process of administration by the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York acting under judicial supervision of the Supreme Court of the State of New York;

4. Finding, therefore, that the property described as follows:

The excess proceeds of the business and property in the State of New York of Credito Italiano in the possession of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York, or which may hereafter come into his possession under and by virtue of the Banking Law of the State of New York, including but not limited to the excess proceeds of all assets of any nature whatsoever, owned or controlled by or payable or deliverable to or held on behalf of or on account of or owing to the New York agency of said Credito Italiano, remaining after the payment of the claims of creditors, accepted or established in accordance with the Banking Law of the State of New York, arising out of transactions had by them with the New York agency of said Credito Italiano or whose names appear as creditors on the books of such agency, together with interest on such claims and the expenses of liquidation, is property within the United States owned or controlled by a national of a designated enemy country (Italy), and also is property which is payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, a national of a designated enemy country (Italy) and which is in the process of administration by a person acting under judicial supervision;

5. Determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of the aforesaid designated enemy country (Italy);

6. Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 4 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

7. Deeming it necessary in the national interest;

Nothing in this order is intended to affect the right and power of the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York to continue to retain possession of, collect and liquidate such business, property and assets and, in the course thereof, to do such acts and perform such duties (not inconsistent herewith) as may be required or permitted to said Superintendent of Banks by and in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the Banking Law of the State of New York: Provided, however, That after the claims of the creditors described in subparagraph 4 hereof, together with interest thereon and the expenses of liquidation, have been paid in full, the proceeds of the remaining assets of said Credito Italiano in the possession of said Superintendent of Banks shall be held for the account of and subject to the further order of the Alien Property Custodian.

The property herein vested, and any or all of the proceeds thereof, shall be held in an appropriate special account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national", "designated enemy country" and "business enterprise within the United States" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on February 15, 1943.

ESTATE OF HENRY DROST

In re: Estate of Henry Drost, deceased; File D–28–1362; E. T. sec. 525.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the Alien Property Custodian after investigation,

Finding that—

(1) The property and interests hereinafter described are property which is in the process of administration by Harry G. Davis, Executor of the estate of Henry Drost, deceased, acting under the judicial supervision of the County Court of Muskogee County, Muskogee, Oklahoma;

(2) Such property and interests are payable or deliverable to, or claimed by, nationals of a designated enemy country, Germany, namely:

Nationals:	Last known address
Wilhelmia Langenberg	Germany.
Heirs, next of kin, legatees, devisees and personal representatives, names unknown, in Germany, entitled to receive the Estate or any portion thereof, of Henry Drost, deceased	Germany.

And determining that—

(3) If such nationals are persons not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country, Germany; and

Having made all determinations and taken all action, after appropriate consultation and certification, required by said Executive Order or Act or otherwise, and deeming it necessary in the national interest,

Now, therefore, the Alien Property Custodian hereby vests the following property and interests:

All right, title, interest and claim of any kind or character whatsoever of Wilhelmia Langenberg, heirs, next of kin, legatees, devisees and personal representatives, names unknown, entitled to receive the estate, or any portion thereof, and each of them, in and to the Estate of Henry Drost, deceased, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

Such property and interests and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in a special account pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This shall not be deemed to limit the powers of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property and interests or proceeds thereof, or to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined that such return should be made or such compensation should be paid.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may file with the Alien Property Custodian a notice of his claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon, on Form APC–1, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Alien Property Custodian.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of said Executive Order.

Dated: February 22, 1943.

OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION.

[Order 6 Under Restriction Order 2]

PUERTO RICO

RICE QUOTAS

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Director of the Office of Price Administration for Puerto Rico by Directive No. 1 of the War Production Board issued January 24, 1942, by Supplementary Directive 1–J, as amended, issued October 29, 1942, and by Restriction Order No. 2 issued by the Office of Price Administration on December 10, 1942, It is hereby ordered:

(a) Quotas. (1) Quota Period No. 6 shall commence on February 22, 1943 and shall end on March 7, 1943.

(2) The amount of rice to be distributed during Quota Period No. 6 is approximately 8,000,000 pounds.

(3) Each retailer shall be entitled to receive from the war price and rationing board having jurisdiction purchase certificates (OPA Form PRF–3) authorizing him to accept transfers of rice in amounts totalling not more than 25% in pounds of rice sales reported by such retailer for the month of November 1941 on OPA Form PRF–1 (the number of 100 pound sacks equals the dollar volume of sales of rice reported divided by $5.00) or such lesser percentage of such sales as may be required by the limitations of the quota of the board.

(4) The Director shall assign to each board a quantity of rice for Quota Period No. 6 equal in pounds to the population of the area of its jurisdiction as reported by the latest United States Census for Puerto Rico multiplied by four subject to necessary adjustments among boards because of variations in requirements due to proven trade practices.

(5) Each institutional and industrial user shall be entitled to receive from the board having jurisdiction purchase certificates (OPA Form PRF–3) authorizing it to accept transfers of rice in amounts totalling not more than 25% in pounds of the amount of rice purchases reported by it for the month of November 1941 on OPA Form PRF–1.

(6) Each board shall have the right to require a person to furnish it with such proof as shall be necessary to substantiate the amount which such person may claim to be entitled to receive out of the total quota allotted to such board.

(7) On application to the board having jurisdiction, the board shall examine all of the facts pertinent to the establishment of the new business, assign a temporary quota after having taken into consideration all of the circumstances and shall render a full and complete report to the Director within three days thereafter. The Director, may, based on the facts presented, direct the board to amend the assigned quota. The applicant may pursuant to § 1497.3007, apply for an adjustment to the Director at any time after the assignment of the temporary quota.

(8) The quota of each person, other than a consumer, entitled to rice hereunder shall be reduced by an amount equal to the quantity of rice in his possession on February 22, 1943 and acceptance by any person of purchase certificates in the full amount of his quota shall constitute a representation that he had no rice in his possession on such date.

(b) Allotments. (1) A consumer may not accept a transfer of, and no person shall knowingly transfer to a consumer, more than two pounds of rice during any one calendar week for each consumer on whose behalf the transfer is made.

(c) Any person, partnership, corporation, association, government agency or any other organized group or enterprise which wilfully performs any act prohibited or wilfully fails to perform any act required by any provisions of Order No. 6 under Restriction Order No. 2, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, and shall be subject to such other penalties as may be specified by all applicable statutes.

This order shall be effective as of February 22, 1943, at 8:00 a. m.

Issued this 22d day of February 1943.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

[File No. 70–674]

THE NORTH AMERICAN COMPANY

AMENDED NOTICE REGARDING FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 23rd day of February 1943.

On February 18, 1943, the Commission issued a Notice Regarding Filing Subject to Rule U–23 in the above styled and numbered matter which matter relates to the proposal by The North American Company, a registered holding company, to pay a dividend on April 1, 1943 on its common stock in the common capital stock of The Detroit Edison Company in the manner set forth in said Notice. Such Notice provided that any interested person may not later than March 6, 1943, at 4:00 p. m., e. w. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon; and

It now appearing to the Commission that to enable The North American Company to comply with the rules of the New York Stock Exchange (on which exchange its common stock is listed) pertaining to notice of the intention of the company to pay such dividend on April 1, 1943 to its stockholders of record at the close of business on March 5, 1943, it is necessary that our order in this matter be issued prior to March 6, 1943;

It is ordered, That the date "March 6, 1943" appearing in the second paragraph of the Notice Regarding Filing Subject to Rule U–23 issued on February 18, 1943 in the above styled and numbered matter be changed to "March 1, 1943" so that said paragraph will provide as follows:

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 1, 1943, at 4:00 p. m., e. w. t. request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter, said joint declaration or application, as filed or as amended, may be granted, as provided in Rule U–23 of the Rules and Regulations promulgated pursuant to said Act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rules U–20 (a) and U–100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

By the Commission.

TRANSPORTATION SECURITIES CORPORATION AND THE COMMONWEALTH & SOUTHERN CORPORATION

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 22d day of February 1943.

Notice is hereby given that an application or declaration (or both) has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by Transportation Securities Corporation ("Transportation") and The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation ("Commonwealth"). Commonwealth is a registered holding company incorporated in Delaware and Transportation is one of its subsidiary companies holding investments in various electric, railway and bus transportation companies. All interested persons are referred to said document for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized as follows:

(1) Transportation proposes to sell its entire investment in Springfield Transportation Company consisting of 5,000 shares of common capital stock, being all the shares issued and outstanding, in consideration for 18,000 shares of Commonwealth's preferred stock, $6 Series, in accordance with a contract between Transportation and A. C. Allyn & Company, Incorporated and Equitable Securities Corporation. It is proposed that this sale be consummated not later than March 15, 1943;

(2) Transportation states that it will utilize the 18,000 shares of Commonwealth's preferred stock so acquired by it to make payment on account of the principal of its indebtedness to Commonwealth and to Ohio Edison Company (one of Commonwealth's subsidiary public utility operating companies) in such manner and in such amount as may be hereafter agreed upon by the parties and approved by the Commission.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to the foregoing matters, and that said application shall not be granted nor said declaration become effective except pursuant to further order of this Commission;

It is ordered, That a hearing on the foregoing matters under the applicable provisions of said Act and the Rules of the Commission thereunder be held on March 8, 1943 at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing cause shall be shown why such application or declaration shall be granted or shall become effective. Notice is hereby given of said hearing to the applicants and declarants above-mentioned and to all interested persons, said notice to be given to said applicants and declarants by registered mail and to all other persons by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and by a general release of the Commission, distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

It is further ordered, That any person proposing to be heard in connection with this proceeding or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of this Commission on or before March 6, 1943, his request or application therefor as provided by Rule XVII of the Rules of Practice of the Commission;

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said Act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice;

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of issues presented by said application or declaration or otherwise to be considered in this proceeding, particular attention shall be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions:

(1) Whether the consideration for the proposed acquisition of Commonwealth's preferred stock and for the sale of the Springfield Transportation Company stock, including all fees and expenses in connection therewith, is fair and reasonable;

(2) Whether the accounting entries proposed to be effected in connection with the various transactions are proper;

(3) The precise manner in which Commonwealth's preferred stock will be applied to the payment of Transportation's indebtedness to Commonwealth and Ohio Edison Company, and whether such manner of payment is fair and equitable, including consideration of the circumstances under which the indebtedness of Transportation was created and the relative rank of the interest of Commonwealth and Ohio Edison Company in such indebtedness;

(4) Whether the proposed transactions are in conformity with the applicable provisions of said Act, particularly sections 10 and 11 thereof;

(5) What terms and conditions, if any, should be imposed by the Commission as necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers.

By the Commission.

PART 204—POSTED STOCKYARDS AND LIVE POULTRY MARKETS

ORDER AMENDING ORDER OF DESIGNATION[2]

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as amended (7 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 181 et seq.), It is ordered, That:

(a) The provisions of the order of the Secretary heretofore entered on October 8, 1935, be amended to include as a market and place in or near the designated City of New York, New York:

(1) The New York City Live Poultry Terminal Market, located at 53rd Avenue and 11th Street, Long Island City, New York, New York, which hereby is designated as a market and place where live poultry is received, sold, and handled in sufficient quantities to constitute an important influence on the supply and prices of live poultry and live poultry products, and as coming under the provisions of Title V of the Act;

(b) Notice of such designation shall be published in the New York Times, a newspaper published at New York, New York, and in the Producers' Price Current, a trade paper published at New York, New York, by the Urner Barry Company; and

(c) The Food Distribution Administration may give such other notice hereof as it may deem appropriate.

It is further ordered, That the provisions of the aforesaid order designating the following markets: (1) An unloading terminal of the New York Central Railroad situated at approximately the foot of West 60th Street and West End Avenue, New York, New York; (2) Independent Poultry Receiving Station of the M. Rosen Live Poultry Co., Inc., situated on Tracks 9 and 10, E., near 12th Avenue, approximately four blocks north of the 60th Street Terminal of the New York Central Railroad; (3) West Washington Market, situated at or about 10th Avenue and Bloomfield Streets, New York, New York; (4) Brooklyn Poultry Commission Co., Inc., situated at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company Terminal, at approximately 26th Street and Third Avenue, Brooklyn, New York; and (7) the Live Poultry Terminal of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, situated at approximately 134th Street and Park Avenue (Harlem Transfer), New York, New York, are hereby vacated and the markets listed in said order as (5) and (6) are renumbered as (2) and (3), respectively.

It is further ordered, That this order, except as to the provision relating to publication, shall be effective on and after March 26, 1943.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of February 1943. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

AUTHORITY: §§ 285.1 to 285.12, inclusive, issued under sec. 1002 (d) to (i), 52 Stat. 1038, 49 U.S.C. 642.

§ 285.1 Proceedings. There shall be one form of formal proceeding (to be known as a "proceeding") under Title IV and section 1002 (d)–(i) of the Act.

A proceeding may be instituted (1) by order to show cause or other process of the Board, (2) by the filing with the Board of a formal application, complaint or petition.

§ 285.2 General requirements as to papers in proceedings—(a) Informal complaints. Complaints may be made to the Board informally by letter or other writing and matters so presented may, if their nature warrants, be taken up by correspondence or conference with the person or persons complained of. Any matter not disposed of informally may be made the subject of a formal proceeding.

(b) Conformity to rules. Any person wishing to institute a proceeding should consult the rules, regulations and orders of the Board under the various sections of the Act.

(c) Requirements in absence of rules. In case there is no rule, regulation or order of the Board which prescribes the contents of the formal application, complaint or petition in a given case, the application, complaint or petition should contain a concise but complete statement of the facts relied upon as the basis for the relief sought. The names and addresses of the persons, if any, against whom relief is sought, should also be set forth in full.

(d) Insufficient allegations. In any case where the Board is of the opinion that a formal application, complaint or petition does not sufficiently set forth the material required to be set forth by any applicable rule, regulation or order of the Board, or is otherwise insufficient, the Board may advise the party filing the same of the deficiency and require that any additional information be supplied by amendment.

(e) Answers. Answers to formal complaints, petitions and orders to show cause will not usually be required. In case the Board deems an answer to be desirable, the parties will be notified.

(f) Retention of papers by the Board. When any formal application, complaint or petition is denied, dismissed or permitted to be withdrawn, in whole or in part, said application, complaint or petition, and all documents filed with the Board pertaining thereto shall be retained in the files of the Board. When any proceeding instituted by the Board is dismissed, terminated or rescinded, all documents filed with the Board pertaining thereto shall be retained in the files of the Board: Provided, That this paragraph shall not apply to documents filed with the Board in any proceeding on the basis of a stipulation that such documents will be returned to the parties so filing when the purpose for which the documents are filed has been served.

§ 285.3 Form and filing of documents—(a) Execution, number of copies, and service. Unless otherwise required by applicable rule or regulation, every application, petition and formal complaint relating to any of the provisions of Title IV or of section 1002 (d)–(i) of the Act, and every answer or other formal document in any such proceeding, shall be signed by, or on behalf of, the person filing the same, and shall be verified by the person signing the same, in the manner required by paragraph (b) of this section. Briefs and exceptions to reports of examiners shall be signed but need not be verified. Any general partner may sign on behalf of a partnership. Documents filed by a corporation, business trust or other similar organization must be signed by an officer who is duly authorized to take such action. An executed original copy of each such document, and nineteen true copies thereof, which need not be signed or verified, but which should have typed or facsimile signatures, shall be filed with the Board. Each person filing any such document shall furnish such additional copies and shall make such service of the document on other persons as the Board may at any time require. Such documents shall be delivered in person, through the mails, or otherwise, to the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, D. C., and shall be deemed to have been filed on the date on which they are actually received by the Board.

(b) Verification. Every verification shall set forth that the person verifying the document has read and is familiar with the contents thereof and the attached exhibits, if any; that he intends and desires that in granting or denying the relief requested, the Board shall place full and complete reliance upon the accuracy of each and every statement therein contained; that he is familiar with the facts therein set forth; that to the best of his information and belief, every statement contained in the instrument is true and no such statement is misleading.

(c) Formal specifications of papers. All papers filed in proceedings should be on strong, durable paper not larger than 8½" by 13" in size except that tables, charts and other documents may be larger, folded to approximately that size. The left margin should be at least 1½" wide and, if the document is bound, it should be bound on the left side.

Papers may be reproduced by printing or by any other process, provided the copies are clear and legible. Appropriate notes or other indications should be used, so that the existence of deficits and any other matters normally shown in color will be accurately indicated on photostatic copies.

(d) Waiver of strict compliance with rule. The Board may, in its discretion, waive strict compliance with any requirement of this section.

§ 285.4 Appearances by third persons and formal intervention—(a) Appearances. Any person, including any state, political subdivision thereof, state aviation commission, or other public body, may appear at any hearing and present any evidence which is relevant to the issues. Such persons may also suggest questions or interrogatories to be propounded by counsel for the Board to witnesses called by other persons. With the consent of the examiner, or of the Board, if the hearing is held before the Board such persons may also cross-examine witnesses directly.

(b) Formal interventions. Any person having a substantial interest in the subject matter of any proceeding may ask leave to intervene in such proceeding and become a party thereto upon compliance with the provisions of this paragraph. In general, such motions will not be granted unless the Board, or, in appropriate cases, the examiner, shall find,

(1) That such person has a statutory right to be made a party to such proceeding, or,

(2) That such person will or may be bound by the order to be entered in the proceeding, or,

(3) That such person has a property or financial interest which may not be adequately represented by existing parties, if such intervention would not unduly broaden the issues or delay the proceeding.

However, the denial of such a motion for leave to intervene shall not prevent the moving person from participating in the proceeding in the manner described in paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section.

Every motion for leave to intervene shall be filed with the Board within 15 days after the proceeding has been instituted. Copies of the motion papers shall be mailed or delivered to each party to the proceeding prior to the filing of the motion. The Board, however, may pass upon any such motion without receiving testimony or argument either from the moving person or from other parties to the proceeding. The motion papers shall clearly set forth the interest of the moving party, and shall otherwise comply with the requirements of § 285.3.

No motion for leave to intervene, not filed within the time limited by the preceding paragraph of this subsection, will be entertained by the Board or the examiner unless the moving person shall clearly show good cause for his failure to file the motion within the time so limited. In the event that such motion is heard by an examiner, his determination shall be governed by the standards hereinabove set forth, but no decision by an examiner on such a motion shall be binding on the Board. Interventions herein provided are for administrative purposes, and no decision to grant leave to intervene shall be deemed to constitute a finding or determination that the intervening party has such a substantial interest in the order that is to be entered in that proceeding as will entitle it to demand review of such order by the circuit courts of appeals of the United States or the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

§ 285.5 Hearings, argument, examiner's report, and proceedings subsequent thereto—(a) Oral argument before examiner, proposed findings, briefs. Upon request of any party, an examiner may permit oral argument at the close of the hearing. Oral argument shall be transcribed, but shall not constitute part of the record.

If a case presents unusually difficult questions of fact or law, the examiner may permit or require the submission of proposed findings of fact or conclusions of law, or of written briefs, to aid him in the preparation of his report.

(b) Examiner's report. In each case heard before an examiner, an appropriate announcement will be made by the examiner prior to the close of the hearing as to whether or not an examiner's report will be made in the proceeding. Such report will ordinarily be made, except in cases where the examiner, with the consent of Public Counsel, and without objection by any other party, announces at the hearing that he will recommend the granting of the application or other relief under consideration in the proceeding. If an examiner's report is to be made in the proceeding, the examiner will also announce, or state in his report:

(1) The names of the persons who are to receive copies of the same;

(2) The time within which exceptions are to be filed and exchanged; and

(3) The time thereafter within which briefs relating to such exceptions are to be filed and exchanged, and may give other instructions relating to procedure after the hearing.

After a date has been set for the submission of proposed findings of fact or conclusions of law, or written briefs to the examiner, or the filing of exceptions to examiner's report or briefs thereon, such date may be postponed upon proper cause shown, but any such postponement shall not be granted by the examiner less than three days prior to the date originally set for the filing thereof except in cases involving unusual circumstances imposing substantial hardship upon the requesting party or parties.

(c) Exceptions and briefs; service thereof. Any party to the proceeding may take exceptions either to the examiner's recommended findings of fact or conclusions of law. Exceptions to findings of fact shall designate, by exact and specific reference, the portions of the record which will be relied upon in support of such exceptions. Exceptions to conclusions of law shall briefly cite the statutory provisions or the principal authorities that will be relied upon in support of the exceptions to the conclusions of law.

After the filing and exchange of exceptions, each party should prepare a single brief supporting its own exceptions and covering any points which it wishes to raise in connectiton with exceptions filed by others. Except by special permission of the Board, briefs shall not exceed 50 pages in length. Reply briefs will not be received except by special permission of the Board. Exceptions and briefs shall be filed with the Board and not with the examiner.

Each set of exceptions and brief shall, when filed, be accompanied by a proof of service thereof by mail upon all parties to the proceedings and upon such other persons designated by the examiner to receive copies of the report. The number of copies to be filed is governed by paragraph (a) of § 285.3.

(d) Oral argument before the Board. If any person desires to argue a case orally before the Board he must request leave of the Board to make such argument. Such request should be filed with the briefs for the Board in the proceeding. The Board will advise the persons making such request as to its decision and if such argument is to be allowed all persons who have filed briefs in the proceedings will be advised of the date and hour set for such argument and the amount of time allowed to each such person.

§ 285.6 Exhibits. Wherever practicable, one copy of each exhibit (in addition to the original offered in evidence at the hearing) should be furnished for the use of each examiner and two copies should be furnished to Public Counsel. One of such copies will be made available for inspection by all persons present at the hearing. One copy should also be furnished to each party and the examiner may, in his discretion, direct that any other person deemed by him to have a sufficient interest shall receive copies of designated exhibits.

Excerpts from lengthy documents or of portions of the record in other proceedings before the Board should be offered in the form of exhibits and copies furnished as above provided. Such exhibits may be received in evidence, subject to objection and rebuttal by Public Counsel or other counsel, after opportunity to examine the exhibit in question and the source from which the same was taken.

§ 285.7 Hearings before the Board and before boards of examiners. Provisions of this part governing the conduct of hearings before single examiners shall also govern, with necessary changes, in cases where such hearings are held before the Board, a member thereof, or a board of more than one examiner.

§ 285.8 Petition for rehearing, reargument, or reconsideration. Any party may petition for rehearing, reargument, or reconsideration of any final order by the Board in a proceeding, or for further hearing before decision by the Board.

The matters of record claimed to have been erroneously decided must be specified, and the alleged errors, and the grounds relied upon must be briefly and specifically stated in the petition.

If a final order of the Board is sought to be vacated or modified by reason of matters which have arisen since the hearing, or of a consequence which would result from a compliance therewith, or both, which are relied upon by the petitioner must each be set forth in the petition. Where the petition is based wholly or in part upon new matter, the petition must contain a statement that the petitioner, with due diligence, could not have known or discovered the new matter prior to the time of the hearing.

The petition must set forth a brief statement of the relief sought by the petitioner.

Such petition for rehearing, reargument, or reconsideration, must be filed within thirty days after service of the order sought to be vacated or modified. After the expiration of said thirty days, such a petition may be filed only by leave of the Board granted pursuant to formal application upon a showing of reasonable grounds for failure to file the petition within the prescribed thirty-day period. Any such petition or application shall be served by the petitioner or applicant upon all parties to the proceeding or their attorneys of record.

No petition for rehearing, reargument, or reconsideration filed in accordance with this section, or the granting thereof, shall operate as a stay of the effective date of the final order sought to be modified or vacated by such petition, unless specifically so ordered by the Board.

Petitions under this section must conform to the requirements of § 285.3.

§ 285.9 Memoranda in opposition or support. Each protest or memorandum to or in support of the issuance, alteration, amendment, modification, suspension, revocation or abandonment of a certificate of public convenience and necessity or of a foreign air carrier permit which is desired to be filed with the Board pursuant to the provisions of section 401 or 402 of the Act, shall conform to the requirements of § 285.3 with respect to size, style and number of copies, shall be signed by the person filing it, and shall be acknowledged before a person authorized to administer oaths. Each such protest or memorandum shall clearly state on its face the particular proceeding in which it is desired to be filed and shall contain a concise but clear statement of the grounds of opposition or support. At the time of filing any such protest or memorandum with the Board, the person filing it shall serve a copy thereof upon each party to the particular proceeding and upon such other persons as the Board may require. No such protest or memorandum will be received as, or be considered to constitute, evidence in the particular proceeding of any fact mentioned or discussed therein. However, evidence in support of any such protest or memorandum may be presented by or on behalf of the person filing it in the manner provided in paragraph (a) of § 285.4.

§ 285.10 Conference procedure. In any proceeding, the examiner designated to conduct the hearing, or any other person designated by the Chief Examiner or by the Board for the purpose of this rule, may direct counsel for the parties to such proceeding to appear before him for a conference to consider the following:

(a) The formulation of the issues to be considered at the hearing by:

(1) Agreement of the parties,

(2) Amendment of the application, complaint or petition,

(3) Any other appropriate means;

(b) The simplification of proof by:

(1) Stipulations concerning matters of which the Board can take notice, the admission of evidence of particular facts or documents, or any other appropriate matter,

(2) Limitation of the number of witnesses,

(3) The preparation of exhibits, and the use thereof in lieu of oral testimony whenever possible,

(4) Any other appropriate means;

(c) The exchange prior to the date of the hearing of exhibits proposed to be introduced therein and any other material which will expedite the conduct of the same;

(d) Such other matters as may, in the opinion of the person conducting the conference, aid in the conduct and disposition of the proceeding.

Notice of the time and place of the conference shall be given by letter or otherwise to all parties to the proceeding.

The person conducting the conference may require the exchange of particular exhibits in advance of the date set for the hearing, and if any exhibits are not exchanged in advance as required, or as agreed upon by counsel at the conference, the hearing shall be subject to postponement until such exchange is completed.

The person conducting the conference shall prepare a report of the same, which shall be served upon counsel for all of the parties and made of record. Counsel may object to the description of anything which occurred at the conference within five days after the receipt of the report, and such report may, in the discretion of the person preparing the same, be revised in accordance therewith. If revised, the report shall again be served upon counsel and made of record in the same manner as the original report. Exceptions may be taken on the basis of any written objection submitted within the time prescribed which has not been met by a revision of the report. Such report shall constitute the official account of all that transpired at the conference, and shall control the subsequent course of the proceeding, but it may be reconsidered and modified at any time to prevent injustice.

§ 285.11 Procedure in mail rate proceedings. (a) Proceedings for the determination of rates of compensation for the transportation of mail may be commenced by the filing of a petition by an air carrier or the Postmaster General, or upon the issuance of an order by the Board.

(b) Order setting tentative rate. (1) Proceedings commenced by the Board will normally be instituted by the issuance of an order directing the parties to show cause why a specified rate or rates set out in such order should not be fixed and determined by the Board.

(2) In proceedings instituted upon petition of a carrier or the Postmaster General, the Board before proceeding further with the disposition of the petition, will normally issue an order in the proceeding directing the parties to show cause why a specified rate or rates set out in such order should not be fixed and determined by the Board.

(3) The rate or rates specified in any order provided for in paragraphs (b) (1) and (b) (2) of this section will represent a tentative rate or rates which appear to the Board to be fair and reasonable on the basis of the monthly and annual reports made by the carrier to the Board, and other information available to the Board. Such order will be accompanied by an exhibit or exhibits setting forth the basis upon which the tentative rate or rates have been formulated and such exhibits shall be a part of such order.

(4) Orders issued hereunder will be served upon the carrier concerned, and any other parties to the proceeding, and public notice thereof will be given. Copies of such orders will be transmitted to the Postmaster General.

(c) Objection and answer to order setting tentative rate. (1) After the issuance of an order of the Board pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, any party having objections to the tentative rate or rates specified in such order or to the admissibility in evidence of the exhibits accompanying such order and information specified therein shall file with the Board, within such periods of time as may be prescribed in such order:

(i) Notice of the fact that such objections exist; and

(ii) After the notice provided for in clause (i) of this paragraph has been filed, a written answer setting out the objections of the party to the tentative rate or rates.

(2) The objections stated in the answer shall be specific, and the answer shall be accompanied by exhibits in support of the objections and by a statement of the effect of such objections upon the tentative rate or rates.

(d) Procedure when no answer is filed to order setting tentative rate. (1) If no notice, or if after notice no answer is filed as provided in paragraph (c) of this section within the periods of time prescribed in the order, the proceeding will be assigned for public hearing. The statutory public hearing thus assigned will be expected to require nothing more than the introduction in evidence of the exhibits provided for in paragraph (b) (3) of this section and the information specified therein.

(2) The Board, upon the close of such hearing, will make the tentative rate or rates specified in its order pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section final by the issuance of its further order.

(e) Procedure when answer is filed to order setting tentative rate. (1) If an answer is filed as provided in paragraph (c) of this section a conference will be held. The conference will be attended by representatives of the Board assigned to the particular case and representatives of the parties, and will be presided over by an examiner of the Board.

(2) If a party desires to introduce evidence in the proceeding, he shall file written notice with the examiner at the time of such conference; if a party desires an opportunity to file briefs with, or present oral argument to, the Board, he shall file a written request therefor with the examiner not later than the close of the hearing hereinafter provided for.

(3) The examiner, at the close of the conference, will prepare and serve upon the parties a report stating the issues raised by the objections of the parties with respect to the tentative rate or rates. Any party may file exceptions to such report.

(4) After service of the report provided for in paragraph (e) (3) of this section, the proceeding will be assigned for public hearing before an examiner of the Board.

(5) The exhibits provided for in paragraph (b) (3) of this section and the information specified therein, and any exhibits filed by any party in support of any objections filed pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section shall constitute evidence of record in the proceeding, subject to the right of any party to object to the admissibility of such exhibits and information. Additional evidence may be presented by the parties at such hearing only if the notice provided for in paragraph (e) (2) has been filed, and such evidence shall be limited to evidence relating to the issues as defined in the conference report issued by the examiner and exceptions filed thereto pursuant to paragraph (e) (3). A member (or members) of the Board's staff will be available at the hearing for examination by the parties on the evidence with respect to such issues.

(6) The proceeding will be deemed submitted to the Board for final decision, without the issuance of an examiner's report, upon the close of the hearing, the filing of briefs, or the presentation of oral argument, as may be in order pursuant to requests made in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (e) (2) of this section.

§ 285.12 Objection to public disclosure of information—(a) Information contained in paper to be filed. Any person who objects to the public disclosure of any information contained in any paper filed in any proceeding, or in any application, report, or other document filed pursuant to the provisions of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, or any rule, regulation, or order of the Board thereunder, shall segregate, or request the segregation of, such information into a separate paper and shall file it, or request that it be filed, with the examiner or the person conducting the hearing or proceeding, as the case may be, or with the person with whom said application, report, or document is required to be filed, separately in a sealed envelope, bearing the caption of the enclosed paper and the notation "Confidential Information". At the time of filing such paper, or, when the objection is made by a person not himself filing the paper, application, report, or other document, within five days after the filing of such paper, the objecting party shall file a motion to withhold the information from public disclosure, in accordance with the procedure outlined in paragraph (d) of this section, except as hereinafter provided in paragraph (c). Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, copies of the filed paper and of the motion need not be served upon any other party unless so ordered by the Board.

(b) Information contained in oral testimony. Any person who objects to the public disclosure of any information sought to be elicited from a witness or deponent on oral examination shall, before such information is disclosed, make his objection known. Upon such objection duly made, the witness or deponent shall be compelled to disclose such information only in the presence of the examiner or the person before whom the deposition is being taken, as the case may be, the official stenographer and such attorneys for and lay representatives of each party as the examiner or person before whom the deposition is being taken as the case may be, shall designate, and after all present have been sworn to secrecy. The transcript of testimony containing such information shall be segregated and filed in a sealed envelope, bearing the title and docket number of the proceeding, and the notation "Confidential Testimony Given By (name of witness or deponent)." Within five days after such testimony is given, the objecting person shall file a motion, except as hereinafter provided in paragraph (c), in accordance with the procedure outlined in paragraph (d) of this section, to withhold the information from public disclosure. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, copies of the segregated portion of the transcript and of the motion need not be served upon any other party unless so ordered by the Board.

(c) Objection by Governmental departments or representatives thereof. In the case of objection to the public disclosure of any information filed by or elicited from any governmental department, or representative thereof, under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, the department, or person representing said department, making such objection shall be exempted from the provisions of paragraphs (a), (b), and (d) hereof in so far as said subsections require the filing of a written objection to such disclosure. However, any department, or person representing said department, if it so desires, may file a memorandum setting forth the reasons on the basis of which it is claimed that a public disclosure of the information should not be made. If such a memorandum is submitted, it shall be filed and handled as is provided by this section in the case of a motion to withhold information from public disclosure.

(d) Form of motion to withhold information from public disclosure. Subject to the exception of paragraph (c), no information covered by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section need be withheld from public disclosure unless written objection to such disclosure is filed with the Board in accordance with the following procedure:

(1) The motion shall be headed with the title and docket number of the proceeding and shall be signed and verified by the objecting person, any duly authorized officer or agent thereof, or by counsel representing such person in the proceeding.

(2) The motion shall include (i) a description of the information sought to be withheld, sufficient for identification of the same, and (ii) a full statement of the reasons on the basis of which it is claimed that a public disclosure of the information would adversely affect the interests of the objecting person and is not required in the interest of the public, or that the information is of a secret nature affecting the national defense.

(3) Such motion shall be filed with the examiner or the person conducting the hearing or proceeding, as the case may be, or with the person with whom said application, report, or document is required to be filed.

(e) Motion referred to the Board. The order of the Board containing its ruling upon each such motion will specify the extent to which, and the conditions upon which, the information may be disclosed to the parties and to the public, unless, within five days after the date of the entry of the Board's order with respect thereto, a petition is filed by the objecting person requesting reconsideration by the Board or a written and verified statement is filed indicating that the objecting person in good faith intends to seek judicial review of the Board's order.

(f) Objection in proceeding before the Board. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this section, whenever the objection to disclosure of information shall have been made, in the first instance, before the Board itself, the written motion of objection contemplated by paragraphs (a), (b), and (d) of this section shall not be necessary, but may be submitted if the parties so desire or if the Board, in a particular case, shall so direct. PART 287—PROCEDURE, EVIDENCE AND DEFINITIONS

DEFINITION OF TERMS

Amendment No. 2 of § 287.1.

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of February 1943.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, acting pursuant to the authority vested in it by the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly section 205 (a) thereof, and deeming its action necessary to carry out the provisions of said Act and to exercise its powers and perform its duties thereunder, hereby makes and promulgates the following regulation:

Effective March 19, 1943, paragraph (b) of § 287.1 of the Economic Regulations is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 287.1 Definitions of terms used in rules, regulations, and orders of the board. • • •

(b) The regulations of the Board may be cited by section numbers. For example, this regulation may be cited as "§ 287.1 of the Economic Regulations". The sections contained in Part 285 of the Economic Regulations, constituting the Rules of Practice under Title IV and sections 1002 (d) to (i) of the Act, may also be cited by appropriate rule numbers. For example, § 285.10 may be cited as "Rule 10 of the Rules of Practice", or as "§ 285.10 of the Economic Regulations".

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

[Amendment 20-2, Civil Air Regulations]

PART 20—PILOT CERTIFICATES

COMMERCIAL PILOT CERTIFICATES; CITIZENSHIP REQUIREMENTS

At a session of the Civil Aeronautics Board held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of February, 1943.

Effective February 22, 1943, § 20.142 of the Civil Air Regulations is amended as follows:

1. By substituting a comma for the period at the end of paragraph (b) and inserting thereafter the word "or".

2. By adding a new paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 20.142 Citizenship. • • •

(c) A person who is in sympathy with the objectives of the United States and who is a trustworthy citizen of a friendly foreign government not under the domination of, or associated with any government with which the United States is at war. The effectiveness of the certificate issued to such person shall in any event terminate six months after the war and may be terminated by the Administrator at any time without notice. Upon application to the Administrator the war limitation clause may be removed whenever the government of the country of which he is a citizen grants the reciprocity required in paragraph (b) of this section.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Director General for Operations

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under P.D. Reg. 1, as amended, 6 F.R. 6680; W. P. B. Reg. 1, 7 F.R. 561; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-240]

ROCKY MOUNTAIN BEVERAGE, INC.

Rocky Mountain Beverage, Inc., Denver, Colorado, is engaged in the production and selling of non-alcoholic beverages. During each of the months from June through September, 1942, the Company used closures in bottling such beverages in excess of its proper quota under Conservation Order M-104, the total excess usage for the four months being 3,014 gross. During this time the Company was familiar with the terms of Conservation Order M-104 and its violations thereof were wilful.

These violations of Conservation Order M-104 have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.240 Suspension Order S-240. (a) Rocky Mountain Beverage, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not use more closures made of tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate (as defined in Conservation Order M-104) in the bottling of non-alcoholic beverages, in each of the months specified below than the following amounts:

Month:	Amount
March 1943	331 gross
April 1943	350 gross
May 1943	600 gross
June 1943	624 gross
July 1943	846 gross
August 1943	1,320 gross

Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Rocky Mountain Beverage, Inc., its successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on March 1, 1943, and shall expire on August 31, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-241]

KAY ELECTRIC SUPPLY CO.

Abe Kaplan, doing business as Kay Electric Supply Co. of Atlantic City, New Jersey, is a wholesale dealer in electric appliances and copper or copper base alloy wire mill products. During the period from September 1, 1942 to October 23, 1942, Mr. Kaplan made numerous wholesale deliveries of copper or copper wire mill products aggregating 8,129 feet on orders which did not bear a preference rating. At the time these deliveries were made, Mr. Kaplan was aware of the provisions of General Preference Order M-9-a and these acts constituted wilful violations of said order.

These violations of General Preference Order M-9-a have hampered and impeded the war effort by diverting scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered That:

§ 1010.241 Suspension Order S-241. (a) Abe Kaplan, doing business as Kay Electric Supply Co. or otherwise, his successors and assigns, is hereby prohibited from making deliveries of copper or copper base alloy wire mill products on orders which do not bear a preference rating of AA-3 or higher, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Abe Kaplan, doing business as Kay Electric Supply Co. or otherwise, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on February 28, 1943, and shall expire on May 28, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-246]

W. M. DARY COMPANY

William M. Dary, Jr., is an individual residing in San Bernardino, California. He does business as W. M. Dary Company and operates two retail stores where plumbing supplies are sold, one at San Bernardino, California, and one at Long Beach, California.

Between May 27, 1942, and October 17, 1942, the Company made numerous sales and deliveries of new metal plumbing equipment and new metal heating equipment to ultimate consumers on orders which did not bear any preference ratings and did not contain the certification required by Limitation Order L-79. The total number of sales so made amounted to approximately $10,000.00. These sales and deliveries constituted wilful violations of Limitation Order L-79.

Subsequent to April 9, 1942, W. M. Dary began construction of three residential buildings in San Bernardino, California, the estimate cost of each of which was in excess of $500, the aggregate estimated cost being $20,000. This construction was begun without authorization from the War Production Board and constituted wilful violations of Conservation Order L-41.

The foregoing violations of Limitation Order L-79 and Conservation Order L-41 have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.246 Suspension order S-246. (a) William M. Dary, Jr., individually or doing business as W. M. Dary Company or otherwise, is hereby prohibited from accepting deliveries of, receiving, delivering, selling, transferring, trading or dealing in any new metal plumbing equipment or new metal heating equipment, as defined in Limitation Order L-79, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve William M. Dary, Jr., individually or doing business as W. M. Dary Company or otherwise, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on March 2, 1943, and shall expire on September 2, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-247]

FEDERAL OIL COMPANY

S. A. Himelfarb and Harry Himelfarb, doing business as the Federal Oil Company, 6415 Blair Road, N. W., Washington, D. C., are engaged in the business of marketing motor fuel. During the months of April, May, June, and from July 1 to July 21, 1942, the Federal Oil Company made deliveries of motor fuel in its own tank trucks from the storage facilities of its two suppliers to eleven service stations owned and operated by it in excess of the amounts permitted to be delivered in accordance with the provisions of Limitation Order L-70. The total over-deliveries of motor fuel to these eleven stations during the month of April, 1942 were 40,515 gallons, during May, 1942 were 118,615 gallons, during June, 1942 were 209,400 gallons, and from July 1 to July 21, 1942 were 181,765 gallons. The total over-deliveries during this period were 550,295 gallons. Computed by percentages, the Federal Oil Company delivered to the eleven service stations during the month of April, 1942 twenty-six per cent in excess of the L-70 quota, during May, 1942 seventy per cent in excess of the quota, during June, 1942 one hundred and twenty-two per cent in excess of the quota, and from July 1 to July 21, 1942 one hundred and seventy-five per cent in excess of the quota.

While the above mentioned over-deliveries of motor fuel were being made, the Federal Oil Company was fully aware that Limitation Order L-70 governed the amount of motor fuel which could be delivered each month to its service stations. It nevertheless made no attempt to ascertain the quotas for each of its service stations so as to restrict its deliveries of motor fuel to conform with the terms of Order L-70.

These over-deliveries of motor fuel were made in such reckless disregard of the provisions of Limitation Order L-70 as to constitute wilful violations thereof. These violations have hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting motor fuel to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.247. Suspension order S-247. (a) S. A. Himelfarb and Harry Himelfarb, doing business as the Federal Oil Company or under any other name, jointly or separately, their successors and assigns, shall not accept from any sources the delivery of any motor fuel, as defined in Limitation Order L-70, at the Federal Oil Company Service Stations listed below, or at any storage facility or other service station now or hereafter owned, operated or leased by them.

900 9th St. NW., Washington, D. C.

1231 New York Ave. NE., Washington, D. C.
2210 Benning Rd. NE., Washington, D. C.
701 Maine Ave. SW., Washington, D. C.

No person shall deliver any motor fuel, as defined in Limitation Order L-70, to the service stations listed in paragraph (a), or to any storage facilitity or any other service station now or hereafter owned, operated or leased by S. A. Himelfarb and Harry Himelfarb, doing business as the Federal Oil Company or under any other name, jointly or separately.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve S. A. Himelfarb and Harry Himelfarb, doing business as the Federal Oil Company or under any other name, jointly or separately, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on February 27, 1943, and shall expire on August 27, 1943.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3208—CRITICAL COMMON COMPONENTS

[General Scheduling Order M-293]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the production of certain critical common components for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3208.1 General Scheduling Order M-293—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Critical common components" means any new equipment or apparatus of the types, descriptions and classifications set forth on the schedule hereto annexed. Class X and Class Y critical common components are those components which are so designated on such schedule.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person who constructs or manufactures a critical common component to the extent that he is engaged in such construction or manufacture and shall include sales and distribution outlets and agencies controlled by such manufacturer.

(b) Operation reports. Each manufacturer of a critical common component shall file the applicable form designated in Column 1 of the annexed schedule on the dates prescribed by such form. Such form as filed shall where called for show production capacity and orders unfilled, received, shipped, cancelled and scheduled for the period specified in the form.

(c) Deliveries of Class X critical common components. (1) Each manufacturer of Class X critical common components shall file the applicable form as specified in Column 2 of the annexed schedule on the dates prescribed by such form. Such form as filed shall show the manufacturer's delivery schedule for Class X critical common components for the period therein specified.

(2) On and after April 1, 1943 (or such later date as may be specified in the applicable form), notwithstanding any preference rating which other orders may bear or any directive, rule or regulation of the War Production Board, each manufacturer shall deliver Class X critical common components only in accordance with the schedule filed pursuant to paragraph (c) (1), as the same may be changed by the Director General for Operations.

(d) Placing and acceptance of orders for Class Y critical common components. (1) Except as otherwise provided in the annexed schedule, on and after April 1, 1943 no person shall place an order with a manufacturer, and no manufacturer shall accept an order, for any Class Y critical common component unless accompanied by a specific authorization of the Director General for Operations. Such authorization may specify the manufacturer with whom the order may be placed. Applications for such authorization may be made to the War Production Board by the person seeking to place an order on the applicable form designated in Column 3 of the annexed schedule.

(2) Any order so authorized shall be accepted by the manufacturer with whom it is placed, provided it meets his regularly established prices and terms. Delivery shall be made in accordance with the terms of such order as authorized, notwithstanding any preference rating which other orders may bear or any directive, rule or regulation of the War Production Board.

(e) Other allocation and scheduling action. With respect to any critical common component, the Director General for Operations may, notwithstanding any other order, preference rating, directive, rule or regulation of the War Production Board:

(1) Direct the return or cancellation of any order on the books of a manufacturer

(2) Direct changes in the delivery or production schedule of a manufacturer

(3) Allocate orders placed with one manufacturer to another manufacturer

(4) Revoke any authorization to place an order granted by him pursuant to this order, or

(5) Take such other action, as he deems necessary, with respect to the placing of orders for, or the production or delivery of critical common components.

(f) Application of other orders and regulations. The listing of any product as a critical common component under this order does not relieve any person from complying with the provisions of any other order, directive, rule or regulation of the War Production Board, except as specifically provided in this order.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 26th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

SCHEDULE ANNEXED TO GENERAL SCHEDULING ORDER M-293

1. Designations. Only those critical common components designated as Class X or Class Y are subject to the provisions of paragraphs (c) and (d) of this order. A critical common component may be both a Class X and Class Y component and thus be subject to all the provisions of the order.

2. Applicable forms. If no form is listed in any of the columns opposite a specific item, no form is to be filed as to that item. If a form is listed opposite a general class of product, but not opposite a subclassification, the form shall be filed only for the class as a whole (or for such part of a class as the manufacturer produces). If a form is listed opposite a specific sub-classification, the form is to be filed both for the class as a whole (or for such part of a class as the manufacturer produces) and the specified subclassification, but if the manufacturer produces only a specified subclassification the form need be filed only for that item.

Subject to the provisions of the foregoing paragraph:

The applicable form shown in Column 1 is to be used in making the report required of manufacturers of all critical common components by paragraph (b) of this order.

The applicable form shown in Column 2 is to be used in making the report required of manufacturers of Class X critical common components pursuant to paragraph (c) of this order.

The applicable form shown in Column 3 is that on which a purchaser of the Class Y critical common component may apply to the War Production Board for authorization to place an order with a manufacturer pursuant to paragraph (d) of this order. Where the same form number is specified in more than one column, the form should only be filed once. Where the form specified is filed pursuant to any other "E", "L", "M" or "P" order, the form should only be filed once.

3. Reports and communications. The list of critical common components is arranged so that the name of the Industry Division appears in parenthesis above the type of critical common components for which it is primarily responsible.

All reports and forms required by the order and all communications with respect to any critical common component should be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., attention of the appropriate Industry Division as so listed.

PART 933—COPPER

[Amendment 1 to Conservation Order M-9-c, as Amended Jan. 20, 1943]

Section 933.4 Conservation Order M-9-c is hereby amended:

(1) By amending the first two paragraphs of Paragraph (h) (8) to be and read as follows:

(8) Copper products or copper base alloy products not controlled by order. On and after the original issuance dates of the orders listed in this subparagraph, the provisions of this order shall not apply to the manufacture of the following items or articles and parts (including repair parts) therefor, even though they contain copper products or copper base alloy products, since these items or articles are specifically governed by the following orders:

Shoe findings and footwear of all kinds governed by Supplementary Conservation Order M-9-c-1.

Fire protective equipment governed by General Limitation Order L-39.

Motorized fire apparatus governed by General Limitation Order L-43.

Bronze paste, bronze ink and bronze leaf and products made with bronze paste, bronze ink, bronze leaf and bronze powder (other than decalcomanias and ship bottom paint), governed by Supplementary Conservation Order M-9-c-3.

Jewelry governed by Supplementary Conservation Order M-9-c-2.

Musical instruments governed by Supplementary Limitation Order L-37-a.

Water meters governed by Schedule I of Limitation Order L-154.

Self-contained drinking water coolers governed by Schedule I of Limitation Order L-126.

The provisions of this order do not apply to attaching finished slide fasteners, hooks and eyes, brassiere hooks, sew-on, machine attached or riveted snap fasteners, buckles, buttons, corset clasps, eyelets (other than eyelets usable as shoe eyelets), garter trimmings, hose supporters, insignia, jewelry, loops, mattress buttons, pin fasteners, pins, staples, slides, and trouser trimmings. The order does apply to manufacturing, processing, assembling and finishing of the closures and associated items listed above where the provisions of this order are more restrictive than other orders of the War Production Board.

(2) By deleting the line in the combined list which reads as follows:

Lighting rods and lightning rod systems including cables and accessories (except as permitted by Order L-39).

(3) By amending the line in the combined list which now reads:

Insignia (except rank, branch and "U. S." Insignia for the Armed Forces).

to be and read as follows:

Insignia (See "Insignia" on List A-2 and on the Military Exemption List).

(4) By amending the line in the combined list which now reads:

Buckles.

to be and read as follows:

Buckles (See "Slide fasteners • • • buckles • • •" on List A-2 and the Military Exemption List).

(5) By amending the line in the combined list which now reads:

Buttons.

to be and read as follows:

Buttons. (See "Slide fasteners • • • buttons • • • and "Mattress buttons" on List A-2.)

(6) By amending the lines in the combined list which now reads:

Health supplies (except those to which a preference rating is granted under Order P-29).

to be and read as follows:

Health supplies, except the following:

Acoustic aids.
Anaesthesia apparatus and supplies.
Atomizers (medical use only).
Diagnostic equipment and supplies.
Hypodermic syringes and needles.
Infant incubators.
Instruments.
Laboratory equipment and supplies.
Medicinal chemicals (limited to medical use only).
Operating room supplies and equipment.
Ophthalmic products and instruments.
Physical therapy equipment (limited to medical use only).
Respirators, resuscitators and iron lungs.
Rubber hospital sundries.
Splints and fracture equipment.
Sterilizers, blanket and solution warmers.
Surgical and orthopaedic appliances (including artificial limbs and arms but not including arch supports which are listed on List A-2).
Sutures and suture needles, and X-Ray equipment and supplies.

(7) By amending the lines in the combined list which now reads:

Locks (except pin tumbler cylinder assemblies; essential interior working parts of Type 88, Type 97 and Type 114 locks; discs and springs for disc tumbler locks; levers for secure lever locks; interior working parts of railway car door locks and railway switch padlocks; and keys for pin tumbler and disc tumbler locks).

to be and read as follows:

Locks (except pin tumbler and disc tumbler cylinder assemblies; essential interior working parts of Type 88, Type 97 and Type 114 locks; levers, tubes and centers for secure lever locks; interior working parts of railway car door locks and railway switch padlocks; keys for pin tumbler and disc tumbler locks; and postal locks when manufactured by the Mail and Equipment Section of the United States Post Office).

(8) By amending the line in the combined list which now reads:

Medals.

to be and read as follows:

Medals, including decorations.

(9) By amending the lines in the combined list which now read:

Pipe, tube, tubing, and fittings for piping systems (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are permitted by Schedule VII of Order L–42).

to be and read as follows:

Pipe, tube, tubing, and fittings for piping systems.

(10) By changing on List A–2 clause (ii) of the item "Air conditioning equipment and refrigeration equipment" which reads:

(ii) except for essential food storage, food transportation and industrial processing and then only when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for capillary tubing, bulbs, small moving parts, bellows, bearings which use not over 2 pounds of copper each, tube connections and fittings below ⅜", and integral fin tubing used in refrigeration condensers;

to be and read as follows:

(ii) except for essential food storage, food transportation, food processing, and industrial processing and then only when the copper products or copper base alloy products used are for capillary tubing, bulbs, screens, gaskets, small moving parts, bellows, bearings which use not over 2 pounds of copper each, tube connections and fittings ¾" or less (outside diameter), and finned tubing used in water cooled refrigeration condensers;

(11) By amending the lines of List A–2 which now read:

Pipe, tube, tubing and fittings for water supply and distribution systems and installations (except corporation stops and couplings therefor, curb stops and couplings therefor, adapters, unions and solder nipples and except for all such pipe, tube, tubing and fittings for use on board ship and in chlorine gas equipment). This takes the place of Interpretation No. 4 of Order M–9–c.—Dec. 26, 1942

to be and read as follows:

Pipe, tube, tubing and fittings for water supply and distribution systems and installations (except corporation stops and couplings therefor, curb stops and couplings therefor, adapters, unions, solder nipples and ferrules and except for all such pipe, tube, tubing and fittings for use on board ship and in chlorine gas equipment). This takes the place of Interpretation No. 4 of Order M–9–c.—Dec. 26, 1942

(12) By adding to List A-2 the following items in their alphabetical position:

	Governing date
Arch supports	Feb. 26, 1943
Blow torches, kerosene (except when the only copper products or copper base alloy products used are for the pump barrel, pump check valve assembly, pump cylinder cap, brazing material, pack nut, valve stem, valve body and jet block)	Feb 28, 1943

PART 3133—PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[Limitation Order L–241, as Amended Feb. 26, 1943]

COMMERCIAL PRINTING

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of copper, zinc and paper, required for the production of printed matter for defense, for private account and for export, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3133.9 Limitation Order L–241—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order.

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Printed matter" means any paper (or paperlike substance) with ink applied to it by the relief, planographic, intaglio, silk screen or other stencil processes or any combination or modification thereof, except:

(i) "A newspaper" as defined in General Limitation Order L–240.

(ii) "Wall paper" as defined in General Limitation Order L–177.

(iii) "A box" as defined in General Limitation Order L–239.

(iv) Any converted paper product as contained in List A and List B of General Conservation Order M–241–a.

(v) "A magazine" as defined in General Limitation Order L–244.

(vi) "A book" as defined in General Limitation Order L–245.

(vii) Printed matter produced by or for the account of any department or agency of the United States, its territories or possessions, or any State, county or municipality in the United States; and such printed matter as shall be either: required by the contract between a supplier or contractor of any department or agency of the United States and such department or agency; or necessary for the production of, the delivery to, or the use of products by any such department or agency.

(viii) Printed matter produced by or for the account of any public utility necessary for the functional operation of such utility including but not limited to railroads, bus companies, motor transport companies, air transport companies, communication companies, gas, water and electric power companies.

(ix) Printed matter required by law in connection with any Federal, State, county or municipal tax laws or regulations.

(3) "Printer" means a person who produces printed matter.

(4) "Put into process" means the first application of ink to paper (or paperlike substance) in the production of printed matter.

(5) "Base period" means the calendar year 1941.

(b) Restrictions on the weight of paper which a printer may put into process. (1) During the first calendar quarter of 1943 or any calendar quarter thereafter a printer shall put paper (or paperlike substance) into process in the production of printed matter only according to one of the following schedules:

(i) Not in excess of 22½% of the gross weight of paper (or paperlike substance) put into process by him in the production of printed matter during the base period;

(ii) Not in excess of 90% of the gross weight of paper (or paperlike substance) put into process by him in the production of printed matter during the corresponding calendar quarter of the base period.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of (b) (1) above, no printer during the calendar year 1943 or any calendar year thereafter shall put paper (or paper like substance) into process in the production of printed matter in excess by weight of 90% of the gross weight of paper (or paperlike substance) put into process by him in the production of printed matter during the base period.

(c) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Reports. All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as the Director shall from time to time require.

(3) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning their inventory, use and sales of printed matter, subject to the inspection of the duly authorized representative of the War Production Board.

(4) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from, stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(5) Communications to the War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Printing & Publishing Division, Washington, D. C. Ref.: L–241.

(d) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 26th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

PART 3154—HARDWARE SIMPLIFICATIONS

[Limitation Order L–236, Schedule I, as Amended Feb. 26, 1943]

BUILDERS' FINISHING HARDWARE, CABINET LOCKS, AND PADLOCKS

Section 3154.2 Schedule I to Limitation Order L–236 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3154.2 Schedule I to Limitation Order L–236—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this schedule:

(1) "Producer" means any person who manufactures, fabricates, assembles, melts, casts, extrudes, rolls, turns, spins, or otherwise processes builders' finishing hardware, cabinet locks and padlocks.

(2) "Builders' finishing hardware" means a device for supporting, guarding, operating, controlling, or securing various parts of any building or structure. Such part of a building or structure shall include, but is not limited to, doors, windows, transoms, scuttles, gates, partitions, and closets.

(3) "Cabinet locks and padlocks" means a lock operated by key or combination (exclusive of communicating door locks) which is designed and constructed for the purpose of

(i) Guarding, controlling, securing or preventing the entrance to a building or structure or any part of a building or structure; or

(ii) Guarding, controlling, securing or preventing the opening or moving of any article, item or container used for the purpose of storage, transportation or safekeeping. Such article, item or container shall include, but is not limited to, furniture, luggage, baggage, chests, bags, lockers, cabinets or boxes.

(4) "Lend Lease government" means the government of any foreign country whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States, as provided in the act of March 11, 1941 entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(b) Exclusions from provisions of Schedule I to Limitation Order L–236. (1) Any builders' finishing hardware, cabinet lock or padlock, for any use

(i) On or in any ship or vessel, or

(ii) In the operations of a railroad or street railway, other than the construction of a building, or

(iii) Other than construction, repair or maintenance of a building, when purchased by or for the account of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, or

(iv) As a protection to electric power equipment; or

(2) Any prison lock, time lock, safe deposit lock or automotive lock; or

(3) Any parts manufactured for repair and maintenance of any builders' finishing hardware, cabinet locks, or padlocks shall not be subject to the limitations of this Schedule.

(c) Simplified practices. Pursuant to Limitation Order L–236, the sizes, types, grades, finishes and weights set forth in tables 1 through 15 of this Schedule I as amended are established for the manufacture of builders' finishing hardware, cabinet locks and padlocks except that a producer may manufacture such hardware, cabinet locks or padlocks which shall not be subject to the limitations established by this Schedule I as amended and tables attached thereto, for export under a license issued by the Board of Economic Warfare, or to fill an order of a Lend-Lease Government for builders' finishing hardware, cabinet locks or padlocks differing in size or design from those manufactured for domestic use in accordance with Table 1 through Table 15 of this Schedule I as amended, when the sizes or designs as manufactured for domestic use will not fulfill the requirements of foreign use.

(d) Effective date of simplified practices. On and after the first day of April 1943 no producer shall manufacture, put in process, assemble or otherwise complete any builders' finishing hardware, cabinet lock, or padlock which does not conform to the catalog number, size, grade, and type established by paragraph (c) of this Schedule as amended and as set forth in the tables attached hereto, except upon approval by the Director General for Operations.

(e) List of builders' finishing hardware, cabinet locks and padlocks to be manufactured subsequent to the first day of April 1943. On or before the 20th day of March 1943 every producer shall file Form PD–754 with the Building Materials Division of the War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref. L–236, listing product, catalog number, size, grade, and type of builders' finishing hardware, cabinet locks and padlocks currently produced by such producer and which such producer proposes to continue in production in accordance with the limitations of this Schedule to Limitation Order L–236. On and after the 1st day of April 1943 no producer shall deviate from the catalog numbers, sizes, grades, and types as listed by him, and no producer shall enter into the production of any catalog number, size, grade, and type of builders' finishing hardware, cabinet locks and padlocks not listed by him on such form unless the Director General for Operations shall otherwise direct.

(f) Records covering materials, work in progress, etc. Each producer of builders' finishing hardware, cabinet locks and padlocks shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time require.

Issued this 26th day of February 1943.

CURTIS E. CALDER,
Director General for Operations.

TABLE 1. BUTTS, HINGES, AND RELATED ITEMS

Numbers shown refer to designs of items only, materials and finishes permitted are as follows:

All items shall be steel, cast iron or antimonial lead except that brass may be used where permitted under the terms of Copper Order M–9–c Amended.

Where the use of brass is permitted, such brass may be finished US3 or US4, all other items shall be finished US1b, US18A, US18A unsanded, USP, US2G, US2H, lead and unfinished.

Where tips are indicated by numbers shown, such tips shall be button tips only.

Butts made to template, of designs and sizes listed, may be manufactured.

A tolerance of 1/32 of an inch greater or less than sizes set forth is permitted.

The following type numbers have been taken from Federal Specification FF-H-116b:

Type numbers permitted:		Sizes permitted
2212	Steel pin	8", 10", 12".
2209	Steel pin	6", 8", 10", 12".
2203	Steel pin	4", 6", 8", 10", 12".
2140	Hardened washer bearings only permitted.	12", 18", 24", 36".
2138	Hardened washer bearings only permitted.	12", 18", 24", 36".
B2080½		3", 3½", 4", 4½".

BB852		5" x 6" x ⅜".

TABLE 2. CHECKING FLOOR HINGES

Type numbers shown refer to designs of items only, materials and finishes permitted are as follows:

Materials permitted for checking floor hinges are ferrous metal and antimonial lead.

Checking floor hinges may be manufactured only for the following uses:

1. Where self-closing function is required by applicable fire regulations.
2. For exterior entrance and exit doors of public and industrial buildings.
3. Where essential in hospitals, except for patients' rooms, wards, etc.

Finishes permitted are USP, US18A, and lead finishes.

The following type numbers have been taken from Federal Specifications FF-H-121a:

Type numbers permitted:	Sizes permitted
US Type 3500	Size III.
US Type 3510	Size I.
US Type 3520 and A	Size II.
US Type 3520 and A	Size III.

One Type similar to "Unicheck" as manufactured by the Oscar C. Rixson Co., Catalog No. 5.

TABLE 3. CABINET HARDWARE INCLUDING CABINET HINGES

Materials permitted are ferrous metal, antimonial lead, glass, wood or plastic for all items except drawer pulls and knobs.

Drawer pulls and knobs may be non-metallic only.

Finishes permitted are USP, US18a, US2G, enamel, and lead.

A tolerance of 5/32 of an inch greater or less than sizes set forth is permitted.

Cabinet Hinges

Full surface type—(applied on outside of cabinet door) to be made only for flush and ⅜" offset doors—Each manufacturer limited to three (3) designs.

Semisurface type—semi-concealed hinges to be made only for flush doors and doors with ⅜" offset—Each manufacturer limited to three (3) designs.

Half surface type—for flush doors only—Each manufacturer limited to three (3) designs.

Knobs and Pulls

Knobs—Each manufacturer limited to three (3) designs with sizes permitted from ⅞" to 1¼" inclusive.

Pulls—Each manufacturer limited to three (3) designs with sizes permitted from 2½" to 4½" inclusive.

NOTE: Knobs and pulls shall be applied by steel screw or bolt. (No metal bushing or shoulder ferrule permissible.)

Cabinet Catches

Friction catches—Each manufacturer limited to three (3) types.

Elbow catches—Each manufacturer limited to two (2) designs.

Each manufacturer shall be limited to one design of any one size of all items listed in this table 3.

TABLE 4. HYDRAULIC DOOR CLOSERS

Materials permitted for hydraulic door closers are ferrous metals and antimonial lead.

Finishes permitted are USP, or any lacquer finish.

Hydraulic door closers may be manufactured only for the following uses:

1. Where self-closing function is required by applicable fire regulations.
2. For exterior entrance and exit doors of public and industrial buildings.
3. Where essential in hospitals, except for patients' rooms, wards, etc.

Types permitted:	Sizes permitted
Standard surface type	C, D
Underwriters Laboratories approved type with fusible link (one type only)	D
Brackets; soffit, corner and extension	To fit C, D

TABLE 5 HANGERS, TRACK AND RELATED ITEMS

Materials permitted are ferrous metals, except that zinc base die castings may be used where permitted by the Zinc Order M-11-b.

Finishes permitted are US1B, US2G, US2H, and lead.

This table shall not affect the manufacture of elevator door hardware.

Each manufacturer will be limited to the designs and quantities shown under the following sub-headings.

Reference to Richards-Wilcox means item numbers in Richards-Wilcox Catalog No. 90.

A tolerance of 5/32 of an inch greater or less than sizes set forth is permitted.

Sliding door bumper—Each manufacturer limited to one design.

Garage door holder—Each manufacturer limited to one design.

Overhead door hardware except rolling steel shutters—Sliding folding door sets using flat steel track for combinations from 2 to 6 doors. Sliding-folding door sets using formed steel track for combinations from 2 to 10 doors.

Overhead Door Hardware

One type of weight counterbalanced hardware, for each standard size of door, for one piece overhead door.

One type of spring counterbalanced hardware for each standard size of door for one piece overhead door.

One type of hardware in two sizes for sectional type overhead doors.

One or Two Section Vertical Lift Doors

Limited to one type of weight counterbalance hardware for each size of door.

Jackknife Doors

Limited to one type of weight counterbalanced hardware for each size of door.

Folding Partition Door Hardware

One type using hangers at top placed in center of door and no guide track at bottom similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 135.

One type using door supporting rollers at bottom or top and guide track at top or bottom.

One type with hangers at top placed in center of doors with special operating device, either manually or electrically controlled, similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 405.

Door Hangers Other Than Above

One type of flat steel track hinged hangers in three sizes.

One type of flat steel track rigid hangers in three sizes.

Flat steel track in three sizes as follows: 1" x 3/16", 1¼" x 3/16", 3½" x ⅜".

Trolley or formed track, rectangular or round, with removable brackets, and hangers in six (6) sizes, suitable for the following door weights:

100 lbs.
to 300 lbs.
to 600 lbs.
to 800 lbs.
to 1,200 lbs.
to 2,000 lbs.

Track for doors over 2,000 lbs.—each manufacturer limited to one design.

A storm-proof track—each manufacturer limited to one design.

Sliding Door Stay Rollers

Lag screw types, straight and bent.

One type for light doors for side attachment, similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 53.

One type for light doors for floor attachment, similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 54.

One type for heavy doors for side attachment, similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 68.

One type for heavy doors for floor attachment, similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 59, 154.

Sliding Door Guides

Single type guide for light doors, similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 372.

Double and triple type guides for parallel doors similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 172, and 173.

One type for light center parting doors similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 271.

One type for heavy center parting doors similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 171.

One type used as end stop similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 572.

One type for sliding-folding doors similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 771.

Sliding Door Pulls

Extra heavy casts pulls similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 470.

Cast iron or steel pulls in two sizes, similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 70-1, 70-2.

Surface type pulls in two sizes.

Bumper Shoes

One type, similar to Richards-Wilcox 435 x 2.

Door Latches

Gravity type, reversible in two sizes with two types of keepers.

Bar type, in two sizes with two types of keepers similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 152.

Draw type latch for parallel doors similar to Allith Prouty type 396, Catalog No. 101.

Reversible flush type similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 520.

Swinging door latch similar to Lawrence Bros. type 122, Catalog No. 19.

Reversible type for light doors similar to Richards-Wilcox No. 325.

Fire Door Hardware

Single sliding door sets using Underwriters' standard hardware with flat or round track for tin clad or steel door, incline or level track.

Center parting sliding door sets using Underwriters' standard hardware with flat or round track for tin clad or steel doors incline or level track.

Verticle sliding door sets, with Underwriters' standard hardware, using flat track for tin clad or steel doors.

Single swing door sets, using Underwriters' standard hardware, for tin clad or steel doors.

Double swing door sets, using Underwriters' standard hardware, for tin clad or steel doors.

Single swing shutter sets using Underwriters' standard hardware for tin clad or steel shutters.

Double swing shutter sets, using Underwriters' standard hardware, for tin clad or steel shutter.

Trap doorsets for light trap doors, using hardware for tin clad or steel doors.

Trap door sets for heavy trap doors using hardware for tin clad or steel doors.

Heavy Industrial Hinges

Ten types similar to Richards-Wilcox 434-WA, B, C, CC, D, E, J, K, 1035, 1036. To have either disc or ball bearings.

TABLE 6. LOCKS AND DOOR TRIM

Materials permitted are ferrous metals, antimonial lead, plastic, wood, pottery or glass. Zinc base die castings and brass may be used where permitted by the Copper Order M 9-c and the Zinc Order M-11-b.

Locks furnished keyed alike shall have not more than one key per lock. Other locks shall have not more than two keys per lock. Only three master keys may be furnished with each group of locks when such locks are required to be furnished master-keyed.

Finishes permitted are US1B, US18A, US2G, and lead finishes. Where the use of brass is permitted, such brass may be finishes US3.

A tolerance of 5/32 of an inch greater or less than sizes set forth is permitted.

Each manufacturer shall be limited to the number of designs shown under each subheading.

Federal numbers shown here have been taken from Federal Specifications FF-H-106.

Cylindrical and tubular locks and latches, with comparative functions, may be substituted for mortise locks and latches described hereinafter.

Tubular and cylindrical type locksets—Each manufacturer shall be limited to sets of three roses and three designs of knobs.

Pin tumbler tubular mortise latches and dead locks—Each manufacturer shall be limited to three types; one mortise latch, one dead bolt and one mortise dead latch with auxiliary bolts.

Mortise locksets with pendant or rectangular trim—Each manufacturer shall be limited to three designs of wrought trim, except that cast trim is permitted where specified in the War Housing Manual.

Door knobs general—May be ferrous metal, glass, wood, plastic or pottery. Glass knobs shall be limited to using wrought steel shanks.

Roses general—All roses shall be of plain design approximate sizes 1¾", 2" and 2⅛".

Key plates general—Key plates shall be limited to one type, similar to Government specifications FF-H-106, type 351.

Rim knob locks and latches commercial jobbing types—Each manufacturer shall be limited to three catalogue numbers in japanned finish.

Locks general—Locks and latches shall be limited to the following descriptive numbers:

Mortise Knob Latches

1 Mortise latch.
Case—Lacquered wrought steel or japanned iron, approximately 1⁹⁄₁₆" x 3¼" x ½".
Front—Wrought steel or cast iron, approximately 2⅞" x ¾". Steel strike.
Latch bolt—Wrought steel or cast iron, approximate throw 5/16".
Backset—Approximately 2½".

2. Mortise latch.
Case—Japanned iron, approximately 1⅝" x 3¼" x 9/16".
Front—Approximately 3⅜" x ⅞". Strike ferrous metal.
Bolt—Approximate throw 13/32".
Backset—Approximately 2½".

Mortise Bit Key Knob Locks

1. Mortise locks similar to FF-H-106 Type 4 modified.
Case—Japanned iron, approximately 3⅝" x 3⅛" x ½".
Bolts—Approximate throw Latch ¾" bolt 7/16".
Tumbler—1.
Backset—Approximately 2½".
Front—5¼" x ⅞". Steel strike.

2. Mortise locks, similar to FF-H-106, type 4a.
Case—Japanned iron, approximately 3" x 3¼" x ⅝".
Front—5½" x ⅞", strike ferrous metal.
Bolts—Minimum throw latch 7/16" bolt 7/16".
Tumbler—3.
Backset—Approximately 2½".
Construction—Double compression easy spring.

3. Mortise lock, similar to FF-H-106, type 7.
Case—Japanned iron, approximately 4½" x 3⅜" x ⅝".
Front—Approximately 6" x 1", strike ferrous metal.
Bolts—Minimum throw latch ⅜" bolt 5/16".
Tumblers—3.
Backset—Approximately 2¾".
Construction—Double compression easy spring.

Mortise Vestibule Locks

1. Cylinder key type, similar to FF-H-106 type 91.
Case—Japanned iron approximately 4¾" x 3⅝" x ¾".
Front—Approximately 7" x 1¹⁵⁄₁₆". Strike ferrous metal.
Bolt—Approximate throw latch ½" bolt ½".
Backset—Approximately 2½".
Construction—Double compression easy spring.
Operation—Outside by key. Both sides by knobs. Outside knob is set by stops in face. One cylinder.

Office Door Locks

1. Cylinder type, similar to FF-H-106 Type 97. Case—Japanned iron approximately 5" x 3⅞" x ¾".
Front—Approximately 7½" x 1¹⁵⁄₁₆". Strike ferrous metal.
Bolts—Approximate throw ½".
Backset—Approximately 2⅞".
Construction—Double compression easy spring. 1 cylinder, auxiliary latch bolt.
Operation—Outside by key-both sides by knobs. Outside knob is set by stops in face.

Mortise Dead Locks

1. Bit key type, similar to FF–H–106 type 38A.
   Case—Japanned iron approximately $2\frac{15}{16}$" x $3\frac{1}{4}$" x 9/16".
   Front—Approximately $3\frac{7}{8}$" x 1". Strike ferrous metal.
   Bolt—Approximate throw $\frac{7}{16}$".
   Backset—Approximately $2\frac{3}{4}$".
   Tumblers—3.
   Operation—Bit key both sides.
2. Cylinder type, similar to FF–H–106 type 114 x No turn.
   Case—Japanned iron approximately $2\frac{1}{2}$" x $3\frac{1}{2}$" x $\frac{13}{16}$".
   Front—Approximately $4\frac{1}{4}$" x $1\frac{1}{16}$". Strike ferrous metal.
   Bolt—Approximate throw $\frac{1}{4}$".
   Backset—Approximately $2\frac{3}{4}$".
   Operation—Cylinder 1 side only. No turn knob.
3. Cylinder type, similar to FF–H–106 type 114.
   Case—Japanned iron approximately $2\frac{1}{2}$" x $3\frac{1}{2}$" x $\frac{13}{16}$".
   Front—Approximately $4\frac{1}{4}$" x $1\frac{1}{16}$". Strike ferrous metal.
   Bolt—Approximate throw $\frac{1}{2}$".
   Backset—Approximately $2\frac{3}{4}$".
   Operation—Cylinder 1 side, turn knob 1 side
4. Cylinder type, similar to FF–H–106 type 115.
   Case—Japanned iron, approximately $2\frac{1}{2}$" x $3\frac{1}{2}$" x $\frac{13}{16}$".
   Front—Approximately $4\frac{1}{4}$" x $1\frac{1}{16}$". Strike ferrous metal.
   Bolt—Approximate throw $\frac{1}{2}$".
   Backset—Approximately $2\frac{3}{4}$".
   Operation—Cylinders both sides.

Mortise Bath Room Locks

1. Bath room lock. 17A modified.
   Case—Japanned iron approximately $3\frac{1}{2}$" x $3\frac{1}{8}$" x $\frac{9}{16}$".
   Front—Steel, approximately $5\frac{1}{4}$" x $\frac{7}{8}$". Strike steel.
   Bolts—Iron; approximate throw latch $\frac{5}{16}$", bolt $\frac{1}{2}$".
   Backset—Approximately $2\frac{3}{8}$".
   Construction—Free action latch bolt.
   Operation—Latch bolt by knobs either side. Dead bolt by turn knob from inside only. Emergency key.

Mortise Asylum Locks

1. The limited number of asylum locks may be retained as shown in manufacturers' catalogues with only those restrictions or limitations imposed by other orders.

Mortise Bit Key Front Door Locks

1. Bit key front door locks.
   Case—Japanned iron, approximately $4\frac{5}{8}$"x $3\frac{3}{8}$"x$\frac{15}{16}$".
   Front—Wrought steel, approximately 7"x 1". Strike steel.
   Bolts—Cast iron, approximate throw, latch $\frac{15}{32}$", bolt $\frac{7}{16}$".
   Backset—Approximately $2\frac{1}{2}$".
   Tumbler—1.
   Construction—Easy spring on latch, firm on knob.
   Operation—Latch bolt by key outside all times, by knob from either side, except when outside knob is set by stops in face.

Mortise Locks Fire Door Bearing Underwriters Labels

1 The limited number of locks normally required for fire doors bearing Underwriters labels may be retained in manufacturers' catalogues with only those restrictions or limitations imposed by other orders.

Mortise Cylinder Front Door Locks

1 Cylinder front door locks, similar to FF–H–106 type 88
   Case—Japanned iron, approximately $5\frac{1}{2}$"x $3\frac{3}{8}$"x$\frac{3}{4}$".
   Front—Approximately $7\frac{1}{2}$" x 1". Strike ferrous metal
   Bolt—Approximate throw latch $\frac{5}{16}$", bolt $\frac{1}{2}$".
   Backset—Approximately $2\frac{1}{2}$".
   Construction—Double compression easy spring.
   Operation—Latch bolt by key from outside at all times, and by knobs either side, except when outside knob is set by stops in face. Dead bolts by key from outside and turn knob inside.

Mortise Cylinder Front Door Lock—Type 93, Same as Type 88

Operation—Latch bolt by knob either side; dead bolt by key from outside and turn knob from inside.

Mortise School House Locks

1 Bit key type.
   Case—Japanned iron, approximately $5\frac{1}{8}$" x $3\frac{7}{8}$" x $\frac{3}{4}$".
   Front—Approximately $7\frac{1}{2}$" x $1\frac{13}{16}$", Strike ferrous metal.
   Bolt—Approximate throw $\frac{1}{2}$".
   Backset—Approximately $2\frac{3}{4}$".
   Tumbler—3.
   Construction—Easy spring compression type on latch, auxiliary latch to lock to latch bolt to prevent its being forced back when door is closed.
   Operation—Latch bolt by knobs from either side, outside knob is locked or released by key from either side, inside knob operative at all times.
2. Cylinder type school house lock.
   Case—Japanned iron, approximately 5" x $3\frac{7}{8}$" x $\frac{3}{4}$".
   Front—Approximately $7\frac{1}{2}$" x $1\frac{13}{16}$", Strike ferrous metal.

TABLE 8. NIGHT LATCHES AND DEADLOCKS

Materials permitted are ferrous metal or antimonial lead except that brass may be used where permitted under the Copper Order M–9–c as Amended, and zinc where permitted under Zinc Order M–11–B.

All flat strikes shall be eliminated except when ordered separately.

Locks furnished keyed alike shall have not more than one key per lock. Other locks shall have not more than two keys per lock. Only three master keys may be furnished with each group of locks when such locks are required to be furnished master-keyed.

All metallic finishes shall be eliminated.

The manufacture of the following types shall be permitted.

A tolerance of $\frac{1}{32}$" of an inch greater or less than sizes set forth will be permitted.

One catalog number narrow backset, disc tumbler, separate cylinder, rim night latch, in black finish, with rim strike only.

One catalog number narrow backset, pin tumbler cylinder, rim night latch, square and bevel bolt in black finish, similar to Government Type 134, with rim strike only.

Two catalog numbers standard 2⅜" backset, pin tumbler cylinder, rim night latch, with iron bolt, in black finish, with rim strike only.

One catalog number standard 2⅜" backset, square bolt type pin tumbler, cylinder rim deadlock, approximate size 2⅜", 1¾₂", 3⅜", in black finish with rim strike only.

One catalog number Jimmy-resisting deadlocks without chain attachment, with rim strike only.

One catalog number Jimmy-resisting deadlocks with double cylinders, with rim strike only.

TABLE 9. SPRING HINGES

Numbers shown refer to designs of items only, materials and finishes permitted are as follows:

All items shall be ferrous metal or antimonial lead except that the use of brass will be permitted in the manufacture of those hinges permitted under the terms of Copper Order M–9–c Amended.

Where the use of brass is permitted, such brass may be finished US3 or US4, all other items shall be finished US1B, US18A unstanded, US2G, and lead.

A tolerance of $\frac{1}{32}$ of an inch greater or less than sizes set forth is permitted.

The following type numbers have been taken from Catalog #63 of Bommer Spring Hinge Company for use as a guide, similar products of any other manufacturer will be permitted.

Single and double acting hinges may be manufactured only for the following uses:

1. Army, Navy and Maritime Commission.
2. Industrial and commercial
3. Multi-family dwellings, where required by local fire regulations.

tape, or twin coiled spring "flat" type with suspension cables, or single helical-spring "vertical" type with or without tubular housing. Springs may be high-carbon steel uniformly tempered. The single coiled-spring type must have pressed steel or cast iron case and front for mounting in mortise in the window frame. The twin coiled-spring type must have pressed steel case for mounting flatwise in the cutout in the window frame.

Materials permitted are ferrous metals only, except that zinc may be used where permitted by Zinc Order M-11-B. Finishes permitted are US2G, US2H, USP lead and lacquer.

Coiled spring type balances may be made in two types:

(a) Using suspension tape.

(b) Using wire cable

They may be made in adjustable or non-adjustable types.

Coiled spring and vertical type sash balances may be made as stock items in the following weight capacities:

4 to 26 lbs.
26 to 58 lbs.
58 to 80 lbs.
80 to 110 lbs.

TABLE 13. CABINET LOCKS

Materials permitted for cabinet locks are ferrous metal or antimonial lead only, except that zinc base die casting or brass may be used for cylinder assemblies of pin tumbler and disc tumbler locks and for the tubes, centers and levers of secure lever locks. Keys for pin and disc tumbler locks may be of brass.

Locks furnished keyed alike shall have not more than one key per lock. Other locks shall have not more than two keys per lock. Only three master keys may be furnished with each group of locks when such locks are required to be furnished master-keyed.

Finishes permitted are US1B, US18A, US2G and lead. Where the use of brass is permitted, such brass may be finished US3.

Flat keyed, secure lever chest locks—Each manufacturer limited to two (2) designs, approximate sizes $1\frac{1}{2}$" x 2" for $\frac{3}{4}$" wood; $1\frac{3}{4}$" x $2\frac{1}{2}$" for $\frac{7}{8}$" wood

Double link, warded, barrel key, chest locks—Each manufacturer limited to one (1) design, approximate size $2\frac{1}{2}$" x $1\frac{9}{16}$".

Pin tumbler, small cylinder, half mortise drawers and or cupboard locks—Each manufacturer limited to one design with deadbolt approximately 2" x $1\frac{9}{16}$".

Disc tumbler, dead bolt, surface type drawer and or cupboard locks—Each manufacturer limited to one design only

Disc tumbler, dead bolt, half mortise drawer and or cupboard locks—Each manufacturer limited to one design only.

Flat key, secure lever, half mortise, dead bolt drawer locks—Each manufacturer limited to one (1) design, approximate size $1\frac{3}{4}$" x $1\frac{7}{16}$".

Flat key, secure lever, surface type drawer locks—Each manufacturer limited to two (2) designs, approximate sizes $1\frac{3}{4}$" x $1\frac{7}{8}$"; $1\frac{3}{4}$" x $1\frac{1}{4}$".

Half mortise, warded, barrel key drawer locks—Each manufacturer limited to one (1) design, approximate size $2\frac{1}{2}$" x $1\frac{3}{4}$".

Pin tumbler, surface type, locker and wardrobe locks—Each manufacturer limited to one design, approximate size $1\frac{3}{8}$" x $1\frac{1}{4}$" with a $\frac{7}{8}$" or $1\frac{1}{8}$" cylinder.

Flat key, secure lever, surface type, locker and wardrobe locks—Each manufacturer limited to four (4) designs, approximate sizes $1\frac{7}{8}$" x $\frac{7}{8}$"; 2" x $1\frac{3}{4}$"; $2\frac{1}{4}$" x $1\frac{1}{4}$"; $2\frac{5}{8}$" x $1\frac{1}{4}$".

Barrel key, warded, surface type, locker and wardrobe locks—Each manufacturer limited to two (2) designs, approximate sizes $2\frac{1}{4}$" x $1\frac{1}{4}$"; 3" x $1\frac{1}{4}$".

The manufacturer shall make only one design of a size.

TABLE 14. PADLOCKS

Materials permitted are steel, cast iron, antimonial lead malleable iron, brass, or zinc. The use of brass will be permitted only for cylinder assemblies and keys (not including cases) and levers for lever tumbler and disc tumbler locks. The use of zinc will be permitted for cylinder assemblies and keys (including cases) and levers for lever tumbler and disc tumbler locks.

Locks for use by the Army, Navy and Maritime Commission may have zinc base die cast cases whether case is part of cylinder assembly or not.

Locks furnished keyed alike shall have not more than one key per lock. Other locks shall have not more than two keys per lock. Only three master keys may be furnished with each group of locks when such locks are required to be furnished master-keyed.

A tolerance of $\frac{1}{32}$ of an inch greater or less than sizes set forth shall be permitted.

Each manufacturer shall make only one design of a size.

PART 1360—MOTOR VEHICLES AND MOTOR VEHICLE EQUIPMENT

[Ration Order 2B]

PASSENGER AUTOMOBILES

When the building of passenger cars was discontinued in February, 1942, to enable manufacturers to convert their plants to war production, about 520,000 new passenger cars were reported as held for resale by manufacturers, distributors and dealers. At the peacetime rate of sales this stock would have been marketed in less than two months.

For a nation in whose economic life the automobile plays such an important part, the situation was serious. To provide automobiles for military, government and essential civilian driving needs and to aid in the control of new car prices, it became necessary not only to ration these 520,000 new cars, but also to restrict the sale of used 1942 cars in the same manner. Aside from the new cars, these automobiles were generally the best we had. The transfer of these cars to essential users is helping to utilize the Nation's automobiles still further in the war effort.

Under Rationing Orders No. 2 and 2A about 280,000 new 1942 automobiles were released to eligible buyers by December 31, 1942, leaving approximately 240,000 on hand in dealers' stocks for military and civilian needs in 1943 and thereafter.

When automobile rationing was instituted there were no effective controls on the use of cars. Since that time the mileage rationing program has introduced controls through the rationing of gasoline and tires. As a result, the necessity for reserving a large stock-pile of cars in dealers' hands no longer exists and it is now possible to permit the distribution of the remaining cars on a more liberal basis. Although these cars are placed in use, they necessarily will be used sparingly and will continue to remain our best automotive equipment.

Coordination with the recent nation-wide mileage rationing program makes it desirable to revise the automobile rationing regulations at this time. In the process of revision, the rationing rules, procedures and forms have been simplified for the convenience of the public, the Boards and the trade.

The principal changes in the automobile rationing program which are introduced in this order are:

In general, a person who drives to any extent for any of the purposes listed in the preferred mileage list of the gasoline regulations may acquire a 1942 car if he needs a car in his activities and does not have the use of a serviceable car. By using the C book eligibility list as a basis for distributing new cars, the new program operates to distribute the best cars for use in the most essential occupations, and by so doing, it operates to complement the mileage rationing program.

1942 cars having a list price of more than $1,500 and all convertible models, regardless of price, may be acquired by a person who needs a car in carrying on either a gainful occupation or work related to the war effort or public welfare, and who does not have the use of a serviceable car. This relaxation is made possible because rationing experience has shown that these cars are not needed by the most essential users.

For the same reason, a person is now permitted to obtain a 1941 car driven less than 1,000 miles if he will use it in carrying on a gainful occupation or work related to the war effort or public welfare. These 1941 cars are rationed under a plan which does not require a buyer to acquire a certificate from his board. Instead, it will be the responsibility of the dealer to secure the required information and to forward it to the Office of Price Administration.

The underlying purpose for the reserve pool of 1942 cars (sometimes referred to by the trade as "B pool", "Government pool" and "deep-freeze" cars) was to reserve these cars for distribution to essential users in 1943 and thereafter. Having served its purposes, the pool is now discontinued and these cars are now available for distribution under the rationing program.

Ration Order No. 2B becomes effective on March 6, 1943 and supersedes Rationing Orders No. 2,[1] 2A,[2] and the New Passenger Automobile Rationing Regulations,[3] however Rationing Order 2A continues to apply to the territories and possessions of the United States.

§ 1360.651 Rationing of 1941 automobiles driven less than 1,000 miles and all 1942 automobiles. Under the authority given to the Price Administrator by the War Production Board in Directive No. 1, issued January 24, 1942, in Supplementary Directive No. 1A, issued

ARTICLE I—GENERAL RULES FOR OBTAINING A RATIONED CAR—POWERS AND DUTIES OF THE BOARDS UNDER THIS ORDER

SECTION 1.1 This order applies to 1941 passenger cars driven less than 1,000 miles and to all 1942 passenger cars. (a) This Ration Order No. 2B applies to all 1941 passenger cars which have been driven less than 1,000 miles and all 1942 passenger cars regardless of mileage. It includes the chassis of such cars and also includes taxicabs, but not ambulances, hearses, station wagons or cars with a seating capacity of more than ten persons.

(b) This Ration Order No. 2B is in force in the forty-eight states and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 1.2 The rationing of 1941 cars driven less than 1,000 miles. This section applies only to 1941 passenger cars which have been driven less than 1,000 miles. The only other reference in this order which apply to 1941 cars are found in Article IV of this Ration Order No. 2B. These 1941 cars are rationed as follows:

(a) No person shall transfer or acquire (or offer to transfer or acquire) for purposes of use a 1941 passenger car which has been driven less than 1,000 miles, except as permitted by this section.

(b) Such a 1941 passenger car may be transferred to a person for use in carrying on a gainful occupation or in carrying on work related to the war effort or public welfare. Before the car may be transferred, the transferee and transferor shall sign the following statements, indicating the purposes for which the car will be used:

(c) The signed statements of the transferee and transferor shall be attached and shall be forwarded by the transferor to the Office of Price Administration, Inventory Unit, New York City within five days from the date of transfer.

(d) There is no requirement that a person who transfers or acquires a 1941 passenger car under this section shall secure a certificate or other authorization from his Board.

SEC. 1.3 Who may get a ration certificate for a 1942 car. Although all 1942 cars are under rationing control, those 1942 cars which have a list price of over $1500 and all 1942 convertible soft-top cars are rationed on a less restricted basis than other 1942 cars.

(a) Persons eligible for any 1942 car. The following persons may acquire a 1942 car for use:

(1) Persons listed in gasoline C book list. A person who needs a car for his own use for any of the preferred mileage purposes listed in Ration Order 5C, the Mileage Rationing: Gasoline Regulations,[1] and who does not have the use of a serviceable car for the specified purposes. This applies even though the mileage driven for such purposes is not sufficient to permit the issuance of a C ration; or

(2) Taxicab operators. A person who has secured the permission of the Office of Defense Transportation to add an additional taxicab to his fleet or who desires to replace an unserviceable taxicab which he owns and operates under the authority of the Office of Defense Transportation.

(b) Persons eligible for 1942 cars with list price of over $1500 or for convertibles. Any person who does not have the use of a serviceable car and who needs a car in carrying on either a gainful occupation or work contributing to the war effort or to the public welfare may acquire a 1942 car which has a list price of over $1500, according to OPA Revised Price Schedule No. 85[2] including any amendments to it, or any convertible soft-top car, regardless of price.

(c) Guides for determining serviceability. In deciding under this section whether the car which an applicant uses is serviceable, the board should consider the purpose for which he uses the car and any facts which bear upon its condition. Unless the facts show otherwise, the board may decide that a 1939 or older car is not serviceable for the driving needs of the applicant. The board may also decide that any car driven over 40,000 miles, irrespective of its age, is not serviceable.

(d) Guides for determining need. In deciding whether an applicant needs a car the board shall consider the distance which he must travel in his eligible activity, the adequacy of public transportation, the amount of time he could save by using a car, and any other facts which bear on his need for a car. If at any time after January 1, 1942 he has transferred a car, he must show that the car was unserviceable or that he had no need for it at the time, or that other circumstances justified its transfer.

SEC. 1.4 Where and how to apply for a ration certificate for a 1942 car. Application for a ration certificate for a 1942 car shall be made either in person or by mail to the War Price and Rationing Board serving the area in which the person applying will ordinarily keep his car, or to the Plant Area Board serving the plant in which he works. Application for one or more 1942 cars shall be made on Form R-213. The application shall be signed by the applicant personally, unless he is physically unable to do so. The person applying shall supply all the information required by the form and any other information requested by the board.

SEC. 1.5 When and how a certificate is issued and used. (a) If the board decides that the applicant is entitled to a 1942 car under this order, it shall issue a ration certificate to him on Form R-214. If an application for more than one car is granted, a separate certificate shall be issued for each car.

(b) The number of ration certificates which may be issued by a board in any month may be limited by quotas set by the Office of Price Administration. In no case shall a board issue more certificates than its quota. If the quota is used up, the board may apply to the State Director for an additional quota.

(c) Notice of the board's action shall be given, either at the board's office or by mailing, to the applicant or his agent.

(d) The person to whom a ration certificate has been issued shall use it within fifteen days from the date on the certificate, but not thereafter, unless additional time is allowed by the board. The allowance of any additional time shall be noted on the face of the certificate. The parts of the certificate shall be signed by the certificate holder and shall be disposed of according to the instructions on the certificate.

SEC. 1.6 Persons who may obtain an authorization to sell their 1942 cars to anyone. (a) Any person included in this section who owns a 1942 car for his use may transfer it without a certificate upon receiving a clearance statement from his board:

(1) A member of the armed forces who is on active duty with any branch of the United States Army, Navy, Coast Guard, or Marine Corps, (including the Women's Auxiliary Army and Navy Organizations, such as the WAACS, WAVES or SPARS,) or anyone who has taken his oath of service and will begin active duty within fourteen days from the date of application.

(2) An officer or seaman holding a certificate in the United States Merchant Marine, or any other person under the Division of Training of the War Shipping Administration who has taken his oath of enrollment.

(3) An officer, agent, representative or employee of the United States or of any government recognized by the United States who has been directed in the course of duty to leave the United States for a period of not less than six months.

(4) A person who acquired a 1942 car by will or inheritance.

(b) Before a person may dispose of his car under this section to any person for use, he must first clear the transaction with his board. He shall apply for clearance on Form R-211, submitting written proof to his board that he is included in this section. He may apply only after he has arranged to transfer the car to a particular person. If he meets these requirements, the board shall issue a clearance statement on Form R-202.

SEC. 1.7 A 1942 car used by a business may be sold with the business. (a) A 1942 car owned and used by a business or an institution may be sold along with the entire business or institution to a person who will continue to use it in the operation of the business or institution.

(b) Before a person may dispose of a car under this section, he must first clear the transaction with his board. He shall apply for clearance on Form R-211, and shall submit with his application a statement signed by the purchaser stating that the car will be used in the operation of the business or institution. If he meets the requirements of this section, the board shall issue a clearance statement on Form R-202.

SEC. 1.8 How 1942 cars are registered. A person who has registered a 1942 car may re-register it in any state if there is no change in the designation of the registered owner. As a condition to the registration of other 1942 cars, the person shall present to the registrar of automobiles a ration certificate or a clearance statement issued for the car sought to be registered.

SEC. 1.9 Persons who may obtain a clearance statement to register a 1942 car. A Board shall issue a clearance statement permitting the registration of a 1942 car in the following cases:

(a) Change in name of car owner. A registered owner of a 1942 car who has changed his name may obtain a clearance statement.

(b) Cars acquired by will or inheritance. A person who has acquired a 1942 car by will or inheritance from a person who was entitled to the use of the car may obtain a clearance statement to permit him to register the car in his name.

(c) Cars used by or on behalf of any branch of the armed forces of the United States. A person who has agreed to furnish a 1942 car for use by or on behalf of any of the branches of the armed forces of the United States may obtain a clearance statement and transfer the car on condition that when the automobile is no longer used in this manner, it shall be returned to the transferor. If immediately before its transfer, the car was held for the purpose of resale, he shall hold it for the same purpose when it is returned to him. A clearance statement shall be issued in this case only if the applicant submits a written contract signed or endorsed by an authorized representative of the particular branch of the armed forces, which provides:

(1) That the applicant will furnish a 1942 car for use by or on behalf of the armed forces;

(2) That he will furnish the car for a minimum period of three months; and

(3) That he will not use the car for any other purposes during the period of the contract.

(d) Procedure for obtaining a clearance statement. Application for a clearance statement shall be made to the applicant's board on Form R-211. If the applicant meets the requirements of this section, the board shall issue a clearance statement on Form R-212.

SEC. 1.10 Operation of 1942 cars for use. A 1942 car registered for use may be operated by any person entitled to its use.

SEC. 1.11 Any applicant may appeal from an adverse decision. An applicant may appeal from an adverse decision in accordance with the procedure set forth in Procedural Regulation No. 9,[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

ARTICLE II—DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE TRADE IN THE TRANSFER, USE OR ALTERATION OF 1942 CARS

The Reserve Pool

SECTION 2.1 Reserve pool cars are released for rationing under this order. The Government reserve pool has been discontinued. Persons who have cars bearing pool stickers may now remove the stickers. All 1942 cars which were in the pool, are now available for distribution under this Ration Order No. 2B.

Transfers Permitted Without Certificates

SEC. 2.5 Transfers which must be reported on Form R-203 (Revised) but do not require certificates or clearance statements.—(a) Transfers for resale. Any of the following persons may acquire a 1942 car or an interest in it without a certificate but may not use or register the car (unless it is registered with a clearance statement for official use by or on behalf of the armed forces of the United States):

(1) A dealer, distributor or manufacturer of automobiles;

(2) The Reconstruction Finance Corporation or the Defense Supplies Corporation;

(3) The United States, any state, or any political subdivision or agency of either, in the exercise of governmental rights or powers against the 1942 car;

(4) A person authorized by any order or process of any court to acquire a 1942 car;

(5) A person who is engaged in the business of salvaging damaged goods or adjusting losses may acquire a 1942 car which has been damaged, which is in danger of being damaged, or which is part of a damaged stock;

(6) A common or contract carrier, a public warehouse or an insurance company, as a result of the payment of a claim;

(7) Any person who creates, acquires, transfers or satisfies a security interest in a 1942 car, or who acquires a car in satisfaction of a security interest.

(b) Transfer for scrap or salvage. A dealer, junk company or salvage company may acquire without a certificate a 1942 car for purposes of scrap or salvage only if it is in such condition that its repair is not practicable.

(c) Procedure for reporting transfer. Whenever any person acquires a car under this section, he shall complete Form R–203 (Revised) in triplicate and mail the original to the Office of Price Administration, Inventory Unit, New York City, within five days of the transaction. A copy shall be retained by the transferor and transferee.

SEC. 2.6 Transfers which do not require certificates, clearance statements or reports. (a) A person may lease, loan or borrow a 1942 car for a period of a week or less, if the car is operated and registered for use. The purpose of this section is to permit the occasional use of a car for a short time, and does not, therefore, permit the regular use of a car through a chain of transactions.

(b) A person regularly engaged in the taxicab rental business may lease a 1942 car for use as a taxicab to a taxi driver, if the car may be lawfully operated as a taxicab.

(c) A person may acquire a 1942 car by will or inheritance from one who was entitled to the use of the car, and may use it.

(d) A member of the owner's household may use his car.

(e) A person may reacquire a 1942 car which has been taken or withheld from his possession.

(f) A 1942 car may be transferred to or from a common or contract carrier in the course of its shipment; it may be transferred to a public warehouse for storage; and it may be returned to the person from whom it was received. This paragraph does not permit a transfer between the shipper and the person to whom the car is shipped.

(g) A 1942 car may be transferred to a repair shop or a garage for repair or storage and it may be returned to the person from whom it was received.

SEC. 2.7 Cars held by dealers may be driven only for restricted purposes. A person engaged in the business of selling automobiles (or his employee) may use a 1942 car only under the following circumstances:

(a) He may use a car which is registered for his use, or for which he has obtained a clearance statement. He may not use:

(1) A car registered for use by or on behalf of any of the branches of the armed forces while it is not being used for that purpose; or

(2) A car registered for use by a private individual which is now held for the purpose of sale or other transfer.

(b) He may use a car for the purpose of demonstrating it to prospective customers if the car was set aside and used for that purpose before January 2, 1942.

(c) He may use a car for the purpose of demonstrating it to a certificate holder who is interested in purchasing the car.

(d) He may deliver a car to any person permitted to acquire it under this Ration Order No. 2B.

Alteration of 1942 Cars

SEC. 2.10 Conditions under which 1942 cars may be altered. The term "alteration" means any structural change in an automobile and includes the removal of its parts and accessories. 1942 cars may be altered only in the following cases:

(a) 1942 cars held for resale. A 1942 car held for resale may be altered in the following cases:

(1) Four-door and two-door hard-top sedans may be altered into any other model or type of conveyance only upon specific authorization granted by the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C. Application for authorization shall be made to that office by letter, stating the make, body type, serial number and engine number of the car, the details of the proposed alteration and the purpose for which the altered vehicle is to be used. Authorization will be granted if the Office of Price Administration is satisfied that the proposed alteration will result in a greater usefulness of the car in the war effort or the public welfare. An alteration of this kind shall be reported on Form R–203 (Revised) to the Office of Price Administration, Inventory Unit, New York City, within five days after its completion.

(2) All other 1942 cars held for resale may be altered into any other model or type of conveyance without authorization. However, an alteration of this kind shall be reported on Form R–203 (Revised) to the Office of Price Administration, Inventory Unit, New York City, within five days after its completion.

(3) A part or accessory not essential to the operation of the altered vehicle may be removed without authorization. Any part or accessory may also be removed from any car for the purpose of repair or upon authorization of the War Production Board or the Office of Price Administration.

(4) If any 1942 car held for resale is in such condition that its repair is not practicable, it may be junked or dismantled for the purpose of scrap or salvage. Any person who junks a 1942 car held for resale shall report within five days on Form R–203 (Revised) to the Office of Price Administration, Inventory Unit, New York City, giving the make, body type, serial number and engine number of the junked car. It is not necessary to report the junking of any 1942 car which was held for use and not for resale.

(b) Other 1942 cars. Any 1942 car which is held for use may be altered in any manner.

Records

SEC. 2.15 Records to be kept. A person engaged in the business of selling cars shall keep an accurate and complete record of any transfer, acquisition, registration, alteration or use of a 1942 car while it is in his possession. In addition to any other records, he shall keep a file containing the original or diplicate of the following:

(a) Any permit or part of a certificate which has been presented to him by a person to whom he transferred a 1942 car.

(b) Any clearance statement or authorization issued to him for any 1942 car in his possession.

(c) Any Office of Price Administration or War Production Board form which has been completed for purposes of reporting a transfer of a 1942 car.

(d) Any other inventory report required to be made to the Office of Price Administration.

ARTICLE III—APPLICATIONS FOR 1942 CARS WHICH MUST BE FILED IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

SECTION 3.1 Persons who file applications with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. (a) The following persons shall file applications for certificates directly with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(1) The American National Red Cross and agencies of the Federal government shall apply on Form R–216 or on any other form approved by the Office of Price Administration for this purpose. However, if the Federal agency has authorized the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department to buy the new cars for it, the application must be filed with the Procurement Division for transmittal to the Office of Price Administration. Applicants under this subparagraph are subject to the tests which apply to applicants generally. A certificate on Form R–217 will be issued by the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., if the applicant satisfies these tests.

(2) A person requiring a car for experimental purposes, or a body builder who proposes to alter the car obtained, shall apply by letter. A certificate on Form R–217 will be issued by the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., if the experiment or alteration will further the war effort or the public welfare.

(b) The person to whom a ration certificate has been issued under this section may use it within sixty days from the date on the certificate, but not thereafter unless additional time is allowed by the Office of Price Administration. The parts of the certificate shall be signed by the certificate holder and shall be disposed of according to the instructions on the parts of the certificate.

SEC. 3.2 Exporters and certain government agencies must obtain War Production Board Exemption permits. (a) Any of the following persons may acquire a 1942 car in exchange for a Government Exemption Permit issued to him by the War Production Board:

(1) Army and Navy of the United States.

(2) United States Maritime Commission.

(3) Panama Canal.

(4) Coast and Geodetic Survey.

(5) Coast Guard.

(6) Civil Aeronautics Authority.

(7) National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

(8) Office of Scientific Research and Development.

(9) Office of Lend-Lease Administration.

(10) War Shipping Administration.

(11) A person who acquires a 1942 car for export to and use in any foreign country.

(b) Cars acquired under this section may be registered, used or altered in any manner.

(c) A person who transfers a 1942 car under this section is not required to file Form R–203 (Revised).

ARTICLE IV—PROHIBITIONS AND PENALTIES: DEFINITIONS; OTHER PROHIBITED ACTS

SECTION 4.1. This order governs the transfer, registration, alteration and use of all 1942 cars. No person shall transfer or acquire (or offer to transfer or acquire) a 1942 car, or shall alter, register, or use or permit the alteration, registration or use of a 1942 car except as permitted by the provisions of this order. These provisions apply regardless of any conflicting private agreement or obligation.

SEC. 4.2 Prohibited acts relating to certificates, authorizations and clearance statements. No person shall acquire, possess, transfer, use, alter, damage or destroy a certificate, authorization or clearance statement unless permitted by this order. It shall be unlawful for any person to forge or counterfeit any writing required by this order or to have or to use any such forged or counterfeit writing.

SEC. 4.3 Additional prohibited acts relating to 1942 cars. (a) No person shall possess, use, or permit the use of any 1941 or 1942 car which he obtained in violation of this order.

(b) No 1941 or 1942 car shall be used in violation of any order of the Office of Price Administration or of any order, rule or regulation of the Office of Defense Transportation.

(c) No person shall solicit, offer, attempt or agree to do any act in violation of this Ration Order No. 2B, either directly or indirectly.

(d) No person shall make any false statement of fact as to any matter relating to this order and no person shall fail to state a fact which should be stated to prevent a statement made from being misleading.

SEC. 4.4 Penalties for violations. Any person who violates this order may be prohibited from receiving any 1941 or 1942 car, gasoline or tires, or from selling or otherwise disposing of them. The prohibition will be in the form of an administrative suspension order issued in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 4.[1] A violator of this order is also subject to the penalties provided for in the Second War Powers Act.

Definitions

SEC. 4.10 Meaning of words used. When used in Ration Order 2B:

"Acquire" means to accept a transfer.

"Agency of the Federal government" includes any corporation wholly controlled by the Federal government.

"Board" means a War Price and Rationing Board or a Plant Area Board established by the Office of Price Administration.

"Dealer" means any person regularly engaged in selling passenger automobiles to the public.

"Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, government unit, subdivision, or any other organized group or enterprise.

"Register" means the original recording of title to a 1942 car with a government agency which handles the registration of automobiles. "Register" is also used to mean:

(1) A change in the designation of the registered owner of a 1942 car; or

(2) The obtaining of license plates (not including dealers' plates) for a 1942 car held for purposes of sale or other transfer.

"Transfer" means sale, lease, loan, trade, exchange, gift, delivery, shipment or any change in possession, control, right, title or interest.

"Use", when the term is used in connection with a car, means the lawful operation of the car.

"1941 car" means any 1941 passenger automobile which has been driven less than 1,000 miles.

SEC. 4.15 Rationing Orders No. 2 and 2A revoked. Ration Order 2B supersedes Rationing Order No. 2 as amended, Rationing Order No. 2A as amended and the New Passenger Automobile Rationing Regulations as amended, except that:

(a) Any violations which occurred, or rights or liabilities which arose before the effective date of this Ration Order 2B shall be governed by the Orders and their Amendments in effect at the time the violations occurred or the rights or liabilities arose; and

(b) Rationing Order No. 2A shall remain in effect in the territories and possessions of the United States.

Effective Date

This Ration Order No. 2B shall became effective March 6, 1943.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

PART 1404—RATIONING OF FOOTWEAR

[Ration Order 17[1]—Amendment 2]

SHOES

A rationale accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 17 is amended in the following respects:

1. Sec. 2.11 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2.11 Establishments may be allowed to mark shoes "non-rationed." (a) Any person may mark and transfer as "non-rationed," shoes of the following types:

(1) Imported huaraches released by the Collector of Customs before June 1, 1943:

(2) Shoes completed, packaged, and shipped from the factory before April 16, 1943, of the following kinds:

(i) Ski and skate shoes;

(ii) Locker sandals and bathing slippers;

(iii) Shoes with a fabric upper and a rubber sole;

(iv) Shoes with a platform and with a heel height of 1⅝ inches or less and whose upper is made wholly of fabric, imitation leather, sheepskin, cape, or a combination of these materials;

(v) Shoes with a platform and an open back, and with a heel height of 1⅝ inches or less, whose upper is made of kipskin or kipsides, wholly or in combination with fabric, imitation leather, sheepskin, or cape;

(vi) Shoes with a wedge heel of 1⅝ inches or less in height whose upper is made wholly of patent leather, and which have a platform and an open back;

(vii) Shoes with a heel height of 1⅝ inches or less whose upper is made wholly of imitation leather; and

(viii) Shoes (sandals) with a heel height of 1⅛ inches or less, with an open back, whose upper is made wholly of fabric, imitation leather, sheepskin, cape, or a combination of these materials.

(b) No one may demand or receive ration currency for shoes permitted to be marked "non-rationed" under this section or accept their return in exchange for a pair of rationed shoes or a stamp pursuant to section 1.10.

2. Sec. 2.18 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 2.18 Establishments must mark certain shoes. (a) Manufacturers shall mark on each shoe of the types specified in section 2.11 (a) (2) which is completed, packaged, or shipped from the factory after April 15, 1943, the month and year in which the shoe is packaged. The mark shall be embossed or indented in the shank of the outer-sole or written or marked by indelible contrasting colors on the inside quarter, before the shoe is packaged.

(b) Any establishment importing huaraches released by the Collector of Customs after May 31, 1943 shall, before transfer and within ten days of their receipt by the establishment, plainly mark on each shoe by indelible contrasting color, the month and year in which it was released by the Collector of Customs.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(c) Shoes marked in the manner required by this Section shall be deemed to be rationed shoes, regardless of the date on which they were imported, packaged, or shipped.

3. In section 3.4 (b) (3) the period is changed to a semi-colon and the word "or" is added, following the semi-colon.

4. Section 3.4 (b) (4) is added to read as follows:

(4) Were imported huaraches, if released by the Collector before June 1, 1943.

5. The definition of "shoes" in section 3.13 is amended to read as follows:

"Shoes" means any footwear made in whole or in part of leather or with rubber soles, except: footwear which does not have a rubber sole and in which leather is used only as hinges, tabs, heel inserts, or other non-skid or sound-proofing features covering not more than 25 percent of the area of the bottom of the sole; burial slippers; hard-soled boudoir or house slippers; soft-soled slippers; soft-soled moccasins; infant shoes of size 4 or smaller; overshoes; and waterproof or snow and water repellent rubber footwear.

This amendment shall become effective February 25, 1943.

PART 1429—POULTRY AND EGGS

[MPR 333]

EGGS AND EGG PRODUCTS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper, in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250 issued by the President on October 3, 1942, that maximum prices be established for the sale of the egg items named in this regulation.

The maximum prices established by this regulation are, in the judgment of the Price Administrator, generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of such amended Act and Executive Order. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industries affected by this regulation. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* The following regulation supersedes Maximum Price Regulation No. 280, as amended,[1] with respect to the egg items for which maximum prices are specifically established by this regulation. Maximum Price Regulation No. 280, as amended, continues in full force and effect as to egg items for which maximum prices are not established by this regulation, except such egg items as are specifically exempted from price control by § 1429.52. Amendment No. 4 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 280[2] issued by the Price Administrator on December 24, 1942 and granting authority to Regional Administrators and other duly authorized representatives of the Office of Price Administration to adjust the prices of shell eggs where there exists or threatens a shortage of the supply of shell eggs in a particular locality is revoked insofar as amended § 1351.807 authorizes the adjustment of maximum prices for shell eggs, and all maximum prices adjusted by such Regional Administrators or other authorized representatives are superseded by this maximum price regulation.

The maximum prices established herein for egg items are not below prices which will reflect to growers and producers of such egg items prices for their products equal to the highest of the prices required by the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250. The Price Administrator has consulted with the Secretary of Agriculture and has obtained his approval with respect to the maximum prices herein established.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250 and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration, this Maximum Price Regulation is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1429.51 to 1429.77, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1429.51 Prohibitions. On and after March 6, 1943, regardless of any contract, agreement, or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver the egg items specified in this regulation, and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive such egg items at a price higher than the maximum prices permitted by this regulation; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing. This prohibition shall not be applicable to sales or deliveries of egg items to a purchaser, if prior to March 6, 1943, such egg items have been received by a carrier, other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to such purchaser.

§ 1429.52 Exemptions. The following sales are exempt from the provisions of this regulation, in addition to those exempted by the application of certain provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, as amended,[4] as incorporated in this regulation.

(a) Assorted eggs candled and regraded by retailers. Sales to retailers of "assorted eggs" which are candled and regraded by them into retail grades are exempted from price control.[5] "Assorted eggs" which are not candled and regraded into retail grades are not exempt.

(b) Hatching eggs. All sales of shell eggs purchased for the sole purpose of hatching by persons now or hereafter engaged in the production of baby chicks are exempt from price control. They shall not be resold or used for any other purpose: Provided, however, That such eggs found to be infertile after incubation are exempted and may be sold for industrial use under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 280,[6] as amended.

(c) Eggs of other poultry. All sales of shell eggs of any poultry other than the fowl known as the domestic or barnyard hen are exempted from price control.

(d) Sales at retail. The sales at retail which are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 268, as amended,[7] are exempt.

§ 1429.53. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid, or offered.

§ 1429.54. Records and reports—(a) Records and reports required. Every seller and purchaser subject to this regulation making sales or deliveries or purchases of egg items to the value of $200 or more in any one month, after March 6, 1943, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, the complete and accurate record of each sale or delivery of egg items showing:

(1) As to the sale of shell eggs, the date of purchase or sale, the names and addresses of the buyer and seller, the quantities, grades, weight classes, the containers in which sold, and the price paid or received;

(2) As to egg products, the date of purchase or sale, the names and addresses of the buyer and seller, the name of each egg product sold, the quantities, varieties, the type of sale made (delivered or non-delivered), the containers in which sold, and the price paid or received.

(b) Records and reports on transfer of business. If the business, assets, or stock in trade of any seller are sold or otherwise transferred on or after the effective date of this regulation and the transferee carries on the business, the transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over to the transferee, all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions contained in this regulation.

(c) Other reports may be required. Such persons shall keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraph (a) of this section and shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as that Office may from time to time require or permit.

§ 1429.55 Evasion—(a) Price limitations shall not be evaded. Price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to, the commodities, prices of which are herein regulated, alone or in conjunction with other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium, or other privilege or other trade understanding or otherwise.

(b) Evasion by barter. Egg items shall not be exchanged, traded or bartered for anything having a value or maximum price greater than the maximum prices established herein for such egg items.

(c) Evasion by selling f. o. b. seller's shipping point. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of § 1429.71 and paragraph (e) of § 1429.74 hereof, the maximum prices established by this regulation are maximum prices per dozen eggs or per pound of egg products delivered to the buyer as herein provided and the provisions of this regulation shall not be evaded by selling such eggs or egg products at a price f. o. b. the seller's shipping point.

§ 1429.56 Enforcement—(a) Penalties and civil enforcement actions. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Reports of violations requested. Persons who have any evidence of any violations of this regulation or any price schedule, regulation, or order, issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation, are urged to communicate with the nearest district, state, field, or regional office of the Office of Price Administration, or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1429.57 Sales for export. The maximum prices at which a person may export any egg item covered by this regulation shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Regulation[8] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1429.58 Applicability of certain provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, as amended. The following sections of General Maximum Price Regulation,[9] and amendments thereto, and Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 4[10] thereof, shall be applicable to every person making sales and deliveries covered by this regulation.

(a) § 1499.14 (Sales slips and receipts.)

(b) § 1499.15 (Registration.)

(c) § 1499.16 (Licensing.)

(d) § 1499.29 (a) (5) (Developmental contracts.)

(e) § 1499.29 (a) (6) (Secret contracts.)

(f) § 1499.29 (a) (7) (Emergency purchases.)

(g) § 1499.29 (a) (15) (Sales or deliveries of the War Department or the Department of the Navy through such Departments' sales stores.)

§ 1429.59 Applicability. The provisions of this regulation supersede Maximum Price Regulation No. 280,[11] as amended, with respect to the egg items for which maximum prices are specifically established by this regulation. Maximum Price Regulation No. 280, as amended, shall continue in full force and effect as to egg items for which maximum prices are not established by this regulation, except such items as are specifically exempted from price control by § 1429.52 of this regulation. Amendment No. 4 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 issued by the Price Administrator on December 24, 1942, granting authority to Regional Administrators and other duly authorized representatives of the Office of Price Administration to adjust prices of shell eggs where there exists or threatens a shortage of the supply of shell eggs in a particular locality is revoked insofar as amended § 1351.807 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 280[12] authorizes the adjustment of maximum prices for shell eggs, and all maximum prices adjusted by such Regional Administrators or other authorized representatives are superseded by this regulation.

§ 1429.60 Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall be applicable only to the 48 states of the United States and to the District of Columbia.

§ 1429.61 Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking an amendment of this regulation may file a petition therefor in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[13] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1429.62 Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to and at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery. In appropriate situations, where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

§ 1429.63 Adjustment of maximum prices for eggs and egg products. (a) The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized representative thereof, may adjust any maximum price established under this regulation for egg items in the case of any seller or group of sellers where it appears:

(1) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of such egg items; and

(2) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices of such seller and of like sellers for such egg items; and

(3) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage, or a need for increase in prices, in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Applications for adjustment under this section shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[14]

(c) Each Regional Administrator is authorized to make adjustments or act upon applications for adjustment under this section.

§ 1429.64 Federal and state taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale or delivery of egg items imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such commodity and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto:

(a) As to a tax in effect prior to the effective date of this regulation for any egg item. (1) If the seller paid such tax, or if the tax was paid by any prior vendor, irrespective of whether the amount thereof was separately stated and collected from the seller, but the seller did not customarily state and collect separately from the purchase price prior to the effective date for such item the amount of the tax paid by him or tax reimbursement collected from him by his vendor, the seller may not collect such amount in addition to the maximum price, and in such a case shall include such amount in determining the maximum price under this regulation.

(2) In all other cases, if, at the time the seller determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased, and in such case the seller shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this regulation.

(b) As to a tax or an increase in a tax which becomes effective after the effective date of this regulation for any egg item. If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax or increase does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax or increase separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax or increase actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased.

[14] See note [9] supra.

§ 1429.65 Definitions. (a) "Egg items" means the shell eggs and egg products defined herein.

(b) "Eggs" or "shell eggs" means the eggs of the fowl known as the domestic or barnyard hen in their natural state or treated with a mineral oil for purposes of preservation.

(c) "Egg products" means frozen whole eggs, frozen whites, frozen yolks, frozen sugared or salted yolks, frozen reconstituted eggs, all of the foregoing in liquid form, any mixtures or emulsions thereof, whether in frozen or liquid form, and dried whole eggs, dried egg yolks and dried albumen.

(d) "Frozen whole eggs" means the frozen whole eggs defined and identified in orders promulgated by the United States Department of Agriculture and published in Title 21, Volume 4, Number 138 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of July 20, 1939, pages 3374 to 3378, inclusive.

(e) "Frozen whites" means the whites of shell eggs after breaking of the eggs, the separation of the whites from the yolks of the eggs and freezing of the whites at a temperature of zero degrees Fahrenheit or below.

(f) "Frozen 45% yolks" means the frozen egg yolks defined and identified in orders promulgated by the United States Department of Agriculture and published in Title 21, Volume 4, Number 138 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of July 20, 1939, pages 3374 and 3375 except that such egg yolks contain not less than 45% of total egg solids as determined by the method prescribed in such orders.

(g) "Frozen sugared or salted yolks" means the frozen egg yolks (containing not less than 43% of total egg solids) defined and identified by the United States Department of Agriculture in orders promulgated and published in Title 21, Volume 4, Number 138 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of July 20, 1939, pages 3374 and 3375, to which has been added one pound of sugar or salt for each nine pounds of such egg yolks.

(h) "Frozen reconstituted eggs" means a frozen mixture of egg yolks, egg whites, and whole eggs which contains not less than 26% of total egg solids according to the method prescribed by the United States Department of Agriculture in orders promulgated and published in Title 21, Volume 4, Number 138 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of July 20, 1939, pages 3374 to 3378, inclusive.

(i) "Whole eggs," "whites," "45% yolks," "sugared and salted yolks," and "reconstituted eggs" in liquid form are the same products as the corresponding frozen products herein defined but without freezing.

(j) "Mixtures of egg products" means the mixtures of two or more of the individual liquid egg products named in this section by stirring, churning, or other means whether in liquid or frozen form or a mixture or blend of the dried egg products named in Section 1429.75 of this regulation.

(k) "Emulsion of egg products" means a mixture of egg products to which has been added an emulsifying agent or solvent such as glycerin whether in liquid or frozen form.

(l) "Dried whole eggs" means the dried whole eggs defined and identified by the United States Department of Agriculture in orders promulgated and published in Title 21, Volume 4, Number 138 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of July 20, 1939, pages 3376 and 3377.

(m) "Dried egg yolks" means the dried egg yolks defined and identified by the United States Department of Agriculture in orders promulgated and published in Title 21, Volume 4, Number 138 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of July 20, 1939, page 3375.

(n) "Dried albumen" means liquid whites that have been dried and is sold generally in flaked or powdered form.

(o) "Place" means the individual store of the retailer in any city, town, village, or hamlet in the United States or the place at which eggs are used by the commercial, industrial, institutional, or governmental user.

(p) "Sale" means the transfer or exchange of money, other valuable consideration, or any thing of value for eggs or egg products.

(q) "Retailer" means a person, firm, or corporation which sells egg items generally to ultimate consumers other than a commercial, industrial, institutional, or governmental user.

(r) "Basing point city" means one of the cities for which maximum prices are specifically stated for egg items in the tables of this regulation except that Chicago, Illinois is not a basing point city.

(s) The specifications and standards of identity of shell eggs promulgated by the United States Department of Agriculture in the publication entitled "Specifications for Official U. S. Standards for Quality of Individual Shell Eggs" shall be the specifications and standards of identity used for all grades of shell eggs for which maximum prices are fixed by this regulation. "Assorted" eggs shall be those defined in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(1) The grades, sizes, weight classes, and standards promulgated by the United States Department of Agriculture in the publication entitled "Tentative U. S. Standards and Weight Classes for Consumer Grades for Shell Eggs" shall be the grades, sizes, weight classes, and standards for all shell eggs sold to retailers and commercial, industrial, institutional or non-federal governmental users and for which maximum prices are established by this regulation. The sizes and weight classes promulgated in such publication are as follows:

Size of weight class	Minimum net weight per dozen (ounces)	Minimum net weight per 30 dozen (pounds)	Minimum weight for individual eggs at rate per dozen (ounces)
Jumbo	28	52	27
Extra large	26	48 5	25
Large	24	45	23
Medium	21	40	20
Small	18	34	17

The grades and standards promulgated by the United States Department of Agriculture in the publication entitled "Tentative U. S. Procurement Grades" or the grades and standards promulgated by the Department of Agriculture in the publication entitled "Tentative U. S. Standards and Weight Classes for Consumer Grades for Shell Eggs" shall be used as the standards and grades of all shell eggs sold to the United States or any agency thereof. However, the standards and grades set forth in the publication entitled "Tentative U. S. Procurement Grades" shall not be used as the grades and standards for shell eggs purchased by retailers or by commercial, industrial, institutional, or non-federal governmental users.

(2) The definitions and standards of identity for egg products promulgated by the United States Department of Agriculture and published in Title 21, Volume 4, Number 138 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of July 20, 1939, pages 3374 to 3378, inclusive, shall be used as the definitions and standards of identity for all egg products covered by this regulation to the extent that all such egg products are defined and identified in the orders so promulgated and issued.

(3) "Assorted eggs" means edible eggs which have not been graded, have a net weight of not less than 43 pounds per case or equivalent, and contain a total of not more than 20 percent of "dirties" and "checks" as defined and identified by the Department of Agriculture in the publication entitled "Specifications for Official U. S. Standards for Quality of Individual Shell Eggs."

(4) If the United States Department of Agriculture shall amend or revise any of said publications listed or referred to in this section at any time, such amendment or revision shall become a part of this regulation upon the effective date of the order promulgating such amendment or revision.

(t) (1) "Area 1" means the States of Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

(2) "Area 2" means all of the remaining states of the United States except those included in Area 1 above described.

(u) Retail grades of shell eggs means all grades other than "procurement grades" for which prices are established herein, including U. S. Department of Agriculture consumer grades as defined in paragraph (s) (1) of this section and "assorted," "checks," and "dirties," as defined in paragraph (s) (3) of this section.

(v) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and the General Maximum Price Regulation,[15] shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1429.66 Effective date. This regulation (§§ 1429.51 to 1429.77 inclusive) shall become effective on March 6, 1943.

§ 1429.67 Maximum prices for the sale of shell eggs to retailers and commercial, industrial, institutional and non-federal governmental users—(a) Maximum prices in Basing Point Cities and Chicago, Illinois. The maximum prices of shell eggs sold and delivered to a retailer, or to a commercial, industrial, institutional or non-federal governmental user at any place in a basing point city or in the City of Chicago, Illinois, shall be the price per dozen for eggs of the particular consumer grade, size, and other identification set forth for the particular basing point city in Table A and for Chicago as set forth in Table B of this section and for the week in which delivered.

(b) Maximum prices in "Area 1"[16] except for New York City. In all places other than New York City and Chicago, Illinois, within "Area 1", the maximum prices for shell eggs sold and delivered to retailers or to commercial, industrial, institutional or non-federal governmental users for the week in which delivered shall be the maximum price per dozen for eggs of the particular grade, size, and other identification set forth in Table B of this section for Chicago, Illinois, plus the "transportation factor."

(1) "Transportation factor" when applied to shell eggs means the actual carlot freight rate per pound to or from a basing point city or as herein provided, from Chicago, Illinois, to the place where shell eggs are delivered, multiplied by the appropriate "multiplier" for the particular grade of eggs sold, and for the period in which such eggs are delivered to the retailer or commercial, industrial, institutional or non-federal governmental user. If there is no actual carlot freight rate between such places, then the lowest transportation charge by other means shall be used.

(2) The "multiplier" to be used in calculating the "transportation factor" for each consumer grade of shell eggs is as follows:

Grades of shell eggs	"Multiplier"
	December through May	June through November
Consumer grades:
AA and A	1.9	4.0
B	1.9	3.0
C and assorted	1.9	1.9

Example: A seller in Cleveland, Ohio wishes to determine his maximum price per dozen for Grade A eggs at that place for the week beginning July 5, 1943.

The actual carlot freight rate per cwt. for shell eggs from Chicago, Illinois to Cleveland, Ohio is 49 cents. The "multiplier" for Grade A eggs for the period of delivery, provided by this section, is 4. This "multiplier" (4) multiplied by the freight rate (49 cents per cwt. or .49 cent per pound) gives a "transportation factor" of 1.96 cents. The transportation factor (1.96 cents) added to the maximum price for Grade A eggs for the period of delivery, taken from Table B in this section (43.72 cents per dozen) gives 45.68 cents per dozen as the maximum price of Grade A eggs per dozen delivered to a retailer in Cleveland, Ohio during the week of July 5, 1943.

(c) Maximum prices in "Area 2"[17] except basing point cities and certain areas in the State of Washington. In "Area 2," except basing point cities and certain areas in the State of Washington defined in paragraph (j) of this section, the maximum prices for shell eggs sold and delivered to a retailer, or to a commercial, industrial, institutional, or non-federal governmental user at any place shall be determined as follows:

(1) It must be determined which basing point city (New York City, Seattle, San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Tucson, Phoenix, or Miami, Florida) reflects the highest price at the place of delivery for shell eggs of the grade to be sold for the week in which such eggs are delivered. A basing point city reflects the highest price at any place when the maximum price in the basing point city minus the "transportation factor" for the grade of eggs sold from such place to that basing point city is higher than the price reflected by the same calculation with respect to any other basing point city.

(2) From the maximum price in the basing point city reflecting such highest price of shell eggs of the grade sold for the week in which they are to be delivered, the "transportation factor" for such grade of shell eggs shall be subtracted. The amount arrived at by such subtraction shall be the maximum price of such eggs at the time and place of delivery.

Example: A seller in Omaha, Nebraska, wishes to determine the maximum price for Grade B eggs at that place for the week beginning June 7, 1943. Obviously, he must choose between New York City and Miami, Florida as his basing point city.

His actual freight rate on shell eggs from Omaha to New York is $1.21 per hundred pounds. The proper "multiplier" as set forth in paragraph (b), sub-paragraph (2) of this section is 3 for Grade B eggs for the week of delivery. This "multiplier" times 1.21 cents, the actual freight rate per pound to New York, equals 3.63 cents per dozen, the "transportation factor" to be used. The New York maximum price for the week beginning June 7 is 42 cents per dozen for Grade B eggs (Table A of this section). 42 cents minus 3.63 cents equals 38.37 cents which is the maximum price which can be paid by retailers or commercial, industrial, institutional or nonfederal governmental users for Grade B eggs in that place at such time of delivery.

His freight rate on shell eggs from Omaha, Nebraska to Miami, Florida is $1.83 per hundred pounds or 1.83 cents per pound. 3×1.83=5.49 cents. The Miami maximum price for the week beginning June 7 is 43.5 cents per dozen for Grade B eggs (paragraph 6 of this section) 43.5−5.49=38.01 cents per dozen.

Since New York reflects the highest maximum price to the seller, he will use New York as his basing point city.

(f) Maximum prices for San Francisco and Miami, Florida. (1) Maximum prices in the basing point city, San Francisco, are ½ cent less than those in the above Table A.

(2) Maximum prices in the basing point city, Miami, Florida, are 1½ cents more than those in the above Table A.

(g) Maximum prices for other egg sizes and grades. (1) Extra large eggs of Grade AA quality when certified as such by the United States Department of Agriculture may sell 4 cents above the price for large Grade A eggs.

(2) Large eggs of Grade AA quality when certified as such by the United States Department of Agriculture may sell 2 cents above the price for large Grade A eggs.

(3) Jumbo eggs of Grade A or higher quality may sell 5 cents above the price for large Grade A eggs.

(4) Extra large eggs of Grade A quality may sell 2 cents above the price for large Grade A eggs.

(5) The maximum price for medium size eggs of A, B, and C Grades and "assorted eggs" shall be 4 cents per dozen less than large eggs of the same grade.

(6) The maximum price for small eggs of Grade A, B, and C, and "assorted eggs" shall be 8 cents per dozen less than large eggs of the same grade.

(7) Medium and small eggs of AA grade shall not sell at prices higher than the prices for similar sizes of Grade A.

(8) Jumbo or extra large eggs of B or C grade shall sell for prices no higher than those of large eggs of the same grades.

(9) The maximum price of shell eggs answering to the description of "dirty" and "checked" shall be 2 cents less per dozen than the maximum price of the corresponding weight of C grade eggs.

(10) The maximum prices for each consecutive week in the years following 1943 shall be as indicated in the above Tables A and B the first week beginning on the first Monday in each year.

(h) Eggs to be sold to retailers and commercial, industrial, institutional and non-federal governmental users according to retail grades. Such grades of shell eggs shall be the retail grades of shell eggs as defined in paragraph (u) of Section 1429.65. Retailers and commercial, industrial, institutional and non-federal governmental users shall not purchase shell eggs according to U. S. Procurement Grades.

(i) Marking containers and packages. The containers and packages of shell eggs sold to a retailer, or commercial, industrial, institutional or non-federal governmental user shall be plainly marked with the grade, or if ungraded, the words "assorted eggs", and by size and weight class. All invoices used in the sale of shell eggs shall contain like information.

(j) Maximum prices in certain areas in the State of Washington. The maximum prices for shell eggs sold and delivered in all places in the State of Washington west of the eastern boundaries of the Counties of Whatcom, Skagit, Snohomish, King, Pierce, Lewis, and Skamania shall be the same as those listed in Table A of this section for Seattle.

(k) Local delivery. The maximum prices established by this section are for shell eggs delivered to the individual store of the retailer or to the place of use of the commercial, industrial, institutional or non-federal governmental user. No F. O. B. shipping point sale shall be made. If eggs are transported to any city, town, village, or hamlet in which the individual store of the retailer purchasing them is located; or in which there is located the place of use of the commercial, industrial, institutional or non-federal governmental user purchasing them, but the purchaser accepts such eggs at a point in such city, town, village, or hamlet other than the individual store of the retailer or place of use there shall be deducted from the maximum price at such city, town, village, or hamlet the sum of ten cents per case or equivalent quantity of eggs, and the reduced amount shall be the maximum price of such eggs at the place of acceptance.

§ 1429.68 Maximum prices of shell eggs sold by farmers and wholesale distributors and all sellers other than retailers to ultimate consumers. The maximum prices for shell eggs sold and delivered by farmers or wholesale distributors or sellers other than retailers to ultimate consumers other than commercial, industrial, or institutional or non-federal governmental users shall be calculated by multiplying by 1.17 the maximum price for the retail grade of eggs to be sold at the time and place of delivery, determined as provided in § 1429.67 immediately above for sales to retailers.

§ 1429.69 Maximum prices of shell eggs sold to the United States or any agency thereof.—(a) Maximum prices for "procurement grades" in Chicago and the basing point cities. The maximum prices for shell eggs sold and delivered to the United States or any agency thereof, according to "procurement grades" as defined in paragraph (s) (1) of § 1429.65, at any place in a basing point city for each week shall be the price per dozen for eggs of the particular procurement grade, size, weight class, and other identification set forth for the particular basing point city in Table C of this section for the week in which delivered. Such maximum prices in Chicago, Illinois, shall be the maximum prices per dozen for eggs of the particular procurement grade, size, weight class, and other identification and for the week of delivery set forth in Table D of this section.

(b) Maximum prices for "procurement grades" in "Area 1" except New York City. In all places in "Area 1" except New York City the maximum prices of shell eggs of procurement grades sold and delivered to the United States or any agency thereof for the week in which delivered shall be the maximum prices per dozen for eggs of the particular grade, size, and other identification set forth in Table D of this section, plus the "transportation factor."

(1) "Transportation factor" when applied to shell eggs sold to the United States or any agency thereof means the actual carlot freight rate per pound to or from a basing point city or as herein provided, from Chicago, Illinois to the place where the eggs are delivered, multiplied by the appropriate "multiplier" for the particular grade of eggs sold and for the period in which such eggs are delivered. If there is no actual carlot freight rate between such places, then the lowest transportation charge by other means shall be used.

(2) The "multiplier" to be used in calculating the "transportation factor" for each procurement grade of shell eggs is as follows:

Grades of shell eggs	Multiplier
	December through May	June through November
Procurement grades:
I and II	1.9	4.0
III and IV	1.9	3.0

(c) Maximum prices for procurement grades in "Area 2" except basing point cities. In "Area 2," except basing point cities, the maximum prices of shell eggs of procurement grades sold and delivered by farmers or wholesale distributors or sellers other than retailers to ultimate consumers other than commercial, industrial, or institutional or non-federal governmental users shall be calculated by multiplying by 1.17 the maximum price for the retail grade of eggs to be sold at the time and place of delivery, determined as provided in § 1429.67 immediately above for sales to retailers.

(d) Maximum prices in cents per dozen by weeks for U. S. Procurement Grades of shell eggs for the United States or any agency thereof in the basing point cities of New York, Seattle, Los Angeles, San Diego, Phoenix, and Tucson.

(1) Prices in the basing point city, San Francisco, are ½ cent lower than those in the above table.
(2) Prices in the basing point city, Miami, are 1½ cents higher than those in the above table.

(3) The maximum prices of procurement grades of shell eggs for each consecutive week in the years following 1943 shall be as indicated in the above Table C the first week beginning on the first Monday in each year.

(e) Maximum prices in cents per dozen for U. S. procurement grades of shell eggs for the United States or any agency thereof in the City of Chicago and for use in pricing in "Area 1." (But not to be used as a "basing point city" for calculating prices in "Area 2".)

Miami, Florida, Phoenix (and Tucson) reflects the highest price at the place of delivery of such egg products. A basing point city reflects the highest price at the point of delivery when the maximum price in the basing point city minus the "transportation factor" for such egg products to that basing point city is higher than the price reflected by the same calculation with respect to any other basing point city.

(e) Maximum base prices in cents per pound for frozen whole eggs, frozen whites, frozen 45% yolks, frozen sugared or salted yolks, and frozen reconstituted eggs in the Cities of New York, Seattle, Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Phoenix and Tucson.

(1) The maximum prices for each consecutive month in the years following 1943 shall be as indicated in the above Table E the first month beginning on the first day of January in each year.

(f) Maximum prices for Miami, Florida. Maximum base prices in the basing point city, Miami, Florida, are ½ cent more than those in Table E above.

(g) Maximum base prices in cents per pound for frozen whole eggs, frozen whites, frozen 45% yolks, frozen sugared or salted yolks, and frozen reconstituted eggs in Chicago and for use in pricing in "Area 1" (but not to be used as a "basing point city" for calculating prices in "Area 2".)

(1) The maximum prices for each consecutive month in the years following 1943 shall be as indicated in the above Table F the first month beginning on the first day of January in each year.

(h) Maximum prices for variations of percentage of solids in yolks. For every 1% deviation in solids in yolks, either above or below 45%, the seller shall add or subtract respectively .85 cent per pound to the prices in Tables E and F above.

(i) Maximum prices in certain areas in the State of Washington. Maximum prices for frozen egg products sold and delivered in all places in the State of Washington west of the eastern boundaries of the counties of Whatcom, Skagit, Snohomish, King, Pierce, Lewis, Skamania, and Klickitat, shall be the same as those listed in Table E of this section for Seattle.

§ 1429.71 Permitted increases in maximum prices for frozen egg products for sales of less than carload quantities—(a) When delivered from a refrigerated warehouse or the premises of a manufacturer. Where any of the frozen egg products named in Section 1429.70 immediately above are sold and delivered from the refrigerated warehouse or from the premises of a manufacturer in less than carload quantities there may be added to the maximum price for such product in carload quantities provided by § 1429.70 hereof the amount per pound set forth in Table G below.

In calculating such maximum price in carload quantities (to be used as the base for less than carload quantities in the paragraph immediately above) the price from Table E or Table F in § 1429.70 for the month in which the delivery of the less than carload quantity is made, shall be used.

(b) Maximum permitted increases for sales of liquid and frozen egg products in less than carlot quantities.

TABLE G

	F. O. B. warehouse	Delivered within 25 miles
Users whose weekly purchases average—	Cents	Cents
3,000 to 20,000	½	¾
1,500 to 3,000	1	1¼
501 to 1,500	2	2¼
500 or less	3	3¼

(c) Minimum charge for delivery of less than 200 pounds. A minimum delivery charge of 50 cents shall be allowed for each delivery of less than 200 pounds of such frozen egg products.

(d) Delivered beyond 25 miles. Where less than carload quantities of such frozen egg products are sold and delivered beyond a distance of 25 miles from the refrigerated warehouse there may be added to the maximum price f. o. b. the warehouse the lowest applicable L. C. L. refrigerated rail or truck rate.

(e) Example: A seller at a refrigerated warehouse in Chicago contracts in February 1943 for the delivery of 1000 pounds of frozen whole eggs on Monday of each week for the remainder of 1943 to a bakery located at Evanston, Illinois. In calculating the maximum prices for such deliveries he would determine his price for the deliveries in each month separately. For deliveries in March, for example, he selects from Table F in Section 1429.70, which covers frozen whole eggs, the price for March which is 32 cents. He then turns to Table G immediately above and adds to such price 2¼ cents per pound which is the permitted increase for delivery within 25 miles since Evanston is within 25 miles from his warehouse in Chicago. Thus, his maximum price for 1000 pounds of frozen whole eggs delivered during the month of March is 1000×32¢=$320.00 plus 1000×2¼¢=$22.50, with a total maximum price of $342.50 for such 1000 pounds of frozen whole eggs sold delivered.

If the seller at the Chicago warehouse made a single sale and delivery of 1,000 pounds of frozen whole eggs to such bakery during any week in March he would calculate his maximum price in exactly the same manner.

§ 1429.72 Maximum prices for the sale of whole eggs, whites, 45% yolks, sugared or salted yolks, and reconstituted eggs in liquid form. The maximum prices of the liquid egg products named immediately above, sold and delivered during the months of February, March, April, May, and June of each year shall be one-half cent per pound less than the maximum prices for the corresponding form of frozen egg products and month of delivery. Such maximum prices for such products sold and delivered during the months of January, July, August, September, October, November, and December of each year shall be the same as the maximum prices per pound of the corresponding frozen egg products and delivery months.

§ 1429.73 Maximum prices for mixtures and emulsions of liquid and frozen egg products. The maximum prices of mixtures and emulsions of the frozen and liquid egg products named in Section 1429.70 and 1429.72 of this regulation shall be the aggregate of the maximum prices of the separate egg products composing the particular mixture or emulsion plus the actual cost of other ingredients.

§ 1429.74 Maximum prices for dried whole eggs, dried egg yolks and dried albumen—(a) Maximum prices in the Cities of New York, Seattle. The maximum prices of dried whole eggs, dried egg yolks, and dried albumen sold and delivered to any buyer at his customary receiving point shall be the prices per pound for each dried egg product set forth for the particular city in Table H of this section and for the month in which delivered.

(b) Maximum prices in all other places. Maximum prices at all other places in the United States other than the above named cities, without regard to the location of such place in "Area 1" or in "Area 2", the maximum prices of such dried egg products sold and delivered to any buyer at his customary receiving point for each month shall be determined as follows:

(1) The seller shall compare the "transportation factor" from the place at which such dried egg products are to be sold and delivered to each of the cities named in Table H of this section. From the price in the city having the lowest "transportation factor" determined by such comparison and for the month in which such dried egg products are to be delivered such "transportation factor" shall be subtracted. The resulting figure is the maximum price per pound of such dried egg products sold and delivered at the buyer's customary receiving point.

(c) "Transportation factor". "Transportation factor" when applied to sales and deliveries of the dried egg products named in the heading of this section means the actual carlot freight rate per pound from the place at which such dried egg products are to be delivered to the city named in Table H of this section determined as provided herein multiplied by 1.14. If there is no actual carlot freight rate between such places, then the lowest transportation charge by other means shall be used.

(d) Maximum prices per pound for dried whole eggs, dried egg yolks, and dried albumen in the Cities of New York and Seattle.

(1) The maximum prices for each consecutive month in the years following 1943 shall be as indicated in the above Table H the first month beginning on the first day of January in each year.

(2) The prices listed in Table H above are for dried whole eggs of Grade A quality as described in F. S. C. 1275 dated February 13, 1943, issued by the Food Distribution Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture.

(e) Maximum prices for dried whole eggs sold F. O. B. to the United States Government or any agency thereof. The maximum prices for dried whole eggs sold F. O. B. the seller's shipping point to the United States government or any agency thereof shall be the maximum prices for any place in which the seller's shipping point is located as determined above, paragraphs (a) through (d), in this section.

§ 1429.75 Maximum prices for mixtures and blends of dried egg products. The maximum prices of mixtures and blends of the dried egg products named in § 1429.74 of this regulation shall be the aggregate of the maximum prices of the separate egg products composing the particular mixture or blend plus the actual cost of other ingredients.

§ 1429.76 Charges for containers or packages. No extra charge shall be made by any person on account of any container or package in which egg items are contained except that:

(1) When shell eggs of consumer grades are packed in retail cartons for one dozen eggs each or for a half dozen each and the cartons so packed are furnished in the sale of such shell eggs, a charge of two cents for each packed carton of one dozen eggs and one cent for each packed carton of a half dozen eggs may be made.

(2) When the dried egg products priced in Section 1429.74 are packed in containers other than barrels, the additional labor and material costs (no other costs) incurred in packing in such other containers may be added.

§ 1429.77 Decimals and final calculations of maximum prices. In calculating maximum prices for sales and deliveries of egg items as provided by this regulation, all calculations shall be carried to the second decimal place of a

(1) The maximum prices of procurement grades of shell eggs for each consecutive week in the years following 1943 shall be as indicated in the above Table D the first week beginning on the first Monday in each year.

(f) Maximum prices of retail grades of shell eggs in quantities of 1500 dozen or less sold to the United States or any agency thereof. Where procurement grades of shell eggs are unobtainable or unsuitable for a particular need, retail grades of shell eggs may be purchased by the United States or any agency thereof in quantities of 1500 dozen eggs or less. The maximum prices of such retail grades of shell eggs sold and delivered to the United States or any agency thereof shall not exceed the maximum prices of such grades of eggs when sold and delivered to retailers or commercial, industrial, or institutional users.

§ 1429.70 Maximum prices for the sale of frozen whole eggs, frozen whites, frozen 45% yolks, frozen sugared or salted yolks and frozen reconstituted eggs to any purchaser in carload quantities—(a) Maximum prices in basing point cities and City of Chicago. The maximum prices of frozen whole eggs, frozen whites, frozen 45% yolks, frozen sugared or salted yolks and frozen reconstituted eggs sold and delivered in carload quantities to a purchaser at his refrigerated warehouse in a basing point city or in the City of Chicago, Illinois shall be the price per pound for the particular basing point city in Table E and for Chicago in Table F of this section for the month in which delivered.

(b) Maximum prices in "Area 1" except New York City. In all places other than New York City within "Area 1", the maximum prices of the egg products named in the heading of this section sold and delivered in carload quantities to a purchaser at his refrigerated warehouse for the month in which delivered shall be the maximum price in Chicago, Illinois plus the "transportation factor" from Chicago to the place of delivery.

(c) "Transportation factor." "Transportation factor" when applied to sales and deliveries of the frozen egg products named in the heading of this section means the actual carlot freight rate per pound from Chicago, Illinois to the place of delivery of the egg products in "Area 1" multiplied by 1.16, and in "Area 2" means the actual freight rate from the place of delivery of such frozen egg products to the basing point city as provided in this section, multiplied by 1.16. If there is no actual carlot freight rate between such places, then the lowest transportation charge by other means shall be used.

(d) Maximum prices in "Area 2" except for basing point cities and certain areas in the State of Washington as provided in this section. In "Area 2," except basing point cities and certain areas in the State of Washington as provided in paragraph (i) in this section, the maximum prices for such egg products sold and delivered in carload quantities to a purchaser at his refrigerated warehouse shall be as follows:

(1) It must be determined which basing point city (New York City, Seattle, Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego,

PART 1439—UNPROCESSED AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

[Temporary MPR 27]

BROOM CORN

In accordance with the direction of the President to take action which will stabilize prices affecting the cost of living, and under the authority therewith delegated by the President pursuant to the Act of Congress approved October 2, 1942, entitled "An Act to Aid in Stabilizing the Cost of Living" (H. R. 7565), 77th Congress, 2nd Session, and under the authority of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, the Price Administrator, after consultation with the Secretary of Agriculture, hereby issues this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 27 establishing as the maximum prices for broom corn the prices prevailing with respect thereto within five days prior to the issuance of this regulation.

§ 1439.151 Prohibition against buying and selling above maximum prices. From February 25, 1943, to April 26, 1943, inclusive, regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver broom corn, and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive broom corn at prices higher than the maximum prices established by this Regulation; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing. Lower prices may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1439.152 Maximum prices. (a) The seller's maximum price for broom corn shall be the highest price charged by the seller to a purchaser of the same class during the period of February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, for broom corn of the same type, grade and quality.

(b) Where a seller during the period February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, did not deal in broom corn of the same type, grade and quality, his maximum price for such broom corn shall be the highest price charged therefor during the period February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, by his most closely competitive seller to a purchaser of the same class.

"Highest price charged during the period February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive" means the highest price which the seller charged for broom corn delivered by him during the period from February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, to a purchaser of the same class, or, if the seller made no such delivery during such period, his highest offering price for delivery during that period to a purchaser of the same class. No seller shall change his customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials unless such change results in a lower price. No seller shall require any purchaser, and no purchaser shall be permitted, to pay a larger proportion of the transportation costs incurred in the delivery of broom corn than the seller required a purchaser of the same class to pay during the period February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, on deliveries of broom corn.

"Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice followed by the seller during the 90 day period preceding February 25, 1943, of setting different prices for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or under different conditions of sale.

§ 1439.153 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to broom corn alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of any commission, service, transportation or other charge, discount, premium or other privilege or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding.

§ 1439.154 Conditional agreements. No seller of broom corn shall enter into an agreement permitting the adjustment of the prices to prices which may be higher than the maximum prices provided by this regulation in the event that this regulation is amended or is determined by a court to be invalid or upon any other contingency: Provided, That if a petition for amendment has been duly filed, and such petition requires extensive consideration, the Price Administrator may grant an exception from the provisions of this section permitting the making of contracts adjustable upon the granting of the petition for amendment. Requests for such an exception may be included in the aforesaid petition for amendment.

§ 1439.155 Sales for export. The maximum price at which a person may export broom corn shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1439.156 Records and reports. (a) Every person selling broom corn shall preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration all his existing records relating to the prices which he charged for broom corn during the period February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, and his offering prices for delivery or supply of broom corn during such period; and shall prepare, on or before February 27, 1943, on the basis of all available information and records, and thereafter keep for examination by any person during ordinary business hours, a statement showing (1) the highest prices charged for broom corn, together with an appropriate identification of the type, grade and quality thereof, and (2) all his customary allowances, discounts, and other price differentials.

(b) Every person selling broom corn shall keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration records of the same kind as he has customarily kept relating to the prices which he charged for broom corn during the period from February 25, 1943 to April 26, 1943, inclusive.

(c) Such persons shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

§ 1439.157 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this regulation or any price schedule, regulation, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration, or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest district, state, field or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1439.158 Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking modification of any provisions of this regulation or an adjustment or exception not provided for therein may file petitions for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1439.159 Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Broom corn" means the plant of the sorghum family used in the manufacture of brooms and brushes.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in the General Maximum Price Regulation, issued by the Office of Price Administration, shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1439.160 Revocation or replacement of regulation. This regulation may be revoked or replaced by a permanent maximum price regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1439.161 Geographical applicability. This regulation shall be applicable to the continental United States, and to the District of Columbia, but not to the territories and possessions of the United States.

§ 1439.162 Effective period. This regulation (§§ 1439.151 to 1439.162, inclusive) shall become effective on February 25, 1943, and shall, unless earlier revoked or replaced, expire at 12 o'clock midnight, April 26, 1943.

(3) Maximum prices in cents per net ton for railroad fuel. The maximum prices for all railroad fuel shall be the applicable effective minimum prices as of October 1, 1942 for all-rail on-line shipments (without adjustments on account of price exceptions, freight differentials, and substitutions), plus a sum not exceeding 30 cents per net ton: Provided, That where a mine is on-line to more than one railroad, the highest minimum price shall be applicable in determining the maximum price; Provided, further, That where a producer, or a subdistrict, does not have an established minimum price for railroad fuel, the maximum price for such coal shall be the all-rail maximum price for the grade and size shipped, as specified in (1) above.

(4) In the event any specific maximum price has been adjusted prior to February 15, 1943, the effective maximum price in such case shall not be determined by reference to subparagraphs 1, 2 or 3 above, but must be computed by adding to such adjusted price the following sum:

(i) For the methods of shipment and uses indicated in (1) above; Thirty (30) cents in all size groups.

(ii) For the methods of shipment and uses indicated in (2) above; Thirty (30) cents in all size groups.

(iii) For use indicated in (3) above; Fifteen (15) cents.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Restriction Order 1,[1] Amendment 14]

MEAT RESTRICTION

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Paragraph (a) of § 1407.919a is amended to read as set forth below:

§ 1407.919a Allocation orders. (a) The district manager of the Office of Price Administration or, where there is none, the State Director, having jurisdiction over any meat allocation area, may issue allocation orders requiring any person who is engaged in the business of selling or delivering controlled meat in or from within that area, to deliver any controlled meat, which he has in or brings into the area, to such persons within the area, at such times and in such quantities as the district manager or the State Director may direct. Such allocation order may be issued only if the district manager (or State Director) finds it to be in the public interest to do so by reason of the fact that the person to whom the order requires deliveries to be made has been unable to secure a reasonable quantity of controlled meat for delivery, or for service to consumers, and that, as a result, consumers are unable to acquire a reasonable amount of controlled meat. However, no such order shall require delivery of controlled meat to individual consumers.

This amendment shall become effective February 25, 1943.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Restriction Order 2[1], Amendment 1]

RICE RESTRICTION

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Paragraphs (m), (n) and (o) are added to § 1407.3001; paragraph (a) of § 1407.3006 is amended; paragraph (d) is added to § 1407.3007 and a new § 1407.3015 is added.

§ 1407.3001 Definitions. • • •

(m) "Industrial user" means an establishment which receives rice for use in the production, manufacture, cooking, or processing of any food for resale.

(n) "Institutional user" means an establishment which receives rice for feeding persons housed within a non-profit institution such as a hospital, school, convent or prison.

(o) "Establishment" means the business or operation subject to Restriction Order 2, conducted at or from a particular location.

§ 1407.3006 Quotas and allotments established. (a) The quotas for such industrial or institutional users as the Director shall determine to be eligible and for retailers to acquire rice during a quota period and the duration of each quota period shall be determined by the Director in accordance with the available supplies of rice.

§ 1407.3007 Application for adjustment. • • •

(d) An establishment, not heretofore subject to Restriction Order 2, or a retailer who did not sell, or an industrial or institutional user which did not purchase rice in November 1941 may apply to the board having jurisdiction for assignment of a quota or allotment. The board shall examine all pertinent facts, shall assign a temporary quota or allotment within any then established quota or allotment and shall, within three days thereafter, render a complete report to the Director. The Director may, based on the facts presented, direct the board to amend the assigned quota or allotment. The establishment may apply for an adjustment at any time after the assignment of a temporary quota in accordance with paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section.

§ 1407.3015 Effective dates of amendments. (a) Amendment No. 1 to Restriction Order 2 (§§ 1407.3001 (m), (n), (o), 1407.3006 (a), 1407.3007 (d) and 1407.3015 (a)) shall become effective on February 6, 1943.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[Restriction Order 3,[1] Amendment 1]

CANNED MEAT AND CANNED FISH

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In Restriction Order 3, section 9 is amended and a definition of "fish" is added to section 12, to be inserted in alphabetical order, and the definition of "transfer" in section 12 is amended to read as set forth below:

SEC. 9. Canned meat and canned fish held for sale must not be opened except for inspection. No person shall, except for necessary and customary inspection, puncture or open a hermetically sealed container in which canned meat or canned fish is packed if such container or the contents thereof are held for sale or transfer.

SEC. 12. Definitions. • • •

"Fish" means any edible part of fish, including fish roe and caviar. It includes all products containing fish in which the fish constitutes more than 10 percent of the total net weight.

• • • • • •

"Transfer" means to sell, give, exchange, lend, deliver or consign. It includes any transfer of possession or title, however accomplished, as well as service in meals or delivery in any other manner of the contents of containers in which canned meat or canned fish is packed if such service or delivery is made for a consideration.

This amendment shall become effective February 25, 1943.

PART 1439—UNPROCESSED AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

[Temporary MPR 28,[1] Amendment 1]

CERTAIN PERISHABLE FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 28 is amended in the following respect:

A new § 1439.253a is added to read as follows:

§ 1439.253a Applications for local adjustment of maximum prices. (a) If any seller finds that by reason of distress sales or other unusual conditions, his maximum price for any of the listed commodities is abnormally low in relation to the maximum prices for merchantable quality of the listed commodities established for other sellers of the same class, he may file an application for adjustment of his maximum price.

(b) Such application shall be filed with the State or district office of the Office of Price Administration for the area in which the applicant is located. Such applicant shall submit a statement setting forth:

(1) His name and address.

(2) The type of business establishment operated by him (for example, but not limited to, commission merchant, wholesaler, country shipper, terminal seller, etc.)

(3) The listed commodity for which he seeks an adjustment.

(4) His present maximum price.

(5) A full description of the sale which established his present maximum price, including

(i) The date of the sale,

(ii) The name and address of the purchaser,

(iii) The type of business establishment operated by the purchaser,

(iv) The quantity sold,

(v) A full description of the condition of the merchandise when sold,

(vi) The maximum price and

(vii) The terms of the sale.

(6) The reasons why the applicant's present maximum price is abnormally low.

This amendment shall become effective February 25, 1943.

PART 1439—UNPROCESSED AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

[Temporary MPR 29]

CERTAIN PERISHABLE VEGETABLES (SPINACH AND LETTUCE)

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, to issue a temporary maximum price regulation establishing as the maximum prices for certain perishable vegetables the prices prevailing with respect thereto within the five days prior to the date of issuance of this regulation.

The maximum prices herein established are not below prices which will reflect to the producers of these perishable vegetables prices equal to the highest of the prices required by the provisions of section 3 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the aforesaid Act and Executive order, and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1[1], Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29 is hereby issued.

Sec.
1439.301 Purposes of this regulation.
1439.302 Prohibition against buying and selling above maximum prices.
1439.303 Maximum prices for certain perishable vegetables.
1439.304 Application for local adjustment of maximum prices.
1439.305 Exempt sales.
1439.306 Evasion.
1439.307 Sales for export.
1439.308 Records and reports.
1439.309 Enforcement.
1439.310 Petitions for amendment.
1439.311 Relationship to the General Maximum Price Regulation.
1439.312 Geographical Applicability.
1439.313 Definitions.
1439.314 Revocation or replacement of regulation.
1439.315 Effective period.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1439.301 to 1439.315, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250; 7 F.R. 7691.

§ 1439.301 Purposes of this regulation. The purposes of this regulation are to establish maximum prices for sales and deliveries of each kind, variety and type of the following fresh vegetables, whether imported or domestic:

(a) Lettuce.

(b) Spinach.

The perishable vegetables listed above are referred to in this regulation as the "listed commodities".

§ 1439.302 Prohibition against buying and selling above maximum prices. From February 25, 1943 to April 26, 1943, inclusive, regardless of any contract, agreement, or any other obligation no person shall sell or deliver a listed commodity and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive a listed commodity at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing. Lower prices than the maximum prices may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

[1] 7 F.R. 8961.

§ 1439.303 Maximum prices for certain perishable vegetables. (a) The seller's maximum price for any listed commodity shall be the highest price charged by the seller to a purchaser of the same class during the period February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, for the same listed commodity.

(b) If a seller during the period of February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, did not sell, deliver or otherwise deal in a listed commodity, such seller's maximum price for such listed commodity shall be the highest price charged during the period February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, by his most closely competitive seller to a purchaser of the same class for such listed commodity.

§ 1439.304 Application for local adjustment of maximum prices. (a) If any seller finds that by reason of distress sales or other unusual conditions, his maximum price for any of the listed commodities is abnormally low in relation to the maximum prices for merchantable quality of the listed commodities established for other sellers of the same class, he may file an application for adjustment of his maximum price.

(b) Such application shall be filed with the State or district office of the Office of Price Administration for the area in which the applicant is located. Such applicant shall submit a statement setting forth:

(1) His name and address.

(2) The type of business establishment operated by him (for example, but not limited to, commission merchant, wholesaler, country shipper, terminal seller, etc.)

(3) The listed commodity for which he seeks an adjustment.

(4) His present maximum price.

(5) A full description of the sale which established his present maximum price, including

(i) The date of the sale,

(ii) The name and address of the purchaser,

(iii) The type of business establishment operated by the purchaser.

(iv) The quantity sold.

(v) A full description of the condition of the merchandise when sold.

(vi) The maximum price and

(vii) The terms of the sale.

(6) The reasons why the applicant's present maximum price is abnormally low.

§ 1439.305 Exempt sales. This Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29 shall not apply to the following:

(a) Deliveries to the United States, or any agency thereof, under contracts entered into prior to February 25, 1942.

(b) Sales or deliveries made directly by a farmer of any listed commodity grown on his farm. However, this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29 shall apply to a sale or delivery by a farmers' cooperative or to a sale or delivery made directly by a farmer of any listed commodity to an ultimate consumer if during the preceding month the farmer's sales to ultimate consumers of all food and food products produced on his farm exceeded $75.00.

§ 1439.306 Evasion. The prime limitations set forth in this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to a listed commodity, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of any commission, service transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or by changing a business practice relating to the price lines, grading, labeling, packaging or branding of a listed commodity.

§ 1439.307 Sales for export. The maximum prices at which a person may export a listed commodity shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation,[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1439.308 Records and reports. (a) As to all sales not specifically exempted by other sections of this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29 every person selling a listed commodity shall preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration all his existing records relating to prices which he charged for such listed commodity, delivered or supplied during the period February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, and his offering prices for delivery or supply of a listed commodity during such period; and shall prepare, on or before March 15, 1943, on the basis of all available information and records, and thereafter keep for examination by any person during ordinary business hours, a statement showing (1) the highest prices charged for such listed commodity during such period, together with an appropriate identification of such commodity, and (2) all his customary allowances, discounts, and other price differentials.

(b) As to all sales not specifically exempted by other sections of this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29 every person selling a listed commodity shall keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration records of the same kind as he has customarily kept relating to the prices which he charged for such listed commodity during the period from February 25, 1943, to April 26, 1943, inclusive, and in addition, records showing, as precisely as possible, the basis upon which he determined maximum prices.

(c) Such persons shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

§ 1439.309 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provisions of this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses, provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29 or of any price schedule, regulation, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration, or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest district, State, or regional office of the Office of Price Administration, or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1439.310 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, and amendments, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1439.311 Relationship to the General Maximum Price Regulation.[1] The following sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation, and amendments to them, shall be applicable to every person selling a listed commodity:

(a) Determination of maximum prices by sellers at retail operating more than one retail establishment (§ 1499.4a). In applying § 1499.4 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, the base period of February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, shall be substituted for the period of March 1942 used therein.

(b) Adjustment of maximum prices in cases of special deals (§ 1499.4).

(c) Transfers of business or stock in trade (§ 1499.5).

(d) Federal and state taxes (§ 1499.7). In applying § 1499.7 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, the base period of February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, shall be substituted for the period of March 1942 used therein, and the date February 25, 1943, shall be substituted for the date March 31, 1942.

§ 1439.312 Geographical applicability. The provisions of this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29 shall be applicable to the United States, its territories and possessions, the District of Columbia.

§ 1439.313 Definitions. (a) When used in this Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29, the term:

[1] 7 F.R. 3153, 3330, 3666, 3990, 3991, 4329, 4487, 4659, 4738, 5027, 5192, 5276, 5365, 5445, 5484, 5565, 5775, 5783, 5784, 6007, 6058, 6081, 6216, 6615, 5794, 6939, 7093, 7322, 7454, 7913, 8431, 8381, 9004, 8942, 9435, 9615, 9616, 9732, 10155, 10454; 8 F.R. 371, 1204, 1317, 2029, 2110.

(1) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, and any agencies of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Highest price charged during the period February 20, 1943, to February 24, 1943, inclusive, means the highest price which the seller charged for a listed commodity delivered by him during the period from February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, to a purchaser of the same class, or, if the seller made no such delivery during such period, his highest offering price for delivery during that period to a purchaser of the same class. No seller shall change his customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials unless such change results in a lower price. No seller shall require any purchase, and no purchaser shall be permitted, to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery or supply of any listed commodity than the seller required purchasers of the same class to pay during the period February 20, 1943 to February 24, 1943, inclusive, on deliveries of a listed commodity.

(3) "Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice followed by the seller in the ninety-day period preceding February 25, 1943, in setting different prices for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, but not limited to, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, government agency, public institution, individual consumer, or any ordinarily recognized subgroup or combination of the foregoing) or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or under different conditions of sale.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in the General Maximum Price Regulation, issued by the Office of Price Administration, shall apply to other terms used herein.

§ 1439.314 Revocation or replacement of regulation. This Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29 may be revoked or replaced by a permanent maximum price regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1439.315 Effective period. This Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 29 (§§ 1439.301 to 1439.315, inclusive) shall become effective on February 25, 1943 and shall unless earlier revoked or replaced expire at twelve o'clock midnight, April 26, 1943.

Issued this 25th day of February 1943.

PEANUTS AND PEANUT BUTTER

This regulation is issued in order to establish maximum prices for peanuts and peanut butter at levels which are generally fair and equitable and which will aid in stabilizing the cost of living. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.* Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, Maximum Price Regulation No. 335 is hereby issued.

Sec

1351.2001 Purpose of this regulation.
1351.2002 List of maximum prices which farmers may charge for farmers' stock peanuts.
1351.2003 List of maximum prices which shellers and primary jobbers may charge for unshelled and shelled peanuts.
1351.2004 Maximum prices which processors may charge for salted, blanched, sliced, chopped, granulated, or roasted peanuts, and for peanut butter.
1351.2005 Maximum prices which wholesalers and retailers may charge for salted peanuts.
1351.2006 General provisions.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1351.2001 to 1351.2006, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1351.2001 Purpose of this regulation. It is the purpose of this regulation to establish maximum prices for the following peanut products:

(a) Farmers' stock peanuts, in sales by growers.

(b) Unshelled and shelled peanuts, in sales by shellers and primary jobbers.

(c) Salted, blanched, sliced, chopped, granulated, or roasted peanuts, and peanut butter, in sales by processors.

(d) Salted peanuts, in sales by wholesalers and retailers.

Prices are in effect from February 27, 1943. Maximum prices for the wholesalers and retailers of peanut butter will be governed by Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 237[1] and 238.[2]

§ 1351.2002 List of maximum prices which growers may charge for farmers' stock peanuts. (a) The maximum prices per ton, f. o. b. local shipping point, which growers may charge for farmers' stock peanuts shall be:

	Dollars per ton
Virginia type:
Grade U. S. Nos. 1 and 2 (Classes A and below)	$176
Grade U. S. No. 3 (Classes A and below) and unclassified	168
White Spanish type:
All grades	169
Runner type:
All grades	154

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(b) The grades and classes referred to in this section are the United States grades and classes for farmers' stock peanuts issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

§ 1351.2003 List of maximum prices which shellers and primary jobbers may charge for unshelled and shelled peanuts—(a) Shellers' prices for unshelled peanuts. The maximum prices per pound, f. o. b. mill, which shellers may charge for unshelled peanuts shall be:

	Cents per lb.
Virginia type:
Grade U. S. Jumbo and Fancy	15¼

(b) Shellers' prices for shelled peanuts. The maximum prices per pound, f. o. b. mill, which shellers may charge for shelled peanuts shall be:

	Cents per lb.
Virginia type:
Grades above U. S. No. 1	16¼
Grade U. S. No. 1 and below (including splits)	14⅝
White Spanish type:
All grades:
Shellers east of Mississippi River	14½
Shellers west of Mississippi River	14½
Runner type:
All grades	14¢

(c) Primary jobbers' prices for unshelled and shelled peanuts. The maximum price per pound or other unit, f. o. b. warehouse, which a primary jobber may charge for any type and grade of unshelled or shelled peanuts shall be his net delivered cost (on a carload basis) plus a markup of one cent per pound. However, this markup may be added only where the jobber's supplier was a sheller. The primary jobber shall originally figure his maximum price on the basis of his most recent carload purchase, and he shall refigure it after receiving each new carload of that type and grade. The maximum price so figured is the primary jobbber's maximum price for his entire inventory of that type and grade, and it is effective until his first sale after he receives the next carload.

A "primary jobber" is one who purchases the type and grade being priced and who customarily receives shipment of the item into a warehouse or other receiving station for resale in less than carloads. His "net delivered cost" means the amount he pays for peanuts delivered at his customary receiving point less all discounts allowed him, except the discount for prompt payment. However, no expense of local trucking or unloading shall be included.

A primary jobber who leases roasting or salting equipment to any retailer he also supplies with raw shelled peanuts, and whose compensation for the use and servicing of this equipment is included in the price he charges the retailer for the peanuts, shall figure his net maximum price for peanuts and equipment (per pound or other unit of peanuts), as follows: He shall take the weighted average net price which he charged for the same peanuts and equipment in November and December 1941 and add the following amount per pound of raw shelled peanuts (use appropriate figure):

	Cal., Ore. & Wash.	Other states
Virginia type:
All grades	9.1¢	8.5¢
White Spanish type:
All grades	8¢	7.4¢
Runner type:
All grades	8¢	7.4¢

(d) Meaning of "unshelled peanuts" and "shelled peanuts". "Unshelled peanuts" are peanuts which have been cleaned and graded. "Shelled peanuts" are peanuts which have been cleaned, graded and shelled.

(e) Grades. The grades referred to in this section are the United States grades for unshelled and shelled peanuts issued by the Department of Agriculture.

§ 1351.2004 Maximum prices which processors may charge for salted, blanched, sliced, chopped, granulated, or roasted peanuts, and for peanut butter—(a) Pricing method for salted peanuts. The processor shall figure his maximum price per dozen or other unit, f. o. b. plant, for each brand, variety, container type and size of salted peanuts by adding:

(1) The weighted average price, figured f. o. b. plant, which he charged for that item during November and December 1941; plus

(2) The difference, if any, between (i) the direct cost, at the processor's plant, of container, cap, label, and proportionate part of the outgoing shipping carton which was included in the prices charged during November and December 1941 and (ii) the direct cost, at the processor's plant, of the same container, cap, label, and proportionate part of the outgoing shipping carton figured at the maximum prices which his respective suppliers, if any, were entitled to charge him on February 27, 1943; plus

(3) The following amount for each pound of the finished item (use appropriate figure):

	Cal., Ore. & Wash.	Other states
Virginia type:
Unblanched peanuts	9.1¢	8.5¢
Blanched peanuts	9.6¢	9¢
White Spanish and Runner types:
Unblanched peanuts	8.1¢	7.5¢

If the item being priced is a mixture of different types of salted peanuts, the processor shall determine its maximum price by combining the maximum prices for the separate types in the same proportion as these types appear in the mixture. A separate price, therefore, shall be figured for each mixture.

Example: A mixture of half Virginia and half Spanish is figured by adding one half of the maximum price for Virginia to one half of the maximum price for Spanish.

If salted peanuts are mixed with other varieties of nuts, the resulting mixture shall be priced as if the other varieties were not present, unless those other varieties represent more than ten percent of the mixture.

(b) Pricing method for blanched, sliced, chopped, granulated, or roasted peanuts (Virginia type). The processor shall figure his maximum price per pound or other unit, f. o. b. plant, for each brand, variety, container type and size of blanched, sliced, chopped, granulated, or roasted peanuts by adding:

(1) The weighted average price, figured f. o. b. plant, which he charged for that item during November and December 1941; plus

(2) The difference, if any, between (i) the direct cost, at the processor's plant, of container, cap, label, and proportionate part of the outgoing shipping carton which was included in the prices charged during November and December 1941 and (ii) the direct cost, at the processor's plant, of the same container, cap, label, and proportionate part of the outgoing shipping carton figured at the maximum prices which his respective suppliers, if any, were entitled to charge him on February 27, 1943; plus

(3) The following amount for each pound of the finished item (use appropriate figure):

	Cal., Ore. & Wash.	Other states
Virginia type:
Blanched (unsalted), sliced, chopped, granulated, or roasted in the shell	9.6¢	9¢

(c) Pricing method for peanut butter. The processor shall figure his maximum price per dozen or other unit, f. o. b. plant, for each brand, container type and size of peanut butter by adding:

(1) The weighted average price, figured f. o. b. plant, which he charged for that item during November and December 1941; plus

(2) The difference, if any, between (i) the direct cost, at the processor's plant, of container, cap, label, and proportionate part of the outgoing shipping carton which was included in the prices charged during November and December 1941 and (ii) the direct cost, at the processor's plant, of the same container, cap, label, and proportionate part of the outgoing shipping carton figured at the maximum prices which his respective suppliers, if any, were entitled to charge him on February 27, 1943; plus

(3) The following amounts for each pound of the finished item (use appropriate figure):

	Cents per pound
California, Oregon and Washington	9.0
Other states	8.3

"Peanut butter" also includes peanut butter containing pieces of unground peanuts, even though the product is not sold as "peanut butter".

(d) Meaning of "processor". The "processor" in each case is the person who, by processing, transforms the peanut product being priced into the form in which it is being priced.

Example: If salted peanuts are being priced, the processor is the person who salted them.

(e) Meaning of "container type". "Container type" refers to the composition or style of the container used (a separate price must be figured for each container type).

Examples: Tin, glass and paper containers are all different container types. Likewise, a glass jar of one design is a different container type from a glass jar of another design.

(f) Meaning of "weighted average price". The processor's "weighted average price" shall be the total gross sales dollars charged, f. o. b. plant, for the item being priced divided by the number of units of that item sold. All sales contracts made in the regular course of business during the months of November and December 1941 shall be included, regardless of date of delivery, except sales contracts made with the United States. Sales contracts made before this period shall not be included, even though delivery was made during the period.

(g) Weights. Where label weights are used, the weights referred to in this section mean the weights named on the label.

(h) Processors owning more than one factory. The maximum price for each item for a processor who owns more than one factory shall be figured separately for each factory, but if any two or more factories had the same f. o. b. factory prices in 1942, a maximum price may be determined uniformly for that group by using the combined sales of that group in the computations required by paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section. In applying for specific authority under paragraph (e) of § 1351.2006, application may be made for a uniform maximum price applicable to the whole group.

(i) Separate maximum prices in sales to wholesalers and retailers. Any person who has an established practice of selling an item to wholesalers and retailers at substantially different prices may calculate separate maximum prices to these classes of purchasers. For this purpose, the processor shall accordingly segregate his 1941 prices for the item when figuring weighted average prices charged during November and December 1941.

(j) Delivered prices. Any processor who regularly sold a purchaser an item covered by this section on a delivered price basis during the calendar year 1942 shall increase the maximum price for the item, figured f. o. b. plant under this section, by the amount of the transportation charge for that item which he added to his f. o. b. plant price during March 1942. The resulting price shall be the processor's maximum delivered price for that purchaser.

However, any processor whose March 1942 transportation charge was based on the use of his own trucks, and who is now compelled to use a common or contract carrier, may add, instead, transportation charges figured by the new means of transportation, to the same destination and under the same freight tariff classification, but at the rate in effect during March 1942.

(k) New container types and sizes. The maximum price per dozen or other unit for an item covered by this section packed in any container type or size which the processor did not sell during November and December 1941 shall be figured as follows. He shall:

(i) Determine the base container. If the processor sold the same peanut product (that is, the same variety or kind, and same brand, if any) during November and December 1941, but only in other container types or sizes, he shall first determine the most similar container type in which he is able to calculate a maximum price for that peanut product under this regulation (even though he no longer sells that container type). From that container type he shall choose the nearest size, which is 50% or less larger, or if there is no such size, 50% or less smaller (even though he no longer sells those sizes). This will be the "base container". If there is no such smaller size, he shall go to the next most similar container type and proceed in the same manner to find the base container.

NOTE: In most cases "the most similar container type" will be merely the container type which the processor is adding to or replacing, like the tin which he may be replacing with glass. Where there has been only a size change, "the most similar container type" will, of course, be the same container type. This is also true in the reverse situation; where there has been a change only in container type, the "nearest size" will be the same size.

(ii) Find the base price. The processor shall take as the "base price" his maximum price for the peanut product when packed in the base container. However, if this maximum price is a price delivered to the purchaser or to any point other than the processor's plant, the processor shall first convert it to a base price f. o. b. processor's plant by deducting whatever transportation charges were included in it.

(iii) Deduct the container cost. Taking his base price f. o. b. plant, the processor shall then subtract the direct cost of the base container. "Direct cost of the container" means the net cost, at the processor's plant, of the container, cap, label and proportionate part of the outgoing shipping carton but it does not include costs of filling, closing, labeling or packing.

(iv) Adjust for any difference in contents. The figure obtained by this deduction shall then be adjusted, in the case of a size change, by dividing it by the number of ounces or other units in the base container and multiplying the result by the number of the same units in the new container.

(v) Add the new container cost to get the price f. o. b. plant. Next, the processor shall add to the adjusted figure the "direct cost of the container" in the new type and size. If his maximum price for the commodity in the base container is an f. o. b. plant price, the resulting figure is the processor's maximum price, f. o. b. plant.

(vi) Convert to a maximum delivered price, if the maximum price for the base container is on a delivered basis. If the processor's maximum price for the peanut product in the base container is a delivered price, he shall figure transportation charges to be added, as follows: The processor shall take the transportation charges which he first deducted to get his base price and adjust them in exact proportion to the difference in shipping weight. If for any reason the peanut product in the new container will move under a different freight tariff classification, the processor shall figure his transportation charges (by the same means of transportation and to the same destination) on the basis of the new shipping weight, but at the rate in effect for that freight tariff classification during March 1942. Increases in tariff rates or transportation taxes made since March 31, 1942, shall not be taken into account. (Similar principles shall apply where shipping volume is the measure of the transportation charge.) The processor shall then add these transportation charges to his f. o. b. plant price for the commodity in the new container. The resulting figure is the processor's maximum delivered price.

§ 1351.2005 Maximum prices which wholesalers and retailers may charge for salted peanuts—(a) Pricing method. (1) The wholesaler's or retailer's maximum price for any brand, variety, container type and size of salted peanuts to any class of purchaser shall be the highest price he charged for that item to a purchaser of the same class during the period December 19, 1942, to December 23, 1942, inclusive.

(2) Where a wholesaler or retailer did not deliver or offer to deliver the item during that period to a purchaser of the same class, his maximum price for the item shall be the highest price charged for the same item during that period by the most closely competitive seller to a purchaser of the same class.

(3) If the wholesaler or retailer is unable to calculate a maximum price for any item covered by this section under subparagraphs (1) and (2), he shall (i) select from the same general classification and price range as the item being priced the most closely comparable item for which a maximum price is established under any food regulation; (ii) divide his current selling price for that item by its actual cost, delivered to him; and (iii) multiply the figure so obtained by the current cost, delivered to him, of the item being priced. The resulting figure is his maximum price for the item.

(b) Explanation. In substance, this section continues the maximum prices for salted peanuts at wholesale and retail which were established under Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 23.[1] The pricing method of this section is therefore based on the plan of that regulation. "Highest price charged" means the highest price which the seller charged for the item in any delivery made by him during the period from December 19, 1942, to December 23, 1942, inclusive, to a purchaser of the same class. If the seller made no such delivery, "highest price charged" means his highest offering price for delivery of the item during that period to a purchaser of the same class.

§ 1351.2006 General provisions—(a) Relationship between this regulation and Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 23 and the General Maximum Price Regulation.[2] (1) This regulation supersedes Temporary Maximum Price Regulation No. 23.

(2) The following sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation, as well as amendments to them, apply to sales covered by this regulation:

(i) Special deals (§ 1499.4b).
(ii) Transfers of business or stock in trade (§ 1499.5).
(iii) Federal and state taxes (§ 1499.7).
(iv) Base-period records (§ 1499.11).
(v) Sales slips and receipts (§ 1499.14).
(vi) Registration (§ 1499.15).[3]
(vii) Licensing (§ 1499.16).
(viii) Definitions (§ 1499.20).

(b) Geographical applicability. This regulation applies only to the forty-eight states of the United States and to the District of Columbia.

(c) Export sales. The maximum prices at which a person may export any product covered by this regulation shall be determined in accordance with the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation,[4] and amendments, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(d) Exempt sales. This regulation does not apply to these transactions:

(1) Deliveries to the United States or any of its agencies under contracts made before December 29, 1942.

(2) Sales and deliveries of peanuts for seed purposes.

(e) Inability to fix maximum prices. If the processor's or primary jobber's maximum price for any item covered by §§ 1351.2003 (c) or 1351.2004 cannot be determined under those sections, he shall apply to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for a maximum price. His application shall set forth (1) a detailed description of the item, and (2) a statement of the facts which make it different from the most similar item for which he has determined a maximum price, identifying the similar item and stating its maximum price.

Until a maximum price is established, the applicant may not sell or deliver the item except under an agreement in each case to adjust the selling price to a figure no higher than the maximum price which is later established under this paragraph.

(f) Reports which processors and certain primary jobbers must file.[3] Every processor, and every jobber who leases equipment as set forth in § 1351.2003 (c), shall file with the nearest district or state office of the Office of Price Administration, on or before April 1, 1943, a statement showing:

(1) The brand, variety, container type and size of every item covered by §§ 1351.2003 (c) and 1351.2004 which he sold during November and December 1941 and has priced under this regulation.

(2) The weighted average price per dozen or other unit, figured f. o. b. plant, which he received for each such item sold during November and December 1941.

(3) The maximum prices which he figured for those items under this regulation. Where any maximum price is figured on a delivered basis, he shall also show his price figured on an f. o. b. plant basis.

(4) A list of all his customary allowances, discounts, and other price differentials.

(g) Records which persons covered by this regulation must keep. (1) Every processor, and every primary jobber who leases equipment as set forth in § 1351.2003 (c), shall keep a copy of the report which he must file under paragraph (f) in order that it may be examined by any person during ordinary business hours. Any processor or primary jobber who claims that he would be substantially injured by showing this statement to another person may file it with the nearest district or state office of the Office of Price Administration. The information will not be shown to anyone unless withholding it would be contrary to the purposes of this regulation.

(2) Every person selling any peanut product covered by this regulation shall keep for examination by the Office of Price Administration, as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, records of the same kind as he has customarily kept, relating to the prices which he charges after February 26, 1943.

(h) Federal and state grade labeling of peanuts. Every sheller selling any of the "Extra Large" and "Medium" grades of Virginia type shelled peanuts shall clearly indicate on the outside of each bag or other container the kind of peanuts enclosed and the United States grade. He may also show the appropriate state grade and class. However, no other grades may be included.

(i) Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust any selling price to a price not higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. Where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application in an appropriate situation, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made while the petition is pending in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

(j) Customary discounts and allowances. No person shall change any customary allowance, discount or other price differential to a purchaser or class of purchasers if the change results in a higher net price to that purchaser or class.

(k) When a maximum price figured under §§ 1351.2003 (c) or 1351.2004 is established. On and after February 27, 1943, a price figured for any item under §§ 1351.2003 (c) or 1351.2004 becomes "established" (that is, "fixed") as the seller's maximum price as soon as he has either filed the price or disclosed it to any prospective customer, whether by sale, delivery, offer, or notice of any kind, provided that the figured price is not higher than the applicable pricing method allows. Except for the refiguring by primary jobbers which is authorized by § 1351.2003 (c), a maximum price for an item may be established only once, and having been established it may not be changed by the seller except with the written permission of the nearest District or State Office of the Office of Price Administration in cases where the seller has figured his maximum price lower than the applicable pricing method provides. However, if the seller is disclosing a price lower than the one he figured under §§ 1351.2003 (c) and 1351.2004, he may establish the higher figured price as his maximum price at the time of disclosure only by recording it and naming it as such, in ink on his books, before he discloses the lower price. A seller who has not figured a price for an item, or has figured a price higher than the applicable pricing method allows, may not sell the item until he has established a maximum price for the item in accordance with the rules of this paragraph.

(l) Compliance with the regulation—(1) No selling and buying above maximum prices. Regardless of any contract or obligation, no person shall sell, buy, deliver, or receive any peanut product, on and after February 27, 1943, at a price higher than the maximum prices established for it by this regulation.

(2) Evasion. Nor shall any person evade any of these maximum prices, directly or indirectly, whether by commission, service, transportation, or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege; by tying-agreement or other trade understanding; by any change of formula for salted peanuts or peanut butter; by a business practice relating to the grading, labeling or packaging of any peanuts or peanut product; or in any other way. However, prices lower than maximum prices may be charged and paid.

(3) Enforcement. Any person violating a provision of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension provisions, and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and amendments.

(m) General amendments. Any person seeking a general modification of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[4] and amendments, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

This regulation shall become effective February 27, 1943.

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS

[MPR 334]

RABBITS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper, in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250 issued by the President on October 3, 1942, that maximum prices be established for the sale of live and dressed rabbits. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of live and dressed rabbits prevailing between January 1, and September 15, 1942, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the opinion of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established herein are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said Act, as amended, and said Executive Order. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[5] This regulation supersedes the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, as amended, with respect to dressed rabbits and establishes maximum selling prices for live rabbits.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250 and in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1[4] issued by the Office of Price Administration, this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334 is hereby issued.

Sec.
1364.1051 Prohibition against selling at prices above the maximum.
1364.1052 Maximum prices for live and dressed rabbits.
1364.1053 Less than maximum prices.
1364.1054 Exempt sales.
1364.1055 Sales for export.
1364.1056 Applicability.
1364.1057 Licensing.
1364.1058 Petitions for amendment.
1364.1059 Evasion.
1364.1060 Enforcement.
1364.1061 Records and reports.
1364.1062 Definitions.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1364.1051 to 1364.1062, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Congress, Executive Order No. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1364.1051 Prohibition against selling at prices above the maximum. On and after March 1, 1943, regardless of any contract or agreement or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver live or dressed rabbits or sell any slaughtering service, and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any live or dressed rabbits at a price higher than the applicable price established by § 1364.1052 of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing. The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to sales or deliveries of live or dressed rabbits, if, prior to February 25, 1943, such products had been delivered to a carrier, other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to the purchaser.

§ 1364.1052 Maximum prices for live and dressed rabbits. (a) The maximum prices for rabbits, alive or dressed, and for custom slaughter service, shall be the applicable price determined in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph (a) minus the required deductions, if any, specified in paragraph (b), plus the permitted additions, if any, specified in paragraph (c).

(1) The maximum price for live white rabbits shall be 24 cents per pound at the rabbitry.

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (d) of this § 1364.1052, the maximum delivered price for dressed rabbits sold at wholesale shall be:

(i) 44 cents per pound for dressed rabbits.
(ii) 30 cents per pound for hog dressed rabbits.

(3) Except as provided in paragraph (d) of this § 1364.1052, the maximum delivered price for dressed rabbits sold to purveyors of meals by persons other than retailers shall be 47 cents per pound.

(4) The maximum price for sales at retail shall be:

(i) 55 cents per pound for dressed rabbits.
(ii) 35 cents per pound for hog dressed rabbits.
(iii) 40 cents per head for wild rabbits.

(5) The maximum price that any processor may charge for custom slaughter service shall be:

(i) 20 cents per rabbit, or
(ii) the skin and by-products from the dressed rabbit.

(b) Deductions. The following amounts must be deducted from the prices specified in paragraph (a) of this §1364.1052.

(1) On sales of live "colored" rabbits the seller shall deduct 2 cents per pound from the price specified in paragraph (a) (1).

(2) On sales of live "woolies" the seller shall deduct 6 cents per pound from the prices specified in paragraph (a) (1).

(3) On sales by a processor to a purchaser who is located within a radius of 25 miles from the processing plant, the seller shall deduct 1 cent per pound from the prices specified in paragraphs (a) (2) and (a) (3) if he does not make delivery to the purchaser's place of business.

(c) Additions. The following amounts may be added to the prices specified in paragraph (a) of this § 1364.1052.

(1) Where a producer delivers live rabbits to a processor and the expense of such delivery is borne by the producer, he may add ¼ cent per pound to the price specified in paragraph (a) (1) if the delivery is made within a radius of 25 miles of the rabbitry or he may add ½ cent per pound if the delivery is made beyond a radius of 25 miles from the rabbitry.

(2) On sales of live rabbits, a pick-up man may add one cent per pound to the price specified in paragraph (a) (1).

(3) On sales of dressed rabbits, a jobber may add one cent per pound to the prices specified in paragraph (a) (2).

(4) On sales of quick frozen rabbit carcasses, processors, jobbers, and retailers may add one cent per pound to the prices specified in paragraphs (a) (2), (a) (3), and (a) (4).

(5) On sales of quick frozen eviscerated rabbits, processors, jobbers and retailers may add four cents per pound to the prices specified in paragraphs (a) (2), (a) (3), and (a) (4).

(d) Transportation. (1) For shipment of live rabbits from the rabbitry to a processing plant, the producer may pay the transportation charges and add the amount specified in paragraph (c) (1) of this § 1364.1052, or the producer may sell f. o. b. the rabbitry to a buyer who pays the shipping charges directly to the carrier.

(2) For shipment of dressed rabbits by a processor or jobber, the prices specified in paragraphs (a) (2) and (a) (3) of this § 1364.1052 constitute the delivered prices: Provided, That where the point of delivery is located more than 25 miles from the point of shipment, the seller may sell f. o. b. the point of shipment to a buyer who pays the transportation and/or delivery charges directly to the carrier.

§ 1364.1053 Less than maximum prices. Prices lower than those specified in § 1364.1052 of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered for live or dressed rabbits, or for custom slaughter service.

§ 1364.1054 Exempt sales. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334 shall not apply:

(a) To sales of rabbit breeding stock when sold for breeding purposes.

(b) To sales of live rabbits when sold for scientific or other experimental purposes.

(c) To sales of live rabbits when sold as pets or for exhibition or show purposes.

(d) To sales by hotels, restaurants or other similar establishments where the meat is sold for consumption on the premises.

(e) To sales outside of the 48 states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

(f) To sales to any political subdivision or agency of any state or of the United States under contracts entered into prior to February 25, 1943: Provided, That this exemption shall not be construed to permit the upward adjustment of any prices fixed in such contracts.

§ 1364.1055 Sales for export. The maximum price at which a person may export live or dressed rabbits subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334 shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[1] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1364.1056 Applicability. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334 shall supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation[2] with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this regulation.

§ 1364.1057 Licensing. The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 14 (§ 1305.18 Licensing sellers of meat and meat products)[3] are applicable to every seller subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334 now or hereafter selling dressed rabbits for which maximum prices are established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334. For the purpose of this § 1364.1057 the term "seller" shall have the meaning given it by Supplementary Order No. 14.

§ 1364.1058 Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking a modification of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1364.1059 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase, or receipt of, or relating to, live or dressed rabbits, separately or in conjunction with any other commodity or services, or by way of commission, service, transportation, wrapping, packaging or other charge, or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying agreement or other trade understanding, or by any other means.

§ 1364.1060 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any of the provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, proceedings for suspension of licenses and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334 are urged to communicate with the nearest district, State, field, or regional office of the Office of Price Administration, or its principal office at Washington, D. C.

§ 1364.1061 Records and reports.[4] (a) Every person, other than a retailer, making sales of live or dressed rabbits subject to this regulation, on or after March 1, 1943, shall make and preserve for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, is in effect, a complete and accurate record of each such sale, showing the date thereof, the name and address of the buyer and seller, the quantity, weight and unit price for each type of live or dressed rabbit subject to this regulation, and the price charged or received therefor.

(b) Every person making sales of dressed rabbits at retail, subject to this regulation, on or after March 1, 1943, who has customarily given a purchaser a sales slip receipt shall continue to do so. Upon request from a purchaser, any retailer, regardless of previous custom shall give the purchaser a receipt showing the date, name and address of the retailer, weight, and unit price of the dressed rabbit sold, and the total price received from the purchaser.

§ 1364.1062 Definitions. (a) When used in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334 the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Person" means an individual corporation, partnership, association, or other organized group of persons, legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any or its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing: Provided, That no punishment provided by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 334 shall apply to the United States or to any such government, political subdivision or agency of the foregoing.

(2) "Seller" means any person who sells, supplies, disposes, barters, exchanges, transfers or delivers or contracts or offers to do any of the foregoing.

(3) "Producer" means a person who breeds and/or raises domestic rabbits for human consumption.

(4) "Processor" means a person who converts live rabbits into dressed rabbits and/or who owns or controls in whole or substantial part an interest in a processing plant.

(5) "Pick-up man" means a person other than a producer, processor, or jobber who does not own, control, or have an interest in a rabbitry or a processing plant, and who is not owned or controlled by any person who owns or controls a rabbitry or processing plant and who buys live rabbits from producers and sells them to processors.

(6) "Jobber" means a person other than a producer, processor, or retailer who does not own or control a processing plant or retail store and who is not owned or controlled by any person who owns or controls a processing plant or retail store and who buys from processors for resale to retailers and to purveyors of meals.

(7) "Retailer" means a person regularly and generally engaged in making sales at retail.

(8) "Dressed rabbit" means a rabbit which has been killed, bled and skinned and from which the head, feet, entrails and viscera have been removed, and which has been subjected to a cleansing process which makes it ready to cook without further cleaning or trimming.

(9) "Quick-frozen rabbit carcass" means a dressed rabbit which has been individually wrapped or packaged in carcass form and frozen at quick freezing temperatures.

(10) "Quick-frozen eviscerated rabbit" means a dressed rabbit which has been split and dismembered into several pieces, packed in an individual box, and frozen at quick freezing temperatures.

(11) "Hog-dressed rabbit" means a rabbit which is sold with the skin on, or one which cannot qualify as a dressed rabbit because of failure to remove the head, feet, entrails or viscera.

(12) "Sales at retail" means sales of dressed rabbits to the ultimate consumer by a person who is regularly engaged in the sale to ultimate consumers of other meats, poultry and food products at the same establishment, except that a sale to a purveyor of meals by one regularly and generally engaged in selling at retail shall be regarded as a sale at retail.

(13) "Sales at wholesale" means sales of dressed rabbits other than at retail and sales to purveyors of meals.

(14) "Purveyor of meals" means a person who will not resell the dressed rabbits as such, but will cook or prepare the rabbits for consumption on the premises.

(15) "Processing plant" means any place where live rabbits are killed and/or dressed.

(16) "Colored rabbit" means a rabbit whose commercial skin is not entirely white.

(17) "Woolies" means rabbits whose skins have no commercial value.

(18) "Custom slaughter service" means the service involved in killing a live rabbit for the owner of such rabbit and converting it into a dressed rabbit.

This regulation shall become effective March 1, 1943.

Issued this 26th day of February 1943.

PART 1415—PROTECTIVE COATINGS

[MPR 264,[1] Amendment 1]

INDUSTRIAL WAXES

A statement of considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[2]

A new subparagraph (8) is added to § 1415.63 (a) and §§ 1415.52 and 1415.65 (a), (b) (2), (b) (4), (c), (d), and (h) are amended as follows:

§ 1415.52 Applicability of the General Maximum Price Regulation. The provisions of this regulation supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries of industrial waxes for which maximum prices are established by this regulation except sales and deliveries of less than 2 pounds.

* * * * * * *

§ 1415.63 Definitions. (a) * * *

(8) "Entering the continental United States" shall mean the date upon which entry is made through the United States Customs.

* * * * * * *

* * * * * * *

(c) For single sales in quantities of less than one ton, additions to the maximum prices established by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Appendix A may be made as follows:

	Cents per pound
1. Sales of 200 lbs. to 1 ton	1
2. Sales of more than 100 lbs. but less than 200 lbs.	3
3. Sales of 50 lbs. to 100 lbs.	5
4. Sales of 2 to 49 lbs.	10

(d) The maximum prices established in paragraph (b), with the exception of those calculated for Candelilla Wax, are calculated upon freight of $2.00 per 100 pounds to New York, marine insurance at 0.5 percent, war risk insurance at 1½ percent for Central and South America, and 3 percent for Africa. Any actual charges in excess of the amounts based on the above rates, if such excess amounts to more than 25 cents per 100 pounds, may be added to the maximum prices established herein and separately charged to the buyers' account. In the event actual charges are less than the amounts based on the above rates by 25 cents or more per 100 pounds, the maximum prices established herein shall be reduced accordingly and the reductions credited to the buyers' account. As used in this paragraph (d) "War risk insurance" means the war risk insurance rates as posted by the War Shipping Administration. No costs of importation other than those named in this paragraph (d) may be added to the maximum prices established in this Appendix A.

* * * * * * *

(h) Maximum prices f. o. b. refining plant for refined domestic beeswax, and for bleached domestic beeswax respectively shall be prices equal to the respective f. o. b. New York prices established for refined imported beeswax and for bleached imported beeswax by paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) of this Appendix A.

Chapter II—Corps of Engineers, War Department

PART 203—BRIDGE REGULATIONS

HIGHWAY BRIDGE NEAR BOCA RATON, FLA.

Pursuant to the provisions of section 5 of the River and Harbor Act of August 18, 1894 (28 Stat. 362; 33 U.S.C. 499), the special regulations governing the operation of the State Road Department highway bridge across Boca Raton Inlet near Boca Raton, Florida, section headnote reading as follows, are hereby revoked:

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

PART 3—RULES GOVERNING STANDARD AND HIGH-FREQUENCY BROADCAST STATIONS

PART 4—RULES GOVERNING BROADCAST SERVICES OTHER THAN STANDARD BROADCAST

APPLICATIONS FOR CONSTRUCTION PERMITS

At a meeting on February 23, 1943, the Commission decided that because of great shortages in material, equipment and skilled personnel, and in order to sustain the interest in high frequency (FM) broadcasting, it will not dismiss or deny applications which cannot qualify under the provisions of the Memorandum Opinion of April 27, 1942 (7 F.R. 3248) for construction permits or for modification of construction permits requesting extension of the periods of construction for high frequency (FM) broadcast stations, but instead will take no action at this time upon such applications.

Permittees or applicants for construction permits for high frequency (FM) broadcast stations whose construction permits or applications were surrendered or dismissed pursuant to the Memorandum Opinion of April 27, 1942, may request reinstatement of their applications.

This policy is in addition to the policy announced August 4, 1942 (7 F.R. 6156) which provided for the issuance of licenses for high frequency (FM) broadcast stations during the war, provided construction has reached a point where substantial service can be rendered.

Similar policy has been adopted with respect to television stations.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

PART 4—RULES GOVERNING BROADCAST SERVICES OTHER THAN STANDARD BROADCAST

LICENSES FOR TELEVISION STATIONS

At a meeting on February 23, 1943, the Commission decided that because of great shortages in material, equipment and skilled personnel, and in order to sustain the interest in television, holders of construction permits for television stations (experimental and commercial), may obtain licenses during the war to operate existing facilities to render program service on either an experimental or commercial basis, provided construction has reached a point where the station is presently capable of being operated to render a substantial service. Licenses issued under this policy will be subject to the condition that construction will be completed according to the Rules, Regulations and Standards of the Federal Communications Commission as soon as the necessary materials and engineering personnel become available.

For the same reasons, the Commission decided also to continue its policy of October 27, 1942, namely, not to dismiss or deny applications which cannot qualify under the provisions of the Memorandum Opinion of April 27, 1942 (7 F.R. 3248) for construction permits or for modification of construction permits requesting extension of periods of construction for television stations, but instead will take no action at this time upon such applications. Permittees or applicants for construction permits for television stations (experimental and commercial) whose construction permits or applications for such television stations were surrendered or dismissed pursuant to the Memorandum Opinion of April 27, 1942 may request reinstatement of their applications.

Similar policy has been adopted with respect to high frequency (FM) broadcast stations.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

Chapter II—Office of Defense Transportation

[General Order ODT 21, Amendment 5]

PART 501—CONSERVATION OF MOTOR EQUIPMENT

SUBPART M—CERTIFICATES OF WAR NECESSITY FOR AND CONTROL OF COMMERCIAL MOTOR VEHICLES

Pursuant to Executive Orders 8989 (6 F.R. 6725) and 9156 (7 F.R. 3349), § 501.101, General Order ODT 21, as amended,[1] is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 501.101 Control of vehicles. (a) Whenever the Office of Defense Transportation shall deem it to be advisable or necessary to the prosecution of the war or to the maintenance of essential civilian economy or in the public interest, any person having possession or control of any commercial motor vehicle shall, notwithstanding any contract, lease, or other commitment, express or implied, with respect to the use or operation of such commercial motor vehicle, cause such vehicle (1) to be operated in such manner, for such purpose, and between such points, as the Office of Defense Tranportation shall from time to time direct, and (2) to be leased or rented by any such person to such person or persons as the Office of Defense Transportation shall from time to time direct. Unless the interested parties agree upon the amount of compensation payable for the use of any such vehicle, so directed to be leased or rented, the amount of such compensation shall be such amount as may be determined by the Office of Defense Transportation to be just and equitable, subject to any applicable maximum price established by any competent governmental authority.

(b) The provisions of this section shall not be so construed or applied as to require any person operating a commercial motor vehicle to perform any transportation service, the performance of which by it is not authorized or sanctioned by law.

This amendment shall become effective on February 24, 1943.

(E.O. 8989, 9156; 6 F.R. 6725, 7 F.R. 3349)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 24th day of February 1943.

CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES AND RELATED PRODUCTS INDUSTRY

APPOINTMENT OF INDUSTRY COMMITTEE NO. 56

1. By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, I, L. Metcalfe Walling, Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, do hereby appoint and convene for the canned fruits and vegetables and related products industry (as such industry is defined in paragraph 2) an industry committee composed of the following representatives:

For the public: Monsignor Francis J. Haas, Chairman, Washington, D. C.; Edith Abbott, Chicago, Illinois; Clarence E. Ayres, Austin, Texas; C. O. Brannon, Fayetteville, Arkansas; Virginius Dabney, Richmond, Virginia; Lawrence Hernandez, Tampa, Florida; William S. Hopkins, Palo Alto, California; Arthur F. Raper, Greensboro, Georgia; Clarence M. Updegraff, Iowa City, Iowa; Louise Aubrey Wood, Eugene, Oregon.

For the employees: Albert E. Bilger, Sacramento, California; Walter Jones, San Jose, California; Harold J. Lane, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Luisa Moreno, Los Angeles, California; Leon Schachter, Camden, New Jersey; Boris Shishkin, Washington, D. C.; Robert Thomson, Modesto, California; Mrs. Earl Tise, Sugarland, Texas; Anthony Valentino, Camden, New Jersey; Mildred Voy, Detroit, Michigan.

For the employers: Harold K. Bachelder, Indianapolis, Indiana; Edward S. Guggenheimer, Long Island City, New York; Edward Huddleston, Oakland, California; J. F. Johnson, Landisville, New Jersey; Elvon Musik, San Francisco, California; M. C. Peters, Lake Alfred, Florida; Pratt Phillips, Jr., Salisbury, Maryland; George Saunders, Fayetteville, Arkansas; John Seeman, Mt. Vernon, Washington; Joseph B. Weix, Oconomowoc, Wisconsin.

Such representatives having been chosen with due regard to the geographical regions in which such industry is carried on.

2. For the purpose of this order the "canned fruits and vegetables and related products industry" is defined as follows:

The canning and preserving of fruits and vegetables, and the manufacture of related products.

(a) It includes, but without limitation, the manufacture of jams, jellies and juices; soups of all kinds; relishes and sauces of all kinds; vinegar; cider; pectin; flavoring extracts and flavoring syrups; salad dressings; sandwich spreads (except those made principally from meat or cheese); peanut and nut butters; mustard and horseradish; mincemeat; honey; and canned spaghetti, chili con carne, stew, hash, and pudding, containing fruit or vegetables.

(b) The term "canning," as used herein, means sterilizing and hermetically sealing in containers of tin, glass, or other material.

(c) The term "preserving," as used herein, includes pickling, preserving, freezing, cold packing, drying, dehydrating, and similar processes.

Provided, however, That this definition shall not include the manufacture of coffee; spices; malt extracts and syrups; salad and cooking oils including olive oil; potato chips; ready-to-mix desserts; or any products covered by the definitions of the Grain Products Industry, the Candy and Related Products Manufacturing Industry, or the Sugar and Related Products Industry, contained in the Administrative Orders appointing committees for those industries.

3. The definition of the canned fruits and vegetables and related products industry covers all occupations in the industry which are necessary to the production of the articles specified in the definition including clerical, maintenance, shipping, and selling occupations: Provided, however, That this definition does not cover clerical, maintenance, shipping, and selling occupations when carried on in a wholesaling or selling department, physically segregated from the other departments of a manufacturing establishment, the greater part of the sales of which wholesaling or selling department are sales of articles which have been purchased for resale: And provided further, That where an employee covered by this definition is employed during the same workweek at two or more different minimum rates of pay, he shall be paid the highest of such rates for such workweek unless records concerning his employment are kept by his employer in accordance with applicable regulations of the Wage and Hour Division.

4. Any person, who, in the opinion of the committee, having a substantial interest in the proceeding and who is prepared to present material pertinent to the question under consideration, may, with the approval of the committee, appear on his own behalf or on behalf of any other person.

5. The industry committee herein created shall meet at 10:00 a. m. on March 17, 1943, at the Hotel Astor, New York, New York, and, in accordance with the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, shall proceed to investigate conditions in the industry and recommend to the Administrator minimum wage rates for all employees thereof who within the meaning of said Act are "engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce," excepting employees exempted by virtue of the provisions of section 13 (a) and employees coming under the provisions of section 14.

Signed at New York, New York, this 25th day of February 1943.

L. METCALFE WALLING,
Administrator.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. IT-5819]

SUPERIOR WATER, LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY AND NORTHERN POWER COMPANY

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

FEBRUARY 26, 1943.

Notice is hereby given that on February 25, 1943, a joint application was filed with the Federal Power Commission, pursuant to section 203 of the Federal Power Act, by Superior Water, Light and Power Company and Northern Power Company, corporations organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of Wisconsin, with their principal offices at Superior, Wisconsin, seeking an order of authorization with respect to the proposed acquisition by Superior Water, Light and Power Company of all of the properties and other assets, and the assumption of all of the obligations of Northern Power Company, except $794,000.00 of open account indebtedness of the latter to American Power & Light Company, which is to be forgiven as a gratuitous contribution to the capital of Northern Power Company as a part of and incidental to a program for the merger of Northern Power Company into Superior Water, Light and Power Company, and the refinancing of the latter as the combined and continuing company; or, in the alternative, an order dismissing the application for lack of jurisdiction of the Commission over the subject matter; all as more fully appears in the application on file with this Commission.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest in reference to said application should, on or before the 13th day of March, 1943, file with the Federal Power Commission a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's Rules of Practice and Regulations.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

[Docket No. 4920]

MINNEAPOLIS-HONEYWELL REGULATOR COMPANY

COMPLAINT AND NOTICE OF HEARING

Count I: Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act and by virtue of the authority vested in it by said Act, the Federal Trade Commission having reason to believe that Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, hereinafter referred to as respondent, has violated the provisions of section 5 of said Act, and it appearing to the Commission that a proceeding by it in respect thereof would be in the public interest, hereby issues its complaint, stating its charges in that respect as follows:

PARAGRAPH ONE: Respondent Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company is a corporation organized, existing and doing business under and by virtue of the laws of Delaware, with its general office and principal place of business at 2747 Fourth Avenue, South, in the city of Minneapolis, state of Minnesota. It is now and for more than three years last past has been engaged in the manufacture of automatic temperature controls for oil, gas and coal heating plants and industrial operations and in the sale thereof principally to oil burner manufacturers and also to jobbers, wholesalers and dealers in oil burner equipment located throughout the several states of the United States, the territories thereof, and in the District of Columbia, causing said products, when sold, to be transported from the places of manufacture in the states or Minnesota, Indiana, Pennsylvania, and through distribution points in other states of the United States, to the purchasers thereof located in states other than the states of manufacture. There is now, and has been for more than three years last past, a constant current of trade and commerce in said products between and among the various states of the United States, the territories thereof and in the District of Columbia.

The said respondent is the principal manufacturer of automatic temperature controls in the United States, the total volume of sales of said products by the said respondent, annually, during the past three years, constituting more than 60% of the total number of automatic temperature controls sold annually in the United States to burner manufacturers for domestic heating plants and to contractors and dealers in domestic automatic heating equipment. The respondent in the sale of automatic temperature controls as aforesaid, has entered into and now has in effect annual contracts or agreements with manufacturers of oil burners for domestic heating plants for a number of sets and units of automatic temperature controls equal to approximately the manufacturers annual requirements of such products, and the number of oil burner manufacturers having such contracts with said respondent has constituted for more than three years last past, and now constitutes a majority of all the manufacturers of oil burners for domestic heating plants within the United States.

In the course and conduct of its said business as herein described, respondent has been for more than three years last past and now is in substantial competition in the sale of automatic temperature controls in commerce between and among the various states of the United States, the territories, thereof, and in the District of Columbia, with approximately six other corporations, persons, firms and partnerships.

PAR. TWO: In the automatic operation of a domestic oil burner, three types of controls are required and used and are usually, but not necessarily, sold in sets consisting of (1) a thermostat which is placed in the room or space to be heated, (2) a limit control which is a device placed on the heating plant to control the temperature or pressure in the heating plant, such as aerostat for hot air heating plants, aquastat for hot water heating plants and vaporstat for vapor heating plants, and (3) a primary control which controls the cycle of operation of the automatic burner so as to prevent an explosion, such as a protectorelay. Some domestic oil burner manufacturers, in addition, equip their domestic oil burners with a fan control, the fan being operated as an extra limit control. Many domestic oil burner manufacturers, particularly those who also manufacture furnaces, purchase several thermostats and primary controls, using them as zone controls in the heating of large spaces.

The primary control sometimes referred to as a combustion control, a master control, or a safety control is an essential element in every domestic oil burner installation. The respondent owns or controls most of the existing patents on said primary controls (protectorelay) but there are many thermostats and limit controls being manufactured and sold by said competitors of respondent which could be and are satisfactorily and safely used by oil burner manufacturers, furnace manufacturers and contractors interchangeably with the thermostats and limit controls manufactured and sold by the respondent.

PAR. THREE: Respondent in the course and conduct of its said business as hereinbefore described in the year 1936 and prior thereto entered into, or attempted to enter into, written agreements with all its domestic oil burner manufacturer customers under the terms of which the purchaser is obligated to purchase his requirements of automatic temperature controls from the respondent, said controls to be purchased in sets consisting of one thermostat, one limit control and one primary control at a combination price per set. Said agreements contained the following provisions:

> It is specifically agreed that other control equipment is not to be considered as part of a set within the terms of this contract because the Company's costs are figured to cover a complete set of controls and the following breakdown prices are purely for enforcing purposes. It is agreed that the purchasers' yearly purchases will consist of at least 90% as many thermostats and 100% (but at the company's option not more than 125%) as many limit controls as primary controls • • • The purchaser agrees that at least 95% of his control requirements consisting of thermostats, primary controls and limiting devices will be purchased from the Company.

Beginning in January 1937, the respondent discontinued the foregoing provision with respect to the 95% of the customer's control requirements in its contracts with its domestic oil burner manufacturer customers, and since that time has not entered into contracts with its domestic oil burner manufacturer customers containing said provision.

The respondent in the year 1939 and in subsequent years in all such agreements with its domestic oil burner manufacturer customers has included similar set prices with the following provision:

> The Company agrees to sell, and the Purchaser agrees to purchase, subject to the reservations hereinafter named, during the life of this contract _____ sets or more of the Company's automatic temperature controls. Because the Company's thermostats and primary controls are specifically designed to operate one with the other, it is unsatisfactory and often dangerous to mix controls made by different manufacturers in the same installation, and the Company does not give any assurance of satisfactory operation nor assume any service responsibility if its controls are used with other makes. It is, therefore, further agreed that each set shall consist of but one Thermostat, one Primary Control, and one Limit Control, and that the Purchaser will buy at least 90% as many Room Thermostats and 100% as many Limit Controls as Primary Controls at the following prices.

PAR. FOUR: As a result of the acts and practices of the respondent set forth in paragraph three herein for more than three years last past a substantial number of oil burner manufacturers for domestic heating plants have been induced to purchase either their entire requirements or a majority of their requirements of automatic temperature controls from the respondent, and competitors of the respondent have been prevented from selling their thermostats and limit controls in substantial quantities to the oil burner manufacturers for domestic heating plants purchasing primary controls from the respondent.

PAR. FIVE: Respondent in the course and conduct of its said business has for more than three years last past adopted or pursued the policy or practice of granting or attempting to grant, under threat of infringement suit, a non-exclusive license to certain of its competitors under license agreements to manufacture and sell a combination furnace control system wherein the limit control, a fan control, and a thermostat, neither covered by patent, are operated together under a system patent covering "furnace control" issued to one Edward E. Freeman and known as the Freeman Patent, owned and controlled by said respondent. In consideration for the granting of said license the respondent exacted and received royalties from licenses of 50¢ per unit manufactured under said license. In said license agreement the license is granted on the express condition that the prices, terms and conditions of sale of combination furnace controls made in accordance with the terms of the agreement shall not be more favorable to the customer than those fixed from time to time by the licensor for its own products embodying the invention covered by the agreement, and that the licensee will sell said controls only at prices and on terms not more favorable to the customer than those set forth in a price schedule issued from time to time by the licensor. Said price schedule attached to and made a part of said agreement contains net minimum prices to be observed by the manufacturers for a combination furnace control and also those to be observed by jobbers and wholesalers as well as retail dealers.

Respondent for more than three years last past has sold a combination furnace and fan control embodying the said Freeman patent and in connection therewith it manufactures the fan switch but not the fan and manufactures the limit switch and the thermostat. The sales of said combination furnace and fan control by the respondent have substantially increased beginning with the year 1939 when said respondent began to issue licenses to its said competitors as aforesaid.

PAR. SIX: Respondent in the course and conduct of its said business manufactures and sells combustion stoker switches to furnace manufacturers throughout the United States and said respondent has followed the policy of selling said combustion stoker switches to its said customers under so-called exclusive license agreements whereby the said customers are granted licenses to use and sell said combustion stoker switches in combination with other devices under a domestic heating system of maintaining stoker fire which includes stoker switches and which is manufactured under a system patent of which the said respondent was an exclusive licensee, when as a matter of fact respondent well knew that the said patent did not cover or include the said stoker combustion switch.

PAR. SEVEN: The acts and practices of the respondent as herein alleged are all to the prejudice of competitors of respondent and of the public; have a dangerous tendency to and have actually hindered and prevented competition in the sale of automatic temperature controls for use in domestic heating plants in commerce within the intent and meaning of the Federal Trade Commission Act; have unreasonably restrained such Commerce in automatic temperature controls for use in domestic heating plants; have a dangerous tendency to create in respondents a monopoly in the sale of said products; and constitute unfair methods of competition in commerce within the intent and meaning of Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

Count II

The Federal Trade Commission having reason to believe that Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, a corporation, hereinafter called respondent, has violated and is now violating the provisions of section 3 of the Act of Congress entitled "An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes" approved October 15, 1914 (the Clayton Act), as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act (U.S.C. Title 15, Sec. 13), hereby issues its complaint against said respondent and states its charges with respect thereto as follows, to wit:

PARAGRAPH ONE: For its charges under this paragraph of this count said Commission relies upon the matters and things set out in paragraph one of Count I of this complaint to the same extent and as though the allegations of said paragraph of said Count I were set out in full herein, and said paragraph one of said Count I is therefore incorporated herein by reference and made a part of the allegations of this count.

PAR. TWO: For its charges under this paragraph of this count said Commission relies upon the matters and things set out in paragraph two of Count I of this complaint to the same extent and as though the allegations of said paragraph of said Count I were set out in full herein, and said paragraph two of said Count I is therefore incorporated herein by reference and made a part of the allegations of this count.

PAR. THREE: For its charges under this paragraph of this count said Commission relies upon the matters and things set out in paragraph three of Count I of this complaint to the same extent and as though the allegations of said paragraph of said Count I were set out in full herein, and said paragraph three of Count I is therefore incorporated herein by reference and made a part of the allegations of this count.

PAR. FOUR: For its charges under this paragraph of this count said Commission relies upon the matters and things set out in paragraph four of Count I of this complaint to the same extent and as though the allegations of said paragraph four of Count I were set out in full herein, and said paragraph four of said Count I is therefore incorporated herein by reference and made a part of the allegations of this count.

PAR. FIVE: In the course and conduct of its said business described in paragraph one, two, three and four of Count I of this complaint respondent, in the course of commerce between and among the various states of the United States and the District of Columbia as described in said paragraphs one and two of said Count I of this complaint, for more than three years last past or thereabouts, has made sales and contracts for the sale of automatic temperature controls for heating plants on the condition, agreement or understanding that the purchasers thereof should not deal in or use any automatic temperature control for heating plants of a competitor or competitors of said respondent. The effect of said sales and contracts for sale and of such condition, agreement or understanding have been or may be to substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in a line of commerce, namely, the interstate sale and distribution of automatic temperature controls for heating plants.

PAR. SIX: The aforesaid acts of respondent, Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, constituted a violation of the provisions of section 3 of the hereinabove mentioned Acts of Congress entitled "An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes", approved October 15, 1914 (the Clayton Act).

Count III

The Federal Trade Commission having reason to believe that Minneapolis-

Honeywell Regulator Company, a corporation, hereinafter called respondent, has violated and is now violating the provisions of section 2 of the Act of Congress entitled "An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes" approved October 15, 1914 (the Clayton Act) as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act (U.S.C. Title 15, Sec. 13), hereby issues this its complaint against said respondent and states its charges with respect thereto as follows, to wit:

PARAGRAPH ONE: For its charges under this paragraph of this count said Commission relies upon the matters and things set out in paragraph one of Count I of this complaint to the same extent and as though the allegations of said paragraph of said Count I were set out in full herein, and said paragraph one of said Count I is therefore incorporated herein by reference and made a part of the allegations of this count.

PAR. TWO: For its charges under this paragraph of this count said Commission relies upon the matters and things set out in paragraph two of Count I of this complaint to the same extent and as though the allegations of said paragraph of said Count I were set out in full herein, and said paragraph two of said Count I is therefore incorporated herein by reference and made a part of the allegations of this count.

PAR. THREE: In the course and conduct of its said business described in paragraph one and two of Count I of this complaint respondent, Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, has been for more than three years last past and is now discriminating in price between different purchasers buying automatic temperature controls for heating plants of like grade and quality by selling its said products to some of its customers at lower prices than it sells said products of like grade and quality to other of its customers, many of whom are competitively engaged one with another in the resale of said products within the United States. The respondent during said period of time has engaged in the following discriminatory practices and methods of determining the prices at which it sells its said products to its said customers:

(1) Respondent has classified its customers as follows: (a) oil burner manufacturers, (b) oil burner jobbers, (c) oil burner wholesalers—Class A, (d) oil burner wholesalers—Class B, and (e) dealers.

(2) Respondent publishes list prices for its said products, with discounts regularly and usually allowed to each respective class of trade, said discounts varying from 25 per cent up to 45 per cent, depending upon the product and the service rendered, that is, whether its customer is a dealer, jobber or wholesaler. Oil burner manufacturers who purchase approximately 95% of respondents temperature controls for oil business are usually granted the maximum trade discount or approximately 45 per cent from the list price when buying in minimum quantities.

(3) Respondent sells its said products, particularly thermostats, limit controls and primary controls in units and in sets to manufacturers of oil burners under contracts providing for annual discount arrangements, including seven separate and distinct price brackets, with net prices fixed in proportion to the quantity requirements of the customer under the contract.

(4) Respondent sells its said contract customer buying up to 50 sets annually at a base price which has varied from time to time, but which is approximately 45 per cent less than the base price in effect, and such customers buying in annual quantities in excess of 50 sets are sold at varying discriminatory prices applicable to the different quantity brackets in effect, the most favored customers being sold at discriminatory prices ranging respectively from approximately 45 per cent less than the base price in 1938, to approximately 30 per cent less than the base price in 1940.

PAR. FOUR: The effect of the said discriminations in price mentioned in paragraph two and three hereof has been or may be substantially to lessen competition in the line of commerce in which respondent is engaged and to injure, destroy and prevent competition between the respondent and its competitors, and to injure, destroy and prevent competition between the customers of said respondent in the sale and distribution of automatic temperature controls for heating plants, and has been and may be to tend to create a monopoly in said line of commerce in the various localities or trade areas in the United States in which said respondent and its competitors are engaged in the sale and distribution of said products.

PAR. FIVE: The foregoing acts and practices of respondent are violations of subsection 2 (a) of section 1 of the said Act of Congress approved June 19, 1936, entitled "An Act to amend Section 2 of an Act entitled 'An Act to supplement existing laws against unlawful restraints and monopolies, and for other purposes' approved October 15, 1914, as amended U. S. C. Title 15, Sec. 13 and for other purposes."

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 23d day of February A. D. 1943 issues its complaint against said respondent.

Notice

Notice is hereby given you, Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, respondent herein, that the 2d day of April A. D. 1943, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said Act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance at the place and on the date above stated be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The rules of practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule IX) provide as follows:

> In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.
> . . . . . .
>
> Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.
> If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true.
> Contemporaneously with the filing of such answer the respondent may give notice in writing that he desires to be heard on the question as to whether the admitted facts constitute the violation of law charged in the complaint. Pursuant to such notice, the respondent may file a brief, directed solely to that question, in accordance with Rule XXIII.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 23d day of February A. D. 1943.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] OTIS B. JOHNSON,
Secretary.

[Suspension Order 229]

O. K. SERVICE STATION

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

Joseph Gordon and Max Gordon doing business as O. K. Service Station, 1128 Third Street NE., Washington, D. C., hereinafter called respondents, were duly served with a notice of charges of violations of the Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice, a hearing upon the charges was held in Washington, D. C., on November 25, 1942. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondents. The evidence pertaining to the charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. The matter having been duly considered, it is hereby determined that:

(a) Respondents are dealers in gasoline and operate a filling station at 1128 Third Street NE., Washington, D. C.

(b) Respondents have violated Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations (§ 1394.1502) in that between July 22, 1942 and November 17, 1942 respondents transferred gasoline to consumers without receiving in exchange therefor any gasoline ration coupons.

(c) Respondents have violated Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations (§ 1394.1629) in that sometime in September, 1942, respondents decreased the capacity of their gasoline storage facilities by converting a 1,000-gallon tank from the storage of gasoline to the storage of kerosene without surrendering to the Board with which they were registered, coupons or other evidences equal in gallonage value to the amount of the decrease, and without surrendering their certificate of registration to the Board for cancellation.

(d) Respondents have violated Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations (§ 1394.1503) in that between July 22, 1942, and November 17, 1942, respondents transferred gasoline to consumers and accepted in exchange therefor 32 Class A No. 3 Gasoline Rationing coupons.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline in Washington, D. C., respondents' violations of Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations have resulted in the diversion of gasoline from military and essential civilian uses to non-essential uses in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to the national war effort. It appears that further violations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken. It is therefore ordered:

(e) During the period in which this Suspension Order No. 229 shall be in effect,

(1) Respondents shall not accept any deliveries or transfers of, or in any manner directly or indirectly receive from any source any gasoline for resale.

(2) Respondents shall not transfer or deliver or otherwise trade or deal in gasoline.

(3) No person shall in any manner, directly or indirectly transfer or deliver any gasoline to respondents for resale.

(f) Any terms used in this Suspension Order No. 229 that are defined in Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, shall have the meaning therein given them.

This Suspension Order No. 229 shall become effective 12:01 a. m. March 8, 1943, and unless sooner terminated shall expire 12:01 a. m. April 7, 1943.

(Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.; sec. 2 (a) of Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong.; as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.; E.O. No. 9125 (7 F.R. 2719); WPB Directive No. 1 (7 F.R. 562); Supplementary Directive No. 1H (7 F.R. 3478, 3877, 4216); Supplementary Directive 1Q (7 F.R. 9121))

[Suspension Order 230]

JEROME MILANI

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

Jerome Milani, Route No. 2 and Franklin Avenue, Hasbrouck Heights, New Jersey, hereinafter called respondent, was duly served with a notice of charges of violations of Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to the notice, a hearing upon the charges was held in Newark, New Jersey, on December 18, 1942. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent. The evidence pertaining to the charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. The matter having been duly considered, it is hereby determined that:

(a) Respondent is a dealer in gasoline and operates a gasoline filling station known as Colonial Service Station at Route No. 2 and Franklin Avenue, Hasbrouck Heights, New Jersey.

(b) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations (§ 1394.1502) in that, between July 22, 1942, and November 17, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to consumers without receiving in exchange therefor any gasoline ration coupons or other evidences.

(c) Respondent has violated Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations (§ 1394.1503) in that, between July 22, 1942, and November 17, 1942, respondent transferred gasoline to consumers and accepted in exchange therefor 14 Class A. No. 3 gasoline coupons.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline in New Jersey, respondent's violations of Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, have resulted in the diversion of gasoline from military and essential uses into nonessential uses in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to the national war effort. It appears to the Chairman of Industrial Council that further violations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken.

It is therefore ordered:

(d) During the period in which this Suspension Order No. 230 shall be in effect,

(1) Respondent shall not accept any deliveries or transfers of, or in any manner directly or indirectly receive from any source any gasoline for resale.

(2) Respondent shall not transfer or deliver or otherwise trade or deal in gasoline.

(3) No person shall in any manner, directly or indirectly transfer or deliver any gasoline to respondent for resale.

(e) Any terms used in this Suspension Order No. 230 that are defined in Ration Order No. 5A, Gasoline Rationing Regulations, shall have the meaning therein given them.

This Suspension Order No. 230 shall become effective 12:01 a. m. March 8, 1942, and unless sooner terminated shall expire 12:01 a. m. March 18, 1943.

(Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.; sec 2 (a) of Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong.; as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong.; E.O. No. 9125 (7 F.R. 2719); WPB Directive No. 1 (7 F.R. 562); Supplementary Directive No. 1H (7 F.R. 3478, 3877, 5216); Supplementary Directive 1Q (7 F.R. 9121))

Issued this 26th day of February 1943.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

[File No. 70–618]

AMERICAN POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION, ETC.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 22d day of February, A. D., 1943.

Order granting application and permitting declaration to become effective in part and denying same in part.

American Power & Light Company, ("American") a registered holding company, and a subsidiary of Electric Bond and Share Company, likewise a registered holding company, having filed an application and declaration under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 10 and 12 (c) thereof and Rule U-42 thereunder, regarding the expenditure of not in excess of $10,000,000, in cash, to acquire by open market purchases part of its outstanding Gold Debenture Bonds, 6% Series, due 2016 and its assumed Southwestern Power & Light Company 6% Gold Debenture Bonds, Series A, due 2022 at prices not in excess of the principal amount of such debentures or by call for tenders if at the end of approximately six months there remains unexpended as much as $200,000 of such $10,000,000;

A public hearing on said application and declaration having been held after appropriate notice; and, the Commission having examined the record and having made and filed its findings herein;

It is ordered, That said application and declaration insofar as they relate to open market purchases be, and hereby are, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject, however, to the transactions therein set forth being carried out in conformity with the representations made, and for the purposes stated in said application and declaration, and in compliance with the conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 and subject to the following additional terms and conditions:

(1) That at least ten days before purchases are commenced, American shall advise by letter each known holder of its debentures fully with respect to its intention to make purchases and the method to be employed, and shall furnish to each known debenture holder a copy of our Findings and Opinion herein; the form of such letter to be submitted to the staff of the Public Utilities Division prior to release; that American shall cause to be published, at least twice, in a daily periodical of general circulation, a public notice of its intention to make such purchases; and such purchases shall not commence until five days subsequent to publication of the second notice;

(2) That all purchases be made at prices of not less than 95 per cent of principal amount (exclusive of accrued interest); and, American shall not solicit or cause to be solicited the sale of any of its debentures;

(3) That no debentures shall knowingly be purchased directly or indirectly from any officer or director of American, its subsidiaries or affiliates;

(4) That American shall furnish to the Commission promptly at the end of each week, a schedule showing for each day covered by such schedule the principal amount of debentures of each class purchased on the New York Curb Exchange and the price at which purchased, and that as to purchases other than on the New York Curb Exchange, American furnish a report with respect to each such purchase within one day showing the identity of the seller, the amount purchased, and the price paid;

(5) That no purchases shall be made after the expiration of four months from the date of this order, subject, however, to the right of American to apply for an extension or extensions of such period;

(6) That American shall promptly, upon completion of the proposed purchase program, notify its debenture holders to that effect through publication, at least twice, of an appropriate notice in a daily periodical of general circulation;

(7) That the Commission reserves jurisdiction, in its discretion to rescind or modify this order, upon motion of American or on its own motion after notice to American, at any time prior to the expiration of such four months' period or any extension thereof; any such rescission or modification to be applicable only to such portion of the $10,000,000 as shall not have been previously expended.

It is further ordered, That said application and declaration insofar as they relate to call for tenders at the termination of the open market purchase program be, and the same hereby are, denied, without prejudice, however, to the right of American to file an application and declaration with respect to such matter after the termination of said open market purchase program.

By the Commission.
